HANK AARON'S SHOT HEARD ROUND THE WORLD

Edited by Lawrence B. Selvin

Hank Aaron has equalled Babe Ruth's All-time Home Run Record by hitting the 714th home run of his career. The homer came in the first inning of yesterday's National League opener between the Atlanta Braves and Cincinnati Reds at Cincinnati. Aaron got the record homer on his first time at bat for the season.

Aaron's record-tying blow came on a three and one pitch off Reds' right-hander, Jack Billingham and Hank put the Braves into a 3-0 lead.

The home run, which cleared the inner fence of the ball park slightly to the left of the 375-foot marker, came with such startling suddenness that it caught the crowd of more than 51,000, including Vice President of the United States, Gerald Ford, in almost complete surprise.

When the impact of what had happened hit them, the crowd stood up and gave the Braves' 40-year-old superstar a rousing ovation and all the Braves' players came running from the dugout to greet and congratulate him as he crossed home plate.

The historical shot came with two men on base.

Said the Vice President, "Good luck for 715 and many more." Kuhn presented Aaron with a trophy.

"It is a great honor," Kuhn said, "to present this trophy, not only to one of the greatest professionals ever to play this game but one of baseball's greatest gentlemen."

Aaron accepted the trophy along with a plaque given to him by his Atlanta teammates.

Aaron said simply, "Thank you very much. I'm glad it's almost over. Thank you." UPI: 4/4/74.

Munchies Galore

Munchie Mongers, fear no more! Your prayers have been answered, and believe it or not, the Candy Store is open! Yes, it's true. Those magnificent morsels and confectionary concoctions are yours to behold and wolf down. Through the efforts of Mr. Lou Petrucci and Mr. Thomas Scott, the Candy Person of Bryant College has finally arrived.

A contest is being held to name the Candy Store, and a prize will be given to whoever is successful in naming the store. Suggestions for its name can be brought to the Candy Store.

One problem has risen from the Candy Store's opening. It seems that peanut fanciers have taken to littering the College with shells wherever they like. If the Laura Mrosek and Gail Rotondo sweetening up the Candy Store.

Offering the palate over 40 selections of chocolates, jellies, clusters, and nuts, the Candy Store is the sure place to gain a few pounds. Already stocked with chips, popcorn, pretzels, etc., Mr. Petrucci stated that the store would also be selling quart bottles of Coke and eight-packs of Tab and Sprite.

problem gets worse, peanuts and other shelled nuts may not be sold.

If you're not on a diet, take a walk over to the store and check it out. And for those of you on a diet, throw your calorie counters to the wind and buy a whole pound of chocolates—you'll love it!

THE EXORCIST

by Paul Carroll

Exorcism—the hottest word around these days, has an electric connotation. It shocks some, disgusts others, and evokes oohs and ahs from all. When we think of the Exorcist, visions of Linda Blair immediately enter our minds, but there is more to it than what is seen in the cinema, and Bryant students had the opportunity to have as a guest speaker—an exorcist.

Dr. Burton Fischman, who is renowned for the lectures he brings to Bryant, had the Reverend Robert T. Gooding of the Appanoag Pentecostal Church as the guest speaker for his New Directions class which is presently reading the bestseller, THE EXORCIST. Gooding, a man in his 50's, evokes an air of self-reliance which permeates the people around him. Fischman began the lecture by striking upon some fundamental questions—What is exorcism and an exorcist?

Recalling records of antiquity "the driving out of evil spirits" reaches back across millennia. Fischman, introducing Gooding and the Reverend Ernest Welford, Pastor of the Full Gospel Fellowship of Churches and Ministers International, Springfield, Virginia—who is a close friend of Rev. Gooding—pointed out that this is serious business, and the guests here today have strong feelings about it.

In an aura of estatic brain waves, Gooding recalled his first experience with God. He related to an incident when he was five and very sick. His parents thought he was going to die. As he lay in bed at night he looked through the window and saw Jesus Christ; who came into the room and laid his hand on him. From that time on he began to recover. He stated that "on December 5, 1941, I surrendered my life to Christ." Three weeks later he said the Holy Spirit came upon him and he spoke in a tongue he'd never learned before—perfect Hebrew. At the age of 18 Christ became the Lord of his life. He related that he'd received persecutions because he was different, but did what he thought was best.

Gooding claims that he can tell people what's wrong with them. He even claims to be a healer, and has in the past cured cancer. Originally from North Carolina, Gooding came to Rhode Island when the Holy Spirit, God, took his tongue and said "Go to Rhode Island." When Gooding first came here he had only ten parishioners at his church, four of whom were relatives of his. Today his church has a membership of over 200.

He told of his first experience with a Demon. A man in Providence called him and asked him to pray for his wife, who was possessed. The woman had blue welts on her body and her fingernails were falling out.

She said, "the devil does this to me. Look where they beat me—look at the welts." The woman would scream in her own voice and then in another voice. She blasphemed God in another voice and the voice said, "this is my body and I won't give it up." The woman then screamed and fainted. Later she got up and dressed, and for a week she did no work. About a week later she was repossessed and taken away by the authorities. Gooding says that she gave up to the devil.

Gooding has not seen the movie or read the book THE Theresa. Theresa told the DJ to go to Gooding's Church and meet a woman there. The DJ, being perplexed over the situation, consulted a psychiatrist to see if he was sick; but he was found to be sound. Theresa told the DJ that she needs a body to love him. She wants to possess the body of her cousin who killed her when she was 12. To see if the spirit was real he drew a picture of a horse with a pipe in its mouth. While on the other end of the phone she described what he had drawn.

He told of another girl in his

EXORCIST. He explains that it doesn't glorify the power of God, rather that the movie glorifies the power of the devil. Particularly objectionable to Gooding is the scene where Father Carras tells the devil to take him instead of the young girl. Gooding sees this as defeat. "An exorcist commands the devil to come out, he does not receive the devil."

Just two Fridays ago he had an experience where a leading DJ called him. The DJ had made a recording of himself talking on the telephone to a spirit. The spirit was a woman named church whose eyes dilated and was thrown to the floor, hissing like a snake she ran into a wall head on but was not hurt. Then a spirit spoke through her and she confessed to be a witch.

Another case of possession is one in which a young boy who'd never been made a Christian got interested in a Ouija Board, Tarot Cards, and tea leaves. The boy's father came to Gooding's church and pleaded with him to come to his house saying that his son was possessed. The boy was possessed by seven demons, and Gooding stated that seven men could not hold the boy down. After

Editorially Speaking

Ooops!!!

In last week's ARCHWAY we made a mistake in the article on commencement awards. The corrected article appears on page five of this issue.

The article should have read, "No one—faculty or students—knows everyone eligible;" not "ANYONE eligible." We apologize to Dr. Galski for our error and we thank him for being so understanding in this matter.

We agree that other members of the Bryant Community, besides the awards committee, be allowed to submit nominations for the awards. However, we still feel that no one should be able to submit an application for himself—if he is eligible for the award, someone else is bound to recognize that fact.

Tighten Up Dear Editor,

For security reasons the Unistructure must be locked each night at prescribed times. Sunday through Thursday the building is locked at 11 p.m. and Friday and Saturday nights at 12 Midnight.

Henceforth, no one will be permitted in the Unistructure after these hours unless they have express permissions to do so. Permission for students from the organizations of THE ARCHWAY, Student Senate, and the Radio Station normally will come from the Office of Student Affairs. No "carte blanche" permissions will be granted. Each request will be dealt with on an individual basis and judged on its necessity and/or merit.

Anyone receiving permission to be in the Unistructure after hours must check in and out with the Security Department.

I hope you understand the reasons for this procedure.

Dr. Barry A. Fullerton

Madame Lovonda Receives Criticism...

Dear Editor,

When I came to Bryant and started reading the Archway (sic) and thought it was a good college paper (sic). But now it seems like a backward journalistic piece of garbage.

Recently, the Archway (sic) included in each edition "letters to Madame Lovonda." This section was put in seemingly to add humor to the paper, obviously it failed. Instead it gave such people as Paul Carrol (sic) a choice to slander Dr. Evarts. One would think that it is about time Paul Carrol (sic) got the bug out of his *††, and started reporting objectively instead of subjectively.

I am surprised at how quickly the Archway (sic) has gone from good to bad. It is true that the sports section and some articles are still good. However, I think it is about time the Editors-in-Chief and the News editors start running the Archway (sic) the way a good paper is run.

Maintenance Strikes Again!

Dear Editor,

Just thought you would like to hear a funny story: Upon arriving on campus last September, we were stuck in a converted ping pong room. Here are four girls with two bureaus to share. We had no desks, lights, or keys to our doors. After a month and a half we received our furniture, (we are still minus bureau tops.) A few weeks before Xmas vacation we got some locks and keys to the suite. About time...

Thinking our troubles are over, we come back in January to yet another problems—laundry doors. We are right next to the laundry and are kept up all night hearing the door slam and the "sweet voices" of our dorm friends running about. We politely told security about this. They said sure, we can lock the doors, but a student can unlock it just as easily by pushing a button. Isn't it nice to know you're locked safely in your dorm at nights? After all, those who have keys are the only ones to get in, right? Wrong, the laundry is open 24 hours a day. Cute...

Now comes the clincher! A few weeks ago I came back from class to find my bed had been kidnapped. Needless to say, so was my suitemate's. While all of us were in class, maintenance came in and took our beds! They threw everything that was mine all over the floor. After making a few calls, we discover Mr. Barlow told them to take our beds and give them to the guys in Dorm 4 who had the fire. Okay, why us? There are plenty of available beds on campus, why take some in use? And why are people allowed to just walk in to any suite while no one is there?

After talking with Mr. Barlow, and getting most of it straightened out, he informs me to "find a bed" and to get "one of my boyfriends to pick it up" as maintenance kicks out at 3:30. After going through a lot of trouble, (nobody wants to give up a double bed) I got ahold of one from Dorm 2 and luckily the RA delivered it.

Hey, how much more grief can we girls get? Plus, we received a bill for $3.75 from maintenance to put two screws into our cabinet in the bathroom. We could have done it for fifty cents. What were the screws, gold plated? Barlow was again notified and we were let off the hook.

Well, just thought I would pass along this bit of tasty information. If you planned on moving into a pit, beware. You may wake up one morning on a box spring!

Sincerely,
A disgusted pit crew!

tu0 fo redr0

This week, THE ARCHWAY would like to congratulate Peter Barlow for placing the members of the Indiana University Soul Review in the rooms of those Bryant students who have singles. It is not so important that these students are being placed in occupied rooms. What is important, however, is the way it is being done.

First, students with singles were asked to volunteer their rooms to the visiting group. When this approach failed to get the necessary response, Barlow used a new strategy. On April 2, a letter was sent to students with singles telling them that the Student Affairs Office had no other choice but to use the vacancies in these rooms. In other words, students who have singles have no choice but to open their rooms to complete strangers for the night of April 6.

We realize that the dormitories are College facilities and that the Student Affairs Office has the right to place people in the rooms as it deems necessary. If the I.U. Soul Review students were not allowed to stay in the dorms during their trip to Bryant, it is questionable as to whether they would be able to perform here at all because of the expense that would be added if the group were to stay at a hotel!

Because of the lack of response on the part of students with singles there was really nothing else that could be done except to place the visiting students in these rooms. But why were Bryant students asked in the first place, when the Student Affairs Office intended to place the visitors in the dorms anyway? It's a sticky situation to have to deal with, but THE ARCHWAY suggests that those students who have been told to share their rooms do so without taking out their frustrations on their guests.

To The Registrar's Office

Strike Three, You're Out!

Dear Editor,

Dear Editor,

According to the annual Bulletin of Bryant College, 1974-1975, 69 Liberal Arts electives should be available to the students during the upcoming semester. However, according to your pre-registration procedures, only 33 of the 69 courses are offered, leaving 36 courses unaccounted for.

As a student, I am convinced that it is not too late to put these canned courses on the list as originally intended. A student should have a variety of choices in the area of electives and not be forced to take whatever is leftover.

This evident conflict in policy has led me and other unfortunate students to an insurmountable number of problems. I would like to know why Bryant College as a non-profit organization has failed to offer these 36 electives, and if you intend to do so, when may I re-register for these courses?

Respectfully,
George Joynson

The Student Affairs Office, through Ms. Carmen Jordan, issued a notice concerning new policy pertaining to the playing of baseball, softball, and football on school grounds. The policy states, "No ball playing (e.g., baseball, softball, football) is permitted near the Unistructure or the Resident Halls. All ball playing must be restricted to the Athletic Field..." This policy wouldn't be so bad, BUT the baseball team practices on the baseball field during the afternoon, and in a week or so, softball intramurals will start. When does this leave the Bryant College student who is not on the baseball team, and does not participate in Intramurals? What irks me the most, is that the Student Affairs Office did not consult the Student Senate before making this policy. The students are going to be DRASTICALLY affected by this policy. Why, then, didn't the Student Affairs Office consult the representative body of the students? Will this be the policy of the administration in the future? For our mutual benefit, I hope not.

Sincerely,
Mike Hammer
Freshman Senator

Rights And Responsibilities Of College Faculty And Employees

by Kevin J. McGarry

The second article concerning the health facilities on and available to a college community will be concerned with the faculty and employees of the institutional community. Last week The ARCHWAY presented basics on the rights and responsibilities of the college student, and will print the rights and responsibilities of the institution in the next issue.

As members of the institutional community, faculty and employees have the rights to expect the following:

a. An effective institutional program for the surveillance and control of environmental hazards to health, including continuing support of an accident prevention program.

b. An occupational health program, through which should be provided preplacement and interval health evaluations (especially for those in hazardous occupations), medical care and rehabilitation for work-connected injuries and illnesses, preventive measures against occupational hazards, immunization against special illnesses, and education for safe and healthful work.

c. Personal health services. Emergency care should be available under all circumstances and general personal care in those situations in which high-quality care is not available outside the institutional community. This does not imply an obligation of the institution to provide these services without appropriate financial or other support by the faculty and/or staff.

As members of the institutional community, concerned with the rights and responsibilities of all its members, faculty and staff have the following responsibilities:

a. To participate with students, administrators, health professionals in the development of a comprehensive health program.

b. To work, and otherwise support institutional activities, in a manner consistent with established practices of public health, respecting the rights of others to an environment in which physical, emotional, and social health hazards are minimized.

c. To utilize health resources voluntarily when need for help is evident—or when it is suggested by others. If health care is not available on the campus, it should be sought independently elsewhere.

d. To guide and encourage other faculty and staff to live in accordance with established practices and to utilize health services when needed.

e. To provide creative leadership in integrating teaching for health into their specific disciplines and areas of interest.

f. To support, financially and otherwise, the institution's health program, especially by supporting those services, preventive and therapeutic, provided primarily for the care of faculty and staff and for the health of the community as a whole.

g. To respect the rights of students to privacy and confidentiality in receiving health care; to make no improper requests for unauthorized information and to put no student under duress of any kind in order to gain information concerning the student's health.

NOTE: The rights and responsibilities of all members of college communities are being printed by The ARCHWAY with the "Statement on Health Rights and Responsibilities of Members of the College Community" as a guide.

Protest?

Dear Editor,

I am writing this in protest to the immature, lewd and disgusting display of vulgarity that took place on the campus last week. I am speaking of the first annual co-ed division streaking that ended up in the frog pond. I have never seen such a degenerate demonstration.

It is bad enough that the young people who attend Bryant College during the day should behave in such an irresponsible manner. But for supposedly mature people—Evening Division students—to exhibit themselves publicly is reprehensible.

(Signed) Ima Stounded
Evening Div. Student
Class of '69

P.S. Will the overly endowed, curly-headed Latin-type gentleman please call me at his earliest convenience. (I think I love you).

Faculty Streaking

Due to the increased popularity of STREAKING, it is necessary to issue a policy concerning guidelines for streaking by all personnel.

Personnel will streak only in order of seniority, and contrary to rumors presently circulating, there will be no special award given for "Best Performance by a Streaker" in any department.

It must further be emphasized that safety glasses are to be worn by all streakers traveling through the classroom. Streaking will be on a rotating departmental basis; however, the management frowns on co-ed streaking and respectively requests that Department Chairpersons advise their personnel accordingly. At no time will cameras or opera glasses be permitted for use by onlookers while streaking is in process.

It is further requested that streakers refrain from streaking on days immediately following floor waxing as this presents a definite hazard and there is some question as to our insurance coverage as concerns streaking.

At no time will streakers be allowed in the Rotunda unless first obtaining a permit from the Central Scheduling Office.

All streaking observers will kindly refrain from saying derogatory remarks regarding anatomical structure of participating streakers, and hissing and whistling are definitely no no's.

Streaker observers will not touch the participants—No tailgating either. If a group streak, all participants of Greek heritage will lead the group.

Notice

During the month of March, two exterior classroom windows were broken. Each of these cost between $650 and $750 to replace. It appears as though the window breakage occurred as a result of ball playing in the field near the Unistructure. In order to protect the windows and avoid prohibitive replacement costs, the following guidelines governing ball playing are now in effect:

1. No ball playing (e.g., baseball, softball, football) is permitted near the Unistructure or the Residence Halls.
2. All ball playing must be restricted to the Athletic Field.
3. Any person(s) responsible for a window breakage will be billed accordingly.

POTTERS' FESTIVAL

The Southern New England Potters' Festival, open to undergraduates currently enrolled in Rhode Island, Connecticut, and Massachusetts colleges, will open on Sunday, April 21, in the Library of Roger Williams College, Bristol, Rhode Island. Students are invited to submit their work April 15 through April 19 to the Library or the Art Department of the College. Three classes of pottery will be accepted: wheel thrown, hand built, and ceramic sculpture. There will be 3 cash awards in each class of $100, $50, and $25.

The award juror is Larry Lee Chin, owner of Chin's Pottery and Craft Center in Warwick, and a pottery instructor. Mr. Chin is a graduate of the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts, and won a graduate traveling scholarship to Japan, where he studied at the Kyoto College of Fine Arts and toured the internationally known pottery centers. In Mashiko, Japan, he studied with Shoji Hamada. Mr. Chin taught at the Boston Museum School until 1969. His work has been exhibited in the Traveling Scholarship Show at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and is represented in the Collection of the Rhode Island Craftsmen's Association.

This is the fourth time that Roger Williams College has invited students from other colleges to display their artwork on the Bristol Campus. One pottery show and two painting shows have preceded the current exhibit. According to Ms. Carol Hathaway, Fine Arts Division Coordinator, the shows provide "nourishment" to the competing students in that they are introduced to new ways of seeing and doing through exposure to their contemporaries.

The Potters' Festival opens at 3 p.m. on April 21, and will run through Saturday, April 27. The public is cordially invited to attend the opening and to view the exhibit during these hours: April 21, 3 to 5 p.m.; April 22 through April 26, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; April 27, 1 to 5 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Students wanting complete information on entry requirements and fees should contact the following Art Department personnel in Bristol: Ms. Carol Hathaway, at 255-2347, or Mr. James Cathers, at 255-2154.

Challenging the Marijuana Laws

Rhode Island has the infamous distinction of being one of the only states in the union in which the possession of marijuana is a felony. A person convicted of possession of marijuana in Rhode Island could be imprisoned for 15 years and be fined as much as $10,000.

The U.R.I. Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union desires to correct this obvious injustice. The Chapter is in the process of requesting a $1,000 grant from its Student Senate. The money will be used to file a suit to challenge the constitutionality of the state's marijuana laws. ACLU lawyers in Providence will file the brief and argue the case in their behalf.

The suit to be filed is to be based on the brief that former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark filed in Washington, D.C. for the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORMAL). Jan R. Slickman, executive director of the RICLU, and the lawyers that will handle the case are confident that the suit can be won. The suit is to be litigated by a team of ACLU lawyers who will volunteer their services. The ACLU lawyers interested in arguing the case are Milton Stanzler, a founder and chief counsel of the RICLU; Charles Edwards, Chairman of the RICLU; Robert Verri, Steve Fortunato and Ron Cook.

If the URI/ACLU is awarded a $1,000 grant from the Student Senate, the suit can be filed by April 25, 1974. If anyone has any questions, one can contact Robert M. Mendillo at the U.R.I. Chapter's office at 792-5998. One may also contact the RICLU office in Providence of the Brown University ACLU Chapter.

Policeman Arrested In Drug Raid

(BOSTON)—Eight persons, including a Boston policeman, were arrested last Friday in a drug raid which State Attorney General Robert Quinn described as one of the biggest in Massachusetts history.

Quinn said arrests were made in Boston, Quincy, Weymouth, Westminister and Cambridge by State and local authorities and followed a six-month undercover investigation by the State Police Narcotics Unit.

Lieutenant Donald Delaney of the State Police estimated it was a $40,000-a-week interstate operation. Seized were 15,000 amphetamine tablets, several pounds of hallucinogenic substance, cocaine, marijuana and assorted pills and capsules.

Authorities, armed with court warrants, simultaneously raided nine homes, and arrests were made at all but two of them, Quinn said.

Arrested were Boston policeman Bruce Starratt of Weymouth; his wife, Lorraine; his brother-in-law, Edmund Sullivan of Quincy, an M.P.T.A. Police Officer; Robert Rogers of Westminister; Joseph Candalora of Cambridge; John Little of Pembroke; Richard McDonald of Jamaica Plain, and Gary Byrne of New Jersey.

"The State Narcotics Unit is to be especially complimented for making one of the biggest arrests in their history," Quinn said.

The Attorney General said additional indictments are expected against others involved in the drug ring. "We will continue our crackdown against this vicious, illicit drug traffic," he said. UPI: 3/29/74.

two-and-one half hours of prayer, the spirits came out of the boy's body screaming. When the last demon had left the boy's body he said, "I'm free."

Gooding commented that there is a rash of exorcism around. "No generation feels like yours—we are running out of time!" Gooding said, "If God doesn't destroy us, we will destroy ourselves."

Gooding stated that some cases of possession are a mental thing. He says, "the devil's reality is recognized in America like it has never been before. If we are caught by the devil, we do it by choice." A student asked the Reverend, "How can you tell when a case is authentic?" The Reverend replied, "I know by the spirit of God in me which recognizes the evil spirit. I can sense the evil spirit." Continuing, the Reverend explained, "the evil spirit will rise up against God." Gooding commands the spirit to come out in the name of Jesus.

Another student asked the Reverend if there are witches and warlocks. The Reverend said, "One came to my church and said, 'I have a power to put an evil spirit on you.'" The Reverend replied, "I have a power to put a good spirit on you. I bless people in the name of Jesus and they are healed. You bring sickness and torment and disease." The Reverend asked him who has the greater power—he replied, "you do—I can do nothing in your presence."

He was then asked by a student if the devil had ever tried to take him. "I must walk before God with fear and trembling. I fear God, I keep the ten commandments. If I transgress the Lord I open myself to the devil." The Reverend warned the students, "Don't talk against the devil unless you have Christ in you."

An hour of electric intensity, the Reverend Gooding was highly appreciated by the students in the class. It is for you to take it as you like.

A special "Soul Feast" will be served in the faculty dining room at 12 midnight.

Patricia Thompson and Rita Williams, both Bryant students and members of Watu Wazuri, are responsible for most of the preparations which made it possible for the Indiana University students to appear at the College.

The Rotunda once more becomes the setting on Sunday at 3 p.m. when the Ebenezer Baptist Church Celestial Choir, Providence, will appear for the final part of the program.

Carmen Jordan, Assistant to the Vice President for Student Affairs and Advisor to Watu Wazuri, supervised the students in bringing this program to Bryant.

There will be an admission charge to most of the program. Tickets are available through the Student Affairs Office, Bryant College, Smithfield, Rhode Island, 231-1200, Ext. 214.

Edie? In The Numbers Racket?

by Paul J. Carroll

Some mornings you just don't want to see anybody. Right? You find yourself hiding from teachers in dark crannies and pray you'll make it down the corridor without being recognized. Well there are a few people here at Bryant you don't mind seeing at all and one of them is Edith Currier, ARA'S "Hostess of the Hour." The keeper of the Guard, Edie clicks management. She related that Mr. Ledwick "really concerns himself" with his job and the students. She says "the only thing I can say about the way they treat me is—wonderful!"

When not working at Bryant, Edie is found at home sewing or reading, or at the bowling alley. Edie's husband John is an evening student here at Bryant enrolled in the Law Enforcement program.

and checks better than any IBM could ever do and she even comes with a smile. At 7:30 a.m. while everyone is still stumbling and shuffling around, Edie's effervescent personality bubbles over, even on the darkest morn. Rumors that Edie is actually checking off races on the Gansett sheet instead of student ID numbers are totally false (I think they're from Lincoln Downs.)

Edie who resides in Greenville, Rhode Island has worked for ARA since the new campus opened in 1971. As for her job, she says, "I think it's just great! It's the ideal job." Edie particularly likes having summers off. Edie and her husband enjoy camping but she says that she's too old.

Edie's popularity is not hard to understand. She is like a mother to the students here and she says "I love the kids so much." They treat me well, are really friendly, and they all worry about me whenever I'm out."

Edie has nothing but words of praise for ARA and the

Mr. Currier is very honored that he was selected as the Advisor to Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity. John and Edie who have been married for 27 years have a daughter Kathy who is presently working for ITT Grinnell in California.

A joy to see in the morning, afternoon, or any time at all, the students of Bryant love Edie. And just a word to the wise, don't try to pull anything cute on Edie, 'cause she's got your number!

Cremation

(PROVIDENCE)—The Director of Rhode Island's only crematorium says that an increasing interest in the ecology movement has brought a 20 percent rise in the number of persons choosing cremation rather than burial in the past two years. This information comes from Providence Swan Point Cemetery Director, James Black, who says cremation is considered a "clean" way to die among increasing numbers of young people he meets. Providence Roman Catholic Diocese Cemetery Director, Monsignor Galliano Cavallaro, confirms that increasing numbers of Catholics in Rhode Island are also selecting cremation, but said despite approval of the burial technique by the 1966 Vatican Council, permission for cremation must be obtained from a bishop before the remains will be buried in a Catholic cemetery. Rhode Island Roman Catholics have traditionally not approved of cremation for religious beliefs. UPI: 4/1/74.

Kent State

(WASHINGTON)—A Federal Grand Jury in Cleveland has indicted one present and seven former Ohio National Guardsmen for violating the civil rights of four Kent State University students shot and killed in a campus confrontation in 1970.

The indictments were announced by the Justice Department in Washington last Friday afternoon.

The three-court indictment also charged the guardsmen with violating the civil rights of nine other persons who were wounded during the shootings on May 4, 1970.

The Justice Department says all of the defendants are charged with "willfully assaulting and intimidating demonstrators on the Kent State Campus by firing in their direction and violating their constitutional rights not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law."

Killed were Allison Krause, Jeffery Miller, Sandra Lee Scheuer and William Schroeder.

The indictment says all of the defendants at the time were members of the Ohio National Guard acting under color of the laws of the State of Ohio.

The maximum penalty upon conviction is one year in prison and a $1000 fine plus a possible prison term. UPI: 3/29/74.

Mory's

(NEW HAVEN, CT)—Mory's, the famous Whiffenpoof Song drinking place that put "ale" in Yale, is dropping its men-only membership rule to regain its liquor license.

Under a bylaws change approved by the Board of Governors, the 100-year-old tavern will admit "women members of the Yale Community," signalling the end to a long battle against the feminist movement.

The liquor license was revoked three weeks ago by the State Liquor Control Commission following a three-year legal challenge by a group protesting the male-only membership rule.

Kathryn Emmett, a lawyer for the group, said of the decision to finally admit women: "It helps to continue the tradition of Mory's and bring it into the realities of today." UPI: 3/29/74.

"National Collegiate Streaking Association"

(St. Louis)—A campus radio station which planned to set up a "National Collegiate Streaking Association" which would rate the best streaking colleges in the U.S. folded its plan today faster than a streaker on a cold day.

A spokesman for the station...K.B.I.L. at St. Louis University...says that alumni and influential persons pressured the school administration to talk the station into abandoning the whole idea. UPI 3-5-74

The Answer

by Mike Hammer

As you know, Bryant College has, in past years had frequent visits from unwanted intruders. We all remember their trademarks: stolen cars, damaged cars, cars with missing accessories, countless fights and early morning fire drills. And to top it all off, the big "rip-off" coupon of the year was a free pass to Dorm 11 during intercession. They did their best to help lower our Security payroll, but their valiant efforts were unsuccessful, as their car failed to connect with our security patrolmen.

To stop these "friendly" visits, Bryant College has made plans for the construction of an Information Booth. Backed by popular demand, it will be located on the entrance drive, near the Townhouses.

The architect of the Unistructure, Mr. Hillier has designed the layout for the Information Booth. The Booth will be completed by September, 1974. There is an outside chance that it may be finished by May, in time for the Entrance Drive Dedication at Commencement Exercises.

The procedure for visitors will be simple. When visitors approach the Booth, they will be asked where they will be going (Person they will be visiting, Dorm No., Room No., etc.) The security guard will take down that information as well as the license plate number of the car.

The number of unwanted intruders is insignificant and their contributions are not appreciated. Hopefully, this booth will end their visits.

Commencement Awards

The increased size of the Bryant Community has made the selection of the non-academic award recipients a very difficult task. No one—faculty or students—knows everyone eligible. To provide smaller, more closely-knit groups from which to select the winners, the awards have been departmentalized by academic majors as follows: George Parks Award—Accounting, Finance; J. C. Barber Award—Management, Systems, Institutional; Roger W. Babson Award—Marketing; Bryant College Award—Law Enforcement, Economics; Charles Curtis Award—Office Education, Secretarial; Alumni Award—Office Education, Secretarial; Business Teacher Education Award—Teacher Education.

New Criteria

The criteria for all of the above awards will be "the person in the specified major who has demonstrated the greatest capacity for leadership."

Factors having a bearing on this capacity for leadership are the following:

1. Interest in his work—good attendance, quality performance, openness to change, cooperativeness.
2. Participation—communication skills, initiation and participation in discussions, decision-making ability.
3. Outside interests—participation in extracurricular activities on or off campus.
4. Initiative—ability to organize and execute outside projects with some creativity.

New Method of Selection

Any candidate for a degree who feels that he should be considered for his department's award may file an application setting forth the attributes, activities, and other relevant factors which he feels make him a candidate for the award.

Any student or faculty member who feels that a particular person or persons meet the criteria may submit a nomination setting forth the name and basis for his recommendation.

Students who finished their requirements in December or January, as well as those scheduled to complete in May, are eligible.

Applications and nominations should be submitted to the Chairperson of the appropriate department by April 8.

Department Chairpersons and their offices are listed below:

Department	Chairperson	Room
Accounting	Filippelli	325
Management	Long	324
Marketing	Gould	326
L. Enforce.	McLaughlin	314
Economics	Sweeney	329
Office Ed-Sec.	Cote	213
Business Teacher Ed.	Phillips	212

Members of the departments will evaluate the applications and nominations and will select the recipient. In the event that no applications or nominations are received, or in the event that the applications and nominations do not, in the eyes of the department members, identify a worthy recipient, the department shall review the candidates for degrees in their major and select the winner.

Important

The success of this plan which is designed to provide wide participation in the selection process depends upon the willingness of both students and faculty to identify those persons who, in their view, meet the criteria.

Women in Asia

The Department of Social Sciences is pleased to announce to the Bryant College Community a special slide presentation and discussion of WOMEN IN ASIA by Irene Johnson. It will be held Wednesday, April 10 at 10 a.m. in Room 386.

Irene Johnson and her husband have recently returned from a two and a half month tour of South and Southeast Asia under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee.

Both Johnsons bring to their current lecture tour in the New England area extensive experience in Asian affairs. In October, 1971, they returned from a 30-day visit in the People's Republic of China, where they were the personal guests of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Chief of State of the Royal Government of National Union of Cambodia.

In 1970 she spent four months as part of a Quaker fact-finding mission to Asia, Africa, and Europe. Their Asian stopovers included India, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, South Vietnam, the Philippines, Singapore, and Indonesia. From 1961 to 1965, the Johnsons resided in India, where Russell served as director of a Quaker international conference program. Irene was born in India and lived there until her 18th birthday.

Rhode Island State Government Interns Meet Sunday

Bryant College will act as host to the Rhode Island State Government Internship Program this coming Sunday, April 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. Sixty participating students from more than eleven state colleges and schools, their faculty advisors, and coordinators are expected to attend.

The program is an innovative attempt to integrate first-hand experience in government with an academic perspective. Selected students have a chance to earn degree-credit while associating with a government agency or working with a state legislator; they also attend and participate in weekly seminars on topics in state government.

The April 7 meeting comes at the mid-point in the program and will be an informal and relaxing occasion for students and faculty to get together and review the course of the program.

Major direction for the 1974 program has been provided by Professor Victor Profughi of Rhode Island College's Political Science Department, who is Chairperson of the Academic Advisory Committee and The Honorable Oliver L. Thompson, Jr., Administrative Assistant to the Rhode Island Commission on State Government Internships. Coordinator for the Sunday meeting is Professor Elizabeth S. Palter, of the Bryant College Political Science Department.

The four Bryant students participating are: Ms. Doreen Rogers, assigned to the Department of Natural Resources; Ms. Pattie LaPointe, Business Administration; Mr. William Drohan, Business Regulations; and Mr. Madis Suvari, with the Attorney General's office.

RESTAURANT REVIEW

David's Pot Belly

by Joan Frias

If you're looking for a great little restaurant with excellent food, reasonable prices, stimulating atmosphere, and courteous service, David's Pot Belly is the place for you. Located on 99 Hope Street in Providence, David's offers you all this and more.

You can get almost any kind of salad if you so desire. My favorite is the dinner salad—complete with the freshest, most delicious greens available. David's offers you three main courses—baked eggs en casserole, omelets, or chopped steak platter. You can have your choice of fillings for the two egg dishes, so your imagination can run wild in deciding what your creation will be. Both dishes are great—they really make a mean omelet!

If you prefer to have the chopped steak platter, you have made an excellent choice. There is a choice of a quarter-pound or a half-pound chopped steak. This can be ordered plain or with a filling—and here is where David's is unique. If you want a cheeseburger—with your choice of cheese—the cheese comes melted inside the chopped steak. You are not limited to cheese fillings, however. There are a couple of columns of out-of-sight fillings on the menu that are available to you. The steak comes in a slice of Syrian bread with lettuce and tomato, johnny cakes, and apple sauce.

David's Pot Belly also offers a wide variety of drinks to go with your dinner. Because the restaurant is located across the street from a church, State law prohibits David from having a liquor license. However, if you are of age, you can bring your own liquor. David offers assorted milkshakes and sodas. He also has imported coffees and teas for the connoisseur.

Dessert freaks will be in heaven when they peek at the back page of the menu. There are a number of soda fountain specialties—too numerous to name here. They are all great—made with the best ice cream and toppings available. If you aren't in the mood for a sundae, your waitress will tempt you with a dessert tray chock-full of beautiful cakes and pies.

David's Pot Belly is one of the best restaurants in the area. It is only about a 15-minute drive away from the Bryant campus. Hopefully, during the first week in May, another David's Pot Belly will open on 100 North Main Street in Providence. The new David's will have a liquor license and will serve beer, wine, and after-dinner drinks.

So, when you're in the mood to have the best-quality food served the best way, go down to David's Pot Belly and enjoy!

HOURS: Closed Monday; Tuesday through Friday, 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Saturday, 5 p.m. to 1 a.m.; Sunday, 5 p.m. to 10 p.m.

There's no easy way for Charlie Nelson to become Dr. Nelson.

But there is a way to make it somewhat easier. Our way. The Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. It won't soften the demands of your professors, or those you make upon yourself—but it may free you from those financial problems which, understandably, can put a crimp in your concentration.

If you qualify, our scholarship program will cover the costs of your medical education. More, you'll receive a good monthly allowance all through your schooling.

But what happens after you graduate? Then, as a health care officer in the military branch of your choice you enter a professional environment that is challenging, stimulating and satisfying.

An environment which keeps you in contact with practically all medical specialties. Which gives you the time to observe and learn before you decide on your specialty. Which may present the opportunity to train in that specialty. And to practice it.

You may also find some of the most advanced medical achievements happening right where you work. Like at the Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, long noted for its Burn Treatment Center. Or the home of Flight Medicine, the famed Aerospace Medical Division, also in San Antonio. Or the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, recognized worldwide for its work in Medical Research.

"THE OPEN END"

One of the new developments at Bryant this semester is "The Open End." We are a student-oriented program designed to provide an opportunity for Bryant students to relate to other students' situations common among themselves.

Since February 19, "The Open End" has been operating out of the counseling office (located off the Rotunda) providing the student body with its first attempt at a peer (student to student) counseling program.

Students are available on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to rap or listen. In addition, "The Open End" offers a variety of literature relating to issues such as birth control, roommate problems, and immediate academic pressures. We also function as an information service.

We have been meeting on Wednesdays as a group working in conjunction with Ms. Janet Morahan and Mr. Peter Barlow to further develop the program through lectures, discussions, and literature relevant to the college community today.

Just who are we? Randy Weiss, Delia Roaf, Gail Osborn, Nancy Hilliard, Joseph Santangelo, Victor Rebello, Raymond Puerini, Richard McGrath, Michael Isaacson, Peter Hanlon, William Frieswick, Robert Desrochers, Peter Denisevich, and Douglas Clarkson.

It is our hope that you will take a few minutes to drop by on Tuesdays or Thursdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. for some coffee, tea, and cookies to see what we are all about!

Perhaps we can do something for you.

Terry Curlew, Senate Secretary

by Anne-Marie Vigneau

Hailing from Broad Brook, Connecticut, our newly elected Student Senate Secretary is Terry Lynne Curlew, a fourth semester Executive Secretarial major. Standing 5'3" with auburn hair and blue eyes, Terry doesn't strike one as being the serious student that she is. A member of the Dean's List, she is friendly, easy going, fun loving, and considers herself to be very liberal minded.

Terry's hobbies include horseback riding, guitar playing, handicrafts, embroidery, cake decorating, and cooking, which she especially loves. She also enjoys reading science fiction, watching movies, roller skating, ice skating, and tennis. Her favorite subjects are philosophy, sociology, and most liberal arts courses.

As a whole, Terry doesn't regret coming to Bryant—she's learned a lot here and feels she'll leave a better person because of what she's learned from her various experiences as a student. However, "like any school, it could use improvements. For example, because of the ways and the means people have been using to communicate with each other, misunderstandings often result which seem to create a general atmosphere of mistrust on all sides. People just won't take each other at face value. I can understand why, but continuing to do so only leads to further problems. I can only offer one suggestion—to be honest and communicate with each other. Try to be less suspicious of everybody."

Terry likes to be prepared to do things on the spur of the moment because she enjoys not knowing what will happen from day to day. To her, "interesting people are those who can change to meet different situations. Keeping their good humor really helps." She loves her position on the Senate because "it's the best thing that's ever happened to me at Bryant. I've gotten to meet so many people and have learned so much about the school that I wouldn't have known if I wasn't secretary. It's given me a chance to contribute of myself and my skills to the Bryant community."

Her immediate plans after graduation in May include living at home and working as a secretary until she has earned enough money to travel abroad. Her dream is to become fluent in a foreign language so that one day she might live and work in Europe.

Happy Birthday, Mrs. P!

Movie Review

Blazing Saddles

by bob rhault

Mel Brook's newest film is a Western comedy entitled BLAZING SADDLES. This is Brook's third film of a line which unfortunately includes THE PRODUCERS and THE TWELVE CHAIRS. Brooks not only directed the film but, also lent his hand in writing the script. The tale delves into the interests of the railroad land barons of the Old West.

Governor LePetomane (Brooks) and his attorney general, Hedley Lamarr (Harvey Korman) plot to annihilate a town and drive the residents out of the area in order to gain control of the surrounding real estate, which will soon be worth millions due to the expanding railroads.

The humor is zany and inconsistent. There is a lack of subtlety here that drives the film from one chaotic episode to the next. As Governor LePetomane or in his dual role of a Yiddish-speaking Indian chief, Brooks wears out two time-tested humoristic devices. First, as the bumbling, moronic Governor, he exhausts Groucho's ogle-the-voluptuous-secretary routine. Secondly, someone should advise Brooks as to the triteness of Yiddish speaking Indians—it's really overdone nowadays.

Madeline Kahn (Paper Moon) does a funny parody of a Marlene Dietrich film, Destry Rides Again. Alex Karras plays a subhuman hulking moron named Mongo. When insulted by a passing rider, Mongo lumbers over and knocks out the man's horse with his fist. Gene Wilder plays the Wayco Kid, fastest gun in the West, if he were given an expanded role he may have helped the plight of BLAZING SADDLES.

There is a good deal of comic enjoyment to be found in BLAZING SADDLES. Its just unfortunate that its comic redundancy parallels its inventiveness.

Now playing at the Avon Cinema, Thayer Street, Providence, Rhode Island.

What's Up Doc?

Director: Peter Bogdanovich

Remember the screwball comedies of the '30's? Peter Bogdanovich has brought them back, all wrapped up in "What's Up Doc?," an uproarious farce with literally reels of pure unadulterated and sustained laughs. Over 30 audiences haven't seen a new film like this in a generation, and younger audiences will recognize it as a most worthy descendent of the outrageously zany old pictures they now see on television.

Barbra Streisand is an eccentric girl with an encyclopedic mind, a capricious way of trusting herself into other people's lives, and enough idiosyncracies to make your head swim. Ryan O'Neal is an absent-minded professor of musicology at a convention with a traveling case full of primitive rocks. Together, they're dynamite. Frantic misadventures confuse all the characters, and culminate in a hair-raising comedy chase under ladders, through a Chinese dragon, around the biggest pane of glass in the world, into traffic on San Francisco's most perilous hills, and finally straight into the Bay.

For sheer hilarity and rolling-in-the aisles laughs, "What's Up Doc?" is a total smash. Playing at the Bryant Cinema on Sunday, April 7 at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

SEMESTER: _____
by April 11

I'm just back from the Bulgarian Babuska Beet Borsch Bowlarama, and I'm BEAT!!! So here they are, just heat and serve.

Dear Madame Lovonda:

Oh, how sweet it is to have someone I can turn to on campus! Mom and Dad are great, but it's too expensive to call home. My suitemates are nice girls, but they can't really help me. Father "Don" is a peach, but he's a guy! Please "Lovie" can you help me?

A few weeks ago, Steve called me and asked me out. (This was a blind date arranged by my sister.) That Friday night, Steve and I went out to the movies and dinner and had a good time. Arriving back on campus, we came back to the suite, talked for a while, he gave me a good-night kiss, and we said good night. This was about three weeks ago, but Steve has not called. I spoke to my sister last night and she told me to stop worrying. "Steve is a guy who just needs to be pushed." After all, it took him two weeks after speaking to my sister to get up the courage to call. Should I be aggressive and call him? Maybe I could invite him to a function here at school. I really dig him. Should I leave Steve?

Sadie

Dear Sadie,

The problem with people is that they are so bound by social convention that they end up rotting in front of the TV, while if they took the initiative once in a while they'd be much better off. There is nothing wrong with a girl calling a guy these days, unless you're living in the Victorian Era.

Honey, take the bull by the horns and call Steve. If he says yes, then you're all set. If he says no, you'll at least know how things stand and won't have to sit on the phone all night waiting for it to ring. So call him!

Ring a ding ding
Madame Lovonda

Dear Madame Lovonda,

Where have all the streakers gone? Has Bryant seen the last of this new sport or have the streakers just taken a temporary leave of absence? Can you please fill me in?

New Binoculars

Dear New Binoculars,

You little devil you, buying new binoculars! All the streakers are in the garage for body overhauls. There was a mad streak one night and quite a few of the streakers bent their headlights and grills. Damages were estimated at $2.5 million, but the insurance company is going to pay for the damages so they shouldn't be out of commission too long.

Streakingly,
Madame Lovonda

P.S. Can I borrow your binoculars? For the opera, of course.

Dear Madame Lovonda,

Since the better business colleges in this country are accredited by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, why isn't Bryant College accredited by this Association. It would greatly benefit us students in getting jobs when we graduated if Bryant College was accredited by this Association. What actions are the administration taking to correct this deficiency in Bryant?

A Future businessman?

Dear Future Businessman,

Your letter was discussed with Dr. Nelson Gulski, Acting Vice President of Academic Affairs. Dr. Gulski stated that Bryant is accredited by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which is the regional and national accreditor. Bryant's Teacher Education program is also accredited by the National Council of Accreditation for Teacher Education. There are many reasons why Bryant is not accredited by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The one that you'd be interested in is financial. It would be very costly for Bryant to be accredited by the AACSB and this expense would be felt in your tuition bill, and would probably send it through the roof.

Accreditatively,
Madame Lovonda

Dear Madame Lovonda,

Could you please tell me why the Student Affairs Office was so uncouth in handling the recent matter of putting guests in the single rooms on campus? I would like to know why I was given the choice of having a guest in my room this weekend, and when I said "no", was told in a second letter that there would be a guest in the room for that weekend anyway. Some of us have friends coming in for that weekend also.

I realize this is school property, but why would Student Affairs give a free choice and then rescind it?

Insulted and Crowded

Dear Insulted and Crowded,

The Office of Student Affairs first sent out letters to students living in single rooms requesting them to volunteer their help to aid the college in lodging members of the Indiana University Soul Review. Not enough students volunteered to share their rooms and a second letter had to be sent out informing students in single rooms that they would have guests that weekend. This is not a violation of students' rights, nor is it the establishment of new college policy. The facts are plain and simple. They need the available beds for the group members, and the college does own the rooms. Where else could the college put them? In tents?

Roomfully yours,
Madame Lovonda

Sports Media

Awards

(SALISBURY, NORTH CAROLINA)—Jim Murray of the Los Angeles TIMES and Keith Jackson of ABC-TV were chosen tonight as the Sports Writer and Sportscaster of the Year.

Murray was selected for the ninth time and Jackson for the second in balloting by the National Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association.

The awards were presented at the 15th Annual Awards Dinner of the Association, with Governor James E. Holshouser, Jr. and Miss North Carolina—Heather Lee Walker of Hendersonville—assisting in the presentation.

The organization also inducted the late Bill Stern and the late Stanley Woodward into the National Sports Writers and Sportscasters Hall of Fame.

Stern, who was associated with NBC, CBS and mutual networks, died in 1971. Woodward, who died in 1966, was Sports Editor for almost 20 years of the old New York HERALD-TRIBUNE.

During a business session prior to the dinner, Furman Bisher of the Atlanta JOURNAL was elected President of the group, succeeding Ray Scott of the Hughes Network and CBS.

Milton Spencer of WFLA-TV in Tampa, Florida, was chosen Vice President. Two Salisbury businessmen were named Secretary and Treasurer—Frank Harrison as Secretary and Mort Lerner as Treasurer.

In addition to the national awards, the organization each year selects a sports writer and sportscaster of the year in each of the 50 states.

Fifty-one of this year's winners were present for the ceremony.

Nominees for the National Sportscaster of the Year were, in addition to Jackson, Chris Schenkel and Howard Cosell of ABC, Curt Gowdy of NBC, and Scott.

Bisher, Joe Falls of the Detroit FREE PRESS, Red Smith of the New York TIMES and Dick Young of the New York Daily NEWS were nominated in addition to Murray for the Sports Writer of the Year. UPI: 3/27/74.

Alumni Dinner-Dance

The Third Annual Alumni Dinner-Dance has been scheduled for Saturday, April 27, 1974.

The festivities will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a reception and cocktails. Dinner will be served in the Salmanson Dining Hall, featuring choice boneless steak. Music of the '40's, '50's, and '60's, played by the Tommy Masso Orchestra for dancing, will round out the evening.

The Alumni Committee, Thomas Masso '51, Diana (Policastro) Marro '58, and Paula (Pascone) Iacono '69, report that over 400 are expected to attend.

Hillel Returns

Hillel is returning to Bryant College. Through the tireless work of Larry Winkler and Dr. Fischman, Bryant will once again have an active Hillel on campus in the fall of 1974. Hillel, founded in 1923, is devoted to religious, cultural, educational, and social service to Jewish college students. Anyone interested in becoming a member of Hillel, please leave your name, address, and phone number in the envelope in the ARCHWAY Office.

Father to Us All

by Jim Angelini

In case you don't know the man with the collar who eats in the cafeteria, his name is Father Donat Barrette; and he is our school chaplain.

Father Barrette came to Bryant College in September, 1971. He is a native Rhode Islander, and grew up in West Warwick. Father Barrette learned his trade at Our Lady of Providence Seminary, and furthered his knowledge in Theology and Philosophy at the University of Montreal in Canada. He was ordained a priest on July 12, 1954, and has spent 17 years doing parish work, mainly at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs in Woonsocket.

Father Barrette has been with Bryant now for the past organizing a club on an inter-faith basis that would meet a few times a semester.

Besides the full-time job of chaplain, Father Barrette teaches a course on Comparative Religion in the day school and is an advisor in the Delta Omega Professional Society. During the summertime, Father Barrette stays at the Bryant Campus and helps out on weekends in neighboring parishes. Another factor that keeps him here in the summer is that he performs the marriage ceremony for several of Bryant's graduates. This coming summer, he has seven weddings lined up.

On Sunday morning at noon while most of us are still sleeping, Father Barrette turns our three years and thoroughly enjoys his work. He has been offered his own parish, but for the next few years he would like to continue at Bryant. Eventually, however, Father Barrette would like his own parish.

I asked him what impressions he had of the student body and he replied, "The student body on the whole are open, affable and very warm. I think the students today are a little more conservative and a little neater dressed than the students of the past couple years." Father Barrette wishes he could have more contact with the commuting students, maybe by beer-soaked rotunda into a place of worship. He feels that the mass goes well, and I might add that whether you are a Catholic or not you can get something out of it. I talked with Father Barrette about the possibility of having a late mass on Sunday around 5 or 6 o'clock, and he expressed that if Bryant could show support then he would be more than happy to oblige.

Father Barrette is here at Bryant to help the students. If you have a problem or would just like to talk, he is located in Dorm 6, telephone ext. 309 and direct line 231-2650. I assure you that your problem will be at least, very well listened to.

The Archway Does It Again

by Eileen Pulaski and Paul Carroll

It was announced today, from the steps of the Koffler Rotunda, by ARCHWAY correspondent Madame Lovonda, that the new crisis that is spreading fear and terror over our serene Smithfield campus is a reality. The situation stems from the mysterious absconding of the Bryant reflecting pools by the ARCHWAY Eight. The kidnapping is believed to have occurred during the chaos that surrounded the breakage of the water main two weeks ago.

Lead by their Editor-in-Chief—Flash Fingers Frias, the gang is believed to have relocated them by the use of 3,000 Alligator Baggies.

It is believed by Bryant Security that the ponds are being held in the ARCHWAY Darkroom. Officials of the College have received a ransom note demanding 436,871 assorted jelly beans (no pink ones) for the return of the ponds. The ransom to be paid by 743 unmarked Candy Grams are to be left behind the ARCHWAY's U.P.I. machine. Barricaded in the office, the entire staff is threatening to Streak Parent's Weekend if demands are not met.

The F.B.I. (Fullerton Bureau of Investigation) has published descriptions of The ARCHWAY Eight. If seen in the area, do not approach; but call the nearest janitor. These people have been determined to be mentally unstable and are thought to be in possession of water pistols.

The descriptions issued are as follows:

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: Joan Frias—(alias Flash Fingers) is a sixth-semester Management major from Riverside, Rhode Island. A member of Delta Mu Delta Honor Society Joan began her work in The ARCHWAY in April of her Freshman year as a secretary. (Promoted to Office Manager and finally Managing Editor) Joan is by far the most valuable member of the staff.

MANAGING EDITOR: Paul Carroll—(alias Cold Claw) began writing for The ARCHWAY in October of 1973 and was made Assistant News Editor in November and News Editor in December. A sixth-semester Institutional Management major, Paul received The ARCHWAY Editorial Board Service Award for service above and beyond the call of duty at the annual banquet on March 29. He has added a number of new columns to The ARCHWAY and has recruited a number of new people to The ARCHWAY Staff.

NEWS EDITOR: Eileen Pulaski—(alias Pick Pocket Pulaski) The ARCHWAY's latest import from Long Island. Eileen is a second-semester Law Enforcement major. Each week Eileen opens the gate to her Peasant's Garden and lets her words rain down and fall upon gentle smiles.

ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR: Lawrence B. Selvin (alias Larry Leverage) a member of The ARCHWAY staff since September of 1973, he has brought fame to Bryant's Table Tennis Team through his sports articles and his victory in the '73 Men's Single Table Tennis Tournament.

PRODUCTION MANAGER: Kurt Schlott (alias Schlitz Top Schlott) joined The ARCHWAY in January of 1973 and has held the position of Assistant Production Manager.

ASSISTANT PRODUCTION MANAGER: Lynnnda Pollen (alias Pea Pod Pollen) is a second-semester Law Enforcement major and has managed to break the ARCHWAY's headliner every Thursday.

ADVERTISING MANAGER: Norv Garnett (alias Mad-Ads Garnett) is a sixth-semester Marketing major and has been an ARCHWAY inmate since November of 1973. These are the promotions. God Bless them.

WEB Women Speak

ON FOOLS

Three things have been difficult to tame: the ocean, fools, and women. We may soon be able to tame the ocean; fools and women will take a little longer.

Spiro Agnew

ON SELF-IDENTITY

We live in a masculine society owned and operated by a masculine power structure and—just as in black and white society—the ruling elite will define the reality, even the identity of those whom it rules. Therefore, what women think of women is pretty much what they have learned from men to think of women.

Kate Millet

ON INTELLIGENCE

If American men intend always to keep women slaves, political and civil, they make a great mistake when they let the girls, with the boys, learn the alphabet, for no educated class will long remain in subjection.

Mary Clay

Student Travelers

The Dean of Students at Rhode Island School of Design (RISD) has been authorized by the Council on International Exchange to issue its official International Student I.D. # Phil Graf and Management Development

Eileen Pulaski

In the fall of 1973, Phil Graf was named as Director of the Center for Management Development. The Center was created to form an educational link with external business organizations. The Center identifies a new educational focus for Bryant College—the education, training, and development of the human resources in business, government, education, social and professional organizations.

Phil Graf has done a tremendous amount of work in developing and initiating programs in Management Development since its creation last fall. Mr. Graf came to Bryant in 1971 as an assistant to the President. Formerly from Ohio, Mr. Graf holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology and a Master's degree in Business Administration from Ohio University. Mr. Graf is the author of several published research papers, and was recently a faculty member of the 1973 African Advanced Management Program, in Zambia.

Mr. Graf feels that as in any new institution selling a service, there must be a goal. "Our goal," he says, "is to offer the finest Management Development program in the area." Mr. Graf is trying to familiarize people with what he is trying to do. He is trying to develop programs in different areas of management development and initiate a quality program.

Two seminars have been held already. The first was a one-day seminar held February 22, 1974, entitled "Managing and Motivating Employees." The seminar was attended by 70 people representing 40 different companies throughout Southern New England.

The second seminar was the "Executive Leadership Series" designed for top executives. The seminar was very small with representatives from 12 major Rhode Island businesses. Both seminars were tremendously received.

Currently, Mr. Graf is developing a number of seminars, several of which are scheduled for June. One, planned for June 13, 14, 15, is a two-and-one-half day organization development lab. This has been announced to all major companies in New England, which is about 9,000 companies. It will be an overnight seminar with the representatives staying on campus.

Mr. Graf is constantly working and making new contacts with the businesses of Rhode Island and throughout New England, trying to develop and initiate programs for the advancement of Management Development. Mr. Graf is doing a magnificent job in this area. Bryant College and the business community will greatly benefit from his work.

Mobile Units to Reduce Traffic

The Department of Transportation announced today that in conjunction with Governor Noel's determined effort to provide more efficient service to the motoring public, the Division of Motor Vehicles will provide mobile units for processing photo licenses in different communities around the State during the month of April from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

In view of the energy problem, April's schedule has been organized to reduce the amount of travel.

From April 3 through April 30, license renewal officials will be available at the following locations: Wednesday-Friday, April 3-5, Pawtucket, Pawtucket Armory, Exchange St.; Monday-Wednesday, April 8-10, Warwick, Warwick Public Library, Sandy Lane; Thursday and Monday April 11 and 15, No. Prov., North Prov. Town Hall, Smith St.; Tuesday and Wednesday, April 16 and 17, Cranston, Knightsville Manor, Briggs St.; Thursday-Monday, April 18, 19, and 22, Smithfield Police Station, Pleasant View Ave.; Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23 and 24, Portsmouth Town Hall, East Main Road; Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26, Johnston Police Station, Atwood Avenue; Monday and Tuesday, April 29 and 30, No. Kingstown Police Station, Post Road.

Alumni to Honor Graduating Seniors

The Bryant College Alumni Association will be host to the Senior Class at a supper in the Salmanson Dining Hall on Friday, May 17, 1974.

The event will begin at 4 p.m. with Alumni President Gary Remley '58, welcoming the Seniors and introducing the other officers of the Alumni Association Executive Board. A special guest will be an outstanding alumnus, Mayor John Cummings '61 of Woonsocket.

This will be a "Seniors Only" supper, with no other guests or students invited. Each table of Seniors will be hosted by a prominent Bryant alumnus or alumna who will be on hand for this traditional event which welcomes Seniors into the Alumni Association.

Co-chairpersons for the supper are Joseph Maceda '59, purchasing agent for the Hedison Manufacturing Company in Providence, and David Jonson '62, treasurer for Mark Steven, Inc. of Woonsocket.

Invitations to this Senior supper will be available in the Alumni Office after Monday, April 8, and an RSVP will be required by April 24.

Student Of The Week

by Kevin C. Smith

Kimberly Bill, better known around campus as "Beal," was chosen as this week's student. Beal is originally from Saginaw, Michigan, however, she is in the process of moving to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Kim, who is a first year medical secretary student said she came to Bryant because she was told it was a good college for her major. Beal since has found she enjoys Bryant's social life, but doesn't care too much for the food.

Beal joined APK sorority this year. She likes to party and swim, which are two things she considers as hobbies.

Kim's philosophy on life consists of three parts which she admits sometimes contradicts itself. First, she feels you should have a good time when you're young. However, you should get the most out of your education, and finally everyone should live one day to the next.

Beal doesn't like the shape of the United States right now

(Nixon, Watergate, and the Energy Crisis.) She says she doesn't know the answers, "But we're too smart to have that happen to us."

Mr. Reinhardt:

A man of many interests

by Lisa Pesanello

For the past six-and-a-half years, Bryant College has had the opportunity of having Mr. Fred Reinhardt as a member of its faculty.

A native of Tiverton, Rhode Island, Mr. Reinhardt is a graduate of the University of Rhode Island, with a degree in mathematics, Wesleyan College, and Purdue University, with a degree in the field of engineering.

Reinhardts' have held major roles in several productions. Currently, Mr. Reinhardt is portraying Flo Zigfield in the East Providence Player's production of "Funny Girl."

Mr. Reinhardt's views concerning mathematics, a field that has been noted to draw very little student interest, are encouraging. When asked to comment on the attitudes of the students he has had the

Before joining the faculty at Bryant College, Mr. Reinhardt had the opportunity to teach mathematics at the United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut. Mr. Reinhardt joined the faculty at Bryant College in the fall of 1966, where he later went on to become Bryant's first Mathematics Department chairperson. Since joining the faculty, Mr. Reinhardt has coached the school's track and cross-country team. While under his direction, the team won the New England I.A.I.E. championship.

This man of many interests resides in Riverside, Rhode Island, with his wife and their four children; in a house that they have furnished with pieces from the Victorian era. Besides collecting antiques, Mr. Reinhardt and his wife are active in several local theatrical groups. In the past few years, the opportunity to teach, Mr. Reinhardt stated, "Being aware of the fact that Bryant students are not the most math orientated students, I feel that by giving them a little confidence in themselves and using a different approach in teaching the subject, they often accomplish things that they themselves didn't think they could do." Mr. Reinhardt feels that the teacher must create a certain type of atmosphere in the classroom that will allow the student to gain as much as possible out of the course. The student who is faced with the problem of selecting calculus, statistic, or pre-algebra courses in the fall may find it worthwhile to look into a course offered by Mr. Reinhardt.

Bryant College is certainly fortunate to have a man of Mr. Reinhardt's optimism and enthusiasm as a member of their faculty.

Ernie DiGregorio, who led the league in assists, has won almost unanimous honors as the National Basketball Association Rookie of the Year. DiGregorio also led the League in free throw percentage while helping spark the Buffalo Braves to a berth in the N.B.A. playoffs. The Buffalo backcourt star polled almost all of the votes in balloting by sportscasters and sportswriters. It was the most lopsided vote since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, then known as Lew Alcindor, was named unanimously in 1970. UPI: 4/4/74.

...Evel Knievel.

(PORTLAND, OREGON)—Motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel has set a new record for a ramp-to-ramp motorcycle leap over 17 cars but his mind is on something more important these days. Knievel says he spends most of his time thinking about that jump he's going to make over Snake River Canyon in Idaho this fall. He's gone so far as to name the date. It'll be September 8. To keep things in focus, he's going to stage a $100,000 motorcycle race the week before he makes the jump. UPI: 4/4/74

NHL PLAYOFFS Continued from Page 12

Canadiens will be avenging their last playoff loss, a frustrating six-game defeat in 1972 to these same Rangers. Philadelphia's high flying Flyers are the class of the West Division and will finish the "first season" with the second-best point total to Boston in the league. The aggressive and talented team captured their first division crown in their history mostly on the strength and finesse of many fine young veterans. Last season's MVP Bobby Clarke, 50 goal scorer Rick MacLeish and "Cowboy" Bill Flett provide a potent offensive attack while goaltender Bernie Parent actively minds the nets. Parent broke the all-time prestigious win record for goalies when he acquired his twelfth shutout of the season. The Flyer's foes are the second-year expansion team, the Atlanta Flames. Under the guidance of Coach Boom Boom Geoffrion the Flames in their playoff debut stand a slim chance of overtaking mighty Philly. Nevertheless Atlanta has a bright future and can progress for years to come. The Black Hawks of Chicago placed in the unaccustomed spot of second this season, after three straight divisional titles under Coach Billy Reay. Chicago's best offensive weapons are Dennis Hull, Jim Pappin and Stan Mikita. Their tireless goaltender, Tony Esposito has compiled the second best goals against average in the NHL this year; aided by reliable defenseman Bill White, they combine to stave off competent puckscorers. Chicago reached the finals last May but bowed to Montreal for the second time in the last three championship rounds. The Hawks should whip the Los Angeles Kings in the opening round but falter to the East team in the semi-finals. The L.A. Kings dramatically rose from sixth place during mid-season to a respectable third at season's conclusion. There predicted uphill struggle against the experience of the Windy City team is primarily attributed to a lack of talent and overall team balance. I personally like the Bruins to crush Toronto in five and the Rangers to edge Montreal in seven, in the first round of the east. Chicago and Philadelphia should easily advance to the second step while pounding their respective foes in five games apiece. The intenseness of Stanley Cup action will be felt throughout the playoffs and particularly during the intra-division confrontations. In the semis I feel the Flyers may live up to their potential and upset the Rangers of Fun City, in six, while Boston bruises the Black Hawks in five rough checking battles. It would be appropriate to see the best two regular season hockey teams go at each other in the finals of the playoffs. The Bruins and Flyers both employ similar tactics on the ice. They are hard-hitting, checking teams, and often take advantage of numerous opportunities which makes their awesome attacks that much better. The Bostonians desire and determination could return the hockey crown to Bruin country when they skate with the unfriendly Flyers in six grueling games.

BOYSCOUTS MERIT RADAR RANGE

Some 140 Boy Scouts and their leaders flunked an outdoor test in cooking and had to repair to the kitchen. The youths tried to barbecue a turkey at a campout near Sandpoint, Idaho, but the bird just wasn't responding to the embers. So—using their ingenuity—they carted the turkey to a nearby ranchhouse where the farmer's wife cooked it in a radar range. Dinner was a success.

WOULD YA LIK E TO BUY A CANALETTO?

Thieves in Trieste, Italy, cut through two panes of glass in a first floor window to enter Miramare Castle. Then they made their way to the throne room, lifted three paintings off the wall and fled. It was a perfectly executed burglary, say police, except for one thing. The paintings they took were 19th century copies of works by Rembrandt and Canaletto. Together all three are worth about $15,300—but that's a far cry from the value of the originals.

"GAS DODGERS"

Robert Bonser of Fairfield, California, decided that selling gasoline in these days of fuel shortages was getting to be a dangerous business, so yesterday he hired two armed guards. He explained that station attendants had been threatened by drivers and that lives had been endangered by what he terms the "antics" of drivers maneuvering to get at the pumps.

SORRY...WRONG NUMBER

Citizens in Lansing, Michigan, keep trying but they just can't get the time of day from City Hall. A new telephone system has been installed in City Hall, and the number assigned to the City Council is only two digits off the telephone number to call for the correct time. As a result, a local telephone company spokesman said, about 40 percent of all the time callers this week have dialed the City Council number instead.

SHADES OF PRIMAL MAN

(Blomington, Indiana)—Cheerleading is a kind of tribal rite akin to the magic rituals primitive people use before going to war, that's the theory of Professor Charles Broiles of Indiana University. He said he was sitting in his office, then at Tulane, when he heard a noise like a tribal exercise from some equatorial culture, in his words. . . "Then I realized I was listening to a pep rally in a nearby sorority house. Since then, I have watched closely and this kind of thing is analogous to the type of thing that goes on with respect to mobilized warfare." Boiles has put this theory into a book called, "Man, Music and Musical Occasions."

THE ONLY WAY TO FLY

Among the things Steve Verzi's parents said when he returned after stowing away on a flight to London was that paying the fare would take "a lot of allowances." But they were wrong. Fifteen -year-old Steve appears to be making a profit. He sold an exclusive story about the flight to a London newspaper for $200...and a television station which paid him $100 for the story promises to send another $100 soon. As for the 380, he would have had to pay for the return trip to Castro Valley, California...Verzi says he and Pan Am have worked out an agreement. If he doesn't tell how he managed to stow away and reach London...Pan Am won't charge him for the flight back.

LOVE ABOVE

Paul Jacobson has abandoned his attempt to break the world flagpole-sitting record. The mark for which he was shooting was 253 days...and a development company was paying him $1,000 a month to sit in a 10-foot by 10-foot room atop a 43-foot pole near Dixon, Illinois. But Jacobson began writing to a woman in Chicago...and love blossomed still fuller with the aid of a telephone installed in his perch. So yesterday the 23-year-old Jacobson gave up...forgoing not only his salary but the prospect of a 25-dollar-a-day bonus for each day he stayed aloft past the record. Says Jacobson... "I'm giving up my throne for the woman I love."

BERMUDA STREAKS

Don't get caught streaking in Bermuda. They put you in jail. Or in Kenya. They expel you—in the condition in which you're apprehended. In Hamilton, Bermuda, where five U.S. college students were sentenced to ten days in jail this week for streaking, officials started handing out warnings today to arriving tourists on the penalties for running around nude. In Nairobi, Kenya, Vice President Daniel Arap Moi called streaking a "foreign culture which is demoralizing and degrading" and said streakers caught in the African nation will be "sent away dressed exactly as they are." In Beardstown, Illinois, police caught their first streaker—identified as 25-year-old Steve Payne. He was accused of taking off his clothes and running for a quarter of a mile barefoot over

NATIONAL LEAGUE 74

by Rich Maged

N.H.L. PLAYOFFS

by Lawrence B. Selvin

The National League is noted for its exciting play. Experts believe that the National League play a better type of baseball. The hitting seems to be stronger and the pitching is starting to become balanced. For the second season in a row the National League has refused to adopt the designated hitter rule.

Last Year's Eastern Division race proved to be the most exciting ever. Four teams were involved in the race during the last week of the season. The New York Mets finally won the division. This season the Pittsburgh Pirates should win. Their improved pitching staff should propel them. The Pirates obtained Ken Brett and Jerry Reuss in off season trades. Both had winning seasons in 1973. Steve Blass, Dock Ellis, Dave Giusti, Ramon Hernandez, and Bob Moose are the veterans of the staff. Manny Sanguillen, who failed to hit .300 for the first time in his career, will return as catcher. Bob Robertson, Rennie Stennett, Jackie Hernandez, and Richie Hebner comprise the infield. The power hitting outfield of Al Oliver, Willie Stargell, and Richie Zisk will return this season. More important it appears the Pirates would rather play for Danny Murtaugh than any other manager.

Despite the New York Mets failure to make an off season trade, their pitching should still be strong enough to finish in second place. Jerry Koonsman, Jon Matlack, Tug McGraw, Harry Parker, Ray Sadeki, Tom Seaver, and George Stone comprise this excellent staff. Jerry Grote is a respectable catcher. John Milner, Ken Boswell, Wayne Garrett, Bud Harrelson, Felix Millan, and Ed Kranepool are average infielders. Don Kahn, Cleon Jones, Rusty Staub, and George Theodore will share the outfield chores. Manager Yogi Berra will have to get the hitting to repeat as champs.

Gene Mauch believes this is the best Montreal Expo team he has ever managed. The team is still young and learning. This team could prove to be exciting. Ernie McAnally, Steve Renko, Bill Stoneman, Steve Rogers, Chuck Taylor, and Tom Walker are the returning pitchers. John Boccabella will resume as the catcher. The infield made up of Bob Bailey, Hal Breeden, Tim Foli, Pepe Frias, Ron Hunt, and Mike Jorgenson isn't that bad. Willie Davis will help in the outfield along with Boots Day, Ron Fairly, Ken Singleton, and Ron Woods.

Poor trading will make the St. Louis Cardinals no better than a fourth place finisher in 1974. The pitching staff was weakened. Bob Gibson is now 38 years old. John Curtis, Alan Foster, Lynn Mc Glothen, Sonny Siebert, and Ken Tatum are no better than .500 pitchers. Ted Simmons is the most underrated catcher in baseball. Tim McCarver, Ted Sizemore, Joe Torre, and Mike Tyson will battle for infield positions. Lou Brock, Jose Cruz, and Reggie Smith will open the season in the outfield. Manager Red Schoendienst hopes Smith left his poor attitude in Boston.

Exit Ron Santo, Ferguson Jenkins, Glenn Beckertt, Randy Hundley, and Jim Hickman, enter the youth. This is the cry in Chicago. The Cubs will tumble to fifth place. Their pitching staff made up of Bill Bonham, Burt Hooten, Dave LaRoche, Milt Pappas, Mike Paul, Horacio Pina, Rick Reuschel, and Steve Stone is poor. George Mitterwald will catch. Carmen Franzone, Vic Harris, Don Kessinger, and Paul Popovich is only an average infield. Jose Cardenal, Rick Monday, Jerry Morales, and Billy Williams are the strength of the team in the outfield. Manager Whitey Lockman has his work cut out for him.

Philadelphia's Phillies will need an improved year from Steve Carlton if they are to go anywhere this season. George Culver, Frank Linzy, Jim Lonborg, Ron Schueler, and Eddie Watt are other Phillie hurlers. Bob Boone is their improving catcher. Second baseman Dave Cash, acquired in an off season deal, should beef up the infield, along with Larry Bowa, Bill Grabarkewitz, Willie Montanez, and Tony Taylor. Manager Danny Ozark is blessed with young outfielders. Mike Anderson, Greg Luzinski, Bill Robinson, and Del Unser. A last place finish is in sight for Philadelphia again.

The Cincinnati Reds improved pitching staff should enable them to repeat as Western Division champions. Potential 20 game winner Clay Kirby was acquired from San Diego during the off season. Jack Billingham, Pedro Borbon, Clay Carroll, Don Gullet, Tom Hall, and Fred Norman are the remaining Reds pitchers. The great Johnny Bench will resume his catching position. Darrell Chaney, Dave Concepcion, Dan Driessen, Dennis Menke, Joe Morgan, and Tony Perez are the familiar Red infielders. Merv Rettenmund should solve the Reds right field problems. Pete Rose, Cesar Geronimo, Ken Griffey will be the other outfielders. What more can Sparky Anderson ask for?

If the Los Angeles Dodgers can hit consistently, they could seriously challenge the Reds for the division title. Their pitching is set. Jim Brewer, Al Downing, Tommy John, Mike Marshall, Andy Messersmith, and Don Sutton make up the staff. Joe Ferguson is an able catcher. Bill Buckner, Ron Cey, Steve Garvey, Dave Lopes, Ken McMullen, and Bill Russell will compete for starting infield positions. Willie Crawford, Von Joshua, Manny Mota, and Jimmy Wynn are Walter Alston's respectable outfielders. The Dodgers must hit all season.

Manager Charlie Fox's San Francisco Giants are in desperate need of pitching. Jim Barr, Tom Bradley, Ron Bryant, Randy Moffitt, Elias Sosa, and Jim Willoughby will not win any division championships. Catching needs improvement. It appears Dave Rader has the inside shot at the job. Tito Fuentes, Ed Goodson, Dave Kingman, and Chris Speier are the Giants infielders. Bobby Bonds and the three Gary's, Maddox, Matthews, and Thomasson represent the Giant outfield.

Will the Houston Astros once again do their annual flop? The odds are in their favor. Each season this team is rated high by the experts. This year's team is no exception. Claude Osteen, acquired from the Dodgers during the off season could become the Astros number one starter. Manager Preston Gomez will have to obtain good performances from Larry Dierker, Ken Forsch, J. R. Richard, Dave Roberts, and Don Wilson. Milt May, another off season acquisition should beef up the catching situation. Tommy Helms, Lee May, Roger Metzger, and Doug Rader are a well balanced infield. Astro fans hope Cesar Cedeño will overcome his off the field antics and resume as a great outfielder. Bob Gallagher and Bob Watson are the other outfielders.

Henry Aaron and the powermen is the name of the game for the Atlanta Braves. Their pitching leaves much to be desired. Jack Aker, Cari Morton, Roric Harrison, Barry Lersch, and Phil Niekro must carry the load. Johnny Oates must improve the plate. Dick Dietz, Darrell Evans, Davey Johnson, and Marty Perez make up the powerful infield.

"Hammerin'" Hank is in the outfield along with Mike Lum and Ralph Garr. Manager Eddie Matthews Braves are a mystery. They are capable of scoring 10 runs and losing. This is the reason for their fifth place finish.

Big names dominate the San Diego Padres roster. These former greats were acquired at the expense of fine young pitchers in order to increase attention. The move will result in a sixth place finish. The pitching chores will be handled by Steve Arlin, Bill Greif, Jim McAndrew, and Gary Ross. Fred Kendall is an adequate catcher. Glenn Beckert, Nate Clobert, Willie McCovey, Dave Roberts, and Derrel Thomas will battle for infield positions. Bobby Tolan, Matty Alou, Clarence Gaston, and John Griubb should alternate in the infield. San Diego is the hall of fame team in major league baseball.

The most traditional and suspenseful of the sporting world's playoff competition commences on Wednesday night April 10. Hockey's annual battle for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of National Hockey League's supreme team, comprise the four best teams in both the Eastern and Western Divisions. The superior East enters four formidable representatives: Boston, Montreal, New York and Toronto. The relatively inexperienced West will boast Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles and Atlanta.

The pairings for each of the three rounds is as follows: quarterfinals match the first and fourth place teams within each division. The runners-up oppose the third place finishers, also in the first round. The winner of the Boston-Toronto series competes with the survivor of the Chicago-L.A. western division clash, in the semi-final round. Likewise the Montreal-New York and Philadelphia-Atlanta victors will rival each other in the other second round collision. Finally the winners from each bracket play for the 1973-74 championship. All playoff rounds are best out of seven and conclude in mid-May.

Perennial first place (regular season) conquerors, the Boston Bruins must be considered the favorites to bring the Cup back to Beantown. They reigned as the champs in the 1972 and 1970 playoffs, defeating the Rangers and St. Louis Blues respectively. The Bruins are lead by center Phil Esposito five-time scoring champion, Ken Hodge and the incomparable offensive-minded defenseman Bobby Orr. Orr had been voted the top award at his position for each one of his six years in the league, besides being merited as MVP twice. They will face a surprisingly improved Toronto Maple Leaf squad, directed by Centers Dave Keon and Norm Ullman. The previous two playoff encounters between these clubs produced convincing Bruin triumphs.

Probably the hottest contested match of any in the first round will occur when the Canadiens tangle with the Rangers. Montreal as the defending champions rely upon goalscorers Yvan Cournoyer, Frank and Peter Mahovlich and ageless veteran Henri Richard on offense. The Frenchmen's defense is held together by All-Star Guy Lapointe and Jacques Laperriere. These two must play superb defensive hockey to compensate for Montreal's two inexperienced goalies in order to stay with the consistent New Yorkers. The Rangers possess an amazing coherence, as they qualified for post-season play for the eighth time in succession. Not since the 1939-40 season has New York been able to string thee straight series victories in the playoffs. Emile "The Cat" Francis has once again assumed the double role of Coach in addition to his General Manager post. Francis regrouped the Ranger team after former-coach Larry Popein left the club while in the midst of an early season slump. The Rangers have two solid lines in the Ratelle, Gilbert, Hadfield trio, and Tkaczuk, Fairbairn, Vickers triumphant. The injury-riddled defensive unit is steadied by workhorse Brad Park, Dale Rolfe and Rod Seiling. This initial round meeting should witness fast skating and high scoring in a seven game decision.
