ALPHA CHI EPSILON

The primary words to describe Alpha Chi Epsilon are "serviceable" and "fraternal." When the permanent charter was obtained on January 9, 1967, AXE was formed as a service for the community as well as a social fraternity, with admission open to all male Northeastern students. The brothers of AXE seek to develop friendships that will last beyond their college days. Alpha Chi Epsilon offers its members opportunities to meet people, to compete in intramural sports, and generally to participate in the sort of activities which make a fraternity function. AXE also sponsors mixers for the recreation and enjoyment of the student body.

ALPHA RHO OMEGA

The Alpha Rho Omega Sorority was established in 1966 by Diane Lipkin and Sue Gaspar. It was decided that the purpose of the sorority would be to serve and uphold the interests of the college, promote high scholarship among its members and provide aid and pleasure for those in need.

They serve the school and community by ushering at the films shown at school, collecting for the Heart Fund, and by collecting unwanted toys for mentally retarded children. Their social activities include mixers — mainly BMOOC (Big Man On Campus) — Mother-Daughter Luncheon, pajama parties, hayrides, bowling parties, and picnics. For the future they hope to continue serving the school and community and establishing a sisterhood among their members.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Northeastern Illinois University Alumni Association has been officially in existence since May 6, 1971 when a nine-member Board of Directors was elected and a constitution was ratified. The Alumni Association became an incorporated organization on February 2, 1972.

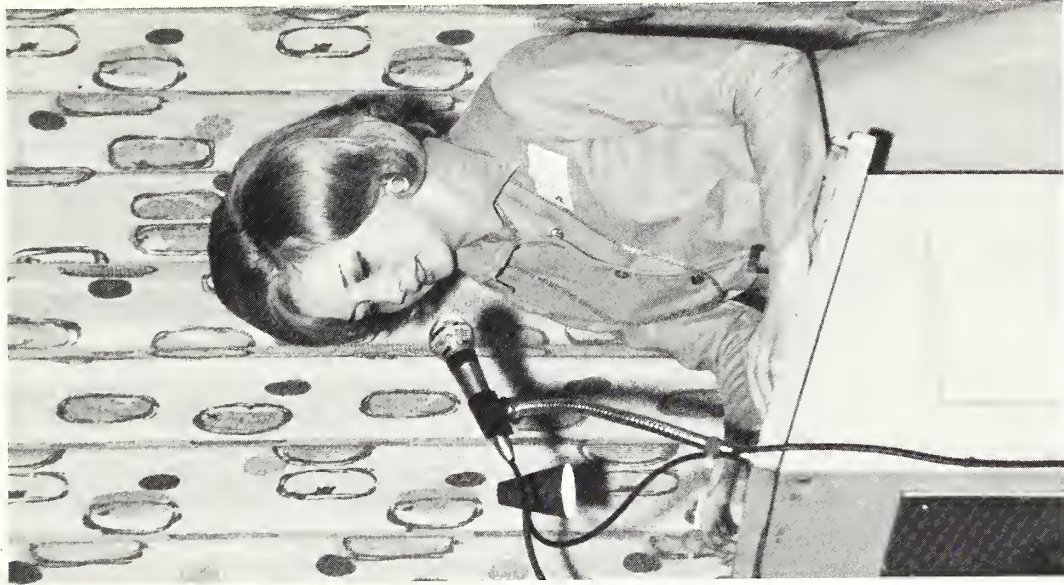

Since its formation the Alumni Association has sponsored a Variety Show, assisted with Homecoming, held two theatre parties, and sponsored a workshop on the open classroom in conjunction with Chicago State University and the University of Illinois. The Association honored Dr. Charles Moran upon his retirement for his outstanding service to Northeastern. It has also secured a year's free banking service at the National Bank of Albany Park for all graduating seniors.

All graduates of Northeastern Illinois University are automatically members of the Alumni Association and receive the ALUMNI NEWS quarterly. Dues paying members of the Association receive a membership card entitling them to library use and reduced rates for tickets to specified events.

The alumni logo, which appears on this page and on many of the car windows in the Chicago area, embodies the Alumni Association's affiliation. The hexagon, mark of the University, embraces the torch, symbol of the Northeastern Foundation, which was established to solicit and channel funds into worthwhile projects for the benefit of the school. The Alumni Association is working with both of these agencies for a stronger Northeastern.

ASIAN AFFAIRS

*THIS ORGANIZATION DID NOT PROVIDE US WITH PHOTO IDENTIFICATION

The Northeastern Association for Childhood Education is a student branch of the professional organization, Association for Childhood Education International. The purposes of the organization are to work for the education and well-being of children, to promote desirable conditions in the nursery and elementary schools, to work to raise the standard of teacher preparation and to help bring together all groups concerned with children in the school. Northeastern's branch was formed to find out what is happening in the field of education in the United States and around the world.

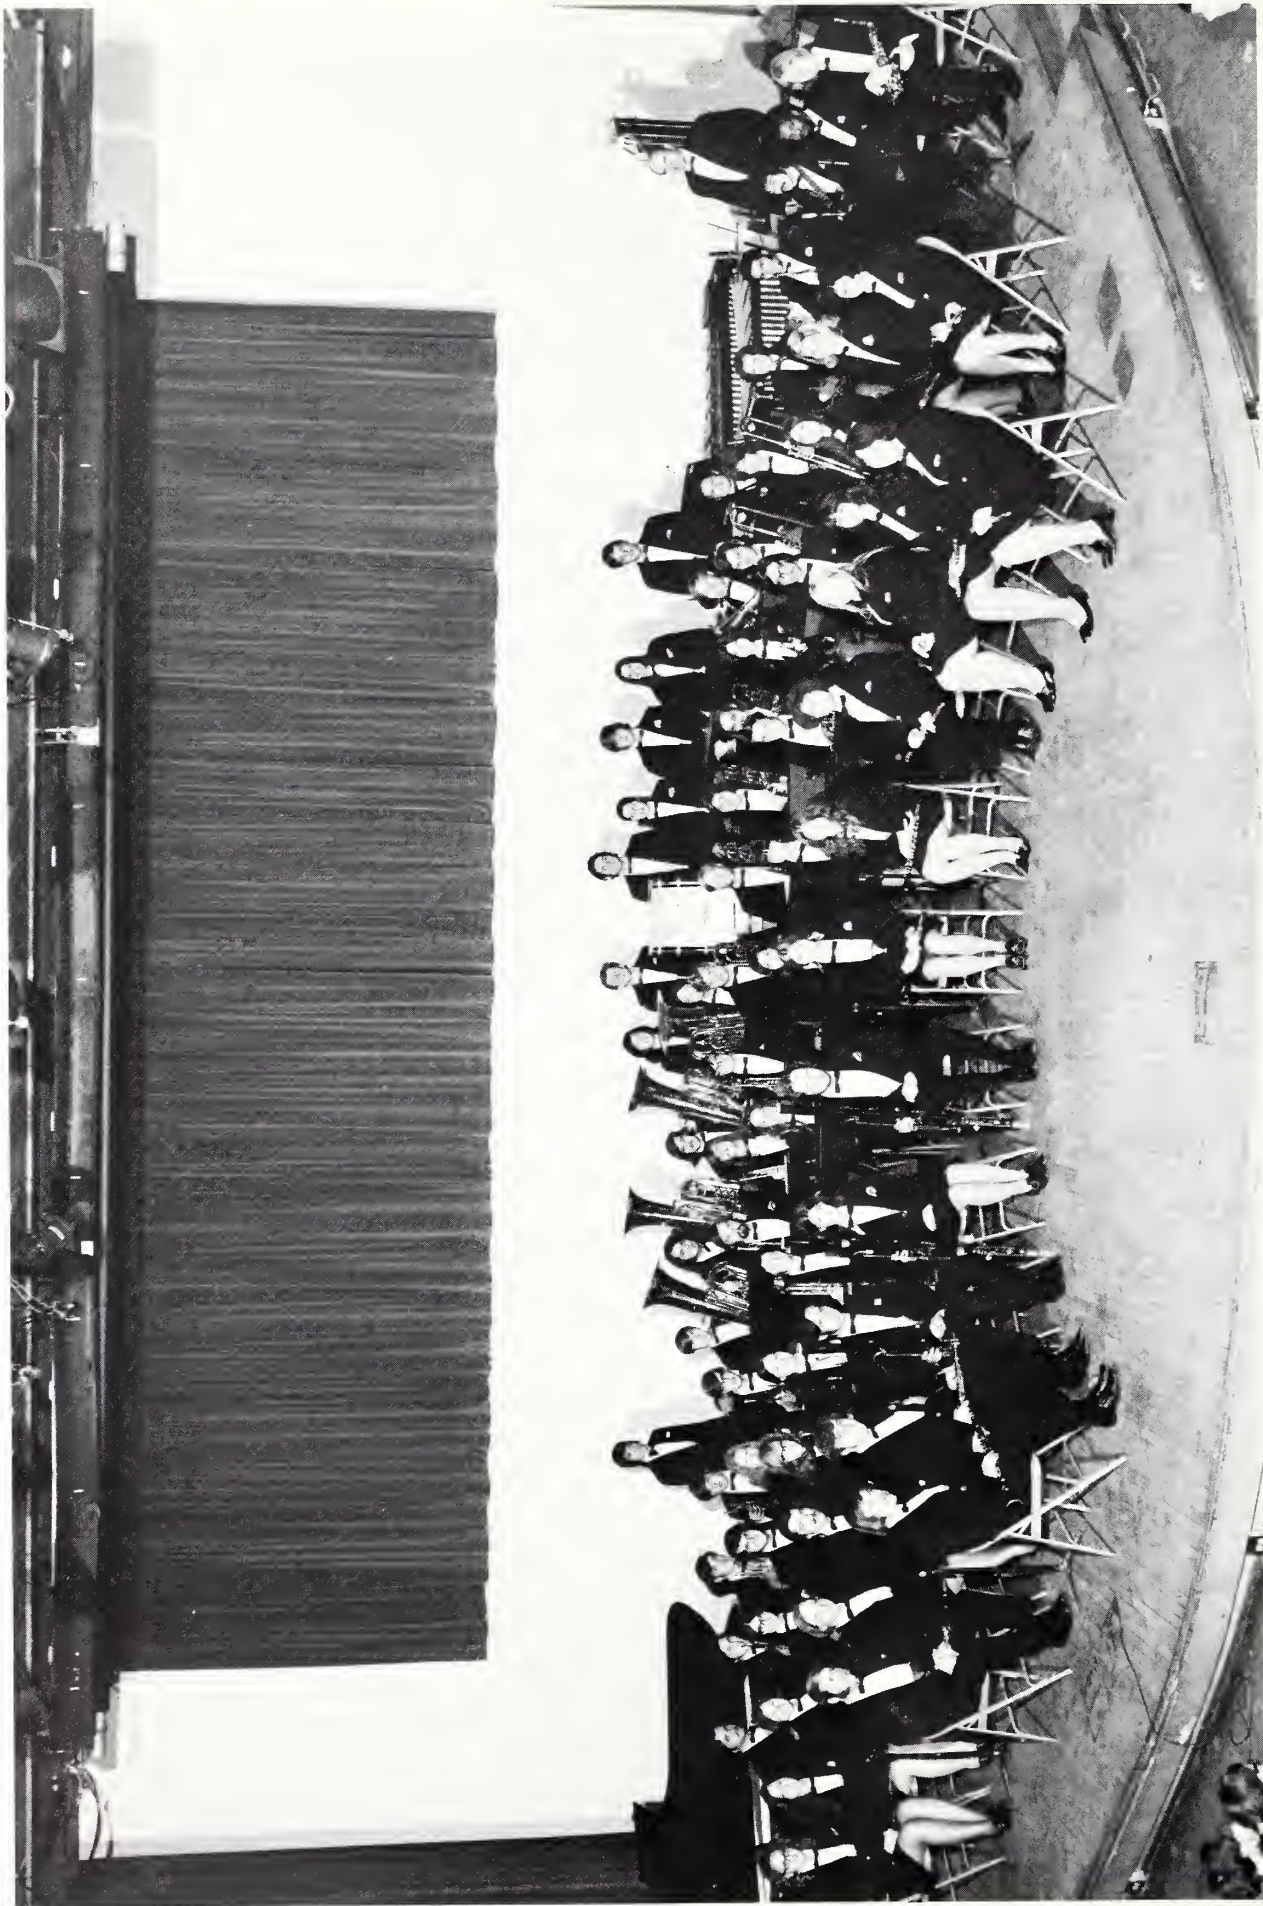

A.C.E. has had many interesting speakers at their meeting including Dr. Michael Belica, co-ordinator of the Instructional Media Program at Northeastern, Miss Bernadine Venn, head of the Stockton Schome, Mrs. Terry Urbank, founder of Supercare, Inc. a day care center in River Grove; Officer Friendly from the Chicago Police Department and Robert M. Bell from Educational Teaching Aids. The organization also sponsored a food drive for the American Indian Center.

The purpose of the Northeastern Illinois University Band is to provide an outlet for those students possessing musical talent and to experience the esthetic value of performing music. In addition to giving concerts, it provides a service to both the school and the community by participating in graduation and basketball games, and spreading good will outside the university, through such activities as the senior citizens' concerts. Finally, it provides a source of musical entertainment for the students and the community.

Dr. Gangware, director of the Band, came to Northeastern in 1966. At that time the band consisted of twenty-two members who rehearsed on the auditorium stage. The band room was a small room behind the auditorium, which served as Dr. Gangware's office, storage room, practice studio, ensemble room, part-time rehearsal hall, and teaching studio.

Throughout the year the Band participates in several regular events. The most important of these are its trimester concerts. At these, the band performs a wide variety of music including serious band music, orchestral transcriptions, popular show tunes and even experimental music. These popular concerts are scheduled every semester usually on a Wednesday evening. In addition, the Band sponsors a solo contest with the winners performing in a soloists' concert during the winter term. Furthermore, the pep band is formed from the large concert band which helps provide a zesty spirit at our home games (basketball and football), and at least one away basketball game.

The climax of the year is when band members are selected to perform in the Mid-America Intercollegiate Band for two days in Iowa.

Revived several years ago by the biology majors at Northeastern and sponsored by Dr. Jules Lerner, the Biology Club has come to be an organization staunchly supported by its members.

The purpose of the club is to enlighten persons interested in the science of life, and such enlightenment has come through excursions to museums, lectures, and certainly on out-of-doors field trips. During the winter months, such places as the Field and Rosendahl Museums, and the Shedd Aquarium, have become favorites; while the spring, summer, and early fall are times which have been used for field trips to such locations as the Indiana Sand Dunes, the Illinois Prairie Path, the prairie at 31st and Wolf Roads, and even the local LaBagh Woods for inspection of the early spring flowers.

Club meetings during the week are scenes of informative movies and lectures by outside speakers, our own biology professors, and also our own members.

At present and in the future, we are, and will be, concerned with the threats to our natural world, methods for attempting to alleviate the problems of pollution and overpopulation, and, with the help of more people, to try to maintain the delicate balance of nature.

BLACK CAUCUS

The Black Caucus is in the deepest sense, the Black Student Government at Northeastern. When the need arises to act on the behalf of any Black student's interests, members of Black Caucus work together to find a way to resolve the situation. Constantly the members of Black Caucus are mindful of their interests, both as Black people and as students striving in today's educational system.

BLACK HERITAGE

The Black Heritage Club is an organization for Black students whose immediate goal is to expose its members to their heritage as African people and then to live according to the principle of such people. In addition, the club is the medium for communication among Black students and the total student body of Northeastern.

Cultural events, speakers on topics of interest to Blacks and various kinds of entertainment are also provided by Black Heritage.

The Black Heritage Club taps the resources of each of its members in order to create a viable fraternity and a unity that will prepare the members to work within their own situations, whether as students, teachers, brothers, sisters, or friends, in order to build a strong Black Nation.

The Commuter Center Activities Board is the student union organization which co-ordinates the educational and recreational activities for the UNI community. The areas in which they work are: special events, lectures, concerts, travel, films, outdoor recreation, and publicity.

COMMUTER CENTER BOARD OF MANAGERS

The Commuter Center Board of Managers is the main policy making board of the Commuter Center. The Commuter Center Constitution provides that the Board direct and administer the affairs of the Commuter Center. This administering of affairs is subject to the counsel and approval of the President of the University. All groups having space in or using the facilities of the Commuter Center are responsible to the Commuter Center Board of Managers.

The Commuter Center Board has jurisdiction over all services the Commuter Center provides to the University community. These services include the cafeteria, vending concessions, the Book Nook, Student Service Desk, Candy Store, lockers throughout the campus, the checkroom, the Billiard Room, a check cashing service, catering for parties or meetings and a variety of programs that range from the films shown on campus to special concerts or speakers. Above all the Commuter Center is an organization made up of all the students in the university, and made for the students convenience.

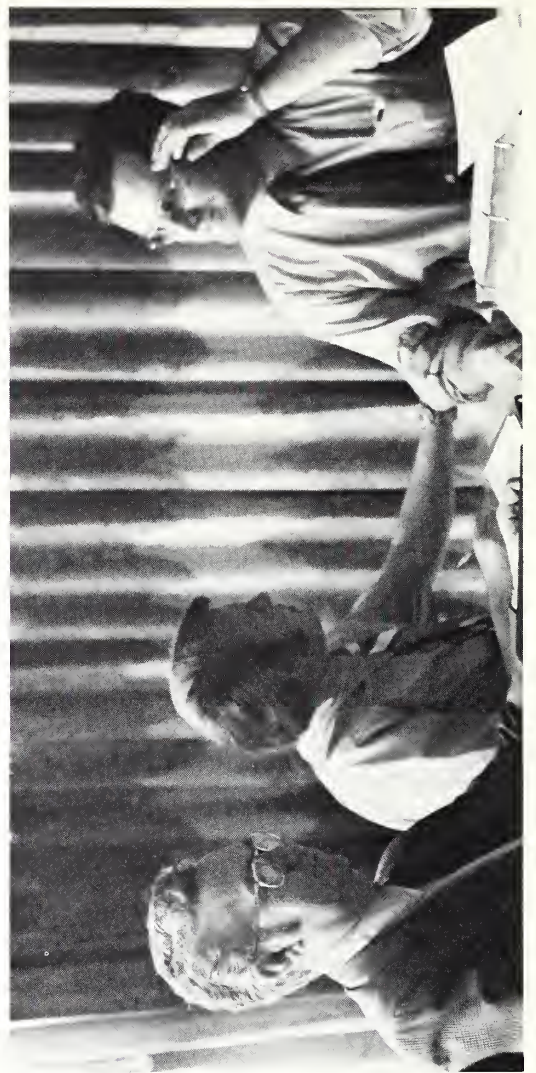

The Board is made up of nineteen members, each having one vote in the policy making process or the decisions of the Board. Eight members are undergraduates, two are graduates, two are members of the alumni, two are faculty members, two are members of the administration, two are Civil Service members, and one a representative from a neighborhood organization. Each member is elected by his peers except the two administrative members who are members because of the office they hold, these being the Vice-President for Administrative Affairs and the Vice-President for Student Affairs. The Commuter Center Constitution provides that the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman be student, the only other officer is the secretary.

The Director of the Commuter Center is employed by the Board of Governors after consideration and recommendation of the Board. The Director is responsible for the overall operation and supervision of the Commuter Center according to the policies and rulings of the Board. He is responsible for the handling of all funds generated by the various areas of the Commuter Center and provides the Board with monthly financial reports concerning all the businesses of the Commuter Center. He is also responsible for the co-ordination of all services and activities within the Commuter Center.

The Computer Science Club offers all students of the UNI Community an opportunity to become familiar with computers and computational techniques, to pool their knowledge, and to meet others with comparable interests on a social basis. Members of the club serve as tutors for the Computer Science program. Club meetings offer students an opportunity to discuss new and advanced techniques in computer applications with members of the faculty and outside experts, and to obtain information concerning professional opportunities in computer technology information science and data processing.

The thrill and challenge of learning dances from other countries bring the folk dancers of Northeastern together. The Folk Dance Club meets once a week under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bettye Ehrlich. With the guidance of her greatly diversified knowledge of dances the world over, the folk dancers practice the many intricate, graceful and forceful steps characteristic of each culture. Adding to the unique flavor of each dance are the colorful and authentic costumes that accurately show each country's mode of dress.

In the past the Folk Dance Club has demonstrated its skills at performances at the college, at freshman orientation, and for various grammar and high schools. The club hopes to keep up this fine record in the future.

Membership in the Folk Dance Club requires only that a person has interest, enthusiasm and a willingness to learn.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

Northeastern's Geography Club provides opportunities for interested students to explore the cultural and physical environment around them. The club is not exclusively for Geography majors, but rather is open to anyone interested in the surrounding environment.

The club's activities are varied and consist of field trips to such places as Mammoth Cave in Kentucky and Galena, Illinois. Another popular activity is the monthly dinner at restaurants which specialize in a specific nation's cuisine. Restaurants visited by the members included those of Spanish, Yugoslavian, Korean, German, and Peruvian nationalities.

The varied activities of Club Italiano during the 1971-72 academic year underlined the purposes of the Club's Constitution: "To develop among students on our campus an organization which offers its members all the opportunities, responsibilities, and privileges of membership. To develop a program designed a) to acquaint all students with opportunities for cultural enrichment; b) to provide culturally enriching activities; c) to provide members with opportunities for practical experience in working together, developing leadership and responsibility, and the possibility to discover and utilize sources of Italian cultural interest."

On October 15 a group of thirty attended, in high fashion, the performance of Verdi's Rigoletto at the Lyric Opera House. Bravissimo!

Mr. Hoberg addressed the Club on November 4. Dante and His World — Part II was the subject. Eccelente!

With the exception of the oil and vinegar salad being served at the beginning of the meal, the second annual Club Italiano banquet on November 18 at the Como Inn was an Italian affair. Ninety guests, among them students, parents, faculty, and Dr. and Mrs. Sachs, attended the banquet.

The meal featured "lasagna", a series of pasta, and cheese layers topped with meat sauce. But it was the "Lambrusco", a sparkling semi-sweet red wine from the northern Italian province of Emilia, that received the Following the meal, Dr. John Maher (Linguistics), and Mr. Thomas Hoberg (English) were awarded honorary membership in Northeastern's Club Italiano for their cultural contributions as guest lecturers on several occasions before the Club.

Miss Frances Calabrese, president of the Club Italiano presented this year's club officers: Diane Fuggiti (vice-president), Dorina Giannese (secretary), Anna Muscarello (treasurer), Michael Abruzzini (sergeant-at-arms).

A slide program of Venice and the surrounding region, presented by Dr. Maher, preceded the lively entertainment. Laura Jean Zerlay and Lenny Goldberg presented a musical program to the delight of all present including a waiter, undoubtedly a septuagenarian, who could not help joining in the festivities with a dancing exhibition. Dr. Galassi's recitation of the "Mia Carlotta" added to the evening's merriment. Magnifico!

Membership in Club Italiano is open to all students at UNI presently or previously enrolled in Italian classes or having interest in the Italian language and culture.

Among the in-school activities are a Penny Carnival, raffles, a Valentine's Day Candy Sale, and a Winter formal at Christmas time. With members whose interests and activities cover a wide range, the sisters have adopted a Korean boy, and write to him regularly. In addition, as service to the school, the sisters of LSA usher for concerts, graduations and other school functions. The carving of pumpkins at Halloween and the distribution of candy to hospitalized children at Christmas and Easter are some of the outside activities.

Open to all students interested in human language and the field of linguistics, the LINGUISTICS CLUB is an organization offering a variety of activities and services. The club has provided a forum where students may enrich their knowledge of linguistics, especially in its relations to other fields such as literature, psychology, anthropology, and English teaching. The past year has been the most successful in the club's history. The Linguistics Lecture Series, sponsored by the club included the following:

- | | |
|--|---|
| Dr. Robert Illwitzer | "Semantic Interpretation of YES and NO" |
| Dr. Peter Maher | "The Name of the Eagle" |
| Dr. Thomas Kochman
University of Illinois | "Social and Cultural Sources of Communication Failure" |
| Mr. Don Seigel | "Dialects in Literature" |
| Mrs. Emily Ellison | "Getting to Know Your Psyche Linguistically: Psycholinguistics" |
| Dr. Ray Jackendoff
Brandeis University | "Interpretive Semantics" |
| Dr. Pete Maher | "English As She Is Spoke" |
| Dr. James McCawley
University of Chicago | "On Identifying the Remains of Deceased Sentences" |
| Mr. Harold Hild | "Renaissance Attitudes Toward Language" |
| Mr. Jack Richardson
Mr. Ed Maxwell | "The Spelling of English" (sic) |

The lecture series is not the only activity. In December of 1971, John Barnitz, Cheryl Meres, Diane Smietana, and Karen Rosenkranz attended the forty-sixth annual meeting of the Linguistic Society of America Convention held in St. Louis. Other field trips planned by the club included visiting elementary and secondary schools where transformational grammar is taught.

The Linguistics Klub tries to close the communication gap between faculty and students. Every trimester the club sponsors a Student-Faculty Rap Session where issues such as curriculum and student problems are discussed. Last April, the linguistics students challenged the linguistics faculty in a brutal volleyball joust. Unfortunately, the faculty were victorious. At the end of every trimester, the club conducts a faculty evaluation survey which enables the students to evaluate teacher performance.

In 1972 the Linguistics Klub established a tutoring program for introductory linguistics students who seek assistance.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Founded in 1921, Phi Alpha Theta is the International Honorary Society in History and has now grown to more than 380 active chapters with membership in excess of 60,000. Established to recognize and encourage excellence in the study of history, Phi Alpha Theta sponsors annual awards for scholarship, papers, and books, and publishes The Historian, a quarterly journal of History.

The Pi Gamma Charter, chartered January 28, 1970, is actively engaged in the pursuit of the purposes established by the National Council. Besides sponsoring guest speakers in the field of history, the Pi Gamma Chapter has instituted a program under which books will be donated to the Northeastern library, and plans in the near future to establish awards for student papers in history.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity is a professional music fraternity dedicated to the advancement of music and to the brotherhood among men engaged in musical or related activities.

Sinfonia's first chapter, Alpha, was organized in 1898 at the New England Conservatory of Music to unite men with common musical interests. While this continues to be a major purpose, in addition, Phi Mu Alpha fosters the development of fraternal spirit, contributes to musical activities on college and university campuses, and encourages loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Nearly 300 active chapters, located on college and university campuses throughout the United States, initiate 3,000 men to membership each year. Alumni chapters in most major cities serve some of Sinfonia's more than 50,000 alumni members.

The membership roster of Phi Mu Alpha is a veritable "Who's Who" of men in music. Sinfonians may be found in all fields of musical activities. Membership includes students, conductors, performers, composers, arrangers, teachers, publishers, music merchants, and representatives in the areas of radio, television, and motion pictures.

Chi Omega Chapter started with a petitioning group of twenty-seven students and one faculty member early in the 1968-69 school year. Chi Omega was officially chartered at Northeastern on April 21, 1969. The chapter has grown to be an active part of the school and national organizations. Active on campus, the fraternity regularly sponsors concerts and recitals, holds a dinner for the music department, ushers at concerts, and holds a summer picnic.

The brothers of Sinfonia, therefore, enjoy the advantages of a professional and social fraternity in one.

PSI CHI HONOR SOCIETY

Psi-Chi is the national honor society in psychology. The purpose of this organization shall be to advance the science of psychology, and to encourage, stimulate, and maintain scholarship of the individual member in all fields, particularly in psychology.

The Chapter's most recent, and to-date, best-received, activity was a program entitled "Conversations With Psychologists," which brings chapter members into informal but meaningful contact with professional psychologists. Our guests of honor share their thoughts, interests, values, goals and ambitions concerning psychology as a science and a profession.

Membership is open to all qualified psychology majors and minors.

Que Ondee Sola translated into English means "May it wave alone." It refers to our Puerto Rican flag and expresses a sentiment that we are sure is embedded deep in the hearts of every Puerto Rican, and, for that matter, in the hearts of every man. It says, "I am my own man and I can deal with every other man on equal and mutual terms." We believe this to be a primary goal of every individual — for it is, really, a guarantee of dignity.

Que Ondee Sola was started in January of 1972 for the purposes of:

1. bettering communication and understanding between minority students (particularly Puerto Ricans), and the rest of the college community;
2. continuing contact with our Puerto Rican community so that we as university students do not lose sight of our main duty of staying within that community to assure its progress in every area, and so that, at the same time, our community is aware of our existence and our intentions so that they can be guides;

3. finally, as an instrument of education whereby we can inform ourselves and others about our history, cultures, literature, etc.

Que Ondee Sola is published twice a month and circulates within Northeastern, the Puerto Rican community, high school with a concentration of Puerto Rican students, and individual subscribers, including some in foreign countries.

Northeastern's only school and community service sorority, Sigma Tau Sigma was established when the university was known as Chicago Teacher's College. Following their goal of "culturally and educationally enriching disadvantaged children through tutoring," the sisters of Sigma Tau Sigma have worked as tutors in hospitals, orphanages, disciplinary homes, and community schools. Because Northeastern is no longer completely a teachers college, many of the sisters are not future teachers. These sisters help plan fundraising projects, the proceeds from which go to children's charities. Halloween dress-up and candy sale, pizza parties, car washes, and get-togethers with fraternities from sisterhood. Famous Flower Power, the beautiful dinner dance to celebrate the sorority's birthday, theatre parties, and mother-daughter luncheons are all traditional activities. This year's events included a Flower Sale for St. Valentine's Day, a St. Patrick's Day Bake Sale and an Easter raffle, which serve a double purpose of sharing fun and food with fellow students and donating funds to charities. With ski trips, parties, and tours of the city, the Sigma Tau Sigma sisters enjoyed a year filled with friendship and fun.

SOCIETY OF MILITARY ART, SCIENCE, AND HISTORY

An interest in military modeling, conflict and diplomatic gaming and military science has always been the center of focus for S.M.A.S.H., along with the interests of military and diplomatic history. For this reason, it is completely separate from the History Workshop, the organization from which SMASH grew.

S.M.A.S.H.'s highly comprehensive and relevant series of films and lectures presented over the course of each trimester, have been copied by, and useful to, many other of the university's organizations. It has given valuable help and advice to many other clubs and also departments of both faculty and administration. It continually seeks to work together with other clubs such as the History Workshop with which their day and night series of programs each term bring forth an average attendance of over one thousand.

The following will give you an idea of the past events of Spanish Club 1971-72: In September the Club gave a welcome to the University of Puerto Rico's exchange students, and presented a special program on Puerto Rico. We continued the activities by holding a Taco Dinner before the "Music of the Americas" concert, where guest soloist Rafael Mendez was a great success. We also succeeded in getting Dr. Maso, who is on our foreign language faculty to tell of his experiences in Cuba. To continue showing our appreciation for our faculty, the Spanish Club worked with the Italian Club in holding a birthday party for our Department Chairman, Dr. B. Galassi. We then ended the semester by honoring our sponsor, Dr. Angelina Pedroso, with a Cuban Banquet of "lechon and congri."

The winter semester featured in collaboration with other departments, a tribute to Picasso, Casals, and Neruda. A banquet was held some weeks later at LOS ANGIOS restaurant.

We have been busy welcoming students from various high schools, (Calumet and Tilden, for example), to Northeastern, emphasizing our great Spanish Department.

The football club finished its second season of intercollegiate competition with a somewhat disappointing 3 and 6 record. However, the success of Northeastern's club football program does not depend entirely upon the win-loss record. Just having the opportunity to be able to participate in the sport that they love so much would be enough to insure success for all club members. Northeastern's defeat of St. Louis University, the number one football club of the nation last year, by the score of 6-3, and the defeat of a strong University of Chicago team, 48-6, definitely spelled success for all players and supporters and made the season. The Northeastern Illinois University Football Club is open to any student interested in any aspect of the game of football.

Northeastern also hosted the Northern Sectional Gymnastic Meet this year. Seven schools competed resulting in a third place award on balance beam for Sue Schak and a first place on floor exercise awarded to Kathy Brym. Total scores resulted in a third place team trophy for Northeastern. The team then competed at the State Gymnastic Meet held at Northern Illinois University.

In addition to competing, the women assist in the Midwest Gymnastic Meet; held gymnastic clinics for D.G.W.S. compulsory routines and for modern gymnastics; and participate in the Physical Education Majors Playday for Chicago Area high school student.

The Eagle Hockey Club was formed in September 1971. Although comprised of Northeastern students, it is run independently from the university.

In its initial season, the Hockey Club was faced with many frustrating experiences. The record, at the time of this writing, was no wins, fourteen losses, and no ties. There were several games still remaining, however, so perhaps the club has given the opportunity to prove their skill by improving their record.

Next season the Hockey Club looks forward to school support and the eventual formation of hockey as a varsity sport on campus.

POM POM GIRLS

She walks through the halls with a 'school spirit' air, and is sponsored by suave Dr. Gangware; Basketball and football, she's really with it in helping to promote a lot of school spirit.

At home and away games, she'll perform in her little gold and brown uniform;
To make the games enjoyable for the fans, she puts forth all the effort she can, and provides entertainment that can't be beat.
To accomplish this, she'll practice day and night till she's got her routine worked out just right;

She's chosen for her rhythmic dancing skill and a natural talent for spreading good will;
She has a very well-natured personality, and friendliness and smiles come naturally;

Who is this being that sounds out of this world?
None other than a Northeastern POM POM GIRL!

The Women's Intercollegiate Softball Team opened their 1972 season with a thrilling 6-5 victory over Chicago State University. George Williams went down before the team's batting barrage by a score of 22 to 16. The team's first defeat was dealt to them by one of the state's top pitchers at Rock Valley. With a 20-0 score, two outs and the last inning, Lourdes Ubides walked, then stole second base. Linda Harty became the hero of the day by hitting a long ball to centerfield and although she was put out trying to stretch a triple into a home run, the run she batted in prevented the shut out the Rock Valley was anticipating. A comedy of errors caused their 17-7 defeat at the hands of Circle Campus. They went on to finish their season in a winning fashion by trouncing Concordia 22-5, sparking defensively against Northwestern and triumphing 19-2, and closed with a 20-7 victory against Trinity.

On the Rocks

Make Mine a Straight, Over the Rocks, by Christopher!

Christopher Kearney of Toronto ordered his notes from the UNI musical bar as "funky, country oriented rock and roll" September 27-30, 1971. He preferred making music to talking and the music he preferred is like him — powerful, rough and full of expression.

Chris complains that people have been typing him as a folk singer because of his acoustic instrumentation. Now, will he be cast as a rock singer with electric accompaniment? He repeated, "My roots are funky country. Although I've played a lot of wood and I've played some electric. I'm just a singer."

That was simple. Maybe the appeal of C.K., personally and in his music, is just this easy-going simplicity.

His home-made voice is limited in range, but not in power: he drives every song. Those songs are full of the feeling called soul, though completely without being bluesy. When he pushes on "Loosen Up," for instance, the music rolls brazenly. His ballads, "Country Lady" and "Rocking Chair Ride," move with muscular grace.

Christopher Kearney is a typical member of the Canadian folk music scene — he's not a folk singer. He is a singer-songwriter who writes for and from himself and performs his music for anyone willing and interested enough to listen. His cuts are varied in style with touches of country and traces of rock.

His album, written with thick, deep-pile texture, "Christopher Kearney," was released April 10, 1972. Recordings include the songs listed above plus: "Let it Be Gone," "Special Day," "Long Old Train," "House of D," "Everything Here," "20% Off," and "Get Back Home."

After the album was released, Toronto reviewers acknowledged that C.K. is as magnificent live as his album. Christopher performed before Queen Elizabeth on Parliament Hill. Chris was guest of the public at Massey Hall in Toronto. Kearney toured Canada, the United States and represented Canada at the Brazil International Song Festival in Rio de Janeiro.

The pick of the puck performers, southpaw guitarist, Kearney, plays upside down.

When Chris started, he tried to pick along on a garish old cast-off guitar. Instead of re-stringing it to suit a southpaw, he turned it upside down and learned all the chords backwards. Christopher still plays that way, forcing anyone in a jam to practically stand on his head to imitate him.

C.K. comes from Toronto, Lindsay, Ontario, Columbus, Georgia, San Francisco and St. John's, Newfoundland — where his parents live and where Chris knew he could get a good meal.

And he writes about what he knows best: the people he's met, and places he's been and the roads he's hitch-hiked.

Much of the future has yet to happen for Christopher Kearney, this singer-composer, folk-rock performer and the toast of the Canadian Club.

Lend An Aura at High Spirits

The appearance of Aura was at 2 p.m. March 13, 1972 in UNI's North Dining Hall. Glowing in the brassy Chicago tradition, Aura rocks with an airtight sax, trombone and trumpet trio belting out simultaneous staccato notes and rhythm.

Alto sax, Fred Entesari, breaks into some fine solo riffs in "Song of Everything." Someone else inserts some heavy flute into "Can You Imagine."

Sam Alessi on the organ or electric piano lays in some humble but earnest dexterity while Bill Waidner leads off and nimbly holds most of the songs together with his guitar work. To produce the sound of his dreams, Al Lathan, who organized Aura, uses his voice as an additional instrument.

Beware . . .

When the line "Ides of March" was spoken September 14, 1971 at UNI it was not mouthed by Caesar, Brutus, Cassius or a Soothsayer. Nor was it something of which to "beware" as it was vocalized by Jim Peterik, Chuck Soumar, Mike Borch, Bob Bergland, Larry Millas or John Larson. They are three Scorpios, two Pisces and a Virgo who comprise the Ides of March rock ensemble. Under these astrological signs, Shakespeare was shelved for a few hot rock arrangements.

Jim Peterik plays lead guitar with the group. Chuck Soumar is the newest Ide having subbed for John Larson when he was ill. One of the primary arrangers of the group is Mike Borch, a rock drummer. Bob Bergland is an original Ide who has played everything from guitar to kazoo. The first star in the Ides is Larry Millas who started as a guitar player and later switched to the organ.

He Drinks Like a Byrd

Charlie Byrd currently boasts of having a quintet of musicians. He could also brag of a triplet of musical realms he has mastered. Although most widely known for his jazz artistry, Byrd can claim classical and popular arrangements as well. He has struck a chord in appearances at jazz festivals at Newport, Monterey, Long-horn and Virginia Beach.

Another performance praised by Byrd's fans included his concert in the UNI auditorium February 16, 1972. Classical claims by Byrd include appearances with the National Baltimore, and Minneapolis Symphonies.

Light on the Water, Please

"It's beautiful," folk singer Shawn Phillips says regarding his Positano home in Italy 40 kilometers south of Naples. "There's a continual change going on — the sky picks up water from the sea, the mountain takes it, and gives it back to the sea, and the whole process starts again." Maybe this sentence could run-on into a description of Shawn's music. He performed some of this music on a guitar at the UNI Folk Festival December 6, 1971.

"I think my music contains elements of every kind of fundamental music that exists in the western music." Shawn added that there were eastern influences as well: "I've been playing the sitar for 12 years, but I do use three basic movements of classical Indian music when I play, I don't attempt to follow the techniques Indian classical players use, because I am not an Indian and I have never been to India. I just play what happens."

Make Mine a Double

Many made a double take at the Folk Festival January 17 and 18, 1972 when Carolyn and Cathy Ford appeared. The twin sisters have developed into major vocal talents with their singing in several languages and their artistic strumming. The Gate of Horn supports this viewpoint — according to them Cathy Ford “handles the bulk of the vocal efforts with well controlled pipes.” Popularity polls have shown the Ford sisters’ audiences all recognize the skillfull puck backing which Carolyn provides for the pair.

Spirited Spontaneity Sparks Solisti

The incomparable chamber orchestra of I Solisti di Zagreb played in UNI's Concert Series as one glorious sounding instrument on March 6, 1972. Twelve Yugoslavian virtuosi performed as the peer of any chamber orchestra within memory. The group's string sounds shone like glowing silk.

The Philadelphia Bulletin spoke of the ensemble's style as "so round, so firm." The Print spoke of the auditorium that night as being "so fully packed" with spectators that few more could be added.

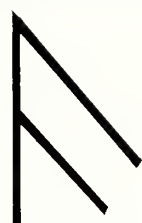

Flagello or Falstaff?

He sings one. He plays the other. And Ezio Flagello did both in a fine operatic performance in the UNI Evening Concert Series February 22, 1972.

Although still in his thirties, Flagello has grown so in artistic stature since his Metropolitan Opera debut in 1957 that he has become one of the finest singing actors of the day.

Flagello has limited his operatic appearances primarily to this country since he is in such demand here for his characterizations of nearly all the great bass and buffo roles.

Shall We Dance?

Maggie Kast, director of the Chicago Contemporary Dance Theatre, answered that in the company's March 9, 1972 performance here. She and her modern dance ensemble "toenated" Nothing is the Thing to Fear.

She Stooped, She Saw, She Conquered

i.e., Mrs. Hardcastle (Janet Gladish) protects her son, Tony Lumpkin (Harlan Schneider) in a National Shakespeare Company production April 3, 1972. Her husband, Hardcastle, (Richard Ronald Beebe) threatens him in the opening scene of UNI's performance of Oliver Goldsmith's She Stoops to Conquer.

The mistakes of the night before were rectified by a wedding the morning after in Dr. Goldsmith's sentimental comedy aided by an avid audience in the university auditorium. Traveling with an imaginative classical set constructed of aluminum, and National Shakespeare Company created an illusion of a classical stage in the UNI facility

The National Shakespeare Company has contemporary origins, having been founded in 1963. As its name implies, it will continue in its tradition of bringing the superb theatre of ancient, medieval and modern, but always, the world's greatest, playwright's to international audiences.

The author of Sex Without Guilt, Dr. Albert Ellis, spoke here February 29, 1972. Dr. Ellis discussed the syndrome of sexual guilt and frustrations and problems these can cause — marital, psychological and social. He is noted for his studies and writings on a topic which has many know-it-alls but few serious scientists.

Albert Ellis has written over thirty books and monographs including How to Live with a Neurotic and Murder and Assassination. If the seventies are a decade for the identification and treatment of hangups, Dr. Ellis has something to say for this period.

Mead on Womens' Lip et al

Anthropologist Margaret Mead spoke on the UNI campus March 16, 1972. Margaret Mead gave a bit more than lip service to the Womens' Liberation movement. Dr. Mead said, among other things, that whatever men did was achievement; whatever women did, wasn't.

Dr. Mead commented, "People in this country think the world began in 1950," when asked about the current status of women. She added, "The 1950's were a descent into abysmal conditions. We should get back to the 1920's when there was a much larger proportion of women in graduate school, women had more opportunity, and were freer."

Regarding the status of the family she said, "There is no society without marriage. No society without the family."

Brecht At Northeastern.

Seven nights they came. They assailed and commandeered the auditorium to preach their gospel of violence and empire-building, a cursing, sweating, drunken mob of soldiers, and their train of gaudy, leering women. Each night they acted out the old, old story of Galy Gay, the harmless and homey waterfront porter metamorphosed into the "human fighting machine" by "His Majesty's Imperial Indian Army". "They" was Stageplayers, and the occasion was their production (Winter, 1972) of Bertolt Brecht's A Man's A Man.

The opening words of the Master of Ceremonies (played by Pat Dillon) invited the audience into a bizarre India of Brecht's creation, an India that symbolized all the world's oppressed, enslaved by a British Army that symbolized all the world's oppressors. In the seaport town of Kilkoa, home of Mr. and Mrs. Galy Gay (Sean Mann and Kathie Foszcz), the machine-gun unit, appropriately nicknamed "The Scum" (Chris Banakis, Bob Lynch, Roger Nash and Bruce Urso), have ransacked the pagoda of the wily Mr. Wang (Bob Eichenfeld). One of them is left in a drunken stupor at the scene of the crime, and the other three inveigle Galy Gay into taking the place of their missing comrade at roll call — in order to avoid the wrath of the punctilious and menacing Sergeant "Bloody Five" (Tom Gora). So, they lead their dupe off to the "traveling canteen" of Widow Begbick, where they find him a uniform. The Widow (Sue Klein) and her "Begbick Girls" follow the army all over India, rendering, for a small fee, all the little services so dear to a soldier away from home. After roll call, when Galy Gay has drunk himself to sleep in the canteen, it transpires that the missing soldier is not going to return for some time, so the remaining three of "The Scum" decide that Galy Gay must stay in the army! Playing on his peasant greed and conceit, they lure him, next day, into a fraudulent deal involving the sale of an army elephant. He is convicted of a series of trumped up charges and sentenced to death! In a quasi-surrealistic scene, Galy Gay is knocked unconscious (believing himself to have been shot by a firing squad), and, when he wakes up, finds himself addressed by everyone as "Jeriah Jip" — the name of the missing soldier. For a while he is suspended dizzily between two personalities; but, gradually, he loses his original identity and assumes that of Jeriah Jip. This, however, is no ordinary Jeriah Jip — Galy Gay has become the "human fighting machine", a mechanical monster whose sole function is to carry out orders pitilessly and without question. He has been stripped of all aspects of humanity with which we can sympathize. All that remains to distinguish him from clockwork is his gross and repugnant appetites and savage delight in the kill. A slave to "das Fressen und die Liebe" (food and lust), this new Jeriah Jip consumes vast quantities of rice, and replaces Sergeant "Bloody Five" as Widow Begbick's chief customer. The audience can detect scarcely a trace of the reticent waterfront porter in the soulless brute who bellows out his last line of the play: "Might is right".

Brecht's play is more than simply an indictment of empire and the exploitation of man by man. It contains a unique examination of the machinery by which much of this exploitation is effected, namely the machinery of dehumanization. The metamorphosis of Galy Gay is a grotesque parody of the way in which large combines attempt to mould the individual into the "organization man". The process is the same, Brecht would maintain, for armies and business corporations alike. The individual must learn to kill without question or to get the better of competitors at any cost to human dignity. He must be brainwashed into a loyalty to the combine. The combine sees to it that, if the individual keeps its rules, he will be allowed to indulge his most animal instincts without restraint. So, the soldier who fights well is permitted to enjoy the exhilaration of the kill and to give free play to his physical appetites; and the up-and-coming businessman may indulge his avarice in proportion to his contribution to the corporation. By throwing in the teeth of his audience the most brutal aspects of such institutions, Brecht hoped to incense people into going out and doing something about it. He did not aim at producing some kind of innocuous "family entertainment", but rather at provoking people into making the world a better place.

Director, David Unumb, ensured that the playwright's aim of social education governed the Stageplayers' production. In authentic Brechtian fashion, no attempt was made to create the "illusion of reality". Instead, the play was staged in undisguised theatricality. Both wings were exposed throughout to the view of the audience, so that they could see all the off-stage actors, technicians and equipment. Make-up was used lavishly. The soldiers changed the set (designed by Durward Redd) for each scene in full view of everyone; and the songs (composed specially for the production by William Schutt, Department of Music, Northeastern) were sung unashamedly straight at the audience. After all, Brecht wanted to hammer home his social message as directly as he could, and not to create a world of make-believe for his audience to doze off into for a couple of hours. Mr. Unumb further reinforced Brecht's motif by the use of slides and film projected on to the back wall at each side of the playing area. Included were shots of Lenin addressing a mass meeting, Hitler inspecting the S. S., and sketches by George Grosz, depicting some of the more repugnant aspects of human nature. After the way in which Brecht directed his own plays, every resource available was used to bombard the audience with the playwright's social statement. The Stageplayers' production, we hope, made friends for Brecht; it may even have made enemies; but, surely, only the most heavily insulated against theatre could have seen it and remained indifferent.

NINTH HONORS CONVOCATION

Honors Convocation gives recognition to those students who have maintained a high level of scholastic excellence and to those who have shown outstanding effort in leadership and service to the University Community. The following criteria were used for awarding the President's Certificate of Achievement:

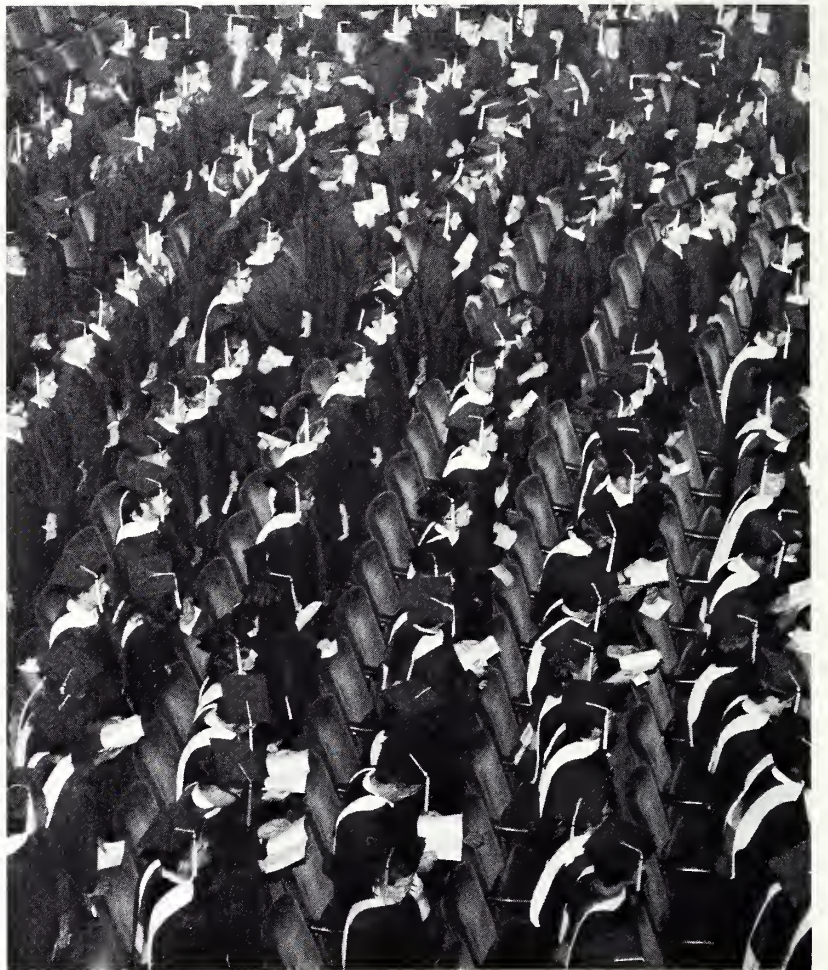

1. students who are currently enrolled in their 6th, 7th, or 8th trimester, who have a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better; who have been on the Dean's Honor List with a 4.0 or above for two or more trimesters, and who have not previously been honored at an Honors Convocation;
2. students who have shown outstanding leadership and service to the University, who are in their 6th, 7th, or 8th trimester, who have not previously been honored, who have been nominated by a Student Advisory Committee and/or the Dean or Women for consideration of an award by the Honors Convocation Committee, who have met the minimum requirements of fifteen activity points and who are in good academic standing.
