COMPANY PROFILE

We are ROMH, a proudly South African and management owned organisation. An organisation formed by Africans for the World, a Civil & Structural Engineering company that embodies “engineering for the future”. We are a team of Professional Engineers, Technical Specialists and Project Managers structured to provide specialised consulting and management services within the Engineering and the Built Environment.

Formalised in 2013 and a Corporate Member of CESA and SABBACO, we were born out of the Engineering industry’s need for a new offering with creative modern ideas, a new approach and sustainable solutions. We strive to work together to devise ways by building resilience against disaster and climate risks, and adding an impact within the economic development whilst curbing vulnerability.
