A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

On behalf of Eastern Michigan University, I welcome you here today. This is one of the signature moments in your life. I remember that instant when I walked in cap and gown to receive my first degree. It was a thrill for me. It also was a thrill for my parents—they did not have the chance to earn a college degree.

I was a first generation college student, as many of you are. Others who will receive their degrees today share a strong family legacy and join generations of EMU graduates— grandparents, fathers and mothers, and brothers and sisters.

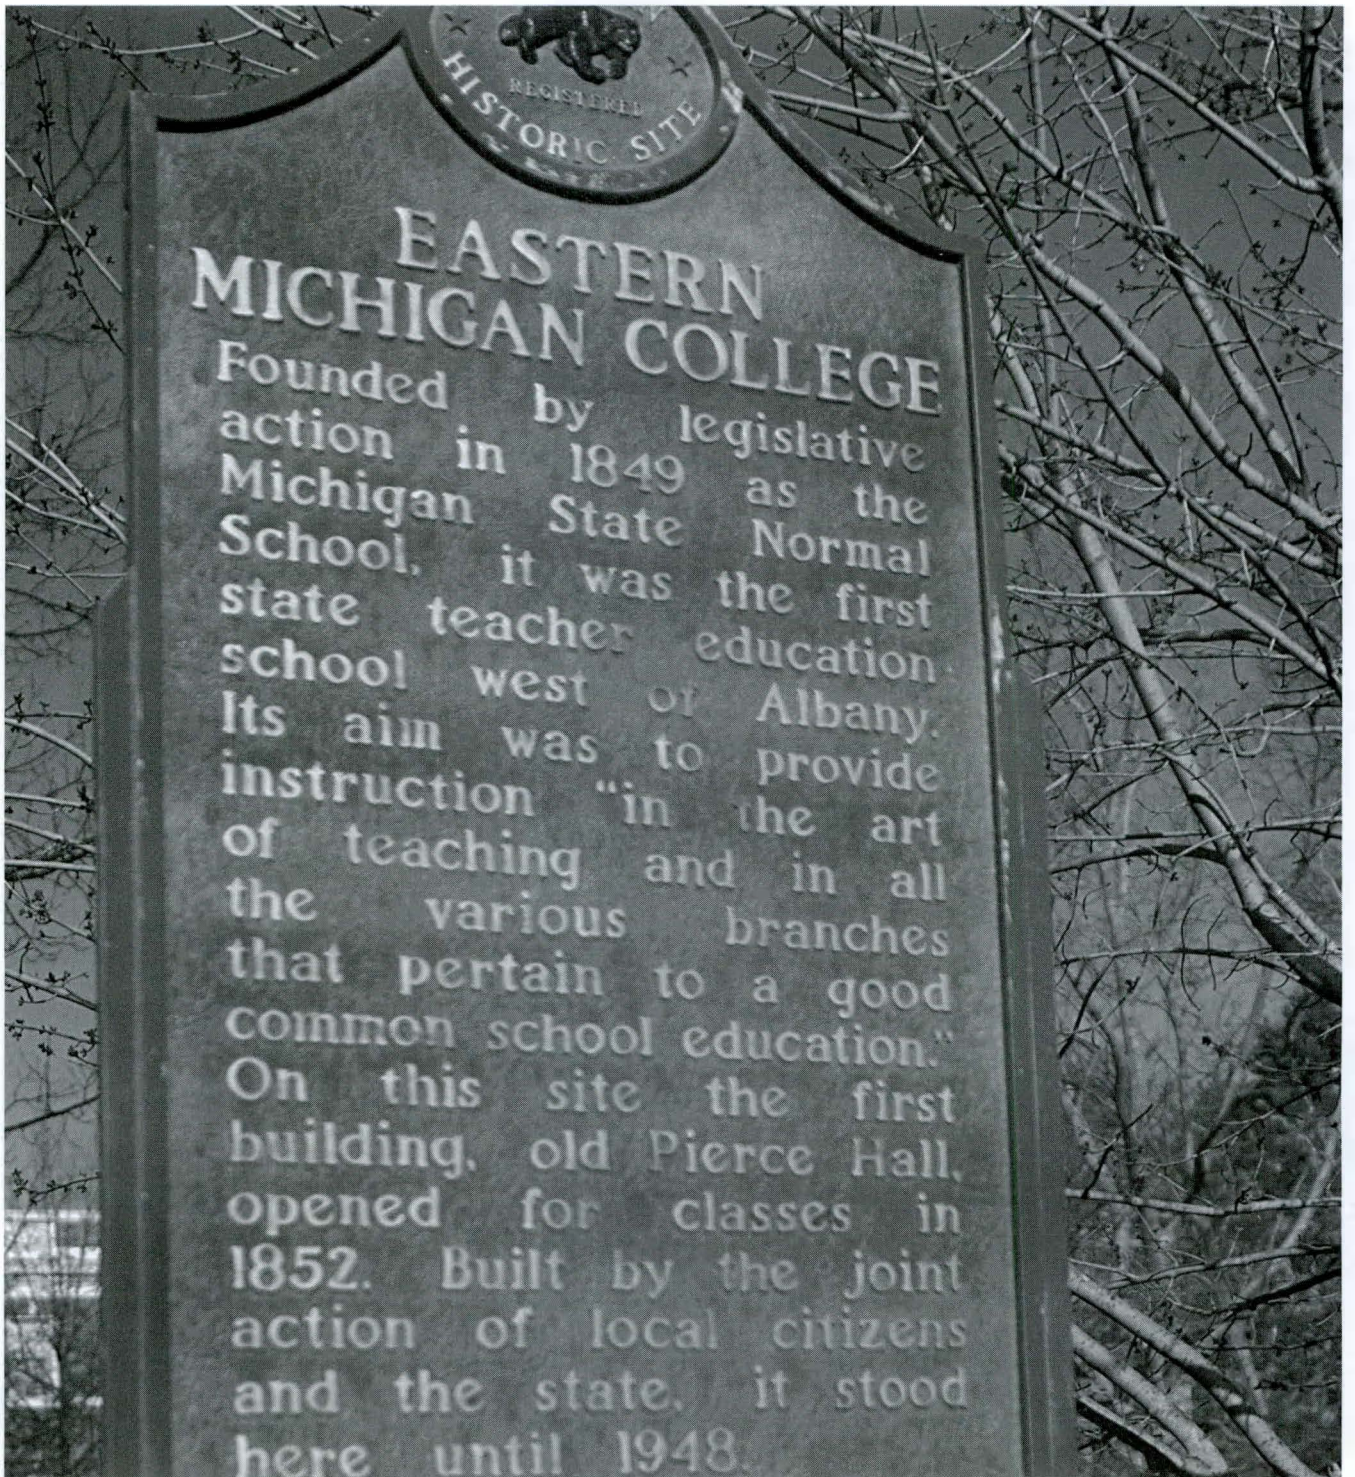

Whatever life path has brought you here, it is an exciting moment as you walk across the stage, take your diploma and launch your future. Let me tell you a little secret. Each commencement is also a profound and important moment for a president and our faculty and staff. We know how hard you have worked, and we are overjoyed to watch the culmination of your effort. We look forward to all you will do with your education!

The value of a college degree is more important than ever before. Your EMU diploma is not only a meaningful credential, but it is the foundation on which you will build a fulfilling career and offer many contributions to your community and state.

So to all the graduates, families and friends who join us here today: take pause to celebrate this important milestone. Stroll the campus as you remember all the generations of EMU graduates who have made significant contributions to our state and our world. You have earned your place among the University's proud alumni family, more than 150,000 strong. And I know your future accomplishments will continue to shine a bright light on your alma mater.

Congratulations!

Susan Martin, Ph.D.
President
Eastern Michigan University

FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dear EMU Class of 2013,

On behalf of the EMU Alumni Association, I extend congratulations on your graduation. We salute and commend you for all that you have achieved as students of EMU, and are proud of the role you have played in its continuing success.

You are joining a distinguished network of EMU alumni - a group that numbers more than 150,000. EMU alumni live in every state of the union and in over 135 countries around the world, with more than 100,000 here in Michigan. In virtually every field of study, our graduates are making significant contributions locally, nationally, and globally.

I invite each of you to remain actively engaged with the University and to request your free Alumni Association membership packet by visiting emich.edu/alumni. Your packet will include information on a number of discounts and benefits. While on our website, make sure to learn about the opportunities to be involved in the Alumni Association Board of Directors, EMU Young Alumni Council, and chartered alumni chapters. Also, our website is home to a calendar full of alumni events and your hub to update your contact information after graduation.

As you enter the next phase of your lives and careers, please remember that you will forever be an integral part of EMU.

Go Green!

Katrina VanderWoude '91 G, '08 Ed.D.
President
EMU Alumni Association

ACADEMIC PROCESSION AND SYMBOLS

The academic procession preceding the commencement ceremony is the direct descendant of ecclesiastical processions, which included a stately and orderly movement of celebrants to the place of sacred ceremony. As the church was for centuries the main force behind intellectual enrichment, the religious overtones of the academic procession are not surprising.

The procession begins with the University mace, a symbol of authority of the President and the Board of Regents (see description and photo). The mace represents the golden flame of learning and is carried by the grand marshal, who is chosen on the basis of service to the University. Distinguished faculty lead their colleagues. The charter represents the original academic design of the University. The keys represent permission to enter and employ the University's resources for the advancement of knowledge. The colors symbolize a heraldic representation of the University. The chief academic officer carries the book representing knowledge, the source of wisdom. The medallion, worn by the president, represents the distinguished office of the University's leader.

All undergraduates wear gowns of the same color. The colors of the hoods signify the different graduate degrees. The custom of wearing gowns, or robes, stems from the time when all students of higher learning were members of the clergy and wore garments that the church considered appropriate. The wearing of caps dates from early Roman history. The mortar board may be a combination of tight-fitting caps worn indoors by the scholars in the Middle Ages and the soft biretta worn outdoors. The tuft of the early cap has been replaced by a tassel. The green and white tassel worn by the graduates represents the colors of Eastern Michigan University.

Meaning of hood colors of academic dress:

For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctors' gowns, edging of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different disciplines are as follows:

Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business ..	Drab
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts, including Architecture	Brown
Forestry	Russet
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Oratory (Speech)	Silver Gray

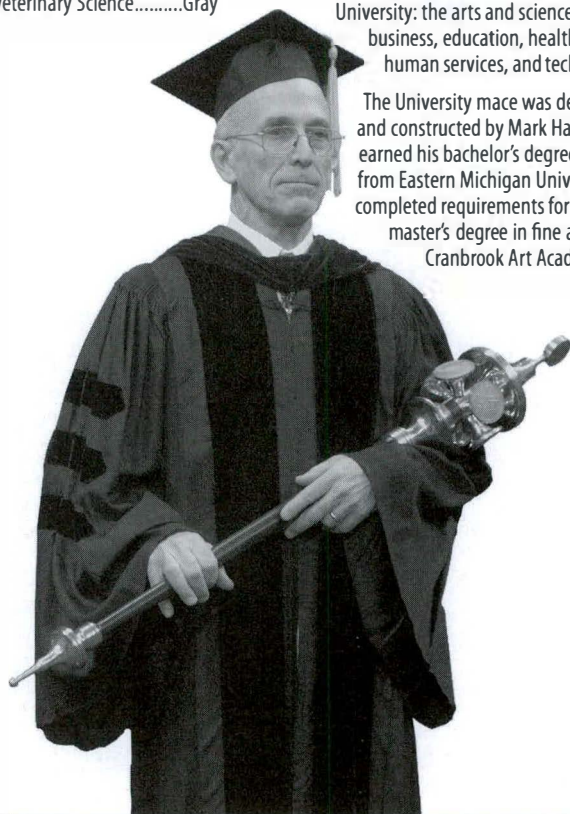

Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Public Administration, including Foreign Service	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon Pink
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron
Theology	Scarlet
Veterinary Science	Gray

The University Mace

Historically, the mace was a battle club used by men on horseback to injure footmen. With the passage of time, however, it became a symbol of learning and power.

Constructed of sterling silver, gold plated brass and paduak, a wood resembling mahogany, the mace carries the symbols of each area of the University: the arts and sciences, business, education, health and human services, and technology.

The University mace was designed and constructed by Mark Hall, who earned his bachelor's degree in art from Eastern Michigan University and completed requirements for his master's degree in fine arts at the Cranbrook Art Academy.

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars
through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air gave proof through the night that our flag was still there
Oh, say, does that star spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

OUR PLEDGE

Eastern, sacred Alma Mater
to your name we shall be true,
Ever marching on to victory,
we'll stand by to see you through.
Softly floating on the breeze,
verdant green with white of snow
This our banner we will carry in our hearts
where'er we go.

Photographers: Photos should be taken before or after the ceremony. Please remain seated during the distribution of diplomas. Photographers will not be allowed in front of or near the stage. However, a professional photographer will take color photos of all graduates as they receive their diplomas on stage. There is no obligation to buy enlargements, although this opportunity will be available when graduates receive their proofs, typically via email shortly after the ceremony.

ABOUT EMU

HISTORY

Established by the State of Michigan in 1849, Eastern Michigan University opened its doors as the Michigan State Normal School in 1853, focused on preparing students for the teaching professions. Michigan State Normal School grew rapidly, and added a number of ground-breaking programs. In 1899, the name changed to Michigan State Normal College.

The school was the first in the nation to train teachers of the disabled, and the first teacher training school to offer a program in library services. During World War II, the school trained soldiers for the military as well as civilian students. In 1956, reflecting the range of programs, the school became known as Eastern Michigan College. Three years later, with the establishment of the Graduate School, it changed its name to Eastern Michigan University.

The University has expanded dramatically during its 160+ years, yet remains true to its roots as an educator of tomorrow's leaders.

Distinctions

EMU's Department of Special Education is the largest in the country and considered one of the best.

Eastern offers the only online Integrated Marketing Communications degree housed in an AACSB-accredited business school.

EMU's College of Technology is one of only four universities in the country that offer a program in Polymers and Coatings.

EMU's College of Health and Human Services offers a master's degree in Orthotics and Prosthetics—one of only four colleges to do so.

Eastern is poised to offer a new degree—master of science in physician assistant studies—and anticipates matriculating its first class in May 2014.

Since the year 2000, EMU's School of Cyber Crime Investigation has trained more than 300 officers to fight child pornography, Internet fraud and identity theft.

Popular Places

Pray-Harold:

After a $42 million, 16-month refurbishment project, funded jointly by EMU and the State of Michigan, faculty and administrators in the College of Arts and Sciences moved into new offices and classrooms in Pray-Harold in Fall 2011. A new student commons area on Floor 2 is encased in glass, with much improved comfort and sightlines.

Science Complex:

EMU's new $90 million state-of-the-art Science Complex is home to the departments of Geography and Geology, Psychology, Physics and Astronomy, Biology and Chemistry. A centerpiece of the complex is a spherical classroom/planetarium, the pinnacle of a 5-story, open atrium.

Halle Library:

The Halle Library offers traditional and modern resources, with its 800,000 volumes of printed material and its 21st-century technology including 520 computer stations and 1,500 network connections. Researchers may consult the University Archives, the Map Library, or other special collections, and take breaks in the Paradox Café.

Student Center:

Voted "Best Place to Hang Between Classes" since its opening in 2006 by Eastern Echo readers, the Student Center houses fireplace lounges, wireless Internet access, banking services, a computer lab open 24/7, two art galleries, an auditorium, and a wide variety of food offerings, in addition to offices for student services and organizations.

Convocation Center:

The Convocation Center is the newest multi-purpose state-of-the-art facility in southeast Michigan, playing host to concerts, commencements, family entertainment, conferences, banquets, trade shows and athletic events. The Center has 200,000 square feet of space on three levels, including an arena with eight luxury suites.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT-MORNING

SCOTT REYNOLDS

SCOTT REYNOLDS (BS95) moved to Los Angeles with his wife, Amy, also an Eastern alum, after graduating from EMU in 1995. He had a script in hand and dreamed of a career as a screenwriter. After paying his dues clerking at Barnes & Noble, he finally got a break, working on a documentary with Academy Award-winning filmmaker Vikram Jayanti ("When We Were Kings"). Like most Hollywood projects, it never got made.

Reynolds landed several writer's assistant or staff writing jobs on shows such as "Touched by an Angel" and the Jerry Bruckheimer show "E-RING," working with prominent writers. Many of the shows he worked on ended abruptly, but after "E-RING" ended, Reynolds got a call from Clyde Phillips, who was looking for a writer's assistant for a new Showtime program called "Dexter." He took the job.

By the second season, he was asked to write Episode 210: "The Trouble With Harry," which was nominated by the Writers Guild as best episodic drama for that year. In the intervening years, the show has garnered Emmy and Writers Guild nominations, and earned Reynolds a Producer's Guild nomination for his "Dexter" web series, "Early Cuts: All in the Family." He worked up the ranks to his current position as Supervising Producer of "Dexter," which is drawing to a close after an eight-season run. Reynolds also hosts the "Dexter Wrap-Up" podcast, a "Dexter"-centric program of interviews with actors, directors, composers and the like, giving a behind-the-scenes look at how the show is made. His next step: into the world of feature films, with a script, "Robbery 101," being produced by Brett Ratner.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

RANDY RICHARDVILLE

RANDY RICHARDVILLE was elected to the Michigan Senate in November 2006. Upon re-election in 2010, he was selected Senate Majority Leader by his fellow Republican caucus members. Richardville spent three terms in the Michigan House of Representatives, from 1999 to 2004. He held several leadership positions in the House, serving as House Majority Floor Leader during his final term.

As a legislator, Richardville has been a leader in several areas, especially economic development, and veterans' and children's issues. He has worked to pass laws to expand neighborhood enterprise zones; extend brownfield tax credits to clean up industrial property; create training requirements for mortgage loan officers; expand state programs to help those facing foreclosures; and create a lead-free safe housing registry. Prior to being elected to office, Richardville worked in the business community, gaining 20 years' experience in Fortune 500 companies, and served as economic development director for the Port and City of Monroe, where he was born and raised.

Richardville's work on behalf of Michigan citizens has earned him respect and recognition from all over the state. He was named legislator of the year by both the Deputy Sheriffs Association and the Michigan Sheriffs Association. The Michigan Children's Trust Fund named him a "Champion for Children." In 2005, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs named Richardville its "Conservation Legislator of the Year." He has received awards from the Police Officer's Association of Michigan, Michigan Professional Fire Fighters Union, the state YMCA boards, the Hemophilia Foundation, Michigan State Medical Society, and the Certified Public Accountants. Richardville has also been honored by the American Legion and other veterans' organizations for his support of our men and women who have served in the armed forces.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT -AFTERNOON

ROBERT H. HOLMAN

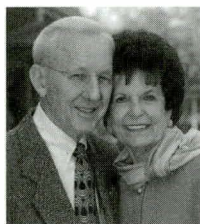

ROBERT H. HOLMAN (BBA74) began working at Discount Tire Co. in 1969 while he was still a student at Eastern Michigan University. After graduating in 1974 with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in accounting, Holman became an accountant for the company. Over a forty-year career, he became CFO and Executive Vice President of Finance and Administration. A recipient of the company's President Award, Holman has served on the boards of the Crisis Nursery, the Economic Club of Phoenix, the Scottsdale Partnership and the Eastern Michigan University Foundation. Holman is a generous donor to various charities, including the EMU Foundation and The Holman Success Center.

Holman helped establish the Center, located in the Bruce T. Halle Library, because of his appreciation for the education he received at Eastern. Though Holman and his wife Shelley live in Scottsdale, Arizona, the distance has never prevented him from giving back to the University and continually promoting the University's mission. He has always maintained that his education at EMU laid the foundation for his career successes. Holman's appreciation for education came from his mother. When she passed away in 1999, Holman presented Eastern with a gift to start the Success Center. A plaque outside the Center appropriately reads: "In memory of my Mother, Adele L. Holman, whose staunch insistence upon education has allowed me to share my success and good fortune with others in their pursuit of academic excellence."

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

DELORES SODERQUIST BREHM AND WILLIAM K. BREHM

DELORES SODERQUIST BREHM (BS52) is a 1952 graduate of Michigan State Normal College (now EMU). She didn't aspire to attend college until she received a small scholarship of about $50, to which she attributes much of her success. While at MSNC, Dee was active with the Kappa Delta Pi international education honor society and Theta Lambda Sigma, a local sorority that later became a part of the national organization Alpha Xi Delta. She also participated in the Choral Union. Brehm graduated with a major in special education focusing on the mentally impaired. During her years at MSNC, she met her future husband, Bill Brehm.

WILLIAM K. BREHM attended the University of Michigan on a Regents' Alumni Scholarship; he majored in mathematics and physics, graduating with honors in mathematics. Following graduation, he began a career in advanced engineering in the aerospace industry. In the late 1960s, he served as assistant secretary of the Army, and in the '70s as assistant secretary of defense in the Ford Administration. He is co-founder and former executive chair of SRA International, Inc., a technology and strategic consulting firm. He has also served as a director of the Herman Miller Corporation of Michigan and as board chair for CNA, a non-profit research and analysis institution.

Both Dee and Bill Brehm are nationally known philanthropists. They have given to the University of Michigan for diabetes research and facilities, and endowed scholarships for graduates of Bill's high school, Dearborn Fordson. They also established the Brehm Center at Fuller Theological Seminary focused on integrating worship, theology and the arts and providing scholarships to doctoral and master's level students. Their generous support established Eastern Michigan University's Delores Soderquist Brehm Center for Special Education Scholarship and Research, and endowed scholarships to support students studying special education and public administration.

COLLEGES, GRADUATE SCHOOL AND LIBRARY

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The College of Arts and Sciences, offering over 125 majors, minors, and concentrations, promotes active, collaborative, applied, and innovative teaching in disciplines that are fundamental to a university's purpose. Believing that the teaching of these disciplines hinges upon ongoing creativity, curiosity, and inquiry, the College promotes theoretical, scholarly, and creative activities in the fine and performing arts, the humanities, and the social and natural sciences.

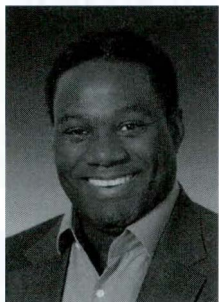

Thomas Venner, Dean

To offer a liberal arts education that embodies knowledge of the disciplines, effective communication, quantitative reasoning, perspectives on a diverse world, and learning beyond the classroom, the College supports independent study, study abroad, biology field stations, the Parsons Center for the Study of Art and Science, community research projects, internships, field trips, and academic clubs including nationally-ranked Forensics and United Nations teams. Student research is showcased annually during a nationally-recognized Undergraduate Symposium. The College of Arts and Sciences fosters success for all its members, to prepare them for service in local, national, and global communities and to instill knowledge of and respect for human diversity.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

The College of Business, offering 12 undergraduate, five graduate and 10 graduate certificate programs, provides an academic learning environment that fosters an innovative, applied and global business education. It supports the economic development of southeastern Michigan by preparing graduates to perform effectively in a "knowledge and information age" business world shaped by a global economy. The College works to develop business leaders who understand and use innovative approaches to address the forces shaping their environment as they create and manage businesses with the highest ethical standards.

Michael Tidwell, Dean

The College focuses first and foremost on teaching and learning. Academic programs, professional education opportunities, university and business partnerships, and economic development initiatives are all based on new approaches to education grounded in strong fundamentals, with a practical and real-world emphasis incorporating an international perspective. As the first business school in the country to have an Ethos Statement, Ethos Week and Ethos Honor Society, the College of Business demonstrates that its emphasis on ethics and professional values is not only the foundation for the College, but also the basis for students to enjoy successful careers.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Founded in 1849 as the first "normal school" west of the Alleghenies, Eastern Michigan University is one of the largest producers of educational personnel in the country. The College of Education offers a comprehensive range of bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees as well as extensive non-degree and certification learning experiences. All professional education programs are accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and approved by the Michigan Department of Education. Many programs hold an additional national recognition. As a community of teachers and learners, the College strives to support schools and other learning communities throughout Michigan and across the nation.

Jann Joseph, Dean

The overriding goal of the College of Education is to help candidates become caring, knowledgeable, and reflective professionals who support the twin goals of diversity and democracy in schools and society. These two interconnected themes help create an exemplary educational environment to develop students' intellectual curiosity, creativity, critical and reflective thinking and problem-solving abilities so that they may become ethical, productive and contributing participants and leaders in a democratic and diverse society.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

The College of Health and Human Services, offering 17 undergraduate majors, 17 graduate degrees, and a range of minors and certificate programs, works in partnership with communities to prepare caring and competent professionals, generate knowledge, and advocate for social justice in order to enhance quality of life, health, and well-being. To fulfill this mission, the College provides a collaborative, hands-on, community-based learning environment; emphasizes intellectual rigor, ethics, and cultural competence for professional practice in a diverse society; and supports disciplinary and multidisciplinary research applied to relevant social and health concerns.

Academic activities based in the community are an integral part of the College's culture. Through academic service-learning and observation experiences in individual courses, internship and fieldwork requirements in degree programs, clinical education, and volunteer involvements, faculty, staff, and students contribute to regional communities and schools. College of Health and Human Services faculty and students also engage in a wide variety of interdisciplinary, community-based research projects, many of which include attention to diversity as a key component. Throughout the College, research is focused on improving health and quality of life.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY

The College of Technology meets the need for well-prepared individuals for a variety of business and industrial positions, for teachers of business and industrial

Wade Tornquist, Dean, Interim

education, and for commissioned officers for the United States Army, Army Reserve and National Guard. Twenty-two undergraduate and 13 graduate programs provide a solid foundation in mathematics, science, technology management, and human relations, together with hands-on learning activities, in order to effectively support students' educational aspirations.

The College is committed to excellence in applied science and technology, to continuous professional development, to raising the awareness and appreciation of technology, and to the integration of technology with the human experience. As the only institution in Michigan approved to participate in the federally funded Project Lead the Way program, the College annually helps more than 50 middle and high school science, technology and math teachers from across the country develop cutting-edge teaching skills. Four College of Technology centers and institutes link faculty, student, and staff capabilities with business, industry, academia, and government to meet regional, national, and global needs.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School provides leadership, oversight, and service for all graduate programs at the University. These programs include certificate and degree programs

James J. Carroll III,
Dean, Interim

at the master's, master of fine arts, specialist, and doctoral levels. It interprets and monitors Graduate School procedures and policies as recommended by the Graduate Council and established by the Dean of the Graduate School.

The Graduate School develops programs of academic and professional interest to faculty and students, including orientations, workshops, seminars, and guest speakers, and supports student research and creative projects. An annual Graduate Research Fair showcases outstanding graduate student research and creative projects, including dissertation and thesis research, independent study projects, capstone experiences, special projects, art, music and theatrical performances, and outcomes from practicum and internship experiences. With financial support established by the Division of Academic Affairs and administered by the Graduate School, several graduate students each year are partially funded to present juried papers or posters related to their thesis or dissertation research at local, state, or international conferences.

THE HONORS COLLEGE

The Honors College, a close-knit community of faculty and gifted undergraduates engaged in intellectually challenging study, scholarship, research, and service,

Rebecca Sipe, Director

offers highly qualified and motivated students a small college experience with all the benefits of a large comprehensive university. About 250 students are welcomed into the College each year, selected on the basis of a variety of factors—including test scores, GPA, personal statement essay, letters of recommendation, and community service—that point toward fitness for advanced work. Honors College students receive a rich educational experience marked by originality, critical thinking, intellectual diversity, and academic excellence. The College is strongly committed to the value of community service, and takes great pride in the work that Honors students do in the community and on campus.

The Honors experience provides outstanding preparation for careers and graduate study. Three-quarters of Honors College graduates go on to further professional and graduate training. Many receive graduate fellowships and national scholarships. The Honors experience leads to fulfilling careers in the professions, business, academia, and the arts.

HALLE LIBRARY

The University's librarians acquire and manage materials in many formats—books, periodicals, music scores, sound recordings, videos, electronic journals,

Tara Lynn Fulton, Dean

microforms—in all subjects. Research and reference services are provided to promote effective and efficient use of library and Internet resources.

Halle Library includes computer labs, study spaces, the Holman Learning Center, the Faculty Development Center, the IT Help Desk, a multi-media area, a theater, an auditorium, and the University archives. It houses one of the largest collections of children's literature in the United States. The building has full wireless connectivity, as well as the Automated Retrieval Collection (ARC) system, capable of housing 1 million items. While the most-used books are still on shelves, the majority of the school's books are stored within this system, which runs several stories underneath the library itself.
