First Bryant "Brotherhood Week" Starts Today

The Bryant College Inter-Faith Council will sponsor its first annual Brotherhood Week program on campus March 26 through March 29. A discussion of "World Brotherhood," a student forum on "Religion and the College Student Today," and a student assembly meeting to answer the question "What Faces You Religiously in 1952?" will feature this four-day observance designed to bring about a better understanding of brotherhood to Bryant's freshmen and upper classmen.

Bryant's four religious organizations—the Bryant College Christian Association, the Canterbury Club, Hillel Counselorship, and the Newman Club—will combine in sponsoring the entire Brotherhood Week program.

A trio of local religious leaders will usher in this college-wide brotherhood program tonight at 7:45 with a discussion of "World Brotherhood." Guest speakers will be Rabbi Nathan Rosen, Director of Hillel Foundation, Brown University; Captain John D. Zimmerman, Chief Chaplain, Chaplain Training School, Newport; and Mr. Cooke, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Pawtucket. The affair will be held in the Bryant Auditorium.

Chairman for the evening's activities will be Herman MacDonald, President of the Canterbury Club.

Dancing and Refreshments
Those attending this initial Brotherhood Week observance will enjoy a program of dancing following the "World Brotherhood" discussions. Refreshments will be served by members of the Bryant Inter-Faith Council.

A student forum will highlight Thursday's Brotherhood Week activities.

Four Bryant students selected from each of the religious organizations on campus will lead a discussion on "Religion and the College Student Today." All students are invited to attend this symposium led by Marvin Cohen, Hillel Counselorship; Garry Coleman, the Newman Club; Robert Dobbins, Bryant Christian Association; and Herman MacDonald, the Canterbury Club.

Jack Donoghue, President of the Newman Club, is chairman of the Thursday student forum.

Student Assembly Friday

The entire student body is invited to attend an hour-long assembly in the auditorium on Friday when three other religious leaders will discuss the vitally important question: "What Faces You Religiously in 1952?"

Leading the discussion will be Rabbi Abraham Chill, Mr. Calvin S. Malefyt, and Mr. Jonathan N. Mitchell.

Rabbi Chill is head of the Congregation of Sons of Abraham, Providence; Mr. Malefyt is a student minister at the Park Street Church,

Five Students Figure Prominently in Promoting Brotherhood Week Program

The Inter-Faith Council is thought of simultaneously with Kenny Kopelman. The I. F. C. is Kenny's baby. Last year when he was President of Hillel, Ken thought of the advantages of combining the four religious organizations. His purpose was not just to strengthen the individual clubs but to bring about a better understanding among them.

After a year of effort and success, Kenny as Chairman, is easily the backbone of the organization promoting Brotherhood Week. As the "Archway" goes to press, Kenny is home with the measles, but he hopes to be back for "Brotherhood Week."

Al Lang has been an active and interested member of the Inter-Faith Council since the idea was first thought of. Last year as President of the Bryant Christian Association, Al was one of the most active students among those endeavoring to initiate plans for "Brotherhood Week." Among his other interests is his fraternity, Alpha Theta Chi, of which he is the President.

He has been a member of the Student Senate for three semesters and of the Greek Letter Council for two semesters. Al also plays an important part in "Brotherhood Week," as he is the chairman of the Saturday night dance.

Bob Dobbins, President of the Bryant Christian Association, comes to Bryant from Colby College in Waterville, Maine. Bob's campus activities are many and varied. He is an active member of Phi Sigma Nu, the B. C. A., and the International Relations Club. He played basketball not only with his fraternity, but also with the B. A. C.'s

His part in "Brotherhood Week" is an important one. He is a student speaker on Thursday, and emcee of the entertainment at the Saturday night dance.

Chuck Leavitt, President of Hillel, has applied a great helping hand in the organization of "Brotherhood Week." In Ken Kopelman's absence Chuck has taken over the Chairmanship of the Inter-Faith Council. He has worked along with the rest of the council and is one of their greatest assets.

Chuck is only in his second semester, but already he has literally taken over. He is an active member of Sigma Lambda Pi and the B. A. Society. Chuck is the chairman for the (Continued on Page 2)

Spotlight on the Faculty . . . . .

This is the seventh of a series of articles about members of the teaching staff of Bryant College. In an attempt to acquaint the student body with the personalities and achievements of the faculty, the Archway takes pleasure in presenting Miss Lucille Gotsell, Mr. George W. Bates, and Mr. Ralph S. Handy.

Miss Lucille Gotsell has been affiliated with Bryant College ever since she came here as a student.

She came here from Connecticut for one year but soon decided to make it two years. This too proved to be insufficient, and a switch to the Teacher-Training Course was decided upon. Still, she couldn't leave her Alma Mater; so after graduating in 1947, Miss Gotsell decided to make it permanent and she became a member of the Bryant teaching staff that September.

The chief reason for the fame of the Bryant College Bureau of Business Research may be said to be Mr. George W. Bates.

An industrious nature, energetic personality, and an analytical mind, along with considerable experience as a consultant in the retailing field have fulfilled this man's dream of an active Bureau of Business Research at Bryant College. Professor Bates is an active member of the American Marketing Assoc., New England Chapter, is serving on the

The head of the English Department of Bryant College is beloved by all.

Professor Ralph S. Handy is the author of "Business English in Practice," "Business Correspondence in Practice," and co-author of the "Bryant Handbook," the bible of the Secretarial Classes. Well-qualified for his position as head of the English Departments of both Business Administration and Secretarial Departments, Professor Handy received both his B.B.A. and M.B.A.

Editorial

Perhaps it will be well at this time to extend our hearty congratulations and a sincere "well-done" to those who have made possible the first annual Brotherhood Week at Bryant College. The program for Brotherhood Week was arranged by Chairman Kenneth Kopelman and Secretaries Ronny Rothchild and Ann Dowling. The various presidents of the religious organizations which make up Bryant's Inter-Faith Council are Herman MacDonald of the Canterbury Club, Jack Donoghue of the Newman Club, Charles Leavitt of the Hillel Club, and Bob Dobbins of the Bryant Christian Association. Under the leadership of these four students, the Inter-Faith Council has arranged an outstanding program in conjunction with the first annual Brotherhood Week. It seems to us even more noteworthy that this fine program has been initiated and planned entirely through the efforts of the Inter-Faith Council. Since Brotherhood Week, and particularly brotherhood, play such an important part in our American way of life, this first annual Brotherhood Week at Bryant takes an even added significance. Let us hope that through the vigorous efforts of these people, our student body will attain a greater understanding of BROTHERHOOD.

Popular with her classmates, she was president of her sorority, Sigma Lambda Theta; of her dorm, Bryant Hall; and of the Secretarial Class. An excellent student, she was on the Dean's List, won the Key, and was second in her class.

Noted for her keen mind, and good nature, Miss Gotsell abides by the creed, "It's just one of those things."

at Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts.

Possessed with a great amount of energy, industry, and initiative, he has often remarked that he has lived for but one thing—to correct papers. But that is in firm accord with his philosophy of life, "Hard work wins out in the end."

Mr. Bates

Membership Committee of the National Retail Dry Goods Assoc., and keeps well informed through his close association with the Mountain Store Engineering Service.

A graduate of American International College, of Springfield, Massachusetts, Prof. Bates is now working for his M.B.A. at Boston University. Even here his strong sense of duty appears: he relinquishes time which he could be using for courses leading to his degree and takes other courses which he feels can be helpful to him in his work.

When he does manage to find a little spare time, Professor Bates likes to spend it with his seven months old son. His busy life is proof of his belief: "Success through hard work."

Challenging Opportunities Emphasized by College Dean

Challenging opportunities for parents and teachers to meet today's educational needs were related by Dean Elmer C. Wilbur of Bryant College on the evening of March 4 at a meeting of the Aldrich School Parent-Teachers Association in Fall River, Massachusetts.

Dean Wilbur stressed the urgency of helping the child to develop positive attitudes and personal discipline so that he can become a worthy contributor to the society in which he will grow.

"Our new frontiers of expansion in better human relationship are on our home fronts. The responsibility of both teachers and parents is necessary if the desired results toward better communities are to be attained," he said. He warned parents against over security as a panacea to cure all social ills which lead to the softening of the moral fibers of society.

Mr. Wilbur is a professor of education and Dean of Admissions at Bryant College.

Guests present included Mrs. Hyman Sacknoff, chairman of State publications of the Fall River Parent-Teacher Association Council; Mrs. Wilbur and Miss Adele L. Yonnis, instructor at Bryant College.

The attendance banner was awarded to Miss Mary Harrington's fourth grade class. Mrs. Margaret Cahill, Mrs. Tanous Karam and Mrs. Yvette A. Hajer are co-chairmen for the April meeting. Refreshments were served by the mothers of the third grade pupils. Mrs. Louis Lataif presided at the session.

Boston, and a chaplain to all students in the Greater Boston area; Mr. Mitchell is Provincial Head of College Work in the First Province.

Charles Leavitt, President of Hillel Counselorship, will head the Brotherhood observances on Friday on behalf of the Inter-Faith Council.

Winding up the three-day Brotherhood Week will be a dance scheduled for the evening of Saturday, March 29.

Highlighting this social gathering which follows three days of brotherhood discussions will be a three-quarter hour entertainment program.

Entertainment Program

Robert Dobbins will emcee this brief interlude, and will introduce Bob George, Mike Marek, and Jack Moriarity, several of Bryant's top entertainers.

Lou Carle and his orchestra will be featured at this Brotherhood Week Dance scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m. in the Bryant Auditorium. Admission will be seventy-five cents. All proceeds will be turned over to a local charity.

Al Lang, President of the Bryant Christian Association, will serve as chairman of the Brotherhood Dance committee.

The Bryant College Inter-Faith Council plans to make this week's four-day Brotherhood Week program the first of what will become an annual religious event on campus.

For several months now each of the Inter-Faith Council members has attempted to sponsor various individual religious programs open to the entire student body.

Plan Future Programs

Both the Newman Club and Hillel Counselorship presented such programs earlier in the semester. The Canterbury Club and the Bryant Christian Association contemplate their own individual meetings in the future.

But the Brotherhood Week observance next week marks the first major campus-wide symposium on Brotherhood to be sponsored by the four groups.

The Inter-Faith Council, comprising Bryant's four religious organizations, also sponsors a freshman reception each semester. At this time, the Council invites new students, as well as upper classmen, to affiliate themselves with the religious organization of their choice.

This for Now . . . . .

By Norma Slocum

How do ya like that! Nobody would be responsible for this column in the last issue! Nope, no by-line appeared. Guess you're only supposed to admit your "guilt" for the composing of articles of literary and publishing value! Sounds like a pretty good description of the contents of our informative campus carrier of policies, parties, proposals, and purposes. You're in agreement, aren't you, with these words of justified commendation? It's a pleasure and an honor to devote some print of this humble two-column "filler" to extolling the fervent concern and efforts of all those participating in the compiling and final issuance of the "Archway." Its constant endeavor and desire is to provide you—its readers—with complete, up-to-the-minute details on what happened yesterday, what deserves your attention today, and what you have to look forward to tomorrow. This, however, is evident without mention.

And among these coming events is included the Spring Formal, April 4. Whereas we helped Santa usher in the Yuletide season with our gala Christmas Formal, we, consequently, are not going to let the Easter bunny down by ignoring his call to get in the swing of spring by ushering in his season with an equally festive Easter formal. And remember, boys, "the early bird gets the worm." Heed the moral not the morsel involved in this recommendation and perhaps that girl you think is so nice is available for the evening of the fourth of April. Don't wait too long, or . . .

The following is just a jotting dedicated (obviously) to the male members of our student body who find housekeeping requires a portion of their "study hour." But, being unaccustomed to tending to such matters, probably the barest minimum of time is devoted to them—and then that much only because the supply of eating utensils becomes easily exhausted.

Washing dishes, making beds,

And then preparing chow—

Such household tasks we find done

By Bryant's bachelors now.

The work's not bad, they'll admit

But oh, the dishpan hands.

The meals will do, they'll agree

But oh, the endless cans.

While in college, they'll endure

These ups and downs of life,

But even so, you see 'tis plain

What they need is a wife!

It seems that after a quick scanning of the March 14 issue of the paper, I find that—speaking of scanning—no one has scanned this semester's Senate meetings. Well, may I? (For this, I cannot await an answer, for I'm constantly reminded that there's a deadline to meet; and tomorrow has been named). Back to the Senate, we find that at the first session, which was specially called, the student representatives to the newly formed Committee on Student Activities were elected. They are Senators Ann Dowling and Jim Dunn, with Senator Al Lang as the alternate. Proud are we of this Committee, too; for in it we have the means for effecting greater unity—hence greater action and progress. Here is an organization with ALL of you in mind. Other business at these first two meetings included the appointment of standing committee members, recommendations to the Student Loan Fund Committee concerning the collection of loans from delinquent borrowers, and the preliminary steps to be taken in order to insure the successful promotion of the forthcoming Spring Formal.

Yes, just as the Senate has a very busy and challenging four months ahead of it, so have we a very full and promising social schedule ahead of us, of course, acknowledging whenever possible the matter of a little 'ritin', readin', and 'rithmetic. But always remember this bit of advice borrowed from the bulletin board of second-floor residents of Stowell Hall, "Don't let your studies interfere with your college education." This is given just in case you get carried away when debiting the credits and crediting the debits, or when the plot of some choice piece of American literature lures you and monopolizes all your spare time. I should worry about such impossibilities???

Looks like the time has come to say that is This For Now . . . (Sounds like it, too, huh?)

N. H. University Seniors Plan Unusual Gift

Durham, N. H.—(I.P.)—An extensive campaign is underway on the campus of the University of New Hampshire to canvass every member of the Senior Class as the prelude in putting into effect a reunion gift plan which would bring over $30,000 to the University on the occasion of the Class' 25th reunion in 1977.

Endorsed recently by Senior Class officers, the gift plan would have each member of the Class of '52 buying a life insurance policy for $1,000 and making the beneficiary of that policy whom-ever he chooses. The $100 individual reunion gift will come

Navy Extends Deadline For ROC Applications

An indefinite extension of the deadline date for college women in their freshman, sophomore or junior year, to submit applications for the Naval Reserve Officer Candidate Program (ROC) has been announced at First Naval District Headquarters, Boston.

Successful candidates, after completing two six-week summer courses with pay and receiving their college degree, will be eligible for commissions in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Women who are not already in the Naval Reserve may now enlist and apply for the ROC School at the Naval Reserve Training Center nearest their home or college, or at Headquarters, First Naval District (Director of Training), 495 Summer Street, Boston.

from the earnings of the policy so that the gift will actually cost nothing and will earn additional profit.

It was pointed out that the Class of '52 will be covered inclusively to top last years total of 150 members of the Class of '51 which subscribed to the policy plan. Whether it's letters to be written or work of any type to be done in a hurry there is always one girl on campus who can be depended upon. She's that blonde bombshell who hails from Providence, known to everyone as Andy.

Andy Dowling is one of the few original members of the Inter-Faith Council. She is one of the most active girls on campus, with a long line of organizations which need and depend on her. Among these are Phi Upsilon Sorority, Inter-Faith Council, the Newman Club, the Archway, and the Business Administration Society.

On Wednesday, March 19, Sigma Iota Chi held the first SPLASH PARTY of the semester at the Pawtucket Boy's Club. The evening's fun began at 7:30 and lasted until everyone was completely exhausted at 9:30. The highlight of the evening was the water ballet presented by Don "Neptune" Lipine, and Frances "Mermaid" Carr. The skill shown by some of the swimmers was equal to that of the conquerors of the English Channel. Those who couldn't swim soon learned as they were tossed from the edges of the pool. Although Buster Crabbe and Esther Williams might not have any competition from these "splashers" who know just what might happen!!!

By DICK HORNBY

It is just a matter of time before Bryant's trackmen will be pounding the cinders in search of many victories. The Indians first meet has been pushed ahead to April 16 when they will run against the Rhode Island College of Education. Al White and Adrian Laroche are two boys who have their work cut out for them. With the graduation of Eddie Lott, Bryant's speed merchant of last year, White and Laroche are expected to shoulder the burden. Al specializes in the 220 and 440; Adrian can be expected to show remarkable talents in the broad-jump. Mike Marek, a new addition to the track team, shows great promise. Mike is fast afoot and may turn out to be a fine half miler. Coach Tom Russell's boys also have on their schedule New Haven Teachers, Arnold College, and Bridgeport State Teachers.

Moving over to the clay courts we find "The Donoghue Twins," Rog and Jack, busy at work with Eddie Ikawa lending a helpful hand. Rog is the boy with a flashy back hand; while his brother, Jack, has quite an asset in possessing a sizzling serve. Eddie Ikawa is a newcomer of whom great things are expected. Ed has been practicing constantly and will be a welcome addition to the wielders of the rackets.

Bryant's A. A. basketball team received a stunning blow by being edged out in the Pawtucket Tournament by the strong Attleboro Jets 61-55. Bryant, going into the final quarter, found themselves eighteen points behind, but put up a valiant fight only to be nosed out by six points. Big George Sonntag once again played his heart out, notching 14 points and showing the way with his exceptional rebounding. Hunky Wert, scrappy Bryant center, fought furiously, dumping in 12 points and handling the ball from the bucket with exceptional authority. Frenchie Fortier, George Higginson, and Joe Dolan also pressed all the way, but only to support a losing cause.

Tau Epsilon's bowling team who were returned first round leaders are expected to have rough sledding ahead. With the loss of such stars as Al Nelson, Ray Parent, and Bob Tassinari the red and black will have to press all the way. Willie Osborne and Steve DeRaddo are the only returning veterans but may be strong enough to shoulder the load. Osborne is one of the league's best bowlers.

Bryant Indians Edged Out of State Hoop Tournament by Attleboro Five, 65-57

The combined efforts of "Frenchy" Fortier, George Sonntag, Joe Dolan, and Hunky Wert narrowly escaped notching a stirring victory for the Bryant A. C. in the Rhode Island State Tournament at the Flashy Frenchy Fortier Indian court leader who led the Bryant A. C.'s in the Rhode Island Invitation Tournament held at the Pawtucket Boys' Club, on Monday, March 17.

Pawtucket Boys' Club Monday night.

A strong Attleboro five drew first blood but were kept in check for the first period by the Bryant five. The first period saw some very fancy shooting by the Comets from Attleboro. However, great defensive playing by Ted Fleming, Joe Dolan, and offensive playing by Fortier, Sonntag, and Higginson kept the Comets' margin within reason.

The Comets started hitting the nets more than ever during the second period and the hustling but futile attempts by the Bryant hoopsters to stop the barrage of points was hopeless. Outstanding during the attempt to check the Comets were Burr, Fortier, and Sonntag. At the half Bryant found themselves nine baskets in the hole.

Dave Gardem sent his boys out in the third period, and it looked as if "Old Dave" gave them all a shot of "hoopster" serum, Burr, Sonntag, Fortier, all started to hit the nets. The Comets couldn't break the Bryant defenders Dolan, Higginson, and Wert who were all determined, along with the rest of the boys, to win this ball game. The Comets and the crowd soon realized that the game wasn't anywhere near over when they saw their lead cut to only four baskets early in the third period.

Then it came—late in the third period. The Comets started their barrage of accurate shooting and hit the nets until they had a nine basket edge over the Indians at the end of the third period.

The Indians went out in the fourth period and proceeded to repeat their third quarter performance. This time everyone started hitting the nets for Bryant. Even "Hunkey" Wert, who is a defensive player, slipped the leather through the hoop. The Indians kept going, outplaying Attleboro minute after minute until they had chopped the lead to only 2 baskets.

No. 37...THE SWORDFISH

They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Dobbins Will EMCEE Saturday Night Student Show

At the biggest dance of the year "Whirlwind"—coming on Saturday night as the climax of Bryant Brotherhood Week—the feature attraction will be forty-five minutes of student entertainment. Highlighting the entertainment will be Bryant's own Bobby Dobbins, acting as master of ceremonies. Bobby, who hails from Maine, and who is well known on campus as a natural comedian, will be long remembered for his terrific job as M. C. for his fraternity on stunt night.

A show of any type isn't complete without singers. One of the most talented singers on the Bryant campus is Bob George. Bob is a graduate of Lenox Prep School in Lenox, Massachusetts, and has appeared in many programs in high school, in minstrel shows in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, as well as on the Bryant campus.

Big things come in little packages. This is ever true with Myron Marek. This package of dynamite can be expected to explode on Saturday night with one of the greatest renditions of Johnny Ray that Bryant has ever seen. Myron hails from Thompsonville, Connecticut.

Norma Tizzi, bombshell of Harriet Hall, well known for her beautiful soprano voice will team up with Bob George.

Ronny Rose, well known for night club singing in Attleboro and vicinity, will add his fine tenor voice to make the evening more enjoyable.

Kenny Linderbaum can't be tied down to any one thing when it comes to acting or to talent of any type. He is well known for his piano playing as well as for being the perfect comedian. Kenny will be doing both on Saturday night, playing the piano and working with a group of three in a great comedy act.

Marve Cohen, a graduate of Norwich Free Academy in Norwich, Connecticut in the class of '49, was very active in dramatics in high school. He has also held the position of a part time radio announcer. Marve will act as assistant Master of Ceremonies. He will also do a few comedy acts.

Phi Sigma Nu Entertains Rider College Brothers

Fifteen brothers from the Zeta Chapter of Phi Sigma Nu national fraternity of Rider College, Trenton, New Jersey, spent the weekend here as guests of the Iota Chapter.

The guests were late in arriving and were not able to attend the gala social party held Friday night in their honor. They did arrive in time for the annual St. Patrick's Dance at which they, and almost 700 others, danced to the delightful music of Tony Abbot.

Immediately following the dance a better-late-than-never cocktail party was given to celebrate the first meeting of these two chapters. The party ended with breakfast and the brothers from Zeta were billeted in several apartments of Phi Sig brothers here.

The fifteen guests left by auto late Sunday afternoon for Trenton.

It was announced by President J. Paul Lanier that the chapter here at Bryant would probably visit the Rider College chapter in two weeks.

Bryant Public Relations Director Is Speaker at Sheraton-Biltmore Panel

Gertrude Meth Hochberg, Director of Public Relations and Instructor in Retail Advertising took part in a Town Criers and Women's Advertising Club Panel on "Small Business Asks Some Questions About Advertising?" at the Sheraton-Biltmore on the evening of Wednesday, February 20.

The Ad Club panel members were—Miss Grace Skeen, Advertising Instructor, Rhode Island School of Design—Miss Mary Kinnevan, Advertising Manager of Cherry and Webb's—and Mrs. Hochberg.

Speaking for the Town Criers were Roy Perkins, Advertising Manager of Brown and Sharpe; Bill Freudigman, Advertising Manager of the Narragansett Electric Light Company; Huntington Hanchett, Advertising and Public Relations Consultant.

Harold Semple, well-known Providence attorney, acted as moderator.

This meeting, which attracted an attendance of more than a hundred Town Criers and Women's Ad Club Members, brought forth some provocative questions on Advertising Techniques and Problems.

Mrs. Hochberg also recently participated in a Radio Panel series, currently being sponsored by the Men's Advertising Club of the Providence Chamber of Commerce.

Together with Mr. William B. Lloyd, Secretary of the Providence Plantations Bank, Mr. William M. Wilson, Secretary-Treasurer of the Cooley, Inc. of Pawtucket, and Mr. Nicholas Ruggieri, Station Manager of Radio Station WRIB, Mrs. Hochberg aired the topic of "Who Pays For Advertising?" on Station WEAN at 9:05 p.m. Monday, March 3.

Charles W. Pine, of the Charles W. Pine Advertising Agency, was moderator for this radio series program.

Organized Thumbing

At Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, Michigan, hitchhikers have been having a little trouble with the police. There's a law against thumbing in that town, and offenders must pay a $10 fine and costs.

As a solution the Women's League has provided "ride depots," set up on various corners throughout the town. Students may legally pick up rides at these designated spots.

The chief of police added that hitchhiking "apparently is legal if the solicitor stays on the curb or back of it."

In a Pig's Eye

Pick up the evening paper and take a gander at the actions of our great American citizenry. We who inhabit this progressive country are responsible for the day's news.

Americans can buy for 5¢, at any newsstand a comedy of their own antics. If newspaper prices rise to a dollar a copy, the people still have a bargain.

But the comedy ends abruptly on Page 3 when we change upon an item that coldly tells us that a Chinese family it voted from a neighborhood in fear of land devaluation or that Ku Klux Klanners are terrorizing a Florida family. We read that religious discrimination bars burial of a hero soldier in his home-town cemetery and that a great Negro statesman is refused accommodations in a D. C. hotel.

All this, in a country which is built on the basic freedoms of man. How can these persecuted peoples feel about their fellow men anything other than pity—for minds so narrow.

Ignorance and prejudice are brothers. To overcome prejudice, ignorance must be erased. Those of us who are today in a school which knows no social restrictions should be doubly aware of our duty to eliminate this cancerous-like plague of our society.

Brother Week is again upon us. This year let's take a moment to consider just why there is dedicated a special three days to further the association of man to man. We, in a world of international unrest, have no time for petty prejudices, if we are to accomplish our freedom in unity.

Let us then educate ourselves and our children to the doctrine of equality and to the principle of the Golden Rule.

Let us build a nation of citizens where man unto his fellow man shall be a friend forever.

Quirks and Comments

The Ka Leo O Hawaii, University of Hawaii, tells of a certain history professor who once went through a whole lecture, jokes and all, wondering why the class paid no attention. He later discovered he had repeated the lesson of the day before.

That same newspaper knows of a bright freshman coed, who, when asked what devices were used to liven up a certain article, promptly answered, "De Vice-president."

The Northeastern, Northeastern University (Mass.) was surprised to learn that night school students have actually been plunking down nickels on the bookstore counter for a copy of the Northeastern. Commented the paper, "Then there are the day students who get them free—and complain."
