Cheerleader candidates
at screening board

Sixteen girls vying for freshman cheerleader appeared before the screening board at the College Center Monday at 4 p.m. Seated in the front row, left to right, are Enid Urand, Patti Burke, Robin Brinkley, Mari Pagenstecher, Vicki Hancock, Vicki Beard, Yolanda Reyna and Susie Ann Attwood. Standing in the same order are Jody Hedges, Bongie Nollkamper, Cynthia Gayken, Sharon Cholick, Jeanne Bullion, Kathy Bloomfield, Carmen Lopez and Belinda Hernandez. Only the 13 girls who passed the screen test will appear on the ballot.

Enrollment now 4,092

Enrollment at Pan American College increased again this year and for the first time in history went past the 4,000 mark, reaching a record 4,092 students, according to Mrs. Nelia Mai Smith, registrar.

This is the official enrollment which is taken at the end of the 12th class day after the usual withdrawals and late entries.

Pan Am appeared to be a good place for girls because there are more boys - 2,178 to only 1,914 girls.

As usual the freshman class is the largest in school. It has 1,960 students. There are 801 sophomores, 602 juniors, and 537 seniors. Also, there are 192 special students not classified.

The increase amounts to 7.09 per cent over last fall's total of 3,821, Mrs. Smith said.

Applications due for CC

Board positions

Applications for membership of the new College Center Program Council and its seven committees are now available in the Office of Student Affairs, Administration Building 109.

Any student interested in participating in the planning and operation of the programs in the College Center should submit an application for membership as soon as possible and must meet an Oct. 15 deadline, according to Dean of Men Glynn Morgan.

Polls close at 2:30 today, Friday

Vote, vote, vote is the word

Elections for class officers, six freshmen cheerleaders and two senator-at-large positions began today and will continue again tomorrow. Polls, located at both the new and old campuses, will close promptly at 2:30 p.m. today and Friday.

Students must present their green, PACSA student card before being able to vote at the main election or the run-off to be held Oct. 17-18.

Only freshmen are allowed to vote for the candidates for freshmen cheerleaders and class officers, sophomores for sophomore class officers and so on. Any student can vote for the two available senator-at-large positions. Also, a freshman can vote for six candidates for Pony cheerleaders because there are six positions available, once for secretary and twice for senator-at-large.

Candidates for office are responsible for removing their signs from college premises by 4:30 p.m. Friday. However, candidates who will be in the run-off election Oct. 17-18 may leave their signs up and remove them by 4:30 p.m. Oct. 18.

Expense accounts should also be turned in to the student government office by 4 p.m. Friday and 4 p.m. Oct. 18, not exceeding $25 for the main election and $15 for the run-off.

There shall also be no campaigning within 50 feet of the polls, this includes campaign signs.

Candidates vying for the two senator-at-large positions are Art Edge, Robert Marcus, Erasmo Molina, Jr., Desidero Ortiz, Jr., and Jose R. Rodriguez.

Freshmen cheerleader candidates, numbering 13, are Susie Attwood, Cathy Bloomfield, Jeanne Bullion, Patti Burke, Robin Brinkley, Sharon Cholick, Cynthia Gayken, Vicki Hancock, Belinda Hernandez, Carmen L. Lopez, Mari Pagenstecher, Yolanda Reyna and Enid Urand.

Running for freshmen class president are Rudy K. Acosta, Julian Chapa, Jr., Jill Humphries, Armando Palacios, Jr., Ezequiel Daniel Ramirez, Jr., and Richard Lynn (Dicky) Tate.

Vice-presidential hopefuls include Diane Buchanan, Donald Lee Fields, Billy Marshall (Bo) McNurlen and Alberto E. Martinez.

The sole candidate for freshmen secretary is Judy Perkes and freshmen treasurer candidates are Armando Alonzo and Jimmy Zeissel.

Wanting to head the sophomore class are Yolanda Silva, president; Joseph D. (Danny) Callis and Zeke Pumarejo, vice-president; Chrisie Hook and Becky

Jones, secretary; and Robin McKeever and Mario Medrano, Jr., treasurer.

The junior class candidates running unopposed are Val Flores, president; Sandra Villegas, vice-president; Margot (Margie) Mallory, secretary; and Dennis Zamora, treasurer.

The senior class has some competition in the presidential race with Margie Chapa and Estella Perez vying for that office. Kathi Fenlon and Celeste Buchanan, both unopposed, are running for senior class vice-president and secretary, respectively.

No candidate is running for senior class treasurer and thus, write-ins will be accepted.

President

Fred Hinojosa, PACSA president, introduced the candidates for class office and freshmen cheerleaders at a "meet the candidates" rally held Tuesday during activity period in the College Center.

Lunch hour presents cafeteria problem

The Pan Am cafeteria has a new director and new hours. The food, as reported by students, is much better as compared with last year's.

Roger Hiser, the new director, said that the cafeteria facilities are limited and that the lunch hour presents the greatest problem.

According to Hiser there are enough facilities to accommodate 260 students, but during the lunch hour some 1,700 are served.

Very often students have been asked to leave the cafeteria to make room for the lunch buyers.

Robert Burks, student affairs vice president, mentioned at the Student Senate meeting Sept. 26, that he was aware of the crowded conditions at the cafeteria and that the administration will try to alleviate this problem by using the card playing area in the college lounge as temporary eating facilities and that more tables will be brought in for this purpose.

Burks also said that eventually the cafeteria would be expanded to include the college center patio, which will include a snack bar lounge.

The new cafeteria hours are 7:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Breakfast meal hours are 7 to 7:45 a.m.; lunch, 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. and dinner, 5 to 6:15 p.m. On weekends meal hours are breakfast, 8 to 8:30 a.m.; lunch, 12 noon to 12:45 p.m. and dinner, 5 to 5:45 p.m. Dinner is not served on Sundays.

Candidates didn't have their say Left out in the cold

Campus apathy may be a thing of the past, yet. A record number of students, 46 strong, are competing for class office, senator-at-large and freshmen cheerleader positions with freshmen candidates leading the list with 13 each for both class office and freshmen cheerleaders.

However, while freshmen cheerleaders had two chances to show their talent, the candidates for class office and senator-at-large positions were only introduced by name at a "meet the candidates" rally held Tuesday during activity period in the College Center.

The candidates were told right before the rally that too many candidates were running and they would not be given an opportunity to present their platforms. Thus, the student body was left out in the cold concerning the issues.

An alternate plan could have been followed by eliminating the time spent on the public trials for cheerleader candidates since the students had already seen them appearing before the screening board Monday afternoon.

Unopposed candidates could also have been eliminated and instead be properly introduced. This would eliminate 21 candidates and leave 25 to say their campaign speeches.

The eight opposed presidential candidates would be allowed two minutes apiece and other candidates for class office, one minute. This would total to 33 minutes plus approximately seven minutes for introductions; you could also subtract time because of short speeches and candidates who fail to show up. Thus there would have been ample time for candidates to have their say.

It is also hoped that the student government leaders will take this as constructive criticism and bear it in mind for upcoming elections. If campus apathy is to be eliminated, the students' ambitions should not be suppressed by not letting them voice their opinions.

Time, money, effort wasted

Signs torn off

Candidates have spent weekends, lunch hours and other spare time on trying to present the student body with ingenious campaign material.

However, college custodians were told to remove campaign material placed inside buildings because they violated the student code, detract from building appearance and make the campus look like a billboard, explained Robert Burks, vice-president of student affairs.

The five-year-old student code states that no posters are to be affixed to buildings inside or outside. Posters on inside bulletin boards are limited to the minute size of typewriter paper. However, Burks interceded so that signs placed on the outside of the building could stay up for the duration of the current student elections.

Burks also said that poster space would be limited because the paint would come off if scotch tape was used. However, masking tape does not harm paint.

Students vying for office were resentful about the limited poster space and about wind damage to signs placed outside the buildings.

One suggested alternative was to nail cardboard posters onto wooden stakes driven into the ground. However, these materials are expensive and students who haven't even bought some of their books would be hit hard as far as finances concerned.

The vice-president of student affairs commented that the student code probably will be revised towards the end of the year and an understanding could be reached suitable to both the administration and the students.

He added that alternative ideas for posters would be presented so that they would not detract from the campus's appearance.

One big barrier against such an understanding is the fact that three new buildings will be completed by next year and campaign material is said to be very distracting on these brand new buildings. Thus, I urge students to act now in cooperation with the student government so that more approved campaigning space will be available for upcoming major elections.

Chamroc registers

By DESI ORTIZ

"At that time, they knew how to write and they had invented many devices to make their lives easier, as they were very ingenious beings. They had vehicles that traveled through all mediums of their environment and they communicated with each other very thoroughly verbally (they knew what each one was going to do before it was done.)"

Although there were scores of different idioms spoken and their skin color and facial features were different, everyone of these beings moved on two lower extensions of their bodies and, they had a thinking capacity that was superior to any of the other fauna on that world.

Apparently because of an intrinsic drive that they had, they had completely explored every aspect of their world that they possibly could and were in the process of exploring other worlds.

Another baffling aspect of these seemingly superior beings is that they always competed with each other and battled each other and tried to exterminate each other for no apparent reason or for a reason I, Chamroc, could never completely compute, comprehend, or logically validate.

Although this illogical nature was omnipresent, there were beings among them who were different, slightly.

These different people went around and literally gave themselves to helping and giving to those that were among them in doldrums and in need, and venerating something that I, with my super-sophisticated sensory Goobachipap, could never detect. Anyway, these people were most interesting and, astonishingly, there were quite a few of them. They had a peculiar habit of emanating "joy". Joy was another aspect of these people that I could not at all compute, comprehend or logically validate. These different people were consistent in their veneration of this Undetectable One, and, in their unconditional service to their fellow beings.

Well, anyway, when I was among them they were in the process of exterminating their whole world. (I had sensed this with my Goobachipap, fortunately.) They had made a discovery that if they split the smallest unit of matter, the atom, they could create an enormous amount of energy, and in turn, create a holocaust or solve many of their problems. Wasteful beings! Little did they know that they were going to destroy rather than create. It is such a waste, for their cultures and their many and varied activities were worthy of more and continued scrutiny and maybe, later on, cultivation for our own uses. In the expectation that, after this wanton and incomputably disastrous event, I, Chamroc, program myself to return??!

Five noted speakers slated for math meet

Five noted speakers are on the agenda for the annual fall meeting of the Rio Grande Valley Council of Teachers of Mathematics to be held at Pan American College on Saturday.

The announced speakers will be Father Stanley J. Bezuska of Boston College, Dr. Albert M. Castenada of the University of Texas, John Creswell of the University of Houston, Preston C. Kronosky, a public schools instructor, and David Wells, vice president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Wells is currently at the University of Michigan.

Sidney S. Draeger, a member of the math department at Pan American College, said reservations for the one-day conference, should be sent to the local council at Pan American College, by Thursday (Oct. 10).

Approximately 300 Valley teachers are expected and the session is open to mathematics teachers at all levels whether they are members of the council or not, Draeger said.

In addition to the opening general session, there will be sectional meetings for teachers at the primary, intermediate, junior and senior levels, Draeger added.

Father Bezuska, who will speak at the general session, has directed many summer institutes for teachers and is director of both the Mathematics Institute and the Computer Research Center at Boston College.

Philosopher to lecture at PAC

The Texas Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Chi at its Fall Convocation will sponsor two lectures by Dr. John Hoppers, director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California and internationally known philosopher, in the College Center Lounge.

Each lecture will begin at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a discussion period. The topics will be (October 17) "The Rights of the Individual Against the State" and (October 18) "The Economics of Liberty". The lectures will be free and open to the public.

Dr. Hoppers received his B.A. in 1939 from Central College, Pella, Iowa, his M.A. from State University of Iowa in 1941, and his Ph.D. in 1944 from Columbia University. He taught at Columbia University, the University of Minnesota, Brooklyn College of the City, University of New York and California State College in Los Angeles before his appointment as director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California.

He and Wilfred Sellars co-authored one of the most widely used ethical textbooks in the United States, "Readings in Ethical Theory". This book has had ten printings and is also used in Australia, the United Kingdom and Canada.

His "Introduction to Philosophical Analysis" (1953) went through 12 printings before 1967 when a second edition, completely rewritten, came out. It now appears in a Spanish edition.

He was a Fulbright Research Scholar at the University of London in 1954-55 and was the author of BBC broadcasts on aesthetics. He is an associate editor of Philosophical Studies and on the editorial staff of the American Philosophical Quarterly. He has published numerous articles in leading philosophical journals. Several of his essays, including "Free-will and Psychoanalysis", and "The Range of Human Freedom", have been anthologized.

Dignitary's Pan Am visit cancelled

The scheduled appearance of Covey T. Oliver, assistant secretary of state for international affairs, on the Pan Am campus has been cancelled because of the political crisis in Peru. Dr. T. Lawrence White, director of the Inter-American Institute at Pan Am, said Oliver's trip was cancelled Monday because the assistant secretary could not leave his office at the present time.

Oliver was scheduled to talk at a college assembly on Thursday. He would have been the highest ranking member of the federal government executive department ever to appear on the Pan Am campus.

Mary Anne Campbell and Gilbert Walker were elected to govern the students at Emilia Hall and Southwick Hall, respectively, in elections held Oct. 2 and 3.

Other officers elected by the 61 women at Emilia Hall are as follows: Sharon Humphrey, vice-president; Alma Lawrence, secretary-treasurer; Kathy Hoover, social chairman; Kathy Johnson, upper-classman representative; and Bonnie Cribbs, freshman representative.

The officers elected by the men residents to serve with Walker are: Lonnie Reynolds, vice-president; Billy Rivas, secretary-treasurer; Jim Luther, upper-classman representative; and Stan Bane, freshman representative.

Senators will be appointed from each dormitory by the presidents at a later date.

Newmanites to sponsor mass, sing-in

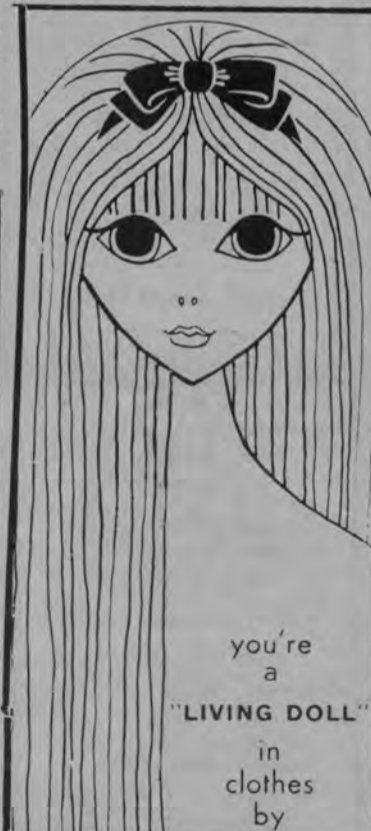

The Newman Center will be "emanating" music Oct. 13 as the Newman hootenanny takes place from 8-12 p.m. A folk mass at 7:30 p.m. will precede the singing festivities.

David Gutierrez and Belia Billescas, co-chairmen of the social committee, invite all PAC'ers to come to the sing-in. A special invitation has been extended to the Wesley Foundation and the Baptist Student Union.

The hootenanny will also serve as a housewarming for the new center. Newmanites were urged at the last general meeting to bring old furniture, records, books or any item that will be of use to the center.

Olympics-Hemisfair theme in step with Pan Americanism

The dual theme of the yearbook is best expressed in the first 16 pages. It is taken from the combination of the themes of the Olympics to the South and the Hemisfair to the North, according to Vernon Davis, adviser.

In the center lies Pan Am. It states that a spirit prevails at Pan Am--one of Pan Americanism. The foundations of Pan Americanism are friendship and cooperation. It binds all Americans regardless of tongues, religion and cultures.

These ideals are commemorated annually during Pan American Week in the interest of peaceful understanding and better living among all of the people of the Americas. Every year Pan Am becomes even more engrossed in Inter-American Affairs. It is truly becoming, "A College For All The Americas".

A special picture taking trip for this book has been made to Hemisfair. About 20 color pictures were taken featuring Hemisfair and Miss Pan American. Those making the trip were Davis, Gerald Whitaker, P.I.O. photographer; Danny Lewis, editor; Oralia Garza, Miss Pan American. These pictures will be used on the first 16 pages. Pictures of the Olympics will be used as dividers throughout the yearbook.

Danny Lewis is serving again as editor this year.

Newmanites get center

Pan Am target of Movement

By TERESA RIOJAS

Pan American College has become the target area for the Newman Movement being carried on by the Catholic students on campus.

On college campuses across the country, similar movements have begun in an effort to make Catholic students realize they form the Newman parish on campus and that they must become "intellectual, active Christians."

Here at PAC, the Movement got underway last week at the first general meeting of the group. Leaders expressed satisfaction with the large student turnout and hope to get many more involved.

Student leaders of the Movement are Moises Loza, Weslaco senior and Newman president; Tony Balderas, McAllen junior, and Cris Perez, McAllen senior, vice-presidents; Yolanda Billescas and Teresa Riojas, McAllen juniors, secretaries; and Cookie Cantu, Edinburg junior, treasurer.

Changes

Newman activities are aimed at helping Newmanites to make Christianity practical and real in their lives, according to the Rev. Charles Moran, Newman director. He is stressing the need to change Newman's emphasis from social activities to the intellectual and spiritual development of students as well as getting them involved in serving the spiritual and corporal works of mercy.

Committees have been organized by the Movement that will plan and carry out activities achieving these goals. Movies of interest to college students, discussions, special speakers on current issues and problems are part of the Movement's up-coming activities.

New center

Newman headquarters are located at the new Newman Center behind the Pan-A-Vista apartments west of the new campus.

The temporary structure has classroom space, facilities for mass and confession, a lounge area and a kitchenette. Parking facilities are available all around the building.

A stereo provides soul, surfer and mood music for Newmanites who gather at the center to talk with friends or eat their meals. A television set is also available to keep Newmanites informed and entertained.

Ever-ready

Father Moran is the second full-time Newman director and chaplain at Pan Am. He spends as much time as possible at the Newman Center just being available to students. His office, Pan-A-Vista apartment 11, is equipped with a telephone answering service to make sure he does not lose any contacts. His "hot line" number is DU3-4003.

Assisting Father Moran with the Movement's activities is Sister Margaret - Virginia Walsh, R.S.M. Sister, also living on campus to increase her contact with students. Her residence is at Pan-A-Vista apartment 9.

Harry Hall, history professor, is the Newman Movement's faculty sponsor.

"Looking 'Em Over"

Mrs. Nelia Mae Smith, registrar, looks over her brother's recently published book. Lloyd J. Gregory's book, "Looking 'em Over", is a collection of sports tales.

Author registrar's brother

Assortment of tales published

The brother of Mrs. Nelia Mai Smith, registrar at Pan American College, has written a book entitled, "Looking 'em Over," which is an assortment of tales by a Texas sports writer.

Mrs. Smith's brother, Lloyd J. Gregory of Houston, former sports editor of The Houston Post, penned the 115-page book which is just off the Steck-Warlick Company press in Austin. The book includes his experiences over a period of 20 years in sports.

Two people connected with Pan American College are mentioned in the book - Mrs. Smith and Lou Hassell, executive secretary of Houston's Bluebonnet Bowl and a Pan American College regent.

In his book, Gregory describes Hassell as "one of the Bluebonnet's biggest assets . . . his friendship with football coaches over the country has been invaluable in lining up attractive games."

Hassell, a former footballer at Edinburg Junior College and later an All-Southwestern tackle at Rice Institute (now a university), is mentioned again in the publication as follows:

"Lazy Lou Hassell, Houston, insurance man, Morris Frank

(a noted sports figure in Houston) says Lou was the greatest 'sitting tackle' of Rice University's history. In covering punts, Lou frequently beat his ends down the field. Lou has only one complaint about college football. He thinks there should be a morning, afternoon and a night game."

Other sports notables mentioned in the book are Joe Routt, former Texas Aggie All-American guard, the late Jinx Tucker of Waco, a sports writer who composed his articles on a linotype machine, golfer Jimmy Demaret, baseball great Dizzy Dean, boxers Gene Tunney, Joe Louis and Jack Dempsey, Kyle Rote, the All-American from SMU and various popular and successful coaches in the Southwest.

Born in Beeville in 1899, Gregory was graduated with a journalism degree from the University of Texas in 1922. He tried his hand at teaching journalism and worked two years as head of the Associated Press bureau in the capitol before joining The Houston Post. In 1946, Gregory was named vice president and general manager of the paper, resigning in 1951 to enter the public relations business in Houston.

Veterans to elect officers today

The Veterans Club will meet during activity period in L.A. 131 today to elect officers.

At their last meeting there were not enough present to hold an election.

According to Mrs. Alice Mitchell, veterans advisor, there are presently 273 Certificates of Eligibility filed by veterans in the registrar's office. By the time all of the certificates are filed, she expects over 300 to be registered.

All veterans are invited to attend the meeting.

Two hundred seventy-one veterans are enrolled under the G. I. Bill, according to Mrs. Alice Mitchell, veteran's advisor. Of these, 215 are fulltime students. There are more students to be processed.

Mrs. Mitchell prefers that all veterans stop at her table when registering. She has no way of knowing whether the students are going to be using the G. I. Bill or not. Any veteran who qualifies and wants the veterans assistance must enroll with Mrs. Mitchell.

Press

The Pan American College Press Association will meet at the student newspaper office today during activity period. Officers for the year need to be elected and new members are now being accepted into the organization.

Membership in the organization is offered to students at Pan Am, especially those interested in journalism or a related field.

Deadline nearing for teachers' exam

The deadline is nearing for prospective teachers who plan to take the National Teacher Exam at Pan Am Nov. 9, Robert S. Burks, student affairs vice president, announced.

Registrations must be forwarded to the national office by Oct. 18, Burks said. He has information bulletins on the test available at his office in the Pan Am Administration Building.

A candidate may take the Common Examinations which include test in professional education and general education, and one of the 13 teaching area examinations which are designed to evaluate understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

The examination will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Nov. 9 and candidates should finish at approximately 12:25 p.m., Burks said. Teaching area exams begin at 1:30 p.m. and last until about 4:15 p.m.

Sororities pledge nine

Sorority rush is now over and a small number of girls have been pledged through open rush.

New members of the Delta Zeta pledge class are Pam Aby, Mary Bannworth, Kathy Bloomfield, Rosalinda (Koki) Villegas and Millie Wyatt. They complete the membership quota of 40.

Kappa Delta's new pledge is Addie Alamia who rounds up their total to 36.

AOP1's new group of pledges includes Sheryl Brown, Connie Montalvo and Yolanda Weaver. They bring a total of 27 to their sorority.

BSU will attend state convention

The 1968 Texas Baptist Student Convention being held Oct. 18-20 in Fort Worth will draw students from all over the state including about 50 from PAC.

The BSU is planning on two bus loads of students attending the convention and are announcing that there is still room for about 25 more students. Those who wish to attend, but have not yet signed up, have until Oct. 16.

Parkinson names golf competition

The Pan Am golf team will play approximately one tournament a month from October through March. Coach Charles Parkinson said matches will be played against Texas A & M, Southwestern, North Texas State, Hardin Simmons, Texas A & I and the University of Texas.

Although this is the second year Pan Am has had a golf team, it is the first year golf scholarships have been offered. Golfers who signed letters of intent include the following: Jim Atherton, Evansville, Ind.; Andy Hartshorn, McAllen; Mark Masterpool, San Antonio; Sonny Wernecke, Sharyland; Frank Garza, McAllen; and Claude Harden, Brownsville. Other golf team members are Gary Taylor of Edinburg and John Irvin of Brownsville.

The team practices daily at the Edinburg Municipal golf course. Parkinson reported that anyone interested in playing on the team should come to the course any weekday after 2 p.m.

Doug Bowe

Doug Bowe, sophomore journalism major at the University of Texas at El Paso and a former Pan Am student, has been named editor of the newspaper at UTEP's Burges Hall. It is the only dormitory on the campus with such a newsletter.

In all men's class

Maggie Garza, a second-year student at Pan Am, is the envy of many a girl. She happens to be the only feminine specimen in a men's tennis class of about 12. Enrolled by mistake, the other male tennis students voted to let her stay.

Skaines to coach cross-country team

Pan Am fledgling cross-country team will be headed by Coach Jim Skaines. "We are going to start from scratch," Skaines said, "only members from the student body are eligible."

"It's a tremendous opportunity for the student body at college to participate in cross-country," commented Skaines. "Cross-country is a sport where a boy does not need a high skill to participate. If he enjoys running and does not mind hard work, this is a sport in which he can make achievements and get satisfaction. I really believe that."

Four meets already have been scheduled for Pan Am. Two of them are with A & I, one here and one there. Another will be in Austin and the other meet will be a Texas Invitation to the Gulf Federation in Houston.

There will be a freshman and varsity team with freshmen being eligible for varsity competition. Challenges will be made to anyone on the team by either a member of the team or anyone wanting to try out for the team.

The track team for this season was conceived after the Pan Am budget had been made. Scholarships, therefore, are not yet available, but equipment is issued by the college. "I certainly welcome freshmen and upper classmen that would like to participate," Skaines added.

Fire

The peace and calm of the morning classes at the old campus was temporarily interrupted when a one-alarm fire report was turned in by Mrs. S. E. Hyde of 504 W. McIntyre Oct. 4.

The fire which occurred in a parked car on the corner of Seventh and McIntyre was merely a smoldering rag beneath the hood.

The rag was retrieved by James Polk, Pan Am student and Pharr fireman, after he and Edinburg firemen frantically fought to open the locked car of Ricky Mills, who at that time was in class.

Valley of the Broncs

By DANNY CALLIS

CAN YOU DIG IT? Calvin Oliver has taken to the fast-growing trend being set by the Black American. America's Black people, increasingly becoming more and more proud of their Black heritage, have now begun a trend of reverting to African dignity robes. The robes are properly called dashiki.

Oliver had his dashiki made for him in New York while he was home for the summer vacation. In Africa, the custom is for the woman to make identical garments for herself and for her mate.

"The dashiki is a form of identity for Afro-Americans with the rest of the Black people all over the world," Oliver commented.

Walt Schoenberg, Oliver's roommate, is also from New York. When asked what he thought about the robe being worn by his roommate, he commented, "To me, the robe gives the Afro-American people a sense of pride and being after what they've gone through."

MUTAPA IS SUSPENDED! Trinity University of San Antonio recently suspended its star fullback, Mutapa, for dress unbecoming a Trinity athlete. Mutapa's apparel was a dashiki.

Mutapa, alias A. D. Arnic, adopted an African name and the garb of his African ancestors this summer after studying African history. "I was studying African history and the Mutapan empire, which began in the 11th century, fascinated me," he said earlier this month. "I decided I would change my name as a sign that I am proud of my Black heritage."

WHAT A WOMAN!! It is very seldom that a member of the fairer sex appears in a sports book. Mrs. Nelia Mai Smith, registrar at Pan Am, has become one of the few members of her sex to overcome this sports taboo. The author of the book, Lloyd J. Gregory, mentions several facts in his book, "Lookin' em Over", which leads one to believe that he has known Mrs. Smith all his life. It could be just because Gregory is Mrs. Smith's brother.

Bronco bits

By DREW CHERNER

The Pan Am cage squad began running cross country last week followed by full court choose-up games in an effort to get into top shape before formal practice begins later in the month.

The fight for the starting guard position, left vacant by the departure of last year's co-captain Ernie Azios, should stir the greatest commotion in the Bronc camp.

One of the leading candidates for the job is 5-11 Lonnie (Snake) Reynolds, who won a starting job his sophomore year and came off the bench time and again last year to restore needed life to the Bronc attack. Billy Rivas a six-foot junior from El Paso and Ken Jones a 5-11 junior from Houston are expected to be Reynolds' greatest competition for the point job.

The second guard, or wing position, should be filled by any of three men with Fred Taylor and Howard (Shotgun) Fuller leading the way.

The desire and determination needed to produce a winning team, are present in the Bronc corral this year. Add those two products with 14 talented cagers and the results should be staggering.

Left fielder, pitcher Salinas Barbosa NCAA all-stars

Outfielder Hector Salinas and pitcher Tony Barbosa have been named to the Collegiate All-Star Baseball Third Team in the NCAA University Division District 6, according to word received this week by Larry Ensminger, former Pan Am baseball coach.

The All-Star team is chosen annually by the University Division coaches in each of the NCAA districts.

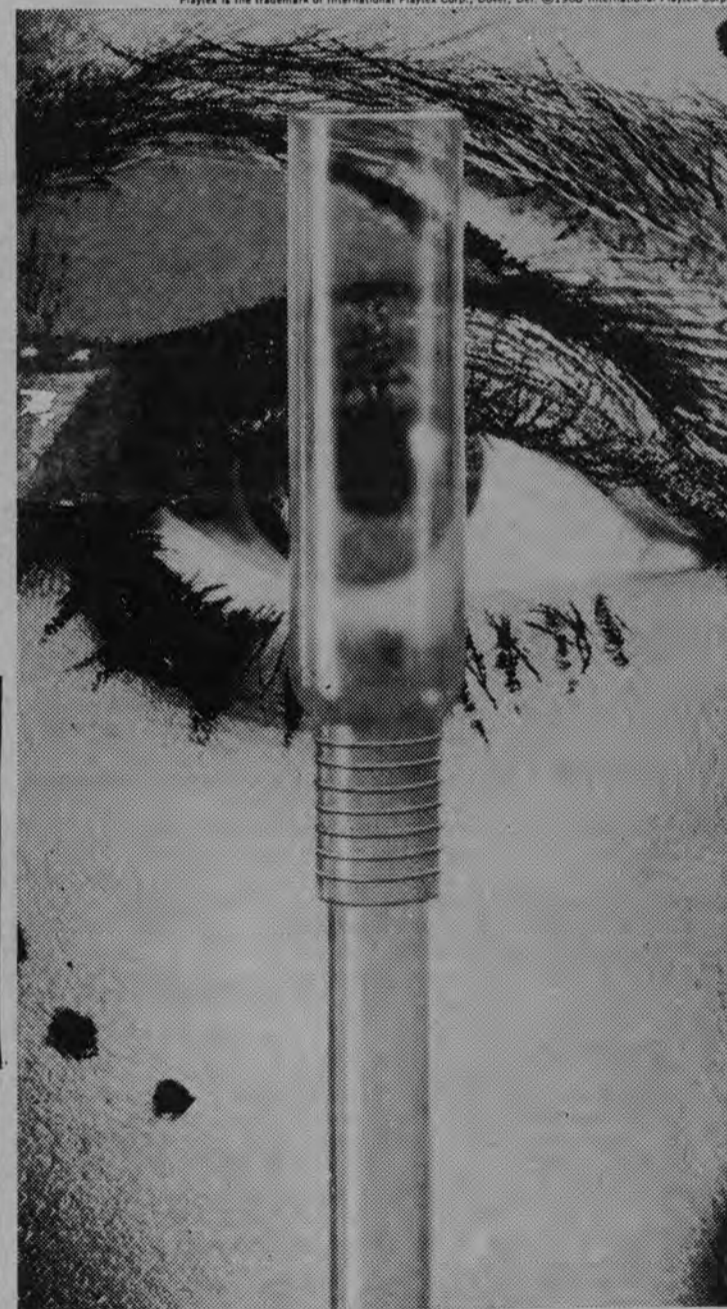

With the honor, Salinas and Barbosa became the first student-athletes in the history of Pan Am to earn All-Star mention in baseball at the major college level.

Salinas ended his collegiate career last spring compiling a four-year batting average of .324 including 12 home runs and 74 RBI's. As a senior, the powerful left fielder turned in his best season hitting .375 with four homers and 15 RBI's.

After leading the Broncs throughout the season in practically every offensive category, Salinas had to sit out the District 6 playoffs against the University of Texas because of a four-year eligibility rule barring him from post-season play.

Barbosa, who returns this year for his junior season, turned in a 4-2 won-loss record while compiling a spectacular 0.896 earned run average. The crafty lefthander gained wins over Texas Tech, Sul Ross, Texas Lutheran and St. Edward's and bowed to Indiana and Trinity.

In his lone playoff start against Texas, Barbosa worked 8 1/3 innings allowing only three hits, but he was lifted in the ninth and was not involved in the decision which went to the Broncs, 2-1 in 10 innings.

Playtex invents the first-day tampon™

(We took the inside out to show you how different it is.)

Outside: it's softer and silky (not cardboardy). Inside: it's so extra absorbent...it even protects on your first day. Your worst day!

In every lab test against the old cardboardy kind... the Playtex tampon was always more absorbent. Actually 45% more absorbent on the average than the leading regular tampon.

Because it's different. Actually adjusts to you. It flowers out. Fluffs out. Designed to protect every inside inch of you. So the chance of a mishap is almost zero!

Bible course open to all students

How much do you really think you know about the Holy Bible, the Old Testament or the New Testament? Probably not very much. This, then, is the reason that Pan Am has set up a unique program in the teaching of the Holy Bible.

Bible is a fully established three-hour course of the Division of Arts and Sciences. It is open to any student of any religious denomination. This course, however, does require a good deal of time studying the Bible, as well as a book required for class.

Bible courses are offered by recognized Bible Chairs which are college-affiliated courses operated by the various religious groups or denominations located adjacent to the college campus.

For more information concerning the Bible class, contact any of the following: Father Charles Moran or Sister Mary Walsh of the Newman Center, Donald Small of the Wesley Foundation, Frank Traylor of the Church of Christ and Dan Crawford of the Baptist Student Center.

AOPi pledge class elects officers

Rho Alpha chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi pledge class elected officers at their second pledge training session, Oct. 2 in the Engineering Building.

Laura Dufour, a sophomore music education major from Edinburg, was elected president; Diana Hartzog from Rio Hondo, a freshman elementary education major, was elected secretary; Bettie Rutledge, a Brownsville art major, was elected social chairman; Robin King, a freshman music major from McAllen, was elected treasurer; and Donna DeBerry, a freshman elementary education major, was elected song leader.

Other members of the Alpha Omicron Pi pledge class are the following: Linda Lopez, Edinburg; Maureen Hutchinson, Mission; Connie Montalvo, McAllen; Sheryl Brown, Lyford; Yolanda Weaver, San Benito; Linda Rodgers and Teresa Weaver, Donna; and Bebe Pope, Harlingen.

Stage band to present concert

The Pan American Stage Band will present its first concert at 7 p.m. Oct. 16. The concert will be held at the Edinburg City Plaza in conjunction with Hidalgo Days.

The band specializes in pop music from the big band era to the latest in rock and roll. Such numbers as "Up, Up, and Away", "Can't Stop Loving You", "Sunday Morning", "Sunny" and "Up Tight" will be played.

According to Dean Canty, band director, there will be no admission charge for the concert. The PAC band recently purchased 76 new uniforms at the total cost of $7,000. The new Spanish-Flamingo style uniforms replace the traditional style uniforms worn by the band in past years.

Designed by Dr. John Anderson, head of the music department, the new uniforms consist of black trousers, white lace dickies, black coats, white brocade vests and Flamingo style hats.

Observatory will host public night

The observatory-planetarium complex at Pan Am will host a public night presentation Friday night.

The observatory will be open from 8 until 10 p.m. and admission is free of charge. There will be an admission charge of 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults to the planetarium for shows at 7 and 8:30 p.m.

40 doctorates

Forty Pan Am professors have their doctorate degrees ranging from music to science and philosophy.

Ogletree's team once romped over PAC

There is some degree of irony in practically everything.

There is a great deal of it in college athletics and a bit of it exists in a now defunct basketball series between Pan Am, the University of Dallas and Al Ogletree, a baseball coach!

It seems that Ogletree, who just joined the Pan Am staff this year as head baseball coach, worked his way through the formative years of his professional career at the University of Dallas doubling as a basketball coach--a duty that didn't set too well with his nervous system. During a four-year stand as the UD cage mentor, which began in 1955 and which was not particularly successful, his schedule included a young school bent on making a big thing out of basketball, namely Pan American College.

While Pan Am was on the verge of building basketball into a major sport, Ogletree was frantically looking for ways to eliminate himself from the nerve-racking activity. But in the process, Ogletree's 1957-58 Dallas Crusaders romped over Pan Am's highly regarded Broncs coached by John Donnelly, 64-58.

"I think Pan American was the first four-year college team the University of Dallas ever defeated in basketball," Ogletree said holding his hand with firm pressure to a nervous abdomen. "I'm sure that the victory could in no way be attributed to my ability as a basketball coach, but it was ironic that it was our first win over a senior college."

It was indeed ironic insofar that four years later, in 1962-63, the University of Dallas dropped basketball and Pan Am won the national NAIA championship!

Ogletree reports with an almost incidental smile on his face that his abdomen has felt considerably better in the last ten years!

Democrats elect club officers

The Pan American College Young Democrats Club (YD) after two meetings last week is now reorganized under the leadership of a new slate of officers.

The new officers of the YD's are president, J. J. Avila; first vice-president, Richard Alamia; second vice-president, Donald Fields; secretary, Lupita Rodriguez and treasurer, Linda Reyna.

The newly organized club met Tuesday to make plans to get the final stage of the Humphrey campaign underway.

The sponsors of the YD's for this year are Dr. Porter A. Stratton of the Social Studies Department and Dr. Arnulfo Martinez also of the Social Studies Department.

Seniors need to register with placement office

Seniors should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible. The Office is in Room 109 of the Administration Building.

Students who are registered with the Placement Office are interviewed by companies who come on campus to hire seniors. Since seniors who are not registered cannot be interviewed, Glynn Morgan, dean of men, urges registration now.

The actual company interviews begin on Oct. 17 and last through December. Interviews will begin again in February and continue through May.

Approximately 70 to 80 companies will have representatives on campus this school year.

Special election slated for next week

Chapa edges Ramirez in run-off

Julian Chapa defeated Dan Ramirez by a vote of 191 to 186 to sweep the freshman presidential race. The freshmen also elected Don Fields as their vice president over Diane Buchanan with totals of 244 to 131.

The seniors voted in the only other run-off election as Socorro Sandoval became senior treasurer by out-polling Ruth Magness and Lee Ann Austin. Sandoval received 32 votes while Miss Magness and Miss Austin gained 25 and 23 votes, respectively.

Students seeking the Junior Class secretary's post or the vacant senator-at-large spot must file petitions with the student government office by 4 p.m. Friday.

The secretary's position is open to juniors, that is a student who has completed 60 hours but not more 90. Senator-at-large candidates must have completed 12 hours with 24 grade points.

Petitions are available in the student government office. The special election will be held Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Requirements changed

50 jobs waiting for PAC students

Between 25 and 30 jobs are available for Pan Am. students, according to Carroll Knight, financial aid officer at the college.

They are under work-study, a program which formerly was for low income families. The guidelines have been changed, Knight said. Anyone who has been turned down for a work-study job and is interested in working now, should go to Knight's office for re-evaluation of his eligibility.

The jobs are at the U.S.D.A. agriculture center near Weslaco and at the Screwworm Eradication Center near Mission.

The jobs are primarily for biology and chemistry majors. The duties consist of laboratory and technical work principally but there are some openings for persons who can do secretarial and maintenance work.

Knight said that he has about 50 jobs with no one on his list to fill them. The new guideline which are more lenient on work-study should cause these jobs to be filled shortly, Knight added.

His office is in the College Center and applications should be filed there.

BSU convention has great effect

Baptist Student Union (BSU) members, left last Friday for the Baptist Student Union State Convention being held in Fort Worth.

The convention was held at the Travis Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth. The Theme of the convention was "The Church: Resource for Revolution."

When asked how the convention influenced the 34 student delegates from Pan Am, Director Dan Crawford said, "I've never seen this BSU get as concerned for the needs of their fellow students as they did on this convention. It had a revolutionary effect on all of us."

The speakers of the convention were Dr. James Flamming, pastor, First Baptist Church, Abilene; Dr. Cecil Sherman, pastor, First Baptist Church, Asheville, N.C.; Dr. Gordon Clinard, president, Baptist General Convention of Texas and pastor, First Baptist Church, San Angelo; Ed Seabough, assistant secretary, Department of Missionary Personnel, Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Georgia.

Newmanites float away with $200

The Newman Movement floated away with the $200 first prize in the Oct. 19 Fiesta Hidalgo parade with its "Progress in Justice" entry.

The float, sponsored by Edinburg Glass Co., contrasted the methods of justice in the old days, a hanging tree, and procedure today, trial by jury in a courtroom.

Jerome Collins, PAC artist, did the art work and helped to design the prize-winning float. Rachel Perez, McAllen sophomore, was in charge of work on the entry.

Moises Loza, Newman president, said the prize money will probably be used to finance the Newman formal ball in November.

Apply today

Students can help operate College Center

Students are being offered even more of a hand in the operation of the College Center and are being asked to sign up today if they are interested in serving on any of the seven committees which will handle the operation. Applications are available at the Office of Student Affairs in the College Center.

Dean Glynn Morgan said the group would meet tonight for the appointment of chairmen of the seven committees.

"The Council operates under the office of Student Affairs and is delegated the responsibility of developing a full-range program for the entire student body in helping to plan and execute the program of student activities at the center," Dean Morgan said.

The committees and their responsibilities are:

Hospitality, to plan the Fashion Fair program, handle all teas, receptions, coffees and other parties, to be sure that the building is always neat.

Publicity is to handle all publicity for all center programs including posters, news releases, hand bills and other communications.

Entertainment will handle speakers and special events, including the Oct. 31 Carnival of the Great Pumpkin, any lectures or speakers and other entertainment acts.

Recreation is to handle the College Bowl, bridge, chess, ping pong or other tournaments, to supervise the equipment for games and keep constant checks on things needed at the center.

Exhibits is to handle exhibits and keep on display in the lounge any art exhibits possible.

Dance committee will arrange and operate or supervise all dances sponsored by the Program Committee, including dances following basketball games and any special dances during the year. This includes arranging for music, chaperones, people to take up money and for other duties.

Decorations will take charge of all decorations needed for all Program Committee-sponsored events. There should be special decorations for holidays and other scheduled Pan Am events.

The council will be in charge of the committees with Dean Morgan serving as coordinator.

To be eligible for the committee, a student must be carrying at least 12 hours and have a 2.0 grade point average and must not be on probation. To be on the Council, a student must have served a year on one of the committees.

FSEE to be given on PAC campus Nov. 2

The Federal Service Entrance Examination, a requirement for most jobs in the U.S. Civil Service, will be given on the Pan American campus Nov. 2, according to Glynn Morgan, dean of men and director of placement.

Normally, the examination is given only on the second Saturday of each month at a regional post office. However, special arrangements have been made with the Civil Service Commission to allow the on-campus administration.

Any senior or alumnus of Pan Am is eligible to take the test which will be given on Saturday, Nov. 2, in the Liberal Arts Building. To make sure that enough exam booklets are available, all students interested in taking the exam are asked to call the Office of Placement, Ext. 361, or to come by and sign the list in the office. This should be done by Oct. 30. The Office of Placement is in the Administration Building, Room 109.

Law school test, Nov. 9

The Law School Admission Test, a requirement for admission to almost all schools of law in the United States, will be given on the Pan Am campus, Nov. 9.

Applications forms are available in the Office of Student Affairs, Administration Building, Room 109. These must be mailed to Princeton, N.J., by Oct. 19.

Anyone not able to take the test on Nov. 9 will have another opportunity to take the examination at PAC Feb. 8.

Further information can be obtained from Glynn Morgan, dean of men.

Victor Garza

Garza's research results published

Victor L. Garza, senior chemistry major, has been notified that a paper he wrote with Dr. Neil Purdie of Oklahoma State University has been accepted for publication.

Garza's paper, entitled "The Rates of Formation of Lanthanide Complexes in Aqueous Solution," is based on results of his research. The article will appear in the Journal of Physical Chemistry, a publication of the American Chemical Society.

The paper will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Purdie at the 1968 Southwest Regional meeting of the American Chemical Society on Dec. 7 in Austin.

Garza participated in a National Science Foundation Summer

Research Program at OSU last summer. Dr. Purdie is a chemistry professor there.

Garza was recommended to the foundation by Dr. J. Lell El-Hot, Head of the Chemistry Department and by Andres Estrada chemistry instructor.

Garza said that there were benefits from his summer's work. He now knows that he wants to attend graduate school. The summer's work will look impressive to any school he might choose. Also there were fruitful results for the 10 weeks work. The project developed into something so big that it could not be completed in the time allotted and thus, the work will be continued by graduate students.

Flying Club now getting off ground

Pan Am students get help from Rudolph Joe Krafska, ex-PAC student and now assistant manager of the Longhorn Aero Club of The University of Texas. He spoke at a meeting Oct. 15.

Krafska was a student at Pan Am last spring when the Flying Club presented its pitch. "We were let down," he said. At that meeting there were about 65 students who signed wanting to start a club for Pan Am.

Approximately 15 students signed at the meeting saying that they were ready to plunk down $37.50 initiation fee. Monthly dues are $7.50. It costs $9.15 to fly a Cessna 150 for an hour, but that price will hopefully be reduced to $7.60 per hour. A flying instructor costs $6.00 more per hour.

Anyone else interested can see Louis deVries at the Physical Plant or Paul Engle in the astro Science Building.

J.F. McCreery represented McCreery Aviation at a meeting Oct. 17. He has made changes in his proposals that were made previously.

Dues have been reduced to $5 per month, payable monthly. If we have as few as five members, cost of flying a Cessna 150 will be $9.50 per hour, McCreery said. An increase in membership to 15 will reduce the rates to $9.15.

There will be a meeting today during activity period in EB159 to elect officers and select an aircraft proposal plan.

UMOC Dance postponed

Alpha Phi Omega's annual Ugly Man On Campus (UMOC) Dance Contest has been postponed, according to Eloy Valdes, APO president.

Having coordinated several of the events during Fiesta Hidalgo Celebration last week, the fraternity could not get a solid start in preparation for UMOC, the biggest and only money-making project of the fraternity each year. It has been rescheduled for early next semester so that adequate preparation can insure success, according to Valdes.

Art meet Saturday

The fourth annual District I Art Conference of the Texas Art Education Association at Pan Am will feature lectures on ceramics, collages, marionettes and art problems for the educable mentally retarded on Saturday.

The conference is being arranged by Miss Jennie E. Craig, member of the Rio Grande Valley college's art faculty.

On the schedule are demonstrations on ways of using scribble designs, painting, ceramics and jewelry-making, Miss Craig said. There also will be art films shown and a report will be exhibited.

Registration for the conference will be from 9 - 10 a.m. at the College Center lounge. The registration fee, including lunch is $1.50. Without lunch, registration will be $1.

Public night slated for observatory

A viewing night for the public at the College observatory and planetarium will be held Nov. 8 and four other nights are being arranged for special group observation.

Groups will assemble at the observatory - planetarium complex Friday Nov. 1, Nov. 22 and Dec. 6.

If the sky is clear the observatory will open at 7 p.m. and close at 10 p.m. Persons attending may enter and leave at any time during those hours. No reservations are necessary.

The planetarium will be open for two shows on the same night. Reservations must be made. There is no charge at the observatory.

Reservations may be made at the planetarium by writing to Planetarium Presentation, Pan American College, Edinburg. The first show will be at 7 p.m. and the second at 8:30 p.m.

PAC Harriers to compete against Kingsville's A&I

Cross country coach Jimmy Skaines has officially announced that the Pan American Harriers will compete in dual competition with Texas A&I University in Kingsville on Saturday. Skaines has been working with a 12-man squad and said he would take a large representative team on the school's first cross country trip since 1958. Asked to list his top performers as judged in pre-season trials, Skaines tapped freshman Fred Acuna of San Juan as the top Harrier. Listed in order behind Acuna were Joe Saldivar a Santa Rosa sophomore; Domingo Rodriguez, a Rio Hondo freshman; Oscar Sanchez, an Edinburg freshman; Frank Guzman, a San Juan freshman; Aurelio Monteagueo, a McAllen freshman; Roel Guerra, a Pharr freshman; and Raudel Guerra, a Pharr freshman.

The first-year cross country mentor said that a nine-man team would be named later to compete in the Texas Invitational Meet to be held Nov. 1 in Austin.

The Pan American-Texas A&I dual is slated to start at 11 a.m.

Other members on the cross country roster, all freshmen, include Arnold Alaniz, Edinburg; Jesus Banda, McAllen; Jesus Becho, Mission; and Joe Zamora, Edinburg.

Replacement needed for no. 2 golfer

Pan Am golf coach Charles Parkinson announced Monday that the team's No. 2 golfer, Andy Hartshorn of McAllen, has withdrawn from school to enlist in the military service.

The loss of Hartshorn leaves a gaping hole in the Broncs' eight-man squad which won its first dual meet of the season last week.

"This means essentially that we lost our No. 2 man," said Parkinson, "although he may potentially have been our best golfer."

Parkinson said that he would appeal to the college student body for all who were interested to tryout for the vacant spot on the roster.

Oops!

Calvin Oliver received an extra bit of publicity in last week's newspaper when he was identified as one of two voters in a picture. The voting man was really Ed Mathis. Sorry about that, Ed!

Bowling league to be formed

Final preparations are being made toward the formation of the new Pan American Collegiate Bowling League. Larry Ensminger, assistant professor of health and physical education, hopes the formation of the league will bring a new sport to PAC and lead to intra and interstate competition for the league.

Ensminger, Gillespie Baker, Park Bowl owner, and John R. Irvin, PAC student, ask Pan Am students interested in joining the league to meet at the Park Bowl, Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

Air Force team to land

The United States Air Force Officer Procurement Team will visit PAC Oct. 29 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Team members include 1st Lt. Milton R. McFarland, SMSgt. John Addison, MSgt Earl Butler, TSgt. Gary Douglass and SSgt. Gus Barrera.

Applications are being sought from both men and women, who are college seniors or graduates and between the ages of 20 1/2 and 29 1/2, for the Air Force Officer Training School.

Completion of the 12 week course leads to a commission as 2nd Lt. Openings exist for men in the pilot, navigator and engineering fields. Women may apply for openings in over 20 fields.

Interviews will be conducted on campus at both the College Center and the Commons on the old campus. For advance information or private interview contact MSgt. Butler, Valley Mercantile Bldg, McAllen or call MU6-4016.

Mrs. Ellis to do her own thing

An ancient Indian instrument and forerunner of the sitar, the veena, will be featured at a recital given by Mrs. Shanta Iyengar Ellis in the College Center lounge Nov. 13 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ellis, a native of Bangalore, India, is the wife of Dr. Fred E. Ellis, associate professor of physical science. She earned her Ph.D. at the University of Indiana and has taught at East Texas State Teachers College and at LSU in Baton Rouge La.

Niebuhr, Hyslin exhibit works

Marvin Niebuhr and Richard Hyslin, faculty members, exhibited their art work Oct. 20 in the McAllen State Bank.

Niebuhr exhibited chalices, pill-boxes, bowls and non bowls made from sand cast aluminum. Also among his exhibits were some pieces of medieval jewelry which were forbearers of the pendants which men wear today.

There were also some examples of the work he has done with wood on display.

Most of the wooden pieces reflected the natural look of weathered wood that he prefers. Niebuhr came to PAC from New Mexico where one can leave pieces of wood in the desert to weather. He now uses wire brushing and sandblasting to achieve the same effect.

Hyslin exhibited some pieces of his ceramic work. One of these exhibits, "Wazconski," was loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark for the show. It is representative of the first heart transplant patient, constructed of stoneware, earthenware and plexiglass, the piece contains an interior light that pulses on and off. Hyslin also came to Pan Am from New Mexico.

Hangman

"The Hangman," an animated color fantasy inspired by Maurice Ogden's poem of the same name published in 1959, will be shown at the Baptist Student Union, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"The Hangman" is a short film that cannot help knock on the door of the social conscience; a presentation that will leave one shuddering and quiet in his seat.

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW is pleased to announce the establishment of

THE HATTON W. SUMMERS SCHOLARSHIPS IN LAW

Stipend: The Summers stipend has a value of $3,000 a year. It provides, in addition to the full tuition and fees, room and board in Lawyers Inn and an amount for books, personal expenses and travel costs.

The total value of a Summers Scholarship for the three years of study is $9,000. The Scholarship is awarded initially for one year, renewable for the second and third years of study, provided that the Scholar maintains a cumulative scholastic average in the upper third of his class and meets the other requirements of the program.

Qualifications: An applicant for a Summers Scholarship must meet the following requirements:

- (1) Hold prior to commencement of law study a baccalaureate degree from an approved college or university.
- (2) Rank academically in the upper twenty-five percent of his class, and exhibit qualities of leadership and character which give promise of success in the law.
- (3) Be an unmarried citizen of the United States between 21 and 27.
- (4) Be a permanent resident of, or in attendance at a college or university in, one of the following states: Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, or Texas.

Applications: Write to Summers Scholarship Committee, School of Law, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas 75222, for SUMMERS SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION FORM.
