And the Winners Are...

Four of the candidates running on the "United Students" ticket were elected by student voters to be next year's PACSA officers. They are, left to right, Joe Rodriguez, attorney general-elect; Tim Houston, president-elect; Margie Mallory, re-elected as secretary; and Jimmy Alaniz, treasurer-elect. Two candidates are vying for the vice president's position in today and tomorrow's election.

Medrano, Oubre in Runoff For PACSA VP Office

A close run-off race has developed for the office of vice president of the Pan American College Student Association after primary elections last week in which junior Tim Houston was elected president.

Henry Medrano, PAC senior, collected 463 votes to 386 tallied by Mike Oubre, sophomore, to draw each into a run-off for the vice presidential position and presiding officer of the Student Senate. Robert Marcus, sophomore, also vying for the post, received 199 votes.

All Students Will File Application

By Gerald Whitaker

All Pan Am students currently enrolled who plan to attend the fall semester will be required to fill out a new application form.

Assistant Registrar John Hook said, "Students must fill in all blanks and return the form to the Registrar's Office in person."

The application form may be obtained from the Registrar's Office beginning May 5. Deadline for filing the new form is set for May 16. Any student not meeting this deadline will be placed at the end of the registration line next September.

Students attending night classes may obtain the form from their instructors who will also collect the completed form for the registrar's office.

Hook said the new application form is designed to facilitate date processing and to replace the old matriculation card now in use. The form will also assist in a new program for academic counseling.

Houston lined up 554 votes to 295 for Richard Rincon, junior, and 207 for Esiquio Salinas, junior. A total of 1,060 students voted in the presidential election, while 1,050 voted for the vice president. Four write-in votes were recorded for the presidential spot.

In other elections, three PACSA positions were captured by candidates who ran unopposed. Junior Margie Mallory received 932 votes for the office of secretary with 17 write-in votes cast; sophomore Jimmy Alaniz had 917 votes in his favor, with 19 write-in votes for the office of treasurer; for the attorney general position, sophomore Joe Rodriguez had a total of 917 votes with 18 write-in votes.

The run-off election will be held between the hours of 8 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. today and Friday.

Peace Corps Team Arrives

The Peace Corps Program director for South and Central America and two Peace Corps campus representatives are visiting PAC today and Friday. The recruiters' information center is located in the College Center patio.

Program director William Moffett and Bill Combs, a recently returned volunteer from the Republic of the Philippines and Miss JoAnne Anthony, a recently returned volunteer from Uruguay, are here to answer questions and distribute literature. They will also speak to interested classes and organizations about their experiences and the Peace Corps programs.

Assisting the recruiting team are several returned volunteers currently living and working in the lower Rio Grande Valley. They are Jim Morris, a returned volunteer from the Dominican Republic and now an assistant professor at PAC, Juan and Elizabeth Chavira, returned volunteers from Peru and currently working as VISTA supervisors for the Minority Mobilization Program, and Wally Bunton, a returned volunteer from the Camaroons and now a student at PAC.

The Peace Corps is seeking more and more applications to fill the ever increasing request from the more than 60 host nations around the world. Currently there are more than 10,000 volunteers overseas serving their two year assignments.

To be eligible to serve in the Peace Corps, you must be at least 18 years of age, a U.S. citizen, and if married, have no dependents and serve with your spouse.

The recruiting team will be conducting a special session of the "short" version of the Peace Corps placement test, designed for college students, during the three day visit. On Friday, it will be given at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. and on Saturday at 9 a. m. This will be the only version of the test that will be given at PAC this year.

Miss Anthony worked in Uruguay where she helped organize rural youth groups. She taught hygiene, sewing, music, cooking and nutrition in the rural schools of her area. She traveled in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Panama.

Bill Combs was graduated from the University of Tulsa with a BA in Journalism in 1965 and served in the Philippines after joining the Peace Corps. He worked with a Special Services program dealing with youth programs, law and order, athletics and public relations. Combs has visited Japan, Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

Moffett, the Latin America Regional Office director, is a native Texan and has visited European, African and Latin American countries. He joined the overseas staff as Peace Corps Director to Chile from January 1964, to August, 1966. Since then he has served as chief of the Latin American Peace Corps division in Washington.

PAC Student Drowns At Anzalduas Dam

Cantu, 20, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Cantu of six miles north Mission.

Funeral services were held in Alton Tuesday for Pan American sophomore Arturo Cantu.

He drowned at a Sunday afternoon picnic at Anzalduas Park, south of Mission.

Cantu was a student teacher at Alton Junior High School and had taken his class to the park for the afternoon. Three of his girl students waded into the water to take pictures, one of them stepping into a deep hole and being swept down river in the fast current. Cantu, who could not swim, stepped into the water and with the aid of a boy on shore, pushed the girl to safety. He was then overcome himself by the current and drowned. The body was recovered about an hour later by a rescue team from the Mission Fire Department.

He was survived by his parents, four brothers, Guadalupe Antonio, Alfredo, Alberto and Armando, and one sisters, Mrs. Ernestina Esparza of Fort Worth.

Funeral services were held in the St. Martin Porres Catholic Church in Alton, with burial by Flores Funeral Home. Cantu was a lector in the church.

Honor Society

14 Initiated Into Alpha Chi

Eighteen Pan American students were initiated into the Texas Alpha Epsilon Chapter of the Alpha Chi honorary scholastic fraternity Saturday.

The 18 were initiated at the organization's annual banquet held in Pharr. Speakers at the banquet were Mrs. Ferne Drayer and Mrs. Sylvia Dominguez, two of the group's faculty advisors. They spoke about the Region 1 Conference of Alpha Chi held recently in Ada, Okla.

Initiated into the honorary society were Mrs. Geraldine Oubre, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Evelyn Lackey, Oralia Palacios, Maria Pinalez, Yolanda Weaver and Mrs. Phyllis Ward. Also initiated were Patti Badillo, Mrs. Florence Brownfield, Joe Gill, Vance Bryant, Allen Lacky, Eric Schedel and Mrs. Sharon Pirtle.

Next year's officers of the society were also initiated. They are Donald Gray, president; Jennifer Clayton, vice president; Delaine Dalager, secretary; and Ricardo Fuentes, Jr., representative to next year's Region 1 Council.

Present officers are Steve Martin, president; Ginny Joynner, vice president; Diana Vassberg, secretary; and Rene Guerra, region representative.

In a business meeting during the banquet Alpha Chi decided to financially sponsor a lecture-ship each year to bring recognized intellectuals to the campus. One such program featured Dr. John Hospers of the University of Southern California in a two-day series during the fall semester.

Faculty sponsors of Alpha Chi besides Mrs. Drayer and Mrs. Dominguez are Dr. Ted Clark and Joseph S. Tallant.

What It's Like On College News Staff

What is it like to be on a college newspaper? To be on a college newspaper is at once very difficult and very easy. This apparent contradiction should be explained in the next few statements.

First of all, consistent, accurate and precise journalistic reporting is difficult, and it takes some effort to turn out a story that has all of these qualities and at the same time is interesting. This makes working on any newspaper difficult. Writing for a group of people who have at least average intelligence and a high school diploma is not only difficult, it can be dangerous. College people, meaning students, faculty and administrators are extremely difficult to satisfy.

An overloaded work schedule seems to be the rule rather than the exception for most college students today. This is certainly true for staffers of campus publications. There is always one more story to be written, one more picture to be taken. Sometimes things run way behind, like the nights when you leave the office after 9 p.m. and then go home to have lunch and study.

It's also hard to not look around for something to criticize. Many think that this is all editors know how to do, and some think this is what they should do. Well, you can bet that isn't all they do. Just as an example, practically every piece of copy that goes into a newspaper is read by the editor and checked for style, accuracy, proper spelling and logical progression. In the case of The Pan American, practically every news story is written by the staff, which is, incidentally, a relatively small one when compared with most college newspapers.

After all this, the editor may just feel like criticizing. Hopefully, it will be constructive criticism, like criticizing the critics. But the editor must go further than advocating more school spirit and a new sidewalk. He must have practical relevant suggestions, solutions that might better or alter the problems he's criticizing. This is where we separate the high school student from the college student, high school administrators from college administrators.

And this is what makes it all worth while... being able to take a responsible stand on a mature and worthy subject, being able to effectively report what is happening around and within the college. This is the challenge that makes it worthwhile.

The Pan American staff invites you to join the ranks guaranteeing bad hours, poor pay, uncomfortable offices and a great deal of satisfaction for someone who would like to write, has something to say and is willing to try.

Financial Aid Applications Due June 1

Carrol Knight, director of Financial Aid at Pac, announced this week that any student who is enrolled at Pan Am currently and will be enrolled next year who is interested in financial aid should apply at his office in the College Center by June 1. This includes all applications for TDP, NDSL, EOG and work study.

Fair Starts Friday

PAC will host the annual Magic Valley Industrial Fair in the College Center Friday at 7:30 a.m.

Participating in the event will be high school boys and girls displaying projects made while homemaking or shop courses. In the past students have exhibited cookies, cakes and dresses in the homemaking division.

Ribbons are awarded first, second and third places in 150 categories. Trophies will be awarded to the outstanding junior high student (grades 7-9) and the outstanding senior high student (grades 10-12.) A third trophy will be awarded to the school having amassed the greatest number of points based on ribbon value (blue-3, red-2, white-1).

Sophomore Wins $375, Will Study in Monterrey

Miss Miller is a Spanish major and French minor. The scholarship was open to any non Spanish-speaking student who is not a senior. This was so the winner could bring back the knowledge gained from the summer study and impart it to the classes he would be taking the following year.

Rose Marie Miller, a sophomore from Iowa, has won a $375 Summer School Scholarship to study Spanish at Monterrey Tech. The scholarship is given in honor of the late Senor Francisco Ochoa, a bookkeeper who kept a bibliofile in Mexico.

Selection of the winner was made by a committee of Spanish teachers.

Broncs Win One, Lose Two To Fall To 21-11

Pan Am lifted its season baseball record to 21-11 this week with one victory against two losses. The Broncs lost two in a row, one to TCU, 11-6, and one to Trinity, 3-2, before coming back to defeat Trinity in the finale of a two-game series, 6-2.

Tommy Sandoval scattered eight hits and picked up his fifth win of the season Tuesday as Pan Am gained revenge for a ten-inning loss at the hands of the Tigers.

The Broncs scored two runs in the first but the Tigers tied it up with single runs in the second and third. PAC came alive for three more in the fourth that put the game out of reach.

Sandoval struck out nine and walked seven while recording his fifth victory in eight decisions. Strong hitting from Reggr Tredaway, who connected for a run-scoring double, Mike Duffy, who had a two-run triple, and Rene Torres, who singled twice and scored twice, gave Sandoval all the cushion he needed.

In the ten-inning contest on Monday, Trinity rode the four-hit pitching of Craig Cook, who also delivered two key blows in his own behalf.

Walks by Tony Barbosa, who went the full distance for the Broncs, set up all three Trinity runs.

In the bottom of the 10th, Barbosa walked Gary Lovelady to open the inning. Lovelady was sacrificed to second and scored the game-winning run on a single up the middle.

Pan Am had taken a 1-0 lead in the sixth when Tim Tulley, safe on an error, advanced to second on another error during a pick-off attempt, moved to third on Barbosa's bloop single to right and came home on a sacrifice fly to left by Duffey.

Trinity tied it in the seventh when two walks and a single accounted for a run.

Ramsey Wins Consolation

Jody Ramsey captured the first place consolation prize Saturday afternoon at the Texas Commission of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women's State Tennis Tournament.

The tourney, which was sponsored by Trinity University in San Antonio, was attended by the first and second place winners of each of the state's seven TCIAW districts.

Miss Ramsey, who lost in the first round to Miss Hagerman of S.M.U., came back to take the consolation crown with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Cherry Rapp of Wayland College in the finals.

Linda de la Vina, Pan Am's other entry in the tourney, lost her first two matches to drop out of the consolation.

The tournament marked the end of official competition for the semester for Pan Am's women athletes.

The loss dropped Barbosa to 7-2 for the season.

TCU outslugged Pan American Friday afternoon for a non-conference victory.

Both teams connected with 16 hits, but the Horned Frogs made the most of their base runners. Five singles, two walks and a two-run error in the five-run seventh inning allowed the hosts to erase a 5-4 deficit and chase Bronc starter Johnny Guzman to the showers.

Pan American broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning on Alan Jones solo home run and took its short-lived lead with a run in the sixth.

It was Guzman's worst game of the season, as the San Antonio native gave up 13 hits and walked two in seven innings.

The Broncs close out the season this weekend with a three game series against the University of Dallas. The games will be played in Edinburg on Friday and Saturday.

PAC Drops Two Golf Matches

Coach Charles Parkinson's Bronc golf team closed out the 1968-69 dual match season Saturday with a double dual match against Texas A & I and Texas Lutheran College.

Both visiting squads beat the PAC golfers on the wind-swept McAllen Municipal Course, as the teams counted their best four scores. TLC was the low team at 329, followed by A&I at 332 and Pan Am at 342.

Mark Masterpool led Pan Am with a 78, Jim Atherton shot an 85, Sonny Warnecke recorded an 87, and Bobby Locklair and Skip Harden tied for fourth at 89.

Bill Evans of A&I was the match medalist with a 72.

In a correction on last week's golf story, Mark Masterpool was the Bronc medalist in the match with the University of Texas' "B" team on April 19 instead of Bobby Locklair, as had been incorrectly reported.

4 Players Make Final Chess Moves

The Pan American Spring Chess Tournament has progressed to the finals according to Joe Flores, chairman of the event. Four students are presently engaged in the sixth round of competitive play to determine the winner.

They are Richard Codina, Robert Marcua, Manuel Quintanilla, and Ben Villarreal. Alejandro Cardenas, in fifth place, was eliminated early in the fifth round.

The tournament has been in progress since March 28, just prior to Easter break. Originally 22 contestants were entered, but five rounds of competition have eliminated all but four players. Players were given a week to play their games. Two losses in the first three rounds resulted in elimination. After that, a single loss meant resignation from the marathon tournament.

The winners of the sixth round will battle it out for first and second place. First place winner will be awarded a trophy. Second and third place winners will receive chess books.

"It's dog eat dog now," Flores commented, "All the players are out for blood." Flores, last year's tournament champion, is not in competition this year in adherence to tradition that last year's winner will not succeed himself.

The final results will be posted in the College Center Office.

Persons wishing to participate in SNEA are encouraged to attend the meetings or contact any member or advisor.

Shown here at the presentation are Terry Riojas, Tony Balderas, Moises Loza, the Bishop and the Rev. Charles Moran.

Medrano Wins VP Election

Enrique Medrano of Elsa defeated Michael Oubre of Raymondville in the run-off election for vice president of the Pan American Student Association.

The vote was tallied at 399 for Medrano and 261 for Oubre. A total of 660 students voted Thursday and Friday, approximately 60 per cent of the turnout recorded for the previous week's general election.

The new PACSA officers discussed preliminary plans for next year at a dinner meeting last night. Also present were the committee chairmen tentatively appointed by the president during the past week. Appointments are subject to Senate confirmation in the fall.

Agenda for the meeting included a discussion of policies such as the student government's registration program and the establishment of the Student Government Information Office and a traffic violation mediation committee. The duties and responsibilities of each office and committee were defined and the persons in charge of the various programs were assigned.

Buena Suerte..

It's time for The Pan American to say "Good night, Dick" for this school year. But before we go, a few last editorial comments. . . Now that it's almost over, it seems to have been a good year. The keywords seem to have been "growth" and "change"---for the campus, in the front offices and among the students.

During my semester as editor, I have talked with many different people who had different visions and plans for the college. Some said to me, "PAC is the best thing that ever happened to the Valley" . . . "What this college needs to do is grow up" . . . "The college should be an island of sanctuary where students can come to learn without outside distractions" . . . "I think I'll hijack this college to Havana" . . . "This college has possibilities. . ."

Different attitudes? Clashes? Yes, but that's what'll keep things changing and growing and much of this still needs to be done on all levels at Pan Am.

Whatever else they strive for, I hope that all who now and later on make up its different parts will bring to PAC an open mind. To close our minds to something because the big "A" (Administration) wants it, because "they" say it's backed by "outside agitators" or because it'll mean we have to change a few or even many ideas, is to defeat the whole purpose of the college being here at all.

Have I gotten too philosophical? Not really---look at our fellow students on other campuses. They're advocating changes and growth, too, in different degrees and through different methods. Of those who are "In" we ask, "How many years can a man turn his head and pretend he just doesn't see?"

With that, we'll pass on the job of trying to bring about some of these changes to the next Editor and Company. Buena suerte.

'Not Answer to MAYO' FRIEND Clarifies Group's Purpose

Dear Editor:

There have been questions as to why FRIENDS, service organization, was formed besides to give aid and assistance to the poor.

These questions are being asked to see if the members of FRIENDS will take any stand behind the statement which Judge Jim Wilson made in which he said, "We offer an ideological alternative to any radical groups." When Mr. Wilson made this statement, he was stating his own opinion.

At their second meeting the members decided on what to present to the public as reasons for their existence and by no means acknowledged the fact that the statement made by Mr.

Wilson was held by the majority of the group or even a minority.

Why Mr. Wilson made this statement is self-evident to the citizens of our community, Mr.

Wilson is 100 percent anti-MAYO, Brown Beret and all other radical groups--which is his own prerogative FRIENDS was founded on the belief that "All human life has meaning and purpose.....that Life's best treasures are individual freedom and human personal-ity...that the equality of man is greater than his difference...

that mankind can best be served through friendship, work and love."

Why would he want to attack these individuals instead of trying to understand that FRIENDS is here to help the citizens of our community and not to be the alternative to any other group? If Mr. Wilson wants to counteract any other group he should do it through some other method and not with FRIENDS. "To mend what is broken, to heal what is hurt." With this in mind I think FRIENDS should continue to do what is stated in their objectives and ignore the purpose of these other altogether.

Sincerely,
Homer de la Cruz

Man Isn't Ready For LSD Experience

University Of The Americas

Mother Michel Geuren, assistant professor of English, spoke of LSD at a recent seminar held at the psychology conference at the University of the Americas. She questioned whether or not man was ready for LSD.

Man, according to Prof. Geuren, is so alert in regards to the contingent fight against the drug, that he actually is uninformed concerning the validity of LSD. She closed her speech by saying that dropping acid (LSD) brings greater, not fewer frustrations, in reality.

North Texas State University

In a recent sampling of student opinion of Daylight Saving Time, a Dallas Freshman showed that he has given some serious--or not so serious--thought to the subject. He said that "Actually, we can live in a Daylight Savings Time world. IT lives us an extra hour of sunlight in the afternoon and an hour less in the morning. Let's Beautify America and get rid of this DST and may all the sleep in the world be upon you."

Geologists Go On Annual Field Trip

Members of the Pan American Geological Society, whose purpose is to promote interest in geological activities, recently attended the ninth annual Field Trip of the Southwestern Association of Student Geological Societies sponsored by Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. The field trip was held during the week end of April 25-27.

Twenty-one students, most of them geology majors and minors, and two faculty sponsors, R.W. Rodgers and Neal Bates, left April 24 on the trip. En route to Abilene the group stopped to view and study numerous localities which are important in the study of Texas geology. One of these was the Llano central mineral region. Other stops were made at the oldest exposure of rocks in Texas at Packsaddle Schist and at the asphalt mines at Uvalde. The group also looked the basaltic intrusion at Knippe and the Rudistid Reef near Bandera.

The Pan Am club bid for and received the sponsorship of the Tenth Annual SASGS Field Trip in which the geology of northeastern Mexico will be explored in a trip to Monterrey, Nuevo Leon.

Other recent club business was the election of officers for the year 1969. Students elected were Ed Miller, president; James Martin, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, secretary; and Mrs. Darlene Gooris, treasurer.

Pan Am Instructor Has Traveled Widely

A former Peace Corp Volunteer, Navy photographer, world traveller and actor has decided to make PAC "home base"--- for a while, anyway. He's Jim Morris, social studies instructor.

The PAC teacher recently went "barefoot in the park" in Neil Simons' play by the same name. He portrayed "Paul," the stuffed shirt husband, in the production presented by the Valley International Players.

Morris graduated from Clovis, Calif., high school and then enlisted in the Navy and served as a base photographer "state-side" from 1956-59.

His interest in photography led him to study this field at the U.S. Naval Photo School at Pensacola, Fla. However, he doesn't plan to be a professional photographer since he says, "I lack the discipline to pursue it as a life work. I take pictures for fun."

After his Navy stint, he attended Fresno State College (Calif.) and was graduated with honors in 1962 after obtaining his bachelor of arts degree in political science.

He then volunteered for the Peace Corps. His training at the University of Washington (Seattle) included Spanish and community development.

While in the Peace Corps, Morris worked in the Dominican Republic as a volunteer in school and construction and community development. He taught English and recreation. After his tour he returned to the United States as a Peace Corps recruiter, travelling to university campuses.

For young people interested in serving in the Peace Corps, he says the underlying principle is to help people help themselves through organization and unity. A complementary organization in the U.S. is the VISTA program.

"An experience in a Peace Corps situation influences your philosophy and often changes your goal in life. In my case I decided on more schooling and travel," he says.

After this he went to Europe and while in France attended the Universite de Bordeaux to supplement his previous intensive study of the French language. Morris says he speaks Spanish fluently and French adequately. He then continued his travels in Europe, Canada, Mexico and some Central American countries.

He returned to the U. S. and obtained his master's degree in political science and a certificate of Latin American Studies in 1967. He also spent a summer working in the office of personnel of the United Nations.

He joined the Pan Am faculty in 1967. He claims not to be a "dedicated" teacher in the old school terminology but feels a sense of obligation to his students. He believes the academic welfare of his students must be placed ahead of his personal gratification.

His future plans are fluid. He would like to work in Central or South American or do more graduate study. Whatever his plans, it is likely he will continue to be involved and an active community member.

BSU Offers Many Activities for All

By JAMES POLK

The Pan Am Baptist Student Center, dedicated in spring of 1966, has grown to have the largest enrollment for Baptist Bible classes in the state of Texas. There are 184 students from almost every denomination taking Bible classes at the BSU Center.

The BSU is sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and operates on a budget met by the churches of the Magic Valley Baptist Assoc. Dan Crawford is the present director.

Regular activities of the BSU are, Tuesday and Thursday at activity period, commuter luncheons served followed by thoughts of inspiration and information. Also Thursdays at 5:30 p.m. in "Encounter" which varies in nature form films to panel discussions to student reaction programs. At 7:30 Thursday the BSU Executive Council meets to discuss activities of the BSU.

Recreation plays a big part in BSU activities as evidenced by the BSU intramural teams. Many students also take advantage of the ping-pong and pool table as well as the outdoor volleyball court.

Over the Easter holidays

while many students were relaxing, 12 BSUers worked in a vacation Bible School at El Rancho del Rey, a boys' orphanage, near Monterrey.

Each year the BSU takes trips to the state BSU convention held in Dallas and to the Leadership Training Conference in Abilene. BSU students also travel to the Missions Conference in Fort Worth and the International Student Conference held in Palestine.

Next year a work retreat is being planned for the semester break in January. This will be in the interior of Mexico working at such places as EL Rancho del Rey and the Baptist Mission in Monterrey.

Elected to serve on the Executive Council for 1969-70 are Dennis Maddox; Florence Schultz, secretary; Joe Zamora, evangelism chairman; Jan Houston, study chairman; Banjole Nalkamper, enlistment chairman; Carl Johnson, summer missions chairman.

More Revisions Due For Code

The PACSA committee appointed to study and make recommendations on the new Student Code met with Robert Burks, vice president for student affairs, Tuesday to clarify several parts of the Code.

The committee, headed by senator-at-large Roy Gorena, was informed that the Code will be made more specific and that all regulations on student conduct and affairs will be available to all students in one handbook in the future.

While studying the Code, the committee spoke to students and got their opinions and suggestions on it.

Burks indicated that this revising and expanding of the Code is only the first step, with more work to be done. After all the work is done, students will have a very good idea as to where they stand as to college policy and regulations.

The committee will present its findings to the Senate at tonight's meeting.

The Pan American IK delegation, headed by the newly elected National Executive Secretary Andres Estrada, accepted from the local chapter an award certificate for efficiency.

Representatives for the Pan American IK chapter included Michael Cox, James Williams, David Guzman, Ernesto Solis, Andres Estrada and the former IK National President, Victor Garza, who presided over the recent convention.

One of the highlights of the convention for the Pan American delegation was the installing of Estrada as the national executive secretary and Cox as royal chancellor by the National president, Victor Garza.

Garza addressed a luncheon given in his honor and told the 300 people in attendance "that the value of service and of IK's is in developing a whole and real human being fit for society."

Garza added that "we do live in a world inhabited by real people with whom we must interact whether we like to or not."

He concluded, "The emphasis in the world is in activity or action just as it is in service. It is through this action and contact with situations that service can provide insight to that human society with which we must deal."

Present also at this luncheon were three former national presidents and numerous guests.

3 Vets Attend

Illinois Convention

Three members of the PAC Veterans Club attended the second annual National Veterans Convention held at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Ill. The veterans were Ben Solis, president of the PAC club, Johnny Montalvo and Alonzo Rodriguez.

More than 30 universities and colleges were represented at the convention and over 300 veterans exchanged ideas. The main objective of the convention was to discuss the veterans problems and to promote the organization of veterans groups on campuses that do not yet have one.

At the general session, a motion was passed unanimously to support the federal GI Bill by $60 per month.

The PAC delegation, the only college representing Texas, bid for the 1970 convention site but Nebraska won the bid.

Art Students

Form Council

Pan American art students recently elected two representatives from each class to the Student Art Council. The council, established through the faculty advice of E.E. Nichols, art professor, and a nominating committee, selected a slate of nominees for a Student Art Council.

The council was established to promote better communications between student and faculty and make the Art Department more cohesive and coordinated at all stages. Both students and faculty see the need for constructive planning now.

Those students elected from each class group, a total of eight, were: Freshman: Manuel Hinojosa and Portia Simmons; sophomore: Jose Guzman and Marilu Ramirez; Junior: Erick Schaudics and Dennis Zamora; and the Senior class: Jerome Collins and Nancy Watson.

Harriette Sings With Stage Band

The PAC Stage Band presented its second jazz concert of the season last week with Harriette Hagedorn, PAC vocalist, making her eighth appearance with the group. The musicians drew a standing ovation from those attending the concert and then performed an encore.

The band performed, under the direction of Dean Canty, such numbers as "Your Cheatin' Heart," "Summertime," "Sunny" and "Girl Talk".

The stage band has performed for several Valley high schools' Junior and Senior proms. Among these schools were Edinburg, McAllen, Port Isabel and PSJA.

The stage band includes 19 male members, one female saxophonist and the vocalist Miss Hagedorn.

Next year, the band plans to give more concerts not only in the Valley but in other cities in Texas.

Broncs Win Last Three

Pan Am closed out the 1969 baseball season in high style last weekend, winning all three games of a two-day home stand with the University of Dallas.

The victories gave the Broncs an outstanding 24-11 season record, the finest in the college's history. The series also marked an end to coach Al Ogletree's maiden year at PAC.

In the first contest between the squads, Reggie Tredaway knocked in an incredible nine runs to lead the Broncs to a 13-0 Friday afternoon victory.

Tredaway followed successive singles by Richie Cortez, Glen Hill and Mike Duffey with a grand-slam home run in the first inning, then collected three more runs in the fifth with another homer and finally stroked a two run single in the sixth.

Wayne Cordaway, who finished the season at 3-1, struck out six and walked two. He had a two-hitter going into the ninth inning, when the Crusaders mounted a rally with a pair of singles. Cordaway then recovered his poise and retired the last two batters to keep the shutout.

Besides Tredaway's hitting exhibition Mike Duffey and Rene Torres also helped the Bronc cause at the plate. Duffey, who scored four times, had three singles and Torres, hitting over .700 for the past three weeks, went two for three.

The Broncs came up with five runs in the fifth inning of Saturday's doubleheader opener to coast to a 7-4 win behind the relief pitching of Billy Pool, who relieved Andre Rabouin.

Behind 4-1, Pan Am came alive in the bottom of the fifth on a double by Tredaway, a single by Arnie Alvarez, a walk a couple steal, a hit batsman and two errors.

In the final contest, Tony Barbosa went five innings and held the visitors to two singles while his teammates were collecting seven runs. The Bronc lefthander struck out ten before giving way to Mike Tackett in the top of the sixth.

Tredaway pounded out three singles which were good enough for three RBI as the hard-hitting third baseman paced the winners in the nightcap.

J. J. Avila, right, accepts the men's intramural team trophy from Thomas Esparza, faculty director of the intramural program. Avila, captain of the Little Gussy, led his team to a total of 280 points, 155 more than the runner-up Dallas Taxi Squad's 125. The Hot Shots were awarded the team trophy in the women's competition.

Track, Tennis Prospects

Six prospective student-athletes are scheduled to visit the Pan American College campus this weekend. The list includes five track and field performers and one tennis player.

Tennis coach Dennis Conner will entertain Jim Mitchell of El Paso (Irvin), who just last week made up one-half of the team that won the Texas state 4A doubles championship. Conner has labeled young Mitchell as one of the top ranked prep players in Texas.

Coach Jimmy Skaines has invited Frankie Garza of Port Lavaca, David Gibson and Zeke Avila of Gregory-Portland, Pat Bales of Houston (Milby) and Art Mendoza of Houston (Madison) to look over the Pan American campus.

Garza is a miler with a best time of 4:22, Gibson and Avila are both hurdlers, and Bales and Mendoza are specialists in the 440 and 880 runs. Avila has state-ranked time of 38.8 in the intermediate hurdles and Gibson has turned in a 14.3 clocking in the 120-yard highs. Bales and Mendoza have both recorded 1:55.5 readings in the 88 and Bales owns a 48.5 time in the quarter-mile.

The Pan American coaches said that all of the visiting prepsters are scheduled to arrive in Edinburg on Thursday and will be on campus for two days.

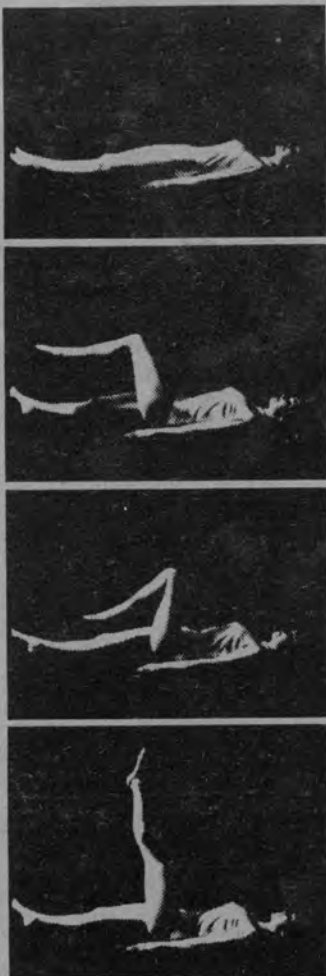

Intramurals

Lynda de la Vina and Robert Ramirez teamed together to win the co-recreational intramural tennis tournament by defeating Rosie and Larry Brown in the final match.

In the badminton finals, Elva Guajardo's team beat the Browns to make it two second place titles for the runner-ups. Delia Barbosa and Art Puig took third place in the badminton competition while Jo Ann Evans and Fred Currie captured fourth.

The events marked the end of individual intramural play for the semester, as team competition ceased last week.
