My dear Friend:-

It is true that in recent weeks I have been passing through days of sickness and suffering but your gracious and kind words of loyalty, thoughtfulness and friendship contained in your letter made the burden easier to bear and brought cheer and strength to my soul and body. I am responding at my earliest opportunity.

I pray God will let me live long enough to show in a more substantial way my grateful appreciation for your remembrance in my hours of illness. Mere words are totally inadequate to express my profound gratitude.

May God bless you in all that you do all the days of your life.

Gratefully and sincerely your friend,

U. S. S.
