Wives of Graduating Class Awarded with 'PHT' Degrees

By Gail Penniman

On Friday evening, June 27, over fifty wives of Bryant seniors were graduated at Commencement ceremonies held in the College auditorium. This ceremony was something new added to Senior Weekend by senior class officers, Stan Rosys, Frank Sannella, and Cal Cancian, and by an able committee headed by Frank Meczywor and Maynard Guy.

The graduating wives were ushered to their seats by the Misses Pat Smith, Gale Penniman, Paula Armstrong, Gail Eaton, and Kay McCormick. President Rosys welcomed everyone to the graduation and in turn introduced the Vice President of Bryant College, Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs, who spoke to the graduating class. Mr. R. Lucien Appleby spoke to the graduating wives, complimenting them on the way they had helped their husbands complete their studies in college.

After speeches by Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Appleby, the college glee club led by Mrs. Appleby sang two numbers—"You'll Never Walk Alone" and a medley from "My Fair Lady." Although the glee club was small in number, they put on an excellent performance. Mr. Les Howes sang a solo, "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Only the Beginning

Part of a conversation that will undoubtedly be repeated many times on August 1:

Kid brother: "Why are we getting all dressed up on such a warm day, Stan?"

Stan: "Because we're going to my commencement."

Kid brother: "Commencement? What's that mean?"

Stan: "It means 'beginning.' Now hurry up and get dressed."

Kid Brother: "Beginning? I thought you didn't have to go to school any more? Why don't they call it 'ending'?"

Well, Stan's kid brother has a point, and the logic of a ten-year-old seems to stop there. But we, as graduates, will soon realize that graduation exercises were aptly named "commencement" after all.

We'll discover that all knowledge isn't wrapped up inside our degrees. We've only been given a faint glimmering of what is to be learned—curiosity and experience will teach us that what we've attained at Bryant, or any college for that matter, is a mind that has been developed to think for itself. It is a mind that will be able to make decisions instantly, a mind that will be able to discern between what's important and what isn't. Oh, we've memorized facts and learned formulas, but we've also been trained to think—the true purpose of education.

It's up to us to develop this power further.

A. T. E.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the last issue of the ARCHWAY, an article entitled "Burlesque Defined . . . and Criticized" was published as an editorial. This was not an editorial; this was a letter to the editor. The following is an answer to that letter.

OPEN LETTER TO STUDENTS

Dear Students:

The purpose of Stunt Night, as we see it, is not an attempt to glean talent from the student body or to prove anyone's acting ability.

The major purpose of Stunt Night is, however, to provide the students of Bryant College with a night of relaxation away from the ever-present books, and to break the tensions that always occur at the end of a school year.

Fellow students who criticize the attempts of the ones who did perform probably wouldn't have the nerve to go anywhere near a stage. These people have failed to realize that this is not Princeton or Yale where the acting clubs are done almost on a full-time basis, and the end result of these acting clubs could compare with a great number of Broadway shows. We just don't have the time here at Bryant.

So, whatever efforts were made by the students who participated in Stunt Night, we would like to credit them with achieving their purpose—"a night of relaxation and enjoyment."

Scholastic Trophy To Be Awarded To Highest-Ranking Fraternity

Messages to Graduating Class

A Message to the Class of 1958:

It is with a very special feeling of regret that I bid you, the Class of 1958, a fond farewell. Your stay at Bryant College coincided with a historic growth in this ninety-five year old institution. And you contributed to this expansion of cultural and physical expansion with noteworthy success. You have met the challenge and grown in stature and maturity.

You will always be remembered as the first class to experience the broadening of our curriculum to include many liberal arts subjects; the first class to use our newly expanded library and the beautiful new dining facilities in Jacobs Hall. But beyond these, you will be remembered for the many community enterprises you aided with your fine "Help Week" program. It has been a joy to see you translate hazing into helping, the joie de vivre of youth into good works. I was filled with pride at this demonstration of maturity in men and women of your young years.

Even though many of you are facing uncertain times, remember, as Heraclitus suggested, in the dawn of historical philosophy, that the one certainty was CHANGE, or as we might view it, UNCERTAINTY. What appears as a doubtful horizon today may change into a golden promise tomorrow.

PRESIDENT JACOBS

You now possess the sound business education that has carried thousands of Bryant graduates to success. Have faith in your knowledge, in yourselves, and above all, in your God. And may your deeds not only reflect the answer to the challenge of a satisfactory livelihood, but also a deep responsibility to your family, your home, and your community.

Remember, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." Be of good cheer and with patience, strength and unwavering optimism, your future will always be bright.

Herbert Jacobs
President

Congratulations to the Class of 1958

Congratulations to the Class of 1958. One of our most commendable customs is that of saying a pleasant word and shaking hands with those who have attained some worthwhile goal or performed some outstanding feat. I cannot through these columns shake hands with you, the members of the Class of 1958, but I am appreciative of the opportunity to express some of my thoughts.

You are completing a long period of basic training designed to prepare you for the battle of life. Preparation is important in every field and for every task. Without it there would be no great artists, athletes, surgeons, or statesmen. Without preparation there would be no great bridges, dams, cathedrals, or earth satellites. Yes, preparation is the basis of confidence and both preparation and confidence are the basis of success.

You have undoubtedly considered most of your training to be the formal preparation provided in the classroom, but it has indeed been much more than that. The program of athletic events, the musical and dramatic programs, the social activities, the student government have all played their part in making you a whole man or a whole woman. Through them you have developed coordination of mind and body, the spirit of team play, the ability to express your thoughts, the knack of leadership, as well as the foundation for further study which will continue as long as you live and embrace many fields of knowledge. In a word, you have been preparing for a full and useful life.

As you complete your basic training we salute you and voice the words of congratulations which you so richly deserve. We also welcome you to our ranks where tomorrow you must take our places as fathers and mothers, voters and taxpayers, workers and bosses, teachers and government officials. May the guidance of the Almighty light your path and help you to improve on the job that we are now doing. Best of good wishes for success in your every endeavor.

N. J. Gulski

To the Seniors in the Secretarial and Teacher Training Divisions:

May I, on behalf of the Faculty, commend each and every one of you upon the successful completion of your training, and may the career that you have selected prove to be a happy one.

During your stay with us we hope that you have grown—grown in many aspects. We hope that you have developed a healthy and happy outlook on life. We hope, also, that you have learned to make it a practice to think more and to produce more; to give your best to your work; to recognize your abilities and your shortcomings—and to plan improvements in both.

Personality may count more toward progress than does technical skill, but to rely solely on either personality or skill is an error.

The ability to get along with people coupled with the knack of getting things done right and on time will go a long way toward enabling you to move ahead on the job. Set high standards for yourself and then work hard to attain them.

Finally, develop concepts of what is right and what is wrong. Men and women of character are sorely needed in the world today.

Congratulations on a job well done and the best of luck to all of you.

Howes, Newton Installed as Presidents of Senate, GLC

By Rita Harte

A select group of Bryant students had a feast fit for a king at the Admiral Inn on Monday, June 23. The occasion was the annual Greek Letter Council—Student Senate banquet.

E. Gardner Jacobs, Vice-President of Bryant College, and Dean Lionel Mercier, outgoing Director of Student Activities, were on hand to award trophies to the outgoing members of both organizations.

Gregory Parkos, the former Student Activities Director, who is no longer associated with Bryant College, was on hand to extend his congratulations and best wishes to the graduating seniors. He gave an informative talk on the personal side of business.

Pete Barilla, retiring president of the Student Senate, was presented with a desk set and introduced the new officers of the Senate: Les Howes, President; Paul Dion, Vice-President; Cindy Simcock, Secretary; and Barbara Duquette, Treasurer.

Bill Newton was announced by Ray Kiely as the new GLC president. Ray was also presented with a desk set and awarded a trophy to Dean Mercier for his help throughout the past semester.

Incoming presidents of Bryant's fraternities and sororities were introduced, and next year's GLC shows promise of being an exceptionally good one.

With plenty of handshakes and congratulatory messages, the meeting came to a close.

Campbell to Head Alpha Theta Chi

By Ed Care

The brothers of Alpha Theta Chi formally inducted their new brothers at the semi-annual Pledge Banquet held at Ralf's. An excellent dinner was followed by dancing until midnight, and the brothers and their Delta Sigma Chi sisters were loud in their praise of the marvelous evening they had.

Retiring President Jack Doyle introduced Alumni Advisor Tony Fusco and the principal speaker Mr. Paul Russilo, advisor to the fraternity.

Mr. San Antonio, Sr., was made an honorary member of AOX for his help to the fraternity. The honor was accepted in absentia by his son, Billy San Antonio, who later received a special award for his outstanding contribution to AOX.

Special awards were presented to outstanding brothers and retiring officers.

The brothers taking new offices are George Campbell, President; Russ Paonessa, Vice-President; Gill Rose, Secretary; Joseph Grande, Treasurer; William G. San Antonio, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Delta Sigma Chi Closes Activities With Hot Dog Roast

By Dottie Soscia

Another semester is about to end for the sisters of Delta Sigma Chi. This past semester has been very rewarding in many ways, the most outstanding being the winning of the Community Service trophy. All the fun and work that went into the trophy proved to the girls that working for someone besides themselves can bring self-satisfaction.

The girls have continued going to the Children's Center to talk with the children. Many of the girls have taken the children out on Sunday afternoons to the parks, on picnics, and many other places that were enjoyed by all the children.

The sorority celebrated the winning of the Community Service trophy with two cakes. The girls bought a cake for Alpha Theta Chi, their brothers, who also won the Community Service trophy.

A combined hot-dog roast and installation will be held at Indian Lake on Tuesday, July 8. Janet Pearson will serve as hostess. Marie Amorizzi will install newly elected officers of the sorority.

Delta's baseball team is now undefeated, winning 4 out of 4 games, thanks to Jim McPhillips and Barry Nelson for their patience and guidance. Without these two boys as coaches, winning would have been difficult.

All the girls of the sorority would like to express to Diana Policastro their sincere thanks for the hard work she has done for our sorority.

Outstanding Sister Award is Presented To Diane Del Favero

By Janet Cote and Jane Burt

At Theta's Pledge Banquet, held at the Falstaff Inn recently, Janet Briggs and Sally Johns were installed as new sisters, and the outgoing officers received awards. President "Goey" Beers received an inscribed gavel for her fine work during the past year. The Outstanding Sister of the Year Award was presented to Diane Del Favero.

Linda De Carlo was named treasurer as Sandy Prince will not return to school until next February. Fran Butwell was voted new assistant treasurer.

Begins In Fall; Jack Doyle Heads Committee

Plans are now being worked out by the Greek Letter Council for the establishment of a Scholastic Trophy. Two trophies, one awarded each semester to the fraternity and one to the sorority that maintains the highest scholastic level, are to be offered.

Tentative requirements for competition will involve an individual report by the organization member who will list each of the subjects, class hours per week, and then using a grade multiple will determine "product." The fraternity or sorority can then file with the Student Activity Office, a list of its members, the total class hours, and a total "product." By dividing the "product" by the total class hours a "quality grade" can be determined.

Each semester the fraternity or sorority with the highest scholastic level as determined by the "quality grade" will be awarded a trophy. Permanent possession of the trophy may be obtained by winning the trophy three consecutive times or four staggered times.

By B. J. Duquette and Roni Graveson

A festive air reigned over the Masquers and Glee Club banquet, which was held at the Admiral Inn on July 2.

After everyone was filled up to "here," the presentation of the various awards began. Mrs. Mary T. Appleby bestowed a president's cup and a kiss on the presidents who were in office for the past year: Les Howes and Herb Meister for the Glee Club; John Nicholson and Ed Bertolini for the Masquers.

Drama awards were given to the cast of the prize-winning play, ECHO, from the Theatre-in-the-Round production. The cast included John Nicholson, Roni Graveson, Jean Hodgkins, John Conlon, Hank Gaudet, Tom Fanning, and Ina Barclay. Mrs. Appleby received the direction award.

The best actor and the best actress, as chosen by the audience at the Theatre-in-the-Round, were presented with their awards. John Nicholson took the honors for the best actor, and Anita Isenberg received the best-actress award.

The Masquers gave a "Thank You" award to Roni Graveson for the outstanding job she has done as ARCHWAY reporter.

Award time swung back to the Glee Club who then expressed thanks to those who have been such tremendous forces behind each Glee Club production. These included Esther Dowicki and Barbara Santos, the pianists; Connie Hirsch, secretary and ARCHWAY reporter; Ina Barclay, Sid Rothstein, Brad Lyon, Tom Fanning and John Nicholson, the production staff.

Of course, neither the Masquers nor the Glee Club could forget the faculty members who have given so unselfishly of their time and energy. Honorary pins were presented to Mrs. Hochberg, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Appleby and Mr. Goulston.

The highlight of the evening came with the presentation of the Special Club Award to those who have contributed the most to the Glee Club and the Masquers. The Glee Club honors went to Esther Dowicki and Les Howes, and the Masquers honors went to Gail

Hand and Tom Fanning. The evening was climaxed by Mrs. Appleby's recitation of this poem, which was followed by a thunderous ovation for the woman who means so much to each member of the Masquers and Glee Club. Dear Folks,

I wish that I were really bright
So I could sit right down and write
A note to each and everyone,
And thank them for the work
they've done.

The songs, the plays, the props, the scenes,
The laughs, the boo-boos, the old routines—
The lights, the coffee—rehearsal night—
The sound effects, the cues—all right!

The hard work—yes—and in the end—
You're not a student, you're a friend!

A friend who always does his best
To help encourage all the rest.
The past year has been truly great,
And so dear friends I appreciate
The many things you have done for me—

The fun and kindness will always be
A memory both fond and true
Of happy days I have shared with you.

I really wish that I, in part,
Could truly speak what is in my heart.

But then you know that I can't shine,
For after all, I'm just twenty-nine!
But to you all—my wish sincere
For health and happiness through the year.

God's Blessing on you all I pray,
And also

Love, from Mrs. A.

TT Group Discuss Guidance Problems with Psychologist

By Stephen M. Sambor

On Friday, June 20, Dr. Alfred Pascale, who recently obtained his doctorate from Boston University, gave an interesting and informative talk on guidance to the senior teacher-training students of Bryant College at the invitation of Miss Priscilla Moulton.

Dr. Pascale, formerly a guidance counselor at the Warwick Veterans Memorial High School, is the newly-appointed school psychologist at WVMHS. In this capacity he is responsible for all testing at the school and determines the final action to be taken with difficult students who apparently cannot be corrected by the school staff.

One phase of his presentation was concerned with guidance records, the use and value of which Dr. Pascale described in considerable detail.

He stressed that because more students of varied abilities — a great proportion being slow learners — are attending schools and being placed in the business curriculum, the place of the business teacher in guidance work is becoming increasingly important.

The following are other major guidance-in-education items discussed by Dr. Pascale: its purpose, services offered in the schools, the place of the teacher, outside agencies utilized, reasons for problems with students, methods for handling problem-students, and co-ordination of teacher activities with guidance department activities.

Dr. Pascale left with the senior teacher-training students the following principle upon which guidance is based: "The problem of life is a problem of choice, and he who has made the wise choice has a happy life."

memory of Roslyn H. Knopow, a member and president of Hillel Foundation, who passed away in her senior year.

Mr. Bello, who has been very active on campus, was president of his junior class, president of the Newman Club, treasurer of the Student Senate, and vice-president of the Inter-Faith Council. His degree will be Bachelor of Science in Accounting.

The winner of this year's Genie Fund Award is Cornelius E. Tierney, an accounting and finance major, who graduates in August and who has been accepted by Suffolk University for study in the Graduate School of Business Administration.
