

VOL. XXI, No. 10 - SIX PAGES

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE, PROVIDENCE, R. L. JANUARY

10 CENTS A COPY

Emulate Lives Of Mary, Joseph Barristers Have Busy Schedule In Modern Times, Priest Urges

Emulation of the lives of Mary and Joseph is the answer to the materialism promoted by advertising in the modern world, declared Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., in his address at the Dorm Weekend Communion Breakfast last Sunday morning. His talk was entitled "Shoppers' Worlds, Psychology, and Satellites."

"On the radio, on television, in newspapers and magazines, you are being bombarded with pleas to buy this—buy that, drink this—drink that," said Father Peterson.

A great danger is inherent in this tone in advertising since it degrades man by stressing only the material side of life, con-tinued the Philosophy Depart-ment member. Rather than emphasize the material to the det phasize the material to the det-riment of the spiritual side of our lives, we should "look in God's showcase and buy what is best," he asserted.

First 'Human Satellites'

"God put them (Mary and Joseph) in the showcase of the and world that you, the men and women of the twentieth century, might be attracted to their way might be attracted to their way of life. . Mary and Joseph were among the first human satellites; their whole lives were spent in orbit around God."

The tone of Father Peterson's address was light and humoraddress was light and numor-ous, employing paraphrases of advertising jingles to put across many of his points.

"L&M can also stand for Like Mary and Joseph. Take a tip from those who know. Switch to L & M. Live Modern, but live like Mary and Joseph," he concluded.

The Communion breakfast

Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P.

immediately followed a 9-00 immediately followed a 9:00 Mass celebrated for the Carolan Club members and their dates by the Rev. Thomas McBrien, O.P., Chaplain of the College. Aquinas Hall dining room was the scene of the gathering.

amended so that one of the two

Congress members would be a junior or senior, and one would jumor or senior, and one would be a sophomore or freshman. The bill was passed only after much debate and the clear un-derstanding that any action taken by the committee would be subject to review by the Compress be subject to review by the congress. Frosh Officers Sworn In  Other action by the Student Congress, at its meeting Monday verning, January 12, included the swearing in of the newly- elected class officers of the class of 1962—President Charles Reilly, Vice President Alfred Continued on Page 5

For February

The Providence College de-baters are enjoying their first full season of competition in several years. This year's squad several years, this year's squado has participated in eighty-six debates during the current semester. The varsity was vic-torious in twenty-six of its semester. The varsity was vic-torious in twenty-six of its forty-four contests, while the junior varsity members scored seventeen wins in their thirty-eight debates; four were nondecision debates

The predominant achieve-ment in this semester's en-counters was the 6-0 score compiled by the Barristers in the first major tournament of the New England area; both the af-firmative and the negative teams won three decisions each and brought the Amherst College traveling trophy to the PC campus for the year. The trophy was won by Dartmouth last year.

Assigned For Activity

The The varsity members are being assigned for major tourn activity throughout and March on the ament February and March on the basis of individual scores, ob basis of individual scores, ob-served moderator Rev. John D. Skaiko, O.P. PC will be rep-resented at Harvard, MIT, Dartmouth, and Boston Univer-partmouth, and Boston Univer-sity on the four successive weekends in February. The Barristers will again sponsor the Southeastern New England High School Debate Tournament. James Geary, Jr., '61, has been selected chairman of this year's event, which is to take place on Saturday, April 18. Invitations have already been mailed to approximately ninety high schools and academies in the New England area. Chairman Geary said that the tournament will be restrict td to twenty schools. College debaters from the southern New England area, he noted, PC will open its second semester with four debates with Our Lady of the Elms College on Sunday, February 1, at 2 p.m. in Harkins Hall. These debates are open to the student body and the public.

Sophs Initiate Plans For Spring Weekend

Charles McAree, president of the the sophomore class, announced today that plans are in motion for Sophomore Weekend

After a meeting of class of-ficers, Frank Dietz, and Charles Carroll were appointed co-chairmen of the event. Dietz, a animum of the event. Dielz, a business major from Pawtucket and Carroll, a political science major from Minneapolis, Minn., announced that committees have begun to be organized for the affair. Among suggested dates for Sophomore Weekend, the the weekend of April 17, 18, and 19 seems most feasible at the present. "We are all looking forward to a repeat perform-ance of last year's exteremly successful Freshman Weeksuccessful Freshma end," noted McAree.

College Takes Part In Defense Education Act Loan Program

Rev. Charles V. Fennell, O.P., Bursar of the College, has an-nounced that Providence College is participating in the National Defense Education Act's Loans to Students in Institutions of Higher Education.

A first grant of $31,000 has been awarded the state of Rhode A first grant of $3,000 has been awarden ine state of knode Island by the federal government. This money will be distributed by the state among the various colleges of khode Island. Father Fennell has not yet been notified of the amount of the grant to be allotted to Providence College. ucation or modern foreign lan-

He said, however, that "upon active participation of the College in the act, applications for student loans will be processed by the Committee on Scholar ships and Grants-In-Aid."

According to the provisions of the Act, the federal governof the Act, the federal govern-ment contributes ninety per cent of the money to a loan fund established by a college. An amount not more than $1,000 per year or $5,000 aggregate can be borrowed from the fund by deserving students. List Requisites

To be eligible for a loan, a student must have need of a student must have need of a loan to continue his education. He must be capable of keeping a good standing in his course of studies and should be enrolled as a full-time student. Prefer-ence is given to students who are in science mathematics, ed-or secondary school, up to one half of the amount of any loan (plus interest) is cancelled at the rate of 10% of the amount of the loan (plus interest) for each complete academic year of service The Loans to Students in Institutions of Higher-Education is only one part of the National guage concentration

Repayment of the loan at 3% interest per annum begins one interest per annum begins one year after termination of a full-time course of study at an in-stitution of higher education and ends eleven years after. However if the borrower is a teacher in a public elementary

Defense Education Act. Fellow-Defense Education Act. Fellow-ships, grants, guidance program aid, vocational training aid and other helps to education are other aspects of the Act.

Barile Becomes First Friar To Reach 100 Scoring Mark By DALE FAULKNER

Sports Editor

Despite the woes that are currently plaguing Providence College's hockey team, Joe Barile is still one heck of a player. In fact, he's PC's greatest. When Boston University skated to a 94 victory over the Friars, Barile was still carrying the mail for the losers. With fourteen minutes gone in the third period Saturday, the dithird period saturday, the or minutive senior lit the red light for Providence's fourth and final tally. That was Barile's 100th point of his career and enabled him to become the first Friar to reach the century mark is the history of the sent hore. in the history of the sport here at the College. It's ironic that Barile's most noteworthy tally was a goal and not an assist. It seems that not an assist. It seems that Barile's life story is setting up high goal getters. All through his high school days, Barile was the unsung hero of Hamden, Conn., High School's New England Championship years. In his junior and senior seasons, Barile had three outstanding scorers to set-up—Ron Henry, Butch Ives, and Lou LaFontaine. His invaluable centering netted him an All-New England selection in the 1955 tourney. When Barile arrived at Smith

Hill, he rejoined LaFontaine and that pair with cantain Hill, he rejoined Larontaine and that pair with captain Bernie McCrink proved to be PC's most effective line in the In that year 1956-57 campaign. 1956-57 campaign. In that year —his sophomore season—Barile was named to an Honorable Mention berth on the All-East team, while in his junior year the Economics major was named All-Tourney center at the Boston Arena's annual Christmas playdowns. This year Barile's line has been slow in jelling, but in re-cent games the trio, with wings-Joe Keough and Bergen, has been getting hotter and hotter. In last week's 14-1 rout of American International Barile notched five assists and before the 100 point-goal Saturday he set-up Bergen's two second period scores and fed Keough early in the third session. It was another four point night for the ace.

Joe Barile

Saturday's four point production gave Barile 21 for the cur-rent season. He scored 48 in rent season. He scott as in his sophomore year and netted 31 last year. The puck that was number 100 for Barile was retained following the game and it will be presented to the evolution store at the end of graduating star at the end of the season.

Standardization Of Rings

Peter Bortolan, standing, junior class representative, makes a point at Monday night's Student Congress meeting.

The Student Congress unanimously passed a bill setting up a committee to choose a stand-ard design for the PC class ring on a motion presented by junior representative Thomas Grady in its January meeting. The committee proposed in the legislation will consist of the co-chairmen of the 1959 and 1960 ring committees, the pres-1960 ring committees, the pres-ident of each class, two men-chosen by the presidents of the classes of 1961 and 1962, two men chosen by the executive committee of the Congress, and two faculty members elected by the rest of the committee. The original proposal was ## Science Day . . .

Yesterday's Annual High School Science Day marks testeriay's Annual Fign School School and Annual Fign School and S are to be congratulated and appreciated as much as the success of the event itself.

Each year, several hundred students from throughout the State are extended the invitation to visit the College and inspect the scientific facilities available on campus, as well as to meet students and professors in the sciences to discuss pertinent matter concerning the sciences and the courses of study available at the Col-lege in Physics, Biology and Chemistry.

In arranging the affair, the above-named clubs not only perform a great service to the high school students as potential scientists, doctors, physicists, etc., but to the College and to science. It is our hope that this worthy project will be continued by these organizations in the future, and that various concentrations in the Arts may someday follow suit.

Big Brothers...

Probably no campus organization rivals the Youth probably no campus organization rivals the routin Guidance Council in service. The members of this or-ganization give selflessly of time and effort on behalf of some of Rhode Island's less fortunate youth. Officially, each member of the group spends one hour a week with his "little brother" at the Doctor O'Rourke Chil-dren's Center; actually, most of the P.C. men spend much more time there. The contributions of the group in add-ing to the good reputation of the Col-lege in public relations should not go unmentioned. Thanks to the careful screening of Youth Guidance members, the unfor-tunate child is given a chance to de-velop under the wing of a reliable college student who, in many instances, becomes a lifelong friend. "Big broth-er" and charge can talk things over; they form a mutual bond of friendship; and many times, the college man learns a considerable amount from his charge. The fine work done by the Youth

Guidance group has gone largely un-heralded. We move to recognize the Council as the outstanding outside service club of the campus.

A constitution has been submitted to the Student Congress by the Council. Its adoption, however, has un-Congress by the Council as acoustion, non-text has an fortunately been delayed, due to a plan to merge the YGC with another club. This move is opposed to the desires of the Council members themselves, who want to be recognized as a simple entity and who wish to spend their time in service only. The Cowl firmly supports the constitution of the Youth Guidance Council as submitted to the Congress; urge its adoption, according to the wishes of the Council, without further delay.

10:20 Mass . . .

It is encouraging to note the increasingly large number of students who make the daily sacrifice of attending 10:20 Mass in Harkins Hall. Surely it is an indication of maturity as well as of devotion when so large a group decides to dispense with the hot coffee, mailreading or twenty-minute gab session for so noble a "substitution."

While we commend the many who already make while we commend the many who arcary have good use of this privilege each day, we heartly urge the remainder of the student body to follow the example which has been set. Attendance at this daily Mass en-tails certain small sacrifices, of course, but it is immeasurably rewarded

STUDENTS. EXCHANGE

Sincerity, Repentance Stressed Throughout The Confessions

By John J. Hurley

The topic of discussion by the quinas Society this evening is book which is truly one of the foundation stones of the Catholic religion. The Confessions of Aurelius Augustinus, better know to the modern reader as St. Augustine, Fa-ther of the Church, has been on the best seller lists since if as first written about the year 400

To the modern reader, this fact might not seem so extraordinary, accustomed as he is to sensational tabloid confessions, both in magazines and in many of the current bestsellers. The more immoral and obscene the life, the better the books seems to sell. But, it should be kept in mind, all these publications deal with confessions of trans gression and sin.

Two Themes Combined

To St. Augustine, on the other hand, a true confession should also treat of praise for good health, grace, and fortune. In other words, he adds to the old adage by stating, "Crime doesn't pay, but a good life does." In combining these two themes in In to his Confessions then, St. Au to nis Confessions then, St. Au-gustine presents a masterly treatment of his religious ex-periences against a background of deep personal, mental and moral anguish.

Of the thirteen books, the first ten treat of his gradual ap proach to the faith. Each por tion is devoted to a year or so of his confused and licentious of his confused and licentious early life. The latter part ex-presses his great joy over the marvels of God's creation and grace, much in the manner of Francis Thompson's "Hound of Heaven."

Describes Conflicts

Written both to attract the pagan Roman intellectuals of the day and to satisfy Augus-tine's own spiritual thoughts, it the sown spiritual thoughts, it is a most interesting and world-ly book, which breathes a de-votional and penitential mood. He sincerely shows the conflict between his love of immoral pleasure, and an opposing guilty conscience, which exact the conscience which craved the spiritual rest only to be found with his Creator.

In also defending the Church against the many heretical sects of the day, Augustine was es-pecially schooled in his task. Himself a member at one time or other of many of these sects, St Augustine saw their ent weaknesses, and he loudly decried their evils. In so do-ing he humbly admits his own short-sightedness and past mis takes, without attempting to justify them.

It is seldom that such a book ever appears, appealing to all the sides of man. Sensational yet serious, provocative yet thought-provoking, it is certainly one of the masterpieces of world literature.

IN MEMORIAM

The faculty and student body extend sincere sympathy to Rev. Ernest S. Hogan, O.P., Librarian, on the recent death of his brother; and to John Collins, '61, on the death last week of his mother.

By Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., Dean

COLLEGE LOYALTY II

2. Affection: By affection I mean the settled good will that exists among people who have come together in order achieve a common goal. All the activities carried out by students at college-eating, study-ing, recreating, attending class ing, recreating, attending class together — help to strengthen the bond of affection, and hence promote loyalty. Without this atmosphere of acceptance, un-derstanding and respect, learn-ing itself would be impeded and loyalty would be impeded and loyalty would soon degenerate into lukewarm tolerance or listless forbearance.

Affection is the mother of the social virtues so necessary for collegiate living. Thought-fulness for others, respect for their claims, sharing in common intellectual e n t e r p r i s e s, rejoicing and sympathizing and working together, adapting one and self to other people, patience with the peculiarities of others, practice in persuading them to see one's point of view, tolerant compromises in action, leading and obeying in campus activities-all these qualities are not only encouraged but they are absolutely essential in a college community.

Emerson said: "The secret of education lies in respecting the education ites in respecting the pupil," and Providence College has always had profound re-spect for the individuality of her students. No college could develop loyalty in its faculty, students or alumni if it operated as a couldee machine a machine as a soulless machine, a machine geared to run by a set of impersonal rules, or according to an inhuman formula that made no allowance for personal dig-nity and the flesh-and-blood

It will be a garish Brave-New World campus, a nightmarish Orwellian college, if the day ever dawns when the student is ever dawns when the student is merely tagged and known as Number 2011, identification card 433, dining hall passport 868, cumulative record folder 211, under M. in filing cabinet 32. A callous, heartless system in which the college becomes a hear forces, measuring and brain factory processing so many items every four years, tooled to run with the precision of a Swiss watch, with students as cogs and faculty as main-spring, would eventually toll the death knell of any love and loyalty. Empathy, sympathy, kindness, the mutual support so necessary for learning, evapo rate in a cold, bloodless mechanical environment. evapoThe affection found in the family is the same kindred spirit that should prevail on the campus. I am not thinking of course, about palsi-valsiness between faculty and students which destroys the wholesome dividing line between the two. nor about a compromising flac-cidity which produces capitula-tion at the first show of opposition

Indeed, it would be rather dull if the campus were a grave-yard of desiccated intellectuali-ty where all was sweetness and light. The clash of arms on the greensward is a sound as com-mon as the toll of the chimes, from the top of Alumni Hall. Frequently you will find the stu-dent congress warring with campus clubs, the clubs clash-ing among themselves and the members of individual clubs jousting with each other. More-over, it is not unusual for the light. The clash of arms on the over, it is not unusual for the over, it is not unusual for the students to cngage in combat with the faculty, for the faculty to disagree among themselves, for faculty and students to skirmish with the administra-tion. These civil wars may be bloody but they are usually brief, and involve intellectual matters more than a more matters more than a mere jockeying for privilege or power

In a Cathone college, they seldom degenerate into faction alism, backbiting or smoulder-ing grudges than burn beneath the surface ready to flare up at the slightest provoccation. Controversy, after all, sharpens the wits and leads to the discovery and triumph of truth. The clang of argument against argument, like steel against steel, should not be so loud as to drown out the voice of affection and sympathy.

These battles. moreover a sign that faculty and stu a sign that factury and students are involved in a project that is dear to their hearts. No one fights for anything about which he does not care. Indifferent-ism was the greatest obstacle to the growth of early Christianity, and don't diverse down attitude is the growth of early Christianity, and don't-give-a-dam attitude is fatal to learning and to the growth of a college. As long as these squabbles do not fracture the bond of charity, as long as they do not cause a man to withdraw from the college com-runnits and hole or is a nink munity and hole up in a niche to lick his wounds, as long as they do not breed intrigue, mis-trust, suspicion and enmity, they serve to strengthen the ties which bind men to one another Continued on Page 5

- THE STAFF ----

Office: Harkins Hall Phone UNion 1-1500, Ext. 206
Editor-in-Chief Associate Editor Posture Editor Posture Editor Sports Editor Sports Editor Copy Editor Editoria Assistant Art Editor Assistant Business Manager Circulation Manager Assistant Business Manager Paste Editor Paste Editor Paste Editor	Hichard J. Dawkeis, "5 Leomard F. (Zingham, 5) Robert Grathweil, "0 Johns Ruries, "6 Dale Faultanes, "60 Charlas Gords, "1 Thomas O'Herron, "6 James R. Baker, "60 Robert McCarthy, "6 Peter McCarthy, "6 Hichard Planosden, "66 James Charrol, "0 Gene Receptored, "6 Charles Chardel, "6 James Chard, "6 Robert McCarthy, "6 James Chard, "6

Bob Leibowitz, Tom Drennen, Jin George Crepenu, Paul Greene, Don

and Collegiate Press Association and the Rhode Head Theoremilicates Press Association, Second-Class Postage Paid at Providence, R. I. Suddents of Pathood wask during the academic year for the Unidents of Print Providence College.

Liest Les Preludes

of center

Liszt was a fabulous person-age, in more than one respect.

musical

him flocked by the hundred musicians and composers of all kinds. With remarkable in-tution he singled out the exceptionally gifted; with won-derful generosity he helped them and promoted their work whenever he could.

Of Liszt's own music a good deal is superficially brilliant, verging on the bombastic. It is verging on the bombastic. It is frankly display music; and Liszt, through his career as a virtuoso pianist, certainly knew what was effective and what was not. It would be a mistake, though, to suppose that surface brilliance was all Liszt was his popularity may rest on his more superficial efforts. He was in fact capable of rising to was in fact capable of rising to something greater as is, for instance, evident in his impres-sive, Les Preludes, composed when he was in his early sive, Les Preludes, composed when he was in his early forties. This symphonic poem was inspired by the Medita-tions Poetiques, a philosophi-cal work of the nincteenth century French poet Lamar-

The work opens with a melody of somber majesty. This introduction ("what is life but a series of preludes to that unknown song whose initial notes are sounded in death") takes however much brilliance v capable of, years his house was the

Europe:

THE COWL, JANUARY 14, 1959

Inquiring Reporter

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS Bob Clemens, '61 -- "I don't like to commit myself for an entire entire year, from making any resolu-tions. It is easy to say one thing but

Movie Review

"Live, live, live. Life is just a banquet and think of all the suckers standing around starv-ing to death." This is the frival ous philosophy of one Mame Dennis, better known as "Auntie

by Morton DaCosta.

by Morton DaCosta. The opening scene finds Mame the guardian of her young nephew, whose father has just passed away. To make sure that young Patrick Dennis (Jan Handzlik) receives the proper attention and education, a trus-Clark) is placed in charge of the boy's schooling. Between his fun-loving Aunt and his fastidious trustee, Pat finds it difficult to believe that "life is a banquet." Pat and Mame are inseparable and even when the stock market crashes and they're practically penniless, they con tinue to possess a supera-bundance of love and affection bundance of love and affection which they generously shower on one another as well as their "strange" family. Many hilarious and tender scenes fade in and out before we find Mane Dennis writing her exciting and memorable memoirs. She is collaborating with a cunning Irishman named

(Fred

named Rahmele

this reason I like to leave resolutions and their fulfillments to Dersons who more are conscientious in such things.

Ralph Maccarone, '61-"The New Year was upon me before

I could even consider the idea of making any reso-lutions. However, after giving this propo tion some serious consideration I resolve to be in regular attendance at all school sports activities. This should present no problem for me; I haven't missed a game yet."

Robert Devaney, '62-"With the advent of the New Year I have m only one made olution-which I h o p e to keep; To im-prove myself whenever and wherever pos-sible! But this 20 1 resolution, like a lot of resolutions of other people will require effort to maintain it in effect. But then again, I guess resolutions are made to be broken."

Ted DiStefano, '59--" I have made no New Year's resolutions as they are not as are not as easy to keep as they are to make. By not making any resolutions 1 resolutions I cannot be accused of break-flying tank. It opinion that a person year I resolved not to make a n y resolu-tions for the y e a r 1929. That shouldn't be a hard resolution to keep" — that's the way all New Year's resolutions should be!

have almost always been suc cessful in our undertakings and at present have quite a sub-stantial treasury balance.

We feel we do not need any new approach and our ideals and aims have been most beneficial to our college. The Officers of the Cranston

The Officers of the Cranston Club of Providence College. (From the Cowl editorial: "... many of the regional clubs ... held social activities, not all of which were even financially successful."-Ed.)

Rosalind Russell Triumphs In 'Auntie Mame' Farce Bu Eranla Duran

> Brian O'Bannion (Robin Brian O'Bannion (Robin Hughes) whose real talent isn't writing, but sponging cham-pagne, caviar, and a roof over his head from his elegant hostess Also employed he Mine Dennis to assist in the typing of her manuscripts is a grotesque creature who walks and talks (just barely) and goes under the frightening name of Miss Agnes Gooch (Peggy Cass). Miss Cass who hails from Bos Miss Cass who hails from Bos-ton, is in real life anything but grotesque. Through Miss Cass' seemingly effortless portrayal of a secretary who "wants to live," Miss Gooch will no doubt break all precedent in screen annair as being annal; as being the cinema character. Agnes does receive her wish "to live," but not with-out undergoing the grim consequences. In my humble opin-ion, next to Miss Russell's performance, that of Miss Cass rates top honors, but see for yourself. There are many more colorful and daffy characters in this highly entertaining film and you can see them all pres-ently at the Majestic Theater.

Decrease In Law Vocations Cited By Legal Scholars

The myth that there are too many lawyers in the United States today is simply an old wives tale, according to Dean Joseph O'Meara of the Notre Dame Law School

Rev. Philip C. Skehan, O.P., moderator of the St. Thomas More pre-law club and pre-legal advisor at the College has called to the attention the Cowl portions of an dress by Dean O'Meara and by Rev. Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Dean of Boston College Law School.

Father Drinan echoes D O'Meara's contention that we will need 85,000 more lawyers 1970. Father Drinan adds that "there is sound evidence to believe that locally and na-tionally the country's top talent is not entering the legal pro-fession in the same proportion win the next" as in the past." Number Declining

The number of lawyers ad-mitted to practice, relative to mitted to practice, relative to the population, has been de-clining for twenty-six years. Since 1949 the number of law-yers admitted to practice has decreased steadily from eighty-nine per million of the popula-tion to fifty-seven per million and it is still decreasing. Dr. O'Meara adds this thought. "The overriding prob Lorn lem of our time is how to avoid the annihilation of the human race. To accomplish this a way must be found to keep the peace, and that is imp sible without an extension impos al the rule of law throughout the world. If this problem is solved it will be solved not scientists but by lawyers. not For war we must have scientists and engineers; for peace we need lawyers."

Further information on the legal profession and admission to law schools may be obtained from Father Skehan

Glee Club To Sing

The Glee Club, under the di-The Glee Club, under the di-rection of Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P., will participate in the an-nual benefit concert sponsored by the St. Vincent Assembly this Sunday at 2:15 p.m. in Vet-erans' Memorial Auditorium.

Special feature of the concert special feature of the concert will be the appearance of John-ny Ray, international recording artist, motion picture perform-er and night club entertainer.

Other performances scheduled are comedy, musical and dance acts. Tickets are priced at $1.20, $1.80 and $2.40.

Ro Letters to the EDITOR

the prime motive of regional club is social. I must wholeheartedly disagree with you. I do not think that you invesido not gated the situation thouroughly enough gional clubs is to further the name of Providence College in their respective areas. The secondary purpose is a long range one; to help secure jobs for graduates of Providence College. This may not seem very i nportant now, but in ten years. important now, but in ten years, when Mr. A holds an executive post in Aeme Manufacturing Corporation in Waterbury, San Francisco, New Haven, or New York, and Mr. B, a recent grad-uate of Providence College, an accounting major, applies for the meritant counts position of assistant comp instru troller, Mr. A will be instru-mental in getting a job for Mr. B. A third advantage of these clubs is providing rides to and members from school for its Another purpose of these clubs is to furnish some social activities on campus; intramural ath letic teams, and dances at home letic teams, and dances at nome. I would also at this time like to thank the Corol for the pub-licity given the regional clubs, and also the priest moderators for their moral support and help given the clubs. Peter Wall

(From the Cowl editorial: "... the motive of most of the clubs seems to have been 'What exceptions."-Ed.)

If I am not mistaken the re because the blaring presenta-tion of our holiday losses in the last edition of the Cowl made it difficult to realize that our vic-ries were of any value. Father Royal Gardner, O.P.

In response to your editorial in recommending a revision in the ideals and aims of regional clubs, the Cranston Club mem-bers would firmly like to ex-press their view on the situa-

We have coordinated both our

Dear Editor:

tories

tion

To the Editor

I am writing this letter in de-fense of regional clubs, in an-swer to your editorial in last week's Couel. You stated that largely to social activities, with a few notable and praiseworthy of The prime purpose

We have coordinated both our religious and social events very successfully. Thanksgiving the club bought a Thanksgiving basket for a family of twelve. We purchased some hockey equipment last year for the team, donated to the school mascot fund, and at present are making plans for a club remascol fund, and at present are making plans for a club re-treat. At the end of the year, from the proit of our dances, we have a Communion break-fast free for all members. As to financial failures, we study

more m a t h ematics might see

should make resolutions only if they plan on keeping them."

Mike Barrett, '62 -- "This

Record Review

New York Philharmonic

Renders 'Les Preludes'

By Donald Processini

-

persed

umph

1 storms?

leads into

("The enchanted every life is love").

on a bolder character before it

But truly, what is love if not propound this question as its mood darkens and it grows in-mood darkens and it grows in-creasingly agitated. When the storm is dispelled we hear a what scul thus severely bruised does not seek to rest. in the calm of rustic life?") Yet man allows himself to rest.

At the trumpet call he hastens back into life's frav to test back into life's tray to test himself and to conquer. Surg-ing resolutely, the music ends on this note of militant tri-

The recording by Mitropo los and the New York Ph harmonic is the finest modern interpretations, col bining brilliance and fidelity to the score for a rousing new recording. The catalogue num-ber is Co ML-5198.

Franck: Symphonic Variations The pianist for this record-ing is the European wonder, liance and admirable cadenza work. The orchestra is the famous London Philharmonic under the late Arthur Rodzin-

ski. Recommended. The cata-logue number is West. 7030.

Paul Badura-Skoda, wh noted for his crystalline lovely rustic melody evanescent joy soon dis-sed by the gathering rms? The music seems to

("And

finest of who bril

com-ato a flowing passage enchanted dawn of

TPS

Dorm Weekend Scenes Military Dance Oueen Pictures

Couples dance to the music of Billy Weston's Orchestra at the dance Friday night in Aquinas Lounge,

The Dominotes, the octet composed of PC students, perform during the Friday night dance.

Sonior Ralph D'Amico seems pensive about it all, while roommale Andy Scala sleeps at the Jazz Concert Saturday afternoon in the Stephen Hall Lounge. Their dates seem a bit tired, too, but still blessed with good appetites

Juniors To Participate In Contest; Ring Fittings Set

The Junior class will participate in the Marlboro Box Con-test, the officers of the class of '60 have announced. Robert Lovett of Room 305, Aquinas Hall, has been appointed chair-man. All junior class members are urged to save their Marl-boro, Parliament, and Philip Morris boxes and to give them to Bob Lovett or any of the class officers. "If the same spirit is shown this year as was last year when the class won a movie camera, we are sure that we will win the hi-fi," commented Walter Savage, class secretary. The second and last fitting for class rings will be in the bookstore on Thursday, Jan-uary 22, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Juniors who missed the first fitting will be accommodated at this time. A ten dollar de-posit will be necessary at the fitting Africa to Sweden. You're ac. companied—not herded around COLLEGE GROUP. Also short-er trips, §855-51340. EUROPE SUMMER TOURS 255 Sequeia, Box 4 Pasadena, Cal.

Urges Exams In May For Aspirant Medical Students Due January 23

Plans for the selection of the queen of the Military Ball have been announced by Frederick Mullen, chairman of the queen committee, chairman of the queen committee. The Military Ball is scheduled for Friday, February 6, at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

All pictures for the queen contest must be in the hands of the committee by Friday, January 23. The committee has stipulated that billfold sized pictures should be submitted in an envelope accompanied with the following information: the entrant's name, address, and her escort's name. A box for pic-tures will be provided in the rotunda of Harkins Hall.

In addition to the informa-tion presented with her picture, the candidate's escort must fill the candidate's escort must fill out a biographical data sheet which may be procured at the ticket booth in Harkins Hall rotunda.

Five Finalists

Five finalists Five finalists will be selected from the pictures submitted. These finalists will appear in the February 4 issue of the Cowl

The queen will be commis-sioned honorary Cadet Colonel by Col. Norman P. Barnett, pro-fessor of Military Science and Tactics, and will be honored as Homecoming Queen and guest of the alumni at the alumni dinner on Saturday, February 7.

The queen and her entourage The queen van her entourage will receive women's accessories from Kay's-Newport, and other gifts from the Cadet Officers' Honor Society. In addition, the queen will receive a special bouquet from Canning Florists.

Works Of Augustine Aquinas Society Topic

Rev. Joseph S. McCormack, O.P., head of the Theology De-partment, will be the featured speaker at the meeting of the Aquinas Society this evening 7:30 in Aquinas Lounge.

The topics for this evening's discussion will be the first ten books of the Confessions of St. Augustine, Rev. John P. Reid, O.P., moderator of the Society, emphasized the importance of this evening's meeting, "as it covers an area and personality which receive relatively little attention at Providence Col-

EUROPE

Rev. Charles V. Reichart, P., head of the Biology De-OP partment, has strongly candidates for admiss urged admission medical school in the fall of 1959 to take the Medical College Admission Test in May

These tests, required of ap-These tests, required of ap-plicants by almost every medi-cal college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medi-cal colleges begin the selection of their next entering class

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 2, 1959, or on Tuesday, October 31, 1959, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local enters in all next of the series centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1960 take the May test.

test. The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a understanding of test on understanding of modern society, and an achieve ment test in science. According to the Educational Testing Services, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All ques-tions are of the objective type.

Copies of the Bulletin of Information (with application form bound in), which gives details of registration and admin-istration, as well as sample questions, can be obtained from Fr. Reichart in Biology obtained from Fr. Reichart in Biology Department office, room 220, Albertus Magnus Hall, after March 1, or directly from Edu-cational Testing Service, 20 Nassay Street, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 18 and October 17, re-spectively for the May 2, and spectively for the May 2 and October 31 administrations.

College Convention Votes On Loan Allegiance Oath

The requirement of loyalty oaths for students receiving loan assistance was discussed at the meeting of the American the meeting of the American Association of Colleges, attend-ed by the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., President of Prov-idence College, on January 6, 8 The convention was held in Kansas City, Mimouri.

Held in connection with this onference was the meeting of he American Conference of the American the American Conference of Deans, attended by Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., of the College The theme of these meetings was "The Pursuit of Excel-lence."

At the meeting of the Amer ican Association of Colleges the main point of discussion was a section of the National Defense Education Act of 1958. This section of the Federal law requires students receiving loan assistance to sign a Communist-declaimer affidavit and to take an oath of allegiance. The 750 members of the Association are taking a mail-ballot, to be completed by February 1 on whether or not to urge Congress to repeal the section. The reason for the mail-ballot was that only one-third of the members were present.

Experienced in Thesis Work

Reasonable Rates

TEmple 1-3878

Doctor Boas Speaker Dr. George Boas of the Johns Hopkins University was the main speaker at the convention. Among the other discussions at the A.C.D. were speeches given on the subjects: Observation of Soviet Higher Education; Preparation of First Class Teachers; and College in the Dimension of Reality.

Dr. George D. Humphrey, president of the University of Wyoming, replaced William W. Whitehouse, head of Albion College, as the president of the American Association of Col-

R HASKINS PHARMACY

YOUR PRESCRIPTION CENTER

TWO REGISTERED PHARMACISTS ON DUTY

ALBERT F. LILLA, B.S., Ph.G., Prop.

895 SMITH STREET

ATTENTION CLASSES Providence College Brand Round Up Win: Imported - Olympic-OTA -- Hi-Fi Radio-Phono-Combination Who wins: Class which collects greatest number of Philip Morris-Parliament-Marlboro boxes between December 1st 1958-January 29th 1959. Rules: Each class MUST turn in complete collec-tion promptly at 7:00 p.m. January 29th Aquinas Hall Lounge. Prizes will be award-ed at SAME Time.

TYPIST

Mrs. J. Campanini

Continued from Page 2 and to Alma Mater. Smooth teamwork and high morale can teamwork and high morale can still prevail in spite of conflict in ideas or differences in opin-ion; in fact, progress sometimes demands this type of interaction.

"You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink." If other nags are drinking and enjoying the beverage, however. chances are that non-thirsty plug will join in the quaffing. "Social facilitation" as the psychologist calls it, en-hances or retards eating, drinking, learning or any other activi-ty. This is evident in the college situation. When the ma-jority are earnestly engaged in study and research even the sluggard stirs himself to emulate them. But the best can be brought out in a student only when he feels the full strength of a professor's and classmate's belief in his integrity and worth Then his self respect mounts and he tries to live up to the good opinion of others. He degood opinion of others. He de-velops the reliance and respon-sibility needed for success in learning. "Heart speaks to heart," says Cardinal Newman, and this must sometimes pre-cede the contact of mind with mind.

campus atmosphere rela-y free from emotional tively emotional clear the decks for serious sideration of matters of enquiry Attitudes of sympathy, friendly, ness and affection set the psy-chological climate of a class-room and create a mood which extends to all relations with in-dividuals on the campus. This rapport and empathy between student and student, and stu-dents and faculty, need not de-generate into a backslapping dents and lacaty, lice a backslapping mutual admiration society, nor should it ever give occasion for the organization of cliques.

.

The cohesiveness of any group is endangered by the formation of sub-groups whose formation of sub-groups where ends are at variance with the parent group. For instance, I have seen campus clubs at have seen campus clubs at more than one college usurp the college's place in the affec-tions of students and produce a divided loyalty. The clubs at Providence College, however, have always exhibited a social consciousness that places the welfare of the entire school ahead of the vested interests of any particular club. Indeed, it is to the glory of these clubs that they have always kept their purposes in line with the goals of the College, and have enhanced the name and com-mon good of the school by their praiseworthy activities. The clubs at the college have been, in the past and at present, nurseries where the seeds of college devotion are sown, seeds which ripen to the flourishing plant of true college loyalty.

This spirit of friendliness which spreads its beneficient in-fluence throughout the college is commensurate, moreover, with the demands of justice when it comes to handing out grades. No matter how you grades. No matter now you look at it, mental achievement seems to be the most valid criterion in giving a mark. It matters not if a student parti-cipates in the celebration of Mass each morning, if he market with remode military Mass each morning, if he marches with ramrod military bearing, if he scintillates in sports, if he doffs his hat, leans his nails, is married, has children, works his way through college or parts his hair straight down the middle of his head The College is most concerned about some of these things but they are not taken into ac count when the grade is com puted: they are irrelevant, more or less, to achievement.

Student initiative, religious practice, moral habits, effort, attitude, appearance and the like are very important, and will be most carefully con-sidered in any recommendation which are forth for more than the second which goes forth from Provi-dence College. But the student will be graded only on the basis of what he produces, not on what he tries to produce or what he would like to produce, or what his parents hope he produces. On this score, it is produces. quite possible for a student to get an "A" even if he looks like a gargoyle, picks his nose, bites his nails, has halitosis and fails to wash his neck. Charity would degenerate into wishy-washy indulgence if any other standard than achievement were used in assessing a student's academic worth.

Sociologists talk frequently about the we-feeling, about to-getherness, fellowship, belong-ingness. You may scoff at the terms if you wish, because they have been abused, and some-times refer to the submersion of the individual into the amor-phous mass of the group so that he loses his identity and individuality. Rightly conceived, individuality, Rightly concerven, however, these terms denote a reality essential to every so-ciety. They imply a bond of union without which any group usen deteriorates. At Provisoon deteriorates. At Provi-dence college the solidifying bonds are the spirit of charity and the devotion to truth. From these emerge everthing we call benevolence, respect, magnanimity, refinement, cor-diality, sincerity, cooperation, a feeling of pride in belonging to the College, a sense of loyalty to her traditions, to her stand-ards, to her ideals and her work in short, to all that she stands

Clubs Sponsor Seventh Annual Science Event

The Seventh Annual High School Science Day, sponsored by the Phi-Chi and Albertus Magnus clubs and Alpha Epsilon

Activities got under way with an assembly in A-100 and a tour of exhibits in the building, followed by a lecture—"Operation Plumbob"—by Rev. Walter A. Murtaugh, O.P., Head of the Physics Department.

Two movies, "Prospecting for Oil** and "History of the Helicopter," were shown prior to a supper in Alumni Hall. The ac-tivities closed with the attend-ing by the delegates of a basket-ball game in the gymnasium. e exhibits were as follows

Biology: 1. Medical Research

- Anatomy General Biology
- Embryology Bacteriology
- Physiology
- Chemistry:
- Inorganic Qualitative Analysis
  - Quantitative Analysis Organic Chemistry
- Physical Chemistry
- Physics:
- Optics General Physics
- Electronic
- Modern Physics
- Optics II Radio Station (WDOM)

-Congress

Continued from Page 1 osito. Secretary Michael Esposito, Secretary Esposito, Secretary Michael Trodden, and treasurer Matthew Barry. These men will repre-sent their class in the Congress until the regular Student Con-

The Blackstone Valley Club officially appealed the action of the Congress suspending the club for one month and fining them $20. The censure was de-livered for actions unbecoming a Providence College club. A rehearing of the case has been set for Tuesday, January 20, at 1:40 in the Congress office.

Two Motions Passed Two motions by Charles Me-Two motions by Charles Mc-Aree were passed unanimously. One provided for a permanent filing system for Congress bills, committee reports, etc. Persu-ant to this motion President Arthur Boucher appointed Mc-Aree Congress librarian, and Grady and Albert Gellene as assistant librarians.

McAree's other motion con-cerned the makeup of the Vigilante Committee enforcing fresh-men beanie regulations. Under men beanie regulations. Under terms of this proposal one junior and one sophomore will serve as co-chairmen and the rest of the committee will be equally composed of juniors and sophomores. The committee, at the discretion of the co-chairmen, may be changed every two weeks until the Freshman Liberation dance.

Boucher praised the edi-torial appearing in last week's Cowl on the reorganization of regional clubs. The Con-gress discussed possible speakers for compulsory student as-semblies, but no action was taken

After passing a motion by Stephen Kelly, asking the Ad-ministration to reconsider the granting of a two-day semester break following final exams, the Congress meeting was adjourned at 8:55.

Ski Club

President Donald Freund of the Ski Club has announced that the club will meet this evening in room 311 at 7:30 p.m.

why the smart switch is to the '59 Chevrolet practical slant, HI-THRIFT 6: NOW-PROMPT DELIVERY! ROOMIER BODY BY FISHER:

features wider seats and more luggage space. MAGIC-MIRROR FINISH: keeps its shine without vaxing for up to three years. NEW BIGGER BRAKES: better NEI cooled with deeper drums, up to 66% longer life. OVERHEAD CURVED WINDSHIELD and bigger windows-all of Safety Plate Glass. SLIMLINE DESIGN: fresh, fine and fashionable with a up to 10% more miles per gallon. eight to VIM-PACKED V8's: choose from, with compression ratios ranging up to 11.25 to 1. FULL COIL SUSPENSION: further refined for a smoother, steadier ride on any kind of road. One short drive and you'll know the smart switch is to Chevy. Come in and be our guest for a pleasure test first chance you get.

Stepped-up shipments have assured you a wide choice of models and colors. We can promise prompt delivery-and it's an ideal time to buy!

A Study On Ice

JOHNNY ON THE SPOT was photographer Al Tenn who, in the first of this column of shots, snapped Joe Barlie's his toric tally against Boston University, Saturday, at the Auditorium. Tenn goi good results throughout the game and the above are the highlights of that night's play.

THE COWL, JANUARY 14, 1959

Exceptional Club Height Has Frosh On Winning Way

By Pete Costigan

Tomorrow night the Providence freshman basketball squad will journey to Franklin, Mass, for a game with Dean Academy. Coach Jackie Allen feels that his squad has improved greatly since the beginning of the season and believes it will continue to improve.

thing or the season and believes it will continue to improve. Comparing this year's freshmen team to the teams of the past two seasons, he said this year's squad lacks the balance of the two previous years. Two years ago, John Woods, Len Wilkens, and Wally DiMasi paced a squad that had everything, height, speed, shooting, defense and enough color to make them a bigger attration than the varity squad.

make them a bigger attration than the varity squad. Last year, the squad lacked height, but again possessed speed, shooting, defense, and enough color to draw the crowds out early enough to take in both the freshman and varsity contests.

This year, the team is dominated by height. Jim Hadnot, 6' 10 1.2'', and Tom Nyrie 6' 6'', lead a squad that is exceptionally tall. It is probably one of the few freshmen teams in the nation which almost dwarf their varity counterparts.

Of course, the freshmen team is not dedicated solely to itself; it is designed to supply the varsity with material for future seasons, and what better gift could Joe Mullaney receive for his birthday next November than a 6' 10 1/2 hoopster to add to his squad, which lacks only height for greatness.

ster to add to ins squad, which lacks only height for greatness. Discussing "Big Jim" Hadnot, Allen called him an outsanding big basketballer. He lauded both his talents and his temperment as giving him the potential to be a future great. When asked if Hadnot was still growing, Allen said: "I never heard of an 18-year-old boy who had stopped growing."

growing, Atten said. I nerve heard of an 18-year-old boy who had stopped growing." Allen believes that Hadnot will be a certain varsity starter next year and a most valuable addition to the varsity squad. As a propher, Allen has fared well since assuming his coaching position at PC. At the end of last season, he said that John Egan would start this year, and Tim Moynahan, Den Guimares, and Rich Holtheimer would all make the varsity squad. All four fulfilled his expectations.

Huskies And Aces Fall To Friars But Disorganization Wins For BU

By JOHN J. HURLEY

The Providence hockey team emerged from last week's games with two wins and one loss, to bring their overall record for the season to 4-6-1. The games were marked by an abundance of goals, and a show of massive disorganization.

disorganization. Saturday night was an evening which the team would like to forget. Flaying against a well coached, hustling, and hard-checking Terrior team from Boston University, the Friars were buried under an unbelievable 94 score.

Miss Early Chances

Missing valuable chances in the opening minutes, the Friars allowed Marquis & Co. to go ahead 30 by the end of the first period. At the start of the second period, however, the Friars rebounded with two quick goals by the hot Peter Bergen.

period. At the start of the second period, however, the Friars rebounded with two quick goals by the hot Peter Bergen. Now for some equally unexplainable reason, the third line saw service for about five straight minutes. While the other hot lines remained on the bench, the Terriers came back with two goals to hike the total to 5-2. Coach Eccleston now saw fit to pull off the exhausted line, a case of locking the barn door after the horse had been stolen.

Keongh, Barile Score All desire having been driven from them, only late goals by Barile and Keongh prevented the final 94 score from appearing too execrable. In the only sad point of Dorm Weekend, the revelers were forced to witness a mediocre team, with the exceptions of Marquis and Creighton, skate all over some of the best hockey material in the East.

Harry Cleverly must be a pretty good coach.

A. 1.C. Massare On Thursday evening in Springfield, it was a different story, as PC skated at will around helpless A. 1.C. In the 14.1 massacre, the Keough, Barie, Bergen line again shone as Bergen scored the hat trick, Barile received five assists, and Keough scored another goal along with his four assists, Exeryone got into the act, with Jim O'Cain and Ray Labbe each connecting for two, in the bombardment of the weakly defended Aces' goalie. While there were 48 saves to the goalie's credit in the first two periods, count was lost in the equally ferocious thrd. a 4-0 lead late in the third period, the Friars seemed headed toward an easy victory over the Northeastern Huskies. After soph Joe Keough had contributed two more goals to the cause, fellow linesman Pete Bergen shot in the third. Defenseman and captain George Boudreau then connected for the final woal from the blue line.

near connected for the final goal from the blue line. However, then for some unexplained reason, lines were shifted and within about five minutes the Huskies had scored three quick goals, with the help of ace Art Chisholm. Although the panic button was now pressed, the team was just able to maintain the 43 edge when the welcome game-ending light went on.

Hoop Team Tops Gymnasts, 68-57

Providence College won its eighth victory of the season as it turned back a spunky, never-say-die Springfield College five sturday night 68-57 in a game played at the Gymmasts' home court before an almost capacity crowd of 2500 fans.

Strong rebounding by John Woods and Pete Schementi, a more than capable relief job by Dick Whelan, another sterling performance by John Egan, and the fine playmaking of Len Wilkens and Jim Swartz were featured as the Friars led from the thirteen minute mark of the first half by a margin which varied from four to twelve points.

which varied from four to twelve points. Hampered by an injured ankle, Wilkens was replaced in the starting line-up by Tim Moynahan. After entering the game late in the first half, Wilkens played the remainder of the till and once, fast breaking with Captain Swartz, brought the crowd to its feet with an amazing display of ball-handling and faking.

and faking. High scorer for the Black and White was "Space" Egan, who contributed 23 points to the PC cause.

On Tuesday evening, sporting

BC Hosts PC In Crucial Contest

Boston College will play host to Joe Mullaney's current candidates for basketball supremacy in New England this Saturday, when Providence travels to Boston for their first appearance in the Eagles' new gymnasium. The game will be preceded by a freshman contest which will begin at 6:30.

The contest should prove to be one of the toughest on the remainder of the PC schedule, particularly with the Eagles trying to avenge their defeat in the finals of the Providence Invitational Tournament.

Invitational Tournament. BC will probably use the same starting lineup as they used in the first meeting of the two clubs; seniors George Giersch. Barry McGrath, John Magee, and sophomores Kevin Loughery and Chuck Chevalier. Giersch and McGrath are the big men on the squad at 6 6" and 6 5". Magee is the possessor of a deadly outside shot, Loughery is setting the scoring pace with a 17 point average, and Chevalier is a playmaker and ball handler who has been compared to Bob Cousy.

Tickets for the BC-PC hoop contest Sat. night will be on sale until Thursday noon, Jan. 15. Prices are $1.00 for students and $2.50 for reserved.

and $2.50 for reserved. Tickets for the Villanova game of Jan. 24 will be on sale until noon on Friday, Jan. 23. Prices are $1.25 for students and $2.50 for reserved.

A possible highlight of the game could be a duel between sophomores Chuck Chevalier and John Egan. Last year, as freshman stars, the two put on two such duels, but in the Friars' tourney this year, Egan scored 25 points while Chevalier collected only one field goal. Fouls Hurt

The contest promises to be exciting as BC was hampered by fouls in the previous game. Their two big men were in trouble during much of the game, and Loughery sat out most of the first half. He finished the game with 17 points in spite of his limited action and in one streak, cut a Providence lead of 62-48 to 62-55 with 7 consecutive points. BC's record is not as impres-

BC's record is not as impressive as the Friars 8-2 slate, but most of their losses have been to teams of the calibre of St. Bonaventure's and NYU. When the question of New

When the question of New England hoop supremacy comes to mind, the names of five teams follow: Holy Cross, U-Conn, Dartmouth, BC, and PC. Each has some claim to the crown at the moment.