Sept. 20, 1959

Dear Professor Shoemaker:

Remembering as I do a talk that you once gave before some assembled geographers in Lancaster, I send along the following notice.

Professor Walter Horn, chairman of the Art Dept., University of California, Berkeley, has an ^{illustrated} talk which he gives, titled, "The Western Barn - Its Origin and Structural History." What he says bears a relation to Penna. barns. His main concern is with European ancestry. Perhaps you'd like to look into this, if you have not already.

Sincerely yours,

William D. Pattison
