

CONGRATULATIONS, RECIPIENTS OF DIGITAL CONTENT CREATION 2022!

22 June 2023 Hits: 60

As educators progressively shift from print to digital instructional materials, the educators' exertion to creatively digitalised the materials merit some recognition.

For 2022, the E-Learning Unit, Centre for Modern Languages (CML), is pleased to announce the successful recipients of the Digital Content Creation (DCC) incentive.

Seven CML subject matter experts (SMEs) received RM 500 each from UMP as a token of recognition for their innovative DCC. The incentive has motivated the SMEs to enhance their technological pedagogical skills in developing innovative content videos using digital animation or interactive media applications.

As the gatekeeper for the initiative, Centre of Instructional Resources and E-Learning (CiReL), UMP has set specific requirements and guidelines to ensure the DCC meets the university standards.

The incentive was open for grabs from January until November 2022. The submitted DCCs underwent reviews by the E-Learning Unit and were approved at the centre's management level.

Here are our proud recipients of DCC Incentives for 2022:

- Ms. Azimah binti Ahmad Zaki
- Dr. Azwin Arif bin Abdul Rahim
- Ms. Farah Liyana binti Ahmad A'azmey
- Ms. Hanisah binti Bon (Kasbon)
- Mr. Mohd Shafiq bin Abdul Jabar
- Ms. Rosnani binti Ismail
- Ms. Siti Ainun Jariyah binti Hassan

Once again, CML E-Learning Unit would like to congratulate all the SMEs for their achievement.

We hope the incentive continues to be available this year to boost and appreciate more creative ideas because digital materials can empower educators to transform teaching and learning. As said, with the use of technology, learning and teaching not only become more interactive and exciting but also personalised (Shweta Sastri, 2019).
