"Caught In The Villain's Web" Keeps Audience In Uproar

Bryant Acquires New Property For Men's Dorm

By Steve Kelly

Bryant College, as part of its development program, recently purchased a Charlesfield Street apartment house which is known to most of the student body. Located directly across the street from Memorial Hall, the building will be revamped in the near future. By September, there will be 55 male students living in it.

The layout will consist of 15 rooms with three students to a room and a complete bathroom for each room of three occupants. There will be two rooms with four students to one bathroom. Naturally, these two rooms will be larger than the others and there will be more room for the residents in these two as compared with the other fifteen rooms. The housemother will reside on the first floor of the dorm. There will be a reception room for lady visitors, complete with a powder room.

In regard to alterations, the whole unit will be repainted and relighted. The cement floors will be recovered with tile that harmonizes with the paint scheme. The bath tubs will be removed and stall showers will be put in. The closets in the main room will be removed to provide for more living room for the students.

In the front of the building, there will be some moderate changes which will include a new set of doors. The building will have a new paint job similar to that of South Hall.

The question of handling the dining problem has been solved by cutting down the commuter enrollment for September by the number of students that will be residing in the new dorm. This will alleviate a lot of the expected confusion in the cafeteria during lunch period. The total enrollment will not increase. However, the ratio of commuter to dorm students will change slightly.

All things considered, the residents of the dorm will really have a fine place in which to live. Bryant College has made a wise investment for the future.

In-Course Scholarships Announced for 1964

With the beginning of the spring semester, once again Bryant College offers scholarships for students who need financial aid. Here is the opportunity to lighten the cost of your education. The following scholarships are available:

IN-COURSE SCHOLARSHIPS

The following scholarships are now available:

John Logan Allan Scholarships

Two scholarships of $450.00 each to members of the Business Administration Department who have been enrolled for at least one year.

Trustees Scholarship Award

This fund established by the Board of Trustees of Bryant College. Two scholarships of $450 each are made available each year. One to a member of the Business Administration Department who has been enrolled for at least one year; one to a member of the Secretarial Department who has been enrolled for at least one semester.

Harriett E. Jacobs Scholarships

Six scholarships of $250.00 each to members of the Secretarial Department who have been enrolled for at least one semester.

These scholarships for use during the academic year 1964-65. The basis for selection of the recipients of these awards is scholarship, future promise, and financial need.

Jeannette Carroll Jacobs Memorial Fund

The income from a fund of $25,000 given by the late Henry L. Jacobs, President Emeritus of Bryant College, in memory of Jeannette Carroll Jacobs, provides scholarships to worthy students. Two scholarships of $250 each are made available this year.

Felix A. Miranda Scholarship

$100.00 to a first-year student in Business Administration Department who has demonstrated seriousness of purpose, competency in business subjects, and the study and work attitudes necessary for executive leadership.

Applications available at the Records Office, South Hall, beginning Monday, March 16, 1964. Completed applications to be turned in to the Registrar in South Hall by 3:00 p. m., Wednesday, April 1, 1964.

Aftermath of Blizzard

The unexpected snow fall of Wednesday, February 19, caused the cancellation of afternoon classes. However, the pledges of Kappa Tau Fraternity didn't find it hard to keep busy as they built a twelve foot snow man in back of South Hall. A twenty-four hour guard by the pledges thwarted several attempts by outside factions to topple the snow man.

Winners of Dance Contest

Mike Tull and Chy Basso display winning form in the dance contest at KT's Kapers on Saturday, February 22. The dance was actually a replacement dance for Turkey Trot, which was originally scheduled for November 22 but which was postponed out of respect for the late President Kennedy. Music for the evening was provided by the inmates.

The house lights were down, the apron was decorated with nineteenth century footlights, victorian furniture ornamented the stage, and Professor David Brook's lucky painting was in place. Strange nineteenth century music echoed through the gymnasium, and the Masquer's production of "Caught in the Villain's Web" began.

STAFF FOR THE PRODUCTION

The production Crew had done a fine job of creating a mood apropos to the period suggested by the play. The properties committee consisting of Ellen Bain, Howard Paskow, and Paul Lindemann had ferreted out all the unusual furnishings and arranged their strange assortments on stage. Posters and flyers had been distributed by the members of the program and publicity committee, Lesley Fleischer, Marie Roton-do, Llyod Sauer, and Paula Swanson. With interest in the play at a premium, the cast added the final touch by appearing in costume in the dining hall and snack bar. Mr. Arthur Peace had rouged, powdered, and painted the actors until they looked the picture of the parts they played. As the cast filed down the center aisle dividing the audience, Warren Corin highlighted them with the spotlight.

CAST FOR THE PRODUCTION

The play concerned the trials and tribulations of Felicity Fair, a pure and innocent heroine with a past she cannot recall. Judy Candelet played Felicity Fair. The hero, Dudley Doright, Victor Muschiano, falls head over heels in love with Felicity and vows to pry open her forgotten past. He is determined to make her his wife. The situation is further complicated by the appearance of Nella Hargrave, the woman scorned. She resolves to snare Dudley for a husband and thus gain control over his money. Carol Nulman portrayed Nella.

Nella enlists the aid of Dudley's domineering mother, Regina Doright. Regina feigns a weak heart to gain Dudley's sympathy. She uses this sympathy to try to persuade Dudley to forget Felicity and marry Nella. Lesley Fleischer played Regina Doright. Nella's mother Geraldine, Lynne Novack in reality, is also a gold digger and all in favor of Dudley's marrying Nella. Dudley's little sister, Lona, (Continued on Page 3)

Behind the Scenes

Mr. Arthur Peace, make-up man, puts finishing touches on Judy Candelet just before she portrays Felicity Fair in Herbert E. Swayne's "Caught in the Villain's Web." Felicity Fair, the heroine, is also the nurse who takes care of Mrs. Doright. Mrs. Doright is a domineering mother playing cupid for her son.

On Stage

(L. to R.) Carol Nulman (Nella Hargrave), Victor Muschiano (Dudley Doright), and Lesley Fleischer (Mrs. Regina Doright) in a tense scene on stage. The riotous "Meller-Drammer" in three acts was presented in the Bryant College Auditorium on Monday evening, February 24.

Student Senate Highlights

By Jeff Bulman

Dick Haines called the eleventh Student Senate meeting to order on February 17, 1964. The first order of old business was Mr. Hathaway's financial report on Winter Weekend. There was a net loss of $440. Lack of participation on the part of you, the students, could very easily cause the weekend affair to be discontinued. I would like all those of you who did not go to please send me a note stating your reason for not attending. (I've heard the financial angle.) On a better note, Mr. Hathaway reported that both Rocky Point and the police complimented the "Bryant students as being one of the most well-behaved college groups." (Note: Look for a notice for the sale of extra Winter Weekend favors.)

Bob Corin showed the Senate a blazer which would be worn by all Senators to help students identify the Senators. Because of the long wait involved and red tape on the money appropriations, another form of recognition will be looked into.

In regard to new business, Stephen DiStefano reported a successful Class of '67 meeting. A boat trip is in the planning stage. And Sue Smith, Veep of '66, said that her class did not turn out for their meeting in as great numbers as had been expected.

John Adams proposed a new amendment. The Senate representative must attend at least 60% of the meetings and the official alternate, the other 40%. I hope all the Senate representatives took this motion back to their organizations so as to enable their members to vote on the issue.

Bryant's Alumni Council held a meeting at which Dick Haines reported on the organizational activities at school. The President of the Alumni Council may speak at the next student meeting. Jerry Houghton is the new senior class representative on the Council.

A new semester is well under way. To make this the best semester your Student Senate needs full student support and cooperation. Let your organization chairman know your views on present Senate business and a stronger, more highly respected Student body will result.

G.L.C. Highlights

By Jeff Bulman

At the eleventh meeting of the G.L.C., President Pete Castelli got right down to business. Mr. Hathaway again stressed the seriousness of pledging and of the responsibilities of all in making sure that pledging come off with no terrible incidents. Because of the snow storm, the pledges did not go to the Nathanael Greene Home. When the weather clears, it would be a nice gesture for all the fraternities and sororities to send members there for a one or two day clean-up session.

Bruce Wilson, representative from the Student Senate Review Committee, attended this meeting. I'm sure he found the G.L.C. a well organized and efficient organization.

A motion was tabled as to the dissolution of social pledging. To look into the pros and cons of social pledging, a committee was set up. Their report will be heard before any final vote will be taken on the issue.

Start saving your money as the members of Phi Sigma Nu has already begun work on their Miss Bryant Pageant.

The problem of ex-varsity and JV-players participating in intrafraternal competition will be solved by curbing such activities if a person's name appears on the Varsity or JV roster on the date of the first varsity game.

The effectiveness of the G.L.C. lies in the hands of the individual fraternities and their members. If the fraternity and sorority presidents give their respective organizations a chance to vote on current G.L.C. business, a much more unified and much stronger Greek system will result.

The Brothers of Phi Sigma Nu are in the midst of planning the Fourth Annual Miss Bryant Pageant to be held Friday, March 13, in the Main Ballroom at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

This event will be held on Thursday, March 12, in the Bryant Auditorium.

"Miss Bryant of 1964" will be crowned at the Biltmore on Friday evening followed by awards presented to Miss Congeniality and to the individual candidates. Dancing will be to the music of Tony Abbott.

Miss Bryant will then represent Bryant College at the Miss Rhode Island Pageant.

The Brothers of PHI SIGMA NU cordially invite all to attend this "GALA AFFAIR."

A GUIDE FOR THE GUIDERS

One of the most interesting academic theories advanced in many a long year has recently been advanced by that interesting academic theorist, E. Pluribus Ewbank, Ph. D. who holds the chair of Interesting Academic Theories at the St. Louis College of Footwear and Educational Philosophy. Dr. Ewbank said in the last issue of the learned journal, the Mount Rushmore Guide to Scholastic Advancement and Presidents' Heads, that we might be approaching the whole problem of student guidance from the wrong direction.

Dr. Ewbank, a highly respected pedagogue and a lifelong smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes, (I mention Marlboros for two reasons: first, to indicate the scope of Dr. Ewbank's brainpower. Out of all the dozens of brands of cigarettes available today, Dr. Ewbank has had the wit and taste to pick the one with the most flavorful flavor, the most filtracious filter, the most soft soft pack, the most flip top Flip Top box: I refer, of course, to Marlboro. The second reason I mention Marlboro is that I get paid to mention Marlboro in this column, and the laborer, you will agree, is worthy of his hire.)

But I digress. To return to Dr. Ewbank's interesting theory, he contends that most college guidance counselors are inclined to take the easy way out. That is to say, if a student's aptitude tests show a talent for, let us say, math, the student is encouraged to major in math. If his tests show an aptitude for poetry, he is directed toward poetry. And so forth.

She set the entire math department abog

All wrong, says Dr. Ewbank. The great breakthroughs, the startling innovations in, let us say, math, are likely to be made not by mathematicians—whose thinking, after all, is constrained by rigid rules and principles—but by mavericks, by nonconformists, by intuitors who refuse to fall into the rut of reason. For instance, set a poet to studying math. He will bring a fresh, unfettered mind to the subject, just as a mathematician will bring the same kind of approach to poetry.

By way of evidence, Dr. Ewbank cites the case of Cipher Binary, a youth who entered college with brilliant test scores in physics, chemistry, and the calculus. But Dr. Ewbank forced young Cipher to major in poetry.

The results were astonishing. Here, for example, is young Cipher's latest poem, a love lyric of such originality that Lord Byron springs to mind. I quote:

He was her logarithm,
She was his cosine.
Taking their dog with 'em,
They hastened to go sign
Marriage vows which they joyfully shared,
And wood and wed and pi r squared.

Similarly, when a freshman girl named Elizabeth Barrett Sigafoos came to Dr. Ewbank to seek guidance, he ignored the fact that she had won the Pulitzer prize for poetry when she was eight, and insisted she major in mathematics. Again the results were startling. Miss Sigafoos has set the entire math department agog by flatly refusing to believe that six times nine is 54. If Miss Sigafoos is correct, we will have to re-think the entire science of numbers and—who knows?—possibly open up vistas as yet undreamed of in mathematics.

Dr. Ewbank's unorthodox approach to student guidance has so impressed his employers that he was fired last week. He is currently selling beaded moccasins at Mount Rushmore.

Something Else

By F. Robert Else

As the days begin to grow longer, the basketball season begins to grow shorter. The Indians, as of this writing, have five games to play. Bryant has an 8-10 record.

Initially, let's bring things up to date. Since the Davisville game, Nasson College was defeated in the last 2 seconds by a 27-foot shot by newcomer Mike Aragao. Bryant won 72-71.

The next game Bryant fought hard but lost to an extremely accurate-shooting team — they shot well over 60%—from Curry College on their home court. Bryant lost 89-85.

Wednesday, February 12, Bryant traveled to Boston to play Suffolk University. Suffolk won 90-80.

Bryant again went on the road to play Nichols College of Dudley, Mass. (Nichols College basketball team defeated Bryant 92-81.) Once again Bryant's defense fell short.

On Tuesday, February 18, Tom Smile scored 32 points for Bryant as the team easily defeated Curry College 93-69.

On Babson's home court Bryant defeated Babson Institute 103-86. Bryant came alive both offensively and especially defensively. With 12:41 remaining in the first half Bryant jumped to a 7-point lead. At half time the score was Bryant 50, Babson 43. The seven-point advantage continued until there was but 8:04 remaining in the second half. Coach Shannon was not sure of the outcome until there was only 2:53 remaining. At this time Coach Shannon substituted freely. Mike Aragao was high with 33 while Tom Smile followed with 30. Bryant won 103-86. Bryant now has an 8-10 record.

Batter Up!

By F. Robert Else

Last week Coach Camper announced that the 1964 varsity baseball season will get under way on Monday, March 2. All candidates are requested to report to the Bryant College Gymnasium at 3:00. Coach Camper will explain the schedule and practice sessions for the coming season. For the most part during the first weeks everyone will be hard at work to get in shape. All practice sessions, for the first several weeks, will be held in the Bryant College Gymnasium from 3:00 to about 5:00.

About March 21 emphasis will be placed on the conditioning of pitchers and catchers. Then when the weather gets cooperative the team will begin practice at the New Bryant College Athletic Field located just off Gano street.

Coach Camper wants to make clear to everyone that all positions are open. Returning lettermen, Chet Janik, Barry Seigel (batting average .444 for 11 games), Lyle Wendell, Robert Barker, Ronald Silva, Richard Smith, and Mel Santos, will form the nucleus of Coach Camper's 1964 team which is out to better its first year won-lost record of 6-5.

AO Leads As Second Semester Begins

By Chuck Grundman

Alpha Omicron continues to set the pace in the Bryant Ten Pin League. Led by John Lemme, AO is still proving that consistent bowling is the secret to success. As of this week they are in first place by only two points. This shows that they will have to continue this type of bowling if they hope to win the championship.

On the individual side, Bill Carter of TE still leads with a 182 average. It doesn't look like anyone will be able to catch him. Some of the other individual records will probably fall between now and the end of the season, though. They were made to be broken.

Matches on the 12th

Beta Sigma Chi 3, Wildcats 1
Led by Chuck Grundman and Jim Summa, Beta defeated the Wildcats in a hard fought battle. Ed Suchecki was high for the Wildcats but Jean Brodeur, of Beta, proved too much in the final game.

Four Patches 3, Tau Epsilon 1
Led by Jim Noone and Lenny Grunin with 513 and 503 respectively the four Patches posted a 3-1 victory over TE; Bill Carter once again led TE with a 502 series.

Barber House 4, Alpha Omicron 0
Barber House led by Roger Flock surprised the league leaders and defeated them 4-0. AO was again led by John Lemme, but his efforts proved fruitless.

Phi Sigma Nu 4, Kappa Tau 0
Phi Sig moved into second place by defeating KT. Barry Siegal led the way for Phi Sig with 522. Bill Maguire, a new Pledge, paced KT.

Beta Iota Beta 4, Pinboys 0
BIB moved to within three points of the leaders with a crushing victory over the Pin Boys. Joe Scarpelli with a 527 was high for BIB, while Pete Brown led the Pin Boys with a 496 series.

New Intercollegiate Sport Formed

By F. Robert Else

There is something new in the wind. Bryant Athletic Department has been contemplating beginning a varsity golf team. Mr. Boulet, professor of Biology, has been working very hard to try to develop the sport at Bryant. Mr. Boulet has made contact with several area golf courses to make arrangements for both practice and match play. If all goes well, Bryant will have a varsity golf team. This sport is a natural for the graduate of a business college: there is a great deal of business transacted on the golf course in this fast moving economy.

There is a strong possibility that if Bryant accepts an offer to enter the Southern New England Conference, Bryant will enter a golf team in the Conference competition.

Several years ago Mr. Gaucher, professor of Accounting, organized and ran a golf league under the intramural department. It was organized on a pay-as-you-go basis. Each person who entered the league paid his own way. The new varsity golf program will be handled by the Bryant College Athletic Association.

Mr. Boulet says that this is the first time Bryant has had definite plans to begin a varsity golf team. Further plans will be discussed in the next issue of the ARCHWAY. Anyone who has a handicap of 15 or less is requested to stop in to see Mr. Boulet in his biology laboratory located in the basement of Kilcup Hall.

Ski Club

By Bill Carter

During the mid-semester break, several of the Ski Club members took advantage of the free time to do some concentrated skiing. Among these were 6 hardy skiers and some guests who whiled away the week at Mount Snow in Vermont. The conditions were just fair until Tuesday morning when 20 inches of snow were found lying around. Also, some fine home-cooked meals were prepared.

Three of the members entered the giant slalom Standard Race on Thursday; one of them—the writer—was fortunate enough to squeeze under the wire in time to win a bronze medal. The Club's official photographer, Bruce Nourie, finally realized that a camera operates most efficiently when it is loaded with film.

played by Sally Foote, seems to be the only one on Dudley's side. Lona is fearful about her mother's health but tries weakly to aid Dudley.

Dr. Hugo Belch, Regina's mercenary quack physician, tries vainly to attract the interest of all women he sees. Belch, according to orders, diagnoses Regina's false illness as a very weak heart. The family's petite French maid, Denise, played by Ellen Bain, was the ideal nineteenth century servant. Now our villain, Snidely Whiplash, played by Bill Chamberlain, now makes his entrance. He schemes to gain Lona's hand in marriage by claiming to be Felicity's long lost husband. In this way he hopes to get Regina on his side.

During the first half, the game was nip-and-tuck. At half time, Bryant led by 10. In the second half Emerson came on strong but fell short in spite of their effort. Bryant built a 20-point lead. Coach Earl Shannon began to substitute freely. The second squad held Emerson to the final spread of 19 points.

Smile was high man with 28 points, Aragao netted 23 and Ted Alsup 15, for the winners. The next games scheduled, as the Archway went to press were against Bentley at Hope High, and a Saturday tilt, to begin at 8:00, against Barrington at Barrington.

From all indications the tennis singles have been a wonderful success. Bob Else, I. M. Athletic Director, feels that more people will enter the doubles that will be offered in the spring.

Whiplash uses the Doright butler, Brockton, John Wilson, as a pawn in his scheme. Brockton has a past and Whiplash threatens to expose him if he does not do his bidding. Whiplash tries to kill Regina, Felicity, and Dudley; Dudley tries to kill Whiplash; Regina tries to marry off to Whiplash; Nella tries vainly to become wedded to Dudley and finally Brockton kills Whiplash. As in all good "meller-drammas" all's well that ends well. Our villain ends up dead; Nella ends up thwarted, and Felicity and Dudley end up together.

The players did a fine job and their efforts were well received by an enthusiastic audience. About 325 persons attended. The Masquers 1964 production, "Caught in the Villain's Web" directed by Professor David M. Brooks, Jr., was a huge success.

Bryant College Business Study Tour

A talk will be given and slides will be shown on campus the evening of Wednesday, March 4. All students and friends interested in the study tour are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in Memorial Hall.

At present there are four students from Bryant enrolled and three students from other colleges. For an application and further information see Mr. Camper.

This tour has been designed for a small group of students, just enough to fill our own private motorcoach. The countries selected, the cities and sights, are of the nature of greatest interest and educational value for those interested in business and industry.

Cultural values are of importance, but of even greater importance is to get to meet and know the people of other lands to gain a better understanding of them, and they of us. European students will be our hosts in several major cities.

The rise of the Common Market and the imminent lowering of our tariffs under the recently passed Trade Expansion Act means that we must learn to compete with European industry. And what better way is there to compete than to visit and study European business and industry on the spot and to talk with business leaders there?

Stops at sports and recreation centers have been planned so that we may relax in a good atmosphere. Good clean hotels are used and excellent food provided. In Rome, London and Paris lunch is omitted for greater flexibility of movement. Our boat trip over is planned for fun and relaxation while getting acquainted on the world's largest passenger vessel, the SS QUEEN ELIZABETH. At the end of the tour we return by air.

Scheduled programs are provided throughout the tour, and supervision will be provided at all times. The tour leader is a professional educator and he will lead, not merely guide. It must be clearly understood that his decisions are final and all must agree to abide by these decisions.

Pleasure and education go hand in hand. Simple pleasures are usually of a more lasting value. We propose a good balance in modest circumstances at the lowest possible charge.
