Nothing Comes Of Senate Session

PACSA Trading Is Mixed

As one observer termed it "the trading was mixed," when the PACSA Senate acted officially in its meeting Feb. 25.

With no apparent regard for their own agenda, Senators moved from new business into a committee of the whole, back out again, heard three resolutions and then adjourned to attend a basketball game.

Criticism of the Publications Committee and The Pan American, financial autonomy for PACSA, appropriations for the soccer team and old bills left in the Rules and Policy Committee since the fall semester were discussed; however, the Senate adjourned before taking official action on any of the measures.

The one item on the agenda, appointments to the Special Executive Committee on Campus Affairs, was ignored.

In committee reports, a special committee to investigate the "inactivity" of the campus Publications Committee, which is established by the Board of Regents, reported that it met with two of the three student members and three of the five faculty members of the committee. Discussion at that meeting covered the role of the members, the role of the committee, improvement of the campus newspaper and other ideas.

The committee doing the investigating was headed by Senator Tim Houston.

The committee recommended, that in addition to more frequent meetings, the name of the committee be changed from Student-Faculty Publications Committee to Faculty-Student Publication Committee "in order not to misrepresent student participation on the committee."

In fact, the official name of the group is the Publications Committee, and the committee was created by the Regents with no particular connotation for faculty or student make-up.

Included in the report was a protest against "inaccurate reporting," in the Feb. 18 issue of The Pan American, of remarks by Houston on the Publications Committee.

After coming out of the committee of the whole, senators heard two resolutions from Sen. Joe Davis.

One said that because many professors do not give more than two exams during a semester, and because students often do not know their standing in the course until too late to remedy the situation, students should be allowed to drop a class late in the semester without having a grade recorded.

Davis also presented a resolution to allow students expecting to graduate before the name Pan American University takes effect to pay a fee and have their records changed to include the name change.

Discussion in the committee of the whole included a bill to do away with the school yearbook and channel the funds into other publications. This discussion was tabled when senators decided that more information was needed before a decision could be made.

The appropriations committee recommended that a motion made at the last meeting to appropriate $250 to the soccer team be rejected. The soccer team, according to the recommendation, is no longer under the jurisdiction of the Senate. It was not clear exactly who did have jurisdiction when discussion ended.

Bulletin Should Be Completed This Month Plans Progressing

The Graduate Council of the recently approved Pan American University Graduate School is currently preparing the school bulletin for the 1971-72 school year, according to Dr. B. E. Reeves, acting dean of the graduate school.

The bulletin will contain the specific requirements concerning admission, fields of study, course offerings and other information necessary to the prospective graduate students.

Class schedules in the graduate program are expected to offer a large number of night and Saturday only courses to benefit the many working teachers expected to enroll as part-time students.

Students now attending Pan Am who would like to receive the bulletin in preparation for entrance to the graduate school next fall should sign the bulletin mailing list in the registrar's office. When it is completed in late March or early April, the bulletin and other graduate school information will be mailed to these students.

The Graduate Council is an advisory group to the dean of the graduate school. Members of the council are Leslie M. Gower, and Drs. Ed Baldwin, Porter A. Stratton, Roland H. Lyford, Alfred E. Crofts, Phyllis Phillips, Robert I. Lonard and Darrel Black.

Your Own Thing

Your Own Thing Is Updated Twelfth Night

Rock Musical Coming

One of the major entertainment events the College Center Program Council has planned for Pan American University students will be presented on Wednesday, in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

"Your Own Thing," a rock musical, will be the first of its kind to be staged in the Valley. This modern rock musical version of William Shakespeare's comedy play, "Twelfth Night", has been one of the most successful musicals to reach the American state in many years. Almost every Shakespearean play has been turned into an opera, but only four of his works have been adapted into musical comedy form.

The tongue-in-cheek modern re-telling of the romantic Shakespearean comedy was made into "Your Own Thing" by Stage Director Donald Driver. Driver has won major recognition for his direction of the American presentation of "Marat Sade" in New York and on tour. He has served for four years as artistic director of the Shakespeare Festival in Washington, DC, and through his own industrial-show firm, has written and produced shows for General Motors, Bell Telephone, and other major corporations.

The rock musical was the first off-Broadway New York production ever to receive the New York Drama Critics' Award, one of the most highly coveted prizes that any American stage attraction can hope to gain. The New York performance opened in New York early in 1968 and drew capacity and audiences for two and three months.

The rock musical portrays Shakespeare's ancient romance about Viola and Sebastian, the twin brother and sister who are separately washed ashore after a shipwreck in the never-never land of Illyria. This turn of events lent itself neatly to the writing modernization applied by Driver, Hester, and Apolinar.

Illyria is turned into "fun city"--a steel-chrome-and-glass replica of New York. The twin brother and sister are made into rock singers by profession, and each apply for a job to the manager of an all-male rock group which has just lost a member in the draft.

The rock musical is directed by Richard Nagel. It contains 17 songs that pepper the show with the performance of an appropriately all-youthful cast.

The Valley presentation at Pan Am will start at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50, $2.50 and $3.50. They are available in the office of the director of student activities, Tony Vela, located in the College Center; or persons may call 383-3891, Ext. 366.

Up With People In Free Appearance

Part of the Up With People cast had a special show in front of the Student Center Tuesday during activity period. The company was in the Valley for an appearance Wednesday in the Pan American gymnasium. The cast was to leave today for their next show, which will be in San Antonio. While in the Valley, the members, who are high school and college age, stayed with local families.

Newspaper preparing for long seige as Houston opens fire again

From the looks of things at last week's Senate meeting, the newspaper should prepare itself to be under fire -- again.

The illustrious Mr. Tim Houston has made a stirring speech in his position as chairman of the special committee to investigate the inactivity of the Student/Faculty Publications Committee. In this speech, thoughtfully mimeographed for members in attendance, he states that The Pan American is responsible for new bitterness on the part of faculty members of the committee, and that this bitterness will eventually result in some evil. Some evil, presumably, which has not already occurred at Pan Am.

The Houston Report also states that The Pan American is guilty of that sin of sins, misquoting. Worse yet, The Pan American misquoted him. Further, the newspaper maligned the Senate and members of the SFPC by saying that the Senate would be investigating the committee and that the Senate had "fired on" the committee during its meeting.

The only part of this that is not true is the part presented by Mr. Houston. It should be dismissed in just that manner.

Students attempting to change structure of boards of regents

The organization and control of Pan American University is vested in a board of nine regents. These board members are appointed by the Governor of Texas for six year terms. They serve without pay, except for travel expenses when attending meetings.

There is now a formalized effort, in Texas, to have the composition of the Boards of Trustees changed. The effort, which got its start at Texas A&I in Kingsville, would see two faculty members and two student representatives on the Board. The members from

As an example of the fact that Mr. Houston is not himself in a position to accuse anyone of misstating the facts: in the Senate meeting at which he says he was misquoted, he stated that the SFPC did not have any rules to follow.

He said that during the past summer, he had presented a complete set of rules and policies for the committee to follow.

He said the rules had been set aside. He said the committee, thus implying the faculty members, did not like what was a liberalized role for itself. Presumably this meant that the faculty members were too much under the thumb of administrators, who wanted to keep power.

He said this.

Well, here's what we say:

Those rules that he presented were possibly the most redundant and oblique set that have been created since "Handbook for Bureaucrats." To say nothing of the grammar.

But the report was studied, rewritten (abbreviated mainly), and revised. And adopted by the committee.

'Nuff said.

the faculty and student body would be appointed for two years and have voting privileges.

Bob Tice, a former A&I professor, now a lobbyist at the state capital, will meet next week with the student Senate to discuss the new representation plan. Tice apparently spends all his time lobbying for the acceptance of the plan in the state legislature, and traveling the state to amass support.

Candidates for the positions would be nominated by a six man screening committee, composed of three student body representatives and three faculty. Students being considered would need a grade point average of at least 2.5, and faculty would have to be at the university for at least one year before becoming eligible.

The new representative would sit on the board as a non-voting consultant during his first year in office, and only achieve voting status in his second year.

The number of trustees would not change; therefore, students and faculty would have a very strong, although not domineering, decision-making power.

The primary benefit to be derived from the proposal seems to be communication. There is a very evident and unfortunate communications gap between the decision-makers and the ones most effected. An institution such as Pan Am, with more than 5,000 students and 200 faculty, is too massive an operation to be able to cope with this communications gap well under the present system.

Alienation from administrators and the boards of regents might be eliminated under new proposal.

And it possibly could serve as a compromise. A compromise between those who feel that students should play a more active part in the management of the university, and those who believe that students and faculty are not qualified or able to devote the time to running the institution.

The March 11 meeting of the Senate should at least be an interesting and informative one.

Journalism students "tell it like it is" while practicing

By ISABEL FLORES

What will the next generation of Texas journalists' be like: One answer is sure—they won't be like the characters of the yellow journalism age from whose hats were cards reading "Press" and who hid cameras in their coat pockets or purses.

The future journalists will be like three Pan American University students who are already at work in different newspapers and a television station in the Valley.

The students are Magdeleno Medrano, Maricela Ortiz and Rick Diaz.

The three students have one thing in common. They are young and belong to the generation that coined the slogan "tell it like it is." And it is this one fact they remember most - reporting the facts.

Magdeleno Medrano is a sophomore student from San Juan. He is the editor, publisher, printer, reporter, copyreader and janitor of his own weekly paper, "The San Juan Sentinel." If you ever ask how many helpers he employs in his office, his answer will be "just three - me, myself and L."

Medrano first got interested in journalism in his senior year at Edcouch-Elsa High School, where he served as business manager and co-editor of the paper. After serving in the U.S. Army for three years, he came back and worked for the San Juan paper. Later he acquired ownership of the office and press.

It was through work on the paper that Medrano acquired most of his experience in reporting and writing. Later he enrolled at Pan American, since he felt it would offer him an "opportunity to improve himself and acquire more training in journalism."

"Even in a small town the size of San Juan there is always something happening," said Medrano. "There is always a city commissioner's meeting or a school board meeting. It's not the dead town most people make it out to be."

"The most exciting experience I've had was covering an accident in 1964. It was here that I had a realization of the great responsibility I had to the people in getting the correct information. There were six persons killed in that accident."

Maricela Ortiz is a 22 year old senior from Edinburg. She works as editor of "Arriba Con La Ciudad," a biweekly newspaper published by the Model Cities Agency in Edinburg.

"I guess I was always interested in journalism. My first try at getting a job in newspaper was at the age of 13. I remember going down town to the office of The Daily Review and asking for a job. I believe the editor at the time was Mr. Quin, now a journalism faculty member at Pan Am. This was my first encounter with him. I would meet him many times after."

Mrs. Ortiz' work at Model Cities consists of agency news coverage, follow up reports on different projects and other news items that might be of interest to people in the Model Cities area. "Most of the people who receive the paper come from a low income group. My paper therefore is written both in English and Spanish."

"This program is about the only federal program with so much citizen participation. The newspaper plays an important part in communicating much of the vitally needed information."

Mrs. Ortiz states that in order to enter a profession such as journalism, the one thing you definitely need is dedication. "At times your day is very dull and other times it becomes an exciting day with something new and exciting going on every minute."

The television media worker is 25 year old Rick Diaz, San Juan freshman. Diaz works for KGBT in Harlingen covering the upper Valley news from Mercedes to McAllen area.

"My job consists of filming and reporting. I am one of the eight reporters under the direction of Don Mallory, news director for KGBT," said Diaz.

Diaz does most of the reporting and filming when covering an assignment. "When I first started I had no experiences in reporting. I learned it on the job. But the best way to start is to get the journalism classes first. It makes it a lot easier to catch on to what is going on in actual reporting."

His first assignment was to cover the 1966 Rio Grande City farm workers strike. "But my most interesting assignment was covering hurricane Beulah. We were constantly covering any news and also filming. I guess you could say that our job is like that of a mailman--in rain or snow, we are always out in search of the news."

"One thing you have to get used to is the hours. This job is not a 40 hour a week job. You cover a meeting at 7:30 p.m. leave for a banquet at 8 p.m. and get back to the office at 10:30 p.m. Then you have to arrange everything."

Diaz believes that the news media has a responsibility to the public. "It should answer to the public. But there is also a certain responsibility in reporting the news--good or bad. I don't think it's up to us to be the conscience of the community. We can't suppress the news. We just present it."

Working for the news media certainly offers some prestige. The three students stated that being young is no handicap to the profession. "People respect you and your position," said Diaz.

All three students also feel that the Valley media has a great opportunity to play an important part in covering many vital issues and problems of the area.

The students are enrolled at the present time in journalism courses offered at Pan Am under Harry Quin, who has 30 years of experience in the field of journalism.

Degree Is Proposed In Law Enforcement

A course of study leading to a degree in Law Enforcement Science may well be in the offing for Pan American students next year.

A feasibility committee composed of Christopher C. Isbell and Mrs. Arnulfo S. Martinez and Joe Wilson has completed its study and has compiled a proposed program for a Bachelor of Science Degree in Law Enforcement Science. The program is a four year, 124 semester hour course and would be in the Department of Social Studies.

The proposed program would offer about 15 new courses in law enforcement. Some of them are Introduction to Law Enforcement, Criminal Evidence and Procedure, Crowd Control, Criminalistics, Principles of Law Enforcement Supervision, Community and Law Enforcement Relations and Basic Criminal Law.

The course would also require that special emphasis be placed on bilingual training. Both beginning and intermediate Spanish would be required.

The proposal lists two courses which would provide practical field experience for the student by working a few hours each week with some of the local law enforcement agencies.

The program proposal will now be forwarded to a coordinating board and its approval is anticipated this summer.

Penington Elected New Chairman Of 1972 University Faculty Senate

Dr. Ralph A. Penington, head of the department of business administration, was recently elected to serve as chairman of the faculty senate of Pan American University during 1971.

Other officers elected were Earl Frankenger, vice-chairman; Dr. Martha Kinard, parliamentarian; and Miss Clara Buitenbos, secretary.

The Faculty Senate is elected by and composed of members of the teaching faculty of the university. The purpose of the faculty senate is to promote the general welfare of the university by representing the faculty in matters that relate to that body.

It serves as a channel for inter-communication between students, faculty, and administration; reviews existing or proposals for consideration by faculty or administration.

Members of the senate are Dr. Ralph A. Penington and Miss Clara Buitenbos, school of business administration; Dr. Martha Kinard, Adrian Lunday, and Dr. Amilda Thomas, school of education; Dr. Ted R. Clark, Mrs. Ferne Dreyer, Earl Frankenger, Chris Isbell, Dr. Nancy M. Prince, and Carl Wright; school of humanities and social studies; Sidney S. Draeger, DeWayne Hodges, Dr. W. Magazine Announces Extension Of Entry Deadline For Material

The staff of the "Pan-O-Rama", student literary magazine, has announced that the deadline for material to be considered for the spring issue has been extended to March 12. Students and faculty are eligible to submit entries.

A cash prize is being offered for the best entry in each of the following categories: poetry, art work, essay, and short story.

"At the present time the magazine is direly in need of poetry in any form, either original poetry or translation of an original piece from a foreign language," said Mary Sue Ply, magazine editor.

To date, no material has been submitted in a Mexican-American vein and Miss Ply has encouraged anyone with this type of material to submit it.

Contributions may be brought by office building A or given to Dr. Bob Dowell, Ted Von Ende or Mrs. Ferne Dreyer.

The Pan-O-Rama has been described as "a portable literary portfolio of the wide range of student interests and emotions". Since the publication of its first issue in the spring of 1970, the magazine has received acclaim from the noted author William Saroyan.

Saroyan, author of such works as "The Trouble With Tigers," and "Rock Wagram," expressed his approval in a letter to Dr. Edward Simmen, Pan Am English professor.

Saroyan praised the magazine as a whole, but was particularly impressed with Mexican-American material. He mentioned Yolanda Silva Hinojosa's "Yo Soy Chicano," the editorial "From the Staff" and the art section. He was particularly impressed by Genaro Gonzalez' "El Hijo del Sol."

A revised version of Gonzalez' story, retitled "Un Hijo del Sol," will appear in Simmen's recently published anthology "The Chicano: From Caricature to Self Portrait."

Blood Donors Requested To Check Requirements

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and the Student Health Service will co-sponsor an on-campus blood drive Monday. The mobile units of the Blood Services of Harlingen and McAllen will be set up in the College Center from 7:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

The service fraternity and the Health Service are asking everyone who would like to donate blood to check to see if they meet the requirements before they become a donor.

The basic blood donor requirements in the Southwest Blood Banks are that a donor must be between the ages of 18 and 60. However, if a would-be donor is between the ages of 18 and 21, he must have written consent of a parent or guardian unless he is married or in the military forces.

A prospective donor must weigh at least 110 pounds. Extremely overweight individuals should not give blood without written consent of a private physician.

The Blood Services are asking persons to avoid fatty foods or dairy products four hours before they give blood. Preferably, only water, soft drinks, fruit juices, black coffee or toast should be eaten during that period. On the other hand, it should not be more than 12 hours since a person has had some solid foods.

A person should never give blood if he has had viral hepatitis (Jaundice), syphilis, tuberculosis, heart disease, epilepsy, rheumatic fever, frequent fainting spells, severe head injury, convulsions, kidney disease, severe allergy, bleeding abnormally, drug addiction, or diabetes (requiring special diet or insulin).

A person should not give blood if he has had major surgery, blood transfusions, pregnancy, malaria, immunizations, severe injury, alcoholism, prolonged fever, tattoo, excessive weight loss, persistent cough, pains in the chest, shortness of breath, edema, or close contact with someone who had hepatitis.

If a person is taking medicine for an illness, or has had a severe cold or sore throat, skin disease, arthritis, hay fever or asthma, he may not give blood at the present time.

All persons are encouraged to have their blood typed free of charge. Their names will then be placed on a master list of blood donors in the Valley.

174 Now Participate In Student Teaching

Student teachers for this spring semester total 174 according to Dr. Fred Cunningham, dean of the school of education. This is an increase of 85 over the fall semester.

The student teachers have been assigned to seven Valley school districts that serve as student teaching centers. Elementary schools in Brownsville, Edinburg, Donna, Harlingen, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, McAllen and Mission employ Pan Am students to give them teaching experience.

Students who apply for student teaching must meet curriculum requirements for eligibility to teach. Students observe, participate in supervised activities and teach one-half day each week for 16 weeks to complete the six hour education course.

Two bills passed by the Texas legislature establish incentive measures directed at improving educational and professional standards of teaching. The bills strengthen the student teacher curriculum in the school of education, said Dr. Cunningham.

Texas House Bill 240 becomes effective September, 1971, and allows a beginning salary of $6,000 per year to new applicants who have credit for student teaching. Applicants without credit for student teaching have a starting salary of $5,400.

Texas Senate Bill 8 effects a salary increase of $200 per year to experienced, professional teachers of participating schools who cooperate and take part in the training and supervision of student teachers.

Concert Is Tuesday

Phyllis Sahadi will perform in concert at the Fine Arts Auditorium Tuesday as a member of the Faculty Artist Series. Dr. John Anderson, head of the Pan Am Fine Arts department, announced that the program by the soprano would begin at 8:15 p.m.

Two groups of art songs will be featured. The lyrical French art songs of Ernest Chausson, among them "La Caravane" and a German group from "Miscellaneous Poetry" by Hugo Wolf.

Perform In Chicano Theater

"No Sacaron Nada," a three act play performed by the Teatro Estudiantil de Azlan, was presented to an audience of 150 persons in the Studio Theatre at Pan American Tuesday night. The play presented different aspects of the educational system, starting from elementary school and extending to the college level. Above is a scene from elementary level with Pan American students, Isabel Flores, Ruben Mendez (George) and Manuel Trevino (Malcolm).

Society Appeals For Portrait Funds

The L.D. Gilmore portrait memorial fund at Pan American is growing and another appeal directed at faculty and staff of the institution is being started by Kappa Delta Pi, national education fraternity.

Checks may be made out to the L.D. Gilmore Portrait Fund and sent to the Business Affairs Office, Pan American University, Edinburg.

"We would like to complete this project and commission a suitable artist within the next few months, based upon the contributions in the fund," said Mrs. Ray Drakeley, president of Kappa Delta Pi.

Dr. Gilmore, who was dean of the school of education when he died in April, will be memorialized by a portrait to be hung in the new education building. Construction on it is expected to start in the next few months.

Bill To Benefit Campus Police

Texas Legislators have passed a bill providing family death benefits for campus police—but have also just about killed a separate bill authorizing campus police to ask and obtain the names and addresses of suspicious persons on college grounds.

The benefits will have been sent to the governor for his signature and calls for payment of $10,000 plus monthly payments up to $300 for children, to widows and children if the officers are killed in the line of duty. Austin Capital guards are also included in the bill.

Senators have sent back to a study committee another bill which would have given campus police authority to stop and question "suspicious" persons, thus almost assuring non-passage of the bill.

Program Draws Physics Faculty

Five members of the Pan American University faculty will attend a meeting of the Texas Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, March 12 and 13.

Those attending will be C.A. Youngman, association president; Norman Burandt, Dr. Frederic Glaser, Dr. Ed LeMaster and Bill Shockley.

Dr. Glaser will give a paper on "Effect of Nuclear Motion on the Electronic States of the Hydrogen Molecule Ion."

A total of 66 papers will be given during the seven sessions of the program, Youngman, head of the Pan Am physics department, said.

Baseball Team Starts Off Strong, Plays Texas This Weekend

"Batter up!" The baseball season at Pan Am is in "full-swing". Coming off a fine 32-12 season last year, the Broncos have a strong team again this year.

Even though the team lost its mainstays in the pitching department, able replacements are at hand. The scoring punch should be stronger than last year's with two NCAA all-district performers, a second-team All-America player and many veterans returning.

Starting the season with seven wins and one loss, Pan Am looks tough. The big test early in the season will come this weekend when the University of Texas Longhorns come to town. If you remember, they are the ones who eeked out two one-run decisions over Pan Am last year in the NCAA division play-offs held in Austin. They are a major power in the Southwest Conference again this year.

The Broncos need to win as many as possible to get into the play-offs because they are independent. Independents are chosen by their final season record.

Bronc Nine Wins 7 Out Of 8

The Pan American baseball team started the season in a winning way by taking victories in seven out of the first eight games.

Tuesday Lupe Salinas won his second game of the season by pitching a six-hitter and giving up only one run in the first game of a double-header against Texas Tech. Mike Tackett supplied the power at the plate going four-for-four.

In the second game, Gary Doyle evened his record by 1-1 by pitching a four-hitter and allowing only one run. Bill Chandler hit a two-run-scoring single in the first inning to give Doyle all the scoring he needed.

The Broncos also won the first doubleheader with the Raiders Monday, 6-0 and 5-4, in extra innings. Andre Rabouin hurled a five-hit shutout in the first game. Bo McNurlen batted in all the runs Rabouin needed when he singled with two men on in the third inning. Al Pierce iced the game away with a solo homer in the sixth that cleared the 40-ft. left-field fence 363 feet from home plate.

The second game went into extra innings. Jesse Banda doubled down the right field line with two men on in the bottom of the ninth to drive in the winning run. Bruno Cavazos, who relieved Newman in the fourth inning, got credit for the win.

In Saturday's double header against Baylor, Powell Brown and Ricky Solis each pitched three hitters as the Broncos won both games, 6-1 and 6-0. Al Pierce and Willy Gawlick both hit home runs to give the Broncos the necessary scoring.

Texas A&I won the college division of the meet with 214 points.

Intramurals

Today is the deadline for entering intramural softball competition. Softball games will start Monday.

The intramural track and field meet will be held April 2-3. Entry deadline is March 25. Any interested parties should get in touch with Thomas Esparza at his office in the old gym.

Golf Team Ties

The Pan American Golf team participated in the Southwestern Golf Tournament in Fort Worth Saturday. In the strong 22 team competition, the Broncos tied for ninth with Oklahoma City and St. Thomas, taking a team total of 593 strokes.

The Broncos' individual scores were: Jim Wilkinson and Harden, 155; Jim Atherton, 158; and Mark Masterpool, 164. North Texas State won the tournament with a total of 593 strokes.

Coach Tony Guerrero said the Broncos will enter the Border Olympics golf tournament this weekend at Laredo.

Pan Am won the first game of Friday's double header, 7-6, as Wayne Tyrone batted four-for-four and his brother, James, hit three-for-three. Salinas received credit for the win before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Rabouin saved the game in the seventh, although he walked the first three batters and gave up two runs.

The Broncos scored six runs in the bottom of the sixth to ice the game away. The three run cushion was needed because of Rabouin's early wildness.

The Broncos lost their first game of the season in the second game against Baylor's Steve Stuart. Stuart hurled a five-hitter and struck out eleven. The game went one extra inning.

The University of Texas plays doubleheaders here Friday and Saturday. Starting time is 1 p.m. for the first game.

Basketball Season Ends With Loss

The Pan American basketball team ended its season on a losing note with a 102-86 loss to a strong team from Loyola of New Orleans.

Loyola's 7 ft. center Tyrone Marioneaux dominated the game from the outset. He led all scorers with 28 points and swept the boards for a game high 23 rebounds. Marioneaux received help from four of his teammates who also scored in double figures.

Leading the Broncos in scoring were Calvin Oliver with 24 points, followed by Kirk Brown's 20 and Frank Lorthridge's 19.

The game was tied once at two all and after that the Broncos were never in serious contention. Loyola led at halftime by twelve, 44-32. In the second half, the Broncos came within eleven but Loyola quickly scored five points to put the game out of reach.

The Broncos were out-rebounded 64-49 and out-shot from the floor 48.9 per cent to 40.9 per cent.

In the last home game of the season Feb. 24, Pan Am avenged an earlier season loss to the University of Corpus Christi by a score of 100-85.

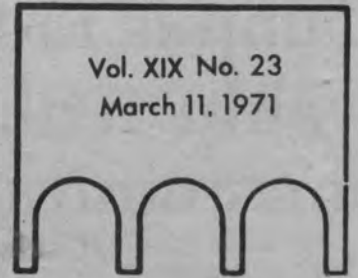

Shooting an accurate 53 per cent from the field, Pan Am placed three men in double figures. Lorthridge led the Bronc scorers with 27 points while Brown sank 25, and Oliver made 19. UCC's leading scorer and the game's leading scorer, Bob Bolden, hit 50 per cent of his shots from the field and 13 of 16 from the foul line for his 35 points.

Leading by six at halftime, the Broncos outscored UCC, 52-43, in the second half to clinch the win. At intermission cheerleader Jeanne Bullion was named Basketball Belle by the players and Calvin Oliver was honored as Basketball Beau by the cheerleaders.

Ogletree Ponders The Situation

Baseball coach Al Ogletree puffs on his pipe as he looks over the action. Ogletree coached the Broncos to a fine 32-12 season last year and two narrow losses to the University of Texas in the play-offs.

Highlights Are SCOLAS Meeting, Carnival

PanAm Week Schedule

Planning for the up coming Pan American Week activities, to be held April 13-17, is underway according to the Inter-American Institute director, Dr. T.L. White.

The week's activities will include the annual meeting of the Southwest Council of Latin American Studies (SCOLAS). This will be the first time that the meeting will be held at Pan American. At least 225 members are expected to attend, most of the delegates coming from colleges and universities in New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Illinois and Mexico.

Dr. White will serve as president for this year's meeting. The main function of SCOLAS is to foster interest in the life and culture of Latin America. It also encourages more effective teaching and researching in Latin American studies.

The activities will be initiated with a flag ceremony on April 13 at 10:45 a.m.

Other activities of Pan Am Week include a soccer tournament and a carnival a-la-Latin style.

The selection of Miss Pan American will also be included in the week. Clubs and organizations are now being asked to select representatives for Miss Pan American. Packets and information are available at the student government office in the Student Center.

"We hope this year's Pan American Week will be a more interesting week than in the past," said Isabel Flores, Pan American Week student director.

"During the past we sponsored many different activities throughout the week. But due to the low interest on the part of students and faculty members as a whole, we have cut down on the activities and have included primarily those functions of interest to students."

Miss Flores went on to comment that some of the activities have been incorporated into one and others like the Model OAS have been cut from this year's function.

"The SCOLAS meeting will be a new thing at Pan American and promises to be the most important event of the whole week," said Miss Flores.

The main theme of the program this year will be "Diplomatic Cultural Exchange Between the United States and Mexico in the 20th Century."

Members of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity assisted.

According to Hill, response was very good and he said he would "like to come back."

Summer School Anyone?

Must Register

If you plan to attend summer classes at Pan Am, be sure to let the Registrar know about it. Otherwise, you may be on the proverbial "outside looking in."

Even though currently enrolled in Pan Am, students must complete a short "application for admission" form to be assured their names will be processed for entrance to the summer sessions. These forms will be available in the Registrar's Office about mid-March and should be returned before April 30.

Anyone not presently enrolled in Pan Am who wants to take summer courses must secure a regular admission application and complete it before April 30, also. Appointments for registration will be issued by the Registrar's Office May 18-21 to all applicants.

This Was Up With People

Campus radio station would enhance communication

Why should 5,000 apathetic students at a university in South Texas be interested in seeing a medium-power, non-commercial AM radio station established on their campus?

Reason Number One--A campus radio station would provide an additional outlet for students who are interested in journalism, speech, music and electronics to exercise their talents and interests.

Journalists could be responsible for news, programming and writing; speech students could gain rare experience by broadcasting, as could music students; scientists would be responsible for the technical and equipment maintenance aspects of the operation.

Reason Number Two--each academic department on campus could benefit by participating in the planning and programming of educational programs during various segments of the broadcast day. These would not only offer new possibilities for research and presentation for students, but would also insure a wide variety of programs for a heterogeneous listening audience. The rest of the time would be spent broadcasting rock music and campus-oriented news and features.

Reason Number Three--A radio station has a distinct advantage over a newspaper in the immediacy with which it can disseminate news--where a newspaper can report in depth, radio can report with speed. The two are far from mutually exclusive, or even competitive (especially in the case of a non-commercial station and a commercial paper); rather each could serve to enhance the other.

Reason Number Four--Although the trend now is toward greater centralization of the student population, Pan American still suffers from an acute case of "commuteritis." A campus radio station, even of limited broadcast reach, would help pull the student body together by making it constantly aware of what is going on on-campus. Thus, it could become a valuable tool of intra-student communication--something this college needs,

Coed complains about furniture in new dorm

Editor, the Pan American

If possible, I would like to address some observations to this college or university on the furnishing of a college women's residence hall. I am not an architect or an interior decorator or even a college or university administrator. My only qualification for making these observations is having lived for one year in the old women's residence hall and for nearly one year in the new women's residence hall.

It gets very old very fast to have to leave the lounge of the residence hall each and every time, fair weather or foul that you would like to sit in comfort with your fiancée and drink a coke. Why did the college or university place such fragile and expensive furniture where they were going to worry about it becoming water spotted? It also becomes slightly annoying to have to leave the residence hall each and every time, fair weather or foul you would like to sit with your fiancée and watch television.

One final question. This college trades upon the sunny climate of South Texas. Why then don't they unlock the balconies of the residence hall so that the residents may enjoy said sunny climate?

Students favor change

The change of name from Pan American College to Pan American University has evoked comments from students ranging from "I think it is great," to "It is really nice to belong to a university rather than a college without transferring," to "I don't care."

Perhaps the most common complaint was summed up by Mike O'Shea, Mercedes senior who said "I'm disappointed. The name 'college' will still be on my diploma." On the other hand, Jane Pealor, Edcouch-Elsa freshman said, "It will make my degree look better."

Wayne Dellis, Edinburg senior commented, "I don't like it. It's not a university," but Antenorjenes Villarreal, Matamoros sophomore said, "This school is too nice to be a college. I'm glad it changed." Robert Fry of Weslaco said, "A rose by any other name would"

Marsha Webber, Pharr junior, said that there is much more prestige in going to a university than to a college, while Jack Strawn, Raymondville senior, said, "It's a good step forward. The impressive name will help Pan Am grow in popularity."

Dan Gavito felt that the change won't make much difference for at least two years. "Then," he said, "more funds will be made available and perhaps more attendance will result." Alma Vargas, La Feria freshman, said, "The name change will attract many students from other places."

One student was critical of the particular name selected. Lynn Post, Edinburg junior said, "Why not change it to Pan American State University? 'PAU' just doesn't sound right."

Legislators see different sides of tuition increase

By TED MORENO

The Texas legislature has several bills to consider that will affect college age persons in the state. Of particular interest is a bill that will increase tuition in state supported institutions, a bill to give 18-year-olds the vote in state and local elections and a bill to give veterans, war orphans and orphans of deceased law enforcement officers free tuition.

Rep. Raul Longoria and state Sen. Jim Bates gave their views and comments on the pending legislation before the Texas Legislature in an interview last week end. Longoria represents the Edinburg area in the Texas House of Representatives and Bates' senatorial district encompasses the Rio Grande Valley. Bates earlier in the year successfully introduced a bill in the Legislature which changed the name of Pan American College to Pan American University.

Longoria said the tuition bill that passed the Texas House of Representatives calls for a tuition increase to $7 an hour from the former straight across the board tuition rate of $50 for 12 or more semester hours. This is a decrease from the original bill which called for an increase to $9 per semester hour. According to Longoria the additional income will bring $88 million into the General Revenue Fund. Longoria stated that $1 billion of the General Revenue Fund has been earmarked for public and higher education in the state.

According to the new bill, $8 million of the additional revenue, or $1.50 from each student's tuition fee, will be retained by the individual institutions to be used for scholarships for needy and worthy students.

"The additional revenue is to be used to compensate for the higher cost of education," said Longoria. "States need more help to pay for the rising cost, such as increased pay for professors."

Longoria also said additional money can be appropriated if needed for scholarships by individual institutions. Fees will not be affected and students will still be required to pay additional fees such as student activity fees and building use fees which are now charged at Pan American.

The tuition rate of Texas' state supported schools is one of the lowest in the United States. Longoria said he felt the tuition rate presently is very good but that there was a need for additional revenue. Longoria said that he did not vote for the bill because he felt that there could have been a different approach for raising the extra money needed.

Sen. Bates said he had no knowledge of the wording of the bill since it had just passed the House and he had not had a chance to read the finished bill. Bates voiced concern, however, on the effect of the tuition increase to out of state and foreign students. According to Bates 87 per cent of out of state students who come to Texas for a college education remain in the state and become residents of the state.

"I am concerned with the affect of this bill to out of state students. The state is still growing and we need these people to remain in Texas to help the state grow. We are big enough and growing enough and moving enough to still get them," said Bates.

Bates said that he hoped that the great increase would not affect foreign students. "This is our most important export since we are not only exporting our education but our philosophy for these students to take back to their country." Bates also said that in his opinion there were not enough foreign students attending Texas colleges and universities. He cited the fact that only 3 per cent of the student body at the University of Texas were foreign students.

Bates stated that he was uncertain about his stand on the tuition increase for the states' students. He acknowledged that there was a need for additional revenue but said that he would await a reading of the formal bill before he would make a stand on the tuition issue.

"I'm inclined to go along with it to a great extent for several reasons, I don't believe we can get along without it at this time, although I have never voted for a tuition increase since I have been in the House of Representatives or the Senate. I do favor the per hour rate rather than the present straight across the board," said Bates.

Bates said that this rate program would be more favorable to the working part time student. "I believe the sentiment at this time will indicate a tuition increase of some kind," said Bates.

Bates stated that Pan American University was an indication that students could not afford high educational costs, Pan American, according to Bates, served the need in the Valley since it shows that local students can not afford to go away to the University of Texas or other universities up state. "This is a clear indication that students can not afford room and board and must stay home to go to school for economic reasons," stated Bates.

Although the bill passed the House, Longoria said he felt the bill would not pass the Senate in its present state. However, Longoria indicated that the Senate possibly would grant a tuition raise to $75 for 12 hours or more. Bates declined any predictions on the chance of the present bill or any result from it.

Both Bates and Longoria said they are in favor of dialogue between youth and their representatives and would talk with any interested students.

The comedy stars Virna Lisi, who portrays a young cafe cashier who is lonely and in need of affection. A young bank teller, hounded by his shrewish wife, has similar needs. Their brief, but tender affair ends in a tangle of humorous and poignant involvements.

The film is directed by famed film-maker Pietro Germi. He also directed the Academy Award winner, "Divorce-Italian Style".

The original story for "The Birds, The Bees and The Italians" was written by Germi in collaboration with Luciano Vincenzoni.

Admission for the film is 75 cents a person.

PAU Wins Series With UT And KU

The seemingly tireless Broncs won their thirteenth game in the last fifteen by downing Big Eight powerhouse Kansas University in a nine inning game, 11-4. The 16th game had not been completed at press time Wednesday.

Playing fifteen games in only twelve days, Pan Am showed its endurance and bench strength by winning consistently. Tuesday the Broncs bombed Kansas, slugging thirteen hits and eleven runs to win. Powell Brown started the game but gave up four runs in four innings and was relieved by Gary Doyle in the fifth.

Doyle received credit for the win, pitching two innings of relief and Mike Tackett moved in from his right field position to shut out the Jayhawkers in the final three innings. David Armstrong, Pan Am catcher, knocked the only home run of the game with a man on in the first.

In the first game against Kansas Monday, Mike Duffey started things off with a 400-ft. blast into center field and circled the infield for an inside-the-park homerun. Gary Bullock, after a shaky start, pitched seven innings of one-run ball. He was relieved in the eighth by the ace of the relief corp, Bruno Cavazos, because of a blister that developed on his pitching hand.

Cavazos allowed the Jayhawkers to tie the game at four all in the top of the ninth, but shut-out Kansas the next three innings. Armstrong hit a single to left to knock in the winning run in the bottom of the 12th. In the grudge battle of the season, Pan Am avenged last year's defeat to the University of Texas in the playoffs by winning three out of four games against the Steers.

The Broncs swept the double-header Saturday, 4-3, 3-1. Right-hander Lupe Salinas, fooling the Longhorn batters with change-ups and off-speed pitches, limited Texas to six singles and one run. He had a shutout going into the eighth inning of the fourth game, when three singles in a row drove in a run.

The first game saw the Broncs come from behind twice before winning. Texas took a one-run lead in the first but the Broncs came back in the third scoring two. James Tyrone batted in one run with a triple and Pierce scored Tyrone with a single off starter Mike Cuelar.

Duffey committed a two-run error in the fourth to give the lead back to the Steers. Tackett's pinch-hit single in the sixth tied the game up. The Broncs scored the winning run in the seventh off reliever Rothe. Singles by Reggie Tredaway and Bill Chandler and an intentional walk to Tommy Simpson loaded the bases. Cavazos was hit by a 2-0 pitch to drive in the winning run.

The Broncs' only loss to Texas came at the hands of All-America pitcher Burt Hooton. He pitched a three-hit shutout and was backed by three home runs. Hooton needed only 148 pitches and never allowed a batter past second. Fifteen Broncs went down swinging. Starter Andre Rabouin absorbed the loss.

In the first game of the series, home runs by Tyrone and Tredaway helped off-set a grand slam homer by Alan Lowry to give the Broncs a 6-5 win. The winning pitcher, Powell Brown allowed 13 hits in the seven innings he pitched.

The Broncs face the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs here Friday and Saturday in double-headers beginning at 1 p.m. each day.

PAU Netters Beat Lamar

The Pan Am tennis team upped its season record to 5-3 by defeating Lamar Tech here Saturday.

The Broncs swept all singles matches and lost two out of three in the doubles to win the dual meet, 7-2. In the singles matches, Kenny McMillan won in straight sets over Luis Barafdi, 6-3, 6-2. Gewan Maharaj beat John Jordan, 6-3, 6-3. Julio Moros came from behind to defeat Pedro Ast, 4-6, 6-4, 7-6. Des Early and Ed Mathews both won their singles matches in straight sets.

Coach Dennis Conner changed his doubles line-up to give some of the freshmen on the team experience. Freshman Miles Reynolds and John Easter lost a close match with Rodriguez and Hernandez, 7-5, 6-3. Early and Maharaj won the only doubles victory for the Broncs by defeating Ast and Jenkins, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2. McMillan and Mathews lost the other doubles.

The tennis team faces a tough schedule this weekend. They journey to San Antonio to play 2nd-ranked Trinity University and then to Corpus Christi to take on 8th-ranked University of Corpus Christi in dual meets.

BOXSCORE by James Koen

Broncs Handle Longhorns, Win 3 Out Of 4 Games

"How sweet it is!" three wins out of four over the supposedly mighty Texas Longhorns. Except for the game Burt Hooton pitched, the Broncs bats were never silenced. Pan Am pitching seems almost as strong, if not stronger, than last year.

Much of the strength comes from the relief corps. Bruno Cavazos may be the winningest pitcher in this young baseball season, with four wins in relief. The freshman has come through every time he's been called upon.

Despite a murderous beginning schedule of fifteen games in only twelve days, Pan Am probably has the best record in college baseball. If they keep up this pace, it will be the playoffs for sure.

Meanwhile the Pan Am tennis team ranks as one of the best in Texas. Currently their record is 5-3, but they have played the best teams in the state and lost narrowly. If you remember last year, they started off slow and surged to 16 straight wins. With the talent the team has this year, the same thing isn't out of the question. After a four match road trip, the team returns March 22 to battle Oklahoma University. To watch excellent tennis, come out to the matches. Starting time is 2 p.m. and admission is free.

Intramurals

Robbie Agan and Delia Barbosa have won first and second respectively in the women's intramural singles badminton competition. Both represented the PE Club. The Volunteers placed third and fourth. Members of the PE Club also swept first and second in the doubles competition, with the Volunteers placing third and fourth again.

In the men's competition, Butch Flores won first place in the singles for the Sparklites and Marcos Noyola won second for the Roadrunners. In the doubles the Roadrunners won first and second place.

The next intramural event will be co-recreational badminton and tennis. The entry deadline is April 8 and play will start April 12. For more information contact Coach Thomas Esparza in the old gym.

Golf Team 6th

The Broncs golf team made a good showing by placing sixth in a strong field of 21 teams in the Border Olympics.

The University of Houston won the tournament with a total 1,156 strokes. The Broncs used 1,239 strokes to take sixth place. Skip Harden topped the Broncs scorers with a 306 total followed by Jim Wilkinson's 310, Jim Atherton's 311, Jim Penn's 312, Rick Vining's 316 and Mark Masterpool's 318. Harden, Atherton and Wilkinson each shot a one-over-par 73 for their best round.

After competing with each other in the 36-hole qualifying test this week, the four leading Broncs will travel to Houston to play in the Rice Invitational Tournament.

IFC Basketball

In the semi-finals of IFC basketball tournament action, Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated the Kappa Sigs 65-29 to be eligible to play Phi Kappa Theta in the finals Sunday.

Bill Townsend took the scoring honors for the game with 26 points. Mark Deaton and Corky Karcher followed with 14 and 13, respectively. Ben Chrich led the Kappa Sigs scorers with 12.

Plans Call For Building Dedications Pan Am Days Near

Tentative plans have been made to schedule the dedication of Pan American's new $12 million campus in conjunction with the celebration of Pan American Week April 12-17.

Highlight of the week will be the annual meeting of the Southwest Council of Latin American Studies (SCOLAS). Dr. T. Lawrence White, head of the Inter-American Studies Institute and president of SCOLAS, said that the meeting, which is being held for the first time at Pan Am, is expected to attract 225 persons.

Delegates are expected from colleges and universities in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Illinois and Mexico. Theme of the meeting this year will be "Diplomatic Cultural Exchange Between the United States and Mexico in the 20th Century."

U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen Jr., is tentatively scheduled to speak at the dedication ceremony, April 13.

Other activities will include a soccer match, "Carnival a la Latin" and the selection of Miss Pan American, who will be crowned April 16.

Isabel Flores, student director for Pan American Week said, "We hope this year's Pan American Week will be more interesting than in the past. The SCOLAS meeting will be a new thing and promises to be the most interesting and important event of the whole week."

Activities which have drawn the least students interest and participation in past years have been eliminated from the schedule. The week's events are being planned by a board of directors consisting of administrators, members of the Inter-American Studies Institute and student senators.

Choir Will Sing Monday

End of Tour Concert Set

The Pan American Choir, under the direction of Ray K. Drakeley, will present its "End of Tour" concert Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

The 40-voice select group has just returned from its spring tour through Falfurrias, Hebbronville, Freer, Laredo, San Antonio, Seguin and Beeville. According to a fine arts department spokesman, "Both the choir members and their high school and civic audiences were extremely enthusiastic about the quality of their programs, both in repertoire and in execution."

The choir's program for the tour included more than two hours of music, but selections were made from the entire repertoire for each performance to meet the major interests of individual audiences.

Monday night's performance will include compositions from the renaissance, baroque, romantic and modern periods with several additional light numbers.

Manson Will Have First Solid Meal Saturday Rabbi's Strike Draws To A Close

It has been a long and lonely demonstration of concern for Rabbi Michael Manson, who will eat solid food for the first time in 40-days next Saturday night.

Despite nation-wide news coverage of his 40-day hunger strike in support of the release of American Prisoner's of War, it has largely been a singular endeavor.

Manson had hoped for nation-wide support in order to convince the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong that Americans are indeed concerned over the fate of POW's. Support on a large scale never materialized for Manson who received calls and letters from but a few people pledging as many days of fasting as they could.

"At least I can say I tried to do something and did not turn my back on the families of those men," was his answer when asked how he felt about the lack of national support. He added that people locally have been very kind and understanding during his long fasting period.

For the past 38-days Manson, a government teacher at Pan American University and Rabbi of Temple Emanuel in McAllen, has subsisted on vitamin pills and water alone. Anti-acid and dextrine tablets were ordered by his doctor to counter-act the side effects of such a long time without solid food.

Though extremely weak, the Rabbi has continued to lecture in his American and Totalitarian government courses during the period of the hunger-strike, asking only for a substitute for the last two Tuesday and Thursday first period classes.

Manson's first meal will consist of jello Saturday night, to be followed by other light solids such as soup and cereal. He has lost over 40 pounds during the course of his fast and will lose more until he is able to regain his normal diet.

Week's Movies

"The Sergeant" and "Bonnie and Clyde" are the next two films that the College Center Program Council is presenting at Pan Am, according to Hank Hury, entertainment chairman.

"The Sergeant" will be shown today in Science Building Auditorium II.

"Bonnie and Clyde" will be shown April 1, also in the auditorium.

Both films start at 8 p.m., and admission is 75 cents per person.

Returns From Successful Trip

Band Will Perform

The Pan American Concert Band, which has just returned from a tour of San Antonio high schools, will be presented in concert Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium. The group is under the direction of Dean Canty.

The concert will include repertoire selected from the band's tour program, covering a broad historical and stylistic period of three centuries of music written especially for band.

To be included on the program are "Two Napoleonic Marches," "Russian Sailor's Dance," "County Derry," "The Improvisator," and several contemporary compositions by Nelhybel, Hermann, Kechley and Delo Joio.

A fine arts department spokesman said that the band's tour was "most important for its ability to demonstrate high quality of musical instruction in the Valley from grade schools through the University. The quality of the band's performances has been the subject of a number of highly complimentary reports."

Will Appear In Local Production

Miss Julie Haydon, who will portray Amanda Wingfield, the mother, in the "The Glass Menagerie" has arrived to begin rehearsals. Others participating in the production, from left to right, are: Dr. J. G. Barefield, director of the play; Tim Staggs of McAllen who will play Tom Wingfield; Amanda's son, Julie Haydon; Sue Glenn of McAllen who will play Laura Wingfield, her daughter.

800 Request Grad Applications

Reservations to become students at Pan American University's new graduate school have been requested by more than 800 persons, according to Dr. Bill Reeves, acting dean for the program. The new graduate school is scheduled to open when school starts at the end of August.

Further information on the school is scheduled to go out from the office of Registrar John Hook to persons who have applied.

Masters degrees will be offered in several phases of education in the beginning. Degrees will be offered in secondary education, elementary education, counseling and guidance and in supervision. The latter two are further broken down into secondary and elementary, Dr. Reeves explained.

Students may be admitted to the graduate program without being admitted to candidacy for a master's degree. To gain admission, a student must get written approval from the head of the department in which he wished to major before he can become a candidate for the degree. Qualified students who are not working for a degree must have a plan of study approved by their graduate advisor.

As in most graduate schools, only six hours of credit from other institutions may be transferred to Pan Am and this only with the approval of the head of the major department.

Students getting the master of education in the field approved may minor in English, mathematics, history, Spanish, biology or physical education.

The graduate council, which is working on various requirements for students, has recommended that a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record

Examination be required. This test is required by most graduate schools. Undergraduate grades, including stress on those in the student's major, also will be considered for admission.

At the time Pan Am was approved for installation of the new program, the Coordinating Board was told that the university furnishes 60 per cent of the teachers in the Rio Grande Valley "and these account for most of the continued pattern of educational growth within the area."

Interviewers Announced

A total of 22 school districts will interview prospective certified teachers during the last week of March and the entire month of April. Any senior planning to be a certified teacher by August who is interested in a possible teaching position with any of the school districts, should contact the office of placement in the College Center immediately, said Glynn Morgan, director of placement.

Nine Straight Games

Bronc Nine Keeps Winning

While most of the Pan Am student body was enjoying the semester break, the Bronc baseball team also had a good time, winning nine games in a row.

Taking three victories on the road and six at home, the Broncs upped their season record to an impressive 22-3. Last Friday and Saturday the Trinity Tigers came to Edinburg with the winningest percentage in Texas college baseball. They left "Bronc Country", without being able to make that claim.

Saturday, pitcher Lupe Salinas won his sixth straight game, 2-1. Giving up only seven hits, to the Tigers Salinas allowed one run to be scored, and that was unearned.

Shortstop Jesse Banda knocked in the Bronc's two runs with his first homer of the season. The hit cleared the 350 feet mark in left-field. James Tyrone's 11 game hitting string and Willie Gawlik's 10 game hitting string were both broken by Trinity's fine pitching staff. The Broncs were out-hit in the game 7 to 3.

In the first game of the series with Trinity, Friday, Gary Doyle struck-out 14 batters and allowed only one run in winning his third game of the season. Doyle was coasting with a five-hit shutout going into the ninth when Trinity's second baseman A.C. Frese spoiled it by hitting a homer to tie the game.
