New York Landmarks Attacked: Twin Towers Target of Bomb Explosion

There are seven different buildings in the World Trade Center Complex.

All of them were affected by Friday's blast in some way. 1 and 2 World Trade Center are the twin towers which are closed indefinitely. 3 World Trade Center is the Vista International Hotel which will be closed for more than two weeks. 4 World Trade Center is open, but on a limited basis. 5 and 6 World Trade Center are open on a limited basis. 7 World Trade Center is open and escaped relatively unharmed from the explosion.

The explosion that ripped through the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York City on Friday left the buildings paralyzed and most of lower Manhattan in utter chaos.

The blast forced street closings around the area as well as disrupting subway and PATH train service under the Hudson River between the Trade Center and New Jersey.

Investigators believe the bomb was carried into the underground garage in a large car, a van or a small truck. It went off at 12:18 Friday afternoon killing five people and injuring over 1,000 others. The blast destroyed the multi-story parking center where it supposedly went off, knocked out power and sparked fires which sent smoke up through the 110-story buildings and forced over 50,000 people to evacuate. In addition, there were 17 kindergartners from PS 95 in Brooklyn, NY trapped in an elevator between the 35th and 36th floors. Airlifts were also made available and rescued 28 people from the building.

Officials of Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, the owners of the Trade Center, stated Tuesday the towers may have to remain closed for a month.

The bomb, according to the March 1, 1993 The New York Times, was made of 500-1,500 pounds of conventional dynamite. Traces of nitrate have been found in the area of the blast which left a 100-foot-wide crater that reached three floors down. This led investigators to believe dynamite was used.

Dynamite is the generic name for a wide variety of commercially available explosives and has less power, pound for pound, than plastic explosives. While the sale of dynamite is restricted by Federal and state regulations, it is available at almost all construction and excavation sites.

Investigators are still not sure who set the bomb and why they did it. The March 1, 1993 New York Times states, "The choice of the target, the size of the blast and the success in attracting widespread attention, they said, all suggested that the attack had been carefully planned."

Investigators first thought the explosion was centered around terrorism. However, there were no calls before the explosion which is unusual for a terrorist attack. Since then, 19 people have called the 911 police emergency number since claiming responsibility. According to the March 1, 1993 New York Times, "Since attention is the main goal for terrorism, the people responsible for such acts usually find a way to make it clear that they were the ones who carried them out."

The first call was received at 1:35pm. The caller identified himself as a member of a group linked to the conflict in Bosnia and Herzegovina. At 2:15, a bomb threat was called into the 911 system concerning the Empire State Building. The building was then evacuated as a precautionary measure.

The other calls, according to The Times, were received after 3pm and continued into the evening hours. None of the callers have yet to produce any proof they were the ones responsible. Since the blast, hundreds of bomb threats have been called into the 911 system.

The investigation, which could take months, is a joint effort by the New York Police Department, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. Investigators have been sifting through the rubble looking for "a mere fragment of metal, a telltale shred of cloth or the trace of a chemical."

In order to conduct the search properly and efficiently, investigators are considering removing some of the debris to another location so it can be "sifted, analyzed and pieced together."

James M. Fox, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, stated in the March 1, 1993 New York Times, investigators suspected there was more than one bomber involved. He also said the license numbers of most of the vehicles that entered the garage Friday had provided other significant clues. These numbers were checked against computerized intelligence information, which has provided investigators with, as Mr. Fox stated, "plenty of leads."

Another theory concerning the bombing is the possibility of a disgruntled employee of the Port Authority trying in some way to get back at their former employer. The March 8, 1993 issue of Newsweek states, "In this case, the bomber obviously had detailed intelligence on the World Trade Center and knew where to place the explosives for maximum effect. By choosing a subterranean garage, the attacker magnified the effect of the blast and directed the explosive force up into the center of the structure." But, there is no concrete evidence yet to support this theory.

New System Provides Energy Conservation to the College

Julia Arouchon

A $307,000 grant from the Narragansett Electric Company will enable Bryant to have a new air conditioning system for the Unistructure this year. Engineers from Witham Associates designed a "Thermal Ice Storage System" which will result in an estimated $65,000 annual energy savings to the college.

The "Thermal Ice Storage System" manufactures ice at night, stores it in an underground tank, and then provides chilled water to cool the building during the day.

The tanks hold up to 600 ton hours of air conditioning and were designed to provide the maximum amount of cooling the Unistructure would require on the hottest day of the year.

"The system replaces the existing air conditioning system which ran on a moment to moment basis all day long in order to maintain a 72 degree temperature," says Bill Gilmore, Bryant's Energy Coordinator.

Thermal Ice Storage originated in the 1920's as the first method of air conditioning. Dairy farms, churches and movie theaters were among its first users.

"[Bryant's system] is a new application for an old technology," says Gilmore.

With the rising costs of electricity and increased environmental concerns the concept is becoming more popular.

The system avoids the peak daytime billing hours for electricity and lower available energy levels. As a result, the College can buy electricity at night, when more energy is available, for three cents per kilowatt hour.

Bryant is currently paying 14.5 cents during the day.

Also, by implementing the "Thermal Ice Storage System," Bryant will use the EPA approved HCFC-22 chemical, which is an ozone safe refrigerant. In the event of an even better ozone safe chemical discovery, the system allows Bryant to adapt easily.

In addition, the reduced electrical consumption will result in a significant reduction in carbon dioxide and sulfur dioxide emissions.

The system is expected to begin working on June 1st.

Visiting Executive Program Returns to Bryant for Third Year

Katrina Pfannkuch
Archway Staff Writer

All students came to Bryant in hoping to obtain a degree to help them accomplish great things, such as being CEO of Allstate or Vice president of Textron. Well some individuals have achieved just that.

On March 29, the Third Annual Marjorie Burgoyne French Visiting Executives Program will be held at Bryant featuring local CEOs and executives. These men and women are not Bryant graduates, but will be here to interact with graduate and undergraduate classes to offer students insight and information on their positions.

Fifteen student hosts will escort the visitors to all their destinations, including a free buffet breakfast that is open to all students at 7:30am on March 30. Other events include a dinner on the night of arrival, a lunch open to staff members and senior faculty including a faculty speaker and question answer period, and a reception on the night of departure at President Trueheart's home.

The visiting executives include representatives from such companies as Lechmere, Phelps-Grace, New England Telephone Company and Allstate. There are nine guests in total.

In the classes the executives attend, they will give a brief lecture on a leadership topic of their choice and lead a discussion on related issues.

Even though all of the events are not open to the public, it will definitely be worth the time to attend the breakfast and maybe even get a few pointers from those that have excelled in their field.

Joining Forces in a Time of Need

Last week, the bombing of the World Trade Center caused immediate alarm among Americans. It was an occurrence that rocked the nation and encouraged people of all walks of life to pull together during a time of need. While police, paramedics and firefighters joined forces in their attempts to rescue victims, experts searched for reasons why or how this attack occurred.

As was stated in the March 8, 1993 issue of Newsweek, "The explosion shook more than the building; it rattled the country's confidence, dispelling the snug illusion that Americans were immune from terrorism. American cities may never have had to endure all the horrors known to European, Latin and Middle Eastern capitals, but for a moment last week New York shared in their fears."

How many people have actually ever considered the possibilities of such a brutal and barbaric action hitting so close to home? Many students have said that life at Bryant College is like living in a "bubble." We supposedly lead this "sheltered life." Well, so many people in the United States also view their life as sheltered.

As one Bryant college student noted, "Just because we're in the United States, a land of democracy, we can be just as easily be subjected to terroristic attacks as anyone else."

While most terroristic attacks have some sort of forewarning, such as a rumor or an explicit threat, one just never knows when a tragedy will strike. When such an event occurs everyone must know how to deal with it—they have to pull together in times of need. You'd be surprised what people who usually work alone can accomplish when they join forces.

Back to Reality

To the Editor:

"All Men Are Created Equal." This used to be the national understanding from as far back as the days of George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, and especially Abraham Lincoln. Since the Bill of Rights, the Constitution, and the Emancipation Proclamation, all men were supposed to be created equal. All men were supposed to be given an equal opportunity. However, they are not.

I have attended Bryant College for three years now, and every year I've been witness to the abuse of our nations creed that "All Men Are Created Equal." I've drawn the conclusion that there is a great deal of discrimination in our society, however a great deal of it is "Reverse Discrimination."

Wake up America!

I take my base in the example of having a "Black History Month." I tend to believe that things such as this adds fuel to the flames of racism and discrimination. There are no months set aside for "Puerto-Rican History Month," or "Japanese History Month," or even "Caucasian History Month." Yet, we take a month to specialize on only one race, African-American. That's wrong!

Regardless of our race, we are all Americans and we should start to learn "American History," not one race specialization. We should study history and realize it for what it is - the Past. All the oppression that was most definitely wrong is over. We no longer have slavery. We are all free. Oppression should be, and is, over. Yet, many of us act as if it still exists.

I once spoke to a prominent member of the black community in Boston, Massachusetts who explained to me, "White people are the root of all racism and oppression." I, at that point prepared for what seems to be a recurring theme in our society today, however, the response I was told shocked me. He explained to me, "The reason that Caucasians cause discrimination, is that we grant special treatment to any race that decides to claim oppression. If we stopped treating certain races as if they deserve special treatment, then we could begin to eliminate the hate and racism that exists today." He was right!

As I near the time to step out into the real world, I see all the special treatments that are given to races because of their color. Political correctness, affirmative action, Quotas. I think I deserve a job just as much as anyone else. I haven't done anything to anyone, yet I get lumped into a general category of white, and am therefore, in today's society, placed behind other 'People of Color' for jobs that I deserve just as much. Whatever happened to hiring the 'Right person for the job?' Now we must hire so many people, regardless of qualification, because of their skin color? That's as wrong as not hiring someone for their skin color. The road travels both ways.

I appreciate the fact that African-Americans want to be appreciated. I too, want to be appreciated. However, our society is emphasizing only one.

This, once again all ties back to the idea that we are purposely catering to one group of people, and that is as wrong as when black people were oppressed in the far past.

Many African-Americans cried oppression in the past, and they got their deserved freedom. Now, as a Caucasian-American, (note I now must include my race in my title, something new to what just used to be called—"Americans") I say to all...

"I'm offended. Do something about that."

CIBED Task Force Seeks Input From Bryant Community

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

In the fall of 1992, President Trueheart announced Bryant was to be the recipient of a $2 million federal grant for the funding of the Center for International Business & Economic Development (CIBED). Members of the Bryant Community are needed to participate in the process of making CIBED a vibrant reality.

The federal grant was awarded to the College because of the tireless efforts of several individuals who had the vision and the courage to pursue an idea when it wasn't widely popular. Corporate outreach programs such as the Center for Management Development, Small Business Development Center, Export Assistance Center, World Trade Center, and the Institute for Family Enterprise worked hard to make the grant possible.

The new center is expected to play a key role in enhancing opportunities for Rhode Island industries in international trade exports and defense economic conversion. At the heart of the CIBED initiative is the desire to build an extraordinary relationship between Bryant faculty and students and our corporate outreach programs. If CIBED is successful, Bryant will become a nationally renowned business school.

Faculty, students, and the business community will be the main beneficiaries. It can truly be a win-win situation.

Students can expect innovative work-study programs, internship opportunities, richer curricula, and more opportunities to interact with executives and business leaders.

Faculty can expect better funding for research, opportunities to participate as trainers and consultants, opportunities for sabbaticals in the business world, curriculum development grants, and the chance to network and collaborate with regional companies and educational institutions.

President Trueheart's charge to the CIBED Task Force includes a number of challenges. Bryant must best utilize the opportunity to expand and solidify the linkages between its teaching, research, and corporate outreach programs.

As a business college, Bryant needs to build partnerships with other institutions (academic, corporate, and government) to address the changing economic needs of the region. Bryant must utilize grant resources to develop appropriate internship assistantships, and field work opportunities for its students at all levels.

Resources need to be allocated for sponsoring research efforts of Bryant faculty. In addition, Bryant needs to develop ways to best utilize additional funds for a CIBED facility to address other campus needs.

The CIBED Task Force has just begun its deliberations. It needs ideas, suggestions, preliminary proposals, and other forms of input from all members of the Bryant Community.

Towers

Sunday, police officers escorted employees into their offices in the twin towers so vital documents and computer files could be retrieved.

The World Trade Center contains 10 percent of lower Manhattan's office space including 350 banks, brokerage houses, and law firms. Many of these businesses have temporarily relocated to other offices in the City and the surrounding areas.

New York's Governor, Mario M. Cuomo, asked the regional office of the Federal Small Business Administration to make available Federally guaranteed loans of up to $500,000 for small businesses in the World Trade Center.

In his weekly radio address, President Bill Clinton said he called Governor Cuomo and New York City Mayor, David Dinkins, and pledged "the full measure of Federal law-enforcement resources" for those behind the blast.

It is reported experts supposedly warned the Port Authority in 1985 the Trade Center's underground garage was vulnerable to a terrorist attack and the center's safety systems could be crippled by a blast.

But, the key recommendations, such as closing the garage and adding safety systems, were not implemented.

Mayor Dinkins yesterday issued a $100,000 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of those responsible for the bombing yesterday. Later, the Port Authority matched it, raising the amount to $200,000.

Live Videoconference Held at Bryant Highlights Management

*Marguerite Phillips
Archway Staff Writer*

This past Friday, the Center for Management Development hosted "Creating Learning Organizations: Growth Through Quality" in the MRC Lecture Hall.

The live and interactive videoconference was broadcasted via satellite throughout the South-eastern New England area. Moreover, the conference on the latest management theories for improving motivation and productivity among employees was available to all school administrators, college deans, faculty, and business people.

The live program featured Peter Senge, director of the Organizational Learning Center at MIT's Sloan School of Management and the well-known author of The Fifth Discipline: The Art and Practice of the Learning Organization.

Dr. Senge discussed how the new management philosophy can be used in both schools and businesses to create long-term goals, a shared vision, and a learning culture that increases achievement among students, employees, and managers.

The program also featured a special appearance by the international-ally renowned W. Edwards Deming, founder of the "quality movement" in Japan and the United States and an esteemed management guru for over fifty years.

The panel of experts who participated in the program composes some of the country's most respected leaders in education: Dr. Linda Darling Hammond, director of the National Center for Restructuring Teaching and Learning at the Teachers College in Columbia University; Dr. Robert Peterkin, director of the Urban Superintendents Program at Harvard University; Dr. Michael Timpane, President of the Teachers College at Columbia University.

Dr. Senge, Dr. Deming, and the other panelists were available for call-in questions from the satellite audience.

In addition to their discussions, on-site footage showcased businesses and schools that are currently restructuring themselves into successful learning organizations, including the Georgia Institute of Technology and the Albany Ladder Company.

The Associated Equipment Distributors' foundation, the National Education Service Foundation, and PBS Adult Learning Satellite Service were the national presenters of the event.

It is rare for a school or business to be able to afford bringing Dr. Deming or Dr. Senge to their site for management consultation, so, for the participants, it was a unique opportunity to hear the leaders' experiences first-hand and to have the opportunity to ask questions.

The live videoconference program, combined with the local activities sponsored by the Center for Management Development, made it an ideal professional development workshop for teaching and business professionals in the South-eastern New England area.

Those who attended left with an understanding of how to bring about fundamental and necessary change with their old methods of motivating and leading production processes.

As Dr. Senge stated, "The way organizations are is a product of how we think and how we interact; they cannot change in any fundamental way unless we change our basic patterns of thinking and interacting...so that learning can be a way of life rather than an episodic event."

Archway Staff Writer*

Fire Alarm
Friday, February 26th at 1:40 am

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) and Smithfield Fire Department (SFD) responded to a fire alarm in townhouse D-block. A check of the area revealed there was apparently no cause for the alarm. However, there were several smoke detectors either missing or hanging from their ceiling fixtures. SFD ruled this alarm malicious. Later investigation by Fire/Safety Officer Rattigan and a representative of SFD concurred the alarm would be changed to unknown origin.

It is important to note the issue of tampering with smoke detectors has been occurring on a somewhat frequent basis in the townhouses. All residents should be advised of this equipment or removing fire and safety equipment is an issue taken very seriously by the college. Sanctions can include monetary fines, probation, and possible loss of housing privileges. In addition, the State of Rhode Island can press felony charges which may be punishable by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 or shall be imprisoned for not less than one nor more than five years, or both. If you feel you have a problem with any fire and safety equipment, please bring it to the attention of your Resident Assistant or Fire/Safety Officer Rattigan at DPS.

Larceny

On February 26th, a townhouse resident reported to DPS approximately fifty compact discs were stolen from the commons area of his townhouse. The townhouse was not locked and no forced entry signs were noted. The student reported the CD's were taken between the hours of 1:00 am and noon on the 26th. The CD's were believed to be transported in a bright red cloth bag which was also taken from the premises. Anyone with information on this case is invited to contact DPS.

Malicious Destruction of Property

Saturday, February 27th at 1:30 pm
 While assigned to the Entry Control Station (ECS), a DPS officer was approached by a motorist who told him he had just witnessed a person break a streetlight in the front circle. The DPS officer was given the description of the person and the vehicle he had gotten into. This information was relayed via radio to the mobile patrol. A short time later, the vehicle was stopped by the ECS on its way off campus. One occupant of the vehicle admitted to breaking the streetlight with a snowball and was willing to pay for the damage. Information was obtained and passed onto the Controller and the Physical Plant. A bill will be forthcoming.

Illegal Drug Use & Confiscation of Drug Paraphernalia

Saturday, February 27th at 7:30 pm
 A DPS officer was dispatched to assist an RD and RA for a reported smell of marijuana in a ground floor suite of a dorm. The group was allowed entry into the suite where they located the possible source. The DPS officer knocked on a bedroom door where he could hear talking. After knocking several times, the officer opened the door and asked why nobody had heard his knocking. At this point, two individuals jumped out of the window and started running. The DPS officer and an RA gave chase. One of the suspects was stopped a short time later and escorted back to the room in question. A bag was confiscated and destroyed. Both students are awaiting disciplinary sanctions.

Keg Confiscation

Saturday, February 27th at 11:00 pm
 A DPS officer on mobile patrol in the senior apartment parking lot noticed a group carrying a keg. Identification of the group was obtained and the keg was then confiscated and destroyed. All of the students were very cooperative throughout this incident.

Alcohol Confiscation

Saturday, February 27th at 10:00 pm
 A DPS officer on foot patrol observed a student carrying three cases of beer towards the dorm village. Identification was obtained which revealed he was not of legal drinking age. After explaining the campus alcohol policy, the cases of beer were confiscated and destroyed.

Larceny

On Monday, March 1st, an employee of the College reported to the DPS her purse had been stolen from her office. The employee stated she used her purse around 10:30 am and then noticed it missing around 1:00 pm. The purse was silver/green with a black handle. If anyone should find it, please bring it to the DPS lost and found where it will be returned to the owner.

Safety Tips of the Week

Lock your bedroom door when you evacuate your building for a fire alarm. This will prevent any unscrupulous people from entering your room to steal your valuables.

The campus community should pay particular attention to where they store their small personal belongings such as wallets and purses. If these valuables are routinely left in your unattended room or office, you should take precautions to safeguard them. Several options exist for doing so. For instance, one may simply lock their door, even if it's only for a short time. This will prevent a thief from taking the thirty seconds or so it would take to steal something. Another option is to place the valuables in a locking file cabinet or desk drawer. The main idea is to keep valuables safe and secure. And the simplest way to accomplish this is by denying the thief the short time that he/she needs to commit the crime.

What WEB is Really All About

What is WEB really all about? What kind of organization is WEB? Who can join WEB? What kind of members do we have? What beliefs do we hold? How do we take action? Would you want to join us? Where is WEB headed?

We thought it may be a good time to look at these questions. Some thoughts (not necessarily answers) about each question follow.

What is WEB really all about? Women Educators of Bryant is an organization that focuses on providing education, assistance, and support to the Bryant Community on issues of particular importance to the well being of women.

What kind of organization are we?

We are an informal organization. We have monthly "steering committee" meetings, as well as monthly educational and social meetings. We have no specific organizational structure. We prefer that members simply participate and contribute when comfortable.

Who can join?

WEB is open to all members of the Bryant Community. We encourage students, faculty, staff — of either gender — to participate.

There are no formal applications nor membership dues.

What kind of members do we have?

Currently, we have limited numbers of students (both undergraduate as well as graduate), staff, and faculty who are involved with our programs.

What beliefs do we hold — and are those beliefs individual or do we espouse organizational beliefs?

Because we are an open organization, you will find diversity in our individual beliefs. We do not espouse organizational beliefs.

However, as individuals, we may share some commonalities in values or beliefs — such as — we believe in the equality of women; we believe in women's contributions; we believe in the need for certain types of support for working women (i.e., quality day care); we believe in the need for gender equity in the classroom; we believe in the need for pay equity; we believe in the need for continuous education related to gender issues; we believe in women's rights to safety, etc.

Not For Women Only

Submitted by WEB

How do we take action on issues? We have not taken an "activist" approach to issues. What we have contributed is a forum for discussion of important issues. Our meetings have focused on open discussions of issues such as women and education; women and politics; as well as sexual assault issues.

Additionally, we have attempted to be a source of information for women. We have written Archway articles on various subjects. Further, we have subscribed to publications related to women and education; we have materials on reserve at the circulation desk in the library and we have bulletin board space available outside of Gulski Dining Room.

Would you want to affiliate with WEB?

If you want to simply learn more about issues that have particular importance to women, you would want to attend our meetings. If you want to create a supportive network for yourself, you would want to attend our meetings. If you want to have some fun, you would want to attend our meetings. If you're looking for an informal environment where professors, staff and students relate to each other, you would want to attend our meetings.

Where is WEB headed?

The direction is a function of the membership. There are many educational and supportive avenues to pursue: (1) to define sexual harassment, and to propose a policy for the college; (2) to look into day care options for employees of Bryant; (3) to be vigilante in the nomination of women for honorary degrees; (4) to invite female speakers to campus; (5) to list organizations that grant funds to women - to single them out — petition them for support; (6) to establish a mentoring program; (7) to provide welcome and support for all women on campus; and (8) to establish a women's center on campus, etc.

Now that you know more about us, we are asking for your help. WEB needs a logo, a symbol...something that will communicate what we have to offer. Therefore....

WEB is sponsoring a "Logo Design Contest."

We need a symbol that is distinctive; that is meaningful; that establishes a mental image of what we're all about. We know we have some creative people here at Bryant — and we're looking forward to your submissions!

Please send your ideas/drawings/etc. to "WEB Steering Committee," Faculty Suite F. Deadline for Submissions: March 31.

Dinner for Two at Wrights Chicken Farm will be awarded to the winning entrant.

We hope you'll join us for some of the following events:

March 22-Monday-Social Event

We will attend "Weekend Comedy" in Janikies; preceded by an early dinner (location to be determined). For info, call ext. 6410.

March 26-Friday-Papitto Dining Room

Dr. Cindy Berry, Director of VOICES, Inc., will speak on her organization's efforts on behalf of victims of sexual abuse.

April 21-Wednesday-Social Event

After an early dinner, we will attend the performance of Trent Arbury (Bryant Performing Arts Series).

April 23- Friday- Papitto Brown Bag Lunch - 12:30

Bertice Berry, a renowned sociologist and comedienne will entertain us with her talk on "Gender Differences Between Men and Women."

May Social Event

We hope to end the semester with a dinner at Wrights Farm. Date and time to be announced.

What is Advance Camp?

by Jim Duczakowski

Throughout their entire junior year, ROTC cadets train to prepare themselves for Advance Camp. Their training includes physical training, military science courses, and leadership labs. So with all this training, what is Advance Camp?

Advance Camp is six weeks in length, held at Fort Bragg, NC and is intense training that will challenge the individual both physically and mentally; pushing them to the limit. Cadets who are in their junior year of college are the ones that attend camp.

They attend camp during the summer of their junior and senior year, to be evaluated on their leadership potential. Cadets are put in charge of squads of approximately 10 person, platoons consisting of approximately 40, and companies which have consists of over 150 individuals. The cadets are then evaluated on how well they are able to lead, and conduct the necessary training.

What types of training are conducted at camp? Camp is broken up into six stages of training. The first stage consists of an army physical fitness test; land navigation; communications; nuclear, biological, and chemical training; and a field leadership reaction course.

The second stage is weapons training. In this stage cadets are familiarized with today's army's weapons which includes firing of such weapons. The third stage is where cadets train basic infantry skills to include squad sized tactics.

Next cadets are introduced to the various branches of the army. Cadets then move to advanced tactics which is similar to squad tactics but at a platoon size level. Finally everything is brought together and cadets conduct missions such as raids, ambushes, and recons.

All of the training is extremely difficult, and is planned and conducted by cadets. Cadets are in charge and are responsible for the success of the training. The main purpose of camp is to train to army standards, develop leaders, and to evaluate officer potential.

Become A Bryant Center Student Manager

There will be an informational meeting for all interested applicants on Tuesday, March 9, 1993, at 6:30pm in the Papitto Dining Room in the Bryant Center to explain the positions, expectations of managers and answer any questions you may have.

Applications are available at the Bryant Center Operations Office.

All applications are to be returned to the Bryant Center Operations Office by 4:30pm, Friday, March 12, 1993. An interview process will follow, and a decision will be made in April.

Hey Seniors!!!

Your four years at Bryant are almost over. What better way to re-live them than in The Archway Commencement Issue?

This is a special issue of The Archway published by seniors for seniors.

Don't miss your last chance to leave your lasting mark at Bryant.

Interested??

Come to the informational meeting on Monday, March 8 at 7:30pm in The Archway office on the second floor of the MAC. Any questions? Call The Archway at 232-6028.

All seniors are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Spring Break in the Core of the Big Apple

Michael Cain
Archway Staff Writer

My friends were going to Daytona, Fort Lauderdale, Puerto Rico, New Orleans, and Cancun. Where was I going? New York City. Yeah...that's right, the city that never sleeps. I might not get a tan but I might be discovered by a moviemaker or be asked to do a guest appearance on The Cosby Show.

The hotel I stayed at was particularly unique. Checking in took almost an hour. I knew it would be a pleasant stay after the desk clerk said, "I hope you brought your sleeping bags." I think he was new at the job because he had us sign everything except his forehead.

We were waiting so long in the lobby we decided to sit down on the comfortable carpet. The hotel security approached us a couple of minutes later and said, "Please stand." I thought we were going to break out into a quick rendition of the Star Spangled Banner, but we didn't. I guess there was no LOUNGING allowed at the hotel other than the lounge that is.

I was shocked when I saw our rooms. They were smaller than my closet at home, equipped of course with two very single beds. The rooms were decorated in neon green and the view was of the double-decker Burger King across the street.

After getting settled in our hotel room we thought it would be nice to see some of the city. So we walked, avoiding the book stores that had Satanic Verses in their windows, walked and walked and 30 blocks later decided the subway was our only choice home. Everything is in walking distance in New York if you're at least slightly athletic or profoundly stupid.

At 7 o'clock that evening we looked for a restaurant to eat dinner. The only problem was that most of them were closed except for the fast food outlets. The restaurants had closed at 7 o'clock. I thought New York was the city that doesn't sleep. We finally found a place that served dinner until 8 o'clock. They called it a "Gourmet Delicatessen" this meant you got pickles and cole slaw with any item ordered.

We were in one of lesser neighborhoods of the city and store owners needed time to lock up and drop steel curtains in front of their stores.

I noticed that night after 1:00am when the doormen for the hotel had left, that beggars soon took over for the doormen. Women in furcoats were a little surprised from the help the homeless gave them. I wonder who gets better tips, the homeless people of the doormen?

The TV's in our rooms had these weird cable devices. You could turn to a movie and then watch it for about 5 minutes until a flashing red light on the converter went off for about another minute and then your were charged for the movie. They even had the adult version of the Three Musketeers. Only the finest entertainment can be found in New York.

The next day when leaving the hotel people approached me and said, "Hey...got any Knicks tickets?" The Knicks were playing a game next door at the Garden. "No." I replied. Then they would answer, "Well do you want any?"

The trip was eventful, but then again who goes to New York and doesn't come back with a few intriguing stories to tell.

Editor's Note: This article was written by Michael Cain, an Archway Staff Writer who died in a fall from the Newport Cliff Walk on August 6, 1991. The article originally appeared in the March 23, 1989 issue of The Archway. Periodically throughout the semester, The Archway will reprint articles written by Michael.

Stressed Out?

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

It is that time in the semester when exams seem to be coming up all at once. By taking a positive and logical approach to studying you can improve your grades and reduce pre-test anxiety.

A strong studying basis begins with good notes. Note taking skills require effective listening which entails concentrating and evaluating what is being said. It is important to listen to the meaning of your professors lectures without writing down every detail.

Some suggestions to improve your listening skills: be prepared for class by reading your assignment and reviewing lecture notes, concentrate on the lecture not the lecturer, listen with an open mind, keep physically alert, and finally keep mentally alert by trying to predict possible test questions.

Effective note taking is a skill that will remain with you even after you leave college and enter your career.

To improve your note taking skills: try to take notes in outline form, use your own words instead of the instructors, copy most diagrams, drawings and other illustrations the instructor puts on the chalkboard and keep alert for points the instructor emphasizes.

Try to pay as close attention to the end of the lecture as you did the beginning, in other words, don't be a clock watcher.

Listening and note taking skills will improve with practice and they are invaluable tools when attending a professor's lecture. In addition, these skills help you to better understand your outside assignments.

Several factors can lead to ineffective studying. One of these problems is underlearning information that does not have meaning to you or you have difficulty concentrating on the subject.

To combat these problems several measures can be taken: assure meaning by organizing and grouping your facts and ideas, review the information immediately not by passively looking over your notes but by discussing, reciting or writing in your own words what you have just learned.

Overlearning material helps to master the hard to remember material, but be careful not to overdo it. By adopting, key words and symbols for important information, you can pick out the important aspects of each paragraph you read.

Try to distribute your studying for shorter periods of time and avoid cramming. Concepts are mastered more easily if they are distributed over a longer period of time.

One of the main problems students run into is managing their time. Research confirms time management is an important factor in succeeding.

One of the most important things to establish is a well planned study schedule because when your time is organized you can allocate more time to your difficult courses.

An important rule to live by: borrow time — don't steal it! Adjust your schedule for the week so you can achieve a balance between sleeping, eating, studying, working and recreation.

When the time comes for you to take your exam there are several simple rules to follow. Don't panic. If you blank out on a question, just skip the question and go back to it later.

Be sure you understand all questions on the exam before beginning. Take your time and read each test question carefully and completely before answering.

When taking an essay test, read all the questions through rapidly and jot down facts beside each question. Estimate the time that you will need for each question and be careful not to spend too much time on one essay.

Answer the easiest question first and take time to write legibly and make your corrections neatly. Before you start writing, make a brief, logical outline.

When studying, try to avoid distractions such as the TV or radio. Psychological distractions can also contribute to a loss in concentration. Before starting to study try to eliminate, solve or control any problems in your life.

Finally, remember to keep each test in perspective.

Eric J. Bertrand

During the past several years at Bryant, I have tried to become involved in various activities, organizations, committees, and programs. From these experiences I have come in contact with many people in the Bryant Community. I have been able to develop leadership skills that will allow me to lead the Senate into the future. I feel, that these activities have given a great deal to me, and that I should now try to return the favor and do something for them. As President of the Senate, I will try to encourage more participation in clubs and organizations. I will do everything in my power to support these organizations to their fullest, as I feel these organizations are the backbone of the community. I will be a liaison between the students and the Administration and build a better and more open relationship between these two groups. My goal is also to help coordinate the efforts of the larger groups, such as the Greek Organizations, the Student Programming Board, and the Student Senate in order to enhance the programming on campus. I will strive to bring students' concerns to the forefront of the Student Senate activities, and try to represent the students' views, as I have done over the past three years in Senate. In closing, I have tried to better the Bryant Community for my classmates, myself, and those who will come here in the future. I will do my best to continue this service, and I ask that you give me a chance to prove my commitment by voting Eric Bertrand on March 8th and 9th. Thank You.

Andy Effron

Hi, my name is Andy Effron and I'm running for Vice President of the Student Senate. I served as a Student Senator, freshman and sophomore years. This year I was unable to serve on the Senate because I spent the first semester abroad in London. During the two years I was on the Senate, I served on many committees such as the Ways and Means Committee and the Food Operations Committee. On the Ways and Means Committee we reviewed all budgets and allocated funds to most of the organizations here on campus. Sophomore year I was the Chairman of the Food Operations Committee. As Chairman, the committee and I visited ten schools and reviewed the food services they have on their campuses. It was my job, with the help of the committee, to compare ARA to those services we visited, and then make recommendations to the Administration.

I also served on the Orientation team last summer. As an Orientation Leader, I developed diplomatic relations with the Administration and my team leadership skills were enhanced. It was such a great experience that I decided to do it again this summer.

The position of Vice President is a position that represents you. Have the alcohol policy and the tuition increases bothered you? Personally, its bothered me! As Vice President I will make sure you are listened to and the message gets heard by the Administration. Its important to let the Administration know how the students feel on certain issues. If elected, I will make sure that we are heard. So, be sure to vote Andy Effron on March 8th & 9th!

Rob Fontanella

My name is Rob Fontanella and I am running for reelection for Student Senate President. I strongly believe that I have obtained the practical leadership experience that is required to be president of the Student Senate. I believe that I know this position well because I have held it for the past twelve months. This, along with my previous Student Senate, student government and leadership experiences I have gained the leadership ability and know how to be reelected as President of the Student Senate.

This is my eighth consecutive year in Student Government. Over the years I have gained the necessary skills to be president; but nothing has made me a better candidate than the experience of actually being president of the Senate for the past year. In that time I have tackled certain issues that have effected the entire campus, and others that were managerial logistics. You all recall the alcohol protest in September, I trust that you have seen The Link - the new Student Senate newsletter, and the establishment of the Varsity Athletes' Council (VAC). These are just a few of the issues that I have addressed this past term. As President I have come to have an understanding and professional relationship with the administration, staff and members of the Board of Trustees. I have learned the inner workings and procedures of the Student Senate and its responsibilities to the Students and its role with the administration and the Board of Trustees.

More important than what I have done is what I will do. I know from my experience that this position does not allow one to sit idle and watch. I strongly believe that idle leadership is no leadership at all. For this reason I will continue to practice a proactive form of representative leadership. This position is a full time job that requires dedication and hard work, both of which I am used to and enjoy. If re-elected the work and projects that I have started I will be able to finish. Being a Sophomore I will see and experience the consequences of my work; one of those projects being Cable Television. I will continue to face problems head on and do the best job I know how.

I, Rob Fontanella, ask for you vote on March 8 and 9 for Student Senate President; you won't be disappointed!

Michelle Jaccodine

Hi! My name is Michelle Jaccodine and I am running for the position of secretary of the Student Senate. For the past year I have been serving as a Freshman Senator. Besides serving the Freshmen class, I have also been a member of the Ad-Hoc Committee and I chaired registration for Parents Weekend.

This past year has been filled with new experiences nor only as a Senator but as an Orientation Leader. These experiences have taught me a lot about Bryant College and even more about the importance of open lines of communication. As secretary of Senate I will be sure those lines stay open and help keep the student body informed of the issues affecting them.

I know the importance of hard work and dedication. I have learned this not only during this past year of college but also in my four years of high school where I held executive positions such as President of Future Business Leaders of America.

If elected secretary I will bring to my position all that I have learned from past experiences, plus commitment, dedication, and a positive attitude.

So remember, Vote Michelle Jaccodine for Senate Secretary, on March 8th and 9th. Thank you!

Jennie Lynn Rice

During the past year I have faced many challenges and overcome most of them at the benefit of the student body. However there are still many changes that need to take place within the financial domain of the student activities fee. This is why I am asking all of you to reelect me, Jennie Lynn Rice, to the position of Student Senate Treasurer.

During the past year I have created a Treasurer's Manual as well as a Ways and Means allocation booklet for the clubs and organizations to follow in hopes of making their job easier and helping things run more smoothly. For those of you in clubs and organizations you may be saying, "Why should we vote for someone who cut our budgets?" Let me just say this, I came into this position with a deficit left to me by last year's class, but with the help of my Ways and Means Committee and the cooperation of the club and organization officers I feel that problem was handled quite efficiently. All funds were dispersed fairly and in a proportionate manner. With the funds we are allocated it is hard to give each one of you everything you need, but we do try our best.

To try to solve the money crisis, I decided to take on the challenge of holding a student referendum to increase the student activity fee by $12.00. After organizing this vote and holding an election, the referendum passed increasing the student activity fee "pool." Thanks to all of those who voted! I have also put into effect a rolling account system so that classes, starting when they are freshman, can begin to fundraise to defray costs for their senior year activities and the money they raise will now roll over in their respective accounts.

One might ask, with all of these problems why am I running for reelection? Well, I have worked very hard to see all of my ideas as implemented now I would like to be given the chance to see them work and if there are any kinks I feel I can best fix them.

In conclusion I am asking for your support, please vote Jennie Lynn Rice for Student Senate Treasurer.

Terry Volpicelli

Hello. My name is Terenzio Volpicelli. Most of you know me as Terry. I'm running for Secretary of the Student Senate.

A good Secretary needs to be intelligent, hard working and have practical experience. I feel that I possess all these qualities and will carry them out to the best of my abilities. I know that I am the best man for the position.

I graduated from Milford High School in Milford Mass. While there, I was Treasurer of SADD and the National Honor Society. I was also a member of the Captain's Club for varsity sports and was a member of the Massachusetts Boy's State. Currently at Bryant, I am the secretary for Tau Epsilon Phi. I've held this position for a year and I feel that this experience will prove beneficial to the Student Senate and the entire Bryant community.

Ever since I was 12 years old I have been a hard worker. This past summer I started my own subcontracting firm and I am also the Secretary to a small corporation called DMC.

I feel that my previous experiences I have had will be a great asset to the Student Senate. Think of my name, Terry Volpicelli, March 8th and 9th.

Student Senate Executive elections March 8th and 9th from 10 am - 2 pm in the rotunda. Remember to vote!

BEAC

by Marlo Rosenbloom

"Very plainly we are left with a single choice. Either we stop poisoning our air- or we become a nation in gas masks, groping our way through dying cities and a wilderness of ghost towns." - Lyndon B. Johnson, Air Quality Act 1967

The Save the Bay petition went great, we collected more than 500 signatures. This will be a big help for the organization. Their goal is to collect 25,000 signatures to submit to the Rhode Island government. The petitions will push the government to clean up the bay for fishing and swimming by the year 2000! Thanks to Megan, Michelle, Mark, Shauna, Tina, Beth, Kelly, Brenda, Kristin and everyone else (Barbera) who helped to get the signatures.

We will have another meeting on Tuesday, March 9 at 6:30 in the Dorm 16 lobby. We will try to put the final touches on our plans for Earth Day! We still need suggestions for speakers, promotions and a T-shirt design. Please bring your ideas to the meeting! Don't forget $10.00 if you want the BEAC T-shirt, there's only a few left.

College Republicans

by Kevin J. Pishkin

Wow! The Bryant College Republicans have been busy. First of all, the College Republicans attended a Dinner/Fund-Raiser for Senator John Chafee on the 19th of February. While we dined with some of the most powerful members of the Republican party, it came to our attention that the banquet raised in excess of $90,000. Even though a great deal of that will probably be taken by President Clinton's Tax Plan.

We would like to suggest that America watch Rush Limbaugh each weeknight at 11:00 p.m., on Ch. 64. Mr. Limbaugh tells the world about politics with no lies. His conservative approach has infuriated most Liberal politicians and has stretched to every state in the country. Everything he suggests has come true, and his future predictions, so far, are unchallenged by Democratic politicians. When asked by a Limbaugh reporter about Mr. Limbaugh and his program, Tom Brokaw stated, "It would be wise if the Democratic National Congress did not challenge him, (Limbaugh)."

As upset as we are with the new taxes, proposed by President Clinton, we are still working hard to combat Democratic Tax increases. We would like to suggest to President Clinton, that if he would like to pay off the national debt, that he should put a jar on his desk at the White House and throw in a dollar every time he breaks a campaign promise. We'd pay it off in no time.

The Bryant Chapter of College Republicans, although not as visible as most organizations on campus, are thriving. We still welcome all people interested in Republican politics, or just those fed up with Liberal Lies. Those interested in joining should call 232-4773 for information.

All applications for next year's executive board positions are due in to myself by Spring Break. Elections will be held when we get back. Until next week we say, "Hold your breath. The air in Washington stinks."

Delta Chi

by Chris King

Our weekend got off to a good start on Thursday thanks to Alpha Phi. All the Brothers had a good time. We spent Friday night with our associate members. On Saturday, we hosted the First Annual Red Death Party on ice. The Brothers would like to thank everyone who attended. We would also like to thank Glenn, Frank, Barry, Roy and the Gator for making an appearance this weekend. We would like to thank the Epsilon Class for their help Saturday night.

In sports, our B-basketball team romped again, trouncing Beta 39 to 17, bringing our record to 4-0. Adam won athlete of the week, with his spectacular coast to coast basket. The soccer season started with a forfeit, however, the team shows promise for the rest of the season.

Good luck to all pledges, stay strong. Finally for the quote of the week, "What I wouldn't do for..."

Delta Kappa Epsilon

by Sean Leone

The A-basketball team is still searching for their first win of the season as they lost their second game of the season to Beta. The A-soccer team won their season opener, by shutting out TKE, to win 2-0, with goals from coach Snipes and Mama. The B-team, however, lost a close one to TEP.

This past weekend was uneventful aside from being visited by the rambunctious gorilla Nellie. Quote of the week: "You're a big dope."

Finance Association

by Matt Sprague

Thank you to all those who attended our first meeting last Thursday. For those of you who could not make it, we discussed some possible fund-raising events and began the investment game. The game is different this semester, as trades can be made on Tuesday and Friday. Write to the Finance Association, Box 5 if you need transaction sheets and rules. Cash prizes again will be given to the top finishers.

The next meeting will be on March 25. I will be sending letters to all the members regarding time and what we will be doing. Also, nominations for the Executive Board will be due that day. Mail them to Box 5 or bring them to the meeting on the 25th. The positions are President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, Public Relations Chairperson, and Investment Chairperson.

IFC

by Jeff Davis

There is a lot to talk about this week. First, those who attended the convention this weekend all had a great time and learned many ideas for the future, regarding Greek life. Although many of us were tired from a lack of sleep we still managed to have a little fun at night. The IFC E-board would like to thank Cindy for a great weekend; by the way, how were the buffalo wings? Anyhow the weekend was definitely a successful experience for all.

In other happenings, at the past IFC meeting it was decided that pledge follies were to be canceled for this semester. Also, a motion was passed asking for full disclosure of all sanctions against fraternities and sororities on campus to the IFC and Panhellenic council.

P.S. to Cindy - Canada was a great place to visit!

Karate Club

by Brian Cotter

Good luck to everyone who is testing next week. Be sure to bear down and put in a lot of practice in the few remaining days until the test. For many of us this test is a major step towards our own personal ultimate goals, so don't let yourself down.

Thanks to everyone who attended last week's get together, and especially to Julie Paul, whose hard work and effort made it possible. This week's Milky Way award, I'm sorry to say, goes to myself. Finally, I would like to wish Pat a quick recovery and I hope to see him in class soon.

Lacrosse Club

by David Crosby

Hey now, lax fans! Our practice schedule has been revised. Along with practicing on Sundays and Thursdays, we will be meeting in the MAC at 4pm on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to do some running.

On Wednesday, March 31st, the Lacrosse team will be hosting a Night at the Comfort. The band will be announced shortly, so keep an eye out for our flyers. We will also be holding a raffle on this night.

The door is always open for new members, so if anyone is interested just come on down to one of our practices.

Phi Kappa Sigma

Hope everyone had a good week. Our Dr. Hannon Banquet/Alumni Weekend turned out to be a huge success. Congrats go out to Goon on organizing it. There was a good time to be had at Kirby's Friday afternoon. We would like to thank DZ for Friday night. Pledging is going well; we have come to the conclusion that Marcos thinks he's still in Spain, and Chet isn't sure that pledging has started. Hang in there guys, you only have one more month. Everyone is looking forward to Spring Break! Remember, its only eight days away. We are all looking forward to another fun-filled weekend of fines and probation. Song of the Week "LaBamba," and until next week "Hello Shagwieler."

Phi Kappa Tau

by George Harrison

Hello, hello. We'd like to congratulate Debbie on having two, count 'em, two official Phi Kappa Tau spring formal dates. Good luck to Doug on finding one himself. Once again, I say that the Suisse Chalet looks great this year.

KT-LZ sports is on a roll, with a dominating win over Pi Kap last Monday in soccer. However, they returned the favor in last week's basketball contest. Boys, next rematch take that bet. Looks like we've found an all-star in "fruit-stripe." He can dunk, he can pass, he controls the floor. What more do you need?

Josh has finally turned 21 and has become a man. Please feel free to join us tonight.

Pre-Law Society

by Judy Dill

Last week at our meeting on February 25, Barbara Gregory spoke about law school considerations. She gave us valuable information of LSAT's, internships and the requirements that law schools have for their applicants. If you have any questions or concerns about such topics don't hesitate to speak to Barbara Gregory or the officers.

During the meeting, we also discussed our fund-raiser and came to the conclusion that we'll go through a vendor which seems the quickest and easiest way to make some revenue.

On that note, just a quick reminder that our dues are $2.00 and will be collected at the meetings. Mark on your calendars that on Monday, March 8 at 7:30 pm the Honorable Judge Bourcier from the Superior Court of Rhode Island will be speaking in the MRC Lecture Hall. Hope to see you all there - it should be very interesting and informative. Our next meeting will be on March 10 at 4:00 pm in the Lobby of Hall 16. All are welcome!

SAM

by Jennifer Baranowski

Hello everyone! I would like to thank Professor Perry for taking time to speak to us on International Business. It was very informative, however, the turnout was not as we expected.

The topic for our next meeting will be psychology and management with Dr. Deluga. For those of you who have not heard Dr. Deluga speak, he is very enthusiastic and entertaining.

Also at this meeting, we will be having nominations for elections. The meeting will be held on Monday March 8, 1993 at 4:00 in room 2 of the Bryant Center (second floor.) Refreshments will be served. See you there.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The brothers had a good weekend with some going north to Mt. Snow and others south to Rapper's and UConn. Friday we had a happy hour with Theta. It went well until about 6:30 when dinner became a more important priority to them than hanging out.

In sports the A soccer team won its season opener 2-1 over TEP. Providing the goals were the two Nauset boys Seb and Bags. In hoops the A team remained unbeaten while the B team struggled in their first game.

We are looking forward to a good weekend with many alumni who are stopping by on their way to Beantown to celebrate with Frank Sanella. We would also like to bid farewell to the B-suite, it will be missed.

Congratulations to Roth for this winning the Left Foot Award this week. Also to Seb we ask, "How lazy are you, it was only 15 feet away?" Only 9 days left until Spring Break and Jamaica, can't wait for a fun trip with some "fun guys."

Hi everyone! Once again we all had a great weekend. Thanks go to Beta, especially for the trip down the yellow brick road. IKE, Tara really didn't mean it!

Some sisters had fun at Delta Chi on Saturday. Too bad the ice melted, Adam. Other sisters enjoyed working over the weekend. Hope that your finger tips feel better guys, sorry. Congratulations go out to Suzi-Q!

Indoor soccer starts this week and our first game was on Tuesday. Results will be in next week's paper, but don't get your hopes up!

A few last comments: Special thanks go to Ken for taking care of a sister.

We hope Kev feels better and gets out of his grouchy mood! Alabama, here I come? Did anyone find the directions to my house?! Ting! And lastly, thought for the week. "Can a love triangle have four sides?"

Hang in there Pledges!

The Student Programming Board has three new voting members to congratulate, Tammy Nguyen, Jody Bates, and Dana Colecchi.

On March 5th we'll be showing our first Friday night movie of the Extravaganza Series. The movie is "Caddyshack" and will be shown at 7:00 PM. Admission will be $1.00 and includes soda.

Sunday's movie is "Bodyguard" and will be shown at 7:00 and 9:15. Admission is $1.50 and soda and popcorn will be served.

Our next meeting will be Monday, March 8th, in meeting room 2B of the Bryant Center at 4:30 PM. All are welcome!

by Tracey John

Our Happy Hour at the Comfort was not quite as successful as we would have liked, so we hope to see more of you diehards on Wednesday the 10th for our Comfort Night. Look for posters in the Rotunda regarding news on entertainment that night.

Our committees are busy working in anticipation of the big event on May 8th. We'll continue keeping everyone informed about more Comfort events and volunteer sign-ups. Get psyched for Spring Break, and come up to the Comfort Wednesday to help raise money for Special Olympics.

Congratulations to the new TEP

E Board. The new members include: Gaspar-Chancellor, Gardner-V.P., Bear-Pledge Educator, Efron-Rush, Eddie A-Treasurer, and Big Stretch as Scribe. Good luck to Terry and Efron in the senate elections. The brothers are looking forward to having our alumni up this weekend, and I'm sure the pledges will like it too!

We had a good weekend which evoked a lot of newsworthy events. 3-Man customized the bathroom. Buzzkill maintained his steady 0 batting average. Gooze is hoping that his Amway job will be more successful than his valet parking (current net income $-40.00). Vito, how are your peanut butter and jelly sandwiches? And believe it or not it was a good night in the pit Friday.

In sports the TEP A soccer team played Sig Ep. Mr. Slick played well in net, Ice played good tough defense and Cav had a nice goal. The TEP B soccer team played DKE B. Gaspar did a good job in goal, Raynor got one and then Skip scored the winning goal resulting in a 2-1 victory.

It was a toss-up for the quote of the week. It was either "Look at those white coals... they sure look red to me" or Brian's words of wisdom, "I went back to my dorm and I rested a while."

We would all like to congratulate some of our brother's recent engagements. Good luck Joey, Fatman, Ed, and believe it or not, Todd. The biggest surprise is the announcement of Chris' recent elopement with Maureen! Good luck Chris hope to see you soon. This past weekend turned out to be a super success for all. Saturday night was incredible due to the motivation of our rushes and the few brothers who stayed on campus.

New Jersey was an event not to be forgotten. It was nice to see a few old faces around. We owe a thanks to Bruce for the entertainment. Sorry, but I have no idea about the duct tape. Molk I really like the jacket I'll get it back to you soon, yeah right!

On Saturday morning Nautilus was definitely the place to be. We would like everyone to know that Stan is in training so no fun is allowed. Perl just added another five to each side. Finally, "Did you see the girl with the red shirt and black jeans? Yeah you know, that one! Well she better drop Zeke by the next brothers gathering!" Until next week "Yeecaaah Bruuunnoo!"

Women's Basketball Defeated in NE-10 Playoffs

Angelo Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's basketball team ended their season with a 63-68 loss in an NE-10 playoff game against Stonehill on Monday.

The team did not play well in the first half. Stonehill was able to jump out top a 15 point lead and never looked back.

In the second half, Bryant came out strong and was able to come within three. However, Stonehill was able to hold them off.

"We played great in the second half," coach Mary Burke said. "In the first half our defense wasn't as strong as it should be, and Stonehill was running well on offense and we couldn't get back in transition."

High scorers in the game were Liz Davies with 29, Beth Conneally 12, and Bridgett Casey 11. Conneally also grabbed a game high 14 rebounds and eight steals.

"Liz (Davies) and Beth (Conneally) did well this season," Burke added. "But Beth really surprised me. She comes out of Rhode Island. And players who come out of Rhode Island are often labeled as not being able to play at the next level. Her athletic ability wouldn't let her do that, and she came in and played great."

During the game senior Bridgett Casey added her name to the record books by sinking a 15-foot jumper for her 1,000th point. Casey became the 31st member on the 10th woman, of Bryant's elite 1,000 point club.

"I am glad for Bridgett," Burke said. "She came off a severe knee injury her sophomore and junior years but. She came back and had a great senior year. She then came back for a fifth year and provided us with some leadership and it is fitting that she ended her career with 1,000 points."

The lady Indians are optimistic about next season, "We have a great foundation. We were the youngest team in the conference and we still made the playoffs," Burke concluded.

"We need to build recruits to balance the freshman class. All the freshman have quality playing experience and should be able to step-up next year."

Coach Burke and the rest of the team also acknowledge the sixth man society, they were "a big factor in our success at home."

Racquetball Team Drops Two Matches

submitted by the
Racquetball Team

The racquetball team lost its first two matches of the season last week to SUNY Binghamton and #3 ranked Penn State.

Bryant, who is ranked #17, was upset by unranked SUNY Binghamton, 11-9. The team then followed the upset with another loss, this time to Penn State, 16-4.

The SUNY Binghamton match was a tough loss for Bryant because there were many chances for the Indians to win, and they just couldn't come through.

One of the main strengths of the team this year the men's doubles teams who had only lost two matches combined all season. However, all three men's teams lost.

The men's team accounted for four of the nine Bryant wins. The winners were Jesse Albright, Todd Gaurino, Paul Martin, and Keith Lauzon.

The winners for the women were Bobbi-Jo Bell, Kristen Levins, Erin O'Connell, Maria Acampora, and the doubles team of Bell/Levins.

The Penn State match was not as close as it was expected to be. Bryant won only four matches, all by the men's team. The winners against Penn State were Guarino, Lauzon, Derek Gonda, and the men's doubles team of Guarino/Gonda.

The Racquetball team is currently preparing for the Eastern Regional tournament which is being held March 19-21 in Albany, NY.

Bryant is expected to be the top contender for the regional title. The team finishes the conference season with a 8-2 record.

Bridgett Casey Breaks 1,000 Point Barrier

Angelo Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

In her final game as a lady Indian, Bridgett Casey sunk a 15-foot jumper to add her name to the record book. She becomes the 31st member, and the 10th female, to join elite 1,000 point club.

Casey went into the game at Stonehill on Monday needing 10 points for 1,000 career points. Late in the second half she made her final shot of her career to finish with 11 points for the game. After the game, and a long discrepancy, the game ball was given to Wayne Casey, her father.

Scoring 1,000 points was never a goal for Casey; she just went on playing. "I never had it in high school (1,000 points)," Casey said. "It was never really something I wanted." But Casey does admit it was in the back of her mind during the game.

"Yes there was pressure," Casey added. "By some of my shots you could tell, but, when I was taking the last shot, it didn't even cross my mind."

Along with basketball, Casey is also a major part of the women's softball team. "I like to do everything," Casey said. "I love to watching and playing all sports."

In high school she was also a two sport athlete and was named to All-Hockomock League in both sports. The Brockton Enterprise also selected her to the All-Scholastic Basketball Team.

Although Casey wasn't known as a shooter in high school she proved to be a shooter in college.

Casey is from North Easton, Mass., home of Stonehill College, which made this an even greater accomplishment, since her family was close by.

"My family has always been there to support me," Casey added. "From high school through my last game at Bryant I could count on them."

There was a time when it was thought Casey could never accomplish this feat. After suffering an injury which sidelined her the last few games her sophomore year and all off her junior year she came back last season and picked up where she left off.

This year Casey returned for her fifth year and played a big role for the lady Indians.

"My experience helped a lot this year," Casey said. "I was glad to come back for a fifth year. We had a young team (five freshmen) and I helped Mary (Burke) get the stage rolling for next year."

Coach Burke also acknowledges Casey's achievement. "I'm glad for Bridgett. She came off a severe knee injury her sophomore and junior years and played great her senior year."

"This season she came back for a fifth year and provided leadership and it was great that she ended her career with 1,000," Burke said.

Men's B-Ball Looks To Next Season

Robb Martin
Archway Sports Writer

The men's basketball team finished the season at home against Merrimack in a heartbreaking overtime loss.

The final score was 79 - 78 and put a halt to any hopes of a post season tournament.

The Indians finished the season with a 7 - 18 record and finished ninth in the NE-10.

When asked about the season, coach Reilly replied "most people would look at a teams won and loss record to evaluate how they played. But to do it to this team, would be a disservice." Although, he is quick to point out he was not pleased with a 7 - 18 record.

A number of injuries, including the sidelining of Tony Weiss for the last four weeks of the season and a groin injury that forced Scott Collins to see decreased minutes in the lineup coupled with the loss of two forwards in Dave Christie and Rick Shaw hurt the Indians and contributed to their inconsistency.

Out of the nine players, six are underclassmen. Though injuries and other circumstances plagued the team, the freshman were able to get the playing time necessary to build confidence and a strong team for next season.

Players that benefited from the added minutes were freshman Jerome Grier, who was named Freshman of the Week after the game against Quinnipiac as well as the remaining freshman; Tony Weiss, Scott Collins, and Omar Shareff.

The team has a strong nucleus for next season and coach Reilly has said "this is the best crop of young talent since I've been here at Bryant."

But he points out "we will need front court help in order to crash the boards." When asked whether there were any big men in Bryant's not to distant future, he said "we signed a 6'10" player from Bristol, Rhode Island, who is taking a post graduate year a Worcester Academy."

The talent is there and barring injuries and other unforeseen events, look for the Indians to be atop the NE-10 division next season.

The 1,000 Point Club

Bryant's Basketball Program recently added another member to the 1,000 point club. In her final game as a lady Indian, Bridgett Casey knocked down her 1000th point to finish her career with 1,001.

Red Sox Head To Winterhaven

The groundhog has seen his shadow and that can only mean one thing: baseball. Here's a biased account on the world of the Sox. If that in itself doesn't excite you, then how about Roger Clemens reporting to camp on time; even that is a story in itself. But wait there's more.

Clemens, the man who deserved to win yet another Cy Young, was unquestionably, and without a doubt, robbed by Dennis "The Menace" Eckersly who stole what little pride Boston had left. And to add insult to injury, he had once been part of the hometown team.

Clemens, once again had another twenty game season, despite the fact the lowly Sox beat the Indians in the race for last. He leads by example, from the front. So if the Sox follow his lead, they too could find themselves in the Pennant Race.

From the least in the East to the Beast of the East. Not possible? Just recall a World Series not too long ago, in a land far far away when the Twins and Braves, two former cellar dwellers, competed for the Fall Classic. It was a quest not unlike that of Harrison Ford's crusade for the Lost Ark or Monty Python's search for the Holy Grail.

We as Sox fans could only hope, pray, and in the end, be led down that gut wrenching path called the Curse of the Bambino. For those of you not familiar with the Curse of the Bambino, tis' the day when the Sox sold Babe Ruth to the Yankees. Since then, the Sox have not won the whole Enchilada although they have had a whole lot of burritos and heartburn, Bill Buckner will testify to this.

The Sox watched the Yankees build a dynasty around Ruth. And perhaps the Sox will once again do some watching as they say goodbye to Boggs. Certainly one cannot compare Boggs to Ruth, there is none. Ruth showed a new way of playing ball. Ruth was the rule.

Boggs follows it. Boston saw Wade sign with the arch enemy, like Robin trading in his tights to join the Joker or Superman uniting with Lex Luther. For the two roads diverged in the snow and the Sox, they took the one already traveled by and that has been the difference.

Athlete OF THE WEEK

David Burrows

Beth Connealy

This week's Athletes of the Week are David Burrows of the men's basketball team and Beth Connealy of the women's basketball team. In the final week of the season, Burrows averaged 20 points, seven rebounds, and four assists as the Indians went 0-2.

Connealy played a major role in the playoff game at Stonehill on Monday, she had 12 points, eight steals, and a game high 14 rebounds, in a 63-68 loss.

The Archway would like to congratulate the women's basketball starting center, Liz Davies for being named Rookie of the Year in the NE-10. Davies finished the year with 453 total points placing her fifth in the conference in scoring. She received an All-Conference Honorable Mention.
