Stunt Night December 15 2nd Annual Affair

The night of nights! The night when gloom and dull care are cast aside and all the college blazes forth in a galaxy of stars, comedians, and ham actors! Competition for the silver cup is keener than ever this year. Each fraternity and sorority is out to win, while last year's victors are determined to hold the cup. Any fraternity or sorority winning the cup for three consecutive years holds it forever.

We shall see art that is art. We shall see acting that is acting, and isn't. And after each organization has done its dramatic best, we shall dance to the palpitating rhythm of a syncopating orchestra. What a night, folks, what a night! Get your tickets early. Be on hand to enjoy the hottest, cleverest, fastest, and funniest entertainment that was ever presented this side of Harlem!

SENIORS VISIT SHOWROOM

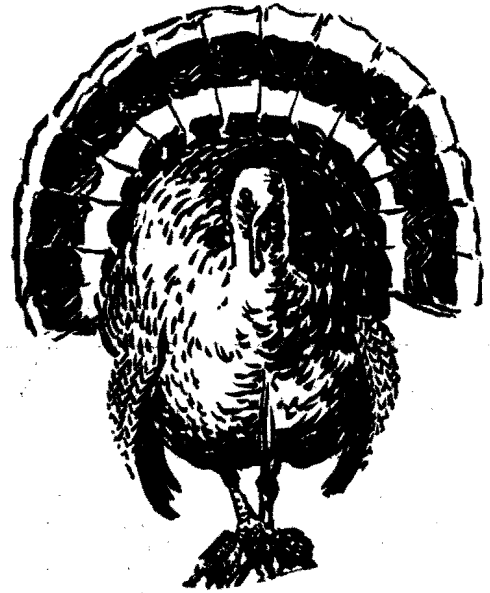

On Thursday, November 4, the B. B. A. seniors, under the guidance of Mr. Vinal, visited the International Business Machines showrooms on Broad Street. The occasion was a sort of "open-house" for the business machine corporation. The display of the various machines was very impressive.

The seniors were particularly interested in the Holerith Accounting Machine, a very intricate and ingenious device for the making of payrolls, cost sheets, etc. The class is indebted to Mr. J. J. Osborne of International Business Machines Corp. for his courtesy in allowing the students to view the many displays.

Season's Greetings

THANKS

For shorthand and typing that can't be beat

We thank our teachers, so helpful, so sweet

Proficient in Knowledge, we HOPE to be

When we are through, this HOPE you'll see.

Stickney, our Dean, we thank thee.

In Law and Accounting, we just get by

That's why eighties' and nineties' seem high

For all of our knowledge indebted we'll be

To Gene, Nelson, John, George and Lee.

Jerry, our Dean, especially we thank thee.

Congratulations!

As a great surprise came the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Harry L. Jacobs, president of our college, and Miss Jeannette Carroll, formerly connected with the college. The great event took place at the home of a friend of Mr. Jacobs in New Rochelle, New York, on October 24. Mrs. Jacobs is well known by the students who were here last year. She is Vice President of the American Federation of Advertising Clubs, and former president of the Women's Advertising Club of Providence. To Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, each and every student extends the very heartiest of congratulations and good wishes.

Prof. Westerfield Speaks

Professor Ray B. Westerfield of Yale University recently addressed the seniors of the College on the subject of banking. The Federal Reserve Bank Act of 1933 and its effects on state and national banks throughout the country was the general theme of the lecture. At the close of the lecture Professor Westerfield discussed the question of bimetallism. He explained the various ways of controlling the currency and the power of the President in this respect. The address was a timely one, and the method of presentation held the attention and interest of every student.

EVENING DEGREE CLUB

The officers of the Evening Degree Club are putting forth their best efforts in order to bring the club to 100 per cent attendance.

A dance is in the offing. It is a presentation by Mr. E. Gardiner Jacobs and we believe it will be a great success, as much interest has been aroused.

By the way, we will have to correct the mistake made in our efficient secretary's name. It is Harry Conn instead of John as previously printed.

I am getting the "scandal" about all the evening students and teachers and will disclose the "dirt" in subsequent issues.

EDITORIAL

We hear so much about co-operation nowadays that most of us wonder if it isn't really only so much ballyhoo. But we needn't think that it is just one of those things which, although it is very admirable is very vague—like being President. Our own College will be the scene of happier surroundings and will offer more and varied social activities if we, the student body, co-operate.

At your class meetings, offer suggestions, take an active interest in all affairs, and be eager to make your class the best and most active in the school. When your fraternity or sorority meeting is held, don't just go to report; see if there is anything you can do to further the interest in the improvement of your own society. Take an active part in class recitations, show an interest in every subject; do each day's work as well as you can. When the basketball season starts, go to as many games as you can; the players do their part by devoting many hours to practice, why not do yours by encouraging them in their athletic prowess? When the school publication is issued, co-operate with the staff by purchasing a copy. Your helpfulness is appreciated by those who do their best to bring you the latest news, gossip, and sport topics. Attend all the social functions. You really won't know just how "social" we are until you have attended at least one of our B-S festivities.

And so, you see, a little co-operation by each student will be most beneficial to you, to your classmates, to your teachers, and to your Alma Mater.

GREETINGS, READERS! Look for your name in this column. If it isn't here just consider yourself lucky . . . A certain fraternity has been giving the third degree to a certain young man. What is the idea?? . . . Carbon copies of the Cost Accounting Final will be made for Murf, Jack, Al, and Lucile by the "Cost Accountants" . . . Bill Grant and Elyce Krauss are meeting on the eighth floor stairs quite a bit!! Don't get dizzy, children . . . There was an over-supply of men at the party the other Friday night. Did the rest of the girls from the dorm get lost?? . . . Why didn't the Inter-Fraternity football game take place? Did somebody steal the ball?? . . . A certain girl up Woonsocket way regrets the absence of Don MacIntyre from that part of the state! Here's the reason. Don has found a greater attraction down on Lenox Avenue in Providence!! . . . Co-operative "studying" is developing around school. Stan Wilbur and Helen Day may be seen afternoons "exchanging information" . . . Syd Hedrich threatened to sue George Richards last week, if his glasses had broken during a "brawl" . . . By the way, have you noticed the feminine environment that Syd has noontimes?? . . . Mr. Vinal claims that the only thing that kept him awake during the lecture the other day was Mr. Lee's elbow!! . . . Ruthie Henaelt had two dates the night of the S. I. X. dance. Don't commit bigamy, Ruth! . . . We have heard that the Blackstone Cigar Co. has given a bonus to Mr. Lee for increasing the profits of the company. He attributes his success to "lateness" and "wisecracks" . . .

RETRACTION

The Bryant-Stratton News extends its apologies to Mr. Louis Mauri for the unintentional affront he feels he suffered by the reference to him in our first issue under the caption "Senior Notes".

We take this opportunity to assure Mr. Mauri together with the administration, the faculty, and the student body, that it is not our policy to injure in any way any individual or group. We will in the future, as we have in the past, consistently strive to promote fellowship, friendship, and co-operation among the members of the college body.

Dramatic Club Opens
Season

The Bryant Stratton Dramatic Club opened its season on Thursday, November 9, with a business meeting. The feature of the program was the annual election of officers, as follows: Leonard Ponti, President; Frederick Watson, Vice President; Estelle Garrett, Secretary; Helen Day, Treasurer.

The future plans of the club are incomplete, although the executive committee is busy making a schedule of plays and social events. On Tuesday, November 21, a "show off" night was held as an opening party. Here, the new members gave an exhibition of their talent. Judging by the display of enthusiasm shown by the new members, it is predicted that together with the competent officers and a co-operative membership, the Bryant-Stratton Dramatic Club will be the outstanding feature of the social life in the College.

VARSIITY

BASKETBALL TEAM POINTS TO ALUMNI GAME

Rounding into shape in fine manner our squad of ball tossers is practicing hard every afternoon with visions of a hard-fought Alumni game December fourth.

The creaking joints and smell of arnica in the classrooms are but the indications that one of the suffering squad is present.

Coach Winans has already assumed that familiar glum, depressed look with which he is identified until "Banquet time", at the end of the season, at which time his worries cease. What seems to us a wonderful team looks, to "Gloomy Jack" as just a handful of misfits and would-be stars.

As usual, the Coach doubts if we can even win one game. However, that doubt to us means he must have a pretty good looking squad.

Swanson, Wright, Haslehurst, Duckworth, Kennedy and Bray are a hard combination to beat, and this year's reserve power looks powerful, with Fay, Ditson, Shuster, Krzyszton, Luniewicz, Parsons, White, Thacher and Ungberg.

The boys have a hard schedule ahead of them and will need all the support the students can give them.

Schedules and student tickets will be given out soon and the opening game will, by all indications, be played before a full house.

School spirit is high and the team can be assured of solid support from the student body.

FRATERNITY and SORORITY NOTES

TAU EPSILON

On Friday evening, November 17, Tau Epsilon presented an informal dinner dance at the Chateau Dreyfus, North Attleboro. The dance was largely attended by the fraternity brothers and guests. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Allan, Mr and Mrs. George A. Richards were among those present. Needless to say, a "large" evening was had by all.

Tom Mullen bids fair to become quite a famous author. Ask someone who's in the know.

Louis Young denies vehemently that he's engaged, and wishes to have the rumor denied in print. O. K., Louie!

Wolstencroft was one of the more prominent guests at the Freshman Secretarial Dance held at the Old France about two weeks ago. Private information will be supplied on this interesting subject upon request. This explains why his bowling average has gone down, and not up.

Rap was recently heard inquiring in class where the half-gallon had disappeared to. What half-gallon, Rap?

PHI SIGMA NU

The Phi Sigma Nu Tigers have at last shown that they have claws, and sharp ones at that, by taking Sigma, four straight last week and by scoring the high team single of 529. Headed by their worthy leader, Bud Dunham, and supported by Weller, Allaire, Mazura, and Ungberg, the Tigers drove the Faculty to the wall to the tune of 3-1, in one of the most exciting bowling contests this year. Even Gardner Jacobs, who is a bowler of extraordinary ability, could not stop the onslaught that met the Faculty at every step of the game.

The Second Degree was conferred upon the pledges by the officers of the fraternity on Thursday evening, November 16.

Phi Sigma Nu favors the appointment of outside judges for the Annual Stunt Night because of the ill feeling aroused by the decision rendered last year.

B. A. FRESHMAN BRIEFS

Save your pennies, classmates. We have been threatened by students whose names have appeared in this column. Orchids are preferred.

Was it a love note that Machon slipped into Zona Lien's book? What will Chester say, Zona?

Dawley was on the Magic Carpet in Accounting. Was Phyllis with you? By the way, Dawley, the eighth floor corridor at 2:30 is not the time and place for holding hands with Phyllis.

Andryshak and Arthur Cadorette expect to visit Eleanor at her apartment.

There has been a dispute as to who said "I wouldn't mind stepping out with Mr. Canty." It seems that others beside the one we had in mind have uttered this statement.

Again we find Murray Hutchinson inquiring for a telephone number. This time it is "Patsy's". Hutchinson is quite a cartoonist. Ask him to show you the one of Topsy and her beau.

Sam has been neglecting Myrtle these days. He was not around to help her with her coat. What fair maiden is the cause of this?

KAPPA DELTA KAPPA

Kappa Delta Kappa is proud to say that "Miss Bryant-Stratton" is one of their members.

The K. D. K. Sport Dance is going to be held on November 28, and everyone is looking forward to a most enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. George Richards will be chaperons.

The fifty cent bet between Dolly and Audrey is being called off.

What has happened between the two sorority sisters, Peggy and Phyllis, who were inseparable up until this time?

How did the operation succeed, Al? Did the appendix come out or not? Sooooo.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SQUAD

TO START PRACTICE SOON

Approximately thirty-five candidates, the largest squad to report for basketball in years, have turned out to the call for the Varsity Squad.

The schedule, which is in the process of completion, will include games with the Y. W. C. A., Girls' Club, Williams Memorial of New London, and others, including, possibly, Connecticut College of Storrs.

A strong team should result after the first few tryouts, and a successful season is looked forward to.

Among those out for the team are: Last year's players—Dorothy Fahey, Rosalind Roza, Louise Allen.

New material—Evelyn Rich, Evelyn Vigeant, Kula Annis, Estelle Garrett, Kathryn Gorry, Rita Sullivan, Catherine Pelky, Helen R. Day, Evelyn Adler, Grace McCartin, Elsie L. Tarbox, Frances West, Catherine A. G. Cunningham, Alberta O'Brien, Priscilla Chisholm, Ann Barr, Peggy Barrett, Lillian Hebb, Ann Levesque, A. Curran, Mary E. Ferri.

GABBING ABOUT AT BRYANT HALL

And still it rings! Our telephone hasn't been allowed to belong to the N.R.A. (Not Really Anything)—It works considerably more than 40 hours a week. And not regular hours either.

Several of the freshmen could now get to the Puritan or Blue Moon blindfolded—they know the road so well, having been there so often lately. Why don't you fellows find a new place to—cat? Ye Olde Kings Town Inn, for example?

Dottie Sloan got five letters from New London last week! Just in case you don't know it, Coast Guard Academy won its last game.

Friendly enemies—Erene and Ruth—why do they sit in the living room each evening before supper—for brotherly (?) advice?

Pauline's got a new friend—and they do get along swell together. Here's to them.

Bowling Teams Battle For First Place

FIVE OF SIX TEAMS GROUPED CLOSE TOGETHER

As the league swings into its fifth week, the battle for first place still goes merrily on. Action plus is the only way this year's race can be described, with each team, and its following, fighting every inch for supremacy.

At the present time the Seniors and Tau Epsilon are tied for first place, but have so scant a lead over the holders of second, third and fourth place that just one day's schedule could upset the entire lineup.

Standing of the Teams

	Won	Lost	Ave.
Seniors	12	4	750
Tau Epsilon	12	4	750
Phi Sigma Nu	9	7	562
Freshies	8	8	500
Faculty	7	9	437
Beta Sigma Chi	0	16	000

Pinfall

Phi Sigma Nu showed a new lease on life by taking the "Schoolmarm's" into camp. Mazura of last year's Champion Team was the incentive.

Swanson of the Seniors now holds the high single record of 131. He had his doubts for a few minutes but two on a spare wasn't enough to beat him.

"Cannon ball" Sayward has been slowed up temporarily with an infected foot, but promises to swing his ball with increased power this coming week.

E. G. Jacobs has finally signed up with the "Schoolmarm's." He did nice work in his first game, hitting a new high three for 333. He is the former Beta Sigma Chi holdout.

Lively, possessor of one of the finest bowling forms in the league, swung into action for the first time this year. This boy bears watching for when he gets going he runs up a nice score.

Haslehurst, Machon and Dunham are hitting on all cylinders and are in the 300 class.

Mullen of Tau Epsilon is a "two-gun man", bowling either with right or left hand as the occasion warrants.

The Faculty, once the backbone of the league, have been playing hockey of late. Don't give up the ship, teachers.

As predicted, the Western boys are rounding into shape and the Freshies are giving a good account of themselves in the weekly tilts.

Beta Sigma Chi may be down but they are not out. Although seemingly anchored in the cellar, they still have hopes of hitting their stride and they have plenty of energy and should give plenty of trouble to the league yet.

8B Highlights

We wonder who will be E. Vigeant's next boy friend. First it was Jack, then Pe'e, now it's Paul. My, my, these R. I. State girls sure know their onions.

Have you seen the cute little boy from R. I. C. E. who comes up to see our darling M. Johnson every now and then?

We saw Dottie Sloan with the darlinest boy at the Sigma Iota dance. What will "Cadet" Page say about this, Dottie?

A. Curran and G. Bray seem to be quite chummy these days, especially in the 2:20 Penmanship class.

A. Keefe was seen at the Marathon dance with two nice little boys, but we found out one was her brother. The other probably was her cousin!!!

L. "Ikey" Hebb seems quite sweet on W. "Jake" Winslow, the new student, and vice versa.

We wonder what is going on between K. Malone and W. Swanson. They can be seen nearly every morning having a tete a tete all by themselves up in the back of the room.

"Quist" Freddie Stone is coming out of his shell, girls. He was sitting talking to our cute Vice-Pres., R. Henaelt, the other day.

I. Booth is "that-a-way" about a great, big, tall, handsome "bouy" named Joe. Why not do something about it, Irene?

E. Rich believes there's safety in numbers. Two handsome young men were seen escorting this fair maiden into Loew's State the other day.

E. "Sunshine" Hicks has a young man helping her with her shorthand homework. Holding out on your old pal, Sunshine?

P. Chisholm tells yours truly she has finally seen a good-looking boy on the seventh floor. So there is exactly one good-looking boy in the building!

SENIOR NOTES

Lieberman and Fox are shining up to the Brown Widow. Go easy you young bloods.

Mr. Barber addresses a certain member of the senior class with the title "Mister".

Why does Mr. Vinal consider a cheap newspaper article such as he read to us equal to one in the B-S News?

Just in case Bill Grant doesn't know it, the B. B. A. division is on the seventh floor, and not on the ninth floor fire escape.

We wonder what Fallon and Correnti did on their vacation given them by Mr. Barber. Too bad we can't all be smart . . .

What is it, Ditson—Getting on the basketball team or the new girl friend? You're slipping fast.

Last year Bill Hewson was quite lively, but he is now a changed man. Must be because Rosalyn Easton didn't come back.

Phil Bush is playing the part of the class's big brother. Seems to be Mr. Vinal's general information bureau.

Four Pecks don't make a bushel. You had better enlarge your family, Peck.

The Question Box

Dear Auntie Jay: What happened to Muriel Wallace's other tonsil? D.B.

Answer: As an antidote for smoking, it took a trans-Atlantic trip. Don't give up the ship, girlie. It is sure to come across sometime.

Dear Auntie Jay: Could the nerviest, mos; bashful youth, a senior, of course, actually have a love life?

A. Freshman

Answer: In deed in action. Just LOOK at Louis Mauri, and remember. He who laughs last,—seldom gets the point anyway.

Dear Auntie Jay: Which of our beautiful co-eds says a certain Math teacher "scares me to death"? M.E.

Answer: I don't blame you, gal. It's hard to tell.

Dear Auntie Jay: Do you think Mr. Russell complies with the Blue Law in relation to kissing his wife on Sunday? A. Pupil

Answer: There was a young lady in Siam,

Who said to her lover,
named Priam,
To kiss em of course,
You will have to use force,
But I know you are stronger than I am.

Dear Auntie Jay: Do you think Mae West a young lady?

Answer: Please, sir. It's "Mae West this" and "Mae West that." Why, now they even have Mae West stock. It's pretty low at present, but it'll come up sometime.

8D Freshman Flashes

Just what is it that makes Beatrice Peckham jump up and run out of Penmanship every day, third period? Do you suppose it could be Rouel La-Belle's appearance at the door?

What's the matter with Joe Murphy that he doesn't go big for red-heads? If Lil Nussenfeld has her way Joe will surely change his mind.

Irene Goodhue doesn't seem to have much time these days for anything but Stan Bamforth. What is it, Stan, can't you keep the girls away from you?

Who'd ever think that Nils Carlson, of all people, would journey all the way from Woonsocket to Barrington to take the one little Ethel Joynes to our class dance?

It seems that the girls from the dorm, who up to this time have been so popular, are having a hard time trying to find a fellow to take to S. L. T.'s dance. Crowd around, boys, and you may be one of the lucky ones who will get an invitation.

Don't you think it was rather silly of Ruth Abrams to let Estelle Garrett take Wally Braemer away from her Friday night at the party? What's the matter, Ruth, have you, also, got Nerve?

Oh! have you yet heard that Joe Wolstencroft and Helen Jeffries are going steady? Just imagine, Helen even takes care of Joe's money for him.

Come on, Kay Cunningham, keep right after Fred Stone. Remember, nobody else has clutches on him—yet!!
