

President Jacobs Announces Appointments Of Seven New Members of the Faculty

By Fred Ricci

The students and faculty of Bryant College wish to welcome the new members of the Bryant faculty and hope that their stay here will be an enjoyable one.

Dr. Charles Hoover Russell has been appointed as Assistant to our President, Dr. E. Gardner Jacobs. Born in France of American parents, Dr. Russell was educated in Europe until the age of twelve. He graduated from the Kent School in Kent, Connecticut. Dr. Russell received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Dartmouth College and earned his master's and doctor's degrees at Teachers College, Columbia University. During 1944-45 Dr. Russell served the United States Army in Europe as aerial gunner in the Air Corps. In 1951 Dr. Russell took a teaching appointment in the Social Relations Department in the Junior College of Boston University. In 1955 he joined the staff of Teachers College, Columbia University, where he became Supervisor of Student Teachers in the Social Studies Department. Later he lectured on higher education in the same institution. In 1957 he was appointed assistant to Earl J. McGrath at the Institute of Higher Education. Dr. Russell is the author of "Liberal Education and Nursing." He is also joint author along with Dr. McGrath of "Are Liberal Arts Colleges Becoming Professional Schools?" and collaborated on "The Team Approach in the Junior College." He has contributed many articles including "Liberal Education and the Law," "Liberal Education and Dentistry," and others, to journals of higher education and to professional publications. He has lectured widely on higher education. Some of these lectures have been published, notably, "Issues and Problems in Education for Nursing," and "The Institute of Higher Education Research Program." Before coming to Bryant Dr. Russell was Associate in Higher Education of the New York State Education Department.

Dr. Sol Lebovitz is Bryant's new Assistant Professor of History and Political Science. Dr. Lebovitz was born in Brockton, Massachusetts. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Journalism at Boston University and later received his Master's Degree in Government and Ph.D. Degree in Political Science from Harvard, writing his doctoral thesis on German Political Activities. Dr. Lebovitz as a soldier also took the A.S.T.P. Advanced German Language and Area course at Grinnell. He has taught at two other colleges. During World War II, he was Deputy Director of Education for the German State of Baden. He has been a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences and other learned bodies.

Dr. Franklin F. Batdorf is a native of Missouri. He received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees at the University of Missouri and completed his doctoral studies at Cornell. Dr. Batdorf has taught at various public and private colleges throughout the United States. He has also published many articles on 18th century authors, especially the 18th century poet George Crabbe. Dr. Batdorf will be serving Bryant as full Professor in the English Department.

Dr. George Kehoe McCabe was born in Chicago, Illinois. He attended Yale where he received his undergraduate degree and did graduate studies at Cornell. He earned his doctorate degree in Economics at Yale University. Dr. McCabe has taught at several well-known state and private colleges throughout the United States. He also served in the Merchant Marine for four years. Dr. McCabe will assume the position of Associate Professor of Economics at Bryant College.

Mr. Harry Edward Lancaster, of Lincoln, Rhode Island will join the faculty as an Instructor of shorthand and Typewriting. Mr. Lancaster received his Bachelor's Degree in Business Education at the University of Rhode Island and is presently doing graduate work at the same university. He is an accountant at Display Services, Inc., in Pawtucket, Rhode Island. In May, 1961, he was appointed Director of Adult Education for the Town of Groton, Connecticut and has taught in that town for four years. He has served in the Connecticut Business Teachers Association.

Mr. Samuel H. Ramsay, Jr., will be an Instructor of Law here at Bryant. Mr. Ramsay is a graduate of St. George's in Newport. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Trinity College and earned his Law degree from the Boston University School of Law. In 1959 Mr. Ramsay was admitted to the Rhode Island Bar and is presently a practicing attorney. Mr. Ramsay conducted classes in military subjects during his time of service in the United States Army. He has also taught business law at Johnson and Wales School of Business.

Mr. Natale Candelmo is a native of Bristol, Rhode Island. He will return to Bryant College as Assistant Professor of Secretarial Studies. Mr. Candelmo was graduated from Bryant College (summa cum laude) with a Bachelor's Degree in Business Education. He received his Master's Degree in Education from Rhode Island College. Mr. Candelmo serves as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Teachers Retirement Fund and is also a member of the Welfare Committee, Rhode Island Education Association. Mr. Candelmo taught at Bryant College from 1951 through 1954, leaving to become a member of the Bristol High School faculty. Mr. Candelmo is presently a training officer with the rank of captain for the 9275 Air Force Reserve Squadron, Providence, Rhode Island.

Bryant Blood Drive Planned Members of The Bryant College Family Are Asked To Contribute

The annual Blood Drive will be held on Tuesday, October 16, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in Gardner Hall's Study Room near the Dispensary. Bryant College maintains a Blood Bank which was started in 1955. Since that time approximately 75 pints of blood per year have been used by members of the Bryant College Family.

As of October 1, we have no blood left on deposit and cannot respond to your calls of need until the supply is replenished through this Blood Drive appeal. All students and their immediate family can draw upon this supply in time of need. Members of the faculty, secretaries, staff members, maintenance crews, refectory personnel are also covered. Everyone is, therefore, responsible for replenishing the supply on deposit in the Bryant College Blood Bank which is maintained for us at the Rhode Island Hospital.

One hour of your time and the donation of a pint of blood could save a life—it could be your own. Serious automobile accidents with victims who require hospitalization and blood donors are NOT UNCOMMON.

If you care to contribute, please observe the following instructions:
(1) Students pick up donor cards through the Records Office, Activities Office, Dispensary, or Switchboard in the Administration Building.
(2) Fill out card (have parents sign consent if under 21 years of age).

(3) Return card to the Activities Office or to box in the Bookstore by Thursday, October 11.

(4) An appointment will be made for you through the Activities Office.

IMPORTANT

Observe the Following Rules

No Alcohol for 12 hours before donating

No Cream, milk, butterfat for 4 hours before donating

Yes You may have black coffee, juice, dry toast, and jelly

Fruit juices, coffee and doughnuts will be served afterwards at Gardner Hall.

ILLNESS: You MAY NOT donate if—

You have had an operation within the past year.

You have a cold or an allergy at the time of donating.

You have had jaundice at ANY time in your life.

IF YOU ARE NOT SURE OF YOUR ELIGIBILITY, COME ANYWAY. YOU WILL BE PROPERLY ADVISED.

Call Mrs. Sadye Luft, R.N., or Mrs. Ruth Logan, R.N., at the Bryant College Dispensary at PL 1-0490 if you have any questions.

Students who donate blood will be excused from class for the period they miss plus one hour afterwards.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED!!!

NOTICE FROM THE DEANS

October 5th will be the last day when students may drop courses and not have them count as failures on student records. This ruling applies to both the R.A. and Secretarial divisions.

KDK'S "Calypso Carnival" Comes to Campus

By Kathy O'Hara

It will happen to you Thursday evening, Oct. 11, 1962, when you attend "Calypso Carnival" in the Bryant gymnasium. It will happen to you as you mix in, greet old friends, and meet new ones. A change will suddenly come over you, and you will find yourself relaxed as you enter into the beat and sway of the music that is being played by the Calypso Islanders. These musicians from the Virgin Islands will enchant you not only with their haunting calypso melodies, but also with their fine arrangements of all the popular and standard tunes to which you like to dance.

For those of you who attended Winter Weekend, you will remember this group; for those of you who did not attend, you will not forget this group once you have heard it.

Time will pass quickly, but not too quickly as you will find that your surfboard has been extended for this memorable eve of the Columbus Day Weekend. Come casually dressed, ready for fun, in whatever you feel is comfortable.

We know that you'll be there to share in the spirit of "Calypso Carnival." Come, so you will be able to say that you were there when KDK's "Calypso Carnival" came to campus.

Bryant Starts Its 100th Year With 659 Freshmen

By Joseph E. Amaral and Ray Antrop

On September 10, Bryant College once again opened its doors to welcome both its returning upperclass students (about 930) and 659 Freshmen embarking upon their college careers. Some 554 dormitory students had arrived officially the day before. This year's opening was especially significant in that it marked the beginning of Bryant's Centennial Year, during which a special program of convocations and other events, is planned.

This year's Freshman Class represents all the New England States, as well as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Nevada, and Louisiana. Four foreign countries, including Nigeria, Liberia, Australia, and Jamaica are also represented.

Registration day was noted for its hectic confusion and exhilaration, as usual, for the Freshmen, and the acquaintance of the experienced upperclassmen with college life after a summer of brief respite from scholastic tests, homework, and research papers. The common occurrence of the day, apart from those already mentioned, was the seemingly endless search for an available parking space in the college vicinity.

After registration, the Freshman bought the necessary supplies and books and informally toured the campus.

The remainder of Monday and Tuesday were used for the taking of various types of tests by the Freshmen. This portion of the Freshman Orientation Program told the college something about the Freshman's aptitude, I.Q., and other characteristics.

(Including some midnight oil?) On Tuesday evening (September 11), student officers of the various campus organizations spoke to the Freshmen to familiarize them with the various extracurricular activities available.

On Wednesday, the first day of classes began, and members of the Vigilante Committee of the Student Senate aided Freshmen in finding their classrooms while also checking to make sure the Freshmen wore the traditional boonie. Informal singfests were also staged as the Freshmen were tested with regard to their knowledge of the College song.

Overall, the first week went by rather smoothly, and now it is just a matter of passing the various courses.

Students Urged To Visit Chesmobile

By Betty Ann Coray

FLASH!!!!

Here is your opportunity. On September 27 and 28 of this week, Bryant will be visited by a chestmobile. All students are urged to receive a chest X-ray. The chestmobile will be parked in front of Gardner Hall on these two days. During your free period, make it a point to visit the chestmobile especially if you have not had a chest X-ray this year.

"I'm Sorry 'But We Don't Give Green Stamps!"

Mrs. Mary Hartman and Mrs. Helen McAnulliff assist freshmen as they purchased their books. The temporary bookstore was set up for the convenience of the students downstairs in Jacobs Hall.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN

"A Warm Welcome Is Extended to You . . ."

Bill Word, President of the Student Senate, is shown addressing the freshmen at their orientation program. At the assembly, the freshmen heard speeches of welcome from representatives of the various departments and organizations of the College.

The New Bryant College Seal

The advent of Bryant College's 100th Anniversary caused the members of the Administration to re-examine the College seal. Our old seal had symbols which no one could explain. The reasons behind these symbols had disappeared in the mists of time and it seemed to bear little relation to our present institution. The Latin quotation, "Experientia Docet" (Experience Teaches) did not seem to have much relevance either.

At this point the College Informational Office was called upon to design a new seal which would incorporate the Centennial Annoucement. An experienced artist, who specializes in the designing of seals, was engaged to submit several pieces of art in keeping with our special demands for representation of all areas of our College life. We specifically wanted to have our three schools, our faculty, and our alumni symbolized, and a new Latin quotation that was related more closely to our educational aims. We feel that this new seal symbolizes all that we are and hope to be.

The Globe, as drawn on this seal, symbolizes the ancient trade lanes and the world-wide significance of business enterprise. This is the symbol of commerce which was first used in Sixteenth Century England, where the great trading and banking houses adopted the symbol of the globe to show their far-flung interests. Hence this globe represents our Business Administration Department.

The Quills symbolize communications. Here they stand for our Secretarial Science Department, for writing, and all the correspondence involved in business enterprise. Long a favorite symbol for scholarship and writing, these quills denote the high standards of business communications maintained by our Secretarial School.

The Torch of ancient Greek origin was, as you know, used at their festivals where runners would pass a torch one to another in relays. Its symbolic meaning is that truth and knowledge are passed forward to succeeding generations. Hence we selected this symbol to illustrate our Business Teacher-Education Course.

We were deeply concerned with alumni representation. A quick poll of graduates was taken to determine which symbol of their alma mater was most remembered. "The Archway," they all answered. This was the landmark under which they passed so many times each day and which came to be the name of the College newspaper. Hence, we incorporated The Archway as a tribute to our alumni who, through their achievements, bring fame and recognition to their College.

As you see, all of these design elements are arranged on a Tablet or Shield to represent the Faculty. Hence these tablets stand for the members of the Bryant College Faculty upon whose shoulders rests our reputation for academic excellence.

The ribbon upon which our 100th Anniversary is emblazoned will be used throughout the year 1963—to celebrate the College's Centennial Celebration.

When the design was completed, we began the serious consideration of a new Latin quotation. For many years, we have used "Education for Business Leadership," as our motto. We decided that this is what we would like to say properly and in the best Latin phrase. Our Admissions Dean presented the problem to a clergyman-friend, a Latin scholar of repute who has won many prizes for his translations and complete original works in this ancient language. All were pleased at his excellent choice of Latin vocabulary . . . and here it is, "EDUCANDO DIRIGERE MERCATURAM". . . Education for Business Leadership. Those of you who are Latinists will recognize the masterly selection of words. They are both meaningful and accurate in translating the spirit and the letter of our educational goal.

Altogether the new seal is very pleasing in its design and meaningful in its concepts. It is historically accurate, academically correct, and harmoniously designed.

A Bouquet to the House Presidents

The atmosphere on Bryant's campus seems to have reached a new high this September. The credit, in a large measure, goes to the wonderful work done by the House Presidents in assisting the House-mothers in the welcoming and settling of the incoming Freshmen.

The new students had an opportunity to meet the president of their dormitories on a pleasant footing, their parents were impressed by the capable and friendly manner in which they were welcomed, and a much smoother day for all was the result.

Dean Casironovo is gratified that the House Presidents unanimously requested that hazing and initiation as practiced in past years be dropped. They wished to use the "Big-Sister-and-Little-Sister" approach. Scuttling was to be limited to one week and would consist of services consistent with the new approach.

It is small wonder that this type of leadership has resulted in the Freshmen's response to Dr. Jacobs' invitation to say "Hello" with such enthusiasm! Keep up the fine work you are doing, Madames Presidents!!

Here We Go Again!!!

By Sallie Lashe

Black and orange beanies, vigilante badges, and forlorn looking freshmen are once again a familiar sight as Bryant College starts another year.

This year, as in years past, the Student Senate has done a terrific job of organizing the freshman orientation program. The objective is, of course, to help those who are new here to become familiar with the campus and meet their fellow classmates, although the freshmen may wonder at times.

The first two hectic days were filled with tests, assemblies, and confusion. For the dorm students, getting to know their dormmates was a major activity. While the dorm students strolled from their respective abodes, the poor commuters had to figure out how to park their cars in a two-hour zone for three hours.

The Student Senate with the capable help of the members of the Greek Letter Council successfully planned a picnic and dance for the freshmen.

Over 100 freshmen scrambled on to his three buses which were to take them out to Diamond Hill Park and an afternoon of fun and friendship. In order to keep a close eye on the freshmen each bus had its complement of vigilantes. When they arrived at the park they were met by some of their classmates and more members of the vigilante committee who had arrived by car.

The spectacular playing of the women's and men's vigilante soft ball teams leading to victories for both teams will be remembered for a long time by those who watched the games as well as by those who participated. Feeding the ducks on the pond, climbing Diamond Hill, and singing with guitar accompaniment are other activities that will become fond memories to those who participated.

As on any outing there was plenty of good food consisting of hamburgers, hot dogs, potato salad, coffee, and all the appropriate extras.

The afternoon of fun and frolic came to an end around five o'clock as everyone headed home to get ready for the welcoming dance to be held that evening.

The Bryant College gym was the scene of the continuation of the spirit of merriment that had been stirred up during the afternoon. Two huge beanie replicas decorated the walls and a welcoming sign was on the stage. Everyone had a good time dancing to music provided by the Tommy Masso Band. The band did a fabulous job of accompanying the freshmen as they sang (?) a stirring rendition of our Alma Mater.

The Liberation Dance held at the end of the orientation period will climax a series of activities planned in the spirit of fun to make the freshmen feel that they are a part of the Bryant family of students who work and relax together.

Vigilante Welcome

By Margo Drotter

Once again colleges everywhere are opening their doors to a new class of Freshmen. All these Freshmen feel a little lost, a little excited, and a little doubtful as to what lies ahead. But, little do they realize that these are to be the best years of their lives.

Here at Bryant we try to orient our Freshmen to the traditions of the Campus through the help of the Student Senate and Greek Letter Council. The Senate is the representative body of you the student. The Senators present your problems and suggestions to the Administration. The Senators are the presidents of all organizations on campus. The G.L.C. are the presidents of all the fraternities and societies. All these officers make up the Vigilante committee—the bane of Freshmen existence on campus for the first two weeks.

What have the Vigilantes been up to? Well, they started off by giving out the Freshmen beanies and buttons and trying to keep the Freshmen off Senior Walk. They presented a welcoming assembly to the Freshmen with the Administration. And we must not forget they were victors at the Fresh-V. C. baseball game at Diamond Hill State Park on Saturday. The girls won 29-5 after only four innings of play and the boys won 5-1 after playing 5 innings. Because the Freshmen lost, they'll have to wear their beanies until the Liberation Dance on September 29.

Once again, the Vigilantes would like to offer to all the Freshmen a sincere WELCOME TO BRYANT COLLEGE.

New President of Providence Chapter of Alumni Ass'n at RISD Installed on Sept. 21

Robert W. Hathaway, former auditorium manager and technical director for drama at Rhode Island School of Design, was installed as president of the Providence Chapter of the Rhode Island School of Design alumni association at a brief ceremony held on Sept. 21 at the college prior to the annual meeting of the association.

Mr. Hathaway, present director of student activities at Bryant College, is a 1931 graduate of RISD. He served on the executive committee of the RISD alumni association from 1935-38. He was elected vice president of the association the following year, and he became president during 1939-40. Last year he was appointed a member of the steering committee for the reorganization of the Providence chapter.

Yanks and Dodgers Favorites

National Pastime Draws Toward Finale

By Jerome Langton

As the foliage begins to change, time begins to get short for four teams, namely, the New York Yankees and the Minnesota Twins of the American League, and the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants of the National loop. As of this writing these four continue to vie for the two spots available in the fall classic, the World Series.

The Yanks and Dodgers, of course, have to be installed as favorites, but the Giants and Twins still have slim chances of seking it out.

From its very outset it has been a season of considerable interest on many fronts. True, balls weren't belted out of sight with the frequency of a year ago, but other superlatives have more than compensated.

The top attraction this year, of course, in addition to the flag races themselves, has been the ludicrous tendencies of one Maury Wills. The slim, fleet footed Dodger has installed himself as the all-time great in National League base swiping and at this writing is pressing hard at the shore of becoming the all-time leader in his profession in both leagues.

However, Wills' "dash" to fame has been far from the only attractive side show under the big top this year. The colorful Casey Stengel was back on the scene again and while the old master is not winning any pennants, he continues to be mixed up in colorful proceedings by leading an aggregation of cast-offs to a nearly record number of losses, and in New York too, a city that stands for nothing worse than first in anything.

Of further interest is the unexpected run at the pennant made by the infant L. A. Angels. A club in only its second year of existence, the Angels have traded, gambled, and hustled their way to what appears to be a third-place finish and at times made threatening gestures as if to take it all. From the Los Angeles story can be read the entire story of the American League. It's been a long time, if ever, that the entire league has been launched this tightly at this stage of the campaign. With a scant ten games to go, the eighth place club, Boston, was but a scant sixteen and a half games off the top. Remarkable! It was not too many years ago that the Red Sox used to finish fourth and be between twenty and thirty games away at the close.

Jim Piersall continues to carry on in his showmanlike manner, his latest stunt being his getting clobbered in the squash by a revolving door in a Baltimore hotel, an episode that delayed slightly his trial for assault on a Baltimore fan in the stands at Memorial Stadium. At the latest tally, a Baltimore judge evidently felt that Piersall's attack had some warrant and let Jim off the hook.

Stan, the Man, has had another banner year and will probably be back in a Cardinal uniform again next season. Let's hope so.

Thus, the 1962 season draws to a close, and within a week or so everything in the country for a lot of us will become second fiddle for a few days while we watch the two pennant winners battle it out in the biggest playoff of them all. If the season just past in any indication of what we can expect, it ought to be a good one.

Peace Corps Needs Athletes

The Peace Corps is looking for boxers, wrestlers, and judo experts.

It also wants swimmers, basketball players and track and field athletes.

In all, the Peace Corps is seeking about 50 athletes, both men and women who have participated in college sports, for projects in Morocco, Senegal and the Ivory Coast.

The athletes, who need not be college graduates, have been invited by newly independent African nations to coach and assist in the

Here and There

Bryant College Evening Division Classes Begin Monday, September 24.

More than fifty practical business courses are offered in Accounting and Mathematics, Business English, Economics, Geography, Insurance, Business Law, Business Management, Marketing, Psychology, Sales, Science, Social Science and Transportation. New courses include one on the "New England Economy" and another on the "Writing of Technical Reports." Registrations will be accepted all week. Students could register Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday nights from 6:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in South Hall, 1 Young Orchard Avenue, corner of Hope Street.

Bryant Professor Appointed Columnist for National Business Education Magazine.

Priscilla M. Moulton, Supervisor of Secretarial Studies, makes her debut in the current (September) issue of the Business Education World, a McGraw-Hill publication. Her first column has for its subject, "Your 1962-63 Shorthand Teaching Profile." Miss Moulton also has an article entitled, "Let's Integrate English with Shorthand and Typing," in this same issue.

Refresher Courses for the Certified Professional Secretary Examination Began Tuesday Evening, September 25.

Students could register for each ten-week session or for the complete thirty-week program. This is the last week to register for the first session. Classes take place on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 8:50 p.m.

Training of regional and national teams.

The African governments are keenly interested in sponsoring and fostering the tremendous interest in sports in their countries.

Government officials look upon this interest as a way of using the common bond of widespread sports interest to unify peoples accustomed to living in decentralized and tribal nations and to identify them strongly as participants in the single endeavor of building nations. Additionally, they feel that sports can be one of the most effective

Marketing Club On The Move

By Stephen A. Kahn

The Bryant College Chapter of the American Marketing Association, which is under the guidance of Professors G. W. Bates and J. P. McKillop, is holding its first meeting of the year on September 24. It has been noted by a great many of the upper-class members that the freshmen are more interested in joining the organization than has been the case in past years.

The reason for this rise in interest is the new and dynamic program which the association has instituted.

The organization provides the student with a practical and enjoyable supplement to his classroom study of marketing and management. This is now being done through the use of committee participation and group projects. The student is able to keep up with the latest developments in marketing through talks by guest speakers and highly interesting films.

The member also sees first hand, the operation of big business through field trips sponsored by the Marketing Association. By meeting and talking with men and women high in their professional fields the member gains the poise and personality which is so important in the business world today.

The American Marketing Association, which is a national organization, aids the student member in obtaining a job after graduation. This is done through the use of large and highly effective placement services.

The first meeting which will be held in the study room of Jacobs Hall at 8:30 P.M. September 24, is primarily to meet the organization's advisers and officers. A short film will be seen and refreshments will be served. All students are welcome to attend this important meeting.

The American Cup Race

By Art Nielsen

On September 15, 1962, the starter's gun fired to send the Weatherly and Gretel across the starting line in defense of America's Cup. Weatherly, the United States' 12 meter yacht, won by a comfortable margin over Australia's challenger Gretel. The American sloop crossed the starting line first, under the helm of Emil (Bus) Moshbacher, Jr., and stayed in front for the entire race. The team that wins the best four out of seven races will take home the Gold Cup.

It will be the 18th time in 92 years that a challenger has tried to carry home the trophy won by the schooner America under the eyes of Queen Victoria. Americans have shown their sportsmanship in helping the Gretel every way possible. From her epoxy-paint bottom, to the aluminum extrusion that forms the towering mast, Gretel is indebted to her host country. The winches, rigging wire, many fittings, and even the sails have been made available to her by the United States.

During the summer, trials were held off Newport to name a defender of the America's Cup. The races were over before many thought they had really begun. The majority of onlookers who had followed the races, first with Columbia and Eastener and finally with Nefertiti, agreed that Weatherly was the best American boat because of the expert handling of Moshbacher.

Weatherly had demonstrated herself without peer in light and moderate breezes, but some wondered how she would handle in winds up to 20 knots. The next day she defeated the Columbia and Nefertiti in very heavy seas and was then favored to go out and beat Gretel when they were to race in the middle of September.

To the casual onlooker Gretel is a shapely vessel, nicely proportioned, without any freakish characteristics. Designer Alan Payne accorded Naval Architect Bill Luder the unusual privilege of examining and comparing the blue printed lines from which Gretel was built.

Moshbacher has said, "What I demand most in a member of my crew is thought, the ability to think of what he is going to do next. I want a good swimmer, but he also has to be intelligent, a nice person who will give no back water, temperament, or excitability." Racing of this sort involves teamwork and an awful lot of stamina. One has to know where he is supposed to be every second he's on the deck of the boat. It takes practice and patience to have the honorary job of racing for the Gold Cup.

While meteorological records do not indicate appreciably stronger average winds in mid-September than in mid-summer, for a few days anything could happen. This is the season of the equinox, but already the fresh chill gradient winds of autumn have tinted the trees of Newport. With calm breezes you can expect Weatherly in a walk. When there are days of heavy winds and rough seas there just might develop drama to attract all eyes to the Rhode Island Sound to watch the Cup Races.

Both yachts are in tip-top condition and their crews are almost even. With good breaks and all the experience Moshbacher's crew has, the Weatherly is a good yacht to place your money on.

Applications immediately and notify their references to respond to questions as soon as they are contacted.

Sheila McCabe

National Swim Champ Is Bryant Frosh

By Ellen Kindstedt

Sheila McCabe is one of the many freshmen this year at Bryant. Perhaps you recognize the name. A resident of Warwick, Rhode Island, she brings with her an outstanding record of accomplishments in the sport of swimming.

At the age of twelve Sheila began her swimming career. After six months' training she entered and won the R. I. State Title for the 400 yd. Free Style championship. This was only the beginning. Since that time Sheila has been recognized nationwide for her outstanding record in swimming. At the age of sixteen Sheila won the National Championship at Lake Placid, New York, and broke the American record for the National Long Distance Swimming Meet, in which leading swimmers from all over the country competed. Not long after that she won third place in the Nelson Rockefeller Nationwide five-mile swim meet held in New York.

At the age of eighteen Sheila was again successful. She won the Rhode Island State 1500 Meter Free Style Championship. During this race she broke seven New England records, some of which had been held for twenty years. Sheila has been considered by coaches and others in the field all over the country as Olympic material. Presently she is concerned with her education here at Bryant but still participates in sports.

New Athletic Field Ready by Spring

By Barry Siegal

Why isn't there any intramural football this year? Well, as many know by now, Bryant has purchased a new athletic field.

The new field is located one-third of a mile closer to the campus than was the old one. The entrance is on Gano Street. A new field house is being constructed which will be located in East George Street, behind the new apartment house on Pitman Street. The new field house will be much larger than the old one and will be completed by November 30. With the field house being larger and closer there will be facilities to hold meetings there.

The old athletic field has some 40,000 sq. ft., but the new one will have 130,000 sq. ft., and will be in use this coming spring.

Do you recognize the familiar face of the man in white? It is Louie Ferretti, the jovial head chef of Bryant College. The man standing at his left is (Smoky) Cerrone, President of Harris Auto Sales, and the man standing on his right is none other than Donald O'Connor.

This summer, Louie was chef at the Skyroom Restaurant at the State Airport. While there, he had the honor of entertaining various celebrities who appeared at The Warwick Musical Theater this past season. There were such celebrities as Catherine Grason, Steve Lawrence, Gezelle McKenzie, Gordon and Sheila McCray, John Ray, Libbi Staiger, and Nat "King" Cole. In this photograph, he is being presented by Mr. O'Connor a trophy for THE WORLD'S BEST CHEF.

Lively Season Planned by Delta Omega

By Elias Fatta

The Delta Omega Professional Society was formed for the purpose of conducting and promoting the study of business and furthering interests in general business topics.

Officers elected for 1962-1963 are as follows: President, Thomas Little; Vice-President, Kaj Petersen; Secretary, Richard McKee; Treasurer, Joseph Lagarto; Assistant Treasurer, Jack Shalevitch; and Publicity Director, Elias Fatta. The governing body of Delta Omega consists also of a Board of Directors elected each semester from and by the general membership. Advisors to Delta Omega include the following: Dr. E. Gardner Jacobs; Professors George Richards, John McCabe, and George Bates.

Membership is open to any student who has a good scholastic standing (a cumulative average or past-semester average of 2.0 which ever is higher) in the Business Administration School and who is in his second semester or beyond.

There will be three dinner-speaker meetings during the semester. Delta Omega's speakers talk on all phases of the business world. These speakers are businessmen whose talks are on current business trends, problems, and managerial procedures, which are of interest to any person engaged in the study of business.

Returning members of Delta Omega are looking forward to a very successful semester. Students are urged to join this Society if they are not members already.

B. I. B. Starts Planning for May Queen

Attention, Freshmen!! The Brothers of Beta Iota Beta would like to welcome you to the Bryant College campus and express to you their best wishes for both a rewarding and enlightening stay.

It is our pleasure to announce to you that B. I. B. has started planning for this year's May Queen. For those of you who don't know what May Queen is, this is one of the largest pageants to be held during the college year. It is a week of fun which includes the following:

- a parade
- raffles
- three judgments

The week is climaxed by the crowning of the queen at The May Queen Ball. We of B. I. B. have always taken a great deal of pride in the organization and originality of the May Queen Pageant. This year it looks as if May Queen will be better than ever.

Another thing to look forward to is the B. I. B. Smoker, which will be held sometime in the near future. All men who are interested in becoming brothers will be welcome to attend.

BCA Opens Fall Activities

By Ann Louise Weimer

The Bryant Christian Association held its Open House and sign-up meeting Tuesday evening, September 18, at the Central Baptist Church. There was an informal meeting plus bowling, pool, ping pong, and good conversation. An enjoyable time was had by both old members and new members.

During the informal discussion Mr. Cedegren, BCA's advisor, told the new students of the various churches in the area. President Gordon Cochran introduced the af-

Hawaiian Luau Given in Gym by Chi Gamma Iota

By Dick Bartels

The Chi Gamma Iota fraternity commenced the social season at Bryant with a special Hawaiian Luau dance, held in the school auditorium on Saturday, September twenty-first. The sisters of Phi Upsilon joined with the brothers in transforming the gym into an authentic replica of a scene from our newest state. A festival spirit prevailed and the brothers of Chi Gamma wish to thank the entire student body for making the dance such a successful affair.

Doings of Phi Sigma Nu

By Duke and Digger

The first G.L.C. party of the semester was sponsored by PSN and was held at the Geneva Sportsmen's Club on September 15. For many of the Freshmen it was the first taste of college life. The turnout was larger than expected, but the brothers saw to it that everyone enjoyed himself.

At the first meeting Monday, President Attainese congratulated the Brothers for copping the softball crown last semester.

Plans for AOX's stunt night are being secretly concocted by Brothers Rozell and Barber, co-chairmen of the committee. They say it will be a howling success.

Hennessy Presides at Kappa Tau Meeting

By James Tarantino

The brothers of Kappa Tau would like to take this opportunity to welcome the new Freshman class to Bryant College.

Kappa Tau held its first meeting of the semester on September 18, with Jack Hennessy presiding. The officers elected for the year are Jack Hennessy, President; Bill Hoffman, 1st Vice President; Steve Horvitz, 2nd Vice President; Bruce Griffith, Treasurer; Karl Kery, Secretary; Fred Edelstein, Pledge-master; Steve Richmond, Chaplain; Jimmy Tarantino, Historian; Chuck Wood, Athletic Director; and Phil Wylie, Alumni Secretary.

Because of the heavy schedule of social activities this semester, the fraternity has been unable to hold any functions thus far but does have something planned for the immediate future.

The twenty-seven brothers of Kappa Tau welcome any questions freshmen may have about the fraternity or the school.

Preliminary Announcement For Class Elections

By Fred Rice

Any Freshman who wishes to become a candidate for a class office must first secure nomination papers from Robert McLaughlin, Pro-tem President of the Freshmen class.

Watch the next issue of the Archway for further information concerning class elections.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN!

The brothers of AOX want to wish you "good luck" in your studies and hope you make good use of the blotter given you with the compliments of the frat.

The Frat Raffle for the benefit of the Mt. Pleasant Children's Home is sure to be a success, thanks to the co-operation of the faculty and student body. The winners of the T.V. movie outfit and hat should be very happy, and the winner of the 3rd prize $1.

One of the big school functions, AOX's "Campus Follies" (stunt night), will be held October 6. The frats and sororities will be competing for the big, beautiful trophies offered by AOX. The brothers, led by Chairman Skip Terceira, will be out to make this year's follies an even bigger success than last year's.

Quickies but Goodies . . . Tony's taking George's place as "Big Daddy" of the frat . . . Pete's looking for spiritual assistance . . . The V.C. brothers (Rich, Fred, & Skip) are making a lot of friends among the frosh . . . Jerry and Fitz are enjoying "the movies" without a T.V. guide . . . Serp is warming up for the pledges . . . Good luck, Ray, buddy!

KAPPA DELTA KAPPA REPORTS

By Kathy O'Hara

Hi Everybody!

The sisters of KDK would like to welcome all the freshmen and also the returning students to Bryant's campus. We would like to say that we sincerely hope that everyone of you has a very profitable year, not only in your studies but also in your extra-curricular activities.

This past Saturday, Sept. 15, while quite a few of you, I am sure, were cheering at the Vigilante's Game, the members of KDK attended the wedding of last year's pledge mistress, Jackie Tier. Many of the sisters were reunited at the wedding ceremony and the happy reception which took place afterward. Jackie, who was Tau Epsilon's candidate for Miss Bryant last year, looked radiant in her chapel length gown and French illusion veil. We extend warmest wishes for the happiness at Jackie and Al Sanford.

Right now we are busily discussing plans for basketball and bowling which we will announce in the near future as soon as they are definite.

Don't fail to read the article on our dance, "Calypso Carnival." Remember that we will be looking forward to seeing you at our dance. So long for now . . .

Girls!! You Are Needed!!

Do you like to sing?

Would you like to meet some new people? Make some new friends?

Would you like to be with a group of students who enjoy singing?

If you answer "yes" to all these questions, you are eligible to join the Bryant Choir.

Rehearsals are every Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. in Jacobs Hall Study Room.

SEE YOU THERE!

SIGMA IOTA BETA SORORITY

By Carol Bisesti

Well, Hello, to the huge wandering mass of freshmen! It certainly is a pleasure to welcome you to our dwelling—hope you don't get lost wandering around our huge campus—have the grass between the buildings, that is.

Our congratulations go to the following "happy" people:

- recently engaged Bobby Giese and Tony Perlaini
- recently married Sheila Sletnik and Tom Grady
- Harriet Goodman and Kenny Brouhu, BII
- Rae O'Donnell and Wes Adams
- Joan Lakso and Skip Kowalski and last but not least Elaine "Joey Bellano" Linkkila and Bob Carchman.

I'd like to congratulate my sisters for winning the Softball Championship—and imagine, I didn't even play!

A few "tid-bits"—Did you hear about the party we had for the graduating seniors at Sandbanks? Fergat it!! We're all looking forward now to a SHIBBIES and BIBBIES party this weekend.

As we approach the witchy month of October, be thinking about our dance "Coffee and Confusion" to be held in mid-October. We'll be out on our brooms to round you up!
