FRESHMEN TO BE ADMITTED IN JANUARY

Program Planned To Prepare Students For Military Leadership

Dean Says Student Has Personal Obligation to Develop Talents

Providence College will open its doors to admit a new Freshman class in January, the Rev. Arthur H. Chandler, O.P., dean, announced today. High school seniors who graduate in January will be eligible for admission to the new term. "Decision has not yet been reached," Dean Chandler stated, "concerning the acceptance of high school students who would otherwise qualify for college acceptance but who have not actually been graduated from high school."

Fr. Chandler pointed out that for many years past Providence College has received inquiries and requests for January admission from students who had completed their high school requirements in the mid-term session. "We feel that the College has an obligation to high school graduates who chose for themselves and are qualified to pursue a college course which will prepare them for military leadership," he said. The new program will permit the completion of at least one full year of college work before students attain their eighteenth birthday.

With the scheduling of the next Freshman year to begin in January rather than in September of next year as previously announced Providence College will set up a Freshman Year whose calendar and program will be—

42 Graduate Passes Away

Daniel F. Grady, who received his bachelor of philosophy degree from Providence College at his bedside in Rhode Island Hospital last May, died at his home, 58 Wealth avenue, last evening of a lingering illness. The Rev. Frederick C. Foley, O.P., acting dean, presented the diploma in the name of the Providence College Corporation in a quiet private ceremony on May 12, the day after the Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, D.D., Bishop of Providence, presented 113 degrees to Grady's classmates in Harkins Hall. Grady had completed his course for the degree but was unable to take the final examinations.

Present when Grady received the degree were his mother, his sister and two aunts, and Dr. Edward A. McLaughlin, State Director of Health, and James S. Lynch, Rhode Island Jury Commissioner.

Grady was a graduate of La Salle Academy, entering Providence College in September, 1938. In his Sophomore year at the college he was a member of the Cowl circulation staff. During his last illness several Providence College students were blood donors for the necessary transfusions. A bouquet of flowers was sent to his bedside from the college only last Saturday. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

P. C. Senior Officers

Senior Class to Adhere To Traditional Ceremonies

Exams, Exercises, Dances To Highlight Remain- ing Weeks

The Senior Class is busily engaged in preparing for its graduation activities. At the Senior Class meeting yesterday the Dean of Studies, the Rev. Arthur H. Chandler, O.P., announced that the basic, traditional commencement ceremonies will be adhered to as long as they do not interfere with the war effort.

Senior candidates for degrees will be invested with their caps and gowns at the Cap and Gown Day Exercises on November 25th. The exercises will begin with a solemn high Mass in the auditorium. This Mass will serve as a thanksgiving Mass for the benefactors of the college. It will be celebrated by Senior Class Moderator, the Rev. William Clark, O.P. After the Mass the president of the college, the Rev. John J. Dillon, O.P., will address the newly investor Senior Class. Due to the weather the procession on the campus grounds will probably be cancelled. However, the other basic features of class day will be retained. Charles F. Cottam ranking senior will deliver the campus day address.

Tree Located Near the Flag Pole

By DICK CAMPBELL

Now it can be told—a real, honest-to-goodness apple tree right here on the campus.

A rumor being circulated within the past week needed a little investigating, I thought, and sure enough, it was true. First impressions were that P. C. was going in for Victory Gardening—doing its part in the war effort and "all stuff like that there."

But by delving further into the matter (and by a little bribery), I discovered the exact location of the tree. I might add here, before the crowds start rushing, that they are crab apples.

The information had been withheld by all those who knew of it until the tree was sufficiently devoid of its fruit to prevent the student (Continued on Page 2)

RESERVE TO GIVE PHYSICAL EXAMS

Drs. Reilly and Burns Will Head Staff of Physi- cians

Providence College is conducting two days of physical examinations for over fifty students applying for enlistment in the Army Reserve, beginning at 8 o'clock this morning and continuing through tomorrow.

Dr. Edwin B. O'Reilly and Dr. Frederick J. Burns, school physicians, will head the staff of five physicians conducting the examinations.

Assisting them will be Dr. John Myrick, Dr. Francis M. McCaffrey, and Dr. Gustave Motto.

Lt. John E. Powers, U.S.A., in charge of the traveling recruiting board will supervise the enlistments.

On his staff are Sgt. Alfred Manghan, Sgt. John Malone, Corp. Stanley Leven, and Corp. Reg. Chase.

Eight women, Bryant College Seniors, will assist with the clerical work.

Foreign Policy Group to Meet

The R. I. Branch of the Foreign Association will inaugurate its eighteenth annual series of foreign affairs discussions tonight at 8 o'clock in Sayles Hall, Brown University.

Miss Vera Micheles Dean will address the group on "Russia's Voice at the Peace Table." Miss Dean is Research Director of the Foreign Policy Association. She is a recognized authority on Russia, having specialized in Russian and Italian affairs and in problems of Russian diplomacy in general.

The Rev. Charles H. McKenna, O.P., is in charge of the Providence College group of the F.P.A. P. C. will be represented at the discussion by John Davitt, Richard Danilowicz, and Andre Mandeville.

The first meeting of the association will be open, without charge, to the public; the association wishing to acquaint the general public with its work.

Mr. Five By Five Breaks Up Popular Swing Organization

By JOE ANLAUF

Shortly after P. C.'s coming graduation Uncle Sam's army will receive one of the top-flight sax players in the East. Wet or dry he tips the scales at 300 pounds. He plays a terrific sax and for the past five years has fronted a band that is strictly in the groove.

Sure, you all know who we're talking about. This gentleman of jive is none other than our own Tiny Quinn. The well-received appearance of Tiny's band at last week's Soph Hop was their final engagement at P.C. for the

QUEEN SELECTED

Les Brown and His Orches- tra Will Broadcast Over New England Hook-up

Providence College Juniors got ready today for the annual Junior Promenade, the last for the duration, which will be held on Monday night, November 23rd, in the ballroom of the Hotel Biltmore in downtown Providence, with Les Brown and his orchestra.

Among the highlights of the evening will be the crowning of the queen, Miss Dorothy Ann Carrigan of Providence, who will be escorted by John Sormanti, Jr., prom chairman. Miss Carrigan will be presented with a silver loving cup by Paul A. Cavanaugh, junior class president.

A special souvenir edition of the Cowl will be distributed to the dancers at the Prom. In addition, there will be the regular program folder. Tentative plans have been made for a New England network broadcast.

Invited guests are Senator Theodore Francis Green and Chief Justice Edmund Flynn. The list of patrons and patronesses are Governor and Mrs. J. Howard McGrath, Honorable Dennis J. Roberts, Dr. Daniel J. O'Neill, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Quirk, Professor and Mrs. Joseph J. Hanley, and Professor and Mrs. George A. Kenney.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Lionel J. Landry, Professor John W. Maroney, Professor Morris J. Timlin, Professor Joseph D. Murphy, Professor and Mrs. Riley Hughes, Mr. John F. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Crotty, Dr. Frederick J. Burns, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. O'Reilly, and Irene Pietraszek.

Members of the Prom committee are Arthur C. McGill, Pittsfield, Mass.; James F. Shiel, Providence; Frank W. Cross, Washington, R. I.; Frank L. Larkin, and Thomas F. McGuire, both of Fall River, Mass.; and Charles C. Goodman, Newport.

duration. As necessity demands Tiny will soon break up his organization and join such fellow leaders as Glen Miller, Abe Lyman, and Artie Shaw who are now serving the old gentleman with the long white beard.

T. Q. has certainly made a name for himself here at P. C. Tiny hails from Hartford, Conn., where, in his high school days, he was a star athlete and the "big man" in the local band that had all Hartford singing its praises. Because of his never-failing personality, it didn't take Tiny long to become "one of the gang" upon his coming to P. C.

OUR GREAT SENATE

Lucky we are, that the conduct of the United States Southern Senators is not indicative of the general American attitude to the war effort. Yet, even in a small minority, such a turn of events has shown that in a democracy a minority can really become a majority.

This transformation from potency to act which is occurring during the present filibuster in the United States Senate has virtually given this minority the means to hinder all legislation vital to the war effort.

The arguments against the bill itself has shown nothing but intolerance, ignorance, and stupidity.

Senator Bilbo advocate of sending the negro to Liberia, proclaims himself a friend of the negroes and gargles his throat for curious news photographers while negroes are joining the armed services to fight for America.

True, the problem in the south is a touchy one which cannot be understood by most northerners. Nevertheless, the Emancipation Proclamation was passed some time ago and there is something called a Bill of Rights which is supposed to be a part of our constitution.

The negro probably is not fitted by education to exercise his right of suffrage judiciously at this time. Yet, shipping him to Liberia, treating him as a slave is not the same for sane Christian gentlemen.

Bilbo talks, and the Senate listens. Yes, gentlemen and Rome burns.

College Gossip

By Jack Brady

P. C. was well represented at the local Proms during the past week. Prom trotters were Adolf Motta, John Lynch, Bill Griffin, John Stafford, Jerry Madden, John Pattington, Tom Casserly, Charley Goodman, all were seen at the R.I.C.E. Junior Prom. Oh, yes! Also Tom (me Too) McCormick.

Oswald Cinquegrama will attend the Pembroke Junior Prom tonight. Oswald is the best egg flipper at Gibson's. (Service with an alka-seltzer is his motto.)

Andre Manderville eats a carrot each day with his lunch. He is trying to join the French Air Force.

Yesterday Ray Varone, guest teacher in Doctor J. O'Neill's English course on the Essay, was roughly treated by his "Pupils".

Led by Morton Hoffman the class made things most uncomfortable for the Student Teacher. Although Varone was well prepared (but not for such a reception) he was forced to exert extreme control. The result was to quote Dr. O'Neill: "This class is probably the most antagonistic in the World." All in all, Ray made the most of a tough situation.

The huge sign over the auditorium balcony is a swell reminder of the Junior Prom. It received the Praise of a Major in the army who was passing through the auditorium with Father Kemmey.

John Sharkey and Charley Cottam will be ushers at the Prom. (Some bouncers!)

Ray Vandewalle is leading a delegation from Woonsocket to the Prom. He has promised rides to almost everyone who will attend the dance Monday night.

Frank Larkin is escorting a blind date to the Prom.

Dorm Diary

By Joe Anlauf

Basketball season has finally arrived and so all the campus boys are sharpening up for the big time as well as intermurals. Coach Bob Reilly saw his P.C. Independents romp over their first opponents and is going to try to get a Garden bid.

As yet he has nothing to say to the press, but if anyone is interested in obtaining tickets he may see Bob. The Aquinas basketballers won their first game in the school tourney as did Guzman Hall.

Dave Turbidy is working at Waldorf's, and doing a swell business. His birthday was this week. Ed Roth broke into the news again this week in the Springfield Daily Bugle with a picture no less.

A flock of the fellows are now employed at Gladdings. Turk Parise fractured his wrist in the inter-club tourney, but is doing alright now. Seems as if everyone is going to the Junior Prom and it ought to be quite an affair.

Tiny Quinn has an inter-mural team now composed of Reges, Monteleone, Condon, Rizzuto, and company. Wonder where Michaud gets those things he calls cigars—or are they? Well, be good for now and see you at the Prom Monday Night.

Have a nice Thanksgiving!

About one hundred yards to the right of the flag pole, facing Harkins Hall, you will find a bench. Five paces to the right is located "the source of America's strength", together with a few of the victims whose bodies have not yet been removed.

The Department of Agriculture is reported considering Providence College as the potential headquarters for the "Crab Apple for Victory Club", because of the great progress made thus far with our orchard.

The species of apple found in this fertile region has been formally named the "Providence College Crab" (Any similarity between the name of the apple and the people who eat them, is purely coincidental.)

INTRAMURAL HOOP TEAMS VIE FOR COVETED LEAGUE TITLE

Rockets, Five By Fives, Guzman Monsters All Win First Games

In the opening game of the present intramural basketball season, the Aquinas Rockets surprised and eliminated the Chem Club, 31-24. Although the losers held a one point advantage at the half time intermission, the Rockets came back fast and overtook the Chemists, mainly on the strength of the many set shots they threw in from outside the foul line. The actual difference between victory and defeat was the fact that the Hall boys chalked up 8 points on foul shooting. For the victors, Frank Parise played a steady game in the back court, while for the Chem Club Frank McNamara and Jack Archer were outstanding.

In Wednesday's first engagement the Five by Fives walked all over the Springfield Indians, 54-16. While his mates were scalping the hapless Indians, Ed Routhier was amassing a total of 18 points. The winners had little trouble from the start and scored almost at will in spite of the excellent play of O'Halloran of the losing team.

The second game on the Wednesday card witnessed the Guzman Monsters defeat of the La Salle Club 31-23.

Crottymen Point For Springfield

Although his team was functioning to good advantage in the scrimmages during the latter part of the week, Coach Ed Crotty expressed a slight disappointment at their progress thus far. Pointing out that Springfield has the very same team with which it upset the Friars a year ago, Crotty said that plenty of work was needed during the next two weeks if the Varsity was to roll into the State game undefeated.

Especially encouraging has been the work of the big freshman Martin, his aggressiveness and all around ability making him a leading candidate for a first string berth. Ferdie Sowa, who was hampered all last season by illness is also coming into his own at the present time. Possessing a wonderful shooting eye, Sowa's special delight is the running shot from the foul line.

Eagle Eye McConnon, last year's contender for New England scoring laurels is gradually working up to the point where he left off last season. Big Ben Paglioroli has also been very impressive thus far, his tall rugged form proving almost invincible under the boards.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

First select the winners by placing a check (X) after the name of the team, and then write in your score of the Notre Dame-Northwestern game.

Selections must be placed in the Cowl mail box before 3 o'clock this afternoon to be eligible for the prize of theatre tickets.

Pass Required For Home Games

The Athletic Office announced that in order to attend the home basketball games of the coming season, all students who have not already done so must purchase the Student Pass Book. The pass books which were issued during the summer are still good. The books are not transferable and can be purchased for ten cents from the Athletic Office.

Committee Goes All Out To Insure Success Of Program

While Coach Pete Louthis expressed his complete satisfaction over the rapidity with which his charges were rounding into form, members of the Monogram Club announced that plans for the mammoth boxing show on the seventh of December were almost complete. The fifteen contenders are working out faithfully in the Guzman Hall ring and it was believed that all men will be in top condition for the title matches. So rapid has been the progress of the fighters during the past weeks that Louthis stated that he would soon begin to pair off the individual candidates.

Although a complete list of the men who will oppose each other in the various classification will not be released for at least a week, the name of those boxers who are already undergoing the training sessions follow: Maurice Fagan (118); Malio Izzo (124); John Farley (128); Eugene Leci (130); Grossi (130); Walsh (150); Quatieur (150); Reges (150); Needham (150); Elmer Smith (150); Carbone (150); Montecahu, J. He also announced that Tommy Masse and his orchestra will supply the music for the occasion. Junior Class Officers are to be the guests of the Senior Class at the affair.

After senior exams which end the 12th of December, the Senior Class will enter into a spiritual retreat at the chapel at Aquinas Hall. This will take place during the week before graduation. "It will be," Father Chandler said, "the time in which seniors will be able to prepare themselves by close union with God for their all-important tasks to come in the armed services."
