The ILRC: Working For You

- Know more about the e-collections of the ILRC
- Know more about the ILRC's role in helping your students, both residential and LU online students, to achieve the LU Core Competencies, including Information Literacy
- Understand more fully how this all works together and is enhanced by library instruction

Information Literacy

- InfoRM tutorial – Coming Fall 2009
- Information Literacy is one of our LU SACS Core Competencies (written communication; oral communication; technology/information literacy; quantitative reasoning; scientific reasoning; critical thinking; biblical worldview)
- “Information literacy refers to the ability to identify, assess, organize, and report information responsibly as enabled by technology and other resources.”

Mike Cobb

Electronic Resources Librarian

Funding

- Strong administrative support
- Stable, growing budget (32.5% increase from FY07 to FY09)
- Significant investment into electronic resources
- Departmental allocations for purchase of new research materials are based on a formula akin to  $e=mc^2$
- Faculty suggested purchases are strongly desired
- The library has numerous analysis tools to help develop ideas for potential acquisition

Collection Breakdown

Book Collection

- The bulk of our book collection is in print, though we have approximately 100K books in an electronic format, not counting the primary source materials included in the Evans Collection or in Early English Books Online.

Collection Breakdown

Journal Collection

- Primarily in electronic format (only about 900 in print).
- Because of our electronic focus we've been able to gain access to over 60,000 electronic journals.
- We offer Journal Finder to check on the availability of different journals.
- References to an article in one database can often lead to the article itself from another database with our "Get It @ LU" software.
- (For those not available you can use inter library loan to request the item from another school.)

Collection Breakdown

Media Collection

- We have recently purchased access to numerous online video collections, most notably the American History in Video collection and the Counseling and Therapy in Video collection.
- We have recently purchased access to a number of online music resources.

Faculty Support

- Librarians assigned by subject discipline to support faculty
- A services page off of the library homepage that lists additional services offered.
- An active Inter Library Loan department (an ILLiad account is required)

NEW---ILLiad is the interlibrary loan management system used by the A. Pierre Guillermin Library. This system allows you to:

- ▶ submit interlibrary loan requests
- ▶ track their progress
- ▶ request renewals
- ▶ enter your personal information one time
- ▶ retrieve electronic documents
- ▶ view your request history
- ▶ submit DLP requests for LU books and journals

NOTE: Textbooks are not available thru InterLibrary Loan. See below

Circulation Policies

- A Liberty One ID card is required.
- Borrowing periods: faculty- 120 days, 1 renewal. (For DVDs there is a separate policy)
- Maximum number of materials that can be borrowed at one time: faculty- 50. (For DVDs see separate policy)

DVD Collection

- Liberty has a growing collection of popular DVD titles located in the Curriculum Library
- The DVD loan period for all borrowers (faculty, staff, or students) is 7 days, with one renewal.
- The maximum number of DVDs that any individual may have out at any one time is 3.

Placing Items on Reserve

- There is an online form to place materials on reserve. Personal items placed on reserve will receive an LU barcode and tattle tape.
- Reserve materials will need to be designated as “library use only” or as three (3) day reserve items.
- Materials which faculty place on reserve will require a 24-hour processing time. During this time, the circulation department will enter the items into the computer.

What faculty say

"The value of using Digital Commons is difficult to fully gauge, but clearly it provides a window into your work for others interested in your areas of expertise, while also supporting the free exchange of relevant and reliable research and knowledge. Since placing my Selected works link in my email, I have been able to provide an online repository for conference session participants, an opportunity for others to easily access my work and a place for my students to access and build upon my scholarly pursuits. I actually use my digital commons and selected works address during presentations and in my signature of my email. Some of my work has been downloaded in excess of 100 times."

Randall Dunn - Assistant Professor of Education
