Subject: thoughts on Lehman

following up on Bill's request for ""thoughts on how to resolve Lehman"" from yesterday. This is very rough and a bit out there frankly. I've included several ideas from our conversations yesterday afternoon, as well as some thoughts of my own. I also included a view on how lending to Lehman could be done -- pros and cons of different ways -- eg PDCF, TSLF, nonrecourse loan, etc. I have absolutely no number in here yet --- but those can be added.... If any of this is useful for the various workstreams going on around the bank, please let me know....
