Dr. T. A. Distler's Speech To Highlight Seventy-seventh Annual Commencement

Rev. Wm. R. Shaffer to Preach at Baccalaureate Service Sunday

by Nancy Twining '48

Outdoors, on the athletic field, weather permitting, one hundred and forty-five undergraduates will join the ranks of Ursinus alumni this year at the seventy-seventh annual commencement exercises on Monday, June 9, at 11:00 a. m. Dr. Theodore A. Distler, president of Franklin and Marshall College, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Distler is a graduate of New York University and was dean of Lafayette College before his appointment as president of Franklin and Marshall College in 1941.

The commencement will culminate a week-end of activities here on campus which will start Friday afternoon when the Ursinus Women's Club will meet and have its annual dinner in Freeland Hall.

Saturday is Alumni Day, with class reunions throughout the day. There will be a buffet luncheon on campus at 12:30, and at 2:00 p. m. the annual meeting of the Alumni Association is scheduled. Later in the afternoon President and Mrs. McClure will hold a reception for alumni and seniors in the library.

After the alumni supper on campus, the activities of the day will conclude with an alumni dance in the gymnasium at 8:30 p. m.

On Sunday, June 8, at 10:45 a. m., the Reverend William R. Shaffer of the Faith Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia, will preach the sermon at the Baccalaureate Service in Bomberger Hall. Then, on Monday, the seniors will officially be made graduates of Ursinus College. Of the hundred and forty-five graduating, seventy-six will be recipients of Bachelor of Science degrees, while the remaining sixty-nine will be presented with the Bachelor of Arts degree. The college is awarding Dr. Distler an honorary Doctor of Law degree. The Reverend William R. Shaffer, Ursinus '23, and the Reverend Cyrus T. Glessner, recently re-elected president of the Philadelphia Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be presented with honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity during the commencement exercises.

Dr. Russell Sturgis, head of the Academic Council, will decide at 9:30 on Monday morning whether the commencement shall be outside or not. In the event of bad weather, the exercises will take place in Bomberger Hall.

'Holiday' Runs Pa.-Dutch Article

The current issue of Holiday magazine, which made its appearance on the newsstands on Wednesday, features a splendid article on the Pennsylvania Dutch. Treating the customs and mores of these industrious folk in a lavish display of photos, the piece, written by Frederic Klees, should be of particular interest to the many Ursinus students of Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry.

Numerous references and photos concern towns and places in the vicinity of Collegeville.

Negro Recital Ends Varied Y Programs Presented in '46-'47

On Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall, the negro choir from Cheyney State Teachers College gave a recital. This program was sponsored by the Ursinus YM-YWCA with Barbara Deitz '48, acting as chairman. Before the choir sang, Dr. Leslie P. Hill, director of the choir and president of the college, gave a short talk on the purpose of the recitals given by his group in various schools, colleges, etc. He said that these young people are anxious to widen their horizons and their circle of friends by touring many places and meeting all types of people. He feels that music is the best agent to use in bridging the gap that exists between different groups, and that it helps to do away with prejudices much more effectively than any amount of argument or discussion. Music is the only universal language understood by all, and the only thing that really lasts.

To start the musical part of the program, the choir sang three songs of the spring season—one on May, one on the night, and another on trees. These were followed by a folk song, "No, John, No." Next, there was a recitation by an attractive girl member of the choir of a poem written by Dr. Hill. It was an impressive prayer for brotherhood in the future. Three negro spirituals followed: "When I Die," "Let Us Bow Down Together," and "A Witness for My Lord." Concluding the program was a negro anthem, "O Holy Lord" followed by a Christian anthem, "Praise the Lord."

In a short interview with Dr. Hill, it was learned that he has been directing the choir for about twelve years. There have always been between 35 and 50 members, but now the figure must be kept down, due to transportation problems. The group recently made a trip through much of New England and made many new friends. On May 16, the choir sang at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia and was honored with the Award of Merit by the Cultural Olympics sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Hill plans to continue this good will work of his, for he feels, as many others do, that it has been very successful.

A. IVINS CHOSEN ROSICRUCIAN PRESIDENT AT FINAL MEETING

Anna Ivins '48, chemistry major, was elected president of the Rosicrucians last week after the informal reception for temporary members. Anna succeeds Janice Wenkenbach who will graduate in June. Succeeding Katherine Esterly '47 as secretary will be Anita Mann '48, a chemistry major. Dorothy Marple '48, will continue as treasurer until next fall when a new one will be elected after the induction of new members into the group.

The Rosicrucians, founded and sponsored by Dr. Elizabeth B. White, professor of history, is an honorary society for Ursinus women who have attained an average of 87.5 for four semesters. Until each woman student holds an 87.5 average for the required number of semesters, she is considered a temporary member of the group.

As in former years, the Rosicrucians will again give a prize to the freshman woman holding the highest average at the end of the semester. This prize will be awarded at commencement.

WAA Names M. Bosler H. Anderson, E. Moyer As Top Junior Athletes

Hilda Anderson '48, Marian Bosler '48, and Evelyn Moyer '48, were named the outstanding junior athletes by the Women's Athletic Association at that organization's annual banquet, which took place Thursday in Freeland dining room. The girls were selected on the basis of their general character, sportsmanship, and leadership, as well as their athletic ability. All three participated actively in several varsity sports.

Hilda, who won an All-College rating in hockey this year, also played on the basketball and softball squads, was assistant swimming manager, is senior representative on the WAA, and treasurer of Phi Alpha Psi sorority.

A physical education major, Marian is a member of the golf, swimming, varsity hockey and softball teams, is Day Study representative on the WSGA, a member of Phi Alpha Psi sorority, and newly-elected president of the WAA for the coming year.

Evelyn presides over the hall presidents, is a member of the French Club and Kappa Delta

Hobo Hop Attracts Enthusiastic Crowd

A host of tramps and their dainty maids attended a gala ball in their honor Saturday night. The "Hobo Hop," sponsored by the Ruby marked the last dance of the year.

From 7:30 until 10:30, the disreputable partyites shuffled and swayed to delightful "canned music" supplied by Bill Mitchell '48. At 9:00 the guests squatted Indian style on the floor to be entertained by the inimitable Glenwood Quartet who introduced a new arrangement of "Moses" by Ken Schroeder '48. Following several other request numbers by the quartet, Barbara Leon '50 offered a slightly confused, but amusing monologue. The Andrews Sisters cleverly interpreted by Jeanne Loomis '47, Milly Wilson '47, and Jackie Landis '47, sang "Massachusetts" and "Here Comes the Navy" much to the delight of the audience.

After the entertainment, door prizes were issued. The lucky recipients of two chocolate cakes were Wally Ort '48 and George Doobinin '50. Reid Porter '50 and Mary Anne Ballantyne '48, were the winners of a special "spot number" and received three passes to a Norristown bowling alley.

K. Kron Voted Pre-Med President

In a special all-day voting session held on Friday, Kenneth Kron '48, was elected to serve as president of the James M. Anders Pre-Medical Society for the 1947-48 school year. Ken entered Ursinus in the fall of 1943 as a Chem-Bi major. He left for a year to serve in the army as a medical lab technician and returned to school in March of this year. He's a member of Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity and one of the most popular lab assistants working for Dr. Paul Wagner, associate professor of biology.

Jacqueline Klein '49 was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. She's a member of Omega Chi sorority, Rosicrucians, and was recently chosen president of South Hall for next year.

Students Hear Romeo and Juliet

A small group of students gathered in the music room of the library Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. to listen to the weekly program of classical records. The programs under the direction of Amy Neznok are informal affairs with students coming and going at leisure.

This week the program included "Romeo and Juliet," Prokofiev's Classical Symphony, and Beethoven's Seventh Symphony. The last of the programs is scheduled for Tuesday evening at 6:30. If you have a few extra minutes drop into the music room of the library and relax.

Alumni Form Washington Unit

A new branch of the Ursinus College Alumni Association has been officially established for the District of Columbia and nearby areas of Maryland and Virginia.

To be known as the Washington, D. C. chapter, the organization elected the following officers on Friday:

President, Joseph A. Armento '28; vice-president, Kermit B. Mohn '33; secretary-treasurer, Joseph G. Dubuque '41.

Gym to be Completed Within Three Months; Construction Has Begun

For the past several weeks building material has been arriving on the Ursinus College campus for the purpose of erecting a gymnasium and physical health building to lessen the burden on the already overcrowded Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

The new gymnasium, which will be situated immediately northeast of the tennis courts between the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium and the courts, will be parallel to the last court. It will cover a space of approximately 124 feet by 88 feet and will provide a large amount of space for recreational purposes. The present plans call for shower and locker rooms and a large amount of storage space. The seating capacity will be 800 persons. The basketball floor is of maple wood construction with a playing area of 95 feet by 55 feet.

Exterior features of the new gymnasium include a concrete foundation and frame construction.

The new edifice formerly served as a gym at Camp Patrick Henry in Virginia during the war. The John A. Robbins Company, Inc., of Philadelphia, has contracted to do the construction work under the supervision of Mr. George Ewing, the college architect.

The Committee on Buildings and Grounds has been working in close cooperation with Dr. James M. Niblo, the chairman, Mr. Ewing and the Federal Works Agency engineers to consummate the donation. The contract calls for the expense of the re-erection to be borne by the government. The College, however, will add a substantial sum in order to make it more adaptable to the special purposes for which the College intends to use it. Negotiations for the construction of the building have been going on between Ursinus and the government for a period of six months.

The contracting company began construction work on Monday, May 19. Barring labor difficulties, the new building should be completed by the middle of August, in sufficient time for use by the students

M. SARE TO HEAD ALPHA PSI; SIX NEW MEMBERS INITIATED

Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, wrote finis to its 1947 season on Sunday evening, May 18, with an initiation of six new members. Those honored were Marjorie Coy '47, Bill Lambie '47, Marion Bell '48, Dean Evans '48, Nelson Yeakel '48, and Harold Grossman '49.

Following the initiation ceremony President Andrew Souerwine conducted the election of new officers.

Ronnie Sare '48, was unanimously elected president for the coming year. Ronnie deserves much credit for her many dramatic performances since her arrival at Ursinus. She has proven her ability as a director as well by her part in the direction of the past two operettas.

Marian Bell '48, one of the newly-initiated members, was elected secretary.

Winfield Atkinson, always reliable and on hand for the staging of all Ursinus' dramatic productions is the new stage manager.

Sweaters and Letters Presented At Revival of Pre-War Ceremony

Spring Mountain House in Schwenksville was the site of the Varsity Club's first post-war banquet, held on Wednesday evening. Every year Ursinus athletes are feted in this fashion, and the 1947 affair proved to be both interesting and enjoyable.

Heading the list of speakers was Mr. Walter Douthett, chairman of the athletic committee, who pointed out that the majority of successful business men were erstwhile college sports stars.

Mr. Everett M. Bailey, the school's athletic director, outlined the policies and program of the athletic board. He cited the new gymnasium, now under construction, the return of wrestling as a varsity sport, the institution of a junior varsity basketball league, and the Ursinus entrance in a 1948 football conference, as evidences of the progressive moves made by the committee. An attempt to schedule eight football games in 1948, instead of the usual seven, will be made; two additional basketball games will be added for this year's court aggregation. These matches will be run off in December, thus opening the hoop season four weeks earlier than has been the custom.

The Ursinus policy regarding injuries, awards, eligibility, and athletic scholarships was clearly defined. No freshman rule will be observed for the next few years.

Lantern Will Include Increased Material

Content for the new Lantern is probably the finest ever to appear in the publication. Fiction, poetry, humor, and faculty opinion on pertinent topics are represented.

Time and expense have temporarily delayed the Lantern's plan for a change in size and format. The commencement issue, however, will have a change of content display, designed to, first, permit the use of more material submitted, and secondly, improve the physical appearance of the magazine.

Contents you won't want to miss: "Mild and Bitters," a tale with a setting in one of London's most unique pubs—and with a surprise ending; "The Child April," beautiful, moving presentation of a child doomed to loneliness; "So You Want Security" a slap in the face to those who are screaming for somebody to do something for them; and many more that will guarantee your reading time well spent.

Debating Club Elects Officers; Dorothy Dean Chosen President

At the annual Debating Club banquet held on Monday evening at the Commercial Hotel, Dorothy Arden Dean '49, was elected President for 1947-48, and Dean Evans '48, was re-elected manager. Other new officers include Doris Dalby '50, Secretary; and Robert McKee '49, publicity manager.

Dorothy Arden is a political science major, while Evans is in the history-social science group and is the next president of the FTA. Doris Dalby is a member of the college choir and the Meistersingers, while McKee is a history-social science major.

Guest speakers for the evening included Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong, professor of history and sponsor of the Debating Club; Dr. Elizabeth B. White, professor of history and sponsor of the local chapter of the National Debating Fraternity, Tau Kappa Alpha; Andrew Souerwine, local president of TKA; and Rev. Charles C. Wallick, who accompanied the Ursinus debating team to the Benjamin Franklin Debating Conference tournament at Princeton last month. Mr. Wallick spoke briefly on the tournament results. Grace Neuman '48, out-going president of the club, acted as toastmaster and presided at the business meeting.

Commendation

A source of never-ending amusement to us during our service days was the vehement manner in which the men belabored the cooks and the food they turned out. Strangely enough, the most blatant critics were invariably stationed at the head of every chow-line and were consistently good for two or three servings of everything available. This army paradox has its counterpart right here at Ursinus.

Since Mr. Morrison assumed his duties as steward last year, he has encountered no dearth of fault-finders; the hue and cry went up almost instantly, although few took cognizance of the facts that Mr. Morrison had a budget to meet, that food prices had sky-rocketed, and that numerous strikes of one kind or another had taken their toll in the edibles line, resulting in the disappearance from the market of this commodity or that. Nonetheless, the malcontents, as per the analogy cited above, never permitted themselves to be tardy for a meal, and never hesitated to devour everything in sight save the tableclothes.

Now the idea of satisfying the diverse tastes on nine hundred people at every meal is utterly beyond the scope of any human being. But Mr. Morrison has presented sufficient variety in his menus to satiate the wants of any gourmet, provided he takes into consideration the fact that he is not dining at the Waldorf-Astoria.

In contrasting the culinary achievements of Mr. Morrison with those of his predecessors, an informal poll taken among students who dined here as far back as 1940 and '41 revealed that all agreed that Mr. Morrison had turned in the best job.

What impresses us most about the genial Celt is the indefatigable way in which he has striven to please the students. The man certainly rates an "A" for effort.

All in all, we feel that the sentiments of the great majority of the student body are being echoed when we say, "Fine job, Mr. Morrison."

On Sports and Bus-Rides

If there exists anyone on campus who is uncertain of our policy anent sports, let his doubts be dissolved now. We shall always "push" a vigorous program where athletics are concerned; this implies a generous coverage of sports news and the maintenance of a more than passing interest in the athletic policies here.

At the recent Varsity Club banquet, the statement of policy offered by Mr. Everett Bailey, athletic director, spoke well for the sports situation. The question and answer period, New England town-meeting style, which followed Mr. Bailey's outline, cleared up several moot points; should the few minor complaints that were registered be handled efficaciously, there remains little to criticize and much to commend in the athletic board's list of agenda.

However, one point worthy of consideration here concerns overnight trips for Ursinus teams. If one of our clubs is slated to play Juniata, for example, which is located in Huntingdon, Pa., 190 miles distant, a gruelling round-trip bus-ride crammed into the same day in which the event is scheduled does little to stimulate the athletes' morale or ability.

An over-night trip is the only solution to this problem, and similar ones encountered. Harking back to Juniata College, last fall, the football

AT THE LIBRARY

Here amid these volumes,
Unlimited knowledge hides,
Shelves on shelves, well filled,
Extend around all sides.

Many gather nightly,
To gain what e'er they can,
All the wealth that's there
Is free to any man.

They do their daily work,
But let this wealth pass by;
To gain more understanding,
Most men will never try.

Now delve amid this knowledge!
Expand your inner self—
Your life is getting shorter;
Your future's on the shelf.

—Arnold J. Mitchell '50

team representing that institution invaded Collegeville for a Saturday clash. Their squad left Huntingdon on Friday afternoon, billets having been secured for a Friday night stay in Reading. Now if Juniata teams make the Collegeville jaunt an over-night trip, why shouldn't the reverse apply?

Putting it in a nutshell, we'd like to see these all-day bus-rides abolished. Such a move would certainly engender an improved spirit in the sports participants.

Students May Observe
Unique Bio Specimens

by John Burton '49

Spring sent us out into the campus to collect a few specimens of wild life with which our readers may or may not be familiar and we have recorded some of our discoveries just in case anyone is interested. There was a profusion of material fairly clamoring to be included but we have limited ourselves to a superficial study of only two familiar types that represent opposite extremes of the animal kingdom: The campus bella and the Sub libris or common bookworm. Please bear with us if some of our terms are a little unorthodox—we found the biology department singularly uncooperative.

The campus bella is unique in many respects. It has, as a natural habitat, the Supply Store and may be observed there at any hour of the day. The instincts of this fascinating creature are too varied for inclusion here, ranging all the way from the primitive to the semi-barbaric. There are, however, a few characteristics worthy of mention that distinguish this particular breed from all others. The campus bella has an aversion to all things scholastic and would rather be expelled from college than found with an open book. Its appearance may best be described as progressively worse although under certain conditions it has been known to be presentable and even to arouse some of the more susceptible males on the campus!

For some unknown reason the common bookworm has become almost extinct in this area. Indeed, if all the examples of this specimen were to be laid end to end they would not even reach from the "B" List to the Dean's List. Many theories have been advanced to explain this phenomena but all of them are ridiculous and we feel confident that there must be some logical explanation. At present the grim fact facing us is that unless counter measures are taken to halt this descent the bookworm will soon become another missing link in the chain of evolution.

Next week, weather and editor permitting, we will discuss the campus bella in greater detail. Contributions will be greatly appreciated and should be turned over to the Weekly Science Department not later than Friday, May 30. (One at a time, please!)

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:
Notice, eloquent in its silent delivery, has been served that freshmen customs must be abolished.

When a meeting was called to elect a Men's Soph Rules Committee, no one appeared. At a second called meeting only six were present. We cannot attribute this small attendance to apathy. Other meetings are well attended. We must assume, rather, that the great majority of men students are opposed to customs. Since our student government is a democracy, the will of the students must prevail; therefore, freshmen customs must not be permitted to function on this campus.

—J. Richard Carson '50

To the Editor:
The last several weeks have been very busy ones for us. The succession of events culminated this past week in a personal appearance before the Philadelphia Chapter of the University Glee Club, personal interviews on the "Musical Clock" program, and an appearance on the KYW "Lunchtimers" program. It is our firm belief that the interest and loyal support shown by friends on and off campus will have been largely responsible for any success we may attain.

Gratefully yours,

On the Shelves

by Charles Williamson '50

In our time novels without number have been written about a central figure—the author himself—with the supernumerary characters passing like shadows on a screen! This was the pattern for the long procession of autobiographical first novels which was passing by all through the Thirties. One reason for the revival of interest in the historical novel was that it released its author from self-contemplation and made it possible for him to focus his creative energy on bringing to life a group of people who bore no relation to himself. Readers had grown tired of being dragged by the heels through the tortuous mazes of the novelist's own unconscious self. They wanted, when they opened a book, to meet somebody else besides the author, wearing a thin disguise. Or if not the author, his mother, who had mastered his emergent manhood under her possessive affection; or his father, who had savagely blunted the edge of his self-expression.

But in any school of writing there are exceptions. Such an exception is Thomas Wolfe, and now only eight years after his untimely death his efforts stand alone as the epitome of autobiographical fiction; in fact, it is his voice of all contemporary writers which seems most endowed with the prophetic Ethos and poetic Pathos of the true genius. In his posthumous novel, You Can't Go Home Again, he is involved in the super-human task of continuously transmuting the reality of his life into the higher reality of art. With millions of words he painted, panel by panel, the enormous panorama of his life. The result is rich in vivid characters, exciting situations, and artistic objectivity — a book that advances from exalted, rhapsodic lyricism and youthful turmoil and ecstasy to manly composure and profound ethical awareness. It's a novel well worth your attention this summer. Try it; you won't be disappointed!

Another bit of writing for summer reading is the final collection of tales and stories by the late Alexander Woolcott, Long, Long Ago, published in the fall of 1943. If you laughed with Sheridan Whiteside, "The Man," in the recent Curtain Club production, then this is your book; for the author about whom the Kaufmann-Hart comedy was actually written showers his arrows in so many directions that it would be a stale critic indeed who could find no pleasure in this final assortment.

Sports Slants

by Roy Todd '49

As this is the final column of sports slants for the present semester, your writer would like to express to all of his readers many thanks for the words of encouragement passed on to him from time to time during the past few weeks. It is indeed gratifying to know that we have so many sports fans in the college, and next year our policy will definitely be to produce a larger and more complete sports page in every respect. Next year's sports staff is still in the embryonic stage of development, and while we have quite a few competent writers, we can always find room for more if there are any prospective John Kierans or Grantland Rices roaming the campus at present.

Here and There . . .

Congrats to Herb Schiller for his fine performance in the two mile event against Albright. The diminutive speedster, one of the "mitiest" athletes in the school, showed us that size was no handicap to him, as he bested the entire field in the gruelling long distance run on Tuesday.

Lou Graff and Lew Hatch bid fair to become future threats to Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, etc. This pair of Grizzly golfers have turned in some sparkling play on the links this spring, and have been the mainstays of Coach Charlie Steinmetz's golf team so far this season.

The Brodbeck Brewers turned the trick! Coach Wally Ort's softballers mowed down all opposition this season and wound up the campaign as undefeated champions of the Inter-mural softball circuit. Buckner, J. Dahlman, Thomas, Reinhart, L. Myers, et. al., deserve a lot of credit for their steady season-long play in copping the gonfalon.

Major League Briefs . . .

Handsome Harry Walker, slugging centerfielder of the Philadelphia Phils, has been causing a few campus lads many anxious moments of late with his sensational stickwork! The slender kid brother of Brooklyn's Dixie Walker seems to have caught fire since his recent trade from St. Louis to Philadelphia, and is currently pressing the .400 mark in the national loop averages.

Keep your glimmers peeled on catcher Hal Wagner, Detroit receiver, recently garnered from Boston in exchange for Birdie Tebbets. The astute backstop could well bring another pennant to the Motor City, as he will definitely fortify one of the pennant contending Detroit Tigers' glaring weak spots.

Diamond Dust . . .

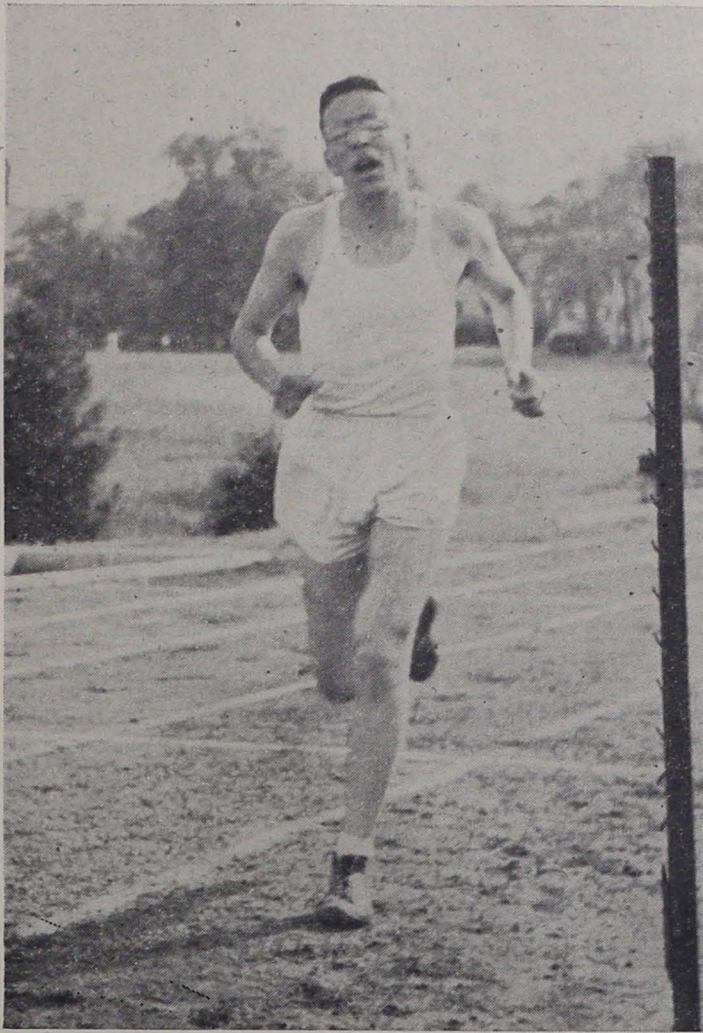

This year's edition of the Bruin nine contains many promising freshmen for the diamond mentors to count on in coming seasons. Among them, Dale White, left-handed hitting flychaser, Byrd Whitney, reserve shortstop, and Danny Draper, substitute backstop, bid fair to hit stardom in a year or two. Bob Gehman, another plebe, has already made his presence felt in the Ursinus lineup with several scintillating performances during the present campaign around the keystone sack, while Lefty Ron Landes has proven to be one of the mound stars of the Grizzly ball club. George Saurman, another frosh twirler, has also shown promise for future development on the hill.

Muhlenberg Game Cancelled

For the second time this season an Ursinus baseball game was wiped off the slate by Jupiter Pluvius. The scheduled tussle with Muhlenberg, originally carded for last Wednesday, was washed out by heavy showers Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. In all probability the game will not be played at all during this present campaign as the Bear baseball schedule contains no open dates.

Franklin and Marshall tangles with the Bruin nine on Tuesday in the final diamond clash of the season.

WEEKLY SPORTS

Outstanding event in Tuesday's track meet with Albright was Herb Schiller's win in the gruelling two-mile race. Schiller is shown here crossing the finish line after out-running the field of four Albright men.

Albright Cindermen Swamped, 79½-46½; Gurzynski Crew Nabs Ten First Places

by Rickey Reid '49

On Tuesday, Ursinus played host to the cindermen of Albright, and easily triumphed to the tune of 79½ to 46½. This was the final appearance of our local track team and they put on an excellent performance for the partisan crowd. For the first season in years, the Bears have sported a squad which has done more than get in the way of the other contestants. A great deal of praise is due coach Ray Gurzynski who has brought new life to Ursinus in track and field events.

Once again leading the local squad was George Kennedy who won both the shot-put and discus and also placed second in the javelin. Kennedy has been outstanding all season in these events and should certainly tumble a few records in his next two years. Bill Turner placed second in both hurdles and led the field in the pole vault. Dick Gradwohl captured the 220 and also placed in the 100 and 440.

Heed came through and nosed out Turner in the 120 high hurdles while Stevens, who has had some tough luck this season, also beat out Turner in the 220 lows. Elliot, Kropp, and Helmbreck all placed in that order in the broadjump, giving the Bears a clean sweep. In the high jump Reinhart and Fink battled each other for top honors—Reinhart finally getting the nod. Binder contributed a first in the 100 yard dash, while Shaw and Tori garnered a second and third in the mile.

KENNEDY STARS AGAIN

On Saturday, at Swarthmore, Ursinus came in fourth in a six-team meet. Swarthmore was tops with 53 5/6, St. Josephs and LaSalle tied at 24 1/6, Ursinus had 13, PMC 9½, and Drexel 7. George Kennedy captured firsts in the shotput and discus while Blydenburg was third in the discus. Rotwein was fourth in the javelin. Kennedy in registering 42 feet 4 inches, to win the shot-put, surpassed his previous record distance of 41 ft. 9½ inches.

The outstanding event of the meet, in the writer's opinion, was the two mile run, won by Herb Schiller. Schiller took the lead at the start and maintained it throughout the entire race. On the sixth lap he called to the coach that he couldn't run any further. On the seventh lap he passed the Albright man who eventually captured third place. As Schiller crossed the finish line he was only ten yards behind the Albright man who was eventually second. Thus it turned out that Herb was practically a full lap ahead of all five Albright entrants. Hats off to Schiller and three cheers for the first real track squad at Ursinus in years.

NEW GRID MENTOR ADDRESSES LARGE GROUP OF CANDIDATES

Mr. Wieneke, head football coach at Ursinus next year, had a meeting of all prospective football players in Bomberger Hall Thursday afternoon. It was a short meeting in which Mr. Wieneke impressed the gridiron men as a coach who will fight hard for every game. He stated that he was in full accord with the school's policies on athletics and stressed for next fall a spirit of cooperation, a will to win, and lots of hard work.

Football practice next season will be called before school opens—on September 15. Until classes start there will be two practice sessions a day.

Mr. Wieneke will probably use either a single or double wing formation, but will not make a definite decision until the players are seen on the field, and have had some workouts under their belts.

Tennis Team Trounces Tribe Racquetmen, 8-1; Loses to Swarthmore

In their final match of the 1947 season, the Grizzly racquetmen chalked up a sensational 8-1 win over Juniata on the latter's courts on Saturday afternoon. On the rebound after a shellacking by Swarthmore earlier in the week, Chaplain Wallick's charges turned in a scintillating performance in besting the Indian tennis team by such a wide margin.

The Bear netmen copped five out of six singles matches and made a clean sweep of the three doubles duels to account for the victory. Stan McCausland, Frank Roncase, Bill Miksch, Ray James, and John Vance chalked up wins in singles competition while Joe Jones dropped a hard-fought match to his opponent by a 6-3, 7-5 count. In doubles play McCausland teamed with Roncase to account for the first Bear victory, while James and Miksch, and Jones and Vance, followed suit with two more Bruin triumphs.

Despite a five-hour bus ride and an unusually hot afternoon, the Grizzlies turned in perhaps their finest performance of the campaign.

Singles: McCausland 6-3, 5-7, 6-2; Roncase 2-6, 6-4, 6-3; Miksch 6-2, 6-1; James 6-2, 6-2; Vance 6-1, 7-5; Jones 3-6, 5-7 (loss).

Doubles: McCausland & Roncase 6-4, 6-2; James & Miksch 6-3, 6-2; Jones & Vance 6-3, 6-2.

On Monday Swarthmore College's high flying tennis team handed the Bears another defeat as they took honors in every match to emerge triumphant by a 9-0 tally. Sweeping all six singles' matches as well as the three doubles' clashes, the Garnet proved a bit too classy for the proteges of Coach Wallick.

Summary:

Singles

McCausland vs. Bodinger, Swarthmore 6-13, 6-2.

Roncase vs. Frankel Swarthmore 6-0, 6-1.

Miksch vs. Kirschener, Swarthmore 6-0, 6-1.

James vs. Shane, Swarthmore 6-0, 6-1.

ERMA KEYES ONE-HITTER TOPS GARNET FOR FIFTH STRAIGHT

The heretofore undefeated Swarthmore softball team suffered their first setback of the year last Wednesday at the hands of Ursinus by a 9-1 score. The Collegeville girls who have been defeated only once in all the years they have been in softball competition made this their fifth straight victory of the season.

Hurler Erma Keyes, pitted against Swarthmore's veteran twirler, Amy Roosevelt, was, as usual, in fine form, giving up only one hit compared to the fourteen given up by her opponent.

The Ursinus infield, sparked by second-sacker Sis Bosler, turned in a classy performance.

Beurette Golfers Finish Season

With victories in their last two encounters of the year, the women golfers finished off with a .750 average in their first season of collegiate competition.

Playing on their home course at Plymouth, the Collegeville coeds came up with their initial win of the week last Tuesday over Temple, 5-0.

Then on Wednesday, they did a repeat performance against Penn at St. Martin's Cricket Club and came out on the long end of a 4-1 score. Faith Taylor in her first match of the year really clinched the affair for the Bruin club-wielders. After tying her opponent

Juniata Rips Bears; Five Miscues Cost Landes Pitching Win

The Bear nine suffered its second successive defeat on Saturday when it succumbed to Juniata at Huntingdon, Pa., by an 8-3 count. The game marked the first time this season that the Bruins have dropped two in a row, and now gives them a record of six wins in ten starts.

Ron Landes took the mound for the charges of Pancoast and Dennis, and with a little better luck might have chalked up a win instead of a loss. The capable port-sider held the highly touted Indians, victors over Pitt in an early season tilt, to eight hits, but five errors behind him, and a couple of unfortunate breaks put him in numerous holes, causing his downfall.

Bob Gehman, sparkling second sacker, and Archie Simons, occupying the hot corner for the first time this season, paced the Ursinus stickmen with a pair of base-knocks apiece, while Seth Bakes contributed with a mighty triple in the fourth frame, the longest blow of the contest. John Snyder's hitting streak came to an end in this tussle at the hands of Juniata twirler, Kiper. The rangy first sacker, after hitting safely in nine straight tussles went 0 for 3, although hitting the ball solidly twice.

The infield play of the Bears once again left lots to be desired, although undoubtedly the five hour bus ride to Huntingdon, Pa., left the Grizzlies feeling a bit travel weary and not exactly at their peak for the tussle.

OWLETTES CRUSH BEAR COEDS IN RETURN NET ENGAGEMENT

By emerging on the short end of a 4-1 score on Monday in their second match of the season against Temple, the Ursinus racquet-wielders evened up their record for the season.

Playing hard tennis all through the match the Ursinus squad still was unable to put on enough pressure to win. Captain Jackie Landis, the first victim, was taken over by the Owl's ace Sara Muehlbach, 6-1, 6-3. Coming through with the only win scored by coach Hoge-land's proteges, second singles Emily Fisher shellacked her opponent 6-2, 6-4.

Anita Frick, playing in the number three slot in the absence of Jane Brusch, after losing the first set, extended Temple's Barbara Smith by taking the second 6-2. Smith, then hit her stride again and took the last set and the match.

Both the doubles combinations ran into Temple trouble. The top ranking duo of Eddy Daniels and Manny Ballantyne were nosed out 7-5, 6-4, while Mag Schafenacker and D. J. Hobensack, after holding out for three sets, finally fell to the Philadelphia twosome 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

at the end of nine holes, she annexed the deciding tenth hole to take the match. Floy Lewis, Sis Bosler, and Allie Godfrey supplied the other wins.

The golfers are planning a post-season jaunt to the Intercollegiate matches to be held on June 17.

Cricket Team Stunned by 'Fords In Match at Victors' Grounds

On Friday afternoon, the Ursinus Cricket team in their initial tussle of the season dropped a 44-19 verdict to Haverford on the latter's field. The Fords went to bat first, and led by their star, Post, who garnered nineteen runs, went on to tally forty-four markers off Bear bowlers, Baker and Mitchell. The Grizzlies batted after the supper interval and led by Dr. Baker, who chalked up twelve markers, notched a total of nineteen runs for the match.

Varsity Club Banquet

Mr. Bailey answered various questions submitted at random from the group.

The letter-winners also heard Dr. Maurice Bone, professor of economics, and member of the athletic committee, who stressed the need for constructive criticism and fewer gripes which accomplish little.

Track coach Ray Gurzynski and baseball coaches, Dr. Foster Dennis and Mr. G. Seiber Pancoast commented briefly. Mr. Gerald Seeders, Dr. Donald Baker, and Chaplain Charles C. Wallick, basketball, soccer, and tennis mentors, respectively, were in attendance.

Mr. Kuhrt Wieneke, new football mentor, was formally presented to the club by Seth Bakes '48, Varsity Club president and toastmaster for the evening. Mr. Wieneke ventured out on the proverbial limb and predicted a successful 1947 grid season.

The banquet closed with the presentation of sweaters and letter awards by the coaches and Mr. Douthett.
