Andrew Forsberg

Andrew Forsberg was born 27 July 1864 in Gagnef, Gagnef Municipality, Dalarna County, Sweden.¹ Andrew's original Swedish name was Anders Forsberg.² Andrew is the son of Johan Andersson Forsberg and Anna Olsdotter.³ Andrew is also the brother of Jan Forsberg.⁴

Andrew and his family left Sweden for the United States on 5 March 1869 from Kopparberg, Dalarna County, Sweden.⁵ When Andrew and his family arrived in the United States, they settled in Cambridge, Isanti County, Minnesota.⁶ Andrew's parents, Jan Andersson Forsberg and Anna Olsdotter, then became farmers.⁷

Andrew enrolled in Augustana College and Theological Seminary in Rock Island, Rock Island County, Illinois (despite not finding his registration information) on 7 June 1882.⁸ As some of Andrew's exams were over languages like Latin, English, and Swedish, it is likely that he was proficient in those languages.⁹ During his senior year, Andrew was voted treasurer of the Handel-Oratorio Society, holding this position for three years, even after graduating, until 1889.¹⁰ Andrew ended up graduating with an AB average in the spring of 1886 as a major in Classical Literature.¹¹ Andrew took pictures with his graduating class and from the pictures, it is most likely that he wore glasses for a good portion of his life.¹²

After graduating from Augustana, Andrew attended Ann Harbor College in Michigan.¹³ Andrew later married Anna Matilda Anderson in Iron Mountain, Menominee County, Michigan, United States on 10 August 1888.¹⁴ Andrew and Anna then had a son named John Harold Forsberg on 6 July 1889 in Republic, Marquette County, Michigan.¹⁵ Andrew and Anna also had a daughter named May Anna Forsberg on 14 May 1892 in Republic, Marquette County, Michigan.¹⁶

Later on, Andrew moved to Minneapolis, Hennepin County, Minnesota and became a well-known resident.¹⁷ Andrew then moved to Douglas Island, Juneau County, Alaska in 1898 where he became a chief engineer for the Treadwell Gold Mining Company.¹⁸ Despite not attending Augustana's Theological Seminary,¹⁹ Andrew held yearly sermons every Christmas and was also the first person to give a Swedish sermon in Alaska on 25 December 1899.²⁰

Andrew Forsberg died on 12 January 1902²¹ due to a mining accident in a chute of the Mexican Mine of the Treadwell Gold Mining Company in Douglas City, Juneau County, Alaska.²² Andrew was buried on 15 January 1902 in the Douglas Cemetery, located in Douglas

Questions for Further Research

We wonder about Andrew's life in Gagnef, Dalarna County, Sweden. We do not have much information about Andrew's life then. Were there any stories about Andrew's family in Sweden? Where exactly did Andrew live in Sweden?

We do not have much information on Andrew's ancestors. How far documented are Andrew's ancestors? Did Andrew immigrate to the United States with other unknown family members? Are there any descendants living today who have stories of Andrew and his family?

We do not have many stories of Andrew's time at Augustana College and Theological Seminary. Are there any documented stories of Andrew's time at the college? Are there any more pictures of Andrew at the college?

We do not have information on what happened to Andrew's parents and brother in the United States. When did Andrew's parents die? When did Andrew's brother, Jan, die? What did Jan do in the United States? Did Andrew's parents stay farmers?

A record for Andrew Forsberg is in the Family Tree on FamilySearch. The record locator is LWVL-7DF.
