Development of a Cooking Website

Julie Doyle

MS in Project Management

2017

GRADUATE STUDIES
Granite State College
UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Project Overview

- It all started over Thanksgiving….

- Existing recipe websites are too simple and do not allow for flexibility, advance planning, and tracking.

- Develop a cooking website that will allow cooks to create new recipes, track their recipe history, and refine existing recipes.

- Additional Website Features:

  - Friending   - Blunders
  - Multiple Images   - Grocery list
  - Calendar   - Ad or Ad Free
  - Sort and Search   - Commenting

RECIPES ARE ONLY GUIDELINES.
Discover new recipes, change them to fit your cooking style, and save them to your cookbook.
THATCOOKINGSITE.COM

THATCOOKINGSITE.COM

Current State and Lessons Learned

- Current Status
  - Design Aspects
  - Create, Edit, and Delete Recipes
  - Private Recipe section
  - Copy recipes to create new versions
  - Share links on Facebook and Pinterest
  - Comment on recipes
  - Notes on recipes
  - Sort and Search

- Lessons Learned
  - After work projects will take more time
  - Family and Friends are still project team members

THATCOOKINGSITE.COM
YOUR GRANDMA'S INDEX CARDS BUT, YOU KNOW, MODERN.

TRY IT. CHANGE IT. LOVE IT.
Discover new recipes, change them to fit your cooking style, and save them to your cookbook.

THATCOOKINGSITE.COM

Region 1 Medical Training Center

Sandra Lynne Hebert

MS in Project Management

Winter, 2017

GRADUATE STUDIES
Granite State College
UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF NEW HAMPSHIRE