Sexual Harassment Series Continues

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

The second part of the sexual harassment series, held February 19 in Janikies Auditorium, focused on what businesses need to do in order to handle the increase in sexual harassment cases reported in the work place. The panel consisted of a Bryant alumnus, who was a victim of sexual harassment, and various personnel and human resource managers.

Attorney Jennifer Wood answered the much asked question of what constitutes sexual harassment. She described as, "sexual attention of an unwanted nature." For example, if someone were told, "grant me sexual favors or you won't get hired or promoted."

It also includes working in a sexual harassing environment that may include sexual photos or comments.

According to Dr. Frank Bingham, Chair of the marketing department at Bryant, most employees who are accused of sexual harassment are shocked. Therefore, the panel all agreed there is a need in the business world for education on the topic within the company. Many of the human resource and personnel managers are now implementing a training manual that includes step by step instructions on how to deal with sexual harassment.

The overwhelming publicity the Clarence Thomas case received thrust the topic into the public eye. Sexual harassment policies were not enforced earlier because no one really knew how to define it. Now the subject is getting more complex within companies because of the increase in women entering a male dominated work force. There is more access to legal representation for victims of sexual harassment.

David Zito a human resource manager from AT Cross, described sexual harassment as a time bomb that needs immediate attention. Already his companies spent an estimated $5,000 on its first sexual harassment case due to the loss of work time and outside legal counsel.

The panel's advice was that if you feel you are a victim of sexual harassment in your company you should confront the person immediately to stop and if that doesn't work, report it to a superior immediately. It is then the companies responsibility to react immediately by investigating the complaint.

Professor Shares Research with Colleagues

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

As part of a series to bring Bryant colleagues together to share research, Professor Judy Litoff spoke of her World War II letter writing project to members of the Bryant faculty yesterday.

Litoff began research into the letters written by women during the War, in 1988.

She and co-author David Smith, a professor of history at the University of Maine, Orano, sent out a writers query to every daily newspaper in the country, but did not expect the huge response they received because they were told G.I.'s in combat were under orders not to keep personal materials.

After receiving twenty five thousand letters "we knew we had uncovered a gold mine," said Litoff.

The letters tell how roles of American women changed drastically during the War because women became more independent and self-reliant due to their entry into the work force. "For me," said Litoff, "history comes alive in these letters."

Presently Litoff is working on compiling all the letters on microfilm so they can be used for research. In addition, she is using the Fox Pro computer program to create a data base of the writer, recipient and donor of the letters.

Each entry includes a brief biography of the subjects as well as the key topics discussed in the letters. Unfortunately, this is very tedious and is expected to take five years.

Litoff continues to receive encouragement from her letter donors and sends out a bi-weekly newsletter to all 700 of them. "Hopefully this will become a life long project," said Litoff.

Student Senate Denies Publication of Senate Election Results

Lisa Lucchesi
Archway Staff Writer

The Student Senate passed a motion to "prohibit the release of the numbers and percentages of votes received by the candidates in the general and Executive council elections" at yesterday's Student Senate meeting.

In a fifteen to one vote, with six abstentions, the Senate resolved to withhold the election results. The vote followed a time-limited debate on the topic.

In the debate, sophomore Senator Jennie Lynn Rice brought up the concern of the results reaching the student body via the grapevine.

Senior Mark Plihcik, former Managing Editor of The Archway, responded to her concern stating, "If the election results are officially released you will eliminate the grapevine and eliminate the problem of people being misrepresented."

Senior Senator Deena Panariello noted Bryant "isn't the real world; this is a bubble and we all know it's a bubble."

"As far as the real world," countered senior Michael Boyd, former Editor-in-Chief of The Archway, "Bryant's motto is preparing students to be business leaders for tomorrow. The total experience we get at this college is not just in the classroom. Personally, I have had more experiences outside of the Speaker of the Senate, junior Jesse Adelman said, "I don't really see any other point in publishing the results except for fear of corruption. If corruption's what you're worried about, we should look for it in a different way."

Sundlun's New Budget Includes "Textbook Tax"

Bill Becker
Archway Staff Writer

Governor Bruce Sundlun proposed a $1.4 billion budget for Rhode Island Tuesday night during his State of the State address. The budget highlights a broad expansion in sales tax, which includes tax on textbooks.

According to the budget proposal, the 7 percent Rhode Island sales tax will now apply to a broad range of items previously untaxed, including income tax preparation and textbooks.

The revenues that the state expects to generate from the textbook tax equates to $100,000 per year, compared to the 43.5 million in new revenues expected from all of the new taxes combined.

Some of the other items that will now be included in the 7 percent tax include health club memberships, employment services, auto repair, radio and TV repair, landscaping, tax preparation, patent medicines, and credit reporting agencies.

The new budget proposal, which Sundlun calls "tough, honest and fair," also calls for a 25 percent tax on the gross receipts of group homes for the mentally retarded. Sundlun's administration defends this tax by claiming that the operators of these homes can recoup the tax from the federal government.

Sundlun also proposed increased legalized gambling, continuation of the "temporary" 11 percent corporate tax surcharge, increased taxes from business and banking, increased fees for fishing licences, and an increase in the costs of burial at the Veterans Cemetery.

In addition to these increased revenues, Sundlun proposed several cuts, including a program for the "medically needy." It is estimated that 7,000 of the 10,000 people benefitting from this program will be able to pick up Medicare. The remaining 3,000 recipients will receive no aid.

Sundlun also intends to cut full time jobs in the government by 2.2 percent, bringing the number of Rhode Island government workers from 17,670 to 17,250.

One of the few government agencies which stands to receive an increase in funding is the state Ethics Commission.

The proposed budget will now pass to the General Assembly for a vote.

Students will now pay approximately $20 more per semester for their textbooks.

You're Missing the Point In This Case!!

Since its inception, the Senate has released Election Results. Yet, since 1982, election results have been inconsistently released. It is ironic that the results were released even in the turbulent collegiate atmosphere of the 1960s and 1970s, but not in the progressive 1990s.

At yesterday's Student Senate meeting, a motion was made to prohibit the release of numbers and percentages of votes received by candidates in the Senate's Executive and Legislative council elections. Unfortunately, that motion was passed by a 15-1 vote, with 6 abstentions.

During the discussion which preceded the final vote on the motion, some Senators claimed that results should not be published because losers would be upset or "have their feelings hurt." One senator theorized that people would be afraid to run for election if they knew the results would be public. Another senator claimed, "... It's too small a school to get away with publishing the results." And yet another senator said that rank order of results could not be published because then "some senators are going to feel less important than others."

Egos are not the point.

Some senators insist that Bryant is not the real world, but merely a "bubble." This is inconsistent with Bryant College's self-proclaimed purpose of "Preparing the Leaders of Tomorrow." As one student from the audience observed, "This is the real world; as much as we want to face it."

And he was right. Bryant is part of the real world.

The Archway is not trying to "get away with" anything. The Archway's purpose is to inform the student body. In order to inform, you have to print the news. And in order to print the news, the news must be accessible. Therefore, by not releasing election results, the Senate is prohibiting The Archway from doing its duty. That seems ironic since legislative bodies in the real world (of which we are a part) strive to have an informed electorate.

A student at the Senate meeting warned, "The face you're presenting is that you're trying to eliminate the information disseminating from the Senate. You only want to present information that is beneficial to the Senate."

This observation seemed justified because of the Senators comments at the meeting. The Student Senate is in no way justified in withholding news from the Bryant students. The same students they are supposed to be representing.

The Senate should keep in mind that the point in this case, as in the "real world," is facts not personal feelings.

Brycol Pushes Green Image

In a continuing effort to promote a cleaner environment, Brycol has instituted a second campus recycling plan.

Beginning last week, all of the six-pack plastic rings received through Brycol's vending division will be collected for shipping to a recycling plant in the Midwest.

The project is a joint effort between Brycol and Michael Lynch, a Bryant alumnus, who is a manager of ITW, Hi-Cone Inc., located in Illinois. ITW is a company which specializes in the recycling of plastic six-pack rings.

According to environmentalists, six-pack rings pose a danger to many animals. Unsuspecting birds and animals will swallow the rings or get them caught around their necks and suffocate. In addition, plastic rings can be devastating to plant life because they are not biodegradable.

"We at Brycol feel that businesses must take some responsibility for the environmental issues that they affect," said Matt Andrews, President of Brycol.

The Bryant Environmental Action Club, has agreed to support the effort. Ms. Marlo Rosenbloom, President of BEAC, said BEAC will try to persuade the operators of other campus food service facilities to participate in the recycling project.

Two months ago, Brycol instituted its first campus recycling policy, which was to recycle all glass bottles at the Country Comfort.

Bring Bryant Basketball Back from the Dead

Bryant men's basketball is 3 and 22 for this season, 14 and 64 for the last three seasons under coach Ed Reilly. How long must this misery continue?

Before we can answer this question and find a solution to this torment, we must take a look at what is actually wrong with the men's basketball program.

There are two causes that underlie the team's current problem. These two are 1) the poor job of coaching by the staff, and 2) the lack of support by the administration.

First the poor job of coaching. Attention should finally be directed to the intolerable performance of Ed Reilly and his coaching staff in their three year tenure. Reilly has not posted a winning season, a five-hundred season, or a season that deserves any amount of respect. A record of 14 and 64 is horrendous, even for teams who are trying to rebuild their program.

Furthermore, Reilly recruited six scholarship players to become the nucleus of a future league contender, but not one of these recruits is being used for his strengths.

For example, sophomore David Burrows, one of the leading scorers in New Hampshire high school history at 2850pts., is struggling now to maintain a five-point a game average under Reilly's tutelage.

However, even with all of his shortcomings, Reilly doesn't have to carry all of the blame upon his shoulders. There is a greater foe that Bryant must overcome to break the seasons of painful embarrassment - the Bryant College administration.

Unfortunately, the administration has trained the community to expect losing seasons. The men's team has become a joke around the other campuses, and the administration apparently does not care to change this "loser" image.

This reputation directly affects the players. It destroys their morale. A team that thinks like a loser, plays like a loser.

Because of their old, unkempt uniforms, the men's team was actually laughed at by the Assumption crowd last month. The Athletic Department could have replaced the uniforms a long time ago, but they did not.

And then there is the matter of Julius Sacko, a thousand point scorer, who gave his heart for four tough years at Bryant and who still, almost a year after his graduation, does not have a commemorative plaque. Doesn't Julius deserve the same respect that others who have played for Bryant received when they reached this pinnacle? And will we have to wait five years to see C.J. Simmons's and Richie Rose's plaques on the wall as well?

It would be very easy to discredit these observations as a matter of "sour grapes." However I speak, I think, for many on this campus who regret not going to a school where excellence extends to athletics as well as to academics. Competitive sports teams promote school spirit, which in turn brings a campus together to form a strong community.

Bryant has everything it needs: the facilities, which are among the best in the conference, the student body, who are ready to support their team, and talented players, who are ready to step up and meet the challenge.

The administration can overlook this opportunity, or it can hire a new coaching staff, put the necessary time and money in this program, try to promote school spirit, and bring Bryant basketball back from the dead.

Concern About Air

Dear Editor:

I do not smoke. It is well documented that cigarette smoke can kill. Recently, it has also been shown that second hand smoke can be just as hazardous to your health. In the February 13th issue of The Archway, there was an article on the new smoking policies here at Bryant. I am in complete agreement with these policies.

I have a slightly different smoking problem that Bryant apparently cannot help me with. On most weekends, and occasionally on week nights, the smell of cigarette smoke pours out of the heating vents into my room. It is so bad that all of my clothes and towels smell of smoke. Beside the constant annoyance of drying my face with a smoke saturated towel or wearing a smoke filled sweater, I feel there is an obvious health risk involved.

I've talked to my RA many times and she claims there is nothing that can be done. I have talked to physical plant and maintenance, both giving the same response. One maintenance worker said that if I made a big "stink" about the problem, they would probably move me to another dorm.

I would also like to point out that smoke is not the only thing coming through the heating vents. There has been the smell of onions, pizza and other food items. One time I came into my room and it smelt like someone went to the bathroom in my room. Once again, it was coming from the heating vents. I feel this is gross.

I went to Lechmere to look into

Former Archway Editor Dies

Cindy Gale and Mark Plihcik
Archway Staff Writers

Bryant College alumnus and former Archway Editor-In-Chief Paul J. Carroll died last Thursday at his home in Providence.

An obituary in the Providence Journal Bulletin on Monday did not note a cause of death. Carroll leaves his mother Chesla Carroll and four sisters. He was 38.

Dr. Burton Fischman described Carroll as "a wonderful fellow," who "went beyond his duty," to help the Bryant community.

Dr. Mary Lyons, chair of the English Department, called Carroll "a very good student who was reasonable, rational and was very involved in activities." She also noted that although he was shy, he expressed his opinions through writing.

Carroll, who was Editor-In-Chief of The Archway from December 6, 1974 to April 4, 1975, "was one of the student leaders who pulled together a student strike to let the Board of Trustees know that the students didn't like the president," said Registrar Tim Cartwright.

During the strike, students boycotted classes in protest of the administration of then President Harry Everts and then Vice-President for Academic Affairs Dr. Lowell C. Smith.

On Tuesday, March 4, 1975, more than 2,000 students gathered in the Rotunda to express concerns about the state of affairs at Bryant.

In an editorial in the March 5, 1975 special issue of The Archway, Carroll wrote, "Today, we the students of Bryant College are on strike. I personally will join the picketers this afternoon. If you are in support of... the Senate's efforts to end the tyranny that has persisted at Bryant College, I ask you to join us."

Carroll also wrote under the pen name of Madame Lovonda. In the February 28, 1975 issue of The Archway, four days before the strike, Carroll's column "portrayed the tension that existed on campus at the time," Dr. Lyons said.

In that column, Lovonda/Carroll wrote of Everts, "Why hasn't this man of position, the leader of this community, taken action [on campus issues]?"

He continued, "this college is more than 100 years old and Dr. Everts has been President for five years. That's a lot of time, and rather than solving our problems, they've been rotting to the point where the stench is unbearable."

He concluded, "This editorial may be considered shocking... my head may be handed to me by the administration... but this is not necessary. You see, I don't need my head handed to me — I already know where it's at."

His final editorial was representative of the struggles he had with the administration of the college.

Addressing his comments toward the administration, Carroll wrote, "I want to thank all of those people who made a point of making my life miserable... You think I write unbelievable things? Well it's no wonder with all the nuts floating around this place... They want this, they want that, they want, they want — what am I, Santa Claus? When will you realize that you can't go on conning and brown nosing people like you have been. It's awful! Every time I bend over, I get kissed!"

Following his graduation in May, 1975, Carroll took over his family's printing business, Limerock, Inc. At the time of his death, Carroll served as president of Limerock and as special activity officer at Brown University.

Women Beware

Over the last year or so, I have noticed an alarming number of women coming forward; claiming rape, sexual harassment and affairs concerning high ranking officials. It leads to the question of whether men are losing their morals or whether women are crying wolf. I feel the answer is a little of both.

In a country where the sexes are finally reaching equality, there is a fear throughout the male race. A fear that says if I sleep with a woman, will I have to post bail in the morning. Absurd, right. I am sure these are the thoughts William Kennedy Smith had before he found his name splashed on every newspaper across the country, for a purported rape at the Kennedy's Palm Beach home.

It seems that a woman does not take into consideration that the accusation of a sexual crime, whether proven or not, ruins a man's life. No? How about Jennifer Flowers who has accused Democratic Presidential Candidate Bill Clinton of a ten year affair. Only later after the columns were written was it reported that Ms. Flowers had been paid $100,000 for the story by Star magazine, a supermarket tabloid. Bill Clinton has all but fallen out of the presidential running, as shown by the latest polls, after the alleged affair with Ms. Flowers.

We have yet to see the negative repercussions of the accusations made by Anita Hill to Supreme

Public Safety Beat

compiled by Mark Gordon
Students for a Safer Campus

Damaged Lawn

On Wednesday, February nineteenth at 4:04 pm, Physical Plant reported seeing a small light blue pickup truck driving through the grass behind the Bryant Center. They claimed that the pickup damaged the grass in that area. When Public Safety arrived on the scene, the lawn was damaged, with several automobile tire tracks throughout the area.

The officer followed the tracks to a pickup truck at the front of the Bryant Center. He began obtaining information on the vehicle when the owner came out of the Bryant Center inquiring about the situation.

The officer started explaining about the damage that had been caused by the vehicle, when the owner then became very agitated and disrespectful. The officer informed him that he must go to the Public Safety Office to file a report and a Witness Statement. The driver agreed and accompanied the officer to the Public Safety Office. After filing a report, the vehicle owner was informed of college rules and regulations regarding driving on campus. He apologized for his earlier behavior and left the office.

Disorderly Conduct

On Friday, February 21, 1992 at approximately 8:00 pm, a fight took place between two male motor vehicle drivers at the Entry Control Station (ECS). The fight was quickly broken-up, and no charges were filed. By 9:00 pm, one of the students involved in the fight had called Public Safety several times requesting information on the earlier incident. The dispatching officer informed him that Public Safety is unable to give out any information concerning the incident. The student became very loud and cursed the officer over the telephone. The student also threatened the officer, insinuating that he would go to the Public Safety Office and assault the officer.

When the student arrived at the office, he was very loud and argumentative. He began striking the dispatch counter with his fist, making it impossible for the officer to conduct business. The officer noticed that the student had blood shot eyes, a strong scent of alcohol on his breath, and slurred speech. He asked the student to leave the office and to return in the morning. Admitting that he had been drinking, the student refused to leave the office.

The dispatching officer then contacted his supervisor and the Smithfield Police Department. The individual quickly altered his attitude and was allowed to leave the Public Safety Office.

Assault on a Public Safety Officer

At 1:30 am on Saturday, February 22, a Public Safety Officer was responding to a fire alarm in Residence Hall 11, when a male student walked towards him with an open beer. The officer asked the male to dump out the beer. He began to pour it out, then took another drink. The officer then asked the student to dump out the remaining beer and to produce identification (ID). The male gave the officer a name and a social security/ID number, but did not produce a school ID card. The officer informed the male that a report would be filed and that he may continue on his way.

After checking the student's name and ID number with the dispatcher, the officer learned that the information given was not correct. The officer proceeded with a Resident Assistant (RA) to the suite that the student claimed to be headed. They were able to locate the male in the suite, and asked him to step into the hallway. The officer asked again for the student's name. He gave the same name as previously. When the officer informed the student that the ID number given was incorrect, the male laughed and stated that they have no reason to know who he is. The officer then asked if the student had a room key. He said yes, and produced one. However, it did not open the suite door. The student laughed again and proceeded to another suite on the same floor. The officer and RA followed him into the suite. Walking up to one of the bedrooms, the student told the officer, in disrespectful terms, to open the door. The officer was able to open the door and asked the student to obtain his school ID. After throwing things around the room, the student stated that he did not have an ID. Ordering the RA and the Public Safety Officer out of his room key. The officer informed the student that he would not return the key until he was sure of the student's identification. The male student began yelling and approached the officer very quickly. He assaulted the officer, grabbing his arm and forcing him backwards against a table. The officer was able to free himself and push the student away. The student attempted another attack and was placed in a control hold by the officer. The Public Safety Officer requested Smithfield Police and moved the student to the front of the building. Smithfield Police handcuffed the suspect and transported him to the Smithfield Police Department. After the incident the Public Safety Officer experienced lower back pains.

1992 Commencement Awards

by Professor John Jolley

The Commencement Awards Committee is issuing a Call for Nomination for the 1992 Commencement Awards for December 1991 and May 1992 graduates. The Committee encourages wide participation in these nominations to assure those who are most worthy are selected to be honored. Nominations may come from any member of the Bryant Community: faculty, students, staff, or administration. Act today!

Nomination forms are available in the Student Senate Office, Faculty Office Suites, Registrar's Office, Career Services Offices, Student Activities, and the Archway Office.

Nominated By The Committee

The George M. Parks Award is presented to the bachelor's degree candidate who has done the most to enhance the reputation of the College through the intelligent use of recognized leadership qualities.

The Roger W. Babson Award is presented to the bachelor's degree candidate who has become distinguished within the College community because of character, orderly mind, sound judgement, and systematic business habits.

The Bryant College Award is presented to the bachelor's degree candidate who, in classroom activities, has demonstrated significant improvement in critical thinking and research and who has displayed thoroughness in analyzing facts and figures.

The Jeremiah Clark Barber Award is presented to the bachelor's degree candidate who has shown the most consistent record of academic improvement.

The Kappa Tau Brotherhood Award is presented to the graduate who has exhibited outstanding brotherhood and leadership in promoting policies beneficial to Bryant College and the entire student body. This award is given by Kappa Tau Fraternity.

The Self-Reliance Award is presented to the graduating senior who has shown desire in fulfilling a career objective through work experience and extracurricular activities. This person should work in a field that he/she will pursue upon graduation and in a position of responsibility. Academic excellence in a major area of concentration is another criterion to be considered. This award is given by the Brycol Student Services Foundation, Inc.

The Bryant College Good Citizenship Award is presented to the graduate who has demonstrated the qualities of sincerity and vigorous industry in the interest of good citizenship and who has, by example, furthered better government both on and off campus.

Nominated By Departments

The Pell Medal for United States History is presented to a graduate who has displayed excellence in the study of United States history. Rhode Island's senator, the Honorable Claiborne de Borda Pell, presents this medal to honor the memory of his father, the late Herbert C. Pell, statesman and diplomat, who served the United States as Ambassador to Hungary and Minister to Portugal.

The Wall Street Journal Award is presented to a graduate who has shown distinction in the fields of economics, finance, and investments.

The Jay Harrison Manchester Political Science Award is presented to the graduate who has achieved a distinguished record in the field of political science studies.

The Henry L. Jacobs English Award is presented to a bachelor's degree candidate who has maintained an outstanding record in the required and elective English courses that he or she has completed during four years of study at Bryant College.

The Rhode Island Society of Certified Public Accountants Award is presented to a graduate who, in the opinion of the faculty of the Department of Accounting, has demonstrated excellence in accounting studies and intends to pursue a career in public accounting.

The Leander Francis Emin Endowed Homestead Award is presented to a graduate who has demonstrated scholastic excellence in accounting. This award was inaugurated by the family of Leander Francis Emin, Bryant alumnus of the Class of 1907, to honor his memory; his birthplace and home — the 1708 house, and the entire Emin homestead farm and airport — has now become the campus of his alma mater.

The Reserve Officer Training Corp Achievement Award is presented to a bachelor's degree candidate who has excelled in his or her military science studies and other courses and who has shown superior leadership potential in the military science program and in extracurricular activities.

The John Hancock Insurance Company Award is presented to the two students who have demonstrated superior achievement in the study of Applied Actuarial Mathematics.

Nominated By Academic Achievement

The George J. Kelley Award is presented to a graduating senior scheduled to complete all degree requirements in May, who at the end of the fall semester had attempted and completed at least 102 credits at Bryant College and is recognized and honored for having the highest cumulative grade point average as of the end of the fall semester.

All nominations are collated and reviewed by the Commencement Awards Committee.

Student Senate Service Award
The selection of the recipients for these awards is determined by the Student Senate.

Bite the Tuition Bullet

Well, its that time of year again, students. That's right, its time for us students to buckle down and get ready to scream bloody murder against the one thing that we dread even more than midterm exams the day after Spring Break: Tuition Increases.

I'm sure you recall (like fudge you do) that last year around this time, I proposed a solution to the problem of chronic tuition increases. I proposed manufacturing a product called The Mark Plihcik Trustee Ejection Seat For the Control of Chronic Tuition Increases.

The idea behind the product was that when a trustee brought up the topic of tuition increases, the ejection mechanism, cleverly disguised in his or her chair as an ordinary looking seat cushion, would be triggered, propelling the trustee through the roof of the Unistructure and directly into their European car.

I thought this idea had a great deal of potential, due to the fact that colleges tend to raise tuition with the timing of a preemptive nuclear strike. However, it appears that I miscalculated the liability involved in the form of dead trustees. In actual tests that I just thought of, done with actual trustees, not one of them arrived at their car alive. Oh, well, we all make mistakes, right? But this time I've come up with a sure fire idea for controlling chronic tuition increases. It's a revolutionary idea that I've been thinking about for at least the last five or six minutes, and I'm certain that liability will be lowered by not consulting a lawyer to find out if it is actually legal.

Off the Cuff

Mark Plihcik
Archway Staff Writer

Right now, even as you read these words, the Board of Trustees is meeting to discuss the pros and cons of raising tuition. Thanks to a remarkable new technology that owes its success to the fact that I'm making all of this up, we are able to bring you the live conversation from the meeting. We can't identify any of the trustees because we have no visual capability, plus we are too lazy to look up any actual names of actual trustees:

Trustee 1: "I'd like to turn our attention to the issue of tuition increases."

Trustee 2: "Are we raising it?"
Trustee 1: "What are you, li?! Of course we are."

Trustee 2: "Oh. Sorry. All in favor say 'Aye' (sound of Trustees, acting in lemming-like fashion, voting nearly unanimously for the increase.) Opposed say 'Nay.' "

Lone Brave Trustee: "Er N... (pause as every eye in the room turns toward the lone brave trustee who refused to follow blindly, penetrating into his soul with glares that would send Superman back to Krypton, until he decides to change his mind and vote yes) I mean abstain...I mean nay."

Being the keen observers of human nature that you all are, I'm sure you all immediately noticed what the major problem is in controlling tuition increases. That's right! The trustees actually had the chance to propose the tuition increase. What we need is a product that will keep trustees mouths closed during the entire length of the actual meeting.

RESUME REQUIRED

NOMINATION FORM

1992 Commencement Awards

An opportunity is extended at this time to all students, staff, administrators, and faculty to nominate students who graduated in December 1991, or will be graduating in May 1992, for a 1992 Commencement Award. The nominee's typed resume must be attached to this form.

Please be certain that you read the description for each award very carefully before selecting an individual to nominate. Once your selection is made, state specifically why your nomination meets the criteria for selection for each award on a separate nomination form.

Include your personal reasons and refer to experience and accomplishments stated in the resume which specifically qualify the nominated individual. All information must be accurate; any misrepresentation will invalidate a nomination.

All nomination forms should be returned to Professor John Jolley, Chair, Commencement Awards Committee, Faculty Suite B, no later than Wednesday, March 18, 1992.

Careers in Sports

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be working in administration in the sports field? From the well-known teams (Celtics, Red Sox, Bruins, Patriots, etc.) to the lesser known organizations (colleges, not-for-profit) there are opportunities in a variety of sports related industries. Well, now you can stop wondering and find out how you can achieve that goal!

America's ever-growing fascination with sports presents many opportunities for those entering today's job market. And the great thing about it is you do not have to be an athlete.

These opportunities will be the subject of Careers in Sports presented Monday, March 2nd, 6pm in the Faculty Dining Room (second floor rotunda).

Career Savvy

by David Gilmore '92

Presenters will include John Gillooly, Director Sports Information, Bryant College; Mark Stenning, Director, Newport Operations, International Tennis Hall of Fame, Newport, RI; David Wergzyn ('86), Graduate Student, Temple University, Philadelphia, PA; and Bob Chassey, Institute for International Sport at the University of Rhode Island. These professionals and graduate students will tell you what it takes to get ahead in this competitive field!

Information will also be sent by Craig Bogar ('76), Director, Recreational Sports and Athletics, Loyola University, New Orleans, LA and Jennifer Proud Mearns ('82), VP, Sports Partners International, New York, NY. Jennifer also did an internship at Madison Square Garden and worked with the Women's World Tennis Tournament.

And for those of you who may think that a little more specialization is needed, a resource table will be available with information on graduate school programs, other sports-related career resources, internship opportunities and job search agencies.

So all you sports fans (and non-sports fans) interested in careers in sports, come on out Monday, March 2nd. It will prove to be an interesting evening!

Ashes and Palms:

Lent Begins

Did you know Ash Wednesday is March 4? That's right!! On Wednesday, we begin our formal preparation to celebrate the mystery of Christ's passion, death, and resurrection. Our Lenten journey is intended to be an excursion inward and outward. It is a time to examine our hearts, our lives, our relationships with others, with the world in which we live, and especially our relationship with God. It is a period of special fasting and prayer, of Christian service to others. We celebrate our need to be reconciled to God and to the church.

In a recent survey which was published in the March 1992 edition of U.S. Catholic (hot off the press), people from around the country were asked to describe their current relationship with God in one word. This is what some of the responses were: distant, growing, searching, transitional, struggle, sustenance, unfocused, active, openness. Lent gives us an opportunity to seek out the Lord of Life in our lives, in our world, in our experience. Lent challenges us to roll up our sleeves and to work for the benefit of others, especially the poor, the sick, the weak, the homeless, the hungry, and the oppressed.

It would be so easy to get caught up in the trappings of Lent- the Ashes and Palms, and forget the message of Gospel empowerment and involvement which Jesus lived.

Yes, it would be so easy to be an A & P Catholic - but in the end, Lent 1992 would only be an empty memory. If we, on the other hand, allow God to touch our hearts and fashion us into people who care, who worship, who truly live, then our Lenten journey will bring us to the empty tomb, and the rising Son will set our lives aglow with hope and love.

What's Going On

Ash Wednesday: March 4, 1992, Masses will be celebrated at 12 noon and 4 pm in Janikies Auditorium. The imposition of blessed ashes will take place at this time. All are welcome. A special Ash Wednesday collection will be taken up at the Masses.

Daily Lenten Mass will take place at 12:05 (Monday - Friday) in the Bryant Center Chapel.

Reconciliation The Sacrament of Penance is celebrated by appointment only. Call Father Doug at 232-6289.

Confirmation Class March 1 (that's this Sunday folks) at 3:00 pm in the Chaplain's Residence Confirmation is slated for March 29th at 12 noon in the Papitto Dining Room. Save the date!

One Star General Visits Bryant

by Matthew Kaleskas

Bryant College was recently visited by Brigadier General Julius Johnson, the U.S. Army ROTC First Region Commander. General Johnson commands all ROTC departments located in colleges along the Eastern Seaboard. His headquarters are located at Ft. Bragg, N.C. This visit to Bryant was part of a command tour of the ROTC detachments of Southern New England.

On the morning of February 11, General Johnson joined the cadets and officers from the detachment for an early morning physical training workout and run. After the PT session, the General briefly spoke with the cadets. The General then spent the morning touring Providence College and meeting with cadre and school officials.

In the afternoon, the General returned to Bryant and had an office call with President Trueheart. General Johnson thanked President Trueheart and Bryant, on behalf of the U.S. Army, for establishing the Yellow Ribbon Scholarship Program for Desert Storm veterans.

After their meeting, the General was briefed by Cpt. Parker on the Bryant ROTC program. General Johnson also took time to talk with our cadets about the current conditions in the Army, as well as what life at Bryant is like. The General was given a walking tour of the campus prior to his departure.

The General was extremely impressed with Bryant College in his first visit here. He also described the ROTC detachment as "one of the pockets of brilliance" in his command. The General's visit was a good experience for everyone and quite informative.

the dissemination of information from the Senate. You only want to present information that is beneficial to the Senate."

In voting on the motion, four senators, freshmen Josh Hansel and Mark Towle, and juniors Jesse Adelman and Matthew Piscitelli, originally abstained, but later changed their votes to "yes."

The issue of releasing vote totals was brought up last year when the results were withheld from the September freshman election, the Executive council election in March, and the Legislative council election in April. The Senate voted at an All-Senate meeting on September 25, 1991 to not release the freshman election results after a request for the results had been made.

This decision created a controversy among the student body. Two letters were immediately submitted to the Editor of The Archway; one pro and one con on the issue at hand.

In one letter, senior Michael Chagros stated, "I believe wholeheartedly that the Bryant Community has a right to know the details of Senate elections because they are, whether they like to believe it or not, elected officials representing their fellow classmates."

Another letter blasted The Archway for not reporting the event objectively in a "quest for journalistic dirt."

Other topics at the Senate meeting included plans for organizing a Spring Weekend committee, Special Olympics dates, and notification of when housing deposits are due.

Also, the six candidates for the Executive Council—Mike Yaffe and Rob Fontanella for president, Tara Gross for vice president, Doug Tucker and Jennie Rice for treasurer, and Janine Weisberg for secretary—gave speeches.

All students are invited to cast their ballots for the Executive Council of president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary on Monday, March 2 and Tuesday, March 3 in the Rotunda.

the possibility of purchasing an air purifier. The units the salesperson suggests ranged from $65-$115. I do not feel I should have to spend that much for an odor free living area. Bryant students pay quite a bit of money for room and board as it is. It is Bryant's responsibility to protect all students from the dangers and problems connected to second hand smoke and to remove other impurities coming out of the vents.

This situation is not only an annoyance, but a health risk as well.

Court Justice Clarence Thomas. In these accusations she had stated that while under the employment of Justice Thomas, then with the ACLU (American Civil Liberties Union) he had made advances that fall into the category of sexual harassment.

The American people look at such victims sympathetically, not questioning what motivates that a woman may have in bringing fourth such an accusation. Whether the motive be money or reputation the effects are damaging.

Not only do these false accusations ruin the lives for the men involved; but perhaps even more disturbing, allows the guilty to escape unscathed and unpunished. If women keep crying wolf, soon no one will come running. And for the real victims of rape, and sexual harassment that is a scary reality, that women will soon be confronted with.

ary New Mark Plihcik Rocket Powered Automatic Heat Seeking Tape Gun!**

Yes, that's right, folks, now even lowly scum sucking slime such as yourself, mere students of this college, can effectively control the issue of tuition increases. By simply activating this wonderful new device anywhere in the general vicinity of a trustee, you can seal shut the mouth of anyone who attempts to propose a tuition increase. As soon as a trustee says something such as "I'd like to propose..." the gun will spring into action, zeroing in on the source of the words and taping his or her mouth shut with a piece of tape so sticky as to permanently eliminate the need for shaving or waxing, if you get my meaning. (Hey, that could be an added value item to consider in determining the price of our revolutionary new product.)

I'm sure this will be a marvelous success on college campuses across the country. And the best part about it is that the tape gun is untraceable. Yep, that's right, there is no serial number, no record of your purchase, and because you launch it remotely, no chance of being caught. They will be manufactured by my friend Dan who is mechanically advanced to the point that he talks about such things as diesels and torques in everyday conversation, and he won't tell anyone who bought the devices.

However, just in case there is some unforeseen liability such as that when the tape is removed from the trustee, the trustee's lips come with it, I'll offer you free legal advice with every purchase. If you run into trouble, you can call me and I'll advise you to find yourself a good attorney.

Note: This column was written on Tuesday night, four hours past deadline and three hours before it was learned that the Board of Trustees planned to vote on the tuition increase last night. I don't know about you, but this seems like a very sneaky, underhanded thing to do, worthy of some sort of Flick Award. So, in honor of the Trustees last minute decision to vote early, I award the Board of Trustees with the Underhanded Conniving Move of the Year Award. Congratulations!

Candidates for President

Rob Fontanella

My name is Rob Fontanella and I am running for Student Senate President. I strongly believe I have the practical leadership experience that is required to hold this position. My previous history in student government has provided me with the leadership ability and know-how to become President of the Student Senate.

This is my seventh consecutive year in student government; I was president of my class for the past six years. I was chairman of the student government in my high school both my junior and senior years. But more importantly, I am currently a senator here at Bryant. I was named chairman of the Freshmen class and I am a member of the Ways and Means committee. These positions have given me the insight into the daily workings of the Student Senate.

As chairman of the Freshmen class I had to work with the current Senate President and administrative officials (some of whom I have come to know quite well). As a member of the Ways and Means committee, I have been a part of the distribution of funds to nearly every club and organization on campus. Not only did I sit on these committees, but as a senator, I was able to see exactly what being president of the Senate means and what it takes to successfully run the organization. These positions, along with my past leadership experience in this field gives me the ability to serve you as President of the Senate.

As I stated in my last campaign for senator "I offer you no gimmicks." If elected, I plan to work hard to bring Bryant's clubs and organizations closer together, and increase communication between the student body and the administration. I strongly believe that increased communication will better our campus environment. I am dedicated to tuition stability and plan to work with the administration to keep tuition increases under control. I also believe that there is a need for more recognition for public service done by clubs and organizations both on and off campus. I have seen through my experiences in the past year that being President of the Student Senate is a full time job that takes hard work and dedication, both of which I am used to. I plan to accomplish these tasks through what I call "aggressive representation." This means that I will not wait for the problems and concerns of the students to come to me, but instead I will face them head on and do the best job that I know how.

I, Rob Fontanella, ask for your vote on March 2 or 3 for Student Senate President; you won't be disappointed!

My name is Michael Yaffe, and I am a candidate for Student Senate President. Over the past few years, I have had the pleasure of working with many of you on several campus wide events. Now, I would like to continue this work by serving you in a higher capacity.

During the past year and a half, I have been the Student Programming Board President. This has been a valuable leadership experience for me. I have served on the Spring Weekend Planning Committee for the past two years, as well as chairing the 1991 Unhomecoming Committee.

Being President of the Student Programming Board has also allowed me to work very closely with the Senate and with Student Activities, developing an excellent working relationship with each. Also, by being President of SPB, I have had the opportunity to work closely with most of the Fraternities and Sororities on campus. I do feel that this past year and a half of leadership experience, and the work I have done with many of the other campus organizations, does make me the most qualified candidate for Student Senate President.

I would like to take this opportunity to reassure you of two very important things. If I am elected, I will do everything in my power to fight the tuition increase. Also, if there is an issue that is important to the campus, I will be the student's representative to the administration, not the administration's representative to the students. So if you want experienced and straight forward leadership, on March 2nd and 3rd vote Mike Yaffe for President.

Mike Yaffe

Candidate for Secretary

Hi. My name is Janine Weisberg and I am running for Secretary of the Student Senate. I want to become more involved with the student government, working to better the quality of life within the Bryant community. I am an active member of Delta Zeta sorority, holding an elected position. I am also a chairperson for Special Olympics and a member of the Debating Society. My involvement in these organizations reflects my sense of responsibility and dedication. I am well aware of the duties involved in being secretary of the Student Senate and a member of the Executive Council, and am eager to fulfill them. I am willing to dedicate time and effort to this position to ensure that the upcoming year is a successful one.

Candidate for Vice President

Tara Gross

Hi! My name is Tara Gross and I am running for the position of Vice President of the Student Senate. Bryant College has, and will continue to go through many changes, many of which will affect the students. Having already served two years on Senate, I have seen many issues come forward which have been influenced by the student's voice and representation. I feel that if we continue to have a strong voice and adequate representation, we can continue to have our opinions heard and acted upon.

I have worked on numerous committees including, Chairperson for Parents' and Family Weekend, chairing the Sophomore class and being a member of the Food Operations, ADHOC and Fundraising Committees. Through these committees and many others, I have experienced the time and effort that it takes to get results achieved. I am a very dedicated worker and I am confident that any task given to me will be done and done correctly.

I am very excited for the upcoming year and the new issues that will be brought before the Student Senate. I feel that if elected as Vice President, I have the enthusiasm needed to accomplish new goals and ideas, yet I have the knowledge of being apart of the Senate for the past two years. So, on March 2 and 3, remember to vote Tara Gross for Student Senate Vice President.

Candidates for Treasurer

My name is Douglas G. Tucker and I am running for the office of Treasurer of the Student Senate at Bryant College. I am currently a Junior and I am majoring in Finance.

In the past, I have worked in the department of payroll at the Ocean City Beach Patrol in Maryland. This consisted of specific duties such as the processing of time sheets (over 150 employees) with the use of Lotus. I was also in charge (crew chief) of six other lifeguards. In this job, I was responsible for the scheduling of my crew. I was also responsible for the lives of hundreds, if not thousands, of people daily.

For the past two years I have been the Campus Representative for the Smith Corona Corporation. This position involves high volume sales and the responsibility of dealing with businesses and individuals who have needs for computer hardware. Through this position I have developed vast experience in the transfer of funds with individuals and businesses.

The position of Treasurer of the Student Senate is one of responsibility and hard work thus, I feel I am qualified for this position. I have proven in the past that I am both responsible and hard working. Upon receipt of this position I would like to prove it to you, the students of Bryant College.

Douglas G. Tucker

Jennie Rice

Most people do not realize the time and commitment it takes to be on the Student Senate or what we do and how we run. I have been a part of the Student Senate for the past two years and I understand the commitment one needs to put into the position of Treasurer. I have the experience and the know how to take over this position and run it thoroughly and effectively. I have sat on the Ways and Means committee, which fairly allocates senate funds to all recognized clubs and organizations, so I fully understand the budget process. Another main project for the treasurer is financing Parent's and Family Weekend. I have chaired events for this major weekend as well as helped out in various other ways, so I am prepared to finance this weekend. In the past, I have worked closely with the previous treasurers who have helped me learn and understand this tedious budget process and to maintain a record of all Senate financed resources.

If elected to the position of Student Senate Treasurer I will, as I have in the past, commit myself fully and work as a vital team member of this organization. I also promise to represent the student body as well as all clubs and organizations fairly as a member of the executive board.

Please remember to vote JENNIE RICE on March 2 and 3 in the rotunda. Thank you in advance for your support.

Hey everyone! How was everyone's weekend? Our pledges and sisters had a great weekend!! Thanks to Hedi and Christine for putting up with us! Our pledges: Swist, Whiskas, Blossum and Rebok enjoyed themselves with all the events this past weekend!! Keep it up you're almost there!!

We would like to congratulate the new brothers of the Fraternities that ended!! Good luck to those still pledging!!

Friday night came and it was great to see all our Alumni - it made the weekend a definite experience!! Special thanks to H-1 for the festivities Friday.... Saturday was a great night to see all the Greeks together at the Comfort!! Many sisters later ventured to Dorm 2...Thanks for the entertainment!!

In awards: Sis - Zonk, Space - Tonik and S.O.T.W. - It.

That's it for now, till next week!

"ACTION IS OUR REWARD!" - Spiderman

The last meeting was on Tues. Feb 25th. We had pizza, compliments of Ronzio! We updated the group on campus events BEAC will be participating in. If you are interested in helping out for Hunger Clean Up, please contact a BEAC board member at the next meeting. The meeting gave us a chance to talk about our concerns and goals for the environment. Also, we did some brainstorming for future events and speakers.

We won't be having a meeting until after spring break. Please keep an eye open for flyers regarding the next meeting. Check out the campus scene after break for additional info!

Have a great, relaxing and safe break! It's only 9 days away!

Congratulations go out to the new brothers of Beta Sigma Chi: Rubble, Fudd, Burgis, Mack, Syd. Thanks goes out to the sponsors of Alumni weekend.

In sports, Beta A was beat on a controversial buzzer beater 105-104 by Sig Ep in intramural basketball Monday nite. Honors go out to Ike who ripped down 26 rebounds. The game was hard fought with only one fatal injury.

Next week, another special guest writer. Until then, bye.

Things are rolling for National Hunger Clean-Up Day (NHCD) on April 11th. At the last meeting we organized groups for NHDC: recruitment, publicity, fundraising and worksites. We also voted to who 50% of the money will go to from NHCD. The money will be given to St. George's Soup Kitchen and Amos House. The other 50% goes to the National Campaign for good causes. Also members signed up to help with Special Olympics on the day of the event. Next meeting will be on March 4th at 8:00 in Papiitto Dinning Hall. Hope to see everyone there and new members are welcome.

You've Just Been Cleared For Take Off.

You can get a lot more out of life when you set your sights a little higher. Which is what applying for the American Express® Card is all about. When you get the Card, it's easier to do the things you want to do. And with the student savings that come along with it, you can do even more.

Fly roundtrip on Continental for less than $100 each way.

Student Cardmembers receive four travel certificates. They can be used to fly anywhere Continental Airlines flies in the 48 contiguous United States. Two for the school year, and two for the summer.*

Depending on where you fly, each school year travel certificate is good for $129 or $189 roundtrip—and each summer travel certificate is good for $149 or $199 roundtrip.

Savings that upgrade your lifestyle.

As a student Cardmember you get more than great travel savings. You also save money on everything from clothing to long distance phone calls. All for a $55 annual fee.

Obviously, savings like these say a lot about the value of the Card. And having the Card will say a lot about you. For one thing it says you have a handle on what you spend, so you don't have to carry over a balance. It also says you're smart enough not to pay interest charges that can really add up. So take a few minutes now to call (have your bank address and account number ready), and apply for the American Express Card.

With all that the Card offers you, not even the sky is the limit.

The Gamma class is nearing the home stretch and marked the occasion with a Tropical Festival Friday evening. All the brothers and the many alumni had a righteous time, good job guys! The action continued with the Greek Extravaganza at the Comfort Saturday night where more fun was had by all.

Due to a no show from Sig Ep S, the B team attended a basketball clinic sponsored by the Smithfield High Class of 1995. The focus was on how to accept defeat at the hands of children, which we learned well.

Finally, Skidder, our new Goodwill Representative, would like to personally congratulate the new brothers of TEP, Sig Ep, TKE, and Beta and sends his continued support out to all other pledges.

Delta Kappa Epsilon

Que pasa? No much aqui.

In A-League hoops, the green machine won their first game of the season by beating Pi Kappa Phi last Thursday. The wizard was on fire, hitting from the bus. When are you guys gonna learn? In case you haven't, softball is coming up. The rambling-tales had the week off, but we anticipate tipping off against the Gutmen soon. Their high powered "Duke" offense will not score.

Team USA may have been bounced from the gold, but the Nor-Dekes still have a shot. Their game on Monday was postponed because of problems with the ice. It was replayed last night, after we went to press.

Via, con dios!

Karate Club

by Mike Richard

Hi, I hope that everybody had a safe and fun weekend! On behalf of all the members of the club, I would like to congratulate SENSEI Paul Santoro on passing his Black Belt test. Great job and we wish you much success in the future.

On a more serious note, there was a test of sorts this past weekend. This was a test of loyalty and self-control. Sifu has said many times in the past that this club is like a big family. Everyone should stick together and support each other through thick and thin. Well, loyalty and self-control were ad-me proud to be a member of this organization. PILSON!

Phi Kappa Sigma

by Jay Fogarty

The weekend kicked off with a great Friday afternoon at the Comfort, followed by a get-together at Phi Sig Sigs floor. Saturday night was a good time as well, as we jammed in the Comfort once again, courtesy of Theta and Phi Sig Sig.

Once again, the Alumni were up til all hours making the weekend interesting. The Freshman, however, said "Pledges don't play that game" as they decided to do a this old house episode at the Reid residence. Though all was not lost as a good time was had by all that traveled to New Haven, and we would like to thank Mrs. Reid and Curley for their hospitality.

A-Team B-Ball is still plummeting along with a 4-0 record as they embarrassed TKE in a 40-point blow out. Highlighted by a nice allyoop to Term from Kenny. B-team isn't looking to shabby themselves as they have a 3-0 record and expect to do better once Axl figures out who his teammates are and who's reffing the game.

Congratulations to Whale on his engagement!!! Congratulations to all the new brothers that finished this weekend, ours will be joining you after spring break.

Congratulations to all the new brothers of TEP, Sig Ep, Beta, and TKE. We can't wait to hang out with you guys. See, we told you it was worth it! For the rest of the fraternity pledges, hang in there!!

The weekend was relaxing while our pledges were away and our Alumni were up. On Friday night we had visitors from many organizations, which made for an interesting evening. We started off Saturday night early on the floor which blended into our arrival at the Comfort on Saturday night. It was good to see new brothers and other Alumni there.

Any new members as well as old members are always welcome!! Hope to see you there!!!!

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon are glad to be finished with pledging, and would like to congratulate all our new brothers. This weekend started early Saturday morning. It was also Alumni weekend. The Comfort welcomed all the new alumni Greeks Saturday night.

Monday night we had some rare guests on the floor, thanks a lot to Wheels. The new brothers experienced their first Brothers get together on Wednesday, it was a good time for all. The Good Samaritan of the week goes to Bags for his efforts to find the lost black feline on Monday night. One word for the Athletic Director, thanks for keeping us updated on all our games, keep up the good work.

In Sig Ep sports, the A hoops team had a strong victory over Beta. Rob Kraska will be on injured reserve as of 2/29 (ankle). The B team beat Pi Kap 22-10, what an offensive showing.

Special Olympics

We've gotten off to a great start! Thanks go to Lori Matheson for all of her hard work she put into organizing last Friday's very successful night at the Comfort! We would also like to thank Graffix for great entertainment as well as all those who worked the table and attended. All the signs were beautiful!

Special Olympics would like to thank the Bryant Community on their outstanding support in last weekend's donate-a-meal. Fundraising has just begun! Any club or organization interested in sponsoring or co-sponsoring a fundraising event before the weekend please contact Michele Rendeiro and Jeff Hudson at box 2121.

Any club or organization interested in performing a demonstration of their activities on the day of the games please contact Meredith King at box 2129. We are all hoping to get everyone involved so keep posted for many upcoming exciting events.

Tau Epsilon Phi

by David Delesdernier

First up, I would like to introduce to you the new brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi. They are: Pepe, Shapper, Pipes, Scooby, Sparky, Isic. Congratulations guys, now the fun begins. The weekend on the floor was a real good time. Saturday night was awesome hanging out with all the new brothers and old friends. Unfortunately, Slick and Isic found out the hard way that you must be careful where you rest your head. Then on Sunday, a few of us were hangin' out and playing a few games.

As for sports, TEP basketball is still on the rampage. TEP C defeated Pi Kap in a real close game last week. Lets try to get the score a little higher next time guys. TEP B is also doing well with their victory over DX on Monday night. Before I bring the week to a close, I have a quote from Spohn and Job: "Hay Murry, if you want good nutrition in a bowl, just do this."

Theta Phi Alpha

Greetings and Salutations! Well Ridley - Alumni weekend was a great success! Everyone started off on the right foot Friday either at the Comfort or Kirby's. Hope everyone had as good of a time as we did. Saturday started early for most at Parente's and progressed nicely to the Comfort, with little lag time. It was nice to see so many alumni from everywhere. Finally, congratulations to the new brothers of TKE, Sig Ep, Beta and Tep. For the rest of the pledges - Hang in there-sisterhood/brotherhood is just around the corner!

Happy Birthday Piggy! Our condolences go out to Fred and your entry into the ICU. Beware - Gretchen is gaining on the lead at an incredible pace. Lata Theta . . . . .

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Congratulations to our eight new guys: Gyro, Thoven, Ferdie, Chunky, Tattoo, Dydo, Roland, Marbles, Mushmouth Pickles. The future of TKE will be in your hands. I would also like to congratulate everyone else who finished this past week and to those who are still going, good luck and I hope at the end of all this Bryant college will have a lot more quality Greeks! That is exactly what this "campus" needs - a bigger, stronger Greek community!!

We will be happy to welcome Bruce and Couto on Friday along with Delta Zeta for a "gathering of the minds".

Happy Birthday (Wednesday) to McCoy. Pig Pen is an old man - the last of a dying breed.

opposition. Sophomore, Glenn Tatro had 15 points, and Rich Rose and Dave Burrows each had 14 and five rebounds.

Gary Duda and Steve Curran of Merrimack had 24 and 23, respectively.

Curran and Duda were the same two players that broke down Bryant's defense exactly one month ago during the first meeting of these two teams.

The contest against A.I.C. took place last Saturday.

Bryant was down nine at the half, 28-37.

They came back in the second half to match A.I.C. 43-43.

A.I.C. walked away with the win 80-71. The team was lead in scoring by Rose who had 19.

Burrows pulled down eight rebounds off the glass.

Against St. A's, Burrows shined with 25 points followed by one of his captain's, Rose with 16 points.

Down by 13 at the half, Bryant generated 59 second half points to out score St. A's, 59-50.

This proved to be too little too late for the Indians as St. A's maintained the lead and won, 80-84.

Bryant will face Springfield College tonight at 7:30, at Springfield.

Playing softball may not be everyone's ideal way of spending spring break in Florida, but it is just fine with the lady Indians.

Preseason has begun and the women's softball team is preparing for their trip to Florida over spring break.

They will be playing a rigorous schedule of nine games, which will help them get a jump on many other teams that cannot play outdoors until late March due to weather conditions.

"An early start will allow us to pinpoint our weakness and capitalize on our strengths," said captain Cindy Stone.

In Florida, seven of nine games will be against Division I schools.

"This will be good experience and a true test of our mettle," stated head coach Robert Reall.

The team is working on fundraisers to pay for the trip.

Candy sales, a twenty-week raffle, basketball ticket sales, and working at soccer games are some of the ways they are earning money.

Coach Reall is optimistic about the season and is philosophical about last season.

"A loss of nine games by one run and a rash of injuries contributed to a disappointing season last year," stated Reall.

The diamond will be filled with many veterans.

Meghan Lasbury, for the fourth year will be starting at first base, and Bridgett Casey will return to second.

Jayna Fontaine will cover third, backed-up by sophomore Christina Davis, who will also serve as designated hitter.

Back-up infielders will be freshmen Pam Perrault and Allison Ardito.

Senior captain Stone will take control of the field in center and at shortstop.

Other outfielders include Wendy Powell, Joanne Morelli, and Michelle Murphy.

Catching duties will be shared by freshmen Kimbie Mikula and Kim Potrzebowski. Stella Bialobrzeski will serve as utility player.

Much of the season hinges on a relatively young pitching staff. Sophomore Brigitte Plante is the only returning pitcher.

Sharing the mound will be transfer junior Britt Chanasyk and freshman Jen Flanigan.

"Pitching and defense will be the determining factors in the close games," states Coach Reall.

"[We're] looking forward to a promising season," said Reall. "We should be one of the top competitors in our division."

Olympic Wrap-up; How the Hometeam Faired

Angelo Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The largest Winter Olympic games in history came to an end on Sunday, leaving us with many memories.

For the Americans, it was one of the most successful Olympiads ever. In total, the U.S. won 11 medals (five gold, four silver, and two bronze).

Speed Skating gave us our first, and most, medals. Bonnie Blair from Champaign, Illinois took the gold in the women's 500 meter-long track as well as the 1,000 meter-long track. Blair became the first woman to win three golds in speed skating.

Short track speed skating, making its Olympic debut, gave us two medals. The women's 3,000 meter relay team, composed of Cathy Turner, Rochester, NY, Amy Peterson, Maplewood, Minn, Darci Dohnal, Wauwatosa, Wis, and Nikki Ziegelmeyer, Imperial, Mo, took the silver. Cathy Turner also won the gold in the 500 meter short track.

The United States also had success in Alpine Skiing. Hilary Lindh from Juneau, Alaska won the silver in the women's downhill, and Diann Roffe, Potsdam, NY tied Anita Wachter, from Austria, for second in the women's giant slalom.

Also making its Olympic debut was freestyle skiing (moguls). Donna Weinbrecht, of West Milford, N.J., became the first person to win a gold medal in the moguls. Nelson Carmichael, Steamboat Springs, Colo., won the bronze in the men's bracket.

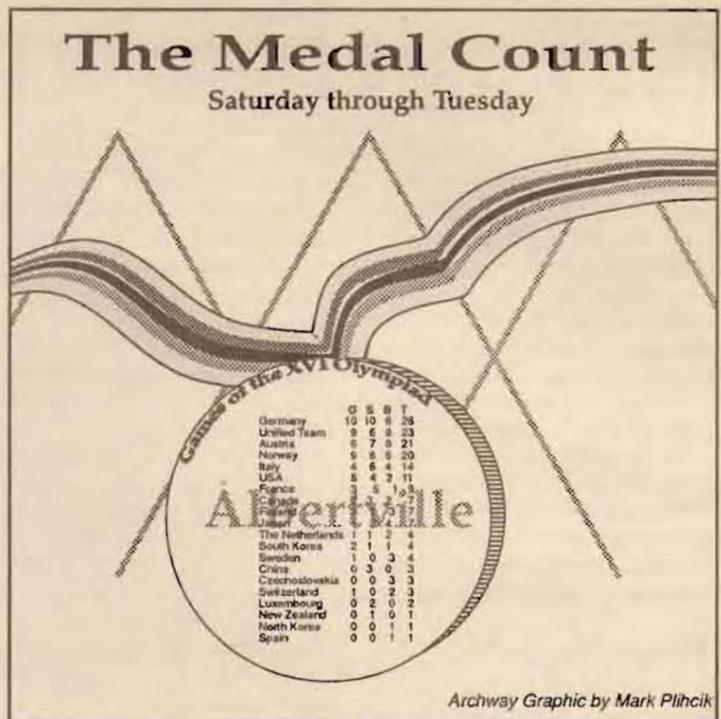

Figure skating was another area where the Americans fared well. Gold medal favorite Krisiti Yamaguchi, Fremont, Calif., did what was expected of her, despite falling during her routine. Nancy Kerrigan, Stoneham, Mass., took the bronze home.

The men's division gave us a surprise. Favorite Christopher Bowman had a shaky program and fell, making it impossible for him to win a medal. However, Paul Wylie came through for us, taking the silver.

Demonstration sports were another area where the U.S. showed promise. Sharon Petzold, Andover, Mass., and Lane Spina, Reno, Nev., won bronze medals in their respected divisions in freestyle ballet skiing. The U.S. also won the bronze in curling.

We came close to "Miracle On Ice II" with the hockey team, but they lost to Unified Team 5-2, and then to Czechoslovakia 6-1, which ended our quest for a medal.

Women's Basketball Look Toward NE-10 Play-Offs

Angelo Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's basketball team season is winding down, and their record is dwindling as well. The Lady Indians went 1-3 last week, in their NE-10 matches.

The team's only win of the week came Tuesday night at home against Merrimack.

Bryant jumped out to a quick 34-27 half time lead, and never looked back, eventually winning 69-64.

At the buzzer for the first half, senior Heather Houle was fouled and hit both ends of a one and one to become the newest member of the 1,000 point club.

"It's so fitting that Heather got her 1,000th point on senior night," coach Mary Burke said. "She has been a team leader all year and has kept the team together."

High scorers in the game were Holly Grinnell with 24, Houle with 16, and Bridget Casey and Jennifer Spencer, each with nine. Spencer also had ten rebounds and Kim Ross had ten assists.

A scary moment for the injury plagued Lady Indians came late in the second half when Heather Houle was scrambling for the ball and was pushed to the ground. She laid there, clinching her back for a few moments, and left the game within moments.

"Merrimack plays physical. That's the way they are coached," coach Burke added. "The ref's have to be on top of that, and they weren't."

Saturday, the team faced AIC losing in the last two seconds of the game, 71-69.

High scorers in the game were Spencer with 22, Houle with 19, and Grinnell with 13. Spencer also had 15 rebounds. Her performance in this game qualified her for the ECAC and the NE-10 weekly honor roll.

"Spencer played unbelievable against AIC she had 22 points and 15 rebounds, most of it coming in the second half. She was sick which made her performance even better," coach Burke stated.

The Lady Indians played St. Anselm's last Wednesday and lost.

"We got into foul trouble early and couldn't play defense," coach Burke said. "We also only have seven players which makes it harder."

Bryant earned a play-off birth and will take on Bentley, number two in the nation, on Sunday.

"We match up pretty well; they don't have a lot of size," coach Burke said when asked about the game.

"If we go in with a good mind set we stand a chance. They are beatable this year and if we play up to our potential we could upset them," she stated.

Coach Burke would like to thank her seniors on the team for their leadership.

"We have gotten great leadership for them all year which has allowed us to continue to have success. That makes a great basketball team. We couldn't have done it without them."

The team has also gotten help from other, unexpected places.

"Julie (Fitzgerald) has come off the bench and played intense defense. She's playing great," coach Burke concluded.

The team will travel to Springfield to play their final regular season game on Thursday. They will travel to Bentley on Sunday for the NE-10 Playoffs.

Jen Spencer(21) tries for a shot against Merrimack as teammate Holly Grinnell(13) looks on.

Men's Track Looks To Three-Peat

Mark Plihck

The men's track team is opening the 1992 season with one thing on their minds.

Three-peat.

The team, winners of the Tri State Conference Championship the last two years, is the favorite to capture the title again this year. A veteran squad, the team lost only two seniors to graduation last year. Pole vaulter Michael Hebert and school record javelin thrower Jeff Sparfven graduated last May.

The team is anchored by a core of six seniors, including tri-captains

Roger Stevens, Sam Thompson, and Scott Voss. Augmenting the squad are a number of returning lettermen, as well as a strong freshman class.

A good recruiting class has given the team it's strongest distance squad in many years. Stevens, who was also co-captain of the cross country team last fall, leads the distance runners, which also includes sophomores Pete Gosselin, Ray Moncrieffe and Paul Daley.

On paper, the team has no glaring weaknesses. Veterans are augmented by strong freshmen in most events. Thompson throws the javelin and anchors the weight squad, which also includes powerhouse

Phil Morin throwing the shotput.

The sprinters are led by Voss, junior Aaron Schaeffer, and sophomore Ian Pratt. Voss also anchors the jumpers, competing in the long and high jumps. Transfer students will help to take up the slack of the loss of last year's Tri-State long jump champion John Weiss to transfer. An all rookie pole vault squad looks promising in pre-season workouts and should be competitive in the Tri State conference.

Head Coach Harry Smith is optimistic about the team's chances for a three-peat. "We have a very strong squad this year. If we stay healthy, we'll be tough to beat."

Racquetball Ends Regular Season

Racquetball Team

The Bryant College Racquetball Team won four matches and lost one during the past two weeks in Binghamton and Albany, NY.

The Racquetball Team scored four wins, two by shutouts, in defeating SUNY Plattsburg 20-0, Marist College 18-0, RPI 16-4, and SUNY Albany 16-4.

Bryant lost their closest match of the year to SUNY Binghamton as the result of a tie match at 10-10. ECRC League rules state that if a tie should result, the match winner will be determined by the team with the most total points.

SUNY Binghamton had the most points winning by a total of 376-356. The women's wins were the key to the SUNY Binghamton match as they picked up five wins to force a tie.

Number one Bobbi-Jo Bell won her singles and doubles matches as usual, but #4 Tricia Colozzo, #5 Maria Acampora, and the #2 women's doubles team of Tricia Colozzo/Erin O'Connell provide the key wins for the Binghamton match.

All five wins came in straight games as the women's team continues to emerge as a league power. The women shut out their opponents in the Marist and Plattsburg matches and beat RPI 6-3 and SUNY Albany 6-3.

This past weekend, Bryant soundly defeated RPI 16-4 and SUNY Albany 16-4 in the best wins of the season.

The men's team went 10-1 in both matches, clinching at least a tie before the women won it again with six wins in both matches.

With these final two wins, the Racquetball Team continues on a roll into the Regional tournament, where they have chance of winning a Regional title.

The men's top six players should receive one of the top four seeds in each of the singles divisions. The women should also expect to receive some seeding in the tournament. Bryant, winning five of the last six matches, finished the ECRC season with a 6-4 record.

The Racquetball Team will have two weeks off before travelling back to Albany, NY for the Eastern Collegiate Regional tournament on March 13-15.

Last year, Bryant finished eighth in the tournament out of thirty teams and is projected for the top three this year.

Athlete OF THE WEEK

Mike Le Plante

This week's athlete of the week is Mike LePlante of the racquetball club. LePlante went 4-0 last week in a tri-team meet against RPI and SUNY Albany. He also posted a 17-2 season record. When asked how the team has played this season he said, "Very good, we're looking forward to the regionals and hopefully we can finish in the top three."

Athletes Honored on Senior Night

The senior basketball players from the men's and the women's basketball team were honored prior to the men's basketball game on Tuesday against Merrimack.
