Eastern Michigan University Ypsilanti, Michigan

Established by the state of Michigan in 1849 to educate teachers, Eastern Michigan University was founded as Michigan State Normal School and was the first such college west of the Allegheny Mountains. It became Michigan State Normal College in 1899 and then Eastern Michigan College in 1956. With the establishment of several colleges and a graduate school, EMU attained university status in 1959.

The University became a doctoral-granting institution in March 1991, when it was authorized to offer a doctorate in educational leadership. The inaugural class of 10 students was admitted in the fall of that year and produced its first doctoral graduate in April 1994. In addition to educational leadership, the University now offers a Ph.D. in clinical psychology and a Ph.D. in technology.

The University, which has a current enrollment of more than 24,000 students, comprises the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, Health and Human Services, Technology, and Honors; Graduate Studies and Research; University Library; and Extended Programs.

University Mission

Eastern Michigan University is committed to excellence in teaching through traditional and innovative approaches, the extension of knowledge through basic and applied research, and creative and artistic expression. Building on a proud tradition of national leadership in the preparation of teachers, we maximize educational opportunities and personal and professional growth for students from diverse backgrounds through an array of baccalaureate, master's and doctoral programs. We strive to provide a student-focused learning environment that enhances the lives of students and positively impacts the community. We extend our commitment beyond the campus boundaries to the wider community through service initiatives, and public and private partnerships of mutual interest addressing local, regional, national and international opportunities and challenges.

Institutional Values

Eastern Michigan University's mission and philosophy are built upon shared values that define and nourish the intellectual, ethical and aesthetic environment. These values are:

- Teaching and Learning
- Excellence
- Human Dignity and Respect
- Diversity
- Scholarship and Intellectual Freedom
- Public Engagement
- Leadership and Participatory Decision-Making
- Integrity

Guiding Principles

The following guiding principles provide standards the University seeks to achieve:

- Accessibility
- Relevancy
- Responsiveness (to change)
- Flexibility
- Quality
- Collaboration
- Accountability
- Affordability

President's Message

Dear Graduates, Families and Friends,

On behalf of the entire community of Eastern Michigan University, I extend hearty congratulations to you for reaching this important and auspicious milestone. There will only be one name on the diploma you receive, but it will represent everyone who has helped you attain this special achievement.

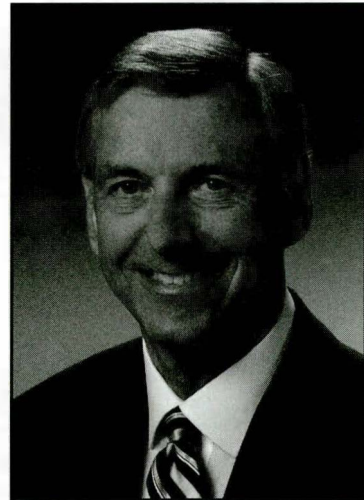

I have spoken many times about how we as a University have taken off our rear view mirror and are looking forward to what lies foursquare in the road ahead. That couldn't be truer for all of us than it is today as you begin a new course in your life.

Your time at EMU represents a microcosm of what lies ahead. There will be parallels, to be certain, both good and bad. You will encounter new people, new places and even a few bumps in the road. You may need to stop and ask directions or you may choose your own unique path.

It is my strong belief that we have prepared you well to get where you want to go with your life. I know that we have given you the tools you will need to be successful and to be better citizens. How you use those tools and your own talents and skills will determine what happens next. And my colleagues and I have full faith and confidence in your ability to do this well.

While both you and EMU will continue to move forward, I trust that our paths will intersect again and that you will continue to participate actively in our progress as alumni.

Congratulations!

John A. Fallon, III

Dr. John A. Fallon, III
President

The University Mace

Historically, the mace was a battle club used by men on horseback to injure footmen. With the passage of time, however, it became a symbol of learning and power.

Constructed of sterling silver, gold-plated brass and paduak, a wood resembling mahogany, the mace carries the symbols of each area of the University: the arts and sciences, business, education, health and human services, and technology.

The University mace (above) was designed and constructed by Mark Hall, who earned his bachelor's degree in art from Eastern Michigan University and completed requirements for his master's degree in fine arts at the Cranbrook Art Academy.

Academic Procession and Symbols

The academic procession preceding the commencement ceremony is the direct descendant of ecclesiastical processions, which included a stately and orderly movement of celebrants to the place of sacred ceremony. As the church was for centuries the main force behind intellectual enrichment, the religious overtones of the academic procession are not surprising.

The procession begins with the University mace, a symbol of authority of the President and the Board of Regents (see description and photo at left). The mace represents the golden flame of learning and is carried by the grand marshal, who is chosen on the basis of service to the University. Distinguished faculty lead their colleagues. The charter, carried by the vice president for university relations, represents the original academic design of the University. The keys, carried by the chief financial officer, represent permission to enter and employ the University's resources for the advancement of knowledge. The colors, carried by the vice president for student affairs, symbolize a heraldic representation of the University. The chief academic officer carries the book representing knowledge, the source of wisdom. The University seal is carried by the vice president for enrollment services. The medallion worn by the president represents the distinguished office of the University's leader.

All undergraduates wear gowns of the same color. The colors of the hoods signify the different graduate degrees. The custom of wearing gowns, or robes, stems from the time when all students of higher learning were members of the clergy and wore garments that the church considered appropriate. The wearing of caps dates from early Roman history. The mortar board may be a combination of tight-fitting caps worn indoors by the scholars in the Middle Ages and the soft biretta worn outdoors. The tuft of the early cap has been replaced by a tassel. The green and white tassel worn by the graduates represents the colors of Eastern Michigan University.

Meaning of hood colors of academic dress:

White	Arts and sciences
Drab	Business
Light blue	Education
Citron	Health and human services
Gold	Technology
Purple	Specialist's
Green, white and blue	Doctoral

Fast Facts

Eastern Michigan University is a public, comprehensive, metropolitan University that offers programs in the arts, sciences and professions.

What makes us unique

The University is committed to the needs of our community through teaching, research and service. Our faculty teach courses tailored to the diverse needs of metropolitan students, combine research-based knowledge and practical application and experience, and are committed to educating students to be effective citizens.

Our faculty, students and administrators also work closely with the community while acquiring invaluable lifetime learning experiences.

EMU is only one of two universities in Michigan to offer the American Humanics certification program that prepares students to work in leadership roles with nonprofit organizations.

Eastern Michigan University continues to be the largest producer of educational personnel in the United States including the largest producer of special education personnel, mathematics teachers and science teachers; and is among the top 10 producers of educational administrators. EMU is the second-largest producer of minority educational personnel in Michigan and has been recognized for its commitment to a diverse campus by U.S. News and World Report.

Enrollment profile

The 23,862 students enrolled in fall 2004 include 19,000 undergraduates and 4,862 graduate students. Undergraduate students are 59 percent female and 41 percent male; graduate students are 65 percent female and 35 percent male. EMU students represent 46 U.S. states (including Puerto Rico and Washington, D.C.) and 79 foreign countries. Average age for undergraduates is 24; for graduate students, 34. EMU's population is: 69 percent white; 18 percent African American; 2 percent international; 7 percent undeclared; 2 percent Asian/Pacific Islander; 2 percent Hispanic and 1 percent Native American.

Faculty and staff

EMU employs 761 full-time faculty and 1,307 staff members. Ninety-three percent of EMU professors have doctoral or terminal degrees in their field. The student-to-professor ratio is 19:1.

Facilities

Our 803-acre campus of scenic flora and wooded trails includes 18 miles of walkways and jogging trails, and 122 buildings dispersed throughout our academic and athletic campuses. There are currently 13 residence halls and four apartment complexes with 650 units housing more than 5,000 students.

The Star Spangled Banner

Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?

Whose broad stripes and bright stars
through the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?

And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air, gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

Oh, say, does that star spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Our Pledge

Eastern, sacred Alma Mater,
to your name we shall be true,
Ever marching on to victory,
we'll stand by to see you through.
Softly floating on the breeze,
verdant green with white of snow,
This our banner we will carry in our hearts
where'er we go.

Photographers: Photographs should be taken before or after the ceremony. Please remain seated during the distribution of diplomas. Photographers will not be allowed in front of or near the stage. However, a professional photographer will take color photos of all graduates as they receive their diplomas on stage. Each graduate will receive a free color proof. There is no obligation to buy enlargements, although this opportunity will be available when graduates receive their proofs, typically seven days after the ceremony.

Commencement Speaker and Honorary Degree Recipient (10 a.m.)

W. Frank Fountain was appointed senior vice president of external affairs and public policy (Auburn Hills, Mich.) for DaimlerChrysler Corp. in November 1998. Prior to the merger, he was vice president of government affairs for Chrysler Corporation from 1995.

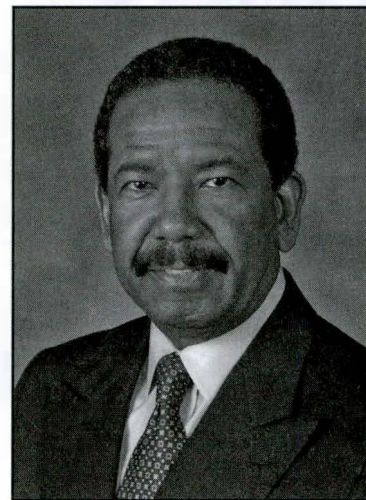

Fountain is responsible for maintaining and coordinating DaimlerChrysler's interface with state and local governments across the United States. He directs a staff of government affairs specialists who are responsible for analyzing issues that are important to DaimlerChrysler and the auto industry, developing company positions and presenting those topics of concern to all levels of government. He is also responsible for coordinating strategy on issues of interest to other domestic auto industry manufacturers.

Fountain has three additional areas of responsibility at DaimlerChrysler: Community Relations, National Education Programs and the DaimlerChrysler Corporation Fund, which is the company's philanthropic organization. Fountain serves as the president of the fund.

Since joining Chrysler Corporation in 1973 as an investment analyst, Fountain has had numerous positions of increasing responsibility in Chrysler's Corporate Controller's Office, the Treasurer's Office and Chrysler's Government Affairs office in Washington, D.C.

He also is a member of many business and professional organizations and serves on numerous boards of directors, which include: Detroit Public Schools Board of Education (April 1999 to February 2003); Detroit Regional Chamber of Commerce, vice chair; Museum of African American History; Hudson-Webber Foundation; Michigan Manufacturers Association; Community Foundation of Southeast Michigan; WTVS Channel 56 (public television); The Wharton School Board of Overseers; Hampton University Board of Trustees, chair; Metro Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau; Citizens Research Council of Michigan, chair; International Visitors Council of Metro Detroit; New Detroit, vice chair; Focus: Hope Advisory Board; and the Mackinac Center for Public Policy Advisory Board.

Fountain has a bachelor's degree in history and political science from Hampton University and an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School. He also served as a Peace Corps volunteer in West Bengal, India. In addition, Fountain has an honorary doctorate of public service degree from Central Michigan University.

Mary Kramer is the publisher of Crain's Detroit Business, a business publication with a circulation of more than 35,000 and a readership of nearly 150,000.

Kramer was born in Grand Rapids, Mich. A summer internship led her to her first full-time reporting job at The Grand Rapids Press. She completed college by attending night classes at Grand Valley State University. She worked for daily newspapers for 16 years before joining Crain's Detroit Business in April 1989. Crain's, which was launched in February 1985, covers business news in the five-county metropolitan Detroit area.

In 1991, Kramer was named associate publisher, reporting directly to Crain Communications Chairman, Keith Crain. In May 1994, she was named vice president of Crain Communications Inc. and in May 2005 was named publisher.

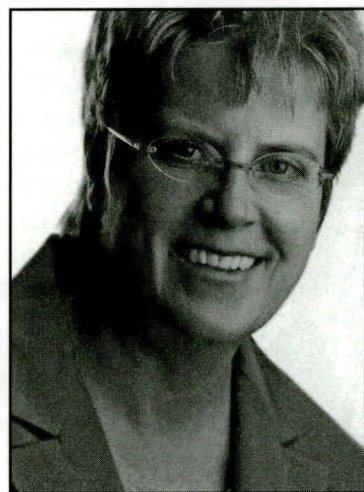

In 2001, Kramer became the first woman to be elected as an officer of the historic Detroit Athletic Club (DAC) and in 2003 became the first woman president of the DAC.

Kramer's professional experience includes working for the Kalamazoo Gazette, the Ann Arbor News, the Greenwich (Connecticut) Time, the Buffalo (New York) Courier-Express, and the Grand Rapids Press.

She currently serves on several boards, including: Wayne State University's Board of Visitors; the Grand Valley State University Foundation; the Detroit Metro Sports Commission; the Michigan College Foundation and the Metropolitan Affairs Coalition.

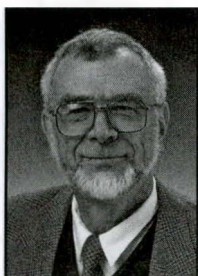

Kramer has received numerous honors and awards. She received the 2003 Corporate Citizenship Award from Wayne State University, the 2002 Distinguished Alumnae Award from Grand Valley State University, the Founders Award from the Women's Economic Club in 2002, the Neal Shine Award for Media Commitment to Philanthropy from the Detroit Chapter of the Association of Fund Raising Professionals and the Modeling the Way Award from Leadership Detroit in 2001.

She has a bachelor's degree from Grand Valley State University in 1979 and has a degree from the Northwestern University Newspaper Management Center.

College of Arts and Sciences

Hartmut Hof
Dean (interim)

The College of Arts and Sciences includes 17 departments, one specialized program and offers most of the courses forming traditional university liberal arts and general education requirements. It provides students with a solid foundation for further work in the college's wide range of major and minor programs, or in specialized curricula in the University's other colleges. Faculty in the college have won national recognition for their teaching excellence and research contributions.

Programs within the college offer superior preparation for rewarding careers. Those in the arts and humanities enable students to understand and interpret the past, to appreciate the finest achievements of art, drama and music, and to develop essential languages and communication skills for a high-technological, ever-shrinking world. Programs in the natural and social sciences promote scientific literacy and provide a solid foundation for the increasing needs of a scientifically knowledgeable population. Emphasis is placed on key terms, concepts, modes of thought and reasoning, and techniques of research and problem-solving.

The college offers students numerous opportunities for enrichment and career exploration. The annual Undergraduate Symposium showcases students' research and creative activity. Direct student involvement in learning is promoted through independent study, research projects and special activities, internships and cooperative education placements, and the University Honors College.

College of Business

David Mielke
Dean

The College of Business develops future business leaders by providing high-quality, professionally accredited programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels and by offering professional development education to the business community. The college values and promotes scholarly research, applications and an international perspective in each of its programs.

Professional preparation is provided for students interested in administrative careers in business, government agencies and public administration. Emphasis is placed on a combination of tools, concepts and theory for practical application to business decisions and business problems.

The college also serves as an educational resource for business firms of regional, national and international scope and maintains alliances that are mutually beneficial to students, faculty and the college. Its faculty is professionally recognized for its contributions to the body of knowledge and its understanding of management and business enterprise.

College of Education

Vernon Polite
Dean

Eastern Michigan University long has been a national leader in the preparation of teachers and other educational personnel. The University was founded in 1849 as Michigan State Normal School, the first teacher-training institution west of the Allegheny Mountains. It was the second normal college in the nation to offer a four-year baccalaureate program for teachers, and the University has grown to become one of the nation's largest producer of educational personnel.

Over the years, the College of Education has repeatedly been recognized for its outstanding academic performance. Since 1985, the college has earned numerous awards, including four Showcase of Excellence Awards from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities for model programs that enhance the professional preparation of educators.

The College of Education comprises four departments and the Office of Academic Services. Its faculty and staff are committed to providing instruction in professional education licensure, as well as placing students in related curricula outside the field of education.

EMU has been continuously accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education since the founding of that organization. In addition, EMU holds numerous teaching-field-specific formal approvals from national professional organizations.

College of Health and Human Services

Jeanne Thomas
Dean

The College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) prepares professionals with the knowledge and skills needed to optimize quality of life in their communities. Our students develop a deep understanding of advances in medical science, the aging of the population and factors that affect development throughout the lifespan. All CHHS program curricula integrate empirically-based knowledge with practice through experiential learning opportunities grounded in the surrounding communities. We are committed to not only being a "good neighbor" to Ypsilanti and surrounding communities, but also to forming and enriching partnerships between our programs and regional health and human service institutions that serve the needs of both our students and the partner institutions. The college is comprised of the schools of health promotions and human performance, health sciences, nursing and social work.

College of Technology

Morell Boone
Dean (interim)

The College of Technology's mission is to provide a variety of educational programs leading to bachelor's and advanced degrees that are responsive to current and emerging domestic and international workforce needs. More specifically, the College of Technology (COT) meets the need for well-prepared individuals for a variety of business education and technology education professionals, and commissioned officers for the United States Army.

The College currently is composed of the schools of technology studies and engineering technology. Specific programs have been designed as collaborative efforts with other colleges and departments. Baccalaureate and graduate programs provide a solid foundation in mathematics, science, technology, management and human relations in order to effectively serve the educational aspirations of students. Students learn to apply sound theory to practical problems and have opportunities for laboratory and cooperative work experiences. Graduates are prepared for engineering technology and technology management positions in design, production, research and marketing for business and industry. Through the University's long-standing military science program, leadership qualities necessary for entry into the active Army, Army Reserve or National Guard as a commissioned officer are developed and reinforced.

The COT emphasizes relevant, real-life, hands-on learning activities, a solid interdisciplinary foundation, close relationships with business and industry, teamwork and individual professional competence. All departments in the College of Technology focus on the importance of change. Students are encouraged to be tomorrow's leaders by refining the knowledge and skills necessary to understand, adapt to and influence change.

Graduate Studies and Research

Deb deLaski-Smith
(Interim) Dean,
Graduate Studies
and Research

The Graduate School provides leadership, oversight and service for all graduate programs at the University. These programs include certificate and degree programs at the master's, master of fine arts, specialist and doctoral levels. The Graduate School manages the Graduate Assistant and Minority Graduate Assistant programs, the King-Chavez-Parks Future Faculty Fellows program and the award process for most General Fund and endowed scholarships and fellowships. It interprets and monitors Graduate School graduate-level procedures and policies as recommended by the Graduate Council and established by the associate vice president for Graduate Studies and Research. It develops programs of academic and professional interest to faculty and students, including orientations, workshops, seminars, guest speakers and an annual Graduate Research Fair. The Office of Research Development (ORD) serves and supports faculty and staff engaged in sponsored activities that promote basic and applied research, public service, teaching, learning, scholarship and artistic expression.

The Honors College

James Knapp
Director

The Honors College at Eastern Michigan University strives to provide the intimacy of a small college education within the context of a large, comprehensive university. To this end, both educational and cultural experiences for EMU's intellectually talented and motivated students are provided through challenging Honors courses and extracurricular activities that encourage scholarly curiosity, leadership, civic engagement and diversity. The Honors College offers undergraduate students opportunities for a wide range of experiences that aid in the development of their appreciation for creativity, the arts, sciences, critical issues facing contemporary society and diversity among people and their cultures.

Alumni Association Message

Dear EMU Class of 2007,

Congratulations and welcome to the Eastern Michigan University Alumni Association! I am honored to extend an invitation to each of you to stay involved and engaged in the Eastern Michigan family.

I invite you to be an active member of the Alumni Association. Our association provides outstanding opportunities to stay in touch with your friends and network with more than 120,000 Eastern Michigan alumni.

We have chapters of Alumni across the nation and here in metro Detroit that bring alumni with common interests together to advance their careers and the University.

Throughout the years that I have been associated with EMU, I have come to appreciate the many wonderful contributions that so many people have made to create this great University and provide the opportunities we enjoyed as students. As the years have gone by I have also realized how much of my own success I owe to those who paved the paths I have traveled, with their knowledge and generosity.

I have felt privileged and proud to play a small part as a student, as student body president and now as an active member and officer of the alumni association. The most interesting thing about all of this is that by being active and involved in the University I personally have grown and benefited in countless ways.

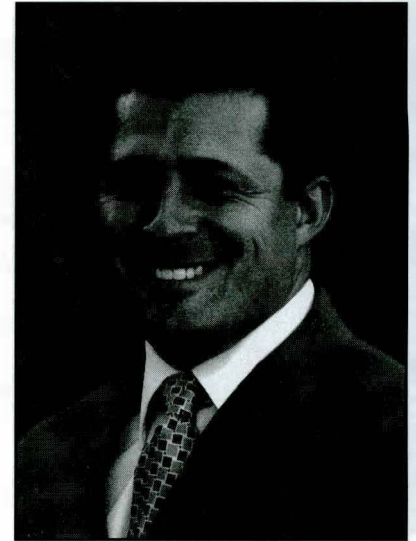

I hope you will join with me and other members of the Alumni Association by enjoying its benefits, sustaining the University and creating opportunities for others who will follow us.

My very best wishes to all of you and again my congratulations.

Go Green!
