To the graduates, Class of June 1961

It may come as a bit of a surprise and a pleasurable one to students and faculty alike that in its brief seven years the Sabin Campus has had 476 graduates. The members of the June Class of 1961 are now about to join this illustrious group.

The adjective, illustrious, is consciously chosen. It is believed that most of our graduates are actually in teaching positions. It is commendable that those who have completed their training as teachers are serving the public in the schools.

This adjective is apt, too, because those of us in teacher education know that good teachers are made, not born. The training at Sabin has been thorough and we believe that students who have completed our program have had opened for them vistas inviting life-long exploration.

If each of us will continue to travel the avenues of the mind, our lives will be the richer. If we do not, the college shall have failed you and the lives of all of us will be the meaner.

Our good wishes go with you as you teach and as you pursue wisdom through learning. It is our hope that each of you will be illustrious, each in his own way.
