

WJMF Holds Phonathon To Raise Funds

By Elly Pappas
Of The Archway Staff

WJMF, with the assistance of the Development Office at Bryant, conducted a successful phonathon on November 17. The phonathon was specifically directed at 1979 Alumni. In 1979, the graduating class pledged $9500 to help the radio station increase its power to 225 watts. The gift becomes due in July of 1981, but because of the immediate needs of WJMF to raise the money now, the one-night phonathon was arranged in hopes of getting in the contributions as soon as possible.

Ms. Karen Beaton-Simmons, acting Director of Development and the Director of Alumni Giving, coordinated the phonathon. Her involvement was in setting up the phonebanks, making available the telephone numbers of the '79 Alumni, training the volunteers who made the calls, answering any questions that came about throughout the evening.

When asked what determines success in a phonathon, she explained that it is the number of callers and the amount of calling time spent, against the number of dollars pledged, that determines success.

From the phonathon, WJMF received a recommitment on $1400 in outstanding pledges, and an additional $1000 in new money. New money is derived two ways. The first way is from those '79 alumni who did not pledge as seniors, but who now have. The second way is from employees matching gift funds. Ms. Beaton-Simmons feels that this new money will offset the attrition rate of the original $9500 pledged. The attrition rate is the rate of failure for pledges to be sent into Bryant. Whenever money is pledged, it is realistic to expect that 85%-90% will be collected.

Normally, specific classes who are sending in donations for their class gift projects, are solicited during the annual Bryant Fund Phonathon. However, because it is critical for WJMF to receive the class money gift, before the end of the year, a special exception was granted for the one-night phonathon.

The Development Office's assistance to WJMF has continued beyond the phonathon. Through the office, the '79 class agent, Deanna Grader, has sent a letter to her classmates asking that they all help by contributing to WJMF's cause. It is hoped that these efforts will indeed improve WJMF's financial state.

Proper Emergency Medical Procedure Must Be Followed

Courtesy of B.C.E.M.T.A.

In the past few years, the Bryant Community has progressed both in physical size and population. This increase in size has led to an increased number of first-aid related injuries and sicknesses. The new demand on the College has been met with the formation of the Bryant College Emergency Medical Technician's Association (B.C.E.M.T.A.). This group is totally comprised of fully trained and equipped volunteer students who are R.I. state licensed E.M.T.s by completing an intensive 81 hour rescue practice and emergency course approved by the Rhode Island Department of Health. The Association is fully sanctioned by Business Affairs to operate in the following areas.

The B.C.E.M.T.A. will act as the First Responder Unit for all first-aid related incidents on Campus. Our main objective, is to incorporate a prompt, efficient, and fully trained E.M.T. First Aid Response System to meet Bryant's ever-increasing first aid needs.

The following procedure should be followed in All Emergency First Aid situations for this system to be effective:

(1) Notify the Security Office IMMEDIATELY, and supply them with the following information:

- A) Location of Injured Person
- B) Type of Injury or Sickness

*Security Telephone #231-1200(Ext. 200) or 231-2860

(2) Security will dispatch the EMT's and a Security Unit to the scene and they will determine the course of action to be taken.

THE DON'TS

Do Not Call Smithfield Rescue on your own, as they will respond only to direct Security requests on Bryant College.

Do Not Misuse this new system as a visiting doctor's or pharmacy service. It is for Emergency First Aid Only, such as sprains, dislocations, severe sicknesses, bleeding, respiratory, or heart problems, and etc...

With Everyone's Cooperation, This System Will Be A Success!!

Bryant Holds Road Rally

By Anne Quill
Of The Archway Staff

The first Bryant College Car Club Road Rally proved to be a successful one as the twenty-eight cars went the fifty-six mile distance with excellent scores. The student, faculty, administrators and alumni taking part in the rally traveled over the winding roads of Smithfield, Lincoln, Harrisville, Pascoag, Chepachet and Harmony.

The scoring for the competition is done with a zero score being perfect; meaning the car was neither early nor late at the check points. The following participants were awarded trophies for their efforts: Driver Ken Nahigian with Paul Sangeloty taking first place followed closely behind by second place finishers Bill Wedekind and Geri Martin. Other trophy winners were Ralph Sacco and John Torini, Craig Rondos and Alan Feldman, and Miles McNamee and Rau Lal. The all-women team of Allison Fraser and Lisa Schultz finished ninth with a score of 77 points.

The Sports Car Club is open to anyone with interest who is over eighteen years of age. Ownership of a car is not a requirement, all are welcome to join.

Financial Aid Forms Available Monday

Courtesy of Financial Aid Office

Financial aid applications will be available beginning Monday, December 1, 1980. Students who wish to be considered for financial assistance during the 1981-82 academic year may obtain the necessary applications from the Financial Aid Office (located in the building which was formerly the Counseling Center) at that time.

Each student must complete a Bryant College Application for Financial Aid and a Financial Aid Form (FAF). The FAF must be completed and filed with the College Scholarship Service in Princeton, N.J. after JANUARY 1, 1981 BUT BEFORE FEBRUARY 15, 1981. Applicants MUST check Box 1, question 41, Section G: "Both the Basic Grant Program and the college agencies, and programs listed in 42 below." In addition, all applicants must fill in Bryant College and the CSS Code number 3095 in question 42, Section G. The FAF must be completely filled out INCLUDING THE SUPPLEMENT. Mail the FAF to the CSS in Princeton, N.J. with a check or money order covering the proper fee. Within three weeks, you will receive an acknowledgment form from them indicating which institutions and agencies will receive a copy of your FAF. Within six weeks, you will receive a three-part Student Eligibility Report (SER) from the Basic Grant Program. If this Report indicates you are eligible, ALL THREE COPIES should be submitted to the Financial Aid Office at Bryant.

Students who are residents of New Jersey and Pennsylvania need to obtain a special FAF from a high school or the Department of Higher Education of their respective home states. The Bryant College Application for Financial Aid must, however, still be completed and returned to the Financial Aid Office.

Your financial aid file will be complete when the Financial Aid Office has a copy of your FAF from the College Scholarship Service, a Bryant College application for Financial Aid, and your Student Eligibility Report (SER).

Review or applications will take place during the spring with award notifications sent to students sometime during the summer of 1981. A two week reply date for return of the award letter will be strictly adhered to.

We urge all students who wish consideration for financial aid to apply within the application period (January 1, 1981 through February 15, 1981). Forms filed after February 15, 1981 will be considered for financial aid only if funds are available.

TO ALL STUDENT EMPLOYEES

Due to the Thanksgiving recess, the November 28, 1980 checks will not be distributed on Friday, as scheduled. The checks will be available in the Bursar Office some time Monday, December 1.

From The Editor's Desk...

According to Webster's New World Dictionary, the word "responsible" is defined as: 1) obliged to account (for); answerable (to); 2) involving obligation or duties; 3) accountable for one's behavior or for an act, and 4) dependable, reliable.

By the time one goes to college, he or she is supposed to be a responsible and mature person. I am sure the majority of college students fill this "bill of goods", and it almost seems these qualities are a requirement to be the competitive person it takes to go to college in this day and age. However, there are those who either do not possess these qualities, or through a temporary lapse, the person faulted in his or her actions.

What brought this to my mind, was my participation in a management lab sponsored by the Center for Student Development this past week, entitled "Gaining Leadership Skills". About twenty-five students signed up to listen to a representative of Texas Instruments speak. However, only four, that's right 4, of those who signed up attended. Now, granted the lab was postponed two days because of the snow, but a two day change should not have caused twenty-one people not to attend. That is what I call irresponsibility.

I personally thought the Lab was very informative and helpful. It pointed out the qualities a leader should have, as well as what a leader is going to have to deal with as the head of a department or organization. For those who failed to show up, you missed out.

Now how do you think this looks, for a business executive to come to Bryant expecting to address a group of twenty-five and only meet with four. To top things off, he was filling in for a fellow employee who was supposed to speak, but was called out of town on business. You can be sure he was a little disappointed with the turnout. How about the people who organized the Lab. Don't you think they were disappointed too, as well as a little embarrassed.

When you sign up for such a seminar, you obligate yourself to it and the organizers are counting on your attendance to make it a success. It certainly is not very considerate or responsible of you as responsible, mature adults, to dishonor a commitment. The benefit of the doubt can be given to those who had a conflict because of the change in days, but for the rest, there was no excuse. If you have not developed into a responsible person by now, you had better change and fast, because life is not going to get any easier from here on out.

On the less serious side, it is hard to believe the holiday season is upon us. We all know this means an increase in travel, and by now, students are either on their way home, or are ready to leave. Hopefully, everyone will exercise care in their travels. It has been said before and I will say it again, "the life you save, may be your own." Have a Happy Thanksgiving, and when you come back, you only have exams to look forward to. Enjoy!

THE OPINIONS

Hunger Night Article Criticized

To the Editor:

We are writing in regard to the offensive article regarding Hunger Night in The Archway of Nov. 7. The closing comment, "hoping that the embarrassment of students who did not participate would force them to participate next year" showed a marked lack of taste, in addition to being an extremely poor precedent for future Hunger Nights. Public embarrassment can hardly be considered proper motivation for students to participate in a charity drive - it is up to each individual to freely decide whether or not they wish to take part, and they should not be condemned or made to feel guilty if they choose not to.

Many students did not join in Hunger Night because they felt that Saga Food Services was the primary benefactor since it costs $3.98 to purchase a meal at the door, yet only $1.05 per student was given to the United Way. The cause could have been better served by a fund drive without any relationship to the meal plan or some other fund-raising activity where embarrassment and other means of coercion are not stressed. In addition, students may have privately donated considerably to the United Way and therefore do not feel obligated to contribute further. Should these students be condemned for not participating?

We hope that the questionable judging by The Archway of non-participating students will not adversely affect future charitable events on campus, and not serve as a restriction on the students' freedom of choice.

The 55-mile Speed Limit

By Paul Harvey

© 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

The National Safety Council says the highway death toll is down since the 55-mile speed limit became law.

The Department of Energy (DOE) says gasoline supplies are up, partially as a result of the 55-mile speed limit.

But...Transportation Secretary Adams says an increasing number of motorists are ignoring the 55-speed limit.

And whenever citizens manifest disrespect and disdain for a law they consider unnecessary, it makes it easier for them to ignore other laws.

Is the 55-mile speed limit worth what it's costing?

Charles Lave of the Institute of Transportation Studies, University of California, Irvine, computes that the energy saved by driving 55 could be saved instead by keeping tires properly inflated.

Driving at 55 is an enormous cost in wasted travel time, he says, a cost he computes at about $6 billion a year.

Even if, as the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration believes, the slowdown saves 4,500 lives per year, that is $1.3 million per life saved.

We could save that many lives at one-twentieth the cost by putting a smoke detector in every home.

We could save that many lives at one-hundredth the cost by investing in kidneydialysis machines.

Although slower driving may save a life at a cost of $1.3 million, that life could be saved with additional mobile cardiac-care units at a cost of only $2,000.

At $1.3 million per life saved, the 55-mile speed limit is no bargain.

Mr. Lave suggests that we allow drivers of fuel efficient cars to exceed the speed limit; two kinds of license plates would identify the fuel efficient car and the gas guzzler.

Rewarded by being allowed to drive faster would accelerate the sale of economy cars. Detroit should appreciate that.

Then we would gradually phase out the gas guzzlers--and all got back to cruising speed again.

The saving in time would total 102 man years per year of time that is now wasted.

That many people working at something instead of driving nowhere would inevitably improve our nation's productivity astronomically.

Granted, the saving of even one life is contrived by many to be worth whatever the cost.

All some of us are beginning to ask ourselves is whether there are not less costly ways to use the same time, energy and money to save more lives.

BRY-POLL

Conducted by Bryant's Social Science Department

Question: Once the American hostages are released from Iran and are safe back home, we should:

- 1) Give the heroes welcome due them and limit further action to precautionary measures against similar future activity.
- 2) Release the Shah's money, and form an alliance against further aggression by Iraq.
- 3) Avenge the hostages through retaliatory measure to restore U.S. prestige with other countries.
- 4) Release the Shah's money and bury the hatchet.

PERCENTAGE OF EACH CHOSEN RESPONSE

Category	Number	1	2	3	4
Administration	7	70%	0%	30%	0%
Faculty	15	87%	0%	6.5%	6.5%
Maintenance	14	50%	0%	40%	10%
Staff	6	100%	0%	0%	0%
Students	47	55%	26.5%	10%	8.5%
Total	89	64%	13%	16%	7%

To give a heroes welcome to the hostages and to limit further action to precautionary measures against similar future activity was the chosen response of the majority in all categories. But the sense of revenge runs strong as few people were in favor of burying the hatchet (#4) and only students (26.5%) were in favor of releasing the Shah's money and forming an alliance with Iraq.

Commentary

'Once Great' or Always Great

By Steve Medin
Of The Archway Staff

Commentary is an expression of opinion by a member of The Archway staff. The opinions expressed in this piece do not necessarily reflect the views and opinions of this newspaper.

Once upon a time, there was a features editor who coordinated a program between The Archway and WJMF to publicize The Disc Jockey of the Week. It was to include a picture and a short story on the DJ selected and was chosen solely by the decision of WJMF as to who it should be.

That is where WJMF's influence ends. All submissions to The Archway are the opinion of the writer and are felt acceptable by The Editorial Board, including the copy for the Disc Jockey of the Week.

In the November 14 issue of The Archway, I commented on one of the DJ's musical interests, by calling Molly Hatchet "once great." The first two albums produced by this group, "Molly Hatchet" and "Flirtin' with Disaster" are beyond incredibly fantastic. These albums are strengthened by the definitely southern sounds of stereo leads, and no one can do that better than Dave Hlubek and Steve Holland, except for maybe Gary Rossington and Allen Collins. Some debut albums feature inexperienced vocalists that were put in the group in a rush to produce the album. Such is not the case with Molly Hatchet. The coarse "Van Zant" sound is taken to the limit by the greatest living Southern Rock vocalist Danny Joe Brown. His effects on the first two albums can never be duplicated by the new totally yant ee sound of Jimmy Farrar who couldn't keep time to a metronome, never mind a supergroup. Their album barely makes it only being saved by the excellence of the remainder of the band.

Let it be known that by "once great" I am not saying they are terrible now. They remain as dedicated musicians with a unified goal: to bring southern rock to the music listeners of the U.S.

As I sit here blasting "Dreams I'll Never See" to get some thoughts, depression sets in. Depression caused by the fact that this group had it together so well, but just lost one member and disappointed many people.

Molly Hatchet is Dave Hlubek, Steve Holland, Duane Roland, Banner Thomas, Bruce Crump and Danny Joe Brown and that is all it will ever be until the day the last of these members dies.

Residence Life Info...

Triples Are Being Reassigned

By Ben Edwards
Of The Archway Staff

The Residence Life Office is currently in the process of reassigning tripled students. Reassignments are made possible for a number of reasons. Openings arise through graduation, student transfer, financial difficulty and academic withdrawal. Residence Life wishes to give every student a choice as to where they will be assigned. However, according to director of residence life, Peter Barlow, this goal can only be attained if students notify the Residence Life Office of all possible changes promptly. In the case of triple changes, students should make notification by December 4. Notification is made by means of a yellow "Room Change Request Form" now available at the Office of Residence Life.

Students wishing to remain as triples may do so, according to Mr. Barlow. He referred to this situation as a "positive dilemma." It is in the positive aspect that if students remain tripled by choice, more space can be let out on the waiting list. Residence Life likes to see students enjoy triples, however this carries triples into the next school year. The situation can be viewed as a pleasant dilemma, but a dilemma nonetheless.

Residence Life is also handling general room changes for on-campus housing at this time. Notification for general room changes due to roommate difficulties or for any other reason must be made by Nov. 25. In addition, the waiting list for housing is currently being updated. Presently, the list contains 118 men and 154 women. The waiting list is updated every fall and spring because students change their plans and drop off the list. Anyone considering dropping off the waiting list is urged to contact Residence Life as soon as possible.

With respect to on-campus room changes, the main goal of the Office of Residence Life is to "get everyone back in a double room."

Seventy triples still remain on campus. Hopefully, in the weeks to come, this number can be greatly reduced for the benefit of everyone.

Use Common Sense When Decorating

By Anne Quill
Of The Archway Staff

Students wishing to "Deck the halls with boughs of holly" this Christmas season, should be aware of the guidelines regarding December holiday decorations.

Residence Life Director, Peter Barlow, in a notice issued last week reminds students of the "tragic fire at Providence College which demonstrates to us the tragic consequences of over decoration and careless attention to potential safety hazards."

To prevent such a tragedy the following guidelines have been established:

- 1) No real trees are allowed in dormitories/townhouses.
- 2) No extensive or combustible paper decorations are allowed on the walls of rooms or suites.
- 3) No paper or combustible decorations of any type are allowed on the front or back of suite doors.
- 4) No paper or combustible decorations in hallways or other dormitory public areas.
- 5) No "octopus" extension cords.
- 6) Electrical decorative lights are to be kept to a minimum.
- 7) Electrical decorative lights are to be kept away from combustible materials in suite (drapes, wallposters, tapestries, etc.).

The guidelines also stress the use of common sense when decorating, to ensure a safe and happy holiday season.

Beta Sigma Chi

The brothers of Beta Sigma Chi would like to announce the appointment of our new advisor, Joe Andrade. Joe is a part time teacher and works on security at night. Joe is very enthusiastic and will be an asset to Beta. Welcome aboard Joe!

We are happy to announce that we have three social pledges: Scott Morgan, a senior accounting major who enjoys an occasional party, Leon Fairly, a Freshman who promises to add "spunk", and Chris "St. Luke" O'Connor, also a Freshman, who outpartied Budzo at a recent party. We're glad to have these fine people with us.

We would like to extend our thanks to the members of our football team who played hard and never gave up despite a dismal season. We hope the team members will continue to hang out and party. Congrats to our Bowling team which is currently in first place.

Beta had a blowout of a party with Theta recently and many casualties have been reported as a result. Budzo was the first to be "missing in action" as he passed out at 9:00.

Stay tuned for information about our Christmas Party which promises to be the best "Party" of the semester. Hope everyone has a great Thanksgiving and HYS!

Album Review

'Cultosaurus Erectus'

By Keith Fowler

Cultosaurus Erectus
by Blue Oyster Cult

Blue Oyster Cult's newest album, Cultosaurus Erectus, first intrigues the listener by its unusual title. Although the title may be unusual, the album is consistent with the development of Blue Oyster Cult's musical talent over the past few years. Once again, the Blue makeup of the Black and Blue tour has produced another fascinating album.

Cultosaurus Erectus is along the lines of previous Cult albums such as Agents of Fortune, Some Enchanted Evening, and Mirrors.

Outstanding cuts include "Black Blade," "Divine Wind," and a sometimes overplayed tune entitled "Deadline." The album is not produced to perfection as can be heard thru a poorer cut entitled "The Marshall Plan."

Overall, Blue Oyster Cult's Cultosaurus Erectus shines with electrifying vocals and musical proficiency. Tune into WJMF and make a request. Don't be cheated.

Hatchet invaded Providence College's gymnasium. With the help of acid rock backup, The Michael Schenker Band, Molly Hatchet proceeded to bring down the walls.

The atmosphere was intensified by the images of the Frazetta prints appearing around the stage. The Florida band greeted the ecstatic fans with "Bounty Hunter" and rocked them all the way thru their final encore "Boogie Nomore." With lead guitarists Dave Hlubek, Steve Holland and Duane Rolland; bass guitarist Banner Thomas; drummer Bruce Crump; and lead singer

Jimmy Farrar, Molly Hatchet brought the house down.

For those who feel that lead singer Jimmy Farrar does not match up with former singer Danny Joe Brown, they are painfully mistaken. For you Bostonians, yes Duane did have his WBCN t-shirt on.

The highlight of the concert was the Hatchet version of the Allman Brothers tune "Dreams," which included solos by Roland and Thomas. Hopefully this southern rock band for down in "gator country" will return to rock New England again.

Student Assistants Complete Successful Semester

Courtesy of Public Information

Bryant College is committed to "Educating for Living" as well as education for making a living. In order to augment its commitment, student concerns are not just being handled by the professional "problem solvers" that all colleges have. Bryant also has a group of twenty dedicated people, students themselves, who donate their time, ideas, and energy to create and present programs on such subjects as: Assertiveness, Drugs, Alcohol, Sex, Time Management, Relaxation, Test Anxiety, and Procrastination. All are topics important to daily living; all need to be appropriately addressed for the development of the total person. The twenty, known as "Student Assistants" at Bryant College feel that, while knowledge in the classroom is vital to a career, other areas need to be explored in order to provide the rest of life's education. The team of Student Assistants is led by Daniel Markowitz, Counselor and Psychology Instructor at Bryant and Steve Patriarca, Psychology Intern from Assumption College, Worcester, MA.

Student Assistants are well trained in communications and leadership skills. Each has over thirty hours of intensive training to his credit. They act as a general information and referral source to their peers by conducting small group discussions and coordinating seminars and workshops related to school interests and concerns throughout the school year.

The Student Assistants are divided into two teams, one focusing on Specialized Skills, and the other on Study Skills. The "Specialized Skills" group is currently involved in presenting workshops on "Assertiveness Training," "Drug and Alcohol Informational Seminars," "Management Labs," "Relaxation Training," and "Procrastination." The Workshops are run by Markowitz and Patriarca, along with community resource speakers on specific topics. The "Study Skills" group has presented workshops on "Time Management and Study Tips," plus "Come Study With Us," a study night for particular topics held on Monday nights throughout the academic year. Overseeing all the student activities is Student Assistant Coordinator, Lawrence Condon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Condon, Bridgeport, CT. Larry is a senior finance major at Bryant.

An informational directory, called "Everything Under The Sun" was compiled and published by the program this year. It is a book listing human resources and agencies in the state of Rhode Island.

While each Student Assistant is involved in all aspects of program planning, individuals are assigned to specific topic areas.

Working on the "Assertiveness Training" Workshop with Dan Markowitz and Steve Patriarca are: Bill Dziura, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dziura, Sturbridge, MA; Nina Contrino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Contrino, Feeding Hills, MA; Michael Tenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tenney, Audubon, PA; and Alexis Furer, daughter of Mrs. Rona Furer, New Rochelle, NY.

The "Relaxation Training" Workshop has the following students assisting: Cheryl Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, Norwalk, CT; and Lee Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sheldon, Malvern, PA.

The "Come Study With Us" Workshop Co-ordinators are Sue Horne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horne, East Greenwich, RI; Kim Larson, daughter of Mrs. Janice Proffitt, Warwick, RI; Gary Munroe, Rockport, MA; Rich Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rose, Middletown, RI; Mary Sameski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sameski, West Roxbury, MA; and Jean Weidman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weidman, Franklin, MA. Also assisting are Nina Contrino, Bill Dziura, and Alexis Furer.

Coordinators for the "Management Labs" and the "Drug and Alcohol Informational Series" are John Hinds, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hinds, Walpole, MA; Mary Beth Early, Worcester, MA; Steve Freidman, son of Harriet Katz, Orange, CT; Vince Russello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Russello, West Caldwell, NJ; Bill Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry, Warwick, RI; Sue Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton, Cumberland Center, ME; and Lynn Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Muller, Duxbury, MA. Also involved in the "Management Labs" are: Michael Tenny, Cheryl Gordon, and Lee Sheldon.

A joint effort of both teams is the operation of the Resource Center, now being completed. Upcoming workshops include: "Gaining Leadership Skills," Tuesday, November 18 from 3:30 to 5:30 PM, "Assertiveness Training," on November 24 at 3:30 to 5:30 PM, "Relaxation Training," December 1 and December 9.

For Your Information...

How many times do you see a word and just pass it by because you don't know what it means or what it is?

One such word you've probably seen in the rotunda or in the Archway once or twice a week. That word is Hillel. It's pronounced hillel. Hillel is Jewish oriented organization found on college campuses across the country. It's open to Jews and Non-Jews alike. Anyone interested in learning about the Jewish religion and/or having a good time is welcome.

Hillel was a rabbi and teacher who lived around the time of Christ. He was said to have a personality that intertwined wisdom with righteousness and humility with simplicity. He had many followers and he became an inspiration for students in every generation. Hence, Hillel's name was thought appropriate for the organization's name.

Hillel sponsors many social and religious events. So when you see our signs in the rotunda and our announcements in the Archway, don't pass them by. Join in. Everyone is welcome. If you'd like to be put on our mailing list send a note to Cheryl, Box 1726.

Independence—
 Yours is so definite, so clear
 You've paved your path in life
 Determined to follow it to the end
 You are your own person
 Destined for success
 Heading exactly where you want to go.
 And I—
 So unsure, so indefinite
 A perfectly solid soul
 Clouded by insecurity and unstableness
 Wandering beside your path
 Wanting so much to join you
 And yet knowing I'm not ready to enter your world
 Yet the force of feeling pulls me along
 Walking beside you
 Wishing and hoping that you'll extend your hand
 Although our two paths may never join
 May I stay by your side
 And gain some of your independence?

Everybody Has To Get Home

By Steve Medin

By plane, train, bus or car, this whole campus will have to commute this weekend. All these new commuters will have one of their few experiences in the Fast Lane. Why? To go home and feast, maybe, but mostly for the alleged reason that they will be reunited in happiness with their families. To these folks, I must point out some tips to maintain the standards of the typical commuter.

First of all, you must leave without enough gas to go all the way home, hoping that a gas station can fill your sacred reservoir. This is the adventurous aspect of commuting, which makes daily commuting an interesting affair. If you live in New Mexico, don't carpool with a resident of Florida. Don't drive if you have a Ford. The electronic ignitions are programmed to short out when they sight any snow. If going by plane, be sure to leave everything you need at school so you can have things stolen and rag on security in an Archway editorial. Most importantly, don't get "psyched!!!" I am starting a campaign to rid the campus of the "psych" epidemic. It is commonplace with Greeks to get psyched into using three exclamation points after every sentence in their Archway Greek News section, but when Brycol exceeds tackiness by blasting the profanity on the back page in large bold type, I must protest. Why do these people do this? I've only been in this school ten weeks and I thoroughly detest this word, even more than I frown on Schlitz Beer. Then there are the total misinformed few who as George

Carlin says on occupation: Foole, add an "e" on the end just to get them all screwed up.

We must sympathize with the unfortunate students who worship the gourmet preparations of Saga Food Services, Inc.. They are stuck eating turkey with dressing that can be eaten without a jackhammer, beets that don't have a crust, vegetables of less than 90% water content and above all, it will all be hot. This shocking change may have lasting effects on the residents and they might not be able to handle it.

Back to my original complaint, how can anyone get psyched to go on the break. Sitting around in steamy living rooms in stuffy clothes and not being able to totally pigout on the immense spread prepared by your family is nothing great for a commuter! Same is true for residents, especially freshman residents because all your Aunts and Uncles are going to pinch you by the cheek and ask you in a high pitched voice, "How was our college boy's/girl's first experience with school?" Grandpa, in his cardigan sweater, will sit you down on the sofa and tell you how proud he is of your progress, yet you won't tell him you are slunking Economics. Also, how can anyone get psyched for a weekend that all the instructors have dedicated to reading. A chapter here, two there, finish the book there, etc...

Finally, I would like to wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving and hope everyone drives safely because the life you save could very well be my own.

Next time, which is the December 10th issue, also the last issue this semester(awwww!) I will expand on the obvious-what every commuter wants for Christmas. I haven't found a parking space yet, so my parking column will be next semester, after my Commuter New Year's Resolutions.

Until next time,

Get psyched for Happy Motoring!!!

Student Senate Questions Faculty Evaluations

By Joe Deegan, Freshman Senator

Do you have complaints about Saga? Who doesn't. I have yet to meet anyone on campus who has not had something bad to say about Saga. Now is your chance to do something about it. The Senate Food Operations Committee is now official. If you have any complaints, suggestions, comments, etc. about Saga, you can now voice your opinion every other Thursday in the Senate Office. Look for signs in the Rotunda.

Does it bother you that the Greeks have all of their paddles in the Pub? If you belong to an independent organization, you'll be pleased to know that independent plaques will be placed in the main corridor of Big MAC, upon its completion at the beginning of next semester.

Also discussed at our last meeting was the effectiveness of the teacher evaluations. Points brought up included, do the questions on the evaluation ask specific enough questions? Do these evaluations end up on the desk of any high ranking officials? etc... These questions were referred to the Faculty Liason Committee for further discussion and action. The Senate will hear results at our next meeting. If you have any input come to our next meeting and let us know.

The Bryant Sports Car Club is now officially recognized by the Student Senate. The Constitution was voted on and passed unanimously. Among other things, the Sports Car Club will be holding rallies, and is also looking into some sort of way students can wash their cars conveniently and cheaply.

Classes of '81 and '82 unite!! Get Psyched!! Yes it is true, the Junior-Senior Happy Hour has finally come. This will be held in the Pub on December 5th. The band will be "Hi-Beams." The beer starts flowing at 3:15.

The Senate would like to take this opportunity to thank The Archway for all of their help so far this semester. Especially for our weekly column and Faculty Course Outlines. Keep up the good work.

A sincere wish is extended from The Student Senate to the entire Bryant Community for a Happy Thanksgiving. Enjoy the relaxing weekend.

Joanne McEttrick: "No, because with my car, I never know if I'm going to make it."

Ron Renaud: "Yeah, because I couldn't stand living here."

Men's Basketball Opens Against New Hampshire College

"We played forty minutes of good defense, and thirty-four to thirty-five minutes of good offense. They just played a minute or so more of offense." This was the comment Bryant Head Coach Leon Drury had after his team suffered a 63-52 loss to the New Hampshire College Penmen.

"Our defense did a hell of a job, but we had an offensive breakdown. The heart and effort were there though. I think the kids rose to the occasion."

Drury was referring to the loss of two-time All-American Ernie Dewitt, who missed the game (and will miss the UMass game) with a back injury. "I'd like to think Ernie would have made the difference," Drury said. Penmen Coach Tom Sullivan added, "you put Dewitt's fifteen points per game and we would have lost by five. But...you can't tell...he definitely would have changed the complexion of the game."

Paul Berlo tied for high scoring honors with fourteen. He left the game temporarily late in the second half with a muscle cramp. "When Paul went out, the timing and feeling broke down, and we weren't able to get it together," said Drury. Ron Harrison followed Berlo with twelve points and six rebounds.

Dennis Verni had eleven points and ten rebounds. Verni suffered a dislocated finger, also occurring late in the game. Ray Venter, who had a "super game in both rebounds and offensively" according to Drury, had eight points and six rebounds. Bob Mahon added eight points to the teams total.

Overall the Indians shot 35%(32 - 62) from the floor, and 69%(9-13)from the line; while New Hampshire College shot 40%(27-67) and 72%(8-11) respectively. The Penmen had four men in double figures, with Carlton Lee leading with fourteen.

"I saw so many good things in this game...so many plusses," Drury said, "But, New Hampshire is one of the best teams around."

'Tune' Successfully Defends Title

By Susan Fitzgerald
Of The Archway Staff

The College's Co-Ed Volleyball Playoffs came to an exciting end last Thursday night when the Rebels and Tune captured the individual titles for the championship. The competition included seventy-seven teams at its outset and was narrowed down during the regular season to the top two teams in Divisions Two through Nine. In the somewhat stronger Division One, four teams were allowed to proceed to the playoffs.

Intramural Director Bob Reall noted that this program involved the largest number of students ever and he believes this is indicative of participation to come. Out of all seventy-seven teams, only five went undefeated during the regular season: Tune, Crystal Ship, R.A.#1, 14'ers, and Tiara-A. Also notable is that all three of Tiara's teams A,B,C, made it to the playoffs.

The Rebels made it through four playoff matches to finally defeat the Purple People Eaters in two straight games. The Rebels only loss all season was to Tiara-A. Congratulations to Co-Captains Lou Bolduc and Gina Copertino, and to team members Bill Slattery, Bill Rosa, Mark Carlton, Mike Casey, Lori Burstein, JoAnne Enderlin, Kerri Schacht, Linda Graziano, and Margret Jantz.

Defending champs Tune made it two in a row by defeating QEII in the finals. It was a tough match as QEII took the first game. Tune fought back even harder though and took the next two to win the two out of three game final match. Especially outstanding players for Tune included Captain K. Karalius, Pete Parmelee, and Brenda Grah. Giving it their best also were Dave Wood, Dave Magill, Bob Palermo, Geoff Leighton, Laura Locaulla, Judy Watson, Donna Cole, and Eileen McGovern. The winning teams will receive "Bryant Champs" t-shirts to proclaim their success.

Bob Reall passes along the following notice:

Men's Intramural Volleyball begins Monday, December 1. League alignments and schedule of games are available in the Intramural Office now.

'People's Temple' Captures Division

By David Cooley
Of The Archway Staff

A 25-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Larry Evans to Matt Salerno and John Germano's extra point conversion gave the People's Temple a hard fought 7-0 win over the Scholar$ Monday afternoon.

The win gives The Temple the Weak Division Championship for 1980 as they took the opening kickoff and used their powerful running game to drive down field for what proved to be the only score of the game. From that point on it was rain, mud and defense that controlled the game.

The Scholar$ only real scoring threat came with seconds to go in the first half, as Tom MacDonald returned a blocked field goal attempt deep into Temple territory. But again, the defense proved to be too much, and the Scholar$ eventually missed a field goal three plays later.

The win gave People's Temple their second win in the three games against the Scholar$ this season as the Scholar$ won 13-0 on the first day of play and Temple taking the second game 6-3. People's temple defeated the Cutters 7-0 and the previously unbeaten Loading Zone 13-0 to reach the finals. The Scholar$ drew a bye in the first round of the playoffs, then beat a tough Youngbloods squad 14-9 and advanced to the Championship.

The Strong-Frat Division title has yet to be decided due to weather conditions and the fact that Skull and Delta Sig-A have played two complete scoreless ties. The game has been rescheduled for after Thanksgiving break with the winner taking on Tau Kappa Epsilon for the Championship.

LaCrosse Club Has A 'Real Coach'

Bryant Lacrosse is set for the 1981 season. Yes, we have a real coach. Lou Verrochi the "workhorse" behind the soccer team has given us a good indication he will lead our team. I would like to thank him for his dedication to helping out the athletic situation at Bryant. One area that is not given much attention by so few who run it. The Spring season has proven to be the most competitive schedule we could possibly put together. Such teams as Boston University and Fairfield U. are some of the stronghold of our roster. Ethan Edwards the new President of the club has done a superb job. Jackie Fischer will be back to play in the Spring after his "paw of plaster" is removed. Overall I have felt we are ready to show Bryant our varsity level of competition. So, come out and see Bryant show the few who don't believe that statement - believe it...

Bryant's Newest Organization

The first meeting of the Bryant College chapter of the American Business Communications Association (ABCA) was held recently and the new club is very enthusiastic about its future.

Bryant's chapter is only the second of its kind in the nation as Communications in Business is becoming more and more important because business executives now realize that millions and millions of dollars are wasted every year because of miscommunication.

The club's objectives include learning, enjoyment, sharpening of communication skills, and also writing skills. Guest speakers dinners, workshops, field trips, fund-raisers and many other activities are in the early planning stages. The club should prove to be quite exciting with Burton "Doc" Fischman as faculty advisor.

The elected officers for 1980-81 are:

President: David Cooley
Vice-President: Jayne Cohen
Treasurer: Elly Pappas
Secretary: Glenda Chickering

Anyone who would like to join in the fun and challenge of founding a new club and watching it grow, especially involving the new and exciting field of Business Communications, is invited to attend our next meeting on (Quick mark it on your calendar) Monday, December 1, at 3:30 in Room 242. We keep our meetings short so as to not dilute interest in the club. It is not too late to join by any means!

Civil Air Patrol Needs Volunteers

Courtesy of the Civil Air Patrol

The Civil Patrol is a voluntary, non-profit and benevolent organization. Established in 1941, it is the only civilian organization which maintains and operates a fleet of light aircraft for humanitarian purposes. Although the Civil Air Patrol is an auxiliary to the United States Air Force, there is no military obligation. The ranks are filled by civilians who freely give of their time for the betterment of others.

"The mission of the Civil Air Patrol is to voluntarily use its resources to meet emergencies, to encourage aerospace education of the general public, and, through the Cadet Program, to motivate young men and women to the ideals of leadership and service through aerospace education and training."

You need not be a pilot to join. Presently we are looking for people skilled in business administration, secretarial work, nursing, education and communications. Your education, interest and desire to work are all that is required.

For further information, please call: Lieutenant Joseph H. Procopio at 751-2958 after 5 p.m. If there is no answer, please call: Captain Lynette D. Blackmore at 231-7996 after 5 p.m.

Snowstorms Cause Havoc With Daily Schedule

School Delay's or Cancellations and On-Campus Recruiting

Periodically during the winter, classes may be delayed because of snow or inclement weather. These delays do not affect the on-campus recruiting schedule. If you are scheduled for an 8:50 appointment, and classes are not scheduled to begin until 10:00, do plan to meet with recruiter at 8:50. Although this office cannot guarantee that all recruiters will begin their scheduled appointments on-time, past performance indicates that most recruiters do manage to arrive on-campus and begin their interviewing at 8:50.

If Mother Nature blesses us with a more bountiful supply of snow and classes are cancelled for the day, on-campus recruiting will also be cancelled for that day. Contact this office to determine if the interviews will be rescheduled.

Interview Cancellations Vs No Shows

If you are unable to keep a scheduled on-campus recruiting appointment, please notify this office as soon as possible so that we may notify the recruiters and also give a student on the company's waiting list a chance to meet with the recruiter.

If you do not keep a scheduled appointment and also fail to notify this office in advance of your absence, you will not be allowed to participate in any further on-campus recruiting. Naturally, this would not apply if you were the victim of some tragic event (e.g., death of a family member or hospitalization.)

Holiday Spectacular

Student representatives of the Alumni Association, Paul D'Adamo and Debbie Dietrich, will be selling tickets in the Rotunda from December 4 to the 9th.
