

Bound Away: The Liberty Journal of History

Volume 1 | Issue 1

Article 1

2015

Letter from the Editor

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalcommons.liberty.edu/ljh>

Recommended Citation

(2015) "Letter from the Editor," Bound Away: The Liberty Journal of History: Vol. 1: Iss. 1, Article 1.
Available at: <http://digitalcommons.liberty.edu/ljh/vol1/iss1/1>

This Letter from the Editor is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@Liberty University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Bound Away: The Liberty Journal of History by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Liberty University. For more information, please contact scholarlycommunication@liberty.edu.

Letter from the Editor

Abstract

This is the letter from the editor for Volume 1, Issue 1.

From the Editor's Desk:

Welcome to the inaugural issue of Bound Away: The Liberty Journal of History.

Liberty University has an active residential and on-line graduate program that offers the MA degree in history. Currently, the residential graduate faculty in this program serve as the editorial board and as reviewers.

A principal purpose for this journal is to provide a publication venue for graduate history students (at Liberty or other universities). But we also welcome submissions from faculty and private scholars. The long term goal is to commission our own select graduate students to lead and edit the journal.

We are excited to launch this first issue with articles from current or past graduate students in our program. From time to time we will announce calls for papers to fit selected themes, but for this first issue the topics are broad. All of the articles, we believe, adhere to the core principles of a Christian worldview perspective. That does not mean, however, that the topics are decidedly religious in nature. It does mean that the scholarship conforms to the principles of Christian integrity and excellence as outlined by the Liberty University Department of History.

Enjoy,

Editor