Have You Been to The World's Fair?

By F. Robert Else

On Saturday, June 13, Mr. Wallace Camper chaperoned a group of 43 students to the World's Fair. These students are members of his classes in Introduction to Geography and Economic Geography.

The bus left in front of the Administration Building at 6:45, June 13. For the low cost of $7.25, which included the $2.00 admission ticket to the fair, Mr. Camper had no trouble filling the bus.

No set tour for the passengers was arranged. Each person was able to go his way. At the end of the day everyone met the bus promptly at 8:00.

Mr. Camper said that he would be willing to take another group on July 18 if enough people make reservations to fill a bus. He said, "I must get 42 people before all would be ready. I must have a $3.00 deposit no later than Thursday, June 25, in order to confirm the bus reservation and pick up the tickets." Seats and tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Anyone interested should fill in the form below.

MR. WALLACE CAMPER
Bryant College
Providence, R. I.

Please include me as a member of the bus group to the World's Fair leaving from Bryant College at 6:30 A.M. on July 18 and leaving the fair to return to Bryant at 8:00 P.M. The bus will arrive at the Bryant Campus about 12:00. It is understood that if for any reason the trip does not materialize, all deposits will be refunded and the sponsors of this trip assume no further responsibility for providing transportation or admission to the fair.

I leave with you $3.00 as a deposit to be applied to the full price of $8.00 which includes round trip to the fair and admission. In the event the trip has to be cancelled, I understand that the entire amount paid in by me will be refunded. I further understand that the operator of this trip has no further responsibility in providing transportation or admission to the fair beyond the original offer.

Signed.....

A Week in the Office of Senator Pell

During the week of May 18 two Bryant students, Dolores Sudol and Robert McDowell went to Washington, D.C., on the intern program. This program has been set up to give promising college students and residents of Rhode Island a chance to get first-hand knowledge about the actual operation of the Federal Government and of the political field itself.

The time was divided up so that the students were always on the go. Generally the mornings were spent in attending House and Senate committee hearings. Miss Sudol and Mr. McDowell heard a couple of very lively and controversial matters debated Washington-style, such as, prayers in public schools, the proposed Becker amendment, and increased budgets for the Department of State.

They were fortunate, also to hear the Secretary of Labor, William Wertz, the Assistant Secretary of State, the governor of Maryland, Senator McClellan, Senator Margaret Chase Smith, and in the Senate, other Washington notables who were beautifully talking about nothing—filibustering.

Much of the time was spent running to the Senate on live Quorum calls and trying to keep up with the sprinting Senators who were also on the run. There were many such calls during the day because during the continuing filibuster, in the Senate, the number present in the chamber kept dwindling and had to be brought back to a quorum.

In the Senator's office, the Bryant students were given the red-carpet treatment and shown everything. The three departments of the office—legislative, case work, and constituent work—were explained along with the opportunity to see and participate in their operation.

The Senator's special interest—youth—and his national youth program was of particular interest as it should be to all the youth of America. The Senator is trying to help young people in their ever-hardening problems with education, employment, and security. He has done and is continuing to do a tremendous amount of research and work in this area.

Being in Washington afforded also the opportunity to see many of the buildings and monuments that are so often heard about and that seem so distant. Among those visited were the Supreme Court, the Capitol the White House, Arlington Cemetery, The Library of Congress, Washington Monument (to the top), Jefferson Memorial, the Pentagon, and several night spots.

Throughout the week's stay in Washington, the interns were constantly busy with a wide range of new experiences that will always be clear in their memories.

Coach Duffy To Attend Coaches' Clinic

By F. Robert Else

Bryant's new basketball coach, Thomas Duffy, plans to attend Kutsher's Seventh Annual National Coaches' Clinic at Monticello, New York, this month. Coach Duffy told this reporter that the Clinic promises to be the best clinic of its type in the eastern area. Basketball has always been a big item at the Kutsher Clinic. This Clinic has assembled the sharpest basketball strategists to lecture and demonstrate the fine points of the game. Coaches George Ireland, Loyola of Chicago, Bob Davis, George town Kentucky College, John Kraft, Villanova, Vic Badas, Duke University, and Joseph Mullaney, Providence College, are just a few of the lecturers to attend.

The program will begin Monday, June 22 and end on Friday, June 26. The program will be well balanced between offense and defense. Each lecturer has a pet offense or defense he will pass on to those who attend.

The refinements of the game are the main interests of Coach Duffy. He feels that he will be able to make many important contacts to aid him in his work this fall. Basketball and the development of the Bryant College Basketball program are the two most important thoughts on Coach Duffy's mind these days.

Placement Bureau

A small percentage of July Seniors have yet to apply for the services of the Placement Office. Please be reminded that if you have not yet been to the Placement Office that you are cordially invited to take advantage of the services offered.

At this time of the year, especially direct leads for specific positions are becoming available. Such leads are called in or mailed to the Placement Office from companies basically located in the Southern New England area. In addition, national corporations outside of this area are still in need of graduating seniors.

How can you tell a quality college from an average college? It is difficult to realize a hard, absolute answer to this question; but the United States Office of Education set forth 21 points as a guide for judging the quality of a college. These new methods can be found in a publication entitled "What Standards do We Raise?"

Many of the standards would be difficult to use as a distinct yardstick, but others do deal with details. Some suggest, for example, that quality colleges require an average of 30 to 45 hours of out-of-class work for their students, offer few remedial courses, have a high circulation rate in their libraries, and provide a strong group of subjects that are required of all students.

One of the most interesting standards pointed out was the one showing emphasis on teaching designed to stimulate the student to think out problems through directed discussion, independent study, and problem-oriented instruction. Just the restating of facts learned in a book is not the best method.

Let's be truthful—Bryant's image to the general public is changing. Although Bryant has been in business for over 100 years, Bryant has done more in the field of education and athletics during the past few years than at any other time in its long history. The accreditation outlook has helped. The entire school, administrators, professors, and students have been working hard to gain a rightful recognition in the eyes of the world of education. Keep up the outstanding work. This change in outlook has come from those who have graduated and will come from those persons who are honestly trying to make this a better place for all of us.

You can decide for yourself the status of Bryant College by analyzing some of the standards cited by Dr. Winslow R. Hatch Director of the Clearinghouse Project. The following is a portion taken from the publication:

"A quality college is determined to defend vigilantly principles of academic freedom.

"Scholarship is viewed in quality colleges as not an end in itself but as a means to improve the faculty member as a teacher. Teachers should be compensated for their performance in the classroom rather than for their ability to publish.

"A quality college makes an impact on its students.

"The measure of what a college does for its students is reflected not so much in what it does for its best students as in what it does for the whole range of students, from good to poor."

Bryant does have the new look!

Two out! Tense moment in the Faculty-Student game, which was won by the teachers ... the "Nine Old Men."

Quite a crowd turned out to see what the results of a game between teachers and students would be. Contrary to expectations, the faculty team won.

Chi Gam in Lead With 4-0 Record

By Robert Gorman

Chi Gam 30 — Sigma Lambda Pi 0
Chi Gam continued to roll along by whipping the boys from SLP thirty to zip. A double by Tony Nobrega spoiled Artie Silva's bid for a no-hit, no-run game. As matters stood, however Artie struck out seven men and allowed only one ball out of the infield as he posted the only shutout of the present softball season. Chi Gam banged twenty-seven hits in four innings. Bruce Vittner and Paul Lindemann hit home runs and Lindemann had a perfect day at the plate with five hits in five times at bat. Art Silva collected four hits while Dick Bartels, Bibby Martin, Ray Coccio and Vittner had three hits apiece. Chi Gam scored twelve runs in the first inning and all but settled the issue as they sent seventeen men to the plate who collected nine hits. Silva struck out five of the first six men to face him, and it was quite evident that this was not SLP's day. (For that matter, no day seems to be their day!)

KT 22 — Sigma Lambda Pi 2
In the second game of this action-packed twin bill, SLP tightened up their 'defense' and allowed KT only twenty-two runs on nineteen hits including four KT homers. Craig Maine, Charlie Wood, Larry Reed, and Guzzzy Perrault hit for the circuit while ten of the twelve men

KT used had at least one hit. The only bright spot of the day for SLP was a lead-off home run by Tony Nobrega in the fourth inning.
As you may have noticed, Sigma Lambda Pi is featured in four double headers and it appears that they are in for a 1-0-n-g season. However, good sportsmanship and team spirit are equally important as winning and SLP has shown these two aspects—not much softball but a lot of spirit.

Beta Sig 6 — Phi Sig 2
In one of the better played games this year Beta Sig bested Phi Sig by the score of six to two. Chet Janik pitched brilliantly for Beta as he allowed only four hits and had a perfect game for five innings until Joe 'The Nose' Finnelli singled in the sixth. Phi Sig collected three hits in the seventh and scored their two runs on hits by Bob Yurkon, Walt Coutu, and Rich Battista. Beta Sig scored one run in the second and third innings added three more in the fourth, and an insurance marker in the top of the seventh. Chuck Grundman and Janik had two hits apiece as did Jack Toti who played the entire game with a cast on his right arm. Bob Cerritto pitched well for Phi Sig but Beta was not to be denied. Phi Sig has lost their first two games but is definitely a team with a lot of potential and

"Once a Knight, Always a Knight: Once a Year Is Enough..."

By F. Robert Else

For those, once-a-year athletes, the game between the faculty and the seniors was a physical disaster.

If you wondered why your class was called off for several days, it may have a direct relationship to the softball game. This writer heard that there were more sore arms, pulled back tendons, and strained leg muscles in the faculty dug out than anywhere else around campus.

Did you know that one person even had his arm (resting) in a cloth thing for several weeks. After one reaches the "golden days," it may be best to leave physical activity to the younger set.

Rumor has it the "nine old men" managed to promote by graph-(t) enough cumulative points (runs) to eke out a win in spite of injuries.

cannot be counted out of the race for the championship.

Chi Gam 12 — BIB 2

Chi Gam won their third straight game against no defeats as Art Silva pitched his second one-hit game of the year. Bruce Vittner and Lee Gray had four hits apiece for Chi Gam, and Dick Bartels chipped in two extra base smashes. 'Rebel' Gruver beat out a bunt in the fourth inning to spoil Silva's bid for a no-hitter. BIB scored two runs in the fifth inning without a hit as a walk and an error by Silva coupled with an infield out enabled them to score. Chi Gam scored in every inning as they banged out a total of fourteen hits. This game saw the first exchange of words between players as Dick 'Tiger' Bartels and Paul Wassel squared away; but, cooler heads prevailed and after the 'Greek' was fed a raw steak, the situation calmed down and the game continued.

Wildcats 7 — X's 6

The Wildcats made it two in a row as they edged out the X's seven to six. Jim Serpa pitched well for the X's allowing nine hits scattered over the seven innings; however, the Wildcats collected three of these in the third inning which together with a hit batsman and an error allowed them to score four runs. The Wildcats appeared to have the situation in control when the X's erupted for five runs in the sixth inning on three hits, two errors, and a hit batsman; however, their rally fell a little short and the Wildcats held their lead to win. Jerry Topy Bob Else, and 'Papa' Perlow had two hits each for the Wildcats. Charlie Andrade broke out of his slump with four hits to lead the X's. Bill Healey made the finest defensive play of the season in the fourth inning as he snared Tony DeQuattro's foul ball on the hill in left field and then fired a strike to third baseman Don O'Leary who put the tag on Charlie Andrade who had tried to tag at second and go to third on the play. O'Leary did a fine job on his end of the play and chipped in a home run to aid the Wildcat cause.

Phi Sig 29 — Sigma Lambda Pi 3

Phi Sig was due to explode and SLP was due to leave town, but they played anyway. Phi Sig banged out twenty-five hits including six home runs to rout SLP and win their first game of the season. Bob 'Home Run' Cerritta clouted three homers to take the league lead and Walt Coutu, Bob Dingwall, and Fang Sorel each had one to lead Phi Sig to victory. Ray Mitchell didn't seem to have his stuff (What Stuff?) as eleven of Phi Sig's men hit safely. The game was halted by rain for a few minutes; SLP was hoping it was a typhoon. However, all's well that ends well and, thank God, this one ended.

KT 6 — Wildcats 4

'Chico' Saltzman unveiled his secret weapon, Jerry Topy in this one, but it didn't bother KT as they emerged victorious. Topy allowed only three hits, but wild pitches hit batsmen, and alert base running by KT was the margin of victory in this one. Felix Swintak's double led the KT hitters while Bill Healey's triple was the big blow for the Wildcats. This victory kept KT tied with Chi Gam for first place in the league.

SIC 28 — DEX 3

Every Thursday at Bryant Field the girls take over the softball field. Between fixing their hair, powdering their noses, and a few dozen other things they play a little softball. Well, this game saw SIC gain revenge for the humiliating defeat handed them by SIB last week. Dianne Cuzzone, Barbara Gurtov, and Pat Maxwell all hit home runs and eight of the girls had hits. Sue Ceppetelli had two hits for DEX, but this was not enough as DEX went down to their second defeat.

SIB 31 — Phi U 4

The Sibbies Union Local 57 romped to their second smashing victory at the expense of Phi U coached by Bruce Vittner. Pat DiMuzio 'delighted' the crowd with three consecutive home runs. Debbie Hagemann hit two homers and Chy Basso connected for one in the

A Coed Goes To Jail

(ACP)—A coed at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, burst into tears when she and two former students were given long workhouse sentences for harassing a university professor and his family.

The coed, Dorcas D. Post, 20, a Liberal Arts Junior, and David Henderson, a part-time announcer for the university's radio station, received 270-day sentences in the workhouse. Miss Post's former roommate, Sarah E. Chambers, 21, was sentenced to 180 days.

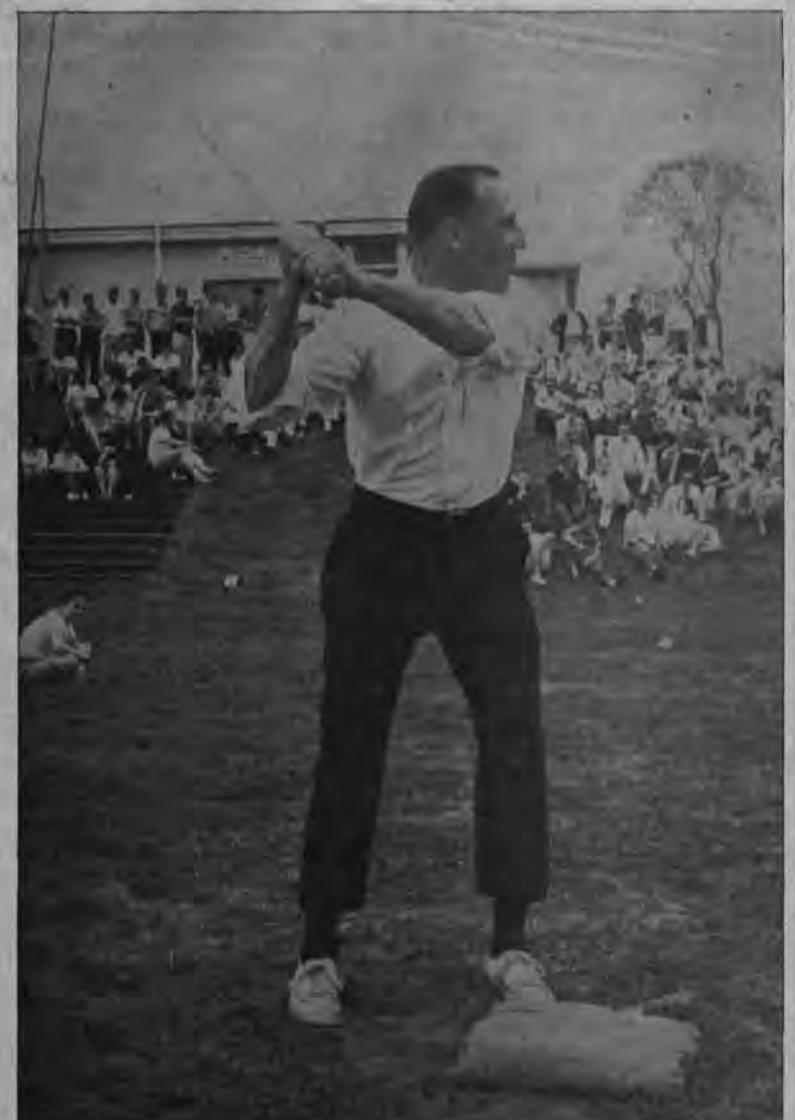

For nine weeks the trio harassed Prof. Timothy L. Smith, sending police and firemen on false alarms to the history teacher's home and sending him obscene letters.

Municipal Judge Eugene Minenko said: "Their attack went beyond any reason. As far as I am concerned it was a sign of cowardice and lack of faith in their own beliefs, if they have any."

Henderson, 23, told police they decided to "get" Smith because Miss Chambers claimed he prayed in class. The three said they considered this religious bigotry as "unconstitutional."

Smith, who told officials he formerly was a minister, has denied praying in class. He said that at one time he did ask his students to join in a moment of silent meditation before class began.

Arrests came after police compared handwriting in the letters with writing samples from former students.
