MORNING CEREMONY - 10 A.M.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Congratulations Graduates

I want to congratulate you and also thank you for contributing to the growth and advancement of Portland State during your time at our University. Because of you, PSU continues to be a leader in community engagement. Your work is vital not only to our city and region, but also nationally and globally.

Today you are a part of the largest graduating class in the history of Portland State and the entire Oregon University System. More than 6,000 bachelor's and master's degrees, doctorates, and certificates are being awarded.

Welcome to your new role as a proud member of the PSU Alumni Association. We hope you stay in touch—we look forward to hearing all about your next steps. As you pursue new challenges and develop your careers, let's work together to build a more sustainable future for all of us.

With my warmest congratulations,

Portland State University

Portland State University serves as a center of opportunity for nearly 30,000 students and a cornerstone for more than 150,000 alumni worldwide. The strength of the University is its world-class faculty, who serve the University and the community through teaching, research, and public service.

Research at Portland State has more than doubled in the past decade, achieving new degrees of excellence through investments such as the $25 million James F. and Marion L. Miller Foundation challenge grant for sustainability. Portland State contributes an annual economic impact of $1.4 billion to the regional economy.

Located in Portland, one of the nation's most livable cities, the University's innovative approach to education combines academic rigor in the classroom with field-based experiences through internships and classroom projects with community partners.

The University's 50-acre downtown campus exhibits a commitment to sustainability with many Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certified buildings, while many of the over 200 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees incorporate sustainability into the curriculum. PSU's motto, "Let Knowledge Serve the City," inspires the teaching and research of an accomplished faculty whose work and students span the globe.

HISTORY

Portland State University opened in 1946 as the Vanport Extension Center to meet the educational needs of veterans home from World War II. The first campus was a portion of Vanport, a wartime housing project that was destroyed in 1948 when a dike broke along the Columbia River.

The campus was moved to north Portland in fall 1948, and in 1949 the Oregon Legislature made "Vanport College" permanent. Three years later the campus moved to its present location along downtown Portland's South Park Blocks, occupying the former Lincoln High School building. It was then known as the Day Division of the Portland State Extension Center.

The Legislature created Portland State College as a four-year, degree-granting institution in 1955. Graduate work was added in 1961, doctoral programs began in 1968, and the institution became Portland State University in 1969.

The University has grown from an initial enrollment of 1,410 students in 1946 to become Oregon's largest university.

Mission and Guiding Themes

The mission of Portland State University is to enhance the intellectual, social, cultural, and economic qualities of urban life by providing access throughout the life span to a quality liberal education for undergraduates and an appropriate array of professional and graduate programs especially relevant to metropolitan areas. The University conducts research and community service that support a high quality educational environment and reflect issues important to the region. It actively promotes the development of a network of educational institutions to serve the community.

The work of the University is guided by the following five themes:

PROVIDE CIVIC LEADERSHIP THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS

Lead as a civic partner, deepen our engagement as a critical community asset, demonstrate leadership in regional innovation, serve as an anchor institution in the metropolitan area.

IMPROVE STUDENT SUCCESS

Ensure a student experience that results in higher satisfaction, retention, and graduation rates.

ACHIEVE GLOBAL EXCELLENCE

Distinguish the institution nationally and internationally through the accomplishments of its faculty, reputation of its programs, and preparation of its students for a diverse and global economy.

ENHANCE EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY

Ease the transition and create more effective pathways for students to move from K-12 to higher education.

EXPAND RESOURCES AND IMPROVE EFFECTIVENESS

Expand resources in each of the funding streams (state, private, business partnerships, research, tuition), manage resources effectively, and match investments to strategic priorities.

Academic Costume

One of the most colorful features of the academic procession is the appearance of graduates, faculty, members of the Oregon University System, and guests of the University in full academic costume. The design of the gown, the color of the tassel on the cap, and the pattern, length, and colors of the hood all have long histories and special significance.

American universities, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. According to the code, the bachelor's gown worn by Portland State University graduating seniors has straight sleeves and is worn closed. Gold, silver, and green cords are worn by honors graduates. The master's gown has long, pointed sleeves with the forearm being seen through a slit at the elbow of the sleeves. The doctor's gown is faced with velvet and has bell-shaped sleeves. Each sleeve carries three bars of velvet. The tassel on the cap indicates by color the college or school conferring the degree.

In addition to the cap and gown, candidates for advanced degrees wear the academic hood, the traditional garment signifying high scholarly attainment. The doctoral hood carries the colors of the college or school conferring the degree on the outside and PSU's colors of green and white on the inside.

One legend, which deals with the origin of the cap and gown, reveals that a venerable teacher in ancient Greece promised wealthy parents that their sons would be "appropriately dressed" when presented at a banquet honoring the completion of their academic studies. However, when the young men entered the banquet hall dressed in simple sackcloth robes and carrying mortar boards, the mark of common workmen, a startled cry arose from the audience. "Let me explain," said the teacher as he raised his hands for silence. "Your sons are dressed in clothing of the mason, for their destiny is to build. Some will build cities, some will build lives—perhaps one of them may even build an empire. But all will be builders on the solid foundation of knowledge."

Student Speakers

M. Eddie Ramirez

M. EDDIE RAMIREZ is a first-generation university and high school student. Born in Tala, Jalisco Mexico, he was brought to the United States at the age of one by his parents and raised in Gresham, Oregon. He became enamored with dentistry at a young age, as well as serving his community.

Through his career at Portland State University, he served as a volunteer dental assistant at multiple dental clinics, including Creston's Children's Clinic. On campus he was a Portland State Student Ambassador, working closely with the Office of Admissions in recruiting students to campus. He also was a Diversity Scholar and a mentor for incoming freshmen Latino/a students.

He is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in organismal biology and will be attending Oregon Health & Science University school of dentistry in the fall. Mr. Ramirez hopes to continue serving his community and be an example for first-generation Latino students.

Anna Vetter

ANNA VETTER is a single mother who returned to college to encourage her children to value education. Ms. Vetter is majoring in women's studies and social science and loves being involved on campus. Juggling her roles as a student, parent, and worker, she found her passion in assisting other students' transitions into school.

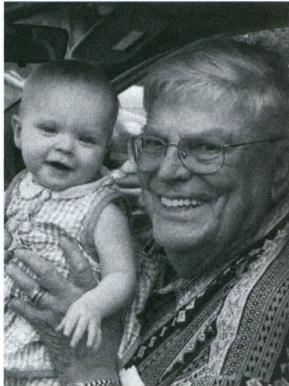

Ms. Vetter was fortunate to be named a Ford Family Foundation scholar in 2011. This scholarship spurred her on to initiate workshops that help other students apply for scholarships.

As the Empowerment Program coordinator in PSU's Women's Resource Center, she assists non-traditional students with University navigation and advising, and community connections. This fall, she will continue her education in PSU's Educational Leadership and Policy master's program.

Her involvement with the National Conference for College Women Student Leaders and with New Leadership Oregon have given her tools and the renewed energy to continue advocating for marginalized students' access to education.

Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa

Lorry I. Lokey

LORRY I. LOKEY, honorary degree recipient, is the founder of Business Wire, an international news wire service headquartered in San Francisco.

Beginning with seven customers in 1961, Mr. Lokey expanded the company to more than 25,000 accounts, 25 offices worldwide, and 550 employees. In 2006 he sold the company to Berkshire Hathaway, Inc., and significantly increased his philanthropic commitments—making major gifts to higher education, the performing arts, and other causes.

Mr. Lokey is a generous donor to Portland State University, funding many significant priorities, including endowed scholarships, the Lorry I. Lokey Endowed Chair in Judaic Studies, and the Rabbi Joshua Stampfer Professor of Israel Studies. The Stampfer professorship is the only designated Israel Studies professorship in the Pacific Northwest and makes it possible for PSU to offer a bachelor's degree in Judaic Studies—a rigorous program on par with the best undergraduate Judaic programs nationwide. Mr. Lokey is a strong supporter not only of PSU's Judaic Studies program, but also its annual Jewish history lecture series named in his honor and the Judaica collection housed in the PSU Millar Library.

Born and raised in Portland, Mr. Lokey graduated from Alameda Elementary School and Grant High School. He holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from Stanford University, where he was an editor of The Stanford Daily student newspaper. Before founding Business Wire, Mr. Lokey worked as a night wire editor for United Press in Portland, and a reporter for The Daily News in Longview, Washington. He was also a feature editor for Pacific Stars & Stripes in Tokyo during his service in World War II. Mr. Lokey moved permanently to San Francisco in 1952 and held several public relations and other corporate positions before establishing his own company.

Commencement Address

Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa

Nicholas D. Kristof

NICHOLAS D. KRISTOF, a columnist for The New York Times since November 2001, is a two-time Pulitzer Prize winning journalist.

Mr. Kristof is the son of Portland State University professors Jane Kristof and the late Ladis Kristof. He grew up on his parent's sheep and cherry farm near Yamhill, Oregon.

He graduated from Harvard College, Phi Beta Kappa, and then won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, where he studied law and graduated with first class honors. He later studied Arabic in Cairo and Chinese in Taipei. After working in France, he caught the travel bug and began backpacking around Africa and Asia, writing articles to cover his expenses.

Mr. Kristof has lived on four continents, reported on six, and traveled to more than 150 countries, every Chinese province and every main Japanese island (and all 50 states). During his travels, he has had unpleasant experiences with malaria, mobs and an African airplane crash.

After joining the Times in 1984, he served as a correspondent in Los Angeles and as bureau chief in Hong Kong, Beijing, and Tokyo. He later was associate managing editor of the Times, responsible for Sunday editions.

In 1990 Mr. Kristof and his wife, Sheryl WuDunn, won a Pulitzer Prize for their coverage of China's Tiananmen Square movement. They were the first married couple to win a Pulitzer for journalism. Mr. Kristof won a second Pulitzer in 2006, for what judges called "his graphic, deeply reported columns that, at personal risk, focused attention on genocide in Darfur."

Mr. Kristof has also won numerous other journalism prizes, and his January 1997 article about child deaths in the developing world, helped lead Bill and Melinda Gates to focus their charitable work on global health. The article is framed in the gallery of the Gates Foundation.

Mr. Kristof has taken a special interest in web journalism and was the first blogger on The New York Times website. He has a channel on Youtube and more than 1.5 million followers on Twitter and Facebook.

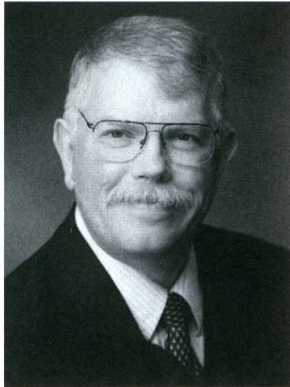

Mr. Kristof and Ms. WuDunn are authors of three best-selling books: China Wakes: The Struggle for the Soul of a Rising Power in 1994; Thunder from the East: Portrait of a Rising Asia in 2000; and Half the Sky: Turning Oppression into Opportunity for Women Worldwide in 2009.

Mr. Kristof is also the subject of an HBO documentary, Reporter, produced by Ben Affleck, and serves on the boards of Harvard University and the American Association of Rhodes Scholars. He has received a number of honorary doctorates and other honors.

Mr. Kristof and Ms. WuDunn are the parents of three children. Mr. Kristof enjoys running, backpacking, and having his Chinese and Japanese corrected by his children.

Branford Price Millar Award for Faculty Excellence

David Maier, Ph.D.

DAVID MAIER is Maseeh Professor of Emerging Technologies in the Maseeh College of Engineering and Computer Science. He has served Portland State University for ten years. His nomination materials, including letters from colleagues around the world, speak highly to the abilities and values recognized by this award. Professor Maier's research, teaching, and service are thought to have been essential to the development of both the theory and practice of databases.

Professor Maier is praised with high regard as a globally renowned scholar and widely admired colleague whose research spans both theory and systems with great success. He is well known in the database community for his wide range of productive interactions with scientists outside the database community.

Quoting one colleague, "he has a gift for speaking with scientists, understanding what the real issues are that they are facing, formulating the problem in precise terms, and coming up with novel solutions that not only help scientists in their own domains, but make a contribution to computer science." His scientific breadth and depth make him a valuable member in many interdisciplinary research teams and projects.

Professor Maier's instruction is highly praised by students and colleagues alike. They note his curiosity, quick insight, creativity, enthusiasm, and ability to explain complex information with ease. Along with his intellectual talents, they find him personable, and a supportive and respectful adviser.

With regard to service, his contributions inside and outside the University are many. Professor Maier is in great demand because of his expertise, and he is willing to give of his time for the benefit of both the academic and professional community.

The Millar Award is given annually to a faculty member who has demonstrated excellence in the areas of scholarship, instruction, university service, and public service; and whose performance in the area of scholarship and research is judged to be exceptional—values recognized by the late Branford P. Millar, a distinguished president of the University.

George C. Hoffmann Award for Faculty Excellence

Mary King, Ph.D.

MARY KING, professor of Economics, has served Portland State University for 22 years. The many letters in her nomination portfolio speak enthusiastically to the points of emphasis of this award.

Colleagues and students alike praise Professor King's passion for teaching and dedication to students. She is noted as a standout classroom lecturer, mentor, and constant advocate for her students. Students praise her brilliant grasp of the subjects she teaches, her commitment to connecting the classroom and their lives, her faith in their capacity to excel, and her determination and support to help them accomplish their goals.

Professor King's service to the University and the communities it serves are intertwined with her work as a teacher and scholar. She has been a profound, forceful presence in diversifying and internationalizing the curriculum. She has collaborated with colleagues within her college and throughout the University to make the sustainability initiative academically and intellectually meaningful and substantive. Throughout her career, she has worked with community organizations, integrating service with her teaching.

Professor King's scholarly work reflects the same wide-ranging, holistic convictions present in her teaching and service. She is widely known as a pioneering figure in the emergence of feminist economics, and considered an established and respected labor economist.

The Hoffmann Award is given annually to a faculty member in recognition of distinguished contributions to the University in the areas of instruction, university service, and scholarship which are done in the spirit of humanism, civility, and collegiality with particular dedication to students and loyalty to the University—values especially cherished by the late George C. Hoffmann, a distinguished dean and professor of history at Portland State University.

Kenneth W. and Elsie W. Butler Award for Library Faculty Service

Thomas Larsen, Ph.D., M.L.S.

THOMAS LARSEN joined the Portland State University Library staff in 1998 and began his faculty position in 2003. He performs original cataloging of rare and unusual materials in Special Collections, including manuscript leaves and Medieval Latin manuscripts.

With his doctorate in linguistics, command of multiple rare languages, and understanding of specialized cataloging rules, he makes these valuable resources accessible to faculty, students, and the general public, enriching the academic and cultural lives of library patrons.

Professor Larsen has been an essential member of several technology-focused committees, including the Shared ILS Team, which oversees PSU Library's transition to a new cataloging and acquisitions system. Professor Larsen's colleagues in the library and the greater community praise his leadership, collegiality, and technological expertise.

Professor Larsen is also known as a dedicated ally to local and global indigenous communities. As library liaison to PSU Indigenous Nations Studies, he has pursued resource acquisitions, and has demonstrated a profound commitment and knowledge that has enhanced the program immeasurably.

As his colleagues noted, "Tom Larsen's dedication to service, inquisitive nature, work ethic, and collaborative instincts are truly unmatched."

Over the years, Professor Larsen has made significant contributions to a local library consortium (Orbis Cascade Alliance). He has played a critical role in a wide variety of taskforces and project teams that have created new or improved practices. Not only is he an exemplary ambassador for the Portland State Library, his work also benefits teaching and research across the Northwest.

The Kenneth W. and Elsie W. Butler Award for Library Faculty Service is given annually to recognize excellence of library service to students, faculty and other patrons of the Portland State Library. The award was established through an endowment by Professor Emeritus Kenneth W. Butler and his wife Elsie W. Butler, and it continues to be supported by their daughters.

Mary H. Cumpston Award for Service to Students

David Coronado, B.A.

DAVID CORONADO, executive director of Oregon MESA (Math, Engineering, and Science Achievement) has served Portland State University for ten years and demonstrated his commitment to the betterment of Oregon middle and high school students as well as to the students of Portland State University.

Mr. Coronado has instituted a sustainable vision and funding model for the program, which continuously supports 6th- through 12th-grade students and their families with engineering education and college access opportunities. He has also secured funding to expand the MESA program into Salem, and his active role in revitalizing MESA USA, earned him a unanimous nomination as president of that organization, where his vision and leadership will impact more than 45,000 K-16 students annually.

Those at PSU who have worked closely with Mr. Coronado, particularly in the Maseeh College, describe him as extremely effective in fostering university spirit in freshman students who have limited knowledge of college culture. He makes partnerships within the University and connects students with other university professionals to form a cohesive support system and guides students to become resourceful and strong advocates for themselves.

In addition to mentoring students through Oregon MESA and PSU's S-3 Bridge Program, Mr. Coronado mentors students through the Oregon Aspire Program. He is also active in helping underrepresented students across the state succeed during his personal time.

In 2005, he co-created the Oregon College Access Network (ORCAN), a hub for educational resources and advice for academic professionals from all disciplines who support grades K-16 across Oregon. ORCAN has served as a communication pipeline for strategies, networking opportunities, and professional development for those in education fields for the past nine years.

The Mary H. Cumpston Award for Service to Students is given annually to an academic professional or unranked university administrator who has demonstrated excellence in the area of service to students. Mary H. Cumpston was a beloved colleague whose enduring contributions to Portland State University and to the community have enhanced the development and delivery of student services. Her gift was the ability to identify individual and University needs and to match these needs with creative and effective solutions.
