12 running for positions in Stu Go.

Charles Schumacher

Student Government needs a President who is willing to stand up for the students and make major decisions in order to halt the ineffective trend of STUGO. I would be this President, as I have the experience to get the job done.

The experience is made up of a number of things: 4 semesters on the Prospectus editorial staff, past member of the STUGO grievance committee, Parkland coordinator for George Bush's primary presidential campaign, Champaign-Urbana Co-Director for Fund Raising for John Anderson's Presidential campaign, member of student council at Champaign Central High School, and a Psych-Political science major. I know how government is supposed to work, and Parkland is no exception. I can see, as the rest of you do, that the current STUGO does not have a solid foundation nor a good working relationship with the administration.

If elected, I would immediately take action to make fundamental changes in the STUGO constitution, which would give back much of the power that the current STUGO lacks.

Besides these changes, I will work towards many improvements to the college, including a day-care center for parents who wish to attend classes without the worries of leaving their children at home, and an expanded news vending area to include the News Gazette, New York Times, Daily Illini, and magazines.

For the future of STUGO as well as your enjoyment at Parkland, I would appreciate your support on Feb. 4, 5.

Ken Spitz

I am Ken Spitz, current Student Government President. I would like to continue serving in this post in StuGo.

In September, I was elected as one of three Day Senators and learned the ins and outs of the Parkland system. The experience taught me the complex workings of the Senate and the Administration. There are no easy answers to the questions StuGo faces, and anyone who says there are, is not being realistic.

Realism is one of the most important qualities a President should have. Past Presidents believed they could make major changes overnight and found themselves frustrated and depressed. In 11 years, Parkland has had 23 StuGo Presidents—more than one per semester.

With a new President every semester, StuGo has lacked continuity in leadership. This is a major problem. The constant turnover of Presidents has hampered the effectiveness of StuGo machinery to the point of inaction. If this trend doesn't stop, the student can expect little from StuGo.

I would like to ask my opponents some questions: What StuGo experience can you offer the students? Do you have a working relationship with the Administration? Can you start from scratch and in 12 weeks build a strong Student Government?

I offer leadership, continuity, and experience that my opponents can't offer. I'd greatly appreciate your vote on February 4 and 5. I'm Ken Spitz, -26 on the ballot, for Student Government President.

"Zack" Trail

#28 Hi, my name is Bryan "Zack" Trail and I am a candidate for President of Parkland Student Government. As "a student's candidate" I have positive views and a bright outlook on the coming year. I am a hard worker and would like the challenge of aiming my energies toward working for the student body. If elected as your president, I will make time to listen to your comments and criticisms. I feel that all too often a student government fails to serve the students who elected them. It is my strong desire to work with an active student body. I would like to see suggestion boxes placed in all parts of the college. Here are some ideas that have been brought to my attention: Many Parkland students have expressed a desire for another restaurant here at Parkland. This is a possibility that I could look into. A lot of non-smokers have asked about no smoking areas. Again this could be worked out. Students with children have expressed a need for childcare facilities. This seems a project worth undertaking. Above all, I will challenge student apathy. In order to accomplish this and more I will need your support today. Please vote #28 on the ballot for a fair shake. Thank you.

Mark Williams

As acting Vice president of the Parkland College Student Association this past semester, I have become increasingly aware that the student government needs to serve and be effective to a larger number of the Parkland student population. As the situation exists, few students are probably aware that a government even exists which can organize programs and projects to meet the needs and interests which each individual has.

A greater student awareness and involvement is necessary to enable student government to realize these goals and develop programs to meet these needs and thereby to become representative of all the students, and not just a select few.

It is my personal goal to work toward these ends, and my election to the position of vice-president will promote open and effective use of the resources at hand toward the formation of a truly representative government for all Parkland students.

Please demonstrate your concern and involvement by supporting my election as vice-president. On February 4 and 5 mark -35 on the ballot and elect Mark Williams STUGO Vice-President.

TODAY IS THE FIRST DAY OF YOUR LIFE!!! I feel that the students are not getting a fair balance of programs from convocations or Student Government.

I'm John C. Dalin and I'm running for convocations senator. I believe that the students are not getting their money's worth of programs that student government sponsored. By getting more students directly involved in planning and deciding what our student body would like to see—such as lectures, movies, concerts and special programs, this situation would be remedied.

I have had experience on student government, program boards, convocations committees and in starting service clubs at two colleges. I was a day senator last semester and I coordinated the semester calendar. Also, while serving on the convocations committee I previewed possible entertainment at the Illiana Conference.

Yes! Today is the first day of your life and you might as well enjoy your enrollment at Parkland College.

Joan Sytek
No Platform

Amanda Genus

I am Amanda Genus. On February 4 and 5, 1981, please vote for me as student government will be holding an election for students interested in representing our student body. I am interested in contributing my efforts by helping to get other students involved in student government by becoming aware of needs and concerns. I have worked on A Womans Fund, Inc. Board of Directors as vice-president, and as a workshop coordinator on a collective committee for the National Womans Music Festival. These committees concerned themselves with the immediate needs of the people that were served as well as the problems in administration, funding and planning, which makes me feel that I can take on the responsibility of helping you. If the needs of the students at Parkland are to be addressed, then I stress that they must be heard by those that can get things done. Vote me for—Day Senator on a write-in ballot.

Jim Hillary

Student government elections will be held today and tomorrow. I strongly urge all of you to participate because the outcome will ultimately effect all of you in one way or another. I am running for Public Relations Senator because I feel I can effectively improve the imagine that student government now has. I will try my hardest to keep you informed on important issues and interested in student activities. I believe apathy is running rampant in our school as a result of ineffective policies that have been present in past student governments, and will continue to be present unless responsible representatives are elected to office. For that reason, I urge all of you to vote Schumacher for President. If you don't, I may never have any constructive changes to inform you of, as the acting President has been ineffective in office and may continue to do so.

Pat Grant

My name is Pat Grant, and my main objective to increase the level of student participation in Student Government. I believe that all students should have a direct input into the administration of their government. If you have enjoyed movies like last week's "Norma Rae," and other movies provided throughout last semester then Student Government has been a positive aspect of your campus life. As your representative, I plan to increase such activities and offer many more. If you have an idea let me know, and I'll do all possible to fulfill it. I am willing to discuss your request and its probability as a function of the Student Government. A vote for me is a vote for your true representative.

Severns speaks to Community News Class

By Shelly Armstrong

Although fiscal problems, inflation, and urban sprawl are the major problems facing the city of Champaign, Mayor Joan Severns says the redevelopment of downtown Champaign is one of her primary concerns.

In an interview with Parkland's Community News Reporting class on Wednesday, Severns said, "Emphasis needs to be placed on center-city redevelopment so that the downtown area can become active again."

Severns said there is a great need for revised traffic patterns in the area to encourage more people to shop at the mall.

"I am a great supporter of the downtown mall, and I feel that most people believe it should stay in," Severns commented.

In an effort to activate downtown Champaign, the city has agreed to pay a St. Louis consulting firm to design a taxing plan for the area.

One project already underway is the construction of a new Bank of Illinois facility in the block surrounded by University and Park avenues and Randolph and Neil streets.

Severns said architects are being interviewed for the $3 million police station to be built at University and First Streets and ground breaking may be next fall. The Commercial Bank building presently occupies a portion of the land.

"The police station will be more or less a specialized office building and will only serve as a temporary holding place for offenders," according to Severns.

In terms of new services the city might offer in the future such Champaign Mayor Joan Severns spoke to the Community News Reporting class last Wednesday and expressed her feelings on numerous issues such as fiscal problems, inflation, and urban sprawl.

additional bike paths, Severns said the city's budget is extremely tight which makes it difficult to undertake one additional service. "If bike registration fees would cover the cost of such a program, then it might be possible," Severns explained.

Although Severns is involved in many city projects, much of her time is spent dealing with liquor and social problems, as well as taking part in public relations activities.

She is in charge of issuing liquor licenses, which she says is a very difficult job because of strict city ordinances and state laws.

Severns expressed strong feelings toward the change in the drinking age saying, "At 18 you can get married, buy a car, or even be drafted and at age 14 you can be tried as an adult, so why shouldn't you be able to drink at age 19?" Severns said she thinks it would take another national emergency for Congress to change the drinking age back to 19.

Severns had this advice for those interested in becoming a mayor: "If you don't like getting phone calls at 4 o'clock in the morning, don't run for mayor."

Instructors discuss oil de-regulation

By Charles Schumacher

Last week, President Reagan followed up on his campaign promise to de-regulate domestic oil prices. I talked with Parkland instructors Fred Johnson and Alan Hartter to get their impressions on the economic and political impact of Reagan's decision.

Johnson: The effect will be to increase the price of home heating oil and gasoline. Standard Oil of California increased the price of gas by 6 cents. Other companies have increased their prices 1-3 cents a gallon. This will go into the consumer price index and raise the cost of living somewhat. This is not a major effect. That would have happened anyway between now and September, so it is not a major policy change. It is merely a moving up of the calendar that would have been followed anyway. It will increase oil company profits 8-16 billion dollars, while at the same time increasing government revenues by 8-10 billion. The long-range effect is more symbolic than economic. It tells the oil companies that they can reap the profits of their investments uncontrolled. That is they can invest money in exploration, and they can set a price in the market based on demand, and not by the government. We should remember that only 20-25 percent of domestic oil was decontrolled. The rest had already been de-controlled. Again, the long range is more symbolic for long run investments, which is what we need. Long run investments in all areas, not just oil. It has very broad implications for all kinds of investments.

Q: How do you feel about this, Mr. Hartter?

Hartter: As far as the long range benefits, which Fred covered so well, I think the re-investment aspect is certainly needed as far as correcting the economy. I also think that something like this would be hard to explain to the average consumer. The average consumer, from a political sense, will see it as yet another indication of a worsening situation. However, I think people are able to tolerate price increases of this sort much more easily than increases in other goods and the consumer price index. Buying gasoline is not as significant as seeing prices of other things, like food go up. But I think it can be absorbed in the short run.

Johnson: I think the point to make here is that gas is no different from any other commodity. When the price rises, people consume less, and that is true for any commodity in a market economy. When the price rises, people have a tendency to substitute other commodities for the one that went up. Fuel is just another example of that. We substitute small cars for large ones, used cars for new cars, polyester for denim. It's just another form of substitution, and in this case the government is getting out of the market and are letting the market work as it should. This is a major step, because the government has held fuel prices artificially low for 35 years, and therefore caused over-consumption in terms of what the consumption would have been had the government not been in the economy.

Hartter: I would like to add one final thing. I wouldn't want to put the blame entirely on the government. Consumption of goods gets right down to a dollar and cents type of thing. Availability, supply and demand, etc. But dependence on gas has become such a way of life in this country that it transcends say, polyester vs. denim. It has ramifications beyond that. I feel that the oil companies cannot be totally absolved of guilt and of encouraging people to consume through advertising, etc. More money is spent on advertising in the U.S. than on public education.

Johnson: But the advertising would not have been nearly as successful if cheap fuels were not available at the time. It was the availability of cheap fuels that allowed the auto industry to succeed as they did and oil companies to succeed as they did. We have become an automobile-highway-suburb economy because of cheap fuels.

Hartter: Well, I can't swallow the notion that availability "came of age" suddenly. I still believe that much of it wouldn't have happened if it were not for massive advertising campaigns to seduce the people into buying big cars and a basic overconsumption of gas. I think it all gets down to this:

Regulation certainly didn't hurt the oil companies profits by any means. If it weren't for the fact that they were out for as big a slice of the pie as they could get, say 10 or even 20 years ago, our country might be well on its way to a fairly self-sufficient energy lifestyle. With de-regulation in effect, we might be on that road, but it is far down the line.

Allen Hartter is a Political Science instructor at Parkland. Fred Johnson is Chairman of the Social Science Division, and teaches economics.

Everything you wanted to know about participating in class, but were afraid to ask!

Is participating in class so scary that you avoid it at all costs? Do you avoid speech classes like they are the plague? Does your stomach get all tied up in knots when you speak in front of a group? If so, you may be experiencing Speech Anxiety.

Being afraid to participate in class or to a group may hinder your learning or academic status. If you are unsure of the subject matter, you have the right to participate by asking questions. If your grade depends on class participation and your anxiety inhibits participation, you could receive a grade which does not truly reflect your knowledge.

For those people who would like to develop their class participation skills, a five session workshop is being offered at Parkland.

Those interested in participating should contact Sandy Winn-Tutwiler or Lynne Milburn (351-2255). Workshop size is limited, so contact as soon as possible.

The Ice Capades 'celebrates' at the Hall Feb. 10-15

From the era of Tin Pan Alley all the way up to today's disco decade, Ice Capades '81 will burst upon the scene with a "Let's Celebrate" theme February 10-15 at Assembly Hall.

Featuring Olympic and world champion figure skater Peggy Fleming as special guest star, other luminaries include Charlie Tickner, world champion and Olympic bronze medalist and the Canadian figure skating ice dance champions, Lorna Wighton and John Dowding. Tickner, Wighton and Dowding are all making their professional debuts with Ice Capades this season.

Freddie Trenkler, who has achieved world-wide fame as a clown on ice, will be up to his old tricks as he welcomes two other new stars, Dawn Wagner and Brad Doud.

The party theme begins with the famous Ice Capades Corps de Ballet dressed in striking pink and silver costumes performing "Disco Dynamite," one of the most intricate and energetic numbers ever put on ice. Australian Champion Sharon Burley and Michael Shinniman are featured soloists.

A mad professor transforms Raggedy Ann and Andy into living, breathing skaters in "The Magic Machine." Yogi Bear, Scooby-Doo, Jabberjaws and other characters watch amazed as other toys tumble out onto the ice, followed by a Fenton Family skating exhibition, featuring Lisa, Robin, Todd and Jack, also returning to the Assembly Hall after the 1979 appearance.

The rhythms of Latin America take the audience south of the border in "Latin Fire," a superb presentation of Flamenco dancing featuring Charlie Tickner. After an innovative interpretation of "El Duego" by Valerie McBroom, the atmosphere turns sultry and dream-like as the Ice Capades flying ballet performs an aerial display. The lively pair skaters, Jodi Hanson and Tony Kudrna, add grace to the festivities.

"Music A La Carte" will delight fans of George Gershwin, Irving Berlin and George M. Cohan. Highlighting these nostalgic tunes will be a romantic dance by Lorna Wighton and John Dowding. In a lighter vein, Tin Pan Alley music receives a salute from David Kirby, Valerie McBroom and the Fentons. Sharon Burley and U.S. silver medalists Gail Hamula and Frank Sweiding add their creativity to the Gershwin melodies.

This musical mood literally switches to a more electric setting when the entire company of Ice Capades honors Thomas Edison and the 100th anniversary of the invention of the light bulb in "Centennial of Light." Stunning gold and white plumbed headdresses and gold capes and breathtaking costume color to a fitting finale.

Performance times are 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday with matinees at 2 p.m. Thursday; noon and 4 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are on sale at the Assembly Hall and Illini Union ticket offices. Mail and telephone orders also are filled. Major credit cards are accepted for ticket purchases. For additional information call 333-5000.

Muddy Waters: Is he the father of Rock n' Roll?

MUDDY WATERS

By Jimm Scott

Born almost seventy years ago, McKinley Morganfield (Muddy Waters), gained more than one nickname from the reddish colour of the soil. As a child Muddy demonstrated a remarkable knack for writing and composing his own original material. Traditionally Bill Haley is given the title "The Father of Rock n' Roll." In actuality Muddy Waters with songs such as "Rolling Stone Blues" (which has been used as a name for a rock n' roll band from England and along with a newspaper in the USA) plus songs such as "The Blues Had a Baby and They Called It Rock n' Roll", "Rollin and Tumblin'", "I Can't be Satisfied", "Trouble No More", and "Mannish Boy (I'm A Man)." "Bottom of the Sea", plus the following:

- "I Don't Care How Long Your Gone"
- "I Don't Care If you Stay"
- "This good Kind Treatment"
- "Yeah Someday Baby"
- "No Trouble, for me, Anymore"

"Trouble No More"
McKinley Morganfield

Muddy Waters has been associated with the Arc Music company and Ches Records for countless years. In 1976 he was dropped from the roster abruptly like the proverbial hot potato. Blue Sky Records took the initiative to pick him up, produced by friend and fellow guitarist Johnny Winter he has so far released three albums, two studio, one live. The live recording plus his recent appearance at Panama Reds proves that although he is aged, he can still kick ass royally. Muddy has been an inspiration to many if not all Rock n' Roll musicians, and will continue to be long after he has died. Although not as rich or cocky as some of the Rockers or Bluesmen, he has made his mark.

Media 1000 $ catches Parkland's eyes!

If you've recently been standing in line at the Hardee's on campus, your attention might be focused upon something other than the length of the lines or the people in them; you may have noticed Media 1000+.

is a micro-computer that displays messages at varied speeds and sizes, no to mention other various eye-catching features.

The Media 1000+ was purchased last semester by Student Government upon recommendation from the Finance Board. Many other junior colleges in the state also have purchase similar models of the Media 1000+ and are generally pleased with its services as are the students.

Whether tyou realize it or not, it was your money that was used to purchase the Media 1000+ micro-computer. Student Government is anxious to know if you like Media 1000+ or not and if it informs you of any of the college activities that you might otherwise not have known about. A survey will be taken in the near future to find out just how the students feel about Media 1000+. If you're interested in filling out a survey form, one can be obtained either from the Student Government Office [X160] or the Activities Office [X153].

Ramblin' . . .

By T. Scott Alender

I'm still trying to find out if REO Speedwagon will be doing a concert in Champaign sometime soon and I don't have any solid evidence but it looks as though if they do perform it will be later this spring. This week REO is doing four shows in four nights in Chicago and then the next day they will be in Terre Haute and then their travels will take them from the Midwest. Keep your fingers crossed but it looks like the hometown boys return will be a few months ahead.

Many of you I'm sure are looking forward to the Bruce Springsteen concert this Saturday, February 7. If you don't have tickets yet your bet is hope and pray for a miracle. It's sure to be a sell-out but I haven't spoken with anyone at the Assembly Hall so I don't know for sure. We will have the review in next week's Prospectus.

Earlier this week I traveled up north to Kankakee to cover the Parkland basketball teams (see accompanying story in the sports section). We have the best team we've ever had at Parkland and I would like to invite all Parkland students to the next home game on February 11; the girls game begins at 5:30 p.m. and the guys game at 7:30 p.m. It will be against Kankakee and they'll need all the help they can get to defeat them again. If you bring your student I.D. you'll get in to the game for free and believe me, it's the best entertainment in town. See you there or somewhere else. I'm ramblin'.

Homer has big celebration for their hero: Paul Lewis

By Ken Ferran

Over 3,000 people showed up in the little village of Homer, Saturday, to welcome back one of the 52 American Hostages held captive in Iran.

Marine Sgt. Paul Lewis received a hearty welcome from State and Local Officials and the citizens of Homer. Mayors from Champaign, Danville, Homer, and St. Joseph, as well as Governor James Thompson from Springfield, attended the ceremony honoring the safe return of the ex-hostage.

The ceremony got underway with a small parade through the village. Paul, his parents, Phillip and Gloran, brothers Bill and Pat and sister Annette rode on an antique American Legion Post 260 fire truck. Their little excursion took them through the main street of Homer where they received a warm welcome from friends, neighbors, and visitors from as far away as Australia.

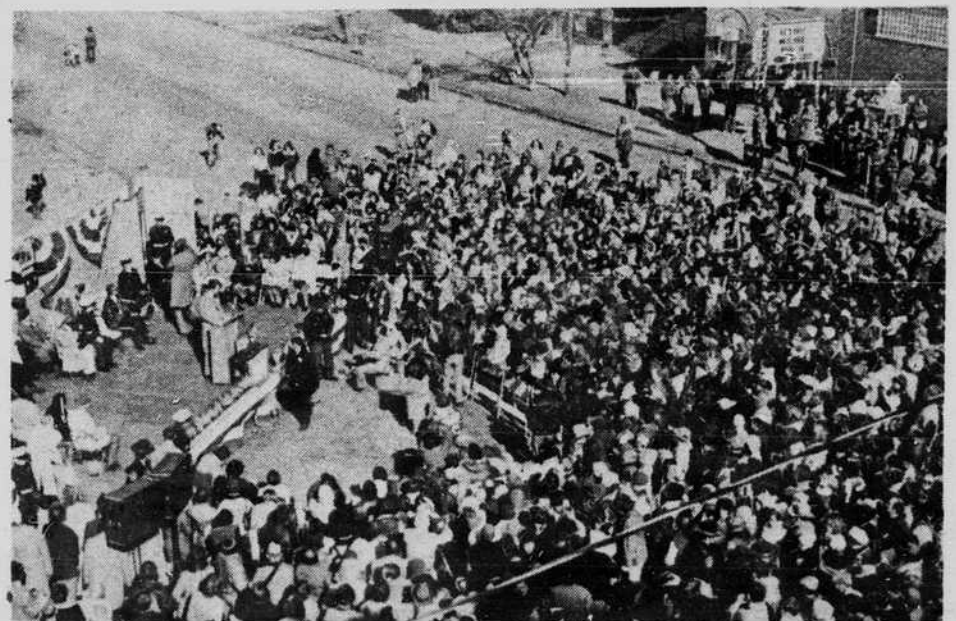

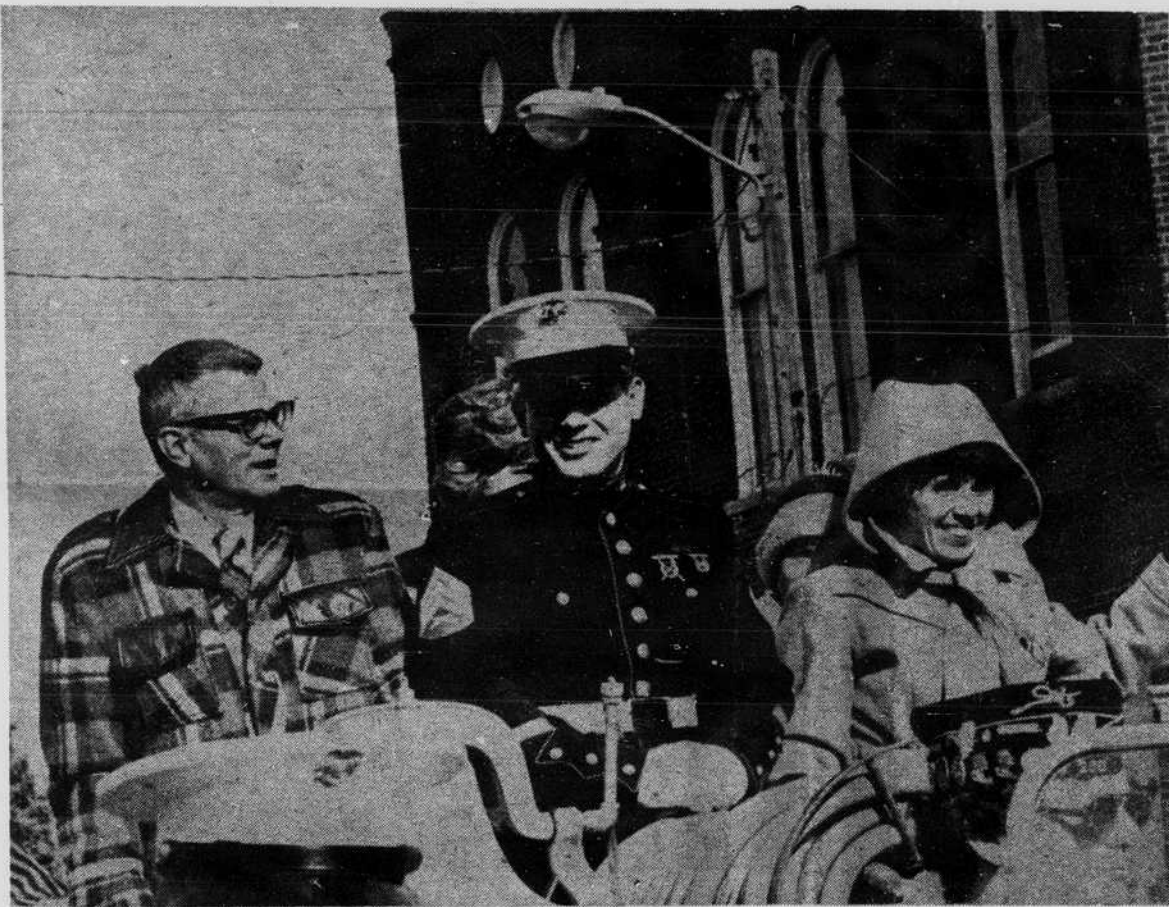

Over 1,000 yellow balloons were released into the air when Paul approached the speakers platform. Paul said, "There wasn't this many people to visit me the last time I came home on leave."

A hostage flag designed by State Representative Phillip Bianco, Jr., of Chicago, and Ken Oglesby of Springfield, was presented to Paul during the ceremony. Other gifts were given from schools throughout the State as well as awards he received from local and state officials.

Governor Thompson said, "This celebration today is exactly what Paul wanted." The Governor seemed in high spirits when he presented Paul with a plaque to be placed in the State Capitol to commemorate the ordeal that the hostages had undergone.

Major Gen. Norma Brown, Commander for Chanute Air Force Base, presented Paul with a letter from the officers station at Chanute. After her presentation she embraced Paul and gave him a kiss on the cheek. She then approached the speakers platform and said, "The reason I make my speech shorter is because I like to kiss longer."

11 Amendments to Stugo Constitution

AMENDMENT #1

Student Government shall be composed of ten senators, a President, Vice-President, and Treasurer. The presiding officer of the senate is the President and all other members of the senate shall have voting privileges.

INFO: Presently, the senate is composed of ten senators, with the Vice-President is presiding officer. The Treasurer cannot vote. This has caused difficulty with lack of voting privileges for the officers of the senate.

AMENDMENT #2

The ten senators shall be senators at large for the student body. The President shall appoint students as directors of each of the standing committees upon a 2/3 affirmative vote of the senate.

INFO: Presently, students are elected as chairpersons of standing committees. This has caused concern as many chairpersons are not qualified for the position. This amendment will improve the quality of students who will direct these standing committees and offer greater opportunity for the students.

AMENDMENT #3

All officers, senators, and directors shall maintain a grade point average of not less than 2.0 for the previous semester and/or cumulative grade point average and shall enroll and complete not less than 8 credit hours.

INFO: At present, the officers must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 hours and the senators must be enrolled in 6 hours. This amendment will offer the part-time student greater opportunities for participating in the government.

AMENDMENT #4

A quorum of the senate shall be sixty percent.

INFO: At present, the quorum of the senate is two-thirds of its membership.

AMENDMENT #5

The Election of the president, vice-president, treasurer, and 5 senators shall be during the fourteenth week of the Spring Semester.

The Election of another 5 senators and to fill vacancies shall occur during the fourth week of Fall Semester.

INFO: This amendment is necessary to elect the officers and senators to office. The election in the Spring has been changed to the fourth week (presently the third week). This will offer greater opportunity for students to be a candidate for office and publicize their campaign.

AMENDMENT #6

Repeal of the following: A candidate for a specific Student Government post shall not hold another Student Government position at the same time.

INFO: The repeal of this section will allow an officer or senator the ability to run for a different position, without fear of losing their previous position should the person lose in their bid for the different post.

AMENDMENT #7

Decrease the number of signatures necessary for an amendment to the constitution by the student body from 25 percent to 10 percent.

INFO: This would allow greater student input, but also reduce the possibility of frivolous amendments.

AMENDMENT #8

Decrease the percentage of votes that the Senate must obtain to place an amendment on the constitution. Presently, the percentage is 75% of the membership of the senate. The recommended amendment would decrease the percentage to 66 2/3%.

INFO: This amendment would bring the student constitution amendment requirements into line with the present State and National Constitutional requirements.

AMENDMENT #9

Realign the duties and responsibilities of the president to include:

—preside at all meetings of the senate.

—have speaking privileges ONLY during president's report, open discussion, and to respond to questions, but no voting rights at senate meetings.

—represent the student association as a non-voting member of the faculty senate.

Realign the duties and responsibilities of the vice-president to include:

—have voting privileges on the senate and not preside at the senate meetings.

—coordinate and assist senators relative to projects, activities, interest areas, and office hours.

Realign the duties and responsibilities of the treasurer to include:

—have voting privileges on the senate.

—must be enrolled in 3 credit hour course in accounting; or completed a college accounting course; or had 3 months of accounting work experience.

AMENDMENT #10

Deleted section 5 of Article XII

and insert the following:

a. The Senate shall establish a Student Government Review Board to evaluate officers, senators, and directors, and recommend removal of a member if necessary to the Senate.

b. The Review Board shall consist of the president, vice-president, senior senator, an elected senator, and three students elected by the Association.

c. A two-thirds vote of the board is necessary to recommend removal. The Senate shall vote at the next Senate meeting, or a special meeting of the Senate to determine removal.

d. A two-thirds vote of the Senate to accept the board's recommendation shall result in immediate removal of the individual.

INFO: This amendment would expedite the procedures and methods used to remove any officer, senator, or director who is no longer fulfilling his/her obligation to their respective position.

AMENDMENT #11

Each committee shall meet at least twice a month and submit copies of its minutes or a verbal report to the senate at the next regularly schedule meeting.

INFO: The purpose of this amendment is to allow more freedom in their meeting structure-and procedures.

250 enrolled in Learning Lab.

By Inger Gire

Approximately 250 students are enrolled in math and reading courses for credit in the Learning Lab, and math continues to be the subject in which most "walk-in" users of the Lab want help, according to Joan Gary, Learning Lab co-coordinator.

The Lab, located in C153, offers help in learning basic and student skills needed to succeed in classes ranging from reading and math through composition and calculus.

Diagnostic testing is available to help students identify their specific problem areas. In addition to help from instructors, a variety of study material and visual aids is available, among them the Caramate, which provides synchronized audio-visual programs in many fields.

Accounting 101 and 117 now have study groups meeting, and groups for certain nursing courses have also been formed. New at the Learning Lab this semester is a special program designed to fit the needs of ESL students.

Students may register at the Lab for scheduled long-term assistance or simply walk in. "Walk-ins," says Gary, are, in fact, encouraged to use the many available facilities for help on either specific or short-term problems.

Students may go to the Lab or call 351-2441 for information.

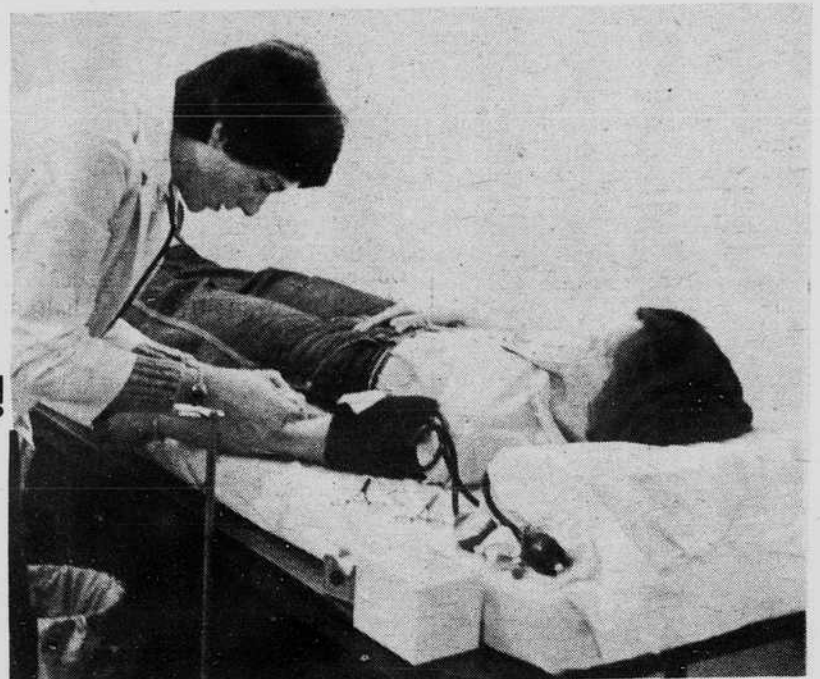

The Learning Lab is open from 8:30-3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday except from noon to 1 p.m. Thursday, College Hour. It is also open from 5:30-9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

It's Susan B. Anthony's b-day!

A birthday party honoring Susan B. Anthony, an early crusader for women's rights, will be held at Parkland College at noon, February 12, in room X150.

Three Parkland faculty members will reenact brief moments in Anthony's life. Joan Krohn, portraying Anthony, will deliver portions of her most rousing speeches. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, played by Lu Snyder, will give a birthday testimonial, and reporter Nellie Bly, depicted by Mary Lee Sargent, will recreate a famous 1896 interview with Miss Anthony on her 76th birthday.

The party has become an annual tradition of Parkland's Women's Program. Birthday cake and tea will be served. The public is invited to attend.

42 donated at the Blood Drive

Sixty-five persons volunteered to give blood at the Parkland Health Service Blood Drive, Wednesday, January 28, however, only forty-two people were able to donate.

Eight units of blood were collected for Becky Easton's daughter, Tonia Anding who has been hospitalized since late October.

Many thanks to the members of Circle K for their help in screening donors and processing the blood. Thanks also to Hardees for supplying the orange juice for the donors.

Images getting ready to hit the presses.

By Tijuana Brummet

"Images," a magazine of writing and art by Parkland students, is being assembled and is due to hit the presses by spring break.

The magazine, formerly a supplement of the Prospectus, is an independent publication for the first time in its history. The staff of "Images," all Parkland students, are editing, laying out, and taking the photos to produce this first annual arts magazine.

All submissions to "Images" are rated for quality by the staff and advisor, Joe Harris. "Then," Harris said, "we get together and argue about it."

Top priority for material is that it is done through skills learned at Parkland or in connection with studies at Parkland.

"Images" will offer essays, short fiction, poems, and literary excerpts. Art contributions will include photographs, drawings, paintings, water colors, and ceramics or jewelry.

Women's team boosts record to 19-1

By Chris Slack

The Parkland women's basketball team boosted its overall record to 19-1 and its CIAC conference record to 5-0 with a 70-55 thrashing of the Lake Land Lady Lakers last Friday night.

Poor shooting and a small Lake Land team that hit the offensive boards aggressively, had Parkland struggling for awhile as the score was 24-20 at the 6:20 mark, but then that tough defense of Parkland's took over.

Gradually opening a gap, Parkland led 38-28 at half, increased it to 43-28 in the second half and then 65-47 later in the half.

Displaying fine poise against a smaller quicker, Lady Laker defense that applied a heavy half-court press, the threesome of Kari Colravy, Lori Adams, and Lori Hutchcraft showed the ability to handle the pressure and break the press. When they broke the press, Tami Fortney and Abby Ingram were waiting on the other end of good, sharp passes to combine for 36 points. Fortney wound up with 20 points as she continues to raise her average points per game. She is now averaging 12 points and is second on the team in scoring. The leading scorer, Abby Ingram scored 16 in the game and also pulled down 11 rebounds.

Kari Colravy scored 12 points by hitting mainly on 10 to 15-foot shots while Anda contributed 10 points.

Lake Land who has given the Cobras two good games this year, were led by Susan Probst with 20 points.

Coach Tom Wulf has to be pleased with Parkland's overall defense.

Again, as in many other cases this year, the defense forced numerous turnovers that gave Parkland easy attempts on the other end of the floor.

The Cobras appear to be in good shape in the Central Illinois Athletic Conference. A quick review of the conference reveals that Parkland has beaten Lake Land twice, Kankakee up at Kankakee which is very hard to do, and beat Danville and Lincoln Land very handily. With just three more conference games to go against three definite inferior opponents, the Cobras have a good chance of finishing with a perfect conference record.

Parkland played the Millikin Varsity on Monday night and are resting until this weekend when they travel to Danville on Saturday.

Cobras beat arch-rival Lake Land

By Chris Slack

Letdowns. That is always the thing to worry about after a team has beaten the number one team in the nation.

The Parkland Cobras men's team 'let-down' to beat arch-rival Lake Land, 81-65.

In the first half it looked as though Lake Land was going to go avenge an earlier 86-74 loss as the Lakers, led by Tom Grunlog held a 20-16 advantage at the 10 minute mark. Grunlog, who played with Mitch Arnold and Uwe Blab on Effingham's state runnerup team last year, scored 10 points in the first half, most of them coming in those first ten minutes.

After the ten minute mark, the game became marred with turnovers as the Cobras had trouble getting their offense going by making numerous turnovers.

The first half ended rather uneventful with the score 33-29 in Parkland's favor. The one bright spot, however, was Jay Meyer's first half performance. For one of the few times of the year, Meyer displayed the ability to hit the turnaround jump shot in the lane to score seven points in limited playing time.

The second half was a completely different story. Outscoring the Lakers by the score of 17-2 early in the second half behind Russell Pratt and Dana Dunson, the Cobras quickly put the game away. The second half couldn't have been better as Dunson controlled everything. Ripping down 14 rebounds (10 in the second half), Dunson would then make pinpoint long passes to Pratt, Mark Makeever and Mike Martin ice the game.

The game was decided because of a usually tough Cobra defense. In the first nine to eleven minutes of the second half, the 'D' held Lake Land to just nine points. Lake Land is one of the top scoring teams in the state as they average around 85 points a game.

From the ten minute mark

Dunson took control. Though only scoring 12 points, Dunson did so many other things well.

Oh yes, the final two points of the game came at the buzzer when Steve Roustio drove down the lane and fed 6-4 leaper Carl Catlin who resoundingly slammed the ball home to put the icing on the cake for PC.

Parkland had a very balanced attack as six players scored in double figures, all between the 10 and 13 point mark. Pratt, Martin, and Meyer wound up with 13 points while Greg Havlin and Makeever added 10 apiece. Havlin saw little action in the second half and scored all 10 points in the first half.

Dunson wound up with 12 points, 14 rebounds, several assists, and did a great job against Lake Land's high scoring center, Walter Moore, who has averaged nearly 25 points per game. Dunson, giving away a lot of height, held the 6-7, 235 pound Moore to just 12 points. "He is being recruited by many schools such as Drake, Texas Christian, Mississippi State, only to name a few," said Assistant Mike Collins. He also said that Michigan has called him. Collins adds, "He could play anywhere he wanted to next year but right now, he's not leaning toward any school. He just wants to go out and play basketball right now."

Lake Land, 2-2 in the CIAC, has done very well themselves but found themselves in the wrong class with Parkland, and finally wore down in the second half.

Illinois vs. Iowa

Overall: I picked Iowa to beat Illinois last Saturday. Maybe it's because of the Illini's lack of consistency. Again, as I said last week, these teams are very evenly matched. What Iowa doesn't have in talent, they have in hustle and desire. And Illinois, They're the Chicago Bears of basketball. You can't figure them out. One week they are world beaters and the next week they lose to some of the lowly teams in the league.

Who to Watch: Look out for Derek Harper to begin asserting himself more and more as the season wears along. Craig Tucker has played extremely well the past couple of games while the Smith and Johnson combo scores about 33 points every game.

Iowa doesn't have the big scorer or the exceptional talent but they always seem to get the job done. Kevin Boyle was no factor in the game last week. Expect him to be this week! Lute Olson said that this week will be another week. I believe him.

Wisconsin vs. Michigan

Overall: When you look at the talent of these two teams, it's no contest. Michigan definitely has the talent. But Wisconsin has given some of the better teams in the conference very good games.

Who to Watch: Michigan's John Johnson and Mike McGee are having good years while their other starters play a big role as Michigan has the best overall record in the conference.

Wisconsin has one of the top scorers ever in the Big 10 in Claude Gregory. He is setting numerous records and is the picture perfect power forward at 6'8-215. They also have another player that will be heard from in the future. John Bailey, a quick sharpshooter, is one of the top rookies in the conference. But, other than that, the Badgers lack the ability to stay with Michigan.

Game Edge: Wolves by 10.

UCLA vs. Notre Dame

Overall: If there is any more fiercer rivalry in college basketball, it hasn't been revealed yet. Since the game where the Fighting Irish broke UCLA's 88 game winning streak, the rivalry has become something special. Admittedly, neither team is as strong as they were back then, but they are still perennially one of the top teams in the nation every year. This game will be its usual barn-burner.

Who to Watch: UCLA has an abundance of quickness. Rob Foster is very fast and is also a good shooter while their front line of Sanders, Daye, and Fields are small but quick enough to get position on the boards.

It seems like Kelly Tripucka has been around forever. He's having another good year while their other seniors, Orlando Woolridge and Tracy Jackson are guiding Notre Dame to another likely NCAA berth.

Cobras upset No. 1 Kankakee in double OT

By T. Scott Alender

As assistant coach-statistician Ken Hartman walked past my seat during the pre-game warm-ups he looked at me and said "we're going to win." I shook my head in agreement because I felt the same premonition. Forty minutes of regulation time and two overtimes later our prediction came true as the Cobras defeated the no. 1 ranked Kankakee Cavaliers 52-51. Parkland now stands 16-5 overall and in sole possession of first place in the Central Illinois Athletic Conference with a record of 4-0.

From the opening tip it was obvious that Parkland came well prepared by coach Tom Cooper as they employed a slow-down four-corner offense to offset the much quicker Cavaliers. Russell Pratt and Mark Makeever controlled the ball out front and Mike Martin and Greg Havlin were in the corners with Dana Dunson in the middle. The Cobras tried getting the ball inside to Dunson and it worked to their advantage. Dunson scored fourteen of Parklands first twenty points as they built the score to 20-8. This was to be Parklands biggest lead in the game as the Cavaliers methodically came back and even led at one point 25-23. Mike Martin's fifteen footer tied the score at 25-25 just as the buzzer sounded to end the half.

The second half began much like the first as Parkland jumped off to a six point lead early 31-25. Parkland maintained that lead until 7:13 when Kankakee's Craig Jones tipped in a missed shot and gave Kankakee its first lead since the first half 41-39. The score stayed at 41-39 until there was only :51 seconds remaining when Mike Golowski broke free for a layup and gave Kankakee a four point lead 43-39. Mark Makeever brought Parkland back to within two with an eighteen footer 43-41. Parkland, in desperate need to get the ball, fouled quickly and sent Mike Arnold to the line for two shots. He made both and Kankakee was back again with a four point lead. With only :08 seconds remaining Mark Makeever tossed in a fifteen footer to bring the Cobras to back within two once again and it looked as though that was going to be the final score. All Kankakee had to do was hold onto the ball but luck and tough defense were on Parklands side as the Kankakee's in-bound passer threw the ball right into the hands of Dana Dunson who drove to the hoop and Slam dunked it at the buzzer to tie the score at 45 and sent the game into overtime.

Parkland drew first blood in the overtime period as Jay Meyer made both ends of a one and one to put Parkland up 47-45. Craig Jones broke free and made a driving basket with less than a minute left to tie the score at 47. Parkland got the ball to Dunson for one last shot but he was double teamed and missed from behind the basket with :07 seconds showing on the clock. Kankakee's last attempt was no good so the game went into a second overtime.

Parkland outscored the Cavaliers 5 to 4 in this period as Greg Havlin made five free throws. Kankakee's Craig Jones missed a fifteen footer at the buzzer and Parkland came away with a 52-51 victory. Dana Dunson led all scorers with 28 points and Kankakee was led by Michael Arnold with 18.

Women beat Cavaliers

By Pete Early

The Parkland College Cobra women raised their season record to 18-1, with a 71-49 victory over the state's 8th ranked Kankakee Cavaliers at Kankakee.

After a sluggish first half, which saw the Cobras holding to a slim half-time lead of 37-31, came out and played typical Cobra women ball by using their fast break to open up their lead, as the defense played very well also.

Parkland placed all of their starters in double figures as Abby Ingrum again led the way with 17 points. Four other players, Janet Blacker, Kari Colravy, Tami Fortney, and Lori Anda, hit double digits.

The game's high scorer was Beth Seibert, of the Cavs, who pumped in 20 for the losers.

The Cobras' next home game is not until Wednesday, Feb. 11, against Kankakee, but play road games at Danville Feb. 7, beginning at 5:15 p.m.

Softball practice begins Feb. 9

The Parkland women's softball team will begin practice on February 9. All softball players, except those on the basketball team, should report to the batting cage area (behind the locker rooms in the Physical Education building) on Monday, February 9, at 2:15.

The first two weeks of practice will be for pitchers and catchers only; workouts for the whole squad will begin on February 23. The softball team is coached by Mike Marlow, who may be reached by phone at 351-2202 or at his office in room B-137.

Geoff Ray wins FF competition

The first week of Fast Freddy competitions was a close duel between four contestants, but Geoff Ray wound up winning the competition with a total record of 10-2. In the tie-breaker game, Ray picked DePaul to beat Syracuse, 92-71. The final score of the game was a 91-69 count. That's good pickin'. Come on down to Room X-155 and collect your $5, Geoff.

I started rather well by compiling a 9-3 record. I missed the Illinois vs. Iowa game, the Ohio State vs. Michigan State game, and the South Alabama vs. Alabama-Birmingham affair.

In other games, Tennessee squeezed past Alabama, 62-58 and Bradley whipped New Mexico State.

Utah remained in first place in the Western Athletic Conference by edging Brigham Young, 60-56, Virginia hammered Duke, 68-47, and Indiana held a 15 point lead on 69-61 behind a 26 point outburst from Isiah Thomas.

Wake Forest surprisingly whipped Marquette, North Carolina barely got by North Carolina State, 57-54, while Notre Dame beat South Carolina by the score of 94-84 as Kelly Tripucka scored 24 points.

So, another Fast Freddy is underway and this week is a good one for you 'professional'

Purdue and wound up winning prognosticators.

Collins, the perfect leader

By Chris Slack

Hey. How many of you Parkland basketball fans know that the Cobras men's team has an assistant coach? His name is Mike Collins and he plays an integral role in Coach Tom Cooper's system.

Collins, a multi-sports star at Rantoul High School in the early 70's and then a two-year football player at Illinois, is actually coaching here because he is working on his degree in Business Administration at Parkland. If Collins was a football star, why is he coaching basketball? "Well, I knew of Coach Cooper in high school when I was playing basketball but I never did play against him," said Collins. "Then, when I came to Parkland, Coach Cooper asked me to help him out."

Reminiscing on his football days at Illinois, he said that he thought the coach he played under, Bob Blackman, was a good coach who had the program going better than it is right now. "I played quite a bit when I was a sophomore but then I got hurt my junior year and red-shirted. When I came back the next year, they wanted me to switch positions and I didn't want to do that, so I decided to concentrate on my education," said Collins. Did he ever have pro aspirations in football? "Oh yes, I was wanting that money, but things just didn't work out that way."

Getting back to Parkland basketball, Collins appeared confident but cautious about the team's chances this year. "We have a real good chance of being successful if the guys keep playing together like they have been."

The Cobras, carrying an 18-5 record into tonight's game with Illinois Central, are not big but they do have some of the other intangibles that is necessary to help have a top flight team, according to Collins. "We do enough things well and that makes us a good team. We are playing real good defense and we must continue to play good defense and play aggressively to win. Also with Dana on the team, he has enough natural ability to keep us in the game at the end."

Of course, he is talking about Dana Dunson, and he DOES have enough natural ability. Dunson will no doubt play a major college next year as scouts are always watching him, but Collins says Dunson just wants to play basketball right now and not worry about the other things.

Collins, who definitely has the physical attributes to play football, likes to mix it up with the players. During practice, you will often find Collins right in the middle of the action, which is where he wants to be. "Actually I liked basketball more than football but my size was geared more towards football so I decided to try football," said Collins.

Collins is the perfect assistant coach. He has the ability to fire up the players when they are down and that is important when the players get tired at the end of the year. Yes, Collins is the perfect ASSISTANT Coach but he doesn't really have the goal of being head coach. Nooo! He wants to go higher than that! "I want to be Athletic Director. I want to run a athletic department and build things on my own," said Collins.

If he doesn't watch out, some Athletic Director is going to want him for a head coach, then what will he do? But right now, his major concern is helping Coach Tom Cooper lead the Cobras as far as possible in the post-season tournaments.
