

WJMF Granted Permit to Increase Power

By Craig Brickey
Of The Archway Staff

WJMF was granted a construction permit to increase its power to 225 watts on July 3. This culminates an application process begun in February, 1979.

This construction permit allows the radio station to purchase the necessary equipment and make any changes needed for the station to broadcast at the higher power level. Once the changes are completed, WJMF will be granted its license. According to Station General Manager Duane Lefevre, "The license is just a technicality; it's the construction permit that's important."

The station, which will be located at a different frequency, will reach virtually all of northern Rhode Island, and will be able to be heard by up to 95% of Bryant's commuting students, who, up to now, cannot listen. Upon hearing the news Mr. Lefevre was "very excited... It's the biggest thing to happen to the station since we started in 1971."

The power increase will cost approximately $18,000, of which the senior class gift will provide about $7,000. About $2,000 has already been spent in the complex application process. According to Mr. Lefevre, "We have a proposal into the school administration for the remaining amount. It is presently in process and we are pursuing it."

The bulk of the money will be used to purchase new equipment. New equipment necessary for the power increase will include a new transmitter and stereo generator, monitoring devices necessary for the operation of a "higher class" radio station, additions to the broadcasting antenna, switching equipment, and engineering work. All of this is exclusive of costs to be incurred moving the studios to their new home in the Multi-purpose Activities Center presently under construction.

WJMF was given a deadline of January 3, 1981 to "construct" its new station. There is a remote possibility of an extension. After funding is assured, there could be additional problems because several 10-watt radio stations are also increasing power, and equipment is becoming scarce and more expensive. Since new legislation "put very strong incentives" for 10 watt stations to increase power, stations across the country are doing so.

From a programming standpoint, plans are uncertain as to specifics. However, WJMF will continue to offer progressive rock as its main format. More public service programming is tentatively planned, and an effort will be made to reach commuters during morning "drive time." "WJMF will broaden its horizons, not only will we be the best alternative for Bryant College, we will be the progressive alternative for Northwestern Rhode Island." Comments Liisa Laine, WJMF Programming Director.

Saga Makes Changes

By Frank D'Ostilio
Of The Archway Staff

This year Saga Food Service, the largest contract food service in the country, has implemented many new changes in dining at the salmonson dining hall.

The most important change has been the installation of a computerized ID checking system. All meal plan students will have to have their special meal plan ID placed into the new computer.

Another change at Saga has been the division between the lunch serving lines. One serving line of the cafeteria will serve sandwiches, plus one hot item and the other will serve hot items only.

In addition, the old salad bars have been replaced by new, more attractive salad bars. Saga has also expanded the selection of salads.

Saga Corporation is continuously looking for better ideas and cost saving improvements. Saga welcomes all suggestions and once again asks that students take only one entree and then come back for more. This is one way Saga can control waste and manage food dollars better.

Drinking Age Increased

Alcohol Policies Revised

By Craig Carpenter
Of The Archway Staff

The Rhode Island General Assembly has recently passed legislation raising the legal drinking age to nineteen. The law went into effect on July 1, 1980, and it directly affects the Bryant College campus.

Realizing such legislation was forthcoming, Bryant College set up a committee to review the college's alcohol policies and procedures. The committee, composed of students, faculty and administration, submitted recommendations designed to develop a controlled and responsible use of alcohol on campus. Mr. Leslie LaFond, Vice President for Student Affairs, has since accepted these recommendations.

The adopted alcohol policies will cause the following changes to be made. In the Koffler Student Center, commonly known as "the Pub," alcoholic beverages will only be served on the upper level. Access to the upper level can only be gained by those students who possess a valid pub sticker on their student identification cards. No alcohol will be allowed downstairs in the pub. Valid pub stickers can be obtained in the Office of Student Programs.

The Country Comfort will be open to all students only two nights a week. On these nights, alcoholic beverages will be served upstairs only. Only those students who are nineteen or older will be allowed on the upper level on these nights. The other five nights, you must be nineteen or older in order to get into the Country Comfort.

The format for alcoholic beverages in the gym remains the same. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed on the gym floor. Alcohol will be served downstairs as in the past and again, you must be nineteen or older in order to be served. However, this Friday night at the Beaver Brown concert, no alcohol will be served at all.

"Students must remember," said Mr. LaFond, "that the policy is in compliance with Rhode Island state law and the College's goal is in compliance with Rhode Island state law and the College's goal is to promote controlled and responsible drinking on campus, while at the same time trying to avoid prohibition." Mr. LaFond went on to say "Bryant College needs controlled drinking in order to retain its license and just a few violations could jeopardize the retention of the license."

A detailed description of these policies can be found in the Student Handbook for 1980-1981, as well as in the Guide to Residence Life. Your cooperation is necessary to make the best of this situation for everyone.

Where Has Everybody Gone?

By Craig Brickey & Craig Carpenter
Of The Archway Staff

This summer, a number of changes were made in the location of various administrative offices on campus to accommodate the ever-increasing space needs of these offices. The following is a guide to "What's Where" as far as Bryant's administration is concerned.

The Student Affairs Office, located on the south side of the Unistructure (closest to the Student Center) has been scattered to various places. Leslie Lafond, Vice President for Student Affairs and Acting Vice President for Public Affairs, has been moved to the former Counseling Center Building. The Residence Life Office, including the Director of Residence Life, Peter Barlow; the new Housing Director and Coordinator, Bernard Blumenthal; and the Resident Director of the New Dorm, Dawn Johnston; have been moved to the pit of Dorm 6, across from Health Services. Gerri Hura, will remain where she is.

The space once held by Student Affairs now accommodates the staff from the Counseling Center, now renamed the Center for Student Development.

Roberta Hysell, Director of the Educational Opportunity Program, will be found in the new Center for Student Development.

The Financial Aid Office has also been moved to the former Counseling Center building, leaving the Placement Office behind. Normand Parenteau, Coordinator of Student activities has also been moved from his office in the former Counseling Center (now known as the "Financial Aid Building") to the old Financial Aid office. The College Chaplains will remain in the new Financial Aid Building.

Please remember that Student employment is handled through the Financial Aid Office in the Financial Aid Building, and post-graduation placement services are offered by the Placement Office in its familiar location.

Finally, the Physical Plant Offices, including Central Scheduling, have been moved to the Maintenance building located behind the Multipurpose Activities Center, presently under construction.

If the reader is still confused—it is not expected to abate in the near future. When MAC is completed, the offices will once again shuffle for the space vacated by student organizations.

Our "New" Look

Upperclass readers of The Archway may notice a number of changes on a few pages of this week's first edition. This change from a five- to a four-column format is the culmination of many changes implemented and planned to achieve a more attractive, easier to read and use, publication. Beginning with this issue, four pages are in the four-column style, and as The Archway Production staff becomes more familiar with the four-column layout process, more pages will be gradually phased in.

President's Welcome

Welcome!

It gives me great pleasure to greet you on your return to campus. The familiar rhythms of academic life are welcome to those of us who worked through the summer as the campus slumbered. I sincerely hope you had a restful vacation and are now ready for a new semester.

Each academic year brings new challenges, exciting triumphs, and sobering disappointments. As we learn together, study together, and socialize together, I hope you will make the most of all these experiences and turn them to your advantage. I encourage each of you to participate heartily in all facets of college life. Bryant is committed to providing you the best, well-rounded, professional education possible, but you must seize these opportunities and make them yours.

For the Class of 1984, this will be your first semester at Bryant. The entire College community is quite proud of you.

collectively, you are one of the best classes in Bryant's history. I am confident you will add much luster to Bryant's long tradition of excellence. As the year unfolds, I hope I will have the opportunity to meet each of you.

I wish all of you every success during the coming year. Bryant is recognized as a leader in education in part because of the outstanding quality of its student body. As you succeed and achieve your personal goals, you will also enhance your College's reputation. If everyone of us at Bryant works together, we can continue the task of making our fine institution even better.

Sincerely,
William T. O'Hara
President

From The Editor's Desk...

The fall of 1980 is fast approaching and already it appears that it will be a very eventful period in time.

On the Bryant campus, as well as on many other campuses around the nation, freshman students are moving about and settling down in the next stage of their young life. For these people, this fall will be an experience of a life-time, helping to prepare them for what is ahead after they finally finish college. Many, for the first time, are living away from home for an extended period of time. They are living with new people, and they are making many new friends. It will take time to adjust to this new lifestyle, but once they have done so, it will prove to be a very rewarding experience. A word of advice: In college, extra-curricular activities are very important to your personal growth. So do not spend all your time with a book and do not join too many organizations either. Become involved in those activities which you enjoy the most, and remember the old saying, you get out of it only that which you are willing to put into it.

The upperclassmen who are returning to the Bryant campus have already found a few surprises awaiting for them. MAC, which was nothing but a large hole in the ground last spring, is standing very erect and is virtually enclosed. Construction is moving right along to its completion date later this year. Just as puzzling was when one student went upstairs in the Unistructure and was quoted saying, "Where did the Student Affairs Office go?" Likewise, "Whose office is that in the bottom of Dorm 6?" If you think these moves were confusing wait until January when quite a number of the student organizations vacate their offices to move into MAC. Then you are really going to need a map to find your way around this place.

Looking ahead to the month of November, our nation will be holding an election to select the officials which will be running our country for the next four years. It is very important that each student express his or her view by voting in this election. Four years from now we all will be out there in the real world, and I for one would like it to be in such a condition that we all may live comfortably and peacefully.

Again on the national level, this fall could be the time in which the fifty-two American hostages in Iran are released. As they enter their three-hundred and fifth day of captivity, they still are holding on to the hope of someday being released. The newest light in the end of the tunnel for them comes with the appointment of a new Iranian Prime Minister.

This may seem like an awful lot that could happen in such a short time as two or three months, but just think of the impact that each of these could have on the rest of your life. When they are all carefully dealt with and thought out, things usually work out for the best. So enjoy and make the most of each situation.

THE OPINIONS

Mick Picks Florida

To the Bryant Community:

I am sorry I couldn't be around long enough to say goodbye to all my friends personally, but my new teaching duties at the University of Tampa began the last week in August. I had no idea when last semester ended that I'd be moving; I learned of the opening at Tampa late in June.

Many of you know that I suffer from asthma and that I have respiratory problems in the cold weather. Because of this, for the past few years I had made inquiries (unsuccessfully) at various colleges in Florida. I've always said that the only thing that could make me leave Bryant was my health. When the Tampa opportunity came up, I felt I owed it to myself to see whether a warmer climate would help me, and the Bryant administration has been very supportive in granting me a year's leave of absence.

I'll be thinking of you all year. Best of luck.

Mickey Perlow

Student President's Welcome

Dear New Students:

On behalf of the entire student body, I am pleased to welcome you as new members of the Bryant Community.

As this is the beginning of your college career, I would like you to know that Bryant is a place where you can fulfill your academic goals as well as your personal, and social goals. Bryant allows every student the flexibility to grow and develop as the individual sees fit.

I encourage every student to get involved in those activities of which he/she is interested. There are over fifty clubs and student operated organizations to be involved with. On the other hand, you may choose to start your own club. There were over five new clubs recognized by the Student Senate last year. All it takes is a little bit of work and a lot of determination.

All students are represented by six members of their respective class. These people are elected to represent you, so do not hesitate to ask them any questions you may have.

I wish you "Good Luck" and if you ever need some type of assistance, feel free to either call me or stop in my office and talk to me.

Paul F. D'Adamo
President, Student Senate

Letter Policy

The Archway welcomes your letters on matters that concern the Bryant Community. Letters must be signed (w/ phone or box number for verification), and legible (not necessarily typewritten). Writers names will be withheld and or released only by vote of the Editorial Board.

NEW JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT INTERNSHIPS

Students will be able to put into effect theories learned in the classroom. The internship will run one night per week from October to April and will be limited to juniors and seniors. The student should have an interest in working with young people. Three hours of academic credit will be granted in the second semester. Express your interest in writing before September 19 to Professor John Zeiger, Chairman of the Management Department.

PUB STICKERS

Alcohol ID stickers will be available Wednesday, Sept. 3 through Friday, Sept. 5 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Office of Student Programs and Services.

Thereafter Pub Stickers will be available Monday through Friday 10 a.m.-noon and 1-2:30 p.m. in the office of Student Programs and Services. Students will be required to have them on their ID's beginning Friday night, Sept. 5.

FINANCIAL AID CHANGES

There have been a few changes pertaining to student On and Off-Campus employment. The Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment Services is now located in the former Counseling Center on the road in back of the Student Center.

Two bulletin boards should keep you well informed of jobs available. One is in Career Planning and Placement and the other is in the Office of Student Employment. Also, The Archway will have weekly updates on the new jobs that are received.

This year Saga is using a new system to keep track of jobs. Each job card on the bulletin boards will be assigned a code number or letter. This will be in the upper right corner. If you see a job you are interested in please refer to the code when inquiring. All inquiries should be made at the Student Employment Office, not at Career Planning and Placement.

All students who have received College Work-Study awards and are interested in employment on or off-campus should visit the Student Employment Office during the first two weeks of school for referral to job openings.

Those students who are returning to the same job they had during 1979-80 may also come by to pick up payroll authorizations so that they may begin work.

If you are not a College Work-Study recipient but are interested in employment on or off-campus, you may come to the Student Employment Office and file an application for employment. Referrals for non-Work Study will be done during the latter part of September.

STUDENT HANDBOOK CORRECTION

Please cut out the following information and attach it to "Residency Requirement" page 44 of the Student Handbook. The Handbook copy is incorrect.

Bryant College has a one year (30 semester hours) terminal residency requirement. The College is prepared to accept up to 90 semester hour credits in transfer from a senior-level institution and up to 60 semester hours credit from two-year community college or junior college. At least 12 semester hours credit in the student's major concentration must be completed at Bryant. Courses that are transferred are for credit only and are not calculated into the Grade Point Average (GPA).

ADVERTISING IN THE NEW DORM

The following is a list of guidelines for advertising in the New Dorm:

1. No soliciting is allowed.
2. All advertising (posters, flyers, etc.) to be hung on the bathroom doors or bulletin board, must first be approved by the Resident Director. Any advertising not so approved will be taken down.
3. Room-to-room advertising is no longer allowed.

If you have any questions concerning this matter or would like to discuss advertising methods with me, please feel free to stop in to see The Resident Director in the Residence Life Office.

The 1980 Presidential campaign is officially underway. Independent candidate John Anderson spent Monday in Chicago's ethnic suburbs speaking on the prominent issue. Meanwhile, President Carter was in Alabama addressing a crowd of 30,000, while Ronald Reagan was speaking to ethnic groups in New York City. Not wasting any time, Mr. Reagan quickly went on the offensive attacking the President's economic policies; while Mr. Carter did not even mention his Republican opponent in his speech.

THE ORGANIZATIONS

Bryant Organizations Welcome You

SAM

The objectives of the Society for Advancement of Management are to increase members understanding of professional management, as well as to experience and begin to develop management skills. Our members have an opportunity to reconcile theory of actual business practice by associating with a practicing manager and S.A.M. assists in preparing each member for the transition to a post college position.

The organization is open to all students of Bryant College. We have guest speakers, we organize plant tours, community projects, fund raisers, club get-togethers, as well as many other activities throughout the year.

Feel free to come to our meetings, and see how you like the Club. S.A.M. is a lot of fun and you learn a lot too! Watch for an announcement sign in the Rotunda.

Laurie Libby
Public Relations

D.P.M.A.

Data Processing Management Association was formed at Bryant College in order to develop a better understanding of the nature and functions of data processing.

The monthly meetings promote sound general principles in data processing and the study of technical methods with a view to their improvement.

This year we again look forward to our well received Computer-Date Mixer. Watch for the date of our DPMA's first meeting. Everyone is welcome.

Loren Buonocore
President

Criminal Justice

The Criminal Justice Association (formerly the I.E.A.) is happy to welcome the new freshman and all returning students to Bryant.

For those of you unfamiliar with the CJA, our main objective is to provide information and experiences beneficial to the Bryant criminal justice major.

The Association's main event each year is Law Day, held in April. It's goal is to bring the student closer to actual opportunities in his/her field.

We encourage all interested students and past members to attend our meetings. Look for our sign in the Rotunda for date, time, and place. We look forward to seeing you!

Karin Gosman
Public Relations officer

Agape

AGAPE is one of the newest organizations on campus. We became established in December 1979. We were organized because of a need for some type of Christian fellowship on campus. We are composed of students who desire to spend time talking and sharing together.

We meet regularly for about an hour each week. Our meetings are informal and designed to fit the needs of the members. ALL STUDENTS ARE WELCOME!

The first meeting will be September 5 at 7:00 pm in the mezzanine in the Rotunda. See you then! God Bless!

Ultimate Messengers

The Ultimate Messengers compete intercollegiately in the sport of Ultimate. The team competes against colleges and universities of all sizes.

Last year the team had a record of 12 wins and 4 losses, this includes winning the 1980 R1 State Frisbee Championships. The Messengers will be playing more games this year including indoor Ultimate during the winter.

The Ultimate Messengers also promote other frisbee sports such as disc golf and freestyle. There is an 18 hole "Fol" course on the campus and the team will be holding a disc golf tournament this fall. Members also travel to other colleges to take on their "Fol" courses.

There will be a team meeting the first week of school, look for a sign in the rotunda. Practices are held at 3:15 every day and games are every weekend. New members are welcome!

B.C.E.M.T.A.

The BCEMTA operates as the First Responder Unit for A.I.L. first aid related incidents on Campus. Our main objective is to incorporate a prompt, efficient, and fully trained 24 hour EMT First Aid Response System to meet Bryant's ever-increasing first aid needs.

The Association is totally comprised of fully trained and equipped Volunteer students who are: 1. licensed EMT's as regular members, or 2. students in training in the Association that hold current Red Cross Standard First Aid and CPR cards. The Association is full sanctioned by the Office of Student Affairs.

All interested students should contact the BCEMTA through P. O. Box 1687.

NOTE: Several membership positions are now open, interested students are urged to reply promptly.

Kevin J. Lampeter
President

Invalids

The Invalids would like to extend a warm welcome to all returning students and incoming students. The Invalids is the only independent organization recognized on campus, composed of male and female students.

We participate in all school events, including: intramural sports, benefits, parties, mixers, and our annual semi-formal banquet. We are a friendly alternative to Greek life for independent students without the expenses.

The Invalids is open to all students. There is no pressure to join and no initiation. We hope to hear from all interested students. Good luck to everyone this year.

David P. Mellin
President

Marketing

The Bryant Chapter program is designed to promote professionalism and practical education to marketing students. The varied activities of the AMA Bryant Chapter provide students with insight into the practice of marketing by stimulating their thinking, widening their knowledge, broadening their outlook and developing a better understanding of marketing and its relation to the free enterprise system.

The AMA Bryant Chapter frequently brings speakers from various facets of the marketing field onto campus. Field trips to New York City to visit advertising agencies and the Annual Trade Show at the NY Coliseum are also an integral part of the Chapter's activities. In the past year, we have also sponsored trips to see the Red Sox and NE Patriots, rocked the Bryant campus with "A Rolling Stones Night" and sold over 200 Spring Weekend Beer Mugs. This year join the AMA Bryant Chapter and get marketing!

Delta Omega

Delta Omega Professional Society is one of the largest organizations on campus. Its main purpose is to provide the students with an opportunity to become acquainted with the outside business world.

This is accomplished through dinner-speaker events held throughout the entire academic year. Following each dinner, which is held off campus, someone from outside the college is asked to speak to the students concerning his occupation.

The events allow the individual to meet many new Bryantonians. Also, no due is necessary, it only costs the student the price of the dinner. I hope you will join.

Michael J. Otocky
President

Backgammon

The Backgammon Club meets once a week. Its purpose is to further backgammon playing, to teach backgammon, and to conduct tournaments for the Club and the Bryant Community. We welcome players of all skills and especially beginners to attend a meeting or two and find out what Backgammon is all about.

Joseph C. Fischer
President

S.P.B.

Would you like to meet Harry Chapin, Pousette-Dart Band or Aztec Two-Step? As a member of the Student Programming Board (SPB), you could, plus be a part of bringing other big name entertainment to Bryant.

The SPB is responsible for booking and approving the social activities on campus whether it be concerts, films, mixers, lectures, plays or trips to events off campus. If you are interested in quality entertainment and would like to see your favorite performers here at Bryant, join one of the largest student organizations, the Student Programming Board at our meetings on Tuesdays at 3:30 pm in Room 386 A & B.

Jazz Appreciation

We're not a band, we're the other guys! The Jazz Appreciation Club is the newest club on campus, and we have a lot of exciting ideas for the upcoming year. Jazz is an every growing art and ideas for events, field trips, and other happenings are unlimited. Concerts, both on and off campus, activities with other jazz clubs, planning jazz shows for radio, and jazz seminars are all possibilities.

If you are interested in jazz and like to have a good time, come down to a meeting. We're the newest club on campus, so ideas and new members are more than welcomed!

Scott Abrams

Bryant Players

The Bryant Players are an informal group geared to recreation and study in the art of dramatics. We try to provide a chance for involved members to gain knowledge in poise, style, acting, producing, and audience.

We also try to establish self-confidence in the individual.

The Players can be for anyone. We do more than only act. There are plenty of openings for public relations people, back stage help, and even hammering together sets and props. So, even if you have a case of stage fright, there is lots to do behind stage. Of course, if you do enjoy the limelight, you will get a chance to grab it with our group. There are a lot of fun things to do with the Bryant Players. The people within the group are all friendly and as unpredictable as people around the stage can be.

Stop by and check us out. We welcome potential members and interested people in the Bryant community. Watch for signs in the Rotunda for the time and place of our first meeting. See you there!

Susan Groncziak
President

Archery

The Archery Club was formed to provide students with an insight to modern archery. Members enjoy learning to shoot under professional supervision at an indoor archery lane. The Club supplies all of the necessary equipment and several hours of free shooting.

Lessons are taught on Saturday mornings and members are free to use the equipment during the rest of the week. The Club also offers its members a chance to participate in fund raising activities.

Watch the Rotunda for time, place, and date if you want to go from watching professionals to being one.

Wantu Wazuri

The Wantu Wazuri, meaning "beautiful people" in Swahili, is an organization which was founded in 1969 to give minority students a group of their own, in which they can communicate with other minorities of the Bryant community.

In the past years, the Wantu Wazuri has attempted to inform the Bryant community of the cultures of its members, one such way was the Black Culture Feast given every year featuring cultural dishes. This Feast is usually given during the month of February in Black Culture Week.

This year's officers include Michael Harris, President; Joe Soars, Vice-President; Pam Macon, Treasurer; Debbie Lima, Secretary; and Darryl Thompson, Asst. Secretary.

G.L.C.

The Greek Letter Council would like to welcome freshmen and returning students back to Bryant. The GLC is the largest single organization in the Student Senate. This includes eight fraternities and six sororities in what I consider a very closely knit circle.

A major purpose of the 275 member council, is to promote and spread brotherhood and sisterhood throughout the Bryant community.

Look for Greek Week, Freshmen Queen, Personality, and Ms. Bryant Weekends. Also there will be many mixers, wine & cheese, happy hours, and smokers, plus much more.

I suggest that you "Get to know the Greeks at Bryant," it will be something that you will never regret!

Earl J. Vigoda
President

Big Brothers

Big Brothers of Bryant College welcome all incoming and returning students to Bryant College. For those of you who do not know about Big Brothers at Bryant, we are a group of responsible men who have made a commitment to help guide fatherless boys into manhood.

Each Big Brother at Bryant College is assigned a fatherless boy between the ages of 7 and 14. A big brother assumes no financial or legal obligation. All that is asked is that a Big Brother see his little brother at least three times a month and provide him with the attention and father image he needs so badly.

Big Brothers of Bryant College is a chapter of Big Brothers of R.I., a United Way Agency, which is in its 30th year of service to fatherless boys. Bryant College is proud of the interest its men have taken in helping to guide countless fatherless boys throughout the community.

However, the task is far from complete; hundreds of fatherless boys still lack the friendship that you could provide. Helping a young boy into manhood is a most rewarding challenge!!! So if you are interested, please contact Bob Calo at 232-0275 or Box 1220.

WJMF

WJMF, sometimes known as the Sound Alternative, has always been known for its Rock and Roll. We are a totally student operated, student oriented radio station located at 91.5 FM. We also have no commercials.

The station is run by a Board of eleven Directors and a staff of approximately 100. Right now we need help—lots of it. If you are interested in Marketing, Public Relations, Accounting, Programming Production, Disc Jockeying, News, Sports, or Engineering, we would like to talk to you. No experience necessary—we'll train you.

Interested students should come to our organizational meeting on Monday, September 8 at 3:30 p.m. in the station. If you can't make the meeting, just drop by anytime.

Brycol

Brycol is almost undefinable. It is hard work, dedication, responsibility, pride and caring. Started in 1975, Brycol is one of the few student-run corporations in New England. Its purpose is to provide services for the College Community while allowing students to gain experience and skills in business administration through student-controlled enterprises.

Brycol's controlling body—the Board of Directors—is carefully selected from Bryant's student body. Yearly elections are held with an effort to obtain a varied cross-section of the campus's talents and ideas. Our junior directorship program serves as an orientation for people who wish to learn about Brycol and become involved. Any student looking for a job may apply for a position at the Country Comfort or Boutique; just come down to the Brycol House, which is located two buildings up from the Comfort.

Trinity Singers

We are the college singing group on campus. We sing at Sunday masses every week and have one weekly rehearsal.

Anyone that enjoys singing or playing an instrument is welcome. We are having an organizational meeting Monday, Sept. 8 at 3:30 in the auditorium. Anyone interested can pop in there or contact Father Lolio in the pit of Dorm 6 or Larry St. John, Box 2680.

What makes Tech Hifi the best place to buy stereo?

Appliance stores and department stores are not the best places to buy quality stereo. You'll do much better at a stereo store.

The problem is, which stereo store? You're about to read why over 2 million music lovers have decided to buy from Tech Hifi.

It's OK to pick our brains. (We know our stereo).

The salespeople at Tech Hifi know what they're talking about. They work at Tech because they love stereo, not because they love selling.

Our people keep up with all the latest equipment, and can tell you the differences among the leading brands.

You get to play at Tech Hifi, not just look.

Some stereo stores have signs all over that tell you "Don't Touch The Merchandise".

At Tech Hifi our signs say "Come Play." We encourage you to spin knobs, push buttons, toss switches, and try out any of the components in our soundroom.

If you take enough time to play in a Tech Hifi soundroom, you'll get a good idea of which equipment sounds best in your price range.

This $189 system delivers good sound at a low price. The receiver is a TDC 1500 with T-Lock tuning that eliminates FM drift. The loudspeakers are compact, wide-range Studio Design 16's and the turntable is a multiple-play Collaro 1251 with a Philips cartridge.

The buying power of the 65 Tech Hifi stores.

The reason why no store has better prices than Tech Hifi is no dealer buys quality components in such a huge volume as the 65 Tech Hifi stores.

You'll find our prices are as good as anybody's, and often better on some brands.

You might expect to pay extra at Tech for all the extra things we offer. But you won't.

At Tech Hifi we back what you buy.

When you make any big investment like quality hifi, make sure you're getting sound guarantees.

Tech Hifi gives you guarantees most stores don't. And we'll give them to you in writing, right on your sales slip.

Our guarantees include a 7-day moneyback guarantee (no questions asked), 30-day price guarantee, 60-day defective exchange, 3-month full-credit swap (for any reason), and a 1-year loudspeaker trial.

Our guarantees are backed by the Tech Hifi Service Centers. If the equipment you buy from us ever needs service, we have trained professionals who will make things right. Fast.

Our back-to-school sale

This is a good time to buy at Tech Hifi, because we're having our annual back-to-school sale.

You'll find complete systems on sale right now for as little as $189, and lots of name-brand turntables, receivers, loudspeakers, and cassette decks are on sale as individual components.

Come in this week and listen to what your money can buy at Tech Hifi.

The best place to buy stereo.

THE ENTERTAINMENT

The Reluctant Resident

By Paul Harwood

It was an age old paradox. Why was it that the people who commuted to Bryant generally are brighter, healthier, and basically well-adjusted individuals as compared with the dull, slothful, and disease-ridden, burnt-out spacehoppers that reside on campus? In order to find out I threw caution to the winds and, using the money I've received from Masters and Johnson for research into the relationship between sex and Eskimo Pies, I rented out a townhouse for the summer session.

June 1 Moved into townhouse today. From the looks of the townhouse it seems like it was designed by the same guy who builds those mazes for mice to run through. This is confirmed when I find a pile of dead mice in the corner. The walls are fairly clean with the exception of about two dozen nails pounded in various places. (Obviously proof of either a Satanic cult or a crucifixion school). My roommates seem like okay people. There's John, who is Italian, Jose, who is Puerto Rican, and Mark, who is usually gone. My roommates are a bit set back when they find out I don't drink or smoke.

"What about sex?" asks Jose. Bad question. I go to the freezer and scoff down my first Eskimo Pie.

June 2 The first thing I learn in the Financial Management course I am taking is the fact that you have to be an accounting major to be dangerous in the class. Being a management major I decided to sit next to the wall where I could bang my head in peace. Good-looking girl in back of me has on her finger a large gold ring with a figure of a camel on it. Reminds me of the joke where the Arab said to the anthropologist: "A young boy for a good time, a woman for sons, but for a good wife give me a camel every time!"

June 3 8:20 p.m. Jose led a beautiful woman into my room while I was standing there in just my bathrobe. Maybe this is it . . . 8:25 p.m. R.A. left my room after hearing my complaints about nails in the walls. I curse Jose for the disappointing encounter. I get an Eskimo Pie to pick up my spirits.

June 12 I find out that the one surefire way to make you townhouse popular is to have a phone installed. As soon as we had the sucker lugged in, our apartment filled up with friends, faculty, and strangers, all to whom the word "Dime" is foreign.

June 14 Came back from shopping with forty dollars of groceries. Jose is kind enough to help me with the bags. After I thank him he said: "No sweat man, after all, it is our food isn't it?" (Our food??? Our food???)

June 16 Now I would not want to say that the Bryant pool is small, but it is very hard to get any serious exercise when you can only swim four strokes before you crash into the end of the pool! You can write off the men's sauna, too. Most of the heat for it is supplied by the overhead lightbulb.

June 18 I am slowly dying in Financial Management. And if that isn't bad enough, Mr. Foley keeps on exposing the worthlessness of such activities as newspaper reading, motorcycle riding, T.V. watching and gambling. If Mr. Foley says one word about sex, I'm leaving!

June 20 Jose made brownies tonight and despite their strange taste, I must admit that they were pretty good. I would write more about the brownies but for some reason all I want to do now is to sit in my room and grin foolishly while listening to my brain hummmmmmmmmmm . . .

June 24 Received a letter from an old girlfriend with whom I had broken up with over philosophical differences. You see, I said that we should never go to bed angry and she maintained that we should never go to bed! Nah, it really wasn't that simple, but she still ranks as one of the best human beings around. I wrote her back and nicely asked for the eighty cents she still owes me. After I seal the letter I find that I need a good, stiff Eskimo Pie to help me forget.

June 27 Considering all the noise coming from downstairs, I figure John is either performing some sexual gymnastics or beating the hell out of somebody. (Then again, he could be doing both!)

June 29 The summer Freshman orientation program has been a great success in familiarizing the incoming students with life at Bryant. In fact, it has been so successful it was necessary for the Director of Student Programs to send out a note to all the townhouse residents warning us to stay away from the new students. To enforce this policy, all the new students were kept under lock and key and heavily guarded to protect them from the residents' corrupting influence.

July 3 Even though I bought the orange juice just yesterday, it seems to have a funny taste today. As I put the juice back, I knock over an empty bottle of gin that Jose had bought. Gosh, how can he drink that stuff straight?

July 5 Hey, dis OJ ain't half-bad after all! As long as ya keep it away from open flames it's alrightt....

July 7 My head hurts! Anyways, as I was walking to class this morning I saw all the commuters filing into the parking lots.

Gee, what stupid bastards. Why don't they all live here at Bryant and be smart like me? (Wait a minute, what the heck did I just write? Are my brain cells dying off that quickly?)

July 10 In my Constitutional Law class we studied the case of the Heart of Atlanta Motel vs. United States, which involved a motel that refused to rent rooms to negroes. After class I jokingly asked a classmate if he had been refused a room at the motel. "No, they let me have a room but they turned away my girlfriend!"

July 11 Come back to the townhouse from work and find that Jose has eaten all my cherries. He offers me a grapefruit in trade. I do not like grapefruit and I am not too crazy about Jose neither (But he does make tremendous brownies!)

July 14 Find out that Jose does have one outstanding asset, and that is a beautiful sister who is here visiting him. In an effort to impress her I decide to do my famous Frankie Valli imitation while taking a shower. She is so impressed by my singing that she yells through the bathroom door that if I do not stop singing, she'll see to it that I sing Falsetto for the rest of my life. Ah, love is wonderful!

July 17 Eskimo Pies 58 Sex 0

July 10 A pretty girl named Kay, one of John's friends, asked my how the pool water was. Every time we meet she asks me the same dumb question. "Come on Kay," I said. "Don't you think I do anything else but swim?" "Alright Paul, what else do you do?" I then stood there with my mouth open for five minutes stuck for an answer.

July 21 Last week of summer sessions. I find I need the funny tasting OJ and Jose's brownies to startle my day. Residue from all the Columbian air freshener used in our townhouse covers the windows, walls, ceilings, floors and most of our dishes.

July 23 Upon hearing news of a possible strike on the construction site of the new gym addition, President O'Harry and two of the bill collectors from the Burser's Office went down and threw three of the trouble-makers to their deaths in the still wet cement floor. Yey Presidento O'Hara!!!

July 24 Final exams today but what the hell I'm a resident I don't havta care. I just want to work on a rabbit ranch and live offa do-fat of da land. Tell me bout the rabbits ag in George...

July 25 The last day of summer sessions has arrived and it is now time for us to move out of the townhouses. All the orange juice has been drunk and the brownies are long gone with 78 Eskimo Pies. In the short time I've played at being a resident I find myself coming away with blurred vision, a nervous twitch, a couple of million burnt-out brain cells, two cavities, and a new respect for the lifestyle that the resident students choose to live. In some ways it's a sad lot, one moment being surrounded by all your friends and the next being left alone for a whole weekend. In some ways it's confusing such as wondering if your girlfriend back home is being faithful to you as you try and score with a girl in your accounting class. And in some ways it's the greatest feeling in the world because for the first time in your life, you can experience both the joys and the pains of independent living. But probably the best advantage of living on campus is the fact that going home is much more enjoyable. So goodbye John, Mark (wherever you are), and thanks Jose, for making my trip home much easier by having eaten all my food I'd otherwise have to stuff in my car!

FACT #1: ARMY ROTC MAKES ANY COLLEGE DEGREE WORTH MORE.

Why? Because Army ROTC is a course that adds a valuable dimension to your college education. A dimension of leadership and management training.

Training that helps you develop poise, stamina, and self-confidence. Three things you can't get from textbooks.

Training that also enables you to graduate with both an Army officer's commission and a college degree in your chosen major.

And when we say ROTC can help your career, we mean it. In the military. And out.

In the active Army, over 70% of the second lieutenants commissioned are ROTC graduates.

And in civilian life, your ROTC background will help you gain a lot of ground in today's competitive job market. Because it tells a potential employer you've got more to offer than just potential. You've got experience. As a leader. As a decision-maker. As a doer. Few recent college grads can offer this kind of experience. And few college courses provide this kind of unique training.

FACT#2: Taking Army ROTC won't interfere with your other studies. You'll attend ROTC classes only a few hours each week, along with the subjects in your major.

FACT#3: Not all of your ROTC training takes place in the classroom. Some of it takes place in the field, too. It's called adventure training. And you could find yourself doing any one of a number of adventurous activities. Like rappelling a cliff. Or shooting the rapids. Or finding your way out of a forest with nothing but a map and compass to guide you.

FACT#4: There's no military commitment whatsoever during your first two years of ROTC (Basic Course). Why? So you'll have the chance to look us over. And vice versa.

FACT#5: The Advanced Course, usually taken your last two years of college, is when you agree to serve as a 2nd Lieutenant in today's Army (including the Army Reserve and National Guard). If you decide to go on active duty, your commitment is only three years, unless you win an ROTC scholarship; then, it's four years. You'll also receive financial assistance—$100 a month, up to $1,000 a year—in the Advanced Course.

And now you can earn even more. Now you can also serve in the Army Reserve or Army National Guard while you're enrolled in ROTC. It's called the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP). If you qualify, you'll serve as an officer trainee in a selected Reserve component, and earn $70 or more a month, to start. Add the $100 a month you'll receive in the Advanced Course, and you could end up with over $170 a month for yourself.

FACT#6: It takes more than brains or brawn to win an Army ROTC scholarship. Sure, your SAT or ACT score carries a lot of weight. And there are certain physical requirements. But Army ROTC looks for other qualities, too. Leadership qualities. So if you're involved in varsity sports, or your student government, or even if you're holding down a part-time job after school, ROTC will award you points for it toward winning a scholarship.

FACT#8: Now, when you graduate from ROTC, you can opt to serve at home with an Army Reserve or Army National Guard unit part-time. It's called the Reserve Forces Option. Take advantage of it, and you can put your ROTC training to work in your civilian career right away. And to add to your civilian pay, you'll earn over $1,600 a year, for serving usually 16 hours a month and two weeks a year as a 2nd Lieutenant.

FACT#7: Army ROTC gives you two opportunities to win a four-year scholarship. Here's how it works: if you apply before August 15th, you may win one of the early scholarships available. If you miss the deadline, or if you don't win, your application will be automatically reviewed in a later cycle. And you may win one of the additional scholarships available then. Several hundred scholarships are awarded each year. Deadline for all four-year applications is December 1st. Army ROTC also has hundreds of three- and two-year scholarships available, too. So if you don't start college on one of our scholarships, you may still be able to finish on one.

FACT#9: Taking Army ROTC isn't a snap. But practically all those who have completed the program, from corporate presidents to national leaders, agree on one thing: their ROTC training made their college education more valuable. And ROTC will do the same for you. That's a fact!

THE SENATE

Senate Welcomes Students

The Bryant College Student Senate is looking forward to an exciting and fulfilling year. We would all like to welcome new and returning students to Bryant in hopes that everyone had an excellent summer and are ready to get back into the swing of the Bryant Community.

For those of you that are meeting us for the first time, the Student Senate consists of an Executive Council and a Legislative Body. The Executive Council is made up of the President, Paul D'Adamo; Vice-President, Anne Northup; Treasurer, Frank Mazzatta; and Secretary, Cathy Kirk. The Legislative Council consists of six students elected by each class and each are referred to as Senators. This year the Senior Senators are Don Clark, Debbie Dietrich, Nancy Prayzner, Frank Mazzatta, Colin McCormack, and Wendy Monroe.

The Junior Senators are Jeff Boesch, Tom Foley, Diana Gibbs, Linnie Levinson, Chris Macina and

Bill Vanore. The Sophomore Senators are Fred Clark, Tracy Cusack, John Lang, Cris Lizotte, Jackie Pirone, and Scott Porter. Don't forget Freshman, your class elections are only six weeks away. These names may not mean very much to a lot of you right now, but make a point to get to know all of us throughout the coming year so we can work efficiently for all of you.

The Senate is working on a number of programs that we will all be hearing more about in the weeks to come. To mention a few, The Upper Class Buddy program, The Alternative Program, Parents Weekend (which is October 17, 18, & 19), Senate Information Days, and more. All these committees are recruiting interested people to help out. If you have any interest and want to learn more about how the Senate is run, just drop by. We are located right off the Rotunda and our meetings are Wednesday afternoons at 3:30. We all look forward to meeting you. Good luck to all in the year ahead.

U.C.B. Program Starts

Welcome all Bryantonians!

For those of you who have forgotten about the Upper Class Buddy Program or are not familiar with the system, let us enlighten you.

The Student Senate, for the second consecutive year, is initiating this program for the benefit of the freshmen and transfer students (both commuter and resident) who are unfamiliar with the Bryant College way of life.

Over 700 upperclassmen have volunteered to be Upper Class Buddies to our newest members of the Bryant Community. These upperclassmen have volunteered because they want to make all newcomers feel comfortable welcome, and familiar with Bryant as possible.

All new students should have received the identity of their 'U.C.B.' in the mail. We are in the process of contacting all upperclassmen who signed up to be a U.C.B., to inform them of the identity and whereabouts of their new buddy.

Due to the increase in number of incoming freshmen and transfer students a few upperclassmen have the privilege of being assigned two buddies! If you do not know the identity of your buddy, or have any questions about the program, please stop by the Senate Office and we will supply you with any information you need.

Over 1700 Bryantonians (freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors—both commuters and residents) are involved in this program. So don't let your buddy down, contact him/her as soon as possible!

An Upper Class Buddy is an upperclassman who would like to...

- *Be your friend
- *Help you with your schedule
- *Invite you to parties and other social events
- *Introduce you to other upperclassmen
- *Familiarize you with the Bryant Campus
- *Tell you things you should know about college living that aren't listed in the school catalogue.
- *Eliminate the overwhelming feeling of loneliness and isolation many freshmen experience during their first year at college

Attention All Students:

Would you like to see your name in your hometown newspaper?

The Public Information Office needs your assistance to help them keep their student records current.

Students are asked to stop by the Public Information Office and spend five minutes filling out a Bryant College News Bureau Student Information Card.

The information required includes your name, address, hometown newspaper(s), mother and father's name, college activities, etc.

Students who have already filled one out, are asked to stop by and up-date their cards.

Your cooperation would be greatly appreciated. Please stop by during the first week of classes. Remember, the folks back home want to read about you!

INVOLVEMENT—what is it?

College life is more than studying. It's a learning process that goes on long after classes have ended for the day. An essential part of this learning process is getting involved.

Involvement yields rewards that very often cannot be expressed easily, even by people (like those on the staff) who can use words with relative ease. It can be frustrating and tiring, but the intangibles are what keeps any organization at this college going.

At The Archway Involvement isn't a mere word. It is a guiding force that transforms 12 blank sheets of white pasteboard into a complete newspaper in less than three days, something that turns a blank sheet of paper, a few henscratched notes, and a little inspiration into a cohesive news article. And Involvement is the force, that keeps the staff here week after week, regardless of exams, fatigue, or chaos.

The Archway staff is composed of people who make the newspaper a full-time occupation, and others who contribute a great deal less time and effort. All of them are dedicated and considered important to the organization, regardless of the size of their personal contribution.

The Archway does not want to take over your entire life here at Bryant, we just want to give your life something that can't be had in the classroom or the dormitories—a sense of truly making a contribution to the Bryant College Community.

Check our openings to the side, and if one (or more) of them interest you, please come to one of our organizational meetings or come into our office and get involved—it's an experience that's gratifying and edifying.

Organizational Meetings:

Monday, Sept. 8
Wednesday, Sept. 10

Time: 3:30 p.m.
Place: Room 360

Our doors are always open to people and what they have to offer. If you can't make the meetings, stop in our conveniently located office.

The Archway's HELP WANTED SECTION

WRITERS—No experience necessary. All departments: News, Features, and Sports. Some knowledge of the English Language is desirable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS—photographic interest is all that is needed to become a photographer for The Archway. We supply cameras (not to keep) and film. Learn darkroom technique in our own smelly darkroom. Experience not necessary, we will train.

TYPISTS—Ideal positions for secretarial and education majors. Apply your typewriting skills on our amazing, computerized Comp/Set. If you can type, you can type-set. Hours flexible, preferably Wednesdays and Thursdays.

PRODUCTION PEOPLE—Learn the valuable skill of paste-up and layout. No experience necessary, we will teach you everything you need to know. Great for night people. (Thursday production sessions can and do run into Friday)

CIRCULATION MANAGER—This position involves running the completed paper to Bellingham, MA to be printed. Must have car and be willing to get up early. Mileage reimbursement for use of car.

ADVERTISING DESIGN AND SALES PEOPLE—For marketing majors who would like practical experience in their field, we offer positions selling and laying out ads for commission. Of course one doesn't HAVE to be a marketing major, and no experience is ever necessary.

BUSINESS STAFF—Learn the intricacies of the Bryant College budgeting system. Growth position to Business Manager.

NEWS EDITOR—We are looking for an experienced person who will head the News Department at The Archway. Duties include assigning and writing stories, copy editing, and personnel management. Enthusiasm and dedication is a must.
