

Bryant University
DigitalCommons@Bryant University

---

Speert, Edith and Victor A.

Letters by Women During World War II

---

1-11-1944

Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated January 11, 1944

Edith Speert

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith>

 Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Speert, Edith, "Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated January 11, 1944" (1944).
Speert, Edith and Victor A.. Paper 74.
<https://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith/74>

This Personal Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the Letters by Women During World War II at DigitalCommons@Bryant University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Speert, Edith and Victor A. by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Bryant University. For more information, please contact dcommons@bryant.edu.

LETTER SIXTY FOUR-EDITH TO VIC

Wednesday Night

11 January 1944

Bubsie Darling-

Sure wish you'd keep One address. Again, I'm mailing this letter to A. P.O. 84, because I rec'd a V-mail (form blank) today saying that that is where I should send your mail until I'm notified further. The form had no date on it, but the envelope was postmarked Oct. 30th, so I guess those are the latest orders. Huh?

Since I got that form blank (it also contained your code for a cablegram) I shall try & cable you tomorrow-- I certainly want you to know as soon as possible that I'm more madly in love with you than ever!

Mom & Dad picked me up at work today & then, we went to get the little car. Gosh, they "soaked" Dad $100.00 for the car & honey. I hate to say this, but the car doesn't sound too different! It sounds as if someone might have done a little for it but not too much. Well, if it holds out for the winter, I'll be very happy!

Called your folks tonight & they wanted to know if I'd like to go to an Open House for Irv Lader tonite I said "no" cause I was uninterested, & secondly. I had alot to do. I spoke to Sanf & told him I'd be over tomorrow night. I promised to bring him some of your letters. He got a "kick" out of your adventures and observations, & I don't mind sharing certain parts of your letters with him.

I'm sure Sanf's "all for me"-- cause, the other night he paid me a really high complement:--"if there was another girl like you, I'd get married."

Honey, Im having a hell of a time locating a play for my dramatic group because of their varied ages, plus the fact that the kids want to put little or no time into it, plus the lack of costume's & scenery. Don't know what I'm going to do!

Enclosed article interested me & I think you can see why. I quite agree with Ruth Mellett & really believe both of us have a new idea of what things matter-- I believe we are alot more realistic because of the war, the insecurity & the need of adapting ourselves to varied circumstances at a moments' notice.

You are the most adorable & wonderful person I know-- & the very best husband I could ever want!.

Yours truly

Edith