GUEST ARTISTS

JUDITH REAGAN is a professional actress who comes to Providence College as director-in-residence for Ladyhouse Blues. She has performed at the Olney Theatre in Maryland, the Wayside Theatre in Virginia, St. Michael's Playhouse in Vermont and at the Equity Library Theatre in New York City. Her acting credits include major roles in Hugh Leonard's Irishmen, Same Time Next Year, Two for the Seesaw, Crucifer of Blood, Carnival, and I Do, I Do. She has also done small roles in feature films and on television in Love of Life, All My Children, and The Guiding Light. Prior to her current engagement at Providence College, she directed J. M. Barrie's Admirable Crichton at St. Michael's College, Burlington, Vermont. She has taught and directed at all educational levels and wishes to say that the very professional degree of talent and support within the Providence College Theatre Program has made this experience very rewarding for her.

In New York, Judith and her actor husband Richard Warner (a P.C. graduate, class of '73) live in Manhattan Plaza, a resident complex for people in the performing arts.

Providence College Theatre wishes to welcome MARILYN MURPHY MEARDON as she joins us for this production of Ladyhouse Blues. Marilyn is an actress, director, and teacher. She has performed with many Rhode Island theatre groups, including the Second Story Theatre, The Barker Players and Brown University Theatre.

Marilyn's current schedule includes teaching at the Young People's School for the Performing Arts and performing with both the Sidewalk Storytellers and Spellbinders. She is also the mother of four children.
