University Memorial Ceremony Set for Thursday, May 2

Event to honor the memory of students, faculty, staff, and emeriti will be held in Paris-Yates Chapel at 4:30 p.m.

APRIL 26, 2013 BY RYAN M WHITTINGTON

OXFORD, Miss. – The University of Mississippi and Oxford community is invited to remember students, faculty, staff, and emeriti of the university who have died during the past year at the annual University Memorial Ceremony on Thursday, May 2.

First instituted by Chancellor Robert Khayat in 2008, the annual event is open to the public and is set for 4:30 p.m. at the Paris-Yates Chapel.

Especially invited to attend are the friends and family members of those being remembered.

Sparky Reardon, University of Mississippi dean of students, says the humble and moving ceremony provides the opportunity to honor the lives of individuals who have passed away.

“When we lose even one member of the community, the fabric of the University is changed,” Reardon said. “This ceremony is important because it gives us a chance, as a community, to come together to remember and celebrate those who remain a part of our university family in spirit and memory.”

The individuals who will be remembered that day are as follows:

- Brooks Michael Degutis
