Tuition Increase Slated For Fall Quarter 1971

Vets State Convention

BLOOMINGTON-NORMAL, ILL. - The Illinois Federation of Veterans in College is launching a drive to organize veterans clubs in Illinois' junior and senior colleges, according to Ted Roels, a graduate student at Illinois State University, president of the statewide organization.

Twenty-three colleges and universities in Illinois have clubs affiliated with the state group, according to Phillip Rog, another ISU student who is serving as publicity chairman. Other officers are Doug Ledford of Highland Community College, Freeport, vice president; Ron Ellett, Illinois State, secretary, and Norm Peterson, Rock Valley College, treasurer.

In addition to the 23 affiliated clubs, groups of veterans in six other schools have indicated interest in joining the state organization and some were represented at the meeting in Rockford.

IFVC, which now is five years old, encourages veterans to return to college, works to see that they obtain Illinois military scholarships and receive all veterans' benefits, that all avenues of private and public education are open to them, and that all receive equal treatment. The organization has representation in Washington.

The organization is working to increase educational benefits for men who are disabled. It also is seeking a veterans' adviser placed on each campus in the state through the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

In another area of interest, the state organization hopes to establish a program of sports activities among the individual clubs on a regional basis in the state.

To encourage colleges and universities to assist veterans, IFVC has a traveling trophy it awards to the school judged to be doing the most for its veteran students. The University of Illinois was awarded the trophy at the Rockford convention.

Veterans groups interested in affiliating with IFVC may contact Roels by writing him at Box V, Illinois State University, Normal. He says the organization is particularly interested in getting junior colleges into a more active role in the organization since they have a high percentage of veterans among their students.

Schools at which clubs already are in IFVC are Illinois State, Western Illinois, Eastern Illinois, Southern Illinois, University of Illinois, Rock Valley, Elgin, Illinois Valley, Illinois Central, Wright in Chicago, Chicago Central YMCA, McHenry County, Millikin, Robert Morris, Triton, Northern Illinois, DuPage, Thornton, Highland, Logan, Moraine Valley, Parkland and Wabash Valley.

Groups of veterans have indicated their interest in the IFVC at the U. of I. - Chicago Circle, Joliet, Rend Lake, Spoon River, Danville and Kishwaukee Colleges.

Staerkel Says Inflation Raises College Expense

by Bruce Murray

The Parkland College Board of Directors voted unanimously in the regular December meeting to enact a tuition increase beginning the fall quarter 1971.

After lengthy discussion the board voted to raise the tuition from the present $5.50 per quarter hour to $7.50 per quarter hour. The action was taken as a result of several needs, the Board related. The main cause for the increase is inflation, said Parkland president William M. Staerkel.

Also included in the students' cost for future years, will be a 25 cent per quarter hour registration fee. Staerkel said the registration fee is needed to pay for extra clerical help, registration line workers, and for overtime payment of regular staff members during registration.

Next year the total cost per quarter hour for each student will be $8.25. This includes the $7.50 for tuition, 25 cents registration fee and 50 cent activity fee. Therefore, one four hour course will cost $33.00 as compared to $24.00 this year. A student taking 12 hours will pay $99.00 as compared to $72.00 this year. Full time students carrying 17 hours will pay $140.25 compared to $102.00 this year.

When Staerkel was asked how the increase would affect most of the students, he said that "tuition increases will not affect many Parkland students at all." He went on to say that Parkland has many veterans who are on the GI bill or state grants.

According to Mrs. Dorothy Lipkin, PC Director of Veteran's Affairs, in the Fall Quarter 311 men were at Parkland on the GI Bill, 271 were here on Illinois State Grants, 62 were here as Veteran's dependents, there were six war widows, and two war orphans, making a total of 651. Out of a total fall quarter enrollment of 3,667 this would leave 3,061 students to pay for their own education.

Staerkel did say, however, that "we are trying to compensate by increasing our student aid program substantially. We plan to do everything we can to minimize the impact on those students who would feel it most."

Board member C. W. Barnes from Monticello said, "it is regrettable that we have to raise tuition, but the facts of life must be faced."

In other action, the board reviewed some financial transactions which included the sale of 2.5 million dollars of the authorized bonds. They also agreed to sell the remaining $5 million worth of bonds around February 3. Staerkel related to the board that "it is indicated that we sell the bonds now. Regardless of the market, we have to sell our bonds because we need the money."

Financial Outlook Is Bleak

by Patric Warnock

The outlook for financial aids for the winter and spring quarter at Parkland is bleak to say the best about the situation, there are no funds available, Mr. Gunji, head of the financial aids office, said, "There are four to five times more applicants than money available."

Some Money Left

There is some EOG, NDEA money left though. The year started with $80,000 and now there is about $10,000 left. At that rate there will be no money at all by spring break, only short term loans will be available.

The college work study program doesn't look too promising either. There has been a push for local agencies to pick up some of the CWS people. Groups such as the Boys Club, YMCA, and others have been canvassed. There will be very few jobs at the college though.

Money Not Easy

With tuition increases at the state universities the Illinois State Scholarship Committee promised $5 million more. This should alleviate the increases somewhat. There has been talk also of increasing tuition at Parkland next fall from six to about eight dollars per hour.

The guaranteed bank loans are hard to judge. Small banks not in Champaign County seem to have funds available. Decatur Banks have money which seems to reflect that city's nature of having few fixed incomes compared to Champaign-Urbana's position, with the U of I, of having many fixed incomes.

Private vs PUBLIC Schools

Aid in private schools is easier to get than in public ones because of richer alumni. Proportionably, students in private colleges are receiving aid. This has been a hassle between private and state schools. Taxpayers support public institutions who charge lower tuition and then private schools get zapped with the total load of supporting themselves by higher tuition and contributions.

Private schools contend they provide just as good if not a better education than public ones, but private ones get the total burden or providing capital.

Vets Have Used Book Store

For the second consecutive quarter, the Parkland Veterans Association has been successful with its used book store. Having been pioneered in the Fall Quarter 1970, the Used Book Exchange provides a long needed service at Parkland College. The purpose of the store is to provide a convenient way for students to buy and sell used books each quarter.

Students wishing to sell books, set their price, and then sign a release of responsibility of the vets. If your book is sold, you receive the price of your book minus ten percent, which goes to the vets club.

Even with such a shallow background, the used book store has earned its reputation for fast sales, and fantastic savings. With this growing popularity, more and more people will surely be taking advantage of its benefits during the next registration. With this increasing patronage, the opportunity to buy and sell used books will become much easier and the system more efficient.

When asked about the growing importance of the Used Book Exchange, chairman Tom Krall stressed, "The book store is operated solely for the convenience of the students, so use it!"

Do We Still Have Freedom Of The Press?

by BRUCE MURRAY

During the past few weeks there has been considerable discussion about our newspaper. The controversy, it seems, stems from the November 13 issue which contained a letter entitled "The Abortion Procedure" and a cartoon which had a caption "Oh Mother . . . Cut It Out!" In this column I hope to clear up some of the controversy revolving around these two points of (dis) interest.

In the December 4 issues of the PROSPECTUS appeared a letter from Mr. Cyrus Rohrer, who strongly disagreed with the abortion article and thought the cartoon was in poor taste. His letter said in part: "If this paper is of real interest and value to students of Parkland College it, no doubt, finds its way into homes -- good homes -- where the families have some standards of good taste."

The cartoon was drawn so the imagination of the individual reader could form any opinion wanted. Because the cartoon showed a man and woman in bed, many people have read sexual connotations into it.

The idea behind the cartoon was to express the idea of "mother dominance." It depicted how a person could be completely overruled by a forceful, overbearing mother. Besides, how many of you ever slept with your mother when you were a child?

Another idea about its meaning was that someone thought it was a dig on Women's Lib, depicting a woman assuming a more aggressive role. As you can see, almost anything could have been read into the cartoon, including dirt and filth, if that is what you wanted.

Mr. Rohrer went on to say that "The Abortion Procedure" was "also in very poor taste." The article was sent to us as a letter to the editor by Temple University. Above the letter an editor's note clearly stated that it was a letter to the editor.

I feel the article was printed in perfectly good taste. Topics such as abortion have become prominent issues in our society. What good is done by running away from such issues, or by pretending they do not exist?

I personally would much rather have a girl who has become pregnant have somewhere to turn, where she can get a safe, clinical abortion in a New York hospital, than I would have her die in a back alley at the hands of a "butcher." The ideal situation, of course, is for her not to get pregnant, but if she does, should we ignore the problem?

A question of legality was also raised. If the article had been about a doctor saying "I will give an abortion," it may not have been legal. But the service offers just that -- a service, the same as a contractor, a pharmacist, or a power company.

The most distressing point that has evolved out of this whole thing, is that a double standard is being imposed. Noone has said that you MUST read the newspaper. Right? But in some of the English courses at Parkland, students are required to read books that literally exude dirt and filth.

I am speaking of "The Electric Kool-Aid Acid Test" by Tom Wolfe, Ken Kesey's "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest," and "Manchild in the Promised Land" by Claude Brown. We at the newspaper are expected to not print any controversial issues, or something that MIGHT be a bit off-color.

We, according to some people, should not expose Parkland students to anything that might have some sexual connotations, but yet it is acceptable for students to be REQUIRED to read so-called "contemporary literature" in their English classes that use God's name in vain or that use vulgar, filthy language.

In the original copy of this column, in this space, I had three quotes from "Manchild in the Promised Land." Our printer felt that these quotes were so vile, and so vulgar, and so filthy, that he refused to print them. If any of you wish to read these quotes they are available in the newspaper office in the student center.

My point is this. How can we be condemned for something that is not forced upon our readers and is perfectly legal (Remember Freedom of the Press?), when Parkland students are required to read novels that contain phrases that our printer refused to print?

As one who also takes pride in his association with Parkland College, I strongly object to anyone making value judgments on me or on the PROSPECTUS. I suggest that before anyone imposes his morals on anybody else he should make sure the emphasis is put in the right place.

I still welcome all comments on your particular points of interest, but let's try to keep them constructive in the future. Throughout this whole ordeal, nothing has been gained, and nothing accomplished. This whole thing has been blown completely out of proportion.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bruce:

As one who takes pride in his association with Parkland College, I can, with good conscience, fail to speak out against the half-page cartoon which appeared on Page 3 of PROSPECTUS for November 13.

It was humorous.

If this paper is of real interest and value to students of Parkland College it, no doubt, finds its way into homes--good homes where the families have a sense of humor. This kind of cartoon is enjoyable to many people of this community; it does no damage to the image of Parkland College and its students and staff. The only conceivable objection would be a stereotype to include college students and staff.

This article entitled "The Abortion Procedure" was also in very good taste. Many good purposes are served by publication of a procedure which is unlawful in this state and in a great majority of the states in this union. When can we expect an article on house-breaking or safe-cracking?

In the words of George Bernard Shaw, "Virtue consists, not in abstaining from vice, but in not desiring it."

Eminently,
Don England

Dear Editor:

The "Prospectus" editorial and cartoon sections are an intellectual wasteland. It is easy to be petty. It is easy to put a picture of two bodies in a bed to attract attention. It is easy, but it is also boring to readers. These sections of the "Prospectus" are supposed to stimulate thought and interest. What a joke. These sections lack any evidence of creativity. Why not leave them blank or get some writers who can think?

Robert Owen Carr

Dear Student Editor:

I am enclosing information pertaining to our annual Junior-Community College Guest Day in hopes that you will be able to announce this program to the students of your community college newspaper has been selected on the basis of interest expressed by students on your campus in transferring to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. I also realize that your publication is the best means of communication on the college campus.

By reviewing the enclosed program I think you will see it is very complete and I am confident your students will find this program both enjoyable and beneficial and therefore encourage you to recommend their attendance. It will not only assist those undecided about attending the University but also assist those who have already been admitted.

This thirteenth annual event has been scheduled for January 25, 1971. An attempt was made to schedule the program so that your students might spend the weekend with a friend who is presently attending SIU. Sunday could be used as a day of travel to the campus, which is located in the Southern part of the state.

In closing may I express our thanks for your cooperation in helping us ease the problems involved in transferring and in making this program successful for your students and the University. If I could ever be of some assistance to you or your school, or should you need additional information about the Guest Day, please do not hesitate to contact me personally.

Sincerely yours,
Tom McGinnis

Dear Sir:

In regard to $5.00 tickets being issued to motorcycles parked at the rear of the student center, I think that if the Champaign Police Department is going to issue tickets, they should not do so once every month as they have been doing. The reason stated on the tickets says, "Private Parking." The only vehicle that is ever, using this space is the Canteen truck, which is only parked there for about a half an hour each morning. In my opinion, if this area is to be used for "Private Parking", they why doesn't Parkland declare it by using appropriate signs to warn motorcyclists?

If Parkland prohibits parking in this area, I think that they should publish some kind of a warning in the weekly paper.

Sincerely,
Scott Karlstrisin

Editor's Note: Like the sign states: "No Parking - Anytime". The reason being that the drive is a delivery entrance and when the drive is blocked by motorcycles or any other vehicles, deliveries can't be made. Therefore, Parkland has to pay for the return trip of the delivery trucks. I would suggest that if one really wanted to do something about this, that they should go to the student government; that's what they're here for.

Snyder Speaks Out

Dear Mr. Murray:

When your reporter interviewed me, I asked her the courtesy of seeing the article before it was printed. When I worked for a newspaper, I learned very quickly that checking copy with the subject kept my sources open rather than sealed. I wish your reporter learned that before she interviewed me.

Since she denied me that request, I must now ask you to correct some misinformation in the "Encounter Groups Study Feelings" article in the November 20, 1970, issue.

1. Speech 200 is not an encounter group. Speech 200 is a day-time offering which studies the principles of group discussion. Learning experiences in this course are task-oriented and are designed to expose students to various aspects of the decision-making process in personal and institutional situations.

2. Encounter Group is a non-credit evening course. The two courses have many similar objectives, but the methodology and content of each course is often quite different.

3. The photo of a "typical scene from an encounter group session" is interesting at best. Is it "typical" because people are smiling, or because two members have their shoes off, or because the girl in the foreground is mugging for the camera? Selfishly speaking, I wished the picture could have been of my "typical groups" rather than Phyllis Stern's.

Both courses are exciting learning experiences because they actively involve the student in the learning process, and because they often help to clarify the confusion in inter-personal relationships by offering a reference point through the study of how groups work (group dynamics).

Yours very truly,
Lu Snyder

Editor's Note: Granted, Miss Snyder, that Nancy Kennedy did not let you see the article before it was printed. But it was not her fault, I instructed her to not show you the finished copy, and I believe I had a good reason. When the first issues of this newspaper were put out, certain members of the administration asked to proof-read the stories. When they read them, they sometimes changed the wording of the writer, or denied having said something just as it was written. Our reporter did not come back to you for these reasons.

The photo of a "typical scene from an encounter group session" is typical because people are smiling. Through my experiences in group, I have found this to often be the case.

We used the picture of Phyllis Stern's group instead of a picture of one of yours because it seemed that our photographer and your groups were never around at the same times.

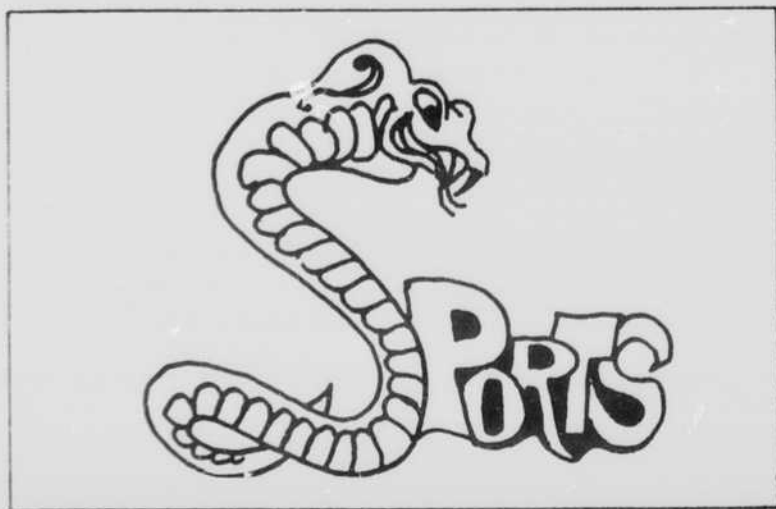

No hard feelings, I hope.

LET'S HEAR YOUR VIEWS!!

In The Swim

by G.P.

For the more aquatic athlete at Parkland College the intramural program offers a swim meet for the winter quarter. This sport is open to both men and women and is a chance especially for the female, to be drawn into the athletic program of this college.

"At the present time it is a very loose program," commented

Coach Norris, organizer for this event. He added, "the strokes used and distance will be determined by the sign up in each category." For those not familiar with what a swim meet is read on. It is one of the oldest sports in the world, like a track meet on water. The events usually swim include: free style (front crawl), back crawl, butterfly, breaststroke, and the individual medley which is a combination of all four. The number of participants or heat may be as few as one (in which case the swimmer races for a good clocking) or as many as seven or eight depending on the width of the pool. The distance will depend on what the competitors want to swim in PC's case since as Norris said "I've seen them go down for the third time before they reach 25 feet". That incidently is the length of the pool being used.

The pool is Spaulding located in the park by the same name which also is used by the PC swim classes. Since man originated from the water swimming should be the most natural exercise there is. It sleeks and tones the muscles and is a sure form of losing weight. Those Olympian hopefuls be you man or woman who would like to sign up for the intramural swim meet see either Coach Grothe or Norris in the armory. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners.

Wrestlers Win Two Drop One

by Mike Van Antwerp

The Parkland wrestling team led by undefeated Ford Mautz swept their way to two victories in three meets and also fared well in the Forrest Park Tourney during the holiday grappling action.

Danville 24-20. Parkland's six winners were Daryl Schiff (126), Ford Mautz (134), Chester Lewis (158), Calvin Beasley (167), Mike Corkin (190) and John Dieffenbaugh (heavyweight).

December 5th the Cobras traveled to St. Louis to compete in the Forrest Park Tournament. Six teams entered although no team scores were kept. Ford Mautz fought his way to the 134 pound championship for Parkland. Charles Moore won the consolation bracket for the 190 pounders while teammates Daryl Schiff, Chester Lewis and Mike Corkin each received weight classes.

The Cobras made it two in a row by thoroughly demolishing Miliken 25-9 on December 15 at Decatur. Schiff, Mautz, Lewis, Beasley, and Corkin all won again for Parkland while Damion Butler (142) and Charles Moore (177) joined the winners circle.

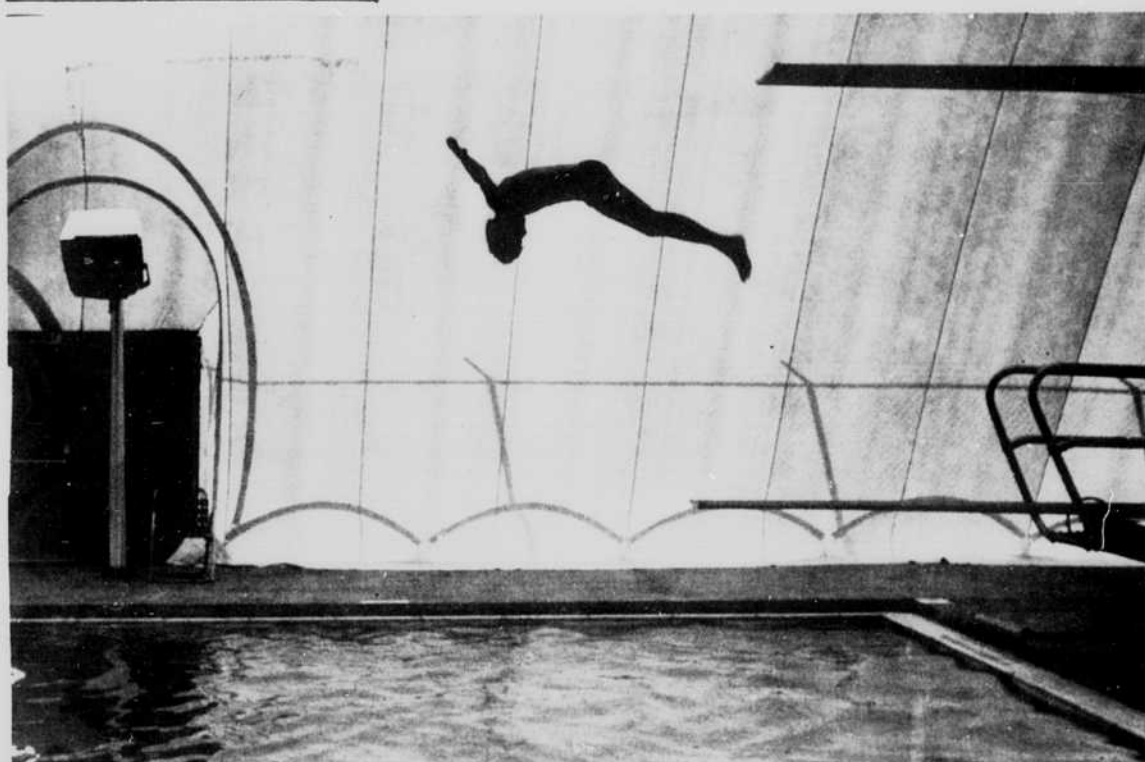

The two meet streak came to a screeching halt December 19 at the Armory against DuPage J.C. as the Cobras were defeated 23-9. However Mautz, Butler, and Moore continued to excell as they won their bouts.

December 5th the Cobras traveled to St. Louis to compete in the Forrest Park Tournament. Six teams entered although no team scores were kept. Ford Mautz fought his way to the 134 pound championship for Parkland. Charles Moore won the consolation bracket for the 190 pounders while teammates Daryl Schiff, Chester Lewis and Mike Corkin each received 2nds in the consolation brackets of their respective weight classes.

The P.C. grapplers now own a 2-2 record with a very rough schedule coming up, including a match with Eastern Illinois Junior Varsity squad at Charleston.

Outstanding performers for Parkland have been Ford Mautz who has gone undefeated, Charles Moore 5-2, and Chester Lewis 4-2. The next meet is January 15 against Forrest Park at the armory at 7:00.

Cobras Drop Squeaker To Lincoln Land

by Jim Kimmitt

Lincoln Land College outlasted Parkland in a hard fought basketball game at Centennial gym last Thursday evening.

Parkland scored the first basket and built up a 10 point lead mid-way through the first half, but Lincoln Land was a determined ball club and quickly came back to keep the game within reach. Both teams were moving the ball well and looking for the good shots.

Ardell Webb and Herbie Leshoure sparked Parkland with a well executed fast break and the Cobras managed a 52-48 half-time lead.

Lincoln Land lead by Bill Meisner kept the second half scoring close, and the two teams played nip and tuck ball. Parkland had a six point lead with 12:57 remaining in the second period, but that was quickly cut down putting Lincoln Land back in the game within two points. After this point the Cobras could not build up their lead to more than four points. The real battle therefore began with both teams determined to win this game. Parkland had a four point lead with 2:26 remaining and Lincoln Land called a time out. Lincoln Land came back on the court and tied the score up at 89 apiece and again called a time out. Lincoln Land with possession of the ball set up their last play of the game and Bill Meisner scored the winning basket with three seconds left to end the game. It was an exciting victory for the visiting team from Springfield.

Ardell Webb lead the scoring for Parkland with 22, followed by Herbie Leshoure, 19, Rich Harper, 17, Joe Peters, 16, Butch Wolfe, 10 and Bob Campbell rounded out the scoring with 6.

Lincoln Land was lead by the games high scorer, Meisner who had 32, followed by Bristol, 20, Reiterman, 17, Mazzer, and Boes each had 7, Evans, 6, and Vincent, 2.

Odd Couple Cast

Champaign-Urbana Community Theatre's second production of the season, Neil Simon's THE ODD COUPLE, has been cast by its director, Bruce A. Heck, associate pastor of the Lutheran Student Center on campus. Mr. Heck has directed THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST and recently appeared as the father on the CUCT's successful production of THE RAINMAKER.

The part of Oscar, the uncouth, will be played by Charlie Ludmer, a graduate student in Electrical Engineering. His past experience includes roles in Ionesco's EXIT THE KING and Pirandello's AS YOU DESIRE ME. Tom Campbell, a local resident, will appear as Felix, the fastidious. Campbell has appeared in SOUTH PACIFIC, HARVEY, INHERIT THE WIND, and many other musicals and dramas.

The cast also includes Patricia Johnson, Trisha Lockhart, Joel Rosenfeld, Jim Heins, Harvey Shifrin and Bill Reeves.

THE ODD COUPLE will be presented January 15, 16, 22 and 23, 8:00 p.m., at the Thornburn School Auditorium, on Springfield and McCullough, two blocks west of downtown Urbana.

Anyone wishing to participate in CUCT's activities or to receive their Newsletter should call Carol Unzicker 365-1001.

University Handbooks

There are handbooks about the State Universities in Illinois available in the counseling center for any student who would like one.

Vets Meeting

The next meeting of the Vets Association will be Tuesday, January 12, in M-13 at 11:00. All interested vets are urged to attend.

IOC

The next meeting of IOC will be held in the Quiet Lounge of the Student Center at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, January 12.

Budgets

Organizational treasurers are encouraged to secure their copy of the "Organizational Treasurer's Manual" in the Student Activities office or from Becky Terrell.

Financial Aids

The Office of Student Financial Aids regrets to announce that all funds for this academic year have been committed. Therefore, they are no longer accepting applications for assistance from some outside agencies.

If, however, in case of an emergency, please contact Mr. Gunji for an appointment so that he may be able to secure funds from some outside agencies.

Applications for the Illinois State Grant for 1971-72 academic year are now in the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Drug Week

The convocations board is planning a Drug Week, January 19-21, 1971, in the student center. There shall be films, brochures, speakers, discussion groups and handouts. Students interested in participating and "in the planning" are requested to contact Tom Krall, (leave a note in the Senator-Convocations mailbox in the Student Activities Office), Mrs. Joan Taylor, or Dick Karch. Your participation and "ideas" will make this a very worthwhile session.

Visitation Day

The second Community College Visitation Day will be held on the campus of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign on February 12, 1971, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. This program is sponsored by the Colleges of Agriculture and Engineering, and is intended to serve students interested in transferring to one of these colleges. The programs of the two colleges will be similar in format, although they will be conducted separately.

The Visitation Day program will retain many successful features of last year's program. Your students will have an opportunity to visit with advisors in the areas of their interest and to obtain information with regard to admission, housing, transfer of credit, etc. Each visiting student will have as a host, a transfer student currently enrolled at the University of Illinois. The host will acquaint the prospective transfer student with his academic program and campus life. Currently enrolled transfer students at the University of Illinois will also serve on a panel responding to questions from the assembled visitors and candidly discuss their experiences.

The date of February 12 was again chosen despite the fact this day will not be a legal holiday this year. Our greater concern was the desire to have your students visit our campus while classes are in session. The program would be less meaningful if it were to be held earlier, as this would mean that the Visitation Day would then fall between our semesters. In that event, we would have difficulty obtaining our students to aid in the program and there would be considerably less for your students to observe. Copies of this letter are being sent to several of your staff members. We would certainly appreciate any efforts to inform promising students of this program. Additionally, any of your staff will be very welcome should they wish to attend.

We will be sending bulletin board posters early in January. Should you have any questions in the meantime, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,
Karl E. Gardner,
Associate Dean
College of Agriculture

H. L. Wakeland,
Associate Dean
College of Engineering

College Yearbook

The Yearbook is operational. If you want to have YOUR ORGANIZATION PHOTOS in the Yearbook, contact Janet Gundlock, editor, or leave a note in the Yearbook mailbox. Time is important. Contact the staff NOW for further details.

Wit N' Wisdom

Nothing ever becomes real till it is experienced - Even a proverb is no proverb to you till your life has illustrated it.

College Play

Plans are being made to have a college play during the Winter Quarter 1971. Information available from Dick Karch and the Student Activities Office.

In days of olde
When nights got cold,
Pubs were invented.
They took some beer
And a little cheer,
Thus, boredom was prevented.
So done ye jeans,
And grab ye Queens,
And head on down gone street.
For we have food
To fit ye mood,
And drinks that are always right.
King Henrys the place
To suite ye taste,
And friends ye always meet.
