Eastern Illinois University Focusing on Continuing Education and Student Success

by Brian Westbrook
Staff Writer

Parkland College offers an alternative to students who want to attend Eastern Illinois University, and you do not have to relocate to be an EIU student. Eastern Illinois University offers three Bachelor programs.

- The Bachelor of Science in Business Degree Program
- The Bachelor of Arts Board of Trustees Degree Program
- The Bachelor of Science in Career and Organizational

Studies Program

Eastern Illinois University also offers two masters degree programs that can be obtained at Parkland.

- Master of Business Administration Degree Program
- Master of Science and Technology Degree Program

These particular programs benefit adults who have a hard time relocating because of jobs, financial reasons, or the difficulties of caring for children. The programs also have a smaller classroom setting than your typical University classroom settings, which is beneficial for students who look to have a more personal relationship with their instructors.

Pat Huffmeyer is the representative for EIU, and is housed on campus in X107. With 14 years of on the job experience, she has a complete understanding of what programs are beneficial for student success. She loves helping students succeed and being a part of students' success.

Student Government Election

Candidates offer their positions

David Moore Student Trustee

As Student Trustee, I will to represent the students to the Board of Trustees more aggressively than previous students have before. Parkland College students deserve the best education and services that school can possibly provide. I want to do my part to make sure that it happens.

As a Horizon party member I will do my best to accomplish goals that we have set for party. Our campaign platform includes: 1) A website where students can auction textbooks to each other saving them money 2) Implementing a book rental system in the bookstore 3) Setting up a committee to review student complaints 4) Offering a reduced bus fair for students who use the bus system 5) Offering more food choices in our cafeteria and bringing back cheaper pop machines.

Our party wants more communications with the students. We want to hear what is on their mind.

Please get out there and vote. Vote for a team that want to work together to better represent you.

Full name as it will appear on the ballot: David Moore Position running for: Trustee.

John Anderson Student Trustee

There are many issues that need to be addressed at Parkland College. I John Anderson, believe I am the man to address them for you. I come to this position with three years experience from the U. S. Army. There I fine-tuned my leadership skills and my ability to interact and work with many kinds of people from all over the world. I have been to over thirteen different countries, so when some one brings up the issue of lowering International Student tuition, I understand that all they want is a quality education, something any human deserves. as Student Trustee, I would fight for that. This is just one of the many issues I will tackle when elected to office. So, remember this if nothing else, "Divided we are only but a faint whisper, but together we are a roaring voice that must be heard". Parkland students must pull together on issues that they want attention brought to. Bother your Student Government members, that is what we are here for, to serve you. So lets tackle these issues together and make Parkland a school that the Student Body is satisfied with and proud of.

Ai Manabe Treasurer

I am currently the Treasurer of International Student Association and have been serving for years. My major is accounting, and I have some qualifications from my country, Japan. I know how to manage, control, and analyze money and its flow. Also, I was the president of our brass band in high school and learned a lot about organizing and leading many people. Last summer, I achieved an Outstanding Student Award from parkland. I would like to work as the Treasurer of Student Government for the benefit of Parkland students as well as for my experience.

I am a member of the Horizon Party whose major goal is to make Student Government web site and a database to trade textbooks through students. Let me add some of my own ideas. The biggest plan is to lower international student fees. I, as an international student, would really like to work for this issue. We actually don't know why there is a big difference between resident and international tuition. I would like to make a release of financial information so everyone can see and understand how our budget is used and why we have to pay different tuitions. I would like to try to price down foods and vending machines so that student can feel comfortable about purchasing food at Parkland.

For a more meaningful academic life at Parkland, I will strain to form a more efficient and beneficial college system and environment. I believe that I will be able to stimulate Parkland College with diversity because I am one of the few international candidates in this election. I would like to be a bridge between the college and students for mutual understanding.

Anthony Decerbo Senator

I am interested in serving the Student Government to continue my donation of time to service. I have served many organizations in the past including my church and areas outside of the state. I have an interest in working with the positive and productive members of Government, some who I already know as outstanding individuals. I also want to be able to, not only listen to students concerns and opinions, but relay a message and bring about a change, if needed. I appreciate an opportunity to offer advice in a leadership position, for those students who ask for it. Through the Senator seat in Government, I would hope to connect people together and form support networks. Some of the important things that I value and admire in Student Government, are service, learning, and the value of student opinion. The service aspect was the first impression I had of Student Government, and it tuned me right in. I believe that service brings people closer for a good cause, and strengthens relationships among peers. Through service, skills are acquired based on the interactions with people, along with a sense of accomplishment found nowhere else. I value learning for personal progression, which is an attitude I find in Government. Reflecting the theme of progression, I want to be able to relay ideas from the students to the correct ears, so that Student opinion is real and up-to date. I feel increasing communication in this way will benefit everyone. I hope to meet many new friends and all the different faces at Parkland to increase the depth of my network system, and in turn benefit those who I come in contact with. Whether it is through networking or directions, I hope to help many Students in some way during my journey through Parkland. I will help them understand unfamiliar or confusing information; from any area I can be beneficial. Lastly, I hope to connect students together, for the benefit of one another. Those with similar interests in school, work, social life, or any other possible connection, so everyone can be more familiar with each other.

Dawood Nagda Senator

No Picture Available

Good day fine students of Parkland College. Before I communicate my qualifications and tell you why YOU should elect ME, I would like yo introduce myself. My name is Dawood Nagda, and I am here because I want to make Parkland a better place and help You to voice what is genuinely need here. Another reason I am here is because I have a passionate interest in helping and aiding people, not only to make their complicated lives easier, but also to help them be everything they want to be. thus, I feel the Student Government job is for me. You may ask, Why Should I choose Dawood Nagda as Senator? Well, to answer I would say you should elect me because I am here to help YOU. My main focus is YOU. My job as Senator would be to get your problems to the administration and to give you a clear, honest answer and try my best to solve YOUR problems to get what YOU genuinely want done. You may also ask, What qualifies Dawood Nagda as Senator? I have had previous experience in High school as well as as other volunteer organizations of leadership. I was in the core committee fro the St. Mary's Environmental Protection Group(St. Mary's was my High school) and I volunteered for many community service projects and helped in recruiting people for those projects. Finally, I will like you to know one more important thing. If I am elected as Senator, I will be there for YOU and to help solve YOUR problems. I will focus on things that YOU think are important and on what YOU wanted solved. And that is why I want to be YOUR Senator.

Carmen R Langhofer Senator

Parkland College is a great school with many opportunities and experiences to all students to help and further them in their education and personal and professional lives. It is my objective as a Student Government candidate and member to not only improve Student Life and strengthen the voice at our school, but also to help the general student population capitalize on these opportunities. This desire is not merely a wish-list, but is becoming a reality through the efforts and organization of Horizon, a group of students I am proud to be campaigning and working with this semester. We represent a wide range of racial and special interest groups, and realize that cohesiveness and cooperation within the Student Government is the best way to serve the student body. We are already working together to provide useful services to the student body, such as: creating a non-profit database for Parkland students to buy, sell, and trade textbooks with each other; creating a Student Government website that will make the student representatives easier to contact; dissipate racial segregation within Parkland through various activities; and create a :student "Complaint Committee" where students can bring problems and concerns. I, along with other members of Horizon, have student leadership experience that fully equips and qualifies me to work in Student Government. I held the position of Senator in the Fall of 1999 and Senior Senator in the Spring of this year. Looking at Horizon's goals through my past experience, I believe they are not only realistic, but also something that students are excited about. I look forward to this full and productive term.

Danish Ashraf Nagada Senator

At the age of 15, I Danish Ashraf Nagda am enrolled at Parkland College. Not only does this show my mental ability and intelligence, but it also shows that I am meticulous and dedicated to what I want to do. I try try my best with all my heart and soul to achieve what I set out to do. I keep promises and do not back out in the face of adversity. I do not want to bore you with impossible promises, which I might not be able to fulfill. Therefore, whatever I say, is easily within my capability. My primary objective as a Senator, if elected, would be to provide a link between the students of Parkland and the Administration of Parkland College. My goal as an elected Senator would be to provide you with an honest, transparent answer as I get it from the administration. In my opinion, the role of Student Government is to provide the students, who Student Government represents, with a better, cleaner place to study where the only worries you should have, is your performance in class. The purpose of this message is to provide you, not with false praise of my capabilities, but to give you an image of what I may be able to do if you elect me as your representative in the Senate, for which these elections are held.

The preceding statements have been written by the candidates for publication in the Prospectus. Original statements from the candidates are available for inspection at the Student Government office, located in X 159. We apologize for any typographical errors that may be the fault of any Prospectus staff or the individual candidate.

Mounia Lamaiti Senator

Hello, my name is Mounia Lamaiti and I want to put my skills to work for you. Being a Public Relations secretary of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society has made me interested in being more fully involved in Student Government. Therefore, I am running for the position of Senator.

My qualifications are that I am a business major with a 4.0 GPA. In addition to being an officer of Phi Theta Kappa, I am a member of the International Student Association. I also work as an assistant to the director of International Studies and Programs. Moreover, I worked last semester as a Conversation Facilitator to help international students improve their English and learn more about American Culture.

Having all these experiences has helped me learn how Parkland works, to meet a lot of people, and to develop important leadership skills.

As a member of the Horizon Party, I want to represent you and bring attention to the issues that are important to you.

The following is the Horizon Party platform:

- 1) Creating a website for students to trade textbooks with each other. This will save us time and money, and force the Parkland bookstore to become more competitive
- 2) Implementing a book rental system in the bookstore
- 3) Setting up a committee to review student complaints
- 4) Offering a reduced bus fair for students who use the bus system
- 5) Offering more food choices in our cafeteria and bringing back cheaper pop machines

Our Candidates are: Justin Hayes, Stephanie Hedrington, Mounia Lamaiti, Carmen Langhofer, Ai Manabe, David Moore, Buhmika Patel.

We need your support to make things happen. Vote for a team that will work together to better represent you, Vote Horizon. Thanks, Mounia Lamaiti, Senator Candidate, The Horizon Party.

Justin Hayes Senator

As a Horizon party member I plan to make Parkland a better place for students. I will listen to students and base my decisions on what is best for them. Being a student, I notice improvements that can be done to better students. First of all, people usually frown after seeing the receipt after purchasing their books for school. we would like to create a website so books can be traded over the Internet saving students money. also, possibly a book rental system could be put place at parkland. Another issue at Parkland is be price of Beverages in the machines. Students notice that they could probably buy a pop at a local gas station cheaper than what they would pay at Parkland. So why should students have to pay so much for a drink at school? Furthermore, could their possibly be better Alternatives for food and beverages at Parkland? Could bus fares be cheaper or maybe even free? These are all issues and concerns that Horizon would like to look into, and make sure that the students needs are being met.

This year vote for a team that wants to better represent. VOTE Horizon.

Bhumika Patel Senator

I served two semester for the International Student Association. One semester I served as Vice President and the other as President. I have experience and a pleasant taste of what the leadership role is about. With the help of other ISA officers, I have organized many important events, one being the International Cultural Fair. I have also received two very honorable awards, one being, "Outstanding Achievement Award", and the other for "Outstanding Service and Dedication as President to ISA". The ISA was awarded Club of the Year that same year. These awards can be added to my achievements. I helped plenty of International Students with their academic problems, as well as other problems they may have faced during my terms as President and Vice President. I, as a Student Government Senator, would like to continue helping all students. My main goals will be focusing on reducing the price and raising the quality of campus food and including buss-pass fees with tuition fees. These two concerns are the main problems I have come to know as a student. I will go the extra mile if need, be to help all students, as a Senator.

Josh Herbon Senator

There are many reasons why I am running for Student Government, I believe the most important reason is I would like to empower the student body. After all, Student Government is in place for students.

I served in the United States Navy for four years, where I developed leadership skills. I also worked with a very diverse group of people.

I am a good candidate because I will look out for the student's best interests. I am a hard worker, an honest person, and I think I could do good things if I were elected.

Stephanie Hedrington Senator

As Senator, I will represent the Student Body with optimism and hard work. I want to bring motivation to my fellow officers to help accomplish the goals we will set for ourselves. I believe there is too much apathy when it comes to trying to make change and I have a personality that can help change that.

As a Horizon party member I will do my best to accomplish goals that we have set for our party. Our campaign platform includes.

1. A website where students can auction textbooks to each other saving them money.
2. Implementing a book rental system in the bookstore.

3. Setting up a committee to review student's complaints.
4. Offering a reduced bus fair for students who use the bus system.
5. Offering more food choices in our cafeteria and brining back cheaper pop machines.

The Horizon Party wants to make your voices heard. Please get out there and vote. Vote for a team that wants to work together to better represent you. Vote Horizon.

Make sure you look busy 'cause some important people are watching. An outing with friends should go well over the weekend. On Sunday you're liable to learn something that makes the whole world look different from then on.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). You've been thinking about getting something for your home. On Monday and Tuesday the urge could be overwhelming. Consult your sweetheart, especially if you're spending household money. Work interferes with travel plans Wednesday and Thursday, complicating your life. It could be possible to get away early on Friday, however. An older person wants attention over the weekend and could reward you well for your efforts.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). The pace is quick on Monday and Tuesday. A brilliant antagonist forces you to prove you know your stuff. Forgetting a detail could mar your cheerful attitude on Wednesday. Your love life could be hampered by a lack of funds on Thursday and Friday. Work with your sweetheart to fine-tune your budget and wind up in a cuddly mood by Friday night. This weekend looks excellent for travel and romance. If you'd rather stay home and clean house, that's another option. It's the least-attractive of several.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Watch for surprises in a work setting Monday and Tuesday. Keep your wits about you, and everything should work out fine. Something you try on Wednesday's liable to fall flat, however. Don't believe everything you hear on Thursday, either. A new way to fix up your home could work better than expected on Thursday and Friday. Real estate or home improvements are great investments of time and money over the weekend. A project launched then could work out well.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Don't run off to buy an expensive gift for your sweetheart on Monday. Your buyer's regret on Tuesday could be awful. Instead, make plans and focus on what you'll do to make them come true. Your workload should increase on Wednesday. By Saturday you might be ready to make a romantic commitment. You should be in a better financial position to do so. Sunday's great for planning your future with a partner.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You may get conflicting orders Monday and Tuesday. Check before you get too far into the project. Keep an eye on the money trail Wednesday, and you'll stay ahead of the game. Extra work could come in Thursday, which could mean extra money. Get the deal in writing. Watch for a bargain on a household item or real estate Friday. Somebody else's sad loss could be your lucky break. Spend time this weekend planning. The more carefully you think out your next move, the more flawlessly you'll make it. This could help your cash flow and reputation.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Your plans for an excursion Monday or Tuesday could run awry. You'll race around anyway, just to get your normal chores done. A domestic complication takes up extra time on Wednesday, so keep your schedule simple then. Don't let a thoughtless remark cramp your style on Thursday. Make a correction if necessary and keep on going. News from a close friend or relative cheers you up on Friday, and romance looks like a sure bet for this weekend. Surround yourself with people you love.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). A windfall on Monday or Tuesday could help you pay off an old debt. That's the best way to spend it. Check out the gossip you hear on Wednesday and Thursday before you pass it along. You don't want to get into trouble due to somebody else's error. A knowledgeable tip could help you make a good deal on Friday, however. Home's the best place for you this weekend, but not by yourself. Have everybody over.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You're full of surprises on Monday and Tuesday. You'll wow the competition, but don't make fun of the boss. Have the facts instead, and you could win on Wednesday and Thursday. Your friends are a big help. If you're single, get them to set you up on Friday or over the weekend. If you're married, a double date with your favorite other couple should be great fun then. Try something different.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Pay attention to your nagging doubts on Monday and Tuesday. They may be trying to tell you something. You're more decisive Wednesday, but don't step on an important person's toes. Don't be too brusque on Thursday, either. Be nice, even if you feel pressed, and make the sale. By Friday the tough part should be about over. Give yourself a bonus for your efforts, and somebody else might, too. Money wants to find a way into your pockets this weekend. Give it every opportunity.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb 18). If your sweetheart's too busy to play on Monday and Tuesday, don't complain. Be flexible, and you'll be more appreciated. Work hard for the money Wednesday and Thursday, even if it's not much fun. By Friday you should see how to get something you want for your home. That makes the day a lot brighter. This weekend looks sweet. You're full of great ideas, so ask a fascinating person to try a few of them out with you.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Everybody wants your time and attention on Monday and Tuesday. Set priorities in order of profitability. An outing with friends looks too expensive on Wednesday and Thursday. If you can wait until Friday, you'll put less stress on your budget. A party at your house should go well this weekend. Invite those folks you've been wanting to know better. Stir up the old crowd with some new stories.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week ... Sept. 4: Make good changes to your home or family. Is it time to get a bigger house? Sept. 5: You're full of great ideas, so fix things up the way you want them. Sept. 6: A game you're playing could be quite expensive. Follow your heart, but don't overextend your credit! Sept. 7: Once a financial conflict's resolved, your love life improves. You have some hassles, but you get luckier as the year goes on. Sept. 8: Complete a romantic relationship, and a new one could emerge. It might even be with the same person! Sept. 9: Your work's cut out for you. Do a good job to gain wisdom, status and wealth. Sept. 10: This year may be challenging but rewarding. The more you can do, the more you can get.

Is it just me, or is coming back from a long layoff from working out about as appealing as meatloaf flavored dental floss? Well, I'm coming off of a long one (at least for me). I haven't been to the gym in almost two weeks! To make matters worse, I have no good excuses, either. Yes, my wife and I went on a two-week vacation to a small lakeside town in Michigan where there was no gym in site, but hey, that's no excuse! I could have done pull-ups on a tree limb, or filled two milk jugs with sand and proceeded to do zottzman curls on homemade bench made from the trunk of a mighty oak! But no, I just loafed around the beach and ate crap (not literally, of course - but probably not as nutritious as the real thing, either).

Here's the deal, though - and here's where I'll promise to start getting to the point of this article. Layoffs will happen whether you like it or not. Sometimes they couldn't come at a worse time, but on the other hand, a layoff once in awhile "does the body good". Will you lose ground by taking a long layoff? Yes and no. A few weeks off won't harm your momentum. In fact, some time off may be helpful to your long-term goals. Ever heard of the old adage "two steps forward, one step back"? That about sums it up. Sure, you'll probably gain a little water weight (for me, this is about the equivalent amount of water taken on by the Titanic as it sank) and your muscles might atrophy (the technical term for shrink-a-wee-bit). Again, this is not necessarily a bad thing. It gives your body a chance to recuperate after a long onslaught of intense workouts!

A layoff over a month, on the other hand, and you might as well "donate your body to science fiction" (thank you, Rodney Dangerfield). Actually, it's not quite that bad, but you will probably find that you'll have a lot of catching up to do once you get back on track. The important thing to remember, though, is that it's OK. You just need to get back into the groove! Don't throw away your previous hard work just because you slacked off for a long while.

So how do you make a comeback from a long layoff? The Tiger Woods/Nike way: "just do it". Sounds like elementary advice, but that's how it's done. If you don't give power to your actions, your lack of actions will take power over you!

There is no other way to come back from a long layoff other than just going to the gym, hitting the trail, or doing whatever you do. The hardest part is the idea of doing it. Once you just go ahead and start, it will start to feel like that old hat you love to wear. Your workout will quickly start to feel more comfortable in regards to fitting into your daily routine. This goes for those of you who have never worked out before, either. Just start! Discipline yourself into working out on a consistent basis, working through those first few weeks when you feel weak and awkward. After a short while- you veteran workout nuts can back me up here - working out will start to feel just plain good. You'll hit a groove, so to speak. So that's it! Just do it.

Parkland College introduces new Men's Basketball Coach

Troy Noble enters his first season as the Head Men's Basketball Coach at Parkland College with cautious optimism.

"The level of commitment from our sophomores has been outstanding. I expect great leadership from them this season.

Coach Noble was the assistant to Dr. Bob Gay, at MacMurray College, to a 13-12 record, including a 2nd place finish in the St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in 1996.

As a student he attended Danville Area Community College.

Parkland College New-Soccer Program... Let's Get it Started

by Brian Westbrook
Sports Editor

When people talk about college sports you can almost guarantee that soccer is not one of the sports they mention. That's ironic considering it's been the most popular international sport for years now.

Parkland College is in the early stages of their new soccer program headed by Patrick Omo Osagie. He coaches the women's and the men's team, therefore he has the tough job of putting the men's and women's soccer programs on the map. He does have help from key players Abraham Unzicker and Peter Kinwa of the men's team. Also Shannon Nickelson and Natlie Getz are expected to be the foundation of the women's team.

One concern for the women's team is depth. Not enough women are trying out for soccer at Parkland, so staying healthy will be a big part of their success this season. Coach Omo Osagie finds it very difficult to recruit for his women's team because it's a new program that a lot of high school kids don't know about. Besides the lack of numbers he feels he has a very good crop of players for his women's team. In many ways heart can out-way the numbers, which makes for a very unpredictable up and coming season.

The men's program has the numbers and also has six returning players. According to Coach Omo Osagie the men's program is almost one hundred percent better than last year and he expects them to do well this year. Come out and support both men's and women's soccer, because big crowds make big wins that much sweeter.
