DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS (D.H.L.)

JOHN E. FOGARTY

United States Congressman from Rhode Island

Born in Providence, John E. Fogarty attended LaSalle Academy and was first elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1940. He is presently in his 19th year of service in that body.

Assigned to the Appropriations Committee in January, 1947, he has been a member and chairman of its subcommittee providing funds for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare ever since, and is known as a champion of "Better Health for the Nation."

Co-author of the Hill-Fogarty "Health For Peace" bill, he is also the author of the Health Educational Facilities Construction bill, which provides a ten year program of grants for medical, dental and public health schools. He also sponsored the legislation which resulted in the White House Conference on Aging and the Fogarty Bill to provide for expansion of teaching and research of mentally retarded children.

John Fogarty has been awarded distinguished service citations from national health organizations, veterans groups, educational associations and business chambers. PARENTS MAGAZINE awarded him its National Distinguished Service Medal. He was named as one of the Ten Outstanding Members of Congress who have done most for the youth of our country.

He holds Honorary Degrees from four famous institutions of higher education. Married to the former Louise Rohland of Rehoboth, Massachusetts, Congressman Fogarty lives with his wife and daughter, Mary, in Harmony, Rhode Island.

DOCTOR OF LAWS (LL.D.)

MARGARET CHASE SMITH

United States Senator from Maine

Skowhegan, Maine, claims Mrs. Smith as its native daughter. She was first elected to the House of Representatives to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, the late Clyde H. Smith. Prior to her marriage, she was successively a teacher, telephone, newspaper, and woolen company executive. She was a nationally syndicated columnist for more than five years.

Only woman to serve in both houses of Congress, she was elected to the Senate by the highest percentage majority and the greatest total vote majority in the history of Maine in 1948. In 1954 she was re-elected for a second full six-year term in the Senate.

Her principal committee service in the House was on the Naval Affairs Committee for which she drew presidential commendation. In 1953 and 1954 she was Chairman of the Ammunition Shortage Investigating Subcommittee and is presently serving on the Appropriations Committee, the Armed Services Committee, the Space Committee and the Preparedness Investigating Committee. She has served as a Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force Reserve and is the acknowledged Champion of Reserve Legislation in Congress.

Senator Smith holds honorary degrees from thirty-two American colleges.

Among the national honors conferred upon her was that of "Woman of the Year in Politics" for several years both by the Associated Press and the United Press and the Political Achievement Award by the Women's National Press Club.

A member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in Boston, she holds Honorary Membership in Delta Kappa Gamma, education sorority, and Pi Sigma Alpha political science fraternity, among others.

Senator Smith has made eight extensive trips throughout the world from 1944 through to 1957. She has conferred with leaders of many nations and been rated as one of America's best and most effective ambassadors of good will.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

WALTER H. REYNOLDS

Mayor of the City of Providence, Rhode Island

Born in Providence, Mayor Reynolds, educated in the public and parochial schools of the City, began his career in the business world early, holding several administrative positions with the Western Electric Company. His political career began in 1940, when he was chosen as Executive Secretary to Mayor Roberts. In 1943 he was selected the first Budget Director of Providence, becoming head of the Department of Finance in 1947.

Elected Mayor and re-elected in 1952-54-56-58, his administration has been responsible for such progressive measures as: re-organization of the Bureau of Police and Fire, establishment of a Commissioner of Public Safety and a separate Bureau of Licenses, creation of the office of Personnel Director, initiation of the principles of the merit system among public employees, completion of the Willard Shopping Center redevelopment project in cooperation with the Providence Redevelopment Agency, and many other reforms.

Mayor Reynolds has brought the City of Providence recognition in all categories of traffic safety through a vigorous program of improvement and a broad program of safety education.

DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES (D.H.)

IDA MARCIA SILVERMAN

International Zionist Leader and American Philanthropist

Active in Zionism for more than fifty-five years, she is Honorary Vice-Chairman of the Jewish National Fund, a former Vice President of the Zionist Organization of America, the American Jewish Congress, National Hadassah, the Hebrew University Hospital Building Fund and a former Deputy to the Inner-Action Committee of the World Zionist Organization. A colony in Israel, Nachlat Ida, is named for her. An organizer for synagogues in Israel, she has helped to build thirty-five synagogues in that country.

Upon the announcement of the closing of the Butler Hospital for mental health, she was the one member of the Corporation who fought for a proper survey of the community's needs, and organized Friends of Butler Hospital. It was this survey which finally led to the re-opening of this great institution. Mrs. Silverman was Chairman of the $50,000 appeal of the Rhode Island Association for Mental Health in 1957.

In 1951 she was named Jewish Mother of the Year and in 1954 she was elected Rhode Island Mother of the Year. In that same year she received an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Education on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the Rhode Island College of Education.

In connection with her advancement of the cause of Zionism, she has lectured many times to audiences all over the world. The mother of four children and grandmother of six, Mrs. Silverman resides with her husband, Archibald Silverman, in Providence.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.S. in B.A.)

GEORGE H. ARRIS

Financial and Business Editor, THE PROVIDENCE JOURNAL

A native of Lewiston, Maine, Mr. Arris began his career in the world of business and economics as a customer's man, and later a branch manager of a stockbroker's office following his career in naval radio communications during World War I. Studying on his own and under the guidance of university instructors he delved deeply into the subjects of mathematics; accounting and statistical methods; economics and economic geography; money, banking and credit; government finance, monetary management of the Federal Reserve system. He also attended college classes as an extension or special student at Colby, the University of Maine, Providence College, and Columbia University.

He joined the staff of the Providence Journal-Bulletin newspaper as a reporter in the financial department, which he now heads. He has made extensive research into the New England economy and in the course of his editorial duties has traveled widely, investigating the state of business throughout the country. Because of his penetrating knowledge of the New England economy he is asked to write many reports and articles for national publications, including BUSINESS WEEK, THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, and others.

As head of the O.P.A. Price Division during World War II, he supervised and controlled this crucial area of business for the government.

Mr. Arris resides with his wife, the former Maybelle White, also of Lewiston, in Cowesett, Rhode Island.
