ORIENTATION
ISSUE

Bryant College, Smithfield, Rhode Island

Volume 42, Number 23

Attention - All Students

Annually, Bryant College informs students of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. This Act, with which the institution intends to comply fully, was designated to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA) concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act.

Local policy explains in detail the procedures to be used by the institution for compliance with the provisions of the Act. Copies of the policy can be found in the following offices: Registrar, Student Affairs, Public Affairs and Bursar. The policy is also printed in the Student Handbook.

Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to the Registrar's Office.

Mutant Cat Invades Campus

Bryant College is once again beset by the imaginations of the Archway staff. This rowdy crew, subsisting on only popcorn and beer, arrived in the middle of last week to kick off another semester of mind-altering, socially-deranged action newspapers, suitable for burning, stuffing mattresses, and smothering giant mutant cats. Watch out!

The Freshman Syndrome

By Steve Sellers

A friend of mine, a fellow college student, recently recounted an experience he had during his painful, yet temporary, first weeks at college. After chewing off half of his fingernails (and possibly a toenail or two) he finally figured out where his Chemistry 101 class was to be held. Since he was attending a rather large school with its attendant hoards of buildings, he felt relieved that he had narrowed his class down to one four-story building. With just fifteen minutes to go before his first class was to begin, he found himself racing down aisle after aisle in the Chemistry building trying to find Dr. Profound's freshman class. After questioning upper-classman after upper-classman as to the navigation of his course, he finally found the right room. Unfortunately, he found it half way through the class period. Standing there, all eyes fixed upon him, my friend recalled how Dr. Profound quietly acknowledged his late arrival by looking over the top of his glasses and saying, "Are you early for the next class or late for the last?"

Every college has a way of gearing up for its newcomers and so each veteran of each college has his or her own philosophy regarding the subject of the "freshman syndrome". Some have less composure than Dr. Profound, many welcome the new life a freshman class can bring to the school. Invariably, however, a certain percentage of college professors and students enjoy seeing a fumbling freshman, trying to find his way down a hall: schedule in hand, with thirty or more books under his arm and an expression that reflects excitement, fear and anticipation. While the enjoyment felt by some of the "old pros" is generally benign, deep within their hearts is a core of sadism. Yes, sadism. Mind you, not the kind which brings to mind adult magazines or concentration camps. This kind of sadism is reflective of experiences had by almost every college student at the onset of his/her freshman year. The upper-classmen and professors alike remember how they dropped all of their books in the stairwell, or the time they sat in a Cost Accounting class with a group of Seniors until the professor politely excused the unwitting attendee. Yes, we all remember. Such experiences are never humorous for the victim until he sees a re-enactment of his own faux faux by another sorry individual. Then he laughs and guffaws to no end.

So you see, while we upperclassmen want the 1977-78 freshman class of Bryant College to have an easy and smooth transition from high school to college, forgive us if you hear a snicker or giggle now and then.

Now that I have painted a picture reminiscent of all the things freshmen may dread, let me reassure you newcomers that you have nothing to fear but...well, you know. Be thankful that Bryant houses its classrooms in but one huge building (the Unistructure in Bryantese). Be thankful that many of the halls in the Unistructure look the same. You will soon find that many upper-classmen have trouble finding classes, stairs, restrooms, etc. Be thankful that you are attending a small college and not some mammoth university where classes are held in auditoriums only slightly smaller than the Hippodrome. Be thankful that most of our professors are much more warm and compassionate than Dr. Profound (but please, don't bet on it). Lastly, be thankful that you are a freshman. By the time you are a senior, you will look back on many good friends, new things learned and worthwhile activities pursued. At that time, you can snicker and giggle when the freshman class fumbles around campus. One thing about the "freshman syndrome": once it runs its course, nothing seems quite so fearsome or threatening as that first year of college. Except, of course, for that first year in the business world or that first year in graduate school...but, that's another story.

The Phone Store

Resident students should stop by the old Ledger Office (across from the Post Office) to pick up their dorm telephone. Rather than have a phone repairman install the phones, the college has arranged this more convenient service for students. If you are interested, stop in on September 8th, 9th, or 10th between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

WELCOME NEW STUDENTS!

ARCHWAY Meeting Monday, Sept. 13 at 3:15

From the EDITOR'S desk

And we're back!

Isn't college wonderful? Ahhh yes. The hustle and the hassle of a learning institution. It's not everyday that we can enjoy meeting new people in the frequent lines that seem to be everywhere or get that "once in a semester" tingle when they ring the total button on the cash register in the book store. It's all here for the taking. Between those ever-smiling Security people at the front booth and those arousing aromas of the "meals" that permeate the campus daily, ever the most naive freshman can soon have a decent realization of what life at Bryant College is like.

What is life at Bryant like?

Don't be alarmed by my somewhat critical and saritirical attitude. Not all of my views are in the negative vein. (I even occasionally brake for small animals.) Personally, I enjoy this college a great deal. ("I do?") Involvement potential is great if you take it upon yourself to get motivated and become involved. Unfortunately, many choose to occupy their time in other ways. ("Hey, does anybody wanna play cards?")

We need you as much as you need us!

Organizations on the campus are always looking for interested peodple who want to become involved. It's all up to you. And I'm not speaking specifically to freshmen. If you're and upperclassman who's been in some kind of a rut since coming here, maybe it's time you "broke out" and got your act together.

Get Involved

Student Senate

I doubt that during the next year, I will get to meet one-quarter of your class. Of course, I would like to meet all of you, but my room couldn't accomodate everyone. So instead, I hope you will take to heart what I have to say.

College life is a mixture of academics and socialenlarge-ment. You could study for hours a day and differ very little from when you were in high school.

It's the social aspect of college that leads you towards a change in outlook on life. By being involved in school activities and organizations, your years at Bryant will give you a satisfying view of college. Meet people, join clubs and organizations, and stay on campus for weekends! Don't go home every weekend to see your friends, make friends on campus!

By involving yourself in school activities and organ-izations, your life at Bryant will be very fulfilling. Stop by the Student Senate office located off the Rotunda. I would be happy to tell you what Bryant and the Senate have to offer. If I'm not in, ask any senator. They would be happy to help you out.

Good luck in the coming years.

Raymond Shideler, Jr.
Student Senate President

Greek Letter Council

Dear fellow students,

Welcome to Bryant College. We hope that you are all looking forward to joining us as an active member of the Bryant Community.

We are writing on behalf of the Greek Letter Council. The Council is the governing body of all the fraternities and sororities on campus. At present, there are 350 Greeks on campus. As an organization, we work closely with the Administratation and the Student Senate for the betterment of the Bryant Campus as a whole.

We Greeks at Bryant pride ourselves in being an active part of the school not only in our respective fraternities and sororities but also in other organizations on campus. At present, a substantial number of Greeks are involved in the Student Senate, Brycol, the Servitium Club and the ARCHWAY, to name a few. We also play a big part in the intramural athletics and have members participating in varsity sports.

In addition to our activities on campus, we Geeks at Bryant are involved with many social and community projects. For example, this past year, we participated in the Smithfield Ecology Project, which generated $600 for the Epilepsy Foundation. We played a significant role in raising $3400 for the March of Dimes during Halloween Week, as well as contributing funds to benefit the Meeting Street School and organizing a blood drive on campus.

As you can tell, we are a concerned group of students who want to make life at Bryant the best possible. We sincerely hope you will take the opportunity, when you are on campus, to drop by the Greek Letter Council Office any time. We are located next door to the Student Senate Office.

The Executive Board of the Greek Letter Council

Brycol Student Services Foundation, Inc.

Brycol Student Services Foundation, Inc., will begin its third academic year today. Brycol, which is a non-profit, totally student operated corporation, has as its main goal, students providing services for students at the lowest possible prices.

Among their vast array of programs and enterprises offered to the Bryant Community, two of the major services are the Boutique Shoppe, located in the Unistructure, and the Country Comfort, a restored barn converted into a deli-grinder shop and pub which has been recently expanded to accomodate more than 200 people. Among the multitude of other services offered by Brycol are class ring sales, newspaper subscriptions, refrigerator rentals, mixologycourse, alumni mirrors and an upcoming birthday cake delivery service.

Because of all these services Brycol provides, they were able to employ over thirty students in part-time positions during the last acedemic year with a larger staff expected this year. These student positions ranged from accounting to maintenance and from bartending to secretarial.

Student representatives from all corners of the Bryant community comprise the 20 member Board of Directors. Headed by an Executive Committee consisting of a president, executive director, vice president, treasurer, secretary, and employee representative, all working in conjunction with the Board of Directors, are involved in making every phase of the operation run smoothly.

Prospective business students should take advantage of the opportunity of Brycol's Appreniceship provides. As your business skills devolop, you may become a full member of the Board of Directors of Brycol.

Or if you need a job on campus, applications for employment are now being taken at Brycol headquarters, located in the Amie Mowry House (gold house behind Dorm 4). Stop in and get acquainted with Brycol. And be sure to visit the Country Comfort, open tonight from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Also, watch for coming announcements about Brycol's Open House.

WJMF

WJMF would like to welcome all freshman and transfer students to Bryant College. The Radio Station, which is located in the Unistructure. On Thursday, Sept. 15th, there will be a general meeting for anyone interested in joining the staff or just lending a little time to help out. There are several openings in the departments which include sports, music, news, engineering, public relatins and sales. If you are interested in getting involved, please drop in at the Staion on Sept. 15th at 3:15. See you then.
