Student view

83% (n=35) enjoyed doing the podcast as their assessment

'I'd definitely recommend keeping the assessment as a podcast. It was one of the only assessments I was excited to do this year as it was different and made me think outside the box'

'I felt I learned the content in a conversational way that actually benefits me in my day to day life as opposed to a highly academic way which would not come up in my day to day life'

'I learned how to go about making a podcast, recording and editing, this is a new skill I can use in the future too'.

'It is definitely a good learning experience but I would've preferred a written assignment'
