

$7.4 million budget approved by Parkland Board of Trustees

Parkland College's Board of Trustees has approved a tentative operating budget for 1976-77 which totals $7,444,638.

The operating budget figure is the combined totals of the education fund, $5,805,483 and the building and maintenance fund, $1,639,155. The tentative budget represents an increase of about 3.6 percent over last year's operating budget of $7,181,682.

The budget shows a sharp reduction in the College's year-end operating balance, and expenditures that exceed available revenues.

Dr. Staerkel, Parkland College president, commenting on the financial crisis facing the College said, "During the ten years of Parkland's existence, every effort has been made to develop and support a rapidly growing college at minimum cost to the taxpayer. Sufficient fund balances have been maintained in annual budgets to provide reasonable protection from the uncertainties of State funding. However, massive defaults by the State in providing authorized funding have created circumstances which made preparation of the 1976-77 budget extremely difficult. In particular, during the past two years, sharp decreases in State funding have resulted in a loss of 1800,000 to Parkland College, and this loss projected over the coming year totals a staggering $1,236,000. The deficiency in expected State revenue, coupled with the College's sharply increasing enrollments and the impact of inflation, have created a financial crisis.

"In an effort to minimize the deficit caused by the heavy defaults in State funding, it has been necessary to eliminate certain support positions and design a budget that would absorb next fall's expected increases in enrollment without adding to staff. Despite these steps, Educational Fund expenditures in the coming year are expected to be $430,000 in excess of anticipated receipts.

"In order to keep the College on a sound financial basis, Parkland has already effected stringent economies in the operation of the College, and this evening, the Board will be asked to establish a working cash fund to help meet the cash flow needs. In addition, the State's withdrawal of support leaves no alternative but to seek more local funding through higher tuition costs. Unless there is evidence that the state will provide greater financial assistance within the next three years, other actions which must be considered include asking the voters to approve a tax increase, curtailment or elimination of programs, restriction of enrollments, and further increases in tuition and fees."

Working Cash Fund Authorized
The Board passed a resolution to issue bonds in the amount of $1,000,000 for the purpose of establishing a working cash fund. The bonds will be retired at the end of one year and will require a levy of approximately 7 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The fund does not solve the financial plight of the College, but will provide the district with monies that can be used to meet its cash flow requirements, thus reducing the need to issue tax anticipation warrants.

President's Report

Dr. Staerkel reported that the Admissions Office indicates that enrollments for the fall are running ahead of last year's applications.

Bus Accepted from State

In other action, the Board accepted a gift of a bus from the State Emergency Services and Disaster Agency. The bus may be used as the College sees fit, but must be available to the State should it be needed in an emergency.

PC radio permit sought

On March 30, 1976, Parkland College formally filed a 60-page application for a non-commercial FM radio facility with the Federal Communications Commission. Ed Kelly, Coordinator of the Communications Career Program, hopes that the next procedure, granting of a station construction permit, will be accomplished within a few weeks.

The proposed 3,000 watt FM stereo facility would serve a dual purpose. First, it would bring to the more than one quarter of a million residents of District 505 a blend of Parkland news and events, some Top-40 music and perhaps, eventually, Parkland basketball. Campus events, such as last year's Illinois State Community College Speech Tournament and the Parkland College Invitational Debate Tournament would provide innovative radio programming to District 505.

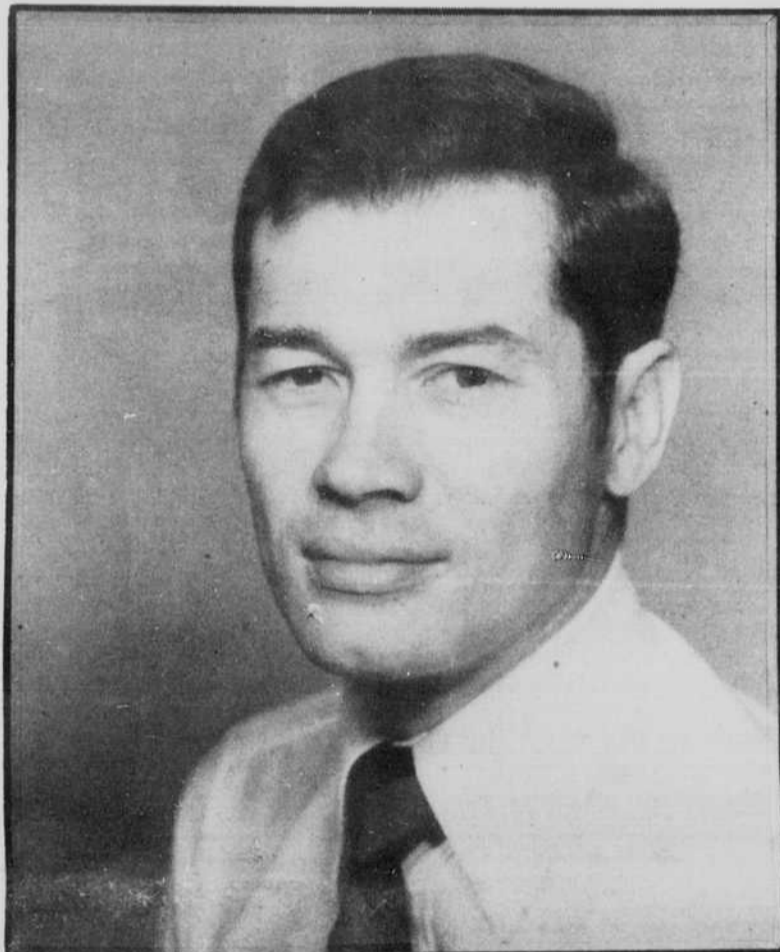

Second, the proposed station would provide for students, particularly those in the Broadcasting, Journalism and Advertising options of the Communications Career Program an opportunity to sharpen their skills in the demanding atmosphere of daily, live broadcasting.

No exact target date for the beginning of on-air operations is available, but Kelly estimated that the start date would probably occur sometime between twelve and eighteen months from now.

Stephen C. Fischer

Memorial services were conducted August 18 for Stephen C. Fischer, 33, assistant to the dean of instruction at Parkland, who collapsed and died while jogging near his home in Mahomet.

At Parkland, Mr. Fischer was in charge of the master schedule of times and rooms reserved for classes and did liaison work with the Illinois Community College Board in regard to courses and program approvals. He also had taught accounting and secretarial science courses at the college.

Before coming to Parkland as a counselor in 1968, he was a counselor at Mahomet-Seymour High School. He had assisted Dean Donald Swank as a member of the administrative staff since 1971.

Mr. Fischer also served as a senator of the Parkland College Association and worked on the organization's election committee.

He held the bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois University where he majored in business education and accounting. He also attended graduate classes at the University of Illinois.

A member of the United Methodist Church at Mahomet, Mr. Fischer sang in the church choir, taught Sunday school, and served on various committees.

"Parkland College has lost a valuable staff member," Dean Swank said. "Steve was respected by everyone. He was always positive, cheerful, energetic, and sensitive to the needs of others. His contribution to Parkland College will long be remembered. Personally, I have lost a close friend and respected colleague. To his family, we extend our deepest sympathy. They are in our thoughts and prayers."

He was born in Mount Carmel, Ill., the son of George W. and Elizabeth Corrie Fischer; his mother preceded him in death.

Mr. Fischer is survived by his wife, Patricia, and two daughters, Beth, 7, and Amy, 4. His sister, Mrs. Martha Pfeiffer, resides in Champaign, and his grandfather, Herbert Corrie, lives in Oris.

A memorial fund for his children is being established at Parkland. Contributions to the fund may be made through the Parkland Business Office.

Letter to a Parkland mommy

Dear Mommy:

I am writing from Parkland College, you know the place you sent me to school. I would have written sooner but I lost my pen; then I lost my paper. By the time I found my stuff I was lost.

A guy told me all I had to do to find my way around school was to remember that up-ramps lead to the center of the school. This is nice but now that I am here I can't find my way out.

The apartment you found for me is great but I thought you said my roommate Pat was a guy. Oh well, I don't mind. Pat and I went to a place the other night. I am not too sure what it was cause all I could hear was breaking glass, loud music, and sirens. It smelled a lot like Dad does when he plays cards with all the guys. There must have been a real popular guy there cause everybody wanted to go talk to "John" about "Ralph."

I love the apartment you got for me except it's kind of hard to study above the All-Night Diesel Repair Shop.

The dollar a day allowance you sent me is slowly disappearing; I am now only two months ahead of myself. If you could send the rest of the year's money, I might have enough left over to ride the bus home to see you on Labor Day.

I hope that you don't think I am squandering your money, but next week I planned to have some cheese on my macaroni—and maybe some meat on my bread 'n butter sandwich.

Guess who's in my Human Anatomy course? Pat! And the homework—!!!

Intermediate kiteflying is all right. My English course is pretty hard, though. For my first assignment I have to write a whole paragraph.

The course that worries me the most is my math. I just cannot figure out how to add apples and oranges with that calculator you got me.

I took Dad's advice and got a part-time job on the case study group for the abnormal psychology study at Parkland. It pays pretty well, but it's been real tough not to tell them the truth about you and dad and what you did to little Janey.

It is time to close now; Pat should be getting home from work soon. She works for the newspaper there, the PROSPECTUS. She says all the people on the staff are nice and they all know what's going on—well everywhere but on the campus. I think I might want to work there, too. She says they will take anybody for their staff.

By for now. When you send me some more money, drop me a letter, too.

Love and hugs,
DOUGIE

P.S. (Editor's Note) If you have lost your paper, or just do not have the time to write, cross out Dougie's name and send this to your mommy.

Attention Parkland students:

You now pay only $30.00 per class for Air Force ROTC. You are eligible for full tuition Federal/State AFROTC scholarships by enrolling in this excellent course.

It no longer has to decide who is going to college.

Your future no longer has to be in the hands of the almighty dollar — your dollars that is. Because an Air Force ROTC scholarship will pick up the bills. Tuition bills . . . textbook and lab bills. Plus, it provides for a hundred dollar a month allowance for you to spend as you see fit.

And at graduation, that scholarship really starts paying off. You receive a commission as an Air Force officer. Plus a good job to go to. And a future without limits. Travel. Promotions. Prestige.

There are 6,500 Air Force ROTC college scholarships in total. Why not see if you've earned one during the last few years.

Greetings from the school, Stu-Go and Prospectus.

Well Hello , Hello, Hello.....

To our readers—

The PROSPECTUS welcomes the students of '76-'77 and hopes that we can be a good and significant part of your college experience.

PROSPECTUS is the source for many students of activities, events, and school news not found in other places. We also offer to the student a broad range of advertisers who we hope will be helpful to them in finding the goods or services that they require.

In addition to an informational source, we hope to be, with your input, a meaningful and diverse forum for a broad range of student viewpoint.

Help us and yourself to make the PROSPECTUS your newspaper. It's one of the few voices you have.

THE STAFF OF
PROSPECTUS

Nineteen seventy-six, seventy-seven promises to be a great year for you at Parkland College. The College is growing fast and you are a part of it. Parkland is here for you.

I see bigger and better things happening this year not only in the classroom and in our Activities Program, but in the Student Senate as well.

To insure the success of this year's activities, we welcome your participation and input in all phases of student government: committee, board, and Senate membership or through suggestions and services. Contact any senator or me for assistance in the Student Government Office X159.

Good Luck this year.

BOBBIE REID
President
Student Government

Dear Fellow Students of PC

As the '76-'77 school year opens, I am requesting your participation in the organizations and activities which will be available for all students.

Freshmen—this is your first year; become involved, just don't be part of PC—let PC be part of you.

Sophomores—you still have a chance—act now.

Special Students—make the best of what's offered, especially activities.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT needs your help. You can be an officer or a senator. Come by and sign up for a committee. Be involved; give us your ideas.

This is YOUR school. Be part of the solution—not the problem!

Sincerely,
DIANE ALEXANDER
Vice-President, Student Government
on behalf of the Executive Board

Ten years ago 1,338 students became the first class in Parkland's history. At that time Parkland College consisted of a motley collection of business buildings in downtown Champaign. Students attended classes in churches, vacated supermarkets, office buildings—even in an old Arthur Murray Dance Studio. While the facilities left something to be desired, students and faculty alike were proud of their fledgling college and excited about the future.

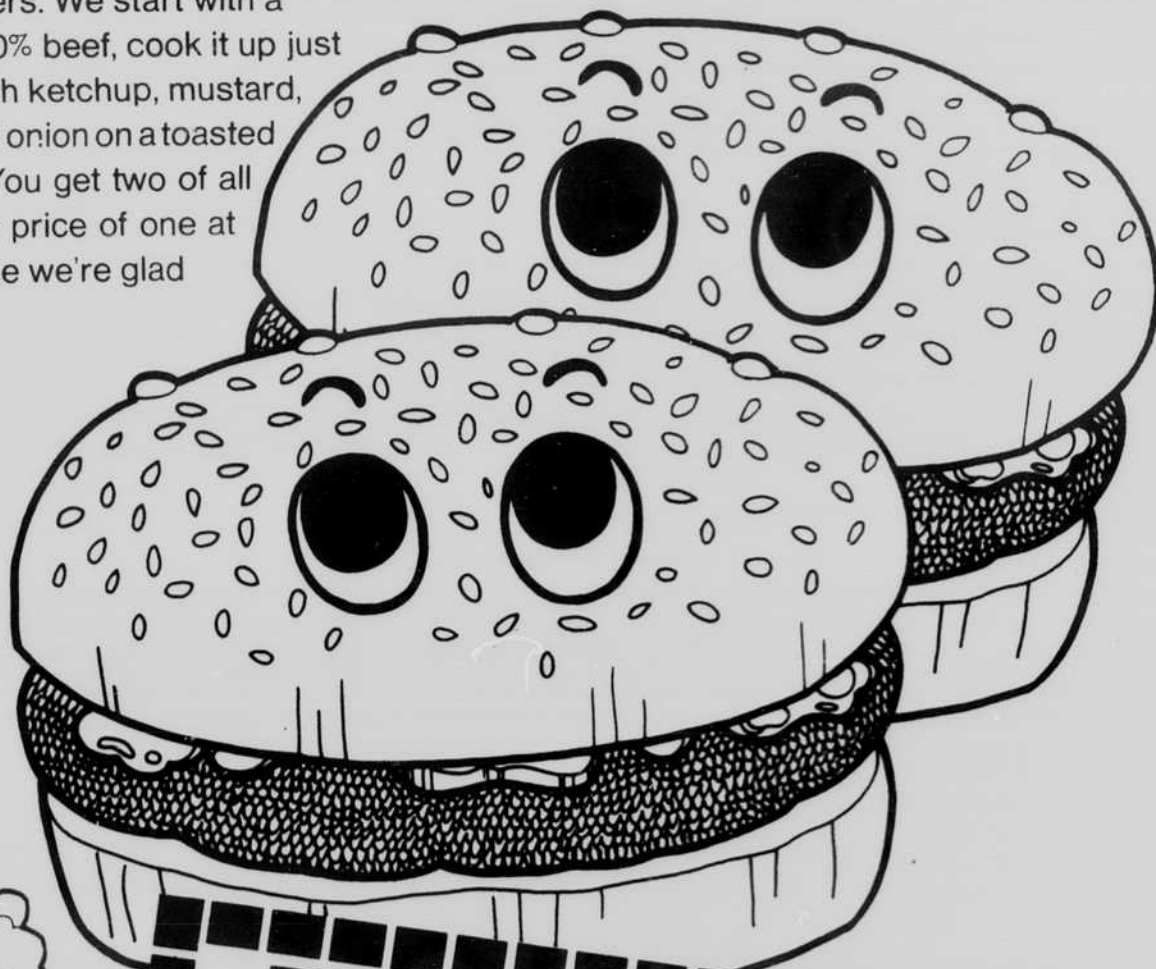

Now—ten years later, Parkland has developed into one of the nation's finest community colleges. From every viewpoint—faculty, programs, and facilities, the college has more than equalled the hopes and dreams of those who started in 1967.

Please accept my best wishes for a highly successful and rewarding year at Parkland.

Julie Corley star rocker

A Parkland student is $200 richer, and she claims the sum is "rockin' chair money."

And she is right.

Julie Corley, a 19-year-old student here at PC was the winner of the Fisher Community rocking chair marathon.

She stopped rocking at 5:40 in the morning after 67 hours and 40 minutes of constant rocking. Her last competitor gave up just five minutes before.

The contest was part of the Fisher Area Centennial Celebration.

Cindy Zehr, 21, of Fisher, settled for the $75 second prize when she halted her chair at 5:35 a.m.

"She was just exhausted," a contest official said of Miss Zehr, "but Julie could have gone on. She really could have. She just stopped because there was no point to it; she had already won."

Patty Hedrick, 21, of Fisher, won $25 in third place. She rocked just 45 minutes less than the champion, stopping after 66 hours and 55 minutes.

One other contestant, Gregg Giertz, 16, of Fisher, stuck it out almost to the end, giving up after 65 hours and seven minutes.

The marathon began with 26 contestants.

Champaign National Bank Presents an easy choice:

CASH TOTING

On the one hand, we have an old-fashioned wallet, stuffed beyond capacity with fattening bills. A real double whopper in the pocket. Strangely enough, some students still use the out-dated wallet in paying bills, making purchases, etc. But alas, too many of these students lose track of where their money goes and find themselves dorm-bound when it's time to boogie.

VS.

CHECK WRITING

On the other hand, we have an obvious alternative to old-fashioned cash toting—the modern checkbook. It's extremely portable and gives you the exact amount of money you need when you need it. The checkbook also provides a method of recording where your money goes, along with receipts in the form of cancelled checks. Checking is never having to feel like a Freshman.

Another nice choice—2 ways to check

WITH CHECKMASTER, you can open an account for any amount. You'll get 50 personalized checks free. The cost is 10¢ for each check you write. The ones you mess up don't count. A quarterly statement lets you check on your checking.

FREE'N EASY CHECKING also starts with any amount and you get 50 personalized checks free. You pay no service charge as long as you keep a $100 minimum balance. If it dips below that, there's a $1.50 charge—no matter how many checks you write. A monthly statement tells you what went where.

Once the school has reported a person not having satisfactory progress, they cannot be certified by the school, even if the school permits them to re-enroll, until the Veterans Administration notifies the school. - 2) The last date of attendance for anyone receiving a final letter grade of N or W will be determined by the mid-term report and/or last day of attendance recorded by the instructor.

Example #2: Anyone who received a final grade of W or N and a letter grade other than an N or W at mid-term will be terminated at mid-term or later.
 Students who receive an N or W will be responsible for obtaining verification of the last day of attendance, in writing, from the instructor and delivering it to the Office of Veteran's Affairs.
- 3) Anyone who received an I for incomplete as a final grade must complete the course within the required time or receive a failing grade. See Parkland College's 1976-77 Catalog, Page 25, Grading.
- 4) Parkland is offering courses which have starting and ending dates other than the normal semester starting and ending dates. Parkland will show total credit earned for those courses as credit earned for the semester. The Veterans Administration will not accept the total earned as Parkland shows it on your transcript. They will compute your benefits at a rate of payment determined by their adjudication section. An award letter should be sent to each person telling the rate of payment and length of time at that rate.
- 5) Courses may not be repeated unless it is necessary to satisfy graduation requirements.
- 6) Only courses leading to a degree in the program you have specified should be taken and used for V.A. Educational Benefits. Your program specified with the V.A. should be the same program that you are enrolled in at Parkland College. It is your responsibility that both programs are the same and any changes should be reported to the Office of Veterans Affairs immediately.
- 7) Any course listed as a General Studies course (GSB) or Non-Credit course (NCR) cannot be used for Veterans Educational Benefits from the Veterans Administration, but the Illinois Veterans Scholarship will pay the tuition and fees for the General Studies course if you are entitled to the scholarship.
- 8) Each semester, the first week of class, everyone should verify the number of hours they are taking to insure proper credit will be sent to the Veterans Administration. Any change should be promptly reported to the Veterans Affairs Office or the Veterans Administration.
- 9) Any address change should be reported to at least three (3) places: the Post Office, Admissions and Records, and to the Veterans Administration. Timely reporting of address change could help in receiving your check on time. Change of address forms for the V.A. can be obtained at the Office of Veterans Affairs.
- 10) Anyone having a problem with their educational payment should contact the Veterans Administration Representative, Larry Wisnosky, located in the Office of Veterans Affairs (Room X163).

IF THERE ARE ANY QUESTIONS, CONTACT THE VETERANS' AFFAIRS OFFICE AT: 351-2206 OR 351-2253.

Debate needs new talent

The Parkland College Intercollegiate Debate Team is in need of interested students.

Since the initiation of a debate activity five years ago, there has always been returning veterans to lead the way into a new season. This year there is not.

No experience is needed to join or inquire about the debate team. The season runs from October through April. Parkland's debaters will research and practice and compete with community colleges and universities on this year's National Collegiate Topic involving the Federal regulation and standardization of Consumer Products. If you are often concerned over "consumerism" this year's topic should be of interest.

To be a member of the Parkland College Debate Team you need only be a Parkland student (full or part-time). No experience is needed. Most of Parkland's previous nineteen debaters over the past four years did not even have a speech course much less debated. Only two debaters have had high school experience. The only common ingredient to debate enjoyment and success is the desire to think and express those thoughts.

With little or no previous forensic experience Parkland's debaters have captured scores of state, regional, and national trophies.

Debate takes time, but work and family commitments can be kept with the inclusion of debate practice and tournaments. Again, the most significant cost to the student is time. The tournaments are normally Friday and Saturday outings. At this time six to eight tournaments are scheduled throughout the midwest in Lincoln-Douglas and Oxford debate formats. Originating with this year will be the participation of Parkland debaters at University Student Congresses, Mock Trials, and Parliamentary Deliberations; and audience debaters within our college district.

The last three years Parkland has qualified and competed at the National Debate Tournaments in Omaha, Sacramento, and Chicago (these debaters had little or no debate experience before they joined the team). This year's Nationals are in Washington, D.C. Besides learning a great deal while enjoying free travel, lodging and food, three previous Parkland debaters have been offered scholarships up to $2,500 to continue their education and debating at a leading university.

Debate is work, and a debater has to work to enjoy its rewards. If any student is interested in joining the team contact the Director of Debate, Chuck Newman at C-128 or call 351-2310 or 359-2188. If you enjoy to read, think, and speak consider joining the Parkland College Debate team.

Parkland G.E.D.

Program helps diploma-seekers

No high school diploma? Over 18 years of age?

Those are the qualifications for the G.E.D. (General Education Development) Preparation and Testing Program being offered by Parkland College. Persons who successfully complete the G.E.D. exam earn a high school equivalency certificate.

The program offers two options by which individuals can prepare for the G.E.D. exam. Option I offers courses in reading, mathematics, and English which are designed to develop the skills necessary for the exam. Option II is a review of reading, mathematics and English skills. Individuals work at their own rate of progress with the program lasting from 1-16 weeks. The test is administered at Parkland when the individual feels ready for it. Graduates of the program can anticipate better job qualifications, possible job advancement, and even preparation for college study.

Registration will continue for the G.E.D. program through Sept. 1.

A final orientation session is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in C136.

The G.E.D. preparation courses have no fee, but book fees will total about $11.00. For more information call the Parkland College Continuing Education Office at 351-2244.

Parkland College offers the G.E.D. test periodically during the school year for anyone who feels ready to take the exam. Residents of counties other than Champaign County may file an application for testing at the Office of the Superintendent of the Educational Service Region in the county where they reside.

Farmer's Market brings out the crowds to Downtown Champaign's Mall each Thursday during the summer months. Here Kayla Black of Danville sells tomatoes to an unidentified customer. Good weather this year has welcomed large groups of vendors and buyers, selling everything from sweet corn to baked goods. The Market will continue through September 9, according to Mall officials. "Get involved"

Poli-Sci for Today-- with a little Econ 000.1 thrown in

By Maryjo A. McCabe
Editor Emeritus

In a few weeks, three or four hundred of us (if past elections are any indication) will bestir ourselves to vote for representatives to the student governing body. The Student Government, known interestingly enough as Stu-Go, has charge of student activities and the fees charged for same.

That means (pay attention—I may ask questions later) that Stu-Go, once it is duly elected, will have a working fiscal budget of at least $75,000-$80,000.

The purpose of those funds (wow, this is getting tough) is to, uh, provide student activities.

We can hack it. But then comes the rub, namely: what activities will be provided? Student bodies are like stocks and bonds: they're di-ver-si-fied. Upon analysis, that fact leads to another profound conclusion: the same activities do not appeal to all students.

Heavy stuff. Now, if you'll all look at your copies of last year's Stu-Go budget, you'll see that certain line items are permanent; i.e., athletics (rah!), supplies (yawn) and various other fixed necessities of corporate life. (Translation: other people's money.)

Hidden among all the items are a few which (might) awaken your interests.

Convocations

For purposes of this lecture, Convocations has in the past meant mostly movies, and booked-in bands. Movies don't present much of a problem as far as appeal; either you go or you don't.

Actually, there is an in-between measure; you can stand outside C118 and look in at the movie as the fancy hits you, and if you don't mind movies without sound.

With bands, well, the situation gets a little sticky. A lot of people are turned off by rock groups but the groups get paid through student activity fees. Others like rock all right, but a lot of them forget that a band is to appear. Up until last year (pre-historic days), visiting bands played in the Student Lounge; but since the Powers That Be—hereinafter referred to as, if at all, as PTB—ruled that all bands must play in the Gym. (P.E. to you, too, fella.) So, if you want your money's worth, you have to remember when the bands are going to be appearing. And then you have to get up off your duff . . .

Gone are the days when Mighty Joe Young's plaintive ballads emanating from the Student Lounge rocked gently through the halls—and walls—

Another item on the budget is Student Services. It differs from the Convocations in that it provides for such services as trips to see major league ballgames, annual Christmas shopping trip, etc., etc.

Evening Students

Then there is the amount earmarked for Evening Students, and a problem immediately crops up there. What can be done for evening students? (Sorry; free transportation, personal tutors and overnight accommodations have already been ruled out.) Some thought has to be given to the fact that all—day and evening, full and part-time—students must pay the fees for activities.

Last year, chili suppers and coffee hours were instigated for and welcomed by evening students. PROSPECTUS also made arrangements to have the newspaper available to off-campus (night) students. But Stu-Go would really be happy to receive some suggestions that they could implement.

Let's get on to other matters: the body politic. Those who run for Stu-Go on the assumption that this is a popularity contest find out soon enough that there's a lot of nitty-gritty involved. Weekly meetings. Long weekly meetings. Meetings before meetings. Therefore, if you run for Stu-Go and are elected, be prepared. (If you were a Scout, it helps.)

Be prepared, too, to answer to your student body, and to investigative—snoopy—PROSPECTUS reporters.

Now, there is a body within the body that can have a lot of impact on the parent group. (huh?) The body within is the I.O.C., made up of representatives of all student organizations. If there is an organization that pursues an interest of yours, join it. And then make certain that the representative of it attends the I.O.C. meetings and gets a budget allocation for that organization.

If there isn't an organization that encompasses your abiding interest, find out how to start your own organization. (Aw, go on. Don't be bashful, it's done all the time.)

Not going to run for Stu-Go? Not going to join an organization—just yet, that is? Well, you still should consider attending the Stu-Go meetings. Don't forget that $80,000 budget, $1.85 (per credit hour) of which is yours. The meetings are open, they're free, they're held at a convenient time, and—sometimes—they're interesting, sort of.

—Would you settle for going in and meeting the members of Stu-Go? (Room X158)—and keeping track of their doings by reading the PROSPECTUS?

Thank you, we 'preciate it.

Now for the questions alluded to earlier. Ask yourself: who will best represent me (and my money)? What is this person's platform?

If your answer to anything besides "who cares?", give yourself 100 points.

Donkeys or elephants, the choice is yours

With the Presidential elections being only a couple of months away, students may wish to participate in either the Democratic Club or the Republican Club this year.

Students interested in promoting and perpetuating the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party are encouraged to participate in the Democrats Club. Programs shall be developed by students to increase knowledge and interest in governmental affairs, and acquaint the students with candidates and present-day issues.

The purpose of the Republican Club is to promote and develop knowledge and understanding of the Republican Party, its program and principles. The organization states that its goal is to serve the College, local, state, and national governments by developing a knowledgeable society in the issues, problems, and concerns of our present-day society.

Get involved this year—or "Get on the Bandwagon!"

Story of the year

Schorr addresses Parkland

What was to be a simple commencement address became, through a series of national and school controversies, PC's biggest story of last year.

Daniel Schorr, CBS newsman, was to address the Class of 1976. Between the time of his commitment and the May 21 graduation date, however, Schorr had turned into a topic of national debate.

The source of contention was Schorr's turning over of a Congressional report on covert CIA activity for publication. For that action, Schorr was put under Congressional investigation and suspended from the CBS staff. The controversy also resulted in the cancellation of Schorr's Parkland speech.

Protest against this action by PC students and staff, however, quickly resulted in the rescheduling of Schorr for an April 6 appearance.

Schorr's speech that evening was a rare view of a first-hand news-maker's motivation in protecting "the public's right to know."

"The basic issue," stated Schorr, concerning the events surrounding him, "is the First Amendment—the freedom of the press."

He further explained that his decision to release the report, which detailed CIA assassination plots and CIA-Mafia connections, was reached after a House vote to release the document, a vote which was later vetoed by the White House.

Presently, Schorr is still under investigation and has refused to identify his source for the material before a Congressional committee.

Peer Counseling begins

By Jim Murray

PC's counseling department has expanded their services in two ways this year in order to better fulfill their commitment to help students both in and outside of the classroom.

Peer counseling will be available to students this year for the first time. Student counselors will be assigned to various areas of the school after receiving some basic counseling training. The purpose of the program, according to one student counselor, is, "to better enable the counseling staff as a whole to meet the needs of the student body." She added that "sometimes problems can be more easily solved by student interaction."

Also being offered by the department are three new courses in various aspects of personal development.

Interpersonal Effectiveness will discuss various aspects of assertiveness and human rights as they relate to interpersonal relationships and behavior.

No Lose Communication will be a workshop in personal communications. Techniques and problems of communications will be discussed and the development of effective communications skills will be emphasized.

Career Awareness and Exploration should help students to explore their career opportunities and set realistic goals for themselves. In testing the student's abilities, interest, and values the counselors will use testing, films, career development materials and personal counseling.

The workshop will meet on Tuesday evenings from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Topics are: September 7, Community History, Champaign County Historical Museum; September 14, Business and Industry, Parkland College; September 21, Government, Parkland College; September 28, Education, Parkland College; October 5, Judicial System, Court House; October 12, Human and Medical Services, Burnham City Hospital Auditorium; October 19, Cultural Opportunities, Krannert Center; October 26, Communications, Parkland College.

University Theatre Announces 76-77 Schedule

URBANA, Ill.—Orders are now being taken for University Theatre's 1976-77 subscription series of plays at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Plays by George Bernard Shaw, Euripides, Dylan Thomas, and a Cole Porter musical have been scheduled for the new season in the Playhouse, Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, on the UIUC campus. All performances are at 8 p.m.

Shaw's "Mrs. Warren's Profession" will launch the season Oct. 6-10 and 14-16. The great Irish playwright takes a caustic look at the world's oldest profession, the hypocrisy of society in general, and the exploitation of women in particular. Clara Behringer directs the production.

Cole Porter's boisterous romp of a musical comedy, "Kiss Me Kate," is scheduled for Nov. 10-14 and 17-21. The musical is almost as much of a classic as the play on which it is based—Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew"—and its wonderful songs, "Wunderbar," "Another Opening, Another Show," "Too Darn Hot," "I Hate Men," are among Porter's greatest hits. Michael Hardy will direct the musical.

The Greek tragedy, "Hippolytus," by Euripides, will be staged in classic style under Burnet Hobgood's direction Feb. 2-6 and 10-12, 1977. The conflict between Queen Phaidra's passionate sexuality and the chaste purity of the youth Hippolytus is brought to life in a powerful translation by poet

Robert Bagg, with original music by Gerald Warfield.

"Under Milk Wood"

"Under Milk Wood" by the great Welsh poet Dylan Thomas will be directed by John Ahart April 13-17 and 21-23. The verse-play is a funny, tender, lyrical examination of the lives and souls of the inhabitants of a small fishing village by Wales.

Two different series ticket plans are available for the four plays.

Regular season tickets are for patrons who prefer to attend each play on the same night of the week.

Special season coupons are for patrons who prefer to vary the nights they attend, depending on their schedules. Season coupons may be brought to the KCPA ticket office and exchanged for available reserved seats on a show-by-show basis 16 days before the beginning of each play.

Season tickets and coupons are available at $9.60 for students, $12.80 for the public, for Wednesday or Sunday night performances; for Thursday, Friday or Saturday night performances, prices are students $10.80, public $14.40.

The sale of regular season tickets will close Sept. 17 (Friday). Tickets or coupons will be mailed about Sept. 24.

The same of season coupons will continue through Oct. 5 (Tuesday), one day before the opening of the first play.

Single tickets remaining after series orders have been filled will go on sale 16 days before the opening of each play.

For further details, write the KCPA ticket office, 500 S. Goodwin Ave., Urbana, or telephone 333-6280.

Student tax cut proposed

The U.S. Senate is recommending a $250-a-year tax cut to help students pay their way through college or vocational school.

The special credit would start out at $100 next July and rise by $50 a year until it hit the maximum $250 in 1980.

If the student had a job and filed his own tax return, he could subtract up to $250 from taxes owed. Otherwise, the tax credit would go to the student's parents or spouse, whichever paid his college expenses for tuition, books or fees. The credit does not cover room and board expenditures.

The credit, written into a multi-billion-dollar tax bill, would cost the U.S. treasury $1.1 billion a year when fully effective.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW...

By College Life Insurance Co.

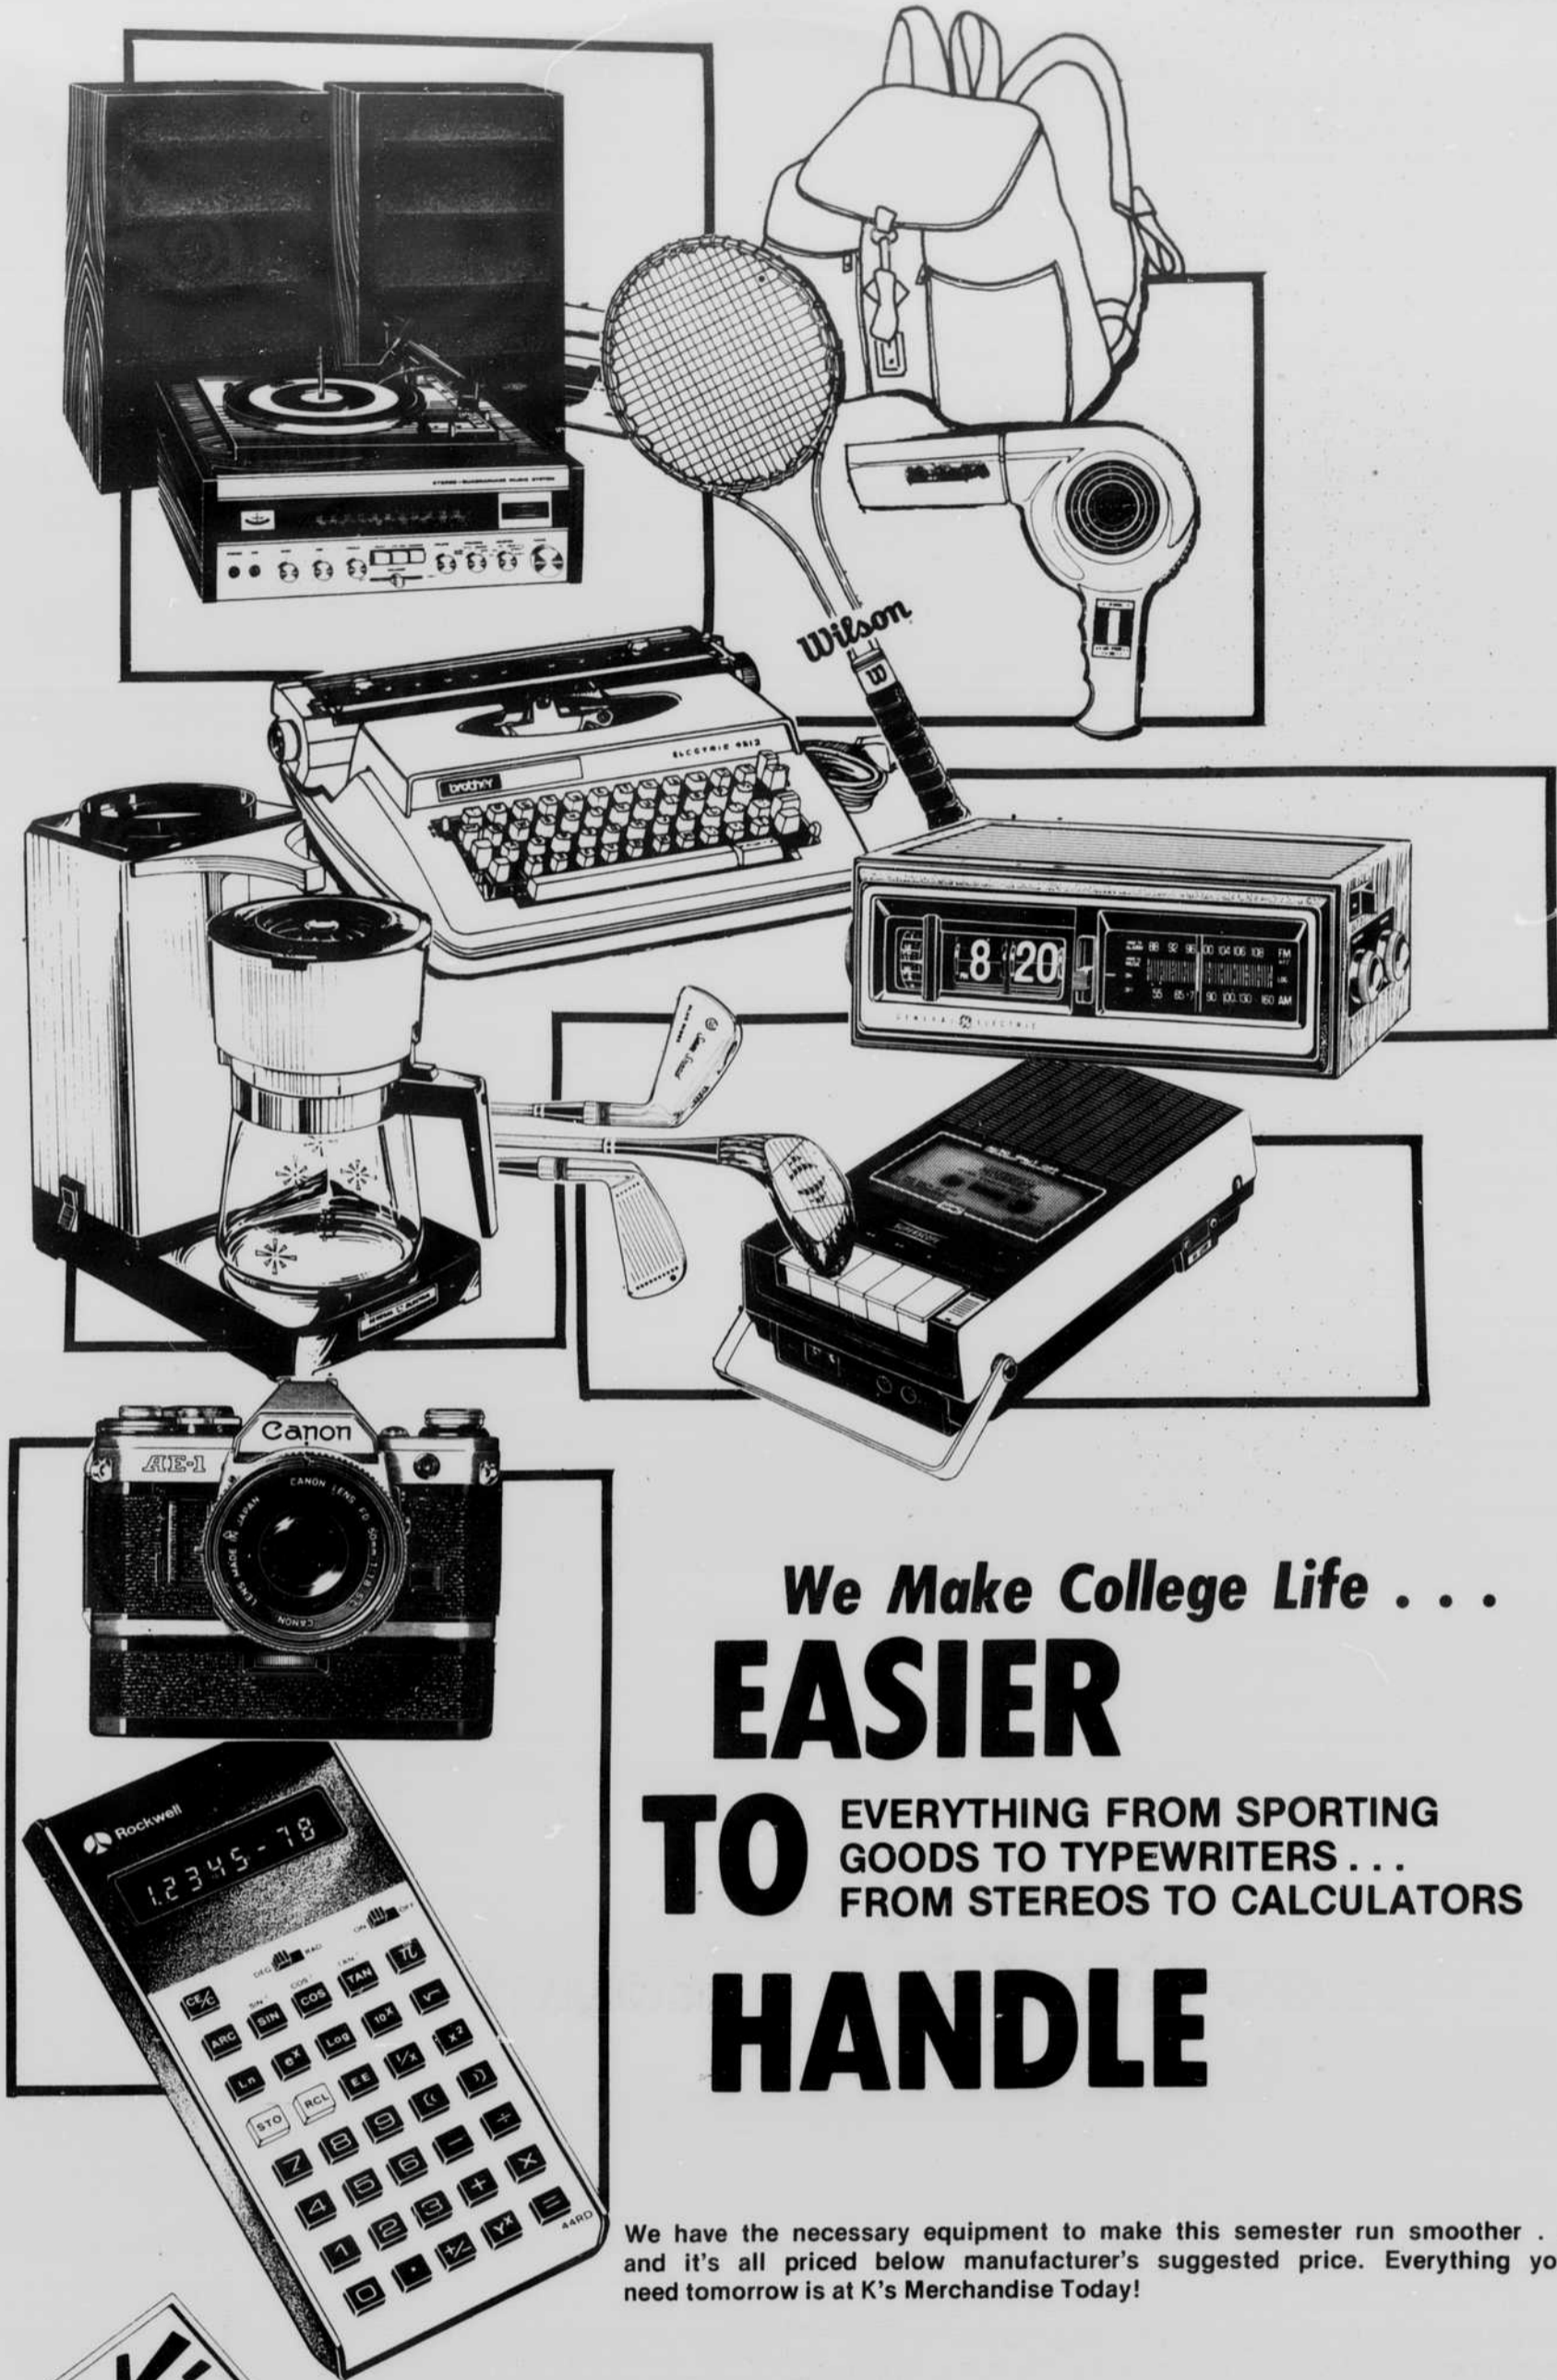

What was the biggest margin in history by which a team won a major league baseball pennant? . . . The Pirates of 1902 won the flag by 27 1/2 games . . . No other team ever finished farther ahead of the second place team than that.

When you think about people overcoming handicaps, did you know that a man with just one leg once played big league baseball . . . A man named Bert Shepard lost his right leg in World War II . . . But he learned to walk and run with an artificial leg, and he made the majors as a pitcher with Washington . . . He was in the big leagues during the 1945 season.

One of the surest bets in football is that the Dallas Cowboys will be the winning team in the first game of the season . . . Did you know that Dallas has won their first game of the season for the last 11 consecutive years.

Key to Locations

The location of various offices and classrooms in this Guide and in other College publications is indicated by a permanent coding scheme. The map of the permanent campus indicates the seven major areas in the new facilities.

- B—Division of Business
- C—Divisions of Communications and Social Science
- L—Division of Life Science
- M—Division of Mathematics and Physical Science
- P—Division of Physical Education

- R—Learning Resource Center
- X—College Center

The first character or letter of a room number always shows the area in which the room is located. Rooms numbered 100-199 are located on the first floor, 200-299 on the second floor, and 300-399 on the third floor.

- Examples:
- B125—Business Division, 1st floor
 - C229—Communications Division, 2nd floor
 - R320—Learning Resources, 3rd floor

Newcomers to the campus will be aided by the awareness of the "X" plan of the building, with the academic areas in the exterior wings and the social and resource areas at the crossroads. The floor level at the center is the highest point; going down a ramp or stairs indicates movement away from the center of the College structure.

In addition to the facilities in the permanent campus, the College will continue to utilize some space at the following locations (as well as others throughout the District):

- Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul
- Central High School, Champaign
- Edison Junior High School, Champaign

Items of Interest About the Campus

- Floors and roof lines at various stories in most areas, three stories at center.
- Special features: slanted open ceiling lines; planned intermingling of career and transfer curriculum areas; faculty-student modules which are the widely distributed lounge and study areas near classrooms and faculty offices.
- Complete access to all areas without having to go outside; facilities for handicapped, including ramps and elevators.
- Landscaping planned to include preservation of old trees where possible, walks and courts between the extended wings of the building.
- Basic construction materials: brick and redwood trim; charcoal brown clay tile roof; open interiors with dark stained oak and redwood trim; brown heather carpets.
- Phased construction: Completed in Phase I were wings for Business, Communications, Life Science, and Mathematics and Physical Science; Phase II unites whole through College Center and Learning Resource Center.
- A Physical Education facility was completed in January, 1976.
