THE COURT: The defendant is out?

MR. RICHMAN: Both are out.

MR. SEGAL: Some records? What?

We are ready to proceed, your Honor, and I don't want any adjournment. I'm not going to be brought here then the officer needs something else.

THE COURT: It's a legal reason. I would grant you an adjournment, if you had a legal reason.

MR. SEGAL: Let's see what he has to say, he's not a witness anyway.

THE COURT: Please, he's the one that is going--assuming the burden of the People, isn't he?

MR. RICHMAN: August the 7th please.

THE COURT: Mark it final.

MR. SEGAL: No, I'm going to go away, your Honor. I want to dispose of these cases.

THE COURT: Your people aren't in jail, they are out.

MR. SEGAL: The officer isn't a witness, the complainant is the only one, he doesn't know anything about it.

THE COURT: You pick the date. When are you going away; when are you coming back?

MR. SEGAL: I don't know --

THE COURT: Please, the People aren't ready. I can't force them on any more than I can force you on.

Now, what date?

MR. SEGAL: Some day in September, that's all I can do.

THE COURT: Pick a date in September.

THE OFFICER: Pick any date.

MR. RICHMAN: Judge, would you make that
September 22nd please.

THE COURT: Is that satisfactory, Mr. Segal?

MR. SEGAL: September 22nd.

THE COURT: Bail continued, both matters.
