Integration and Belonging Hub Worcester Refugee Workshop

Designed for academics and students from Worcester colleges and universities, Clark University invites you to our first full day collaborative Worcester Refugee Workshop!

Participants will have the opportunity to hear from practitioners in resettlement, and other agencies, historians, refugee advocates, and local researchers partnered with refugee communities! The workshop focuses on the changing ideas of who is considered a refugee, current national policies, local practices of refugee settlement and integration, and ethics and methods of research and community engagement.

Topics:

Session I: History and Context- Worcester & Central Mass

Session II: Mapping and Counter-Mapping of Forced Migration in Worcester

Session III: Methods and Ethics of Community-engaged Work with Refugees

Lunch is included. Registration is free

Monday, September 22, 2022, at Tilton Hall Clark University!
8.30 am to 4.45 pm est.
