Harold Taylor
New "Archway"
Editor in Chief

The next edition of the ARCHWAY will go to press under the editorship of Harold "Bud" Taylor, who takes over as editor-in-chief on June 1.

Bud has been on the staff for only one and a half semesters, but his past experience in the newspaper field and his steady work on this paper have put him in a position to succeed Dave Gardam, who has done a brilliant job of organizing an enthusiastic staff and of maintaining a high order of efficiency.

Before entering the army in 1945, Bud had been editor of the Trade Aid Bulletin, a merchandising house organ of the Providence Journal. While in the service he gained much experience in different capacities on army publications. After serving as editor of the Digest at Fort Devens and the Service Stripe at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., Bud went to the Army News Service in New York City as associate editor. While in New York he was a staff member of Yank, the army magazine publication.

Upon being discharged in 1948, Bud became editor of the Providence "Herald News," a shopping weekly.

After spending some time as advertising manager of a local optical company, he enrolled at Bryant in the BA I course.

Editor in Chief for next year is Harold Taylor, popular third semester B.A. student.

Bryant Teacher Trainees Well Represented At Little Eastern States Conference

Josephine DelVecchio, Loretta Lukowicz, Clarissa Hayfield, Joan Jackson, Robert Carley, Livio Martini, Marvin Cohen, and Henry Foley, accompanied by Mr. Alfred Pascale as faculty adviser, represented Bryant College at the Little Eastern States Conference held May 16 and 17 at Willimantic State Teachers College.

At the Friday session the students from the different colleges and universities gathered together for a general discussion period and visited the Windham Street School, one of Willimantic's training schools.

The panel discussions were held Saturday morning. Robert Carley served as Bryant's chairman for the panel discussion pertaining to "Methods of evaluation of skilled subjects, training schools, and marking systems."

Clarissa Hayfield was recorder on the panel discussing "the role of the faculty adviser or consultant in different clubs and organizations and how these advisers should be chosen."

Other topics were "How much connection should fresh-

Alpha Phi Kappa
And Kappa Tau
Have Banquet

On Saturday evening, April 26, Alpha Phi Kappa and Kappa Tau held their Pledge Formal and Banquet at the Wayland Manor. Advisors and officers of the fraternity and sorority were seated at the head table. Mr. Yorks and Mrs. Love welcomed the pledges into the organizations. It was an enjoyable and entertaining evening for all present.

Dinner was served at 8:00 o'clock followed by music and dancing till 12:30.

Gene Tudo and his orchestra furnished the music throughout dinner and dancing. The affair was well-planned and congratulations are in order for those people responsible for making it such a success.

1952 Alumni Reunion Is Outstanding Success

The 1952 Alumni Reunion was held on the weekend of May 9, 10 at Bryant College to honor the graduates of the school. Reunion festivities commenced with an inspection tour of the campus at three o'clock on Friday afternoon and came to a gala close with a banquet on Saturday evening in the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel with 426 members present.

On Thursday evening and all day Friday members of the Alumni returned to their old Alma Mater. On Friday afternoon they went through the preliminary procedure of registering and checking their reservations in the Administration Building. Then they were conducted on an inspection tour of the campus between three and five o'clock Friday afternoon to review the grounds and buildings which constituted a major part of their daily activities in years past.

Friday was highlighted by a student-produced dramatic program presented in the College Auditorium at eight o'clock in the evening. The Masquers presented the Broadway hit "The Happiest Years" before an audience of about 300 people. Following this production, refreshments were served, and dance music was provided by Tommy Masso, a 1918 graduate of the College.

The Alumni had their choice of several activities from which to choose on Saturday. The President's Reception was held in Salisbury Hall from two to four o'clock. An athletic event was also scheduled for the day. On the College tennis courts the Bryant Courtmen played a forceful but losing tennis exhibition against New Bedford Tech in a Southern New England Coastal Conference tennis match.

At 6 o'clock the Alumni reunited for a cocktail hour in the foyer of the Biltmore Hotel, where the faculty, administrative

Head Has Unusual Record

Dave Gardam, retiring Editor in Chief of the ARCHWAY, has established one of the brightest records for personal achievement made in recent years by any undergraduate of Bryant College.

Not only does Dave stand very high scholastically in his division but he also has been president of his fraternity, BIB; Sports Editor of the Archway; member of the Student Senate; President of the Student Senate; coach of the student sponsored basketball team of the current season; and since last July, Editor-in-Chief of the Archway.

Upon graduating this August, Dave will go to work for the Bigelow-Sanford Company.

Wednesday Night Movies in Gymnasium
Going Over Big with Student Body

Wednesday, April 23, marked the beginning of a new program designed to bring weekly motion pictures to the students here at Bryant College.

At the outset this program was planned to provide dancing after the movies, but longer movies and no dancing seem to be desired by the attending students. Therefore, the program has been changed so that it now offers to the students full-length Class A movies at no admission charge. In addition, the cafeteria is open during all movies to provide a complete line of refreshments.

Credit for the planning and promoting of this program goes to the College Administration, since it is the sole sponsor. Student appreciation and enthusiasm have been shown by the fact that past gatherings have attracted an average audience of two hundred students. Commuting students as well as dormitory students have been strong in attendance.

Mr. Joseph R. Santos

Mr. Santos—a rare individual. Although he has a strong reluctance to divulge any facets of his personality, his actions speak for themselves. Mr. Santos was graduated from Suffolk Law School. In addition to a law degree he holds an M.A. in Education.

Mr. Santos has proved himself such an excellent teacher and hard worker that he has recently been appointed head of the Evening Division here at Bryant.

The outdoors intrigues this mild-mannered man, and he particularly enjoys hunting and fishing. One interesting fact that he has managed to keep

Mrs. McLaughlin is one of the favorite teachers in the secretarial department. She possesses that rare ability, so valuable to a teacher, of making every student feel that he is the most important one in the class. Never too busy to help her pupils, she invariably meets her students more than half way. Mrs. McLaughlin is well known for her inveterate sense of honesty and fairness: no one receives any reward that is not fully deserved, but the student always gets the benefit of the doubt.

After she was graduated from Bryant College she spent her first few years of teaching in the

Third Annual Spring Institute for Teachers
Of Business Subjects Held in Prov., May 6

The Third Annual Spring Institute for Teachers of Business Subjects, sponsored by the Rhode Island Business Teachers Association in co-operation with the State Department of Education, was held in Providence on May 6. Bryant College played an important part in this Institute as the afternoon program was held at the College and nine members of the Bryant faculty took an active part in the program.

Mrs. Edward J. Mederios of Central Falls High School, and Dean Lionel H. Mercier of Bryant College were the co-chairmen of the General Session which was held in the Narragansett Hotel from 9:00 to 12:30. Governor Dennis J. Roberts extended the address of welcome.

Dean Elmer C. Wilbur was the chairman of a panel discussion on distributive education. Speakers on this panel included Professor Harrison D. Myrick and Professor George A. Richards.

At 2:00 the afternoon session was held at Bryant College, where demonstration classes in business subjects were held. Professor Priscilla

M. Moulton was chairman of two classes—one in teaching "short cuts" in advanced typewriting and another in simplified shorthand. Dr. F. Douglas Hammond presided over the general business training demonstration class; Dean Nelson J. Gulski was chairman of the class in the uses of charts and visual aids for improved classroom teaching.

A demonstration class in General Business Training was conducted by Professor Paul S. Salsgiver, Director, School of Business, Simmons College. This class was attended by teachers of various schools and also by the teacher-trainees of Bryant College.

At 3:00 a panel discussion for the improvement of classroom teaching in social business subjects was held by leaders and teachers in the field. The chairman of this panel was Mr. Francis J. Varieur, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. Professors Dallas L. Sharp and Walter D. Harris took part in the discussion on the improvement of classroom teaching in social business subjects. Also on this panel was Mr. Ralph Wilkins, Director of Business Department, Hope High School.

This Third Annual Spring Institute closed with a tea in the Bryant College Auditorium.

This for Now

By Norma Slocum

And once more the weekend of weekends here at Bryant is spoken of in the past tense. However, at the same time, the future tense is gaining prominence because ideas are already formulating in the minds of many to welcome home our Alumni next year in an even more memorable manner. After all, it is believed—and rightly so, if this annual homecoming is one of the few means a college has of opening its door and extending its hand to its graduated sons and daughters, then we say let the years ahead give way to

A bigger time in '53
Likewise, in '54.
And thence each year that comes along
There'll be more fun for more.

Although the weekend's gala festivities were eagerly anticipated during the days preceding this "big bust," a rather contrary reception was given to the quarter as it came to its close. "But I thought it was next week," wailed some on Friday, May 9; while others, viewing in their mind's eye the assignments still undone, remarked in amazement, "So soon?" Ah yes! tempus fugit. But c'est la vie!

And in answer to the question of the hour, "Do you think you made the Dean's List?" one is apt to hear these words (borrowed from some juke-box platters labels) eliciting forth from Sorrowful Student himself: "Could be—if I were the only boy (or girl) in the world! 'Til then, what's the use?" Might it be said in joking reprimand to those who unhappily were caught unawares that "the means justifies the end?"

So there you have it—the end of a quarter. But here you really have it—the beginning of our Student Union. Yes, the first step has been taken. The completion of the stairway is partly in your hands. Support what you have and demonstrate what you'd like to have!

Link purpose with co-operation and strengthen them with collective interest—the ultimate outcome—a chain of progress. What student doesn't want a Union! What student doesn't go big for a good movie and dancing! Both are accessible—the first by enjoying the second, the second by meeting with friends every Wednesday night at Bryant's gym. It's true, we can help to accomplish the establishment of our own Student Union by treating ourselves to an evening of entertainment, social dancing, and in general a good time for all.

We'll miss you if YOU'RE not there. It's Wednesdays, it's fun, it's for you, and, above all, it's the start of YOUR Student Union!

And so, this concludes This for Now . . .

Seventy-five Students Win Places on the Deans' Lists

Seventy-five students during the first quarter did outstanding work and won places on the Deans' Lists. Of these, forty-six are members of Bryant's highest officers, and graduates of Bryant reminisced about the events of the fast-closing weekend. The most interesting event of the week end was the banquet served at 7:30 in the Main Ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. President Jacobs gave a short welcome talk. After dinner everyone was much amused by the "Ambassador from Venezuela," who gave a very stirring and moving after dinner speech. Sitting at the head table were President and Mrs. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. William Connor, Mr. John Allan, Miss Rita Cassels, and Vice President and Mrs. E. Gardner Jacobs. Music for the dancing and listening enjoyment of the diners was provided by Tommy Masso.

Formals Highlight Week End Activities

The Churchill House on Angell Street will be the scene tomorrow night of the annual Spring Formal of Beta Sigma Chi fraternity and Sigma Lambda Theta sorority. This formal is held every year to honor the pledges of the two organizations.

A distinctive feature of the evening will be a buffet lunch served by a local caterer. Gene Toro and his orchestra will provide music for the occasion. Members of the organizations, advisers, and many alumni will be present to enjoy the affair.

The Social Committee, consisting of Nick Young, Linda Reynolds, Dick Gammell, Jane Phair, Bill Orelon, Marlene Webster, Carl Roberts, Joan Phair, Pete Basso, and Barbara Lunquist, have gone to great lengths to make this the best formal in recent years.

Chi Gamma Iota and Phi Upsilon will hold their spring Pledge Formal tomorrow evening at the Holiday Inn, South Attleboro, Massachusetts.

Guests of honor will include Mr. Warren Babcock, Mr. Earl Messer, Dean Elmer C. Wilbur, and Miss Margaret Gamble.

Those being pledged are Joe Gange, Bob Begina, Robert Orsine, Al Tefft, William Paquin, Charlie Liguori. Certificates of membership will be presented during traditional ceremonies.

Phi Sigma Nu Pledging Season In Full Swing

Because of Phi Sigma Nu's national affiliations, their pledging season now extends over a period of eight weeks. During this period, the pledgees are given various tasks, and are elevated through three degrees of membership until they become "full fledged brothers."

The brothers of Phi Sigma Nu decided that the pledging season should be a period of doing good for someone rather than eight weeks of intense hazing. With this purpose in mind, they contacted many of the charitable organizations in the Providence area. From the number of places considered, they chose the Lakeside Children's Home in Warwick.

Lakeside has thirty-five acres of land. Most of this property has been neglected for ten or fifteen years; so this seemed like the ideal place for Phi Sig to spend their pledging period.

For the past month, the 12 pledgees have spent two afternoons weekly, working with axes and saws. Their purpose is that of converting a 3 acre pine grove into a picnic area for the 50 children at Lakeside. The trees are being pruned and dead branches removed. The dead limbs and other refuse are carried out of the woods by a truck which the institution has allowed the group to use.

After the grove has been put in shape, the members and pledgees plan to set up a number of picnic tables, and perhaps build some fireplaces as the children of Lakeside have very few facilities for recreation. At present, they have only 4 or 5 pieces of recreational equipment. Phi Sig is also going to repaint this equipment.

The job that they have undertaken to complete is expected to extend over the 8 week pledging season and into the hot summer months. Nevertheless, because the pledgees so enjoy the work they are doing, they will complete it however long it lasts.

JACK MORIARTY

Ronnie Weeks

Ronald Weeks, or "Weeks" as he is called, is one of the reasons that Phi Sigma Nu is one of the outstanding clubs in the softball league.

Weeks plays in left field, and he plays it as if he were playing in his own backyard back in Richmond, Maine. His gracefulness as a fielder is very noticeable when one watches a Phi Sigma Nu encounter.

In high school, Weeks was a four-letter man, playing such sports as baseball, football, basketball, and track. His ability in playing ball can be easily accounted for by his high school record.

Ronnie was quoted as saying the toughest games that he has played up to now were against Chi Gamma and Kappa Tau.

"The season is going to be a rough one," says Weeks, "but I believe when it's all over PSN will be holding the trophies."

Intramural Softball Review

Don Stotz

Donald Stotz, Kappa Tau's shortstop, is one of the league's outstanding infielders. Don has one of the better throwing arms and certainly has shown it in past competition.

Stotz, or "Hooker" as he is called, hails from Springfield, Massachusetts, where he attended Springfield Technical High School.

In high school he was an outstanding baseball pitcher with plenty of stuff, especially fast stuff. He also played a little basketball and is considered a fair golfer on the greens.

"Hooker" has been an asset to Kappa Tau in their vain attempts to stay among the top four teams in the league.

Don is a BAI major and plans to complete his studies here at Bryant and then spend a little time with Uncle Sam. Don is now in the Air Guard at Westover Field and has to spend many of his weekends there on duty.

BETA SIGMA CHI, coached by Ray Gladu, has climbed up to first place in the softball league. BSC, with such players as Osborn, Nulberry and Cianci have been playing great ball. Beta Sig's 14 to 12 victory over Alpha Theta Chi was considered a big one to win.

CHI GAMMA, coached by Bill Nemis, is setting a terrific pace in the league. The club with such players as Fleming and Teft are going places. They recently gave Phi Sigma Nu their first setback of the season by the score of 16 to 12.

ALPHA THETA CHI, defending champions of the softball league, coached by Whiffer Betts, started off the season in fine form by winning their first three games. Even with the loss of their star pitcher, Alpha will continue on with such players as West, Catalmo, and Petrosenilli.

BETA IOTA BETA, coached by Frenchy Fortier in their first outing of the season, showed tremendous power as they trounced the Independent AC 19 to 2. Leading the attack for BIB were De Marco and Hanaway. Also, great defensive play by the entire team was unexcelled.

TAU EPSILON, coached by Harry Anderson, is starting to show signs of becoming a threat to other teams in the league. Tau Ep although defeated by Beta Sig played a good brand of ball.

KAPPA TAU, coached by Dom Zarcaro, threw a scare into Phi Sigma Nu, by forcing the league leaders into extra innings to eke out a 7 to 6 win. Kappa Tau pitcher, Al White, was in good form, giving the opposition everything but fast stuff.

PHI SIGMA NU, coached by Mike Marck, was forced to go into extra innings to defeat a stubborn Kappa Tau team 7 to 6. Raider, a big boy, sewed up the game for Phi Sig by driving one deep into right field bringing in a mate who was on second.

INDEPENDENT A.C., coached by Bottoni, is showing signs of being a threat to the league. This is a hustling ball club, with such stand-outs as Desiderio, Rose, and many others. They defeated Alpha Theta Chi 10 to 9, a big upset.

SIGMA LAMBDA PI, coached by A. Reichen, although now very strong, is always a fighting ball team. Marvin Cohen their pitcher is doing a fine job of twirling. Sigma Lambda will be in there to upset the favorites.

Avak and Jorge Show Up Well in Webster Meet

The second Annual Olympiad, sponsored by The American Hellenic Educational Progressive Association, was held on May 11, 1952, at Memorial Athletic Field in Webster, Massachusetts.

Alpha Theta Chi Upset

The Bryant Intramural League has come up with some unexpected and surprising upsets during its short life but none as stunning as the Independents' 10 to 9 victory over an injured and sliding Alpha Theta Chi.

The game started off in the usual manner with everyone figuring the Independents to lose another ball game, but to everyone's surprise the Independents chalked up their first victory of the season behind "rubber arm" Rose.

Things started off with base hits all over the field and with each team matching each other run-for-run, until the Independents came up with one run that couldn't be matched.

"Things might have been different," said one spectator, "if Old Pop Betts had been pitching for ATC instead of first starter Cantellmo." The fact that Betts wasn't pitching didn't stop the boys from Alpha Theta Chi, because they played their usual sincere game. But to no avail. Ronnie Rose just wasn't going to be denied his first victory of the season.

Ed Jorge, a former star athlete at Hope High School, threw the shot put for his college, placing third in keen competition, and thus proving himself a competent track man. George Avak, a Connecticut boy, showed well for Bryant also. He threw the javelin a distance of 160 feet, only 9 feet under the winner's throw from Boston College. Coach Tom Russell accompanied the men from Bryant.

The Bryant men competed against nine other New England Colleges: Boston College, Providence College, Holy Cross, University of Connecticut, Nichols Jr. College, and St. Anselm College of Manchester, N. H.

stop the boys from Alpha Theta Chi, because they played their usual sincere game. But to no avail. Ronnie Rose just wasn't going to be denied his first victory of the season.

Yi!!!

The boys from BAI fourth semester have openly challenged the boys from fourth semester BAI to a game of softball.

So far no acceptance has been received from the boys in 4BAII.

Chuck Barrows, 4BAI, has stated that he believes there will be no reply from the 4BAII boys, for fear of losing.

will be back in action in about two weeks—after a little treatment and rest.

Incidentally the "Whiffer" has averaged about nine strikeouts per game this season. Good luck, Bob, for a quick return to the team.

Bill Osborn

Bill Osborn, a gentleman from West Hartford, Connecticut, is considered a very valuable man by Tau Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. Osborn, or Ozzie, is president of Tau Epsilon and a very active man on and off the Bryant Campus.

On the sports side of his career with Tau Ep, Ozzie has also chalked up an accomplishment. He is a spark plug catcher for the Tau Epsilon softball players who are now starting to move. The reason for their move might be Ozzie's efficiency behind the plate and at the plate. In his latest games Ozzie practically beat Kappa Tau single handed by getting four bingos, three of which were homeruns.

Before coming to Bryant, Ozzie attended William Hall High School in West Hartford, Connecticut.

In high school he played all sports with the exception of basketball. He was outstanding in baseball and track.

Girls' Softball League

By Dom Zcaro

Softball season is now well under way and much has been said about the men's league but nothing has been said about the Junior circuit, the Junior circuit being the Girls' Intramural League.

The Junior circuit has only three teams in competition, these teams being Sigma Iota Beta, Sigma Lambda Theta, and Sigma Iota Chi.

Sigma Iota Beta, currently leading the league, has been playing terrific ball despite the loss of some good girls from last year. Sigma Iota Beta's Fran seems to be the sparkplug this year though.

Sigma Lambda Theta, which is in second place, is not to be overlooked. The Theta's like the Beta's also find themselves with a team of practically all new girls but despite this fact they look like a bunch of troubleshooters.

In the cellar, not too far behind, we find Sigma Iota Chi, the team that misses Fran Almonte. Sigma Iota Chi is finding it pretty tough at the moment, but they show great possibilities.

Whiffer Betts Out With Arm Injury

Alpha Theta Chi, last year's softball champions, were riding on a string of three victories and one defeat this year, only to have Bob "Whiffer" Betts, their fire ball pitcher out of action for at least two weeks because of the throwing out of his arm while pitching a fine game against Chi Gamma in which he struck out ten batters.

The loss of the "Whiffer" to A T C will be felt hard. The "Whiffer", one of the league's outstanding fire-ball pitchers,

Closing Exercises Will Be Held For Evening Division

Closing exercises for Bryant Evening Division will be held on Tuesday, May 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. More than two hundred students will be presented with diplomas, certificates, and awards during this program.

The principal talk of the evening will be given by Dr. Henry L. Jacobs, President.

Relatives and friends of evening division students have been invited. A program of refreshments and dancing will follow the exercises.

Successful Dance Given by Sigma Lambda Pi

On April 26, Sigma Lambda Pi presented its Saturday evening dance in the Bryant Gym. Despite a constant downpour of rain, a large crowd gathered and enjoyed an evening of dancing and entertainment with music by Lou Carl and his orchestra.

The gym was decorated with a fine arrangement of colorful crepe paper, and the busy dance floor was filled with local college and high school students.

Members of Sigma Lambda Pi had sold raffle tickets during the three weeks preceding this affair, and two beautiful Benrus wrist-watches were presented to the lucky ticket holders by President Kenneth Kopelman.
