

3-1961

Ursinus College Alumni Journal, March 1961

Richard T. Schellhase
Ursinus College

J. William D. Wright
Ursinus College

Calvin D. Yost
Ursinus College

Roger P. Staiger
Ursinus College

Raymond V. Gurzynski
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/alumnijournal>

Part of the Higher Education Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Schellhase, Richard T.; Wright, J. William D.; Yost, Calvin D.; Staiger, Roger P.; Gurzynski, Raymond V.; Schultz, Blanche B.; Helfferich, Donald L.; Bowles, Frank H.; Vanderslice, Harvey R.; Dolman, Geoffrey; Storey, George; and Rice, Allan Lake, "Ursinus College Alumni Journal, March 1961" (1961). Ursinus College Alumni Journal, 1937-1969. 71.

<https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/alumnijournal/71>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Ursinusiana Collection at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus College Alumni Journal, 1937-1969 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.

Authors

Richard T. Schellhase, J. William D. Wright, Calvin D. Yost, Roger P. Staiger, Raymond V. Gurzynski, Blanche B. Schultz, Donald L. Helfferich, Frank H. Bowles, Harvey R. Vanderslice, Geoffrey Dolman, George Storey, and Allan Lake Rice

Alumni Journal

Ursinus college bulletin

MARCH 1961

Ursinus College Bulletin

ALUMNI NUMBER

Vol. LIX No. 2

March 1961

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, Collegeville, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

THE BULLETIN is published five times a year with issues in January, March, July, November and December.

Editor

RICHARD T. SCHELLHASE '45

Editorial Committee

J. WILLIAM D. WRIGHT '55

CALVIN D. YOST, JR. '30

ROGER P. STAIGER '43

MRS. MAURICE O. BONE

Sports Editors

RAYMOND V. GURZYNSKI '39

BLANCHE B. SCHULTZ '41

CONTENTS

Who Gets Into College?	3-5
Search for Certainty	6-7
Alumni Seminar	8-9
The Thousand Second Nikht's Tale	10-11
Bear Facts	12-13
Titus, Jacobs, and Henschel . . .	14-15
Nominees for Election	16-18
Regional Meetings	19
Loyalty Fund Report	20
Sports	21
Happy Retirement	22-23
John Shuttleworth	24
News About Ourselves	25-32

COVER PHOTOGRAPH

The College, as it looked in December, January, and February.

The President Writes . . .

Not long ago I received the annual request for information from the Department of Internal Revenue in Washington. This questionnaire never fails to give me mixed emotions. I am joyous in the thought that the first day of spring is not far away and I am amazed that the total of my gifts for the previous year was so appallingly modest. I suddenly become aware that the number of appeals for contributions was only a small trickle rather than a huge avalanche. All year I suffer under the impression that I am receiving an appeal in every mail, but apparently the appeals come less than once a week.

Voluntary giving is a privilege I have as a citizen of the United States. It has been a part of our freedom since colonial days, and it is a significant part of our free enterprise system. It is a major influence in our culture. In fact I have the duty to give something away for the purpose of progress and for the benefit of my fellow men. Our government evidently believes in private initiative because it informs me that it will refrain from collecting tax from me on 30% of my income if I am willing to give that amount to the proper organizations. If every person in the United States were in a position to give 30% of his income to charity, churches, hospitals, and colleges would be spared the problems that relate to finances. Unfortunately most of us cannot afford to give away 30% of our income, but it is usually possible for us to give more than we do. We should be able to increase our contributions by establishing a budget for giving. Such a budget should be a matter of careful planning, and it should not be subject to pressure or caprice.

A report from the Princeton University Alumni Association suggests a budget set up in the following broad categories:

Church and Religious Activities	30%
Schools and Colleges	30%
Community Enterprises	30%
National Appeals	10%

The first three are the ones that most directly affect every individual. Within each of these three classes a tentative figure should be assigned for those specific activities which are most important to us. It is also essential to keep track of the actual contributions made during the year. Otherwise you find yourself in the predicament that I am presently in—the predicament of having given away less than you thought you had given. It is not too late for all of us to establish a budget for 1961 and to assign a liberal gift to the Loyalty Fund of Ursinus College.

Gift-supported institutions in the United States had property and endowment estimated at fifty-two billion dollars in 1960. These physical assets are the product of a great body of volunteers, a force which has no measurement by the gold standard or in dollars and cents. Fortunately Ursinus College has its full share of volunteers. For this I am grateful and hopeful that a generous response will be made to the next Loyalty Fund appeal that will come from them.

DONALD L. HELFFERICH
President

URSINUS COLLEGE BULLETIN

Who Gets into College?

by

FRANK H. BOWLES

What are my child's chances of getting into college? What can I as a parent do to improve my child's chances of getting into the college that seems best for him?

Chances are you've asked these questions, and maybe other parents have asked them of you. For admission to colleges has become the nation's surefire topic of conversation.

Elections, baseball and international upheavals compete for attention, of course; but these matters don't touch our personal lives. Yet it seems that every American has some contact with the business of college entrance, knows a surprising amount about it—or at least thinks he does—and wants to know more.

What he wants to know usually boils down to the two questions above.

Here is a quick answer to the first question—what are my child's chances of getting into college?

Any child who has an I.Q. of ninety or better, who can write a letter including a simple declarative sentence such as "I want to go to your college," who can read without moving his lips, and who can pay college expenses up to $100 a year can go to college. But it may so be true that a child with an I.Q. of 140 who can do differential equations in his head may not get to college.

Obviously, then, the general answer can only indicate that there is a tremendous range of institutions, with varying standards and opportunities, and that any factors determine actual chances of admission.

As a first step, let us take a hypothetical group of one hundred high school graduates who go on to college in a given year, and see what the typical pattern of their applications and acceptances would be:

Twenty students, all from the top half of the class, will apply to sixty of the institutions that are generally listed as "preferred." Ten of them will be accepted by twenty of the institutions. Nine of the ten will graduate from their colleges, and six of the nine will continue in graduate or professional school and take advanced degrees.

Seventy students, forty from the top half of the class (including those ten who did not make preferred institutions), all twenty-five from the third quarter, and five from the fourth quarter, will apply to eighty institutions generally considered "standard" or "respectable." Sixty will be accepted by one or both of the colleges to which they applied. Thirty of the sixty will graduate, and ten will continue in graduate or professional school, most of them for one- or two-year programs.

Thirty students, including all of the fourth quarter and five from the third quarter, will apply to institutions that are ordinarily known as "easy." Half of these institutions will be four-year colleges, and half junior colleges or community colleges. All thirty students will be admitted. Fifteen will leave during the first year, and eight more during the next two years. The seven who receive degrees will go directly to employment, although one or two may return to college later for a master's degree in education.

At this point, we need some specific information about the types of institutions I have just mentioned.

"Preferred" institutions—the ones that receive the most attention from high school students—number from 100 to 150, depending on who makes the list.

The present 150 preferred colleges are located in about fifteen states—mostly in the Northeast, the northern Middle West and on the Pacific coast. Four-fifths are private, with three-fourths of the total enrollment of the group. The one-fifth that are public have one-fourth of the enrollment. This proportion is changing; in a few years it will be three-fifths private and two-fifths public, with a fifty-fifty enrollment split.

It now costs about $3,000 a year to send a child to a preferred institution.

"Standard" institutions—which are not selective at admission, but will not admit any student obviously destined to fail—number from 700 to 800. The larger number includes about fifty that could be considered part of the preferred list and another fifty that could be placed on the easy list.

Standard institutions are of course located in every state. Seventy per cent of their enrollments are in public institutions, and thirty per cent in private ones.

But the private institutions outnumber the public ones in a ratio of sixty-forty. Many of the private colleges are remarkably small.

Costs at standard institutions tend to run from $1,500 to $2,500 per year.

"Easy" institutions number about 800, of which 300 are four-year colleges and the rest junior colleges or community colleges. At present about one-third of the easy institutions are four-year private colleges with enrollment problems. But almost all newly established institutions

Copyright—Moonshooter, Inc.

Dr. Frank Bowles

Dr. Frank Bowles is the nation's leading authority on a matter of great importance to students and their parents: how to find the right college and get into it.

He has been director, and now president, of the all-important College Entrance Examination Board since 1948. And he has been dealing with college admissions and testing of applicants since he received his B.A. and M.A. from Columbia. He was director of university admissions for Columbia before going to the College Board.

Currently Mr. Bowles is in Paris, the office of UNESCO; he is heading a Carnegie-supported study of university admissions theory and practice around the world.

His book, How to Get Into College was published in 1958 and revised last year. Following Mr. Bowles' article a short comment by Mr. Geoffrey Dolman, Director of Admissions at Ursinus are tax-supported. Thus by 1970 the number of private colleges on this level of education will be negligible.

Cost of attending these institutions is now very low; tuition ranges from nothing to $500 a year.

With these descriptions established, let us consider chances of admission to these institutions, now and in the future.

The "preferred" institutions are already difficult to enter, and will become more so. In general, their requirements call for an academic standing in the upper quarter of the secondary school class, and preferably in the upper tenth. School recommendations must be favorable, and the individual must show signs of maturity and purpose. Activities and student leadership have been much overlapped, particularly by parents and school advisors, but they carry some weight as indications of maturity. Parental connections with colleges help, but are rarely decisive. If any factor is decisive, it is the school record as verified by College Board scores.

Chances of admission to any of this group of "preferred" colleges may be estimated as follows:

School record in upper ten per cent, with appropriate College Board scores and endorsement from high school—not worse than two chances out of three.

School record in upper quarter, with verifying College Board scores—not worse than one in three. This does not mean that the student will get one acceptance out of two or three tries, but rather that this estimate of chance holds for any preferred institution he applies to.

School record below the upper quarter, with strong counterbalancing factors, such as high College Board scores, remarkable personal qualities, proven talents in special fields, strong family connections, recent awakening of interest and excellent performance, achievement despite great handicaps—not better than one chance in three, and not worse than one chance in four.

No others need apply.

The "Standard" institutions are, taken as a group, still accessible to any student whose past performance or present promise gives reasonable chances of college success.

But there are gradations within the standard institutions. Some approach the selectiveness of the preferred group; others are purposefully lenient in the admissions and stiffer in later "weeding out" during the first year of college.

"Easy" institutions are by definition non-selective. We can make several generalizations about them:

First, any high school graduate can enter an easy institution, regardless of his I.Q., or his studies in school, or what he hopes to do in college and after.

Second, an easy college usually offers a wide range of courses, all the way from a continuation of the general high school course, to technical and semi-professional programs, to the standard college subjects.

Third, easy colleges will draw some well-prepared students who later go on to advanced degrees.

Fourth, since easy colleges are n-

Admissions Officers and Staff

Front: Brenda Shorb, '64, Student Assistant, Judith Fryer, Office Secretary, and Joy Kline, '62, Student Assistant. Back: Mr. Jones, Assistant Director of Admissions, and Mr. Dolman, Director of Admissions.

Mr. Jones, Assistant Director of Admissions, interviews Miss Margaret Soare of Hackensack, N. J. (Yes, she was admitted as a member of the Class of 1965!).

ective (neither keeping students out or forcing them out), they must operate so that students will make their own decisions, and thus they must have a long institutional emphasis on guidance.

Fifth, since one of the most powerful of all selective devices is the charge for tuition, easy colleges tend to charge very, or no, tuition.

Sixth, easy colleges are a consequence, not a cause, of enlarged demand for higher education. Even when they offer programs which a few years ago would not have been considered as college work, they do so in response to demand. To sum up, then, the answer to our first question is that a student's chances of getting into college are excellent—provided that he is able and willing to do what is necessary to prepare himself for the college he would like to enter, that he is willing to enter the college and that it is willing to accept him.

It's turn now to our second question: What can I as a parent do to improve my child's chances of getting into the college that seems best for him?

This is one of the standard, rather easy questions for which there are ready available a great many standard, rather heavy answers, dealing with the desirability of the good life, the need for stable parents and other valid but unenlightening pronouncements. But none of the problems raised by this question do not yield to standard answers. Are such problems, or needs, deserve your attention?

1. The need for parents to promote thinking, learning and reading.

Colleges, particularly the preferred colleges, are bookish places. They emphasize reading and discussion as stimuli to learning and thinking instead of stressing note-taking and the study of textbooks to accumulate facts. College entrance tests are built in part to measure reading skills. And the student with the habit of reading will do better work in college than the student who relies on studying text books and memorizing facts.

2. The need for parents to make financial preparation for college.

College is a costly business. The preferred colleges cost about $3,000 a year, and of course this comes out of net income after taxes have been paid. For most families with children in college, it represents gross income of at least $4,000. Referring back to the average span of six years' attendance for students who enter a preferred college, the family of such a student must dedicate $24,000 of gross income for his college expenses.

3. The need to choose a college in terms of the child's abilities and interests.

Much is made of the problem of choosing colleges, and great effort goes into the process of choice. But the results, if judged by the turmoil that attends the annual selections, fall far short of expectations. The difficulty seems to lie in the placing of emphasis on the college, not the student. When the application is sent in, the parent often knows more about the merits of the college to which the application is going than he does about the applicant as an applicant.

If the choice of college is made in terms of the child's capabilities, the first and most important step has been taken toward placing the child in the college that seems best for him. And this in turn is the best insurance for a successful college career.

Mr. Dolman Comments:

Many of you, especially those of the classes of 1935 to 1945, having children of college age, are very much concerned with some of the questions discussed in Who Gets Into College? Perhaps many of you wonder how Ursinus fits into the picture which Mr. Bowles has presented. In costs, certainly, we are among the "standard" institutions. In 1961-1962, our costs for tuition, board, and lodging will total $1850 for the year. In some ways, we are with the "preferred" group because we are certainly more selective in admission than the "standard" group, or at least more so than the indicated majority. We will continue to improve our quality and selectivity as the numbers increase, and we will also continue to welcome your sons and daughters as applicants. They need not necessarily be as brilliant as their parents; if they have ability and have achieved well in high school, we will be happy to hear from them (but, by all means, have them apply before January of their senior year).

Dr. George Storey, associate professor of English at Ursinus since 1957, received his A.B. from Geneva College, his M.A. from Duke University, and his Ph.D. from Harvard University. Before coming to Ursinus he held teaching posts at Geneva College and Butler University.

The following meditation was given in the regular chapel service in Bomberger Hall on December 1, 1960.

SEARCH FOR CERTAINTY

In his sonnet sequence, Modern Love, George Meredith traces the history of a marriage which began well but ended tragically. Beginning with the first awakening of distrust, Meredith shows how slight irritations become settled suspicions, and how these in turn swell into jealousies, which subsequently bring on bickering, bitter recrimination, infidelity, separation, and ultimately the death of one of the pair by suicide. Meredith's purpose was not to fix blame upon one or the other of the persons involved; rather, says he:

I see no sin:
The wrong is mixed. In tragic life,
God wot,
No villain need be: Passions spin
the plot:
We are betrayed by what is false within. (Sonnet 43)
And again he exclaims:
More brain, O Lord, more brain: or we shall mar
Utterly this fair garden we might win. (Sonnet 48)

The villain, then, would appear to be man's nature, in which brain or reason is weak or deficient and passion is lord. Such an analysis of the problem posed by the poem does not sound very helpful. But in reality Meredith did not believe we are slaves to a bestial nature, nor did he believe that weak human nature is incapable of improvement. In Modern Love he was not inclined to scold when his characters behaved as if passions—or what he commonly called blood—were the only ingredients of their natures. His work as a whole shows, however, that the lovers of the poem must have been examples of arrested development, for he believed that if man cooperates in the plan Nature has for him, his latent faculties of intellect and spirit will emerge to form with blood a perfect triad.

It was not, however, to offer a summary of Meredith's philosophy that I began with a reference to Modern Love. Rather, it was to refer to a specific point that the poet makes in his concluding sonnet (No. 50), where not passion, but another culprit in the affair is identified. Mark these lines:

Lovers beneath the singing sky of May,
They wandered once; clear as the dew on flowers:
But they fed not on the advancing hours:
Their hearts held cravings for the buried day.
Then each applied to each that fatal knife,
Deep questioning, which probes to endless dole.
Ah, what a dusty answer gets the soul
When hot for certainties in this our life!

Here Meredith has been more explicit in telling us where the lovers went wrong. "Deep questioning"—a desire for "certainties"—these were their errors. Their trust in each other had been too easily shaken, perhaps by passing moods in which solitude seemed preferable to the other's company, perhaps by minor differences such as are bound to arise in all families. Whatever the cause, they had begun to doubt each other's love;

"Ah, what a dusty answer gets the soul
When hot for certainties in this our life."

they wanted absolute assurances of each other's devotion, but they reached the point where no assurances could satisfy. Once the all-important base of trust had been undermined, the structure built upon it could not survive.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about this situation is that the unnamed man and woman were simply applying a problem in human relations to the methods and attitudes of contemporary science. They had analyzed each other's feelings and motives; they had applied the knife of deep questioning to what was supposed to be their love; they had maintained an attitude of scepticism about each other's professions of affection; each had demanded incontrovertible proof of the other's sincerity and loyalty. But wasn't their scepticism, when judged by the methods of science, an admirable attitude? Didn't Meredith's contemporary Thomas Henry Huxley, the great popularizer of science, tell his world that "the free employment of reason, in accordance with scientific method, is the sole method of reaching truth," that "the learner [must] see for truth not among words but among things," and that "the assertion which outstrips evidence is not only a blunder but a crime?" What are his warnings but a flip to the attitude of scepticism? What are they but an injunction to base our lives upon certainties? Yet Meredith's vision of life had led him to say

Ah, what a dusty answer gets the
Soul
When hot for certainties in this
our life!
What, then, must we conclude as Meredith mistaken? Was Huxley wrong? I prefer to believe that each is speaking for a different aspect of life and thought, and that each was right within his own sphere. Certainly faith has educational value when applied to our beliefs about things (and ourselves too), but a thoroughgoing skepticism—a demand for overwhelming scientific evidence for all our beliefs—can truly and corrode our relations with our fellowmen. It is an all-too-common error, it seems to me, to think of people as if they were mechanisms. But surely we must all discover that human equations cannot be solved by simple processes of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. We do not commit ourselves to a person as we do to a proposition. Love would never be believed if it had to wait for absolute proof of the worthiness of its object. Paul says of love that it bears all things, believes all things, and endures all things. There is no room for scepticism here! I don't mean to say that love is irrational; I believe it obeys a higher law of reason. In this strange country equal causes do not always produce equal effects, and our knowledge of the laws of nature does not enable us to predict outcomes. But in this country wisdom, understanding, and intuition can guide us where scientific procedures prove unavailing.

I should like to add that what I have said about relations between persons applies also to our relation with God. There too the rule of faith rewards, whereas the rule of doubt deadens and destroys. Do you remember the occasion when certain Pharisees came to Jesus seeking a sign that he was of God? Tell us some marvelous thing that you can do, they said, and then do it; and we will believe. What was Jesus' answer? "An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. . . . The men of Nineveh will arise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here." Obviously Jesus thought that faith bought by signs was not faith at all. And as for signs and marvels, they are the results of repentance and faith, not their causes.

In his fine essay entitled "Is Life Worth Living?" William James sets forth the idea of the priority of faith and the meaning it gives to life:

I confess that I do not see why the very existence of an invisible world may not in part depend on the personal response which any one of us may make to the religious appeal. God himself, in short, may draw vital strength and increase of very being from our fidelity. For my own part, I do not know what the sweat and blood and tragedy of this life mean, if they mean anything short of this. If this life be not a real fight, in which something is eternally gained for the universe by success, it is no better than a game of private theatricals from which one may withdraw at will. But it feels like a real fight,—as if there were something really wild in the universe which we, with all our idealities and faithfulnesses, are needed to redeem; and first of all to redeem our own hearts from atheisms and fears. For such a half-half saved universe our nature is adapted. . . .

These then are my last words to you: Be not afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living, and your belief will help create the fact. The 'scientific proof' that you are right may not be clear before the day of judgment (or some stage of being which that expression may serve to symbolize) is reached. But the faithful fighters of this hour, or the beings that then and there will represent them, may then turn to the faint-hearted, who here decline to go on, with words like those with which Henry IV greeted the tardy Crillon after a great victory had been gained: "Hang yourself, brave Crillon! We fought at Arques, and you were not there!"

Paul spoke for all Christians when he said, "We walk by faith, not by sight." And in that idea George Meredith seems to concur:

Ah, what a dusty answer gets the soul
When hot for certainties in this
our life!

TWO FOREIGN STUDENTS SPONSORED

The students at Ursinus, under the direction of the "Y", contributed $750 toward the expenses of two foreign students now on campus. Organizations which contributed toward this project included most of the fraternities and societies, the YM-YWCA, the Men's and Women's Student Government associations, the Campus Chest, and the Women's Athletic Association.

An account of our Japanese friend, Jun Kawashima, follows. A longer article about our Tibetan student, Lobsang Samden, begins on page 10.

JUN KAWASHIMA

Jun is a graduate of the U.C.C. sponsored North Japan College at Sendai, Japan. For four years he taught English at the Attached High School of North Japan College. (There he worked with the Rev. Rodney Henrie, '54, and his wife, the former Nancy Paine, '56.) Recently, Jun spent three semesters at Columbia Teacher's College, N.Y.C., working on his master's degree.

Jun Kawashima, ready to sit in an Ursinus chair.

The Board of International Missions of the United Church of Christ is helping to support Jun's study at Ursinus.

DR. MILLER ON TV

On February 9 Dr. Eugene H. Miller, Chairman of the Political Science Department of Ursinus College, delivered the first in his series of twelve weekly broadcasts over Philadelphia Television station WFIL-TV. This "University of the Air" series will be continued through April 27. Professor Miller's topic is Conflict in the Caribbean, and the program is carried over Channel 6 from 11:15 to 11:35 A.M. each Thursday.

ANNOUNCING AN

Alumni Seminar

WHAT IS IT?

Designed to interest and inform alert alumni who wish to be stimulated intellectually and who desire to probe more deeply into the social and political problems of our day, an Alumni Seminar has been arranged under the auspices of the Alumni Association. Four popular Ursinus professors (all of whom are also alumni of the College) will offer lectures in their respective areas of research and scholarship.

WHEN WILL IT BE HELD?

Beginning with dinner at 6 P.M. on Friday, June 16, the seminar will end with dinner on Saturday, June 17. (Participants may occupy their rooms until Sunday morning at no extra cost.) We will house all participants in the new million dollar girls' dormitories. Rooms will be ready for occupancy at 3 P.M. on June 16.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN AT THE SEMINAR?

You will be challenged to think. You will meet old and make new friends. You will have a delightful change from your normal busy life. In June the campus is green and lovely; here you can rest and be refreshed. The complete program may be seen on the opposite page.

WHAT WILL IT COST?

The total cost is $10.00. This includes registration, four meals and room (for one or two nights). For those who cannot come for the entire Seminar, or for those living in the environs of Collegeville and who wish to participate on a commuting basis, individual meal tickets will be sold ($1 for lunch; $1.50 for dinner).

WHO MAY PARTICIPATE?

Anyone. The Seminar is sponsored by the Alumni Association and we naturally expect most of the participants to be alumni. But we welcome any of your friends and all adult members of your family. (Older children may wish to attend the lectures; younger children may wish to play tennis or use the other recreational facilities of the College.)

HOW DO YOU ENROLL?

Detach the form (p. 9) and mail to Richard T. Schellhase, Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. Enclose a check to cover registration ($3.00) for each person. Make check payable to Alumni Association. (You will pay the remaining $7.00 when you arrive.) DEADLINE FOR RESERVATIONS IS JUNE 5.

Dr. Charles D. Mattern

Dr. Mattern, head of the Department of Philosophy since 1948, received his B.S. at Ursinus in 1930. From 1930 to 1937 he worked with his father in the coal and feed business. In 1937 he returned to Ursinus and began his teaching career in the English Department. In 1940 he was awarded his Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

He is married to the former Jane Price, '32. They have two children, Carolyn and David.

Dr. Mattern

Dr. G. Sieber Pancoast

Dr. Pancoast, professor of political science, received his B.S. from Ursinus in 1937 and has been teaching at the College since his graduation. In 1956 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He has been active in the Republican Party since 1947 and has himself been elected to public office. At present he is President of the Collegeville Borough Council.

He is married to the former Murie E. Brandt, '38, who is currently serving as an alumni representative on the Board of Directors of Ursinus College. They have two children, Linda and Susan.

Dr. Staiger

Dr. Evan S. Snyder

Dr. Snyder, associate professor of physics, received his B.S. degree from Ursinus in 1944 and has been teaching here since 1945. In 1957 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. In the summer of 1960 he spent twelve weeks as a research participant at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory; he did work on an advanced fission experiment. The previous summer he taught high school physics teachers at an "Institute" sponsored by the National Science Foundation and held at New Mexico State University.

He is married to the former Virginia Boyer, '46. They have three children: Susan, John, and Karl.

Dr. Pancoast

Dr. Roger P. Staiger

Dr. Staiger, associate professor of emistry, received his B.S. from Ursinus 1943 and his M.S. and Ph.D. deces from the University of Pennsylvania. Last summer he spent six weeks at e Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear udies.

He is co-author of Semi-micro Experiments in College Chemistry; and Isotopic nhydride : II Reactions with Amonia, III With Amines, IV With arious Nucleophiles.

He is consultant for Maumee Chemical Co., Toledo, Ohio, and for the lthouse Chemical Co. of Reading, Pa.

Dr. Staiger is married to the former Margaret Brown, '43, and they have one n, Roger, Jr.

Dr. Snyder

Alumni Seminar Program

Friday, June 16, 1961

- 3:00 P.M.- 6:00 P.M.—Registration (Paisley Hall Lobby)
- 6:00 P.M. —Dinner (Freeland Hall)
- 7:30 P.M. —“A LOOK AT THE ATOM”
The Evolution of the Atomic Concept: An Historical Development of Modern Atomic Theory
Dr. Staiger and Dr. Snyder
- 9:15 P.M.-10:30 P.M.—Informal Reception at President Helfferich's home

Saturday, June 17, 1961

- 8:00 A.M. —Breakfast
- 8:45 A.M.-10:15 A.M.—Lecture IA
“A LOOK AT THE ATOM”
Nuclear Structure and Transformations
Dr. Snyder
- or
- 8:45 A.M.-10:15 A.M.—Lecture IIA
“THE SUPREME COURT—SHALL WE ATTACK OR DEFEND IT?”
Dr. Pancoast
- 10:15 A.M.-10:30 A.M.—Coffee Break
- 10:30 A.M.-11:45 A.M.—Lecture IIIA
“A PHILOSOPHER LOOKS AT BARRY GOLDWATER”
Dr. Mattern
- 12:00 M. - 1:00 P.M.—Lunch
- 1:15 P.M.- 2:45 P.M.—Lecture IB
“A LOOK AT THE ATOM”
Extranuclear Structure and Transformations
Dr. Staiger
- or
- 1:15 P.M.- 2:45 P.M.—Lecture IIB
“THE SUPREME COURT—SHALL WE ATTACK OR DEFEND IT?”
Dr. Pancoast
- 2:45 P.M.- 3:00 P.M.—Coffee Break
- 3:00 P.M.- 4:15 P.M.—Lecture IIIB
“A PHILOSOPHER LOOKS AT BARRY GOLDWATER”
Dr. Mattern
- 6:00 P.M. —Dinner

(Participants may, at no extra cost, occupy their rooms until Sunday noon.)

Alumni Seminar Registration

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

Enclosed is a check for $ _____ ($3 for each registrant).

The Thousand and Second Night's Tale

by Allan L. Rice
Professor of German and Swedish

Were you ever a character in a genuine Scheherazade tale? All of us here on the Ursinus campus are in this academic year 1960-61, better named, perhaps, for our purposes of the moment by its Tibetan name, the year of the Iron Mouse.

The yarns that have come to us from Scheherazade bore Baghdad date-lines from 'way back when, and were syndicated under a now-celebrated series title. But we here at Ursinus are now in a position to match that old gal in everything else: oriental potentate for oriental potentate, chörten for minaret, butter lamp for magic ditto, yak for roc (to maintain discreet silence about abominable you-know-whats). And we can go her one better, too, because she had to dream hers up or else, with effective dead-lines to meet, while ours is a real tale of hard facts. Truth, indeed, is stranger than fiction.

It's a funny thing, how a yarn has to be a fake to be a hit with some people. They keep their hard facts in one pigeon-hole and their fantasy in another, and it's like pulling teeth to work their imagination up to any decent sort of a lather about a story that is authentic and real and right under their noses, in which they are actually rubbing shoulders with a man whose experiences rival Sinbad's . . . except that he is living at the head of the stairs in Miss Spangler's Studio Cottage and prefers filter-tips to a hookah.

If we here in Baghdad-on-the-Perkio-men are too earthbound to sense the romantic overtones of this situation we find ourselves actually in, if we are too slow-witted to break down the barrier between our humdrum daily routine and the fabulous yet real yet breath-taking cycle of events in which we are playing a minor but actual role, just by being here now, then the fault is ours and not that of the story.

Lobsang Samden was born the third son of an obscure peasant family in Tengtser, a tiny hamlet near the lake of Koko-Nor, which you can easily spot on your map of Amdo, a province in the western hinterland of China. Except that his eldest brother, Thubten Norbu, then eleven, had already become a Buddhist monk at the celebrated monastery of Kumbum and was recognized as a reincarnation of the monk Tagtser, life was just the usual life of a little farm boy for Lobsang. After all, reincarnations pop up in the most unexpected places in Lobsang Samden, brother of the Dalai Lama, waiting on table in the College dining room.

Tibetan everyday life. Lobsang's birth occurred back in the Water Bird year, about as inauspicious a year as we hereabouts have seen, the one we refer to as 1933.

It was the 30th day of the 10th month of that same Water Bird year, December 17th by our outlandish reckoning, when Lobsang was only a couple of months old that the death of the Thirteenth Dalai Lama in faraway Lhasa plunged the Tibetan world into mourning and set the stage for a chain of events that Lobsang has led from Tengtser, via Lhasa and the Potala palace, to Collegeville, Pa., and the end is not yet in sight. Meanwhile all of us here at Ursinus are involved in it as remote participants. Horatio Alger was indeed a piker.

The search for the Fourteenth Dalai Lama, in whose body the soul of the deceased Thirteenth was to find a worthy rebirth, was a solemn, romantic, exotic religious procedure, steeped in the Buddhist lore of reincarnation, second sight, momentous secrecy, and the fantastic pageantry of another world. Another world indeed, sprawled across the towering pinnacles of the earth, its deep valleys dipping down to a mere 12,000 feet above the sea that few of its inhab-nts had ever seen or dreamed of!

Potala Palace in Tibet, where Lobsang worked as a government official.

But there beyond the serene snows of Everest in Tengstser yet another son was born to that simple family, in the summer of the Wood Pig year, June 6, 1935 you. He was named simply Lhamo Jöndrub. Not until this lad was a title over two years old and our friend obsang nearly four did the startling truth become known, and little Lhamo as recognized as the Fourteenth Dalai Lama, reincarnation of Chenrezi, Tibetan god of Mercy and the Living Buddha, spiritual leader of the Buddhists and gallily the temporal ruler of all Tibet!

The exciting details of this and other events in this spectacular story may be read in full elsewhere. I would not think of trying to steal the thunder of those noble ones who have written of it all at first hand. Lowell Thomas, Jr., visited the Forbidden City of Lhasa with his lustrous father, and his account of his meeting there with his Holiness the fourteenth Dalai Lama and his pictures of the royal family, as well as a detailed account of the rape of this once happy land at the hands of the Red Chinese in his book "The Silent War in Tibet", is perhaps the best introduction to the drama of that country for the American reader, for it sees Tibet with American eyes and is as a matter of fact the earliest of the books I am listing.

Heinrich Harrer's best-seller and book-of-the-Month Club selection "Seven Years in Tibet" tells an utterly fabulous yet genuinely true and undorned tale of high adventure: how he, author, an Austrian prisoner of war detained in India during World War II, escaped his British captors and actually walked on foot into Forbidden Lhasa after incredible hardships as a penniless fugitive, only to become eventually the tutor of the exalted Dalai Lama. This book is a must if there ever was one.

But a still more intriguing volume is being published this very month in the United States: "Tibet is My Country" by Thubten Norbu, eldest brother of Lobsang and the Dalai Lama, and now living in Seattle, Washington. I have read the British edition of this autobiography and would urge each of you to share in this unique experience, hearing (and seeing as well, for the book is handsomely illustrated in Kodacolor) the story of this captivating romance from the very lips of a Tibetan who lived it all himself intimately, being himself a reincarnation, you may recall, and so able to bring the thing close to the reader—closer still to the Ursinus reader, since a frequently-mentioned and pictured character in this, as in the other two books, is our own Lobsang Samden (spelled Samten there for Tibetan phonetic reasons which only a linguist would comprehend or care about).

Lobsang came to us through a happy chance, in a life so full of chance events that they seem almost the natural pattern of his existence, and we wonder what miracle of chance may next elect our young friend as its happenee. President Helfferich's brother Reginald, a graduate of Ursinus, 1928, and now head of the Church World Union, happened to be on hand when the Dalai Lama made his celebrated final escape from the Red Chinese who had taken over his unfortunate homeland. This was the most important of another chain of chance events that finally led to Lobsang's being chosen as the recipient of the Ursinus Y's foreign student sponsorship, first announced last spring.

Lobsang will never fully realize what curiosity and excitement were a-bubble before his arrival on campus last September, incognito and almost unheralded at his own request. Would he be swathed in the saffron robes and come bearing the alms-bowl and swinging the traditional prayer-wheel of the Tibetan Buddhist monk? Would he find our food edible in the light of his dietary laws, and dared we slay flies and mosquitos in his presence without offending his religious principles?

We need have had no fears. He is just like any other polished Oriental student in our midst, enjoys a football rally or a weenie-roast, and is very fond of good eating, though he does have nostalgic yearnings for a succulent yak steak (which he claims far outclasses beef sirloin in flavor) and steaming hot tea laced with plenty of yak butter.

We had one minor crisis when he first arrived. Was his last name his family name, as among us, or was the first one the one that went with Mr. as in the Orient? Answer: neither. In Buddhist Tibet one has only Christian names, as it were. But the System demanded its due. He had to be alphabetized, something that happens to people in Western lands, to keep Dean's-Office files from disintegrating from sheer mortification. To me went the honor of cutting that Gordian knot—with a suitcase. His luggage was marked "L. Samden", so he finally came to roost between Dave Sall and Ron Sandberg, after his long trek from Amdo province.

So here he is, a Special Student, enjoying life at Ursinus, soaking up any way he can the the Western culture that was suddenly thrust upon him when he accompanied his God-King brother over the Himalayas and chose exile rather than accept the Red Chinese offer of supreme puppethood over their newly subjugated province of Tibet. He hopes one day to be able to help his 50,000 countrymen who have followed their beloved ruler to India and now face the bewildering task of making a new life in a strange world full of unknown values and strange customs. He has made a first step in that direction already, for his very presence here must serve to focus our attention on their predicament and their needs. (Continued on page 13)

Lobsang's mother and six brothers and sisters. The Dalai Lama is third from the right. Lobsang stands on his right.

THE BEAR FACTS

Alumni frequently ask: "What's going on now at Ursinus?" The following items are a pot-pourri of contemporary campus "goings-on."

STUDENT EUROPEAN TOUR

Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong, head of the History Department at Ursinus, will conduct a European study tour this summer. Twenty Ursinus undergraduates will spend eight weeks in ten countries under his supervision. Upon successful completion of the seminar, the students will receive two semester hours credit.

TWO STUDENTS ATTEND WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

Edwin C. Myers and James Shinnick, both freshmen, attended the White House Conference on Children and Youth called by President Eisenhower in 1960.

Mr. Myers a psychology major from Martic Forge, Pa., was assigned to the conference group entitled "Problems of Children of Minority Groups."

Last year he served as president of the Pennsylvania Future Teachers of America and travelled and spoke extensively in that capacity.

Mr. Shinnick, a pre-medical student from Oaklyn, N.J., was part of the White House Conference group which studied "Youth at Work." His Ursinus classmates have already recognized his leadership abilities by electing him vice-president of the Class of 1964.

James Shinnick, '64, and Edwin Myers, '64.

Sandra Motta, '61

PREETINGS HFROM GILADELPHIA

During the half of the "Liberty Bowl" football game between the U. of Oregon and the Pennsylvania State University at Municipal Stadium in Philadelphia on December 17, one of the bands marched onto the field and spelled out this message.

Far more exciting and interesting to Ursinus viewers, however, was "Miss Liberty Bowl 1960"—Miss Sandra Motta, a senior math major at Ursinus, who made a more "correct" and appropriate appearance at half-time than the band and its garbled greeting.

A native of Panama, Sandy has had a distinguished four years at Ursinus. She is president of the Women's Student Government Association, a member of the Curtain Club, and listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

SPRING FESTIVAL REPLACES MAY DAY

On May 13 we will celebrate our traditional May Day in the form of a Spring Festival. As in former years, there will be a May Queen, but unlike former years, she will be elected by the entire student body, men and women.

Several campus organizations along with the men at Ursinus will participate in this "Spring Festival." The theme will be contemporary; the adventures of a couple sight-seeing in N.Y.C.

DR. SHILLING SPEAKS

Dr. Harold K. Shilling, Dean of the Graduate School, Pennsylvania State University, was the guest speaker at the Convocation held on Sunday and Monday, February 12-13. He addressed the Faculty and Student Body with a series of talks concerning the "Role of the Christian College," "Religious and Philosophical Implications of the 'New Science,'" and "A Physicist Reexamines Religion."

Dr. Shilling, a native of Allentown, Pa., received his advanced degrees from the University of Nebraska and the State University of Iowa. In 1941, he became Assistant Professor of Physics at Penn State University and in 1945 years rose to the rank of Head, Department of Physics. In 1950, he was appointed to his present position of Dean of the Graduate School. Dean Shilling's research has been in the field of Ultrasonics.

Dr. Shilling is also a distinguished churchman of the United Church of Christ. He is a member of the Commission on Higher Education of the U.C.C. and will be a delegate to the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches which meets in New Delhi, India, in December.

Dr. Harold K. Shilling

Final Forum of the Semester

On Thursday, April 20, at 8 P.M. in Bomberger Hall the Forum Committee will present the Curtis String Quartet. The public is welcome.

Dr. Miller to Teach in India

Dr. Eugene H. Miller, Chairman of the Department of Political Science at Ursinus College, has been appointed Fulbright Lecturer in American Government and American Foreign Policy at Madhavpur University in Calcutta, India, for the academic year 1961-62. In 1954-55 he served as Fulbright Lecturer in American Foreign Policy at the Tokyo University of Foreign Studies and as Visiting Professor of Political Science at Sophia University, Tokyo.

Dr. Miller graduated from Ursinus College in 1933 and received his M.A. and Ph.D. in History and International Relations from Clark University. He became a member of the Ursinus Faculty in 1935 and has been chairman of the Political Science Department since 1942.

In 1946-47 as a Penfield Scholar of the University of Pennsylvania Dr. Miller spent a year in Canada and South America studying Canadian-Latin American relations. He has also been a visiting professor of International Law at Lehigh University, 1947-58, and a Visiting Professor of Political Science at the University of Connecticut, summer of 1950, and the University of Hawaii, summer of 1957.

Dr. Miller is Second National Vice President of Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary Social Science Fraternity and a member of the Council of the Pennsylvania Political Science Association. He also belongs to the American Political Science Association, the Foreign Policy Association, the Asia Society and Rotary International. His publications include a book, "Strategy at Singapore," and numerous articles published in journals in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Japan.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller and their daughter Judith will leave for Calcutta in June.

Ursinus Women's Club

The annual card party of the Ursinus Women's Club will be held on Saturday, April 8, 2 till 5 p.m. in the Paisley Ball recreation room. There will be delicious refreshments, good fellowship and prizes for the winners. A donation of $1.25 for each person will be asked.

The traditional luncheon on MAY DAY, now known as SPRING FESTIVAL, will be held on May 13th at 2:15 in the library.

Dr. Miller

The Thousand and Second

(Continued from page 11)

Lobsang came to us of course with none of the 15 credits required for regular admission. None of the lamaseries in Tibet seems to be on the Middle States accreditation list for secondary schools. So he is not seeking nor can he obtain credits for his work here. Far more practical however will be the stamp that Ursinus leaves upon this former High Chamberlain of the Kingdom of Tibet. His budding Western ways will be the ways of Ursinus. He will carry with him through his further adventures your same memories, Alumni, of Comp. 1, History lectures in S-12, the Drug, and his kitchen job in the bowels of Freeland Hall. No more unassuming potential oriental potentate ever cut

Attention Alumni: Constitution Change

Alumni will be asked to amend Article VI of the Alumni Association constitution at the General Meeting held on Alumni Day at 2 P.M. The changed sentence will read: "Paid up life membership is realized when the total payments for dues, whether paid annually or otherwise, amounts to $60." The amendment, if passed, will become effective on May 31, 1962.

At present, Life Membership in the Association is reached whenever an alumnus pays a total of $40 in dues.

campus at our college. We only wish his command of our language had been such as to enable him to absorb more of the pearls of wisdom let fall by our august faculty. But we are sure he will look back on us here with as much affection as we will hold for him when he leaves for other climes.

Joe Lynch asked Lobsang when first they met what he thought of Hilton's "Lost Horizon". Lobsang admitted he had not read the novel about Shangri-La, but he said he had seen the movie and found it very hard to understand what it was all about.

So you had better read Thomas and Harrer and Norbu, and leave Scheherazade and Hilton alone. You'll find the three former books far more fantastic and thrilling.

Tibetan Refugee Children

Portrait of a Pioneer

In order to acquaint alumni with the members of the Board of Directors of the College, each issue of the Journal will carry a short biography of the men and women now serving Ursinus in this capacity.

The following sketch of Mr. Titus is the first in this series.

Mr. Robert R. Titus, founder and president of Synthane Corp., Oaks, Pa., is the epitome of a successful and energetic industrialist. With his mechanical engineering degree from Yale in hand, in 1914 he became a junior engineer in Diamond State Fibre Co., owned and operated by the father of his Yale roommate. His work was interrupted by a two year tour of duty as a Lt. (jg) in the U.S.N., Submarine Service. By 1928 he rose to Vice President of Diamond State Fibre.

Synthane Corp., begun in 1928, is a compact complex of buildings, worth $4 million, which nestles along the Schuylkill River five miles from Ursinus. The company has a gross sales of more than $8 million a year. Synthane, the product, is a laminated plastic, and the company fabricates from this basic material a large variety of goods. "The name Synthane," says Mr. Titus, "is just as synthetic as its product. I pulled it out of the air. I was looking for a harsh-sounding, two-syllable word, easy to remember."

A powerfully built man, quick in movement, with a dynamic manner that is contagious, Mr. Titus responds immediately to any comment or question. A rapid-fire speaker, he is a master at analyzing a situation, making a decision, and expressing himself concisely and emphatically. Upon meeting and conversing with him, one is sure to conclude: "Here is a man in whom is no indecision, no lack of confidence, no lack of convictions. He knows what he wants, he knows where he's going, and he says what he thinks." There is no doubt or hesitation in him: he moves out and forward, quickly and constantly. He doesn't give the impression of sitting behind his desk or back in his chair. One feels that even when in his office, Mr. Titus is actually out in his plant! He is more than the president of a corporation; he is the power behind and under and within Synthane. Mr. Titus is Mr. Synthane.

Elected to the Board of Directors of Ursinus in 1948, he was awarded an LL.D. degree in 1950. He serves on the Committee on Finance. And, when quizzed about the College, Mr. Titus responded, "I like the fact that Ursinus is run on a break-even basis. It is an efficient and effective business. There is no deficit."

Silent but significant witness to the high regard Mr. Titus holds for Ursinus is the prominent place in his office which he has given his framed LL.D. degree. "I am proud to be called upon to serve Ursinus, and I wish I could be doing even more for her. I have the highest admiration for Dr. McClure, Dr. Helfferich, and the faculty. And what's more, I like her product. I've hired several Ursinus graduates. Al Balch, for instance, is one of my chemists; we just made him Process Engineer."

The Journal is happy to present to its readers this miniature "Portrait of a Pioneer." We can be proud that men such as Mr. Titus help to shape the destiny of our College.

Jacobs Promoted To Captain

Word has just been received that D. Jacobs, '41, has been selected for Captain, U.S.N. At present CDR Jacobs is Commanding Officer, USS-LAWS (DD558) and Commander, Reserve Destroyer Division 12, homeported in San Francisco. He has held this post since June, 1959.

The mission of the LAWS is to train Naval Reservists from the mid-western and southern sections of the U. S. during their required two weeks of active duty. This training includes operations with submarines for anti-submarine warfare, gunnery exercises at air, surface, and land targets, formation steaming and tactics with other destroyers.

Before his present assignment, CDR Jacobs was Director of Training for the Commandant of the 4th Naval District. Prior to that he was Executive Officer on the USS Wm. W. Wood (DDR-15).

Born in Philadelphia, he entered the U.S.N. in 1941. After WW II he spent five years as a registered representative selling stocks and bonds. He was recalled to active duty in 1951. He is married to the former Ruth Riegel, '43, and they have two sons, Randall, age 12, and David, age 3.

CDR Jacobs, left, being congratulated by CDR Kunzie, as he takes command of the USS Laws.

Henschel Takes Over New Post

Richard H. Henschel, '34, has been named Executive Officer of the Public Health Service's National Heart Institute. He assumed his new duties on March 1.

Mr. Henschel has been a government service employee for 26 years. His experience has included positions in the Federal Housing Administration, the Bureau of the Budget of the Executive Office of the President, and the Patent Office of the Department of Commerce.

He has been with the National Institutes of Health since 1947 and has served in the following capacities: Executive Officer of the National Cancer Institute, 1947-1951; Assistant Executive Officer NIH, 1951-1952; Executive Officer of the Clinical Center 1952-1955; Chief, Division of Business Operations 1955-1959. From 1959 to the present he has been Assistant Executive Officer of the National Institutes of Health.

Mr. Henschel and his wife Mildred have lived in Bethesda, Maryland, since 1939. They have two sons, ages 24 and 11.

Nominees for Alumni Association Offices

President

CHARLES U. SHELLENBERGER, '21, A.B., 514 Brookview Lane, Havertown, Pa., has been the General Secretary of the Philadelphia YMCA of Philadelphia since 1946. His professional career in the YMCA began in Denver, Colorado, in 1922. Moving from Denver, he held positions in the YMCA in Brooklyn, N. Y.; Amsterdam, N. Y.; Yonkers, N. Y., and Los Angeles, California. Dr. Shellenberger is an Elder in the Presbyterian Church U.S.A.; Commissioner to the General Assembly; and Charter Member of the Board of Directors of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches. He is presently an elder of the Overbrook Presbyterian Church, member of the Philadelphia Rotary Club, Professional Advisory Committee of the United Fund of Philadelphia, National Council of YMCAs, chairman of the Employed Offices Emergency Assistance Fund of the Association of Secretaries, and member of the Commission on Interracial Practices of the National Council of YMCAs.

Charles U. Shellenberger

President

HAROLD LUTHER WIAND, '28, A.B., 334 Calvert Road, Merion, Pa., is Manager of Public Relations, Philadelphia Region, Pennsylvania Railroad. He is married to the former Eleanor Smith and has a daughter, Nancy, and a son, Harold, who is a junior at Ursinus. He is a member of the Railroad Public Relations Association and the Pen and Pencil Club of Philadelphia. He is Moderator, Church of the Evangel (Baptist) in Narberth, Pa. He has published various articles in transportation magazines and newspapers and an article entitled "Farmer Off The Bench" appeared in the Country Gentlemen.

Harold L. Wiand

President

FLOYD ERWIN HELLER, '33, A.B., LL.B., 224 W. Broad St., Bethlehem, Pa., has a private practice of law in Bethlehem and is also the lawyer for the legal department, Port Allegany, Pa. Mr. Heller has served as visiting professor of political science at Ursinus College, 1945; Moravian College, 1946; visiting professor of business law, Lehigh University, 1947; and professor of business law at Moravian College, 1948 to the present time. He is married to the former Mary Francis, '33, and they have a son, Floyd, and a daughter, Mary Lynne. At present he is Secretary and Member of the Steering Committee on the Commission on Church and Ministry of the United Church of Christ. He is a President of the Northampton County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind; Chairman Hanover Township, Northampton County Zoning Commission; Lehigh County and Pennsylvania Bar Association; Past President and Secretary of Lions Club of Bethlehem; Torch Club of Lehigh Valley; Chairman of Board, Tau Kappa Epsilon National Fraternity at Moravian College.

Floyd E. Heller

Vice President

GRACE I. KAUFFMAN, '27, 808 W. Main St., Norristown, is chairman of the Foreign Language Department in the Norristown School District and teaches Latin, French, German, and Spanish at Stewarts Junior H. S. She was graduated cum laude from Ursinus and received her M.A. in Romance Languages from the U. of Penna. She has also studied at Middlebury, N.Y.U., U.C.L.A., Temple, U. of Delaware, and the U. of Hawaii.

Since 1943 she has been active and held important offices in local, county, district, state, and national professional association, especially in the PSEA and the NEA.

Currently in Norristown, she is vice president, Community Concerts Association; secretary, Friends of the Norristown Public Library; Board Member, Montgomery County Mental Health Clinic; and member of the DAR, the AAUW, the YWCA, the Norristown Council of Republican Women, and the Octave Club.

Miss Kauffman has written numerous articles for professional journals; her latest publication (April 1960), printed jointly by NEA and MLA, entitled Modern Foreign Languages and the Academically Talented was done in collaboration with other scholars.

SAMPLE BALLOT

President

(Vote for One)

CHARLES U. SHELLENBERGER, '21
HAROLD L. WIAND, '28
FLOYD E. HELLER, '33

Vice-President

(Vote for One)

GRACE I. KAUFFMAN, '27
MIRIAM V. LUDWIG, '28
FLORENCE O. BENJAMIN, '30

Alumni-at-Large

(Vote for Two)

J. HARLEY HUNTER, '23
HENRY A. W. SCHAEFFER, '36
DONALD G. STAUFFER, '51
NANCY BARE DAVIS, '51
JANE ELIZABETH GULICK, '53

Alumni Director

(Vote for One)

ALBERT C. HELLWIG, '31
THOMAS P. GLASSMOYER, '36
J. CLAYTON WORSTER, '37

Faculty Representative

(Vote for One)

EVAN S. SNYDER, '44
WALTER W. MARSTELLAR, '49

Vice President

MIRIAM V. LUDWIG, '28, A.B., M.A., 1015 Spruce St., Pottstown, Pa., is head of the English department in the Pottstown Senior H.S. Miss Ludwig taught in the Emmaus High School before accepting her position in the Pottstown H. S. She has been active in the Perkiomen Branch of the American Association of University Women, past president of the Pottstown Education Association, and a member of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the National Education Association, and the Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of English.

Vice President

FLORENCE O. BENJAMIN, '30, A.B., M.A., Jericho Manor 133, Jenkintown, Pa., is a teacher and Social Studies Coordinator in the Abington Twp. School District. She was head of the department of social studies in the Chester, Pa., H. S., from 1930 to 1953.

Miss Benjamin has held the office of president, Ursinus Women's Club; president, Board of Directors, Y.W.C.A., Chester, Pa.; president, Penna. Council for the Social Studies; vice-president, Middle States Council for the Social Studies; president, S.E. District Social Studies Council; and member, the Executive Board of Social Education, a national publication of National Council for the Social Studies.

She is co-author of a publication entitled, Exploring Pennsylvania and World Cultures Curriculum Guide.

Alumni Director

ALBERT C. HELLWIG, A.B., '31, 1419 Amity Road, Rydal, Pa., is Secretary of the Steel Heddle Co. of Canada Ltd. He is a Director of the Hellwig Dyeing Corp. and also a Director of the Pine Run Farm Supply Co., and Secretary of the Stedco Southern. He is married to the former Marguerite S. Reimert, '31, and is the father of two sons. He has served as Deacon, Elder and Clerk of Sessions in the Abington Presbyterian Church. Mr. Hellwig is a member of the Manufacturers Golf and Country Club and the Germantown Cricket Club.

Alumni Director

THOMAS P. GLASSMOYER, '36, A.B., LL.B., 1648 North Hills Avenue, Willow Grove. Mr. Glassmoyer is a partner in the law firm of Schnader, Harrison, Segal and Lewis. He is married to the former Frances Thierolf, '40, and they have three daughters. He served in the U. S. Army as 1st Lt. from 1943 to 1946. He is a member of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and American Bar Associations; Lawyer's Club; Philadelphia Tax Group; and University Club. He served on the Upper Dublin Twp. Zoning Board in 1958-59 and has been Upper Dublin Twp. (Montgomery County) Commissioner since 1959. Mr. Glassmoyer is co-author of "Legal Problems in Tax Returns," American Law Institute, 1949; and an occasional lecturer, New York University Institute on Federal Taxation. He has held the following offices in the Alumni Association: Vice-President 1940-41; President, 1953-55; and one term as Alumni Director.

Alumni Director

J. CLAYTON WORSTER, '37, B.S., 1416 Huntingdon Road, Abington, Pa., is Vice President and Secretary of the Welsbach Corporation, Vice President and Director of Welsbach International, Inc., President and Director of Welsbach de Mexico, C.A., and President and Director of Welsbach de Venezuela, S.A. He is married to the former Caroline Rhoads, '38, and they have twin sons, John and Joel. From 1942 to 1946 he served in the Infantry and spent three years in overseas duty. He was Provost Marshall in Tunisia, North Africa, and was commissioned as Captain. Mr. Worster is a School Director in Abington Township, a member of the Abington Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon Valley Country Club, Old York Road Skating Club and the Pan American Association.

Grace Kauffman

Albert C. Hellwig

Florence O. Benjamin

Thomas Glassmoyer

Miriam Ludwig

J. Clayton Worster

Alumni-at-Large

JOSEPH HARLEY HUNTER, '23, A.B., 136 Elm St., Shillington, Pa., is married and has two sons and a daughter. He spent one year after graduation from Ursinus with the Reading Foundry; a year as teacher and coach at Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vt.; and a year as teacher and athletic coach, Lititz H. S. In 1926 he became a Claim Adjuster for the Travelers Insurance Co. Mr. Hunter is President of the University Club of Reading, a member of St. John's Lodge F. & A.M., Shillington Square and Compass Club, Reading Lodge No. 115, B.P.O.E., Holy Cross Methodist Church, Shillington Republican Club, and Green Valley Country Club.

J. Harley Hunter

Alumni-at-Large

HENRY A. W. SCHAEFFER, '36, A.B., B.D., D.D., 727 W. Market St., Bethlehem, Pa., has served as Pastor of the Bethany United Church of Christ, Bethlehem, since 1948. From 1939 to 1944 he served as Pastor of Brush Creek Charge, Manor, Pa., and 1944 to 1948 as Pastor of the First and St. Stephen's Church, Baltimore, Md. He is married to the former Helene E. Schmauch, and they have three daughters. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of Cedar Crest College, a member of the Commission on World Service, and serves on the Prudential Committee of the United Church Board for World Ministries.

Henry A. W. Schaeffer

Alumni-at-Large

DONALD G. STAUFFER, '51, B.S., 1 Gwen Lane, Devon, Pa., has been employed by The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania since June 1951. He has served in various management capacities in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. At present he is Service Supervisor for the Eastern Area of The Bell Telephone Co. He served with the U. S. Army Air Force from 1945 to 1947. He is past Secretary-Treasurer of the Cub & Key Society. Mr. Stauffer is a member of the Official Board of the Christ Methodist Church. He is married to the former Priscilla Richter, '49, and they have a daughter and two sons.

Donald G. Stauffer

Alumni-at-Large

MRS. THOMAS G. DAVIS, (NANCY BARE), '51, AB, 1250 Marie Avenue, Ephrata, Pa., is married to Dr. Thomas G. Davis, '52, they have two children. Before her marriage she was a teacher of English and mathematics in the Lancaster County Day School, Lancaster, and 5th grade teacher in the Agnes Irwin School, Wynnewood. She has held the office of recording secretary in the Y-Wives Group, Upper Darby YWCA and was on the Executive Committee in the Couples' Club, Drexel Hill Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Davis is a member of the Women's Auxiliary, Lancaster County Medical Society, the Women's Auxiliary, Ephrata Community Hospital and the Presbyterian Church of Drexel Hill. She has participated in the Great Books Foundation Discussion Group.

Nancy Bare Davis

Alumni-at-Large

JANE ELIZABETH GULICK, '53, A.B., Ed.M., 2208 County Line Road, Ardmore, Pa., taught English, Latin and history in the Worcester Jr. H. S., from 1953 to 1955. At present she is teaching English and Latin in the Lower Merion School District where she is also coach of girls' tennis and assistant coach of girls' hockey. She is assistant superintendent of the junior department at Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church of Ardmore and is a member of the National Educational Association, the Pa. State Educational Association, the Lower Merion Teachers Association (representative on the executive council), and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Jane Gulick

Faculty Representative

WALTER W. MARSTELLER, '49, B.S., 204 E. Seventh Avenue, Trappe, Collegeville, Pa., is Assistant Professor of Physics at Ursinus. He served in the United States Army in the Field Artillery from 1942 to 1943. Mr. Marsteller is a member of Christ E & R Church, Norristown, Pa. He has published an article, "The Temperature—Gradient Hydrometer." He is married to the former Deborah Norton, '49.

Faculty Representative

EVAN S. SNYDER, '44, B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Trappe-Linfield Road, Collegeville, Pa., is Associate Professor of Physics at Ursinus. He is married to the former Virginia Boyer, '46, and they have two sons and a daughter. While on military leave of absence (1944-46) he served as Electronics Engineering Aide, Manhattan Project, Los Alamos, N. M. In the summer of 1957 he was Senior Engineer of the Philco Corp., Lansdale Tube Division, and in the summer of 1960 he received a grant which enabled him to study at Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tenn. Dr. Snyder is a member of the American Association of University Professors, American Association of Physics Teachers, Sigma Xi, and Trinity E. and R. Church, Collegeville.

ALUMNI REGIONALS ANNOUNCE MEETINGS

SOUTH JERSEY

The South Jersey Regional will meet on Sunday, April 16, at Lucien's Old Tavern on the White Horse Pike near Berlin. The social hour will begin at 1:30; dinner will be served at 6 P.M. The cost will be $4.50 per person.

The South Jersey Officers are:

President
Max Jentsch, '50
1341 Maple Ave., Haddon Heights

Vice-President
Clarence Paine, '22
59 N. Girard St., Woodbury

Secretary
Barbara Taylor Lentz, '31
1106 Warwick Rd., Haddonfield

Treasurer
Fred Binder, '50
427 Bradshaw Ave., Haddonfield

LEHIGH VALLEY

The Lehigh Valley Regional will meet on Friday, April 28, at 7 P.M. at Valp's Restaurant, 911 Union Blvd., Allentown. The speaker will be William Reimert, '24, Managing Editor of the Dall-Chronicle. The cost of the dinner will be $3.75.

The officers of the Lehigh Valley Regional are:

President
Maurice J. Van De Putte, '54
133 Cattell St., Easton

Vice-President
George MacNeal, '45
25 N. Glenwood Ave., Allentown

Secretary
Roberta Scheffler Habernern, '53
1318 Fifth St., Fullerton

Treasurer
Thomas W. Garrett, '36
P.O. Box 532, Allentown

NEW YORK CITY

The New York Regional will meet on Friday, May 5, at 6:30 P. M. at Schrafft's Grill Room, 556 Fifth Ave. (near 46th St.).

The officers of the New York City Regional are:

President
Harriet Drysdale Furst, '31
790 Riverside Dr., N.Y. 32, N.Y.

Vice-President
H. Dean Steward, '44
Parsippany-Troy Hills, N.J.

Secretary
Beverly Tyrell Crane, '55
Box 182, Kingston, N.J.

Treasurer
J. Wilbur Clayton, '28
29 Johnson Rd., W. Orange, N.J.

MONTGOMERY REGIONAL NEWLY FORMED

Feeling a need for an alumni association in the Montgomery County area, ten alumni met at the home of the Rev. Dr. R. M. Paine, '26, to lay plans for such an organization. This new group will appeal to those living in "Greater Montgomery County," from Doylestown to Paoli and Phoenixville, and from Conshohocken to Spring City and Schwenksville.

The first meeting will be held on Friday, April 28, at the General DeKalb Inn in Norristown. The steering committee which planned this meeting included Miss Dorothy Berger, '28; D. Sterling Light, '16; Miss Jane Reifsnnyder, '46; Mrs. Jack Eachus, '33; Edwin S. Cook, '43; Mrs. Pauline Pearson, '20; Miss Evelyn Spare, '59; R. Maxwell Paine, '26; Mr. and Mrs. David Hartman, '40, and Richard T. Schellhase, '45.

MONTGOMERY

The Montgomery Regional, encompassing most of Montgomery County along with towns from neighboring areas, will meet on Friday, April 28, at 7 P.M. at the General DeKalb Inn. (Route 202, 2519 DeKalb St., Norristown.)

Dr. Helfferich will be the speaker. The cost will be $3.50. Officers for this new group will be elected at this meeting.

SCHUYLKILL VALLEY

The Schuylkill Valley Regional will meet on Friday, April 21, at 6:30 P.M. at the Wyomissing Club (5th and Walnut Sts.) in Reading. The cost will be $4.00.

The officers of the Schuylkill Regional are:

President
Horace Godshall, '29
706 Chestnut St., Collegeville

Vice-President
J. Douglas Davis, '41
444 Lincoln Ave., Pottstown

Secretary
David Stevenson, '26
626 Evans St., Pottstown

Treasurer
Miriam Ludwig, '28
1015 Spruce St., Pottstown

PHILADELPHIA

The Philadelphia Regional will meet on Friday, May 5, at 7 P.M. at Palumbo's, 824 Catherine St., Philadelphia; dinner will be served at 8 P.M., preceded by a show and followed by dancing. The cost is $12 a couple.

The officers of the Philadelphia Regional are:

President
Forrest Sovring, '49
4013 Indian Guide Rd., Lafayette Hill

Vice-President
Gail Livingston How, '58
710 N. Franklin St., Philadelphia

Secretary
Louise B. Beardwood, '51
620 Laverock Rd., Glenside

Treasurer
David T. McMillan, '50
1625 Hampton Rd., Havertown

YORK

The York Regional will meet on Friday, April 21, at 6:30 P.M. at the Outdoor Club of York. The cost is $3.75.

Officers of the York Regional are:

President—Marycatherine Glatfelter, '39;
R. D. No. 1, Thomassville.

Vice-Pres.—Wm. D. Snyder, '40; R. D. No. 3, Dover.

Secretary—Mary Myers Gross, '34; 739 Florida Ave., York.

Treasurer—Elmer M. Morris, '33; 1534 4th Ave., York.

WASHINGTON

The Washington Regional will meet on Friday, May 19, at 7 P.M. at the Kenwood Country Club.

The officers of the Washington Regional are:

President
Dr. Henry P. Laughlin, '38
6700 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

Vice-President
Kermit B. Mohn, '33
201 Upton St., Rockville, Md.

Secretary
Emma Kay Hartman Man, '44
10403 Crestmoor Dr., Silver Spring, Md.

Treasurer
Thomas J. Beddow, '36
5700 Overlea Rd., Washington 16, D.C.

WASHINGTON REGIONAL HAS MID-YEAR MEETING

Despite the circumstances, a heavy snow and the Inauguration, seventeen alumni in the Washington area met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Laughlin in Chevy Chase on January 20. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Elicker entertained the group with colored slides of their recent trip through Europe and the Holy Land.

JANUARY 1961—Mid Year Report of the Loyalty Fund Campaign

Class	No. in Class		No. of Contrib. by January 21					Amount Contributed by January 21
	'57	'58	'59	'60	'61	'57	'58	'59	'60	'61
84-99	18	8	7	11	8	4	$1,075.00	$2,077.00	$1,148.00	$2,170.00	$2,075.00
00-09	42	18	22	26	18	18	325.00	491.00	606.00	580.00	521.00
1910	14	3	1	3	4	2	55.00	25.00	60.00	65.00	110.00
1911	10	6	7	10	9	6	105.00	87.00	118.00	113.00	85.00
1912	13	4	4	2	5	4	185.00	180.00	60.00	190.00	160.00
1913	21	2	2	3	10	7	225.00	335.00	410.00	375.00	405.00
1914	26	5	6	7	8	6	235.00	275.00	262.00	270.00	235.00
1915	22	7	9	13	12	11	162.00	192.00	143.00	182.00	158.00
1916	20	1	2	3	0	9	10.00	30.00	55.00	.00	145.00
1917	18	4	6	9	9	9	85.00	105.00	140.00	140.00	145.00
1918	24	9	9	10	11	12	125.00	120.00	130.00	155.60	155.00
1919	27	5	6	9	12	12	97.50	125.00	278.00	280.00	315.00
1920	38	10	11	14	13	10	550.00	510.00	780.00	895.00	835.00
1921	29	4	4	10	6	11	390.00	300.00	2,595.00	570.00	737.50
1922	38	8	9	9	11	11	120.00	190.00	180.00	235.00	242.50
1923	43	6	11	10	12	6	343.00	685.98	192.00	292.00	142.00
1924	46	11	13	11	15	14	545.00	287.50	505.00	486.00	677.00
1925	40	4	6	8	5	10	121.00	630.00	626.00	249.50	325.62
1926	42	9	12	12	13	13	71.00	141.50	153.00	168.50	340.50
1927	55	12	17	15	20	22	165.00	232.50	229.00	375.00	437.00
1928	69	8	11	13	8	11	97.00	143.00	135.00	135.50	103.93
1929	66	10	12	17	24	25	194.50	238.00	319.50	534.50	683.00
1930	96	10	9	19	25	19	499.50	397.50	607.94	826.37	609.25
1931	80	15	22	20	16	20	507.00	487.75	708.94	507.38	975.25
1932	80	13	15	24	24	21	720.50	124.50	757.75	253.00	430.00
1933	81	13	18	18	15	14	250.00	335.00	337.00	337.00	537.00
1934	79	6	9	14	14	14	51.00	107.00	235.00	107.00	380.00
1935	80	10	10	13	14	15	199.50	130.00	197.50	498.75	539.50
1936	78	14	13	25	27	24	267.50	197.50	455.00	390.50	821.00
1937	83	10	11	19	21	27	236.50	272.00	247.00	263.00	513.00
1938	89	12	29	24	28	25	372.00	1,666.00	859.00	696.00	1,075.50
1939	92	21	21	39	26	35	600.00	342.00	726.00	448.50	504.00
1940	119	19	26	28	31	25	213.00	271.00	337.50	372.50	453.00
1941	106	14	18	14	16	26	103.00	211.00	140.00	136.50	358.00
1942	103	7	13	18	19	10	115.00	162.50	238.50	237.00	267.50
1943	111	13	15	31	26	17	168.00	152.00	344.88	292.00	304.50
1944	73	15	12	12	15	11	69.50	74.00	69.50	92.00	66.50
1945	77	24	22	26	22	25	202.00	215.50	303.00	347.00	312.50
1946	86	14	17	17	16	17	82.00	114.00	102.50	111.00	149.00
1947	149	14	23	28	32	28	91.00	146.00	196.00	256.00	199.50
1948	147	28	49	56	63	66	249.50	368.00	404.00	445.00	487.50
1949	217	43	48	73	64	68	202.00	286.00	411.50	470.00	1,075.75
1950	240	31	33	60	51	52	186.50	210.50	457.50	479.00	467.50
1951	223	34	47	50	52	56	158.00	293.00	339.50	377.00	485.00
1952	178	36	42	68	57	54	202.00	211.00	364.00	380.00	397.00
1953	142	31	39	48	36	34	176.50	234.50	268.00	174.00	232.50
1954	148	39	47	66	63	42	147.00	228.00	274.50	279.00	234.00
1955	134	33	39	54	51	34	145.00	199.50	208.00	217.50	201.00
1956	156	59	31	45	45	48	413.55	188.50	252.00	240.50	291.00
1957	147	37	47	51	51	51		221.35	224.70	283.50	305.00
1958	163	2	87	55	44			7.00	675.27	204.00	220.50
1959	167	1		79	37			2.00		690.31	185.00
1960	162			1	96					15.00	862.72
Phi Alpha Psi Alumnae								300.00			100.00
Classes of '61, '62, '63, '64 for Century Club											155.00
Alumni contrib. to fund honoring Mrs. G. Omwake
4,628							$12,689.05	$15,555.08	$19,866.48	$19,143.91	$23,227.52

Year	No. of Contrib. by Jan. 21	Total
1954	351	$ 9,948.50
1955	562	15,480.48
1956	663	16,644.25
1957	838	12,689.05
1958	905	15,555.08
1959	1268	19,866.48
1960	1288	19,143.91
1961	1292	23,227.52

1961 LOYALTY FUND CAMPAIGN

The report of this year's Loyalty Fund Campaign at the mid-year, January 22, showed that 1292 alumni contributed a total of $23,227.52.

Since this report, the campaign has continued and the latest figures, compiled on March 15, show that 1,498 alumni have now raised the total contributions this year to $27,523.

THE CENTURY CLUB

on March 15 had

96 MEMBERS

WRESTLING RESULTS

The wrestling team had a 7-2 record. This is the first time in the history of wrestling at Ursinus, begun in 1930, that there has been as many as seven wins in a season. Led by Captain Wilbert Abele (8-1) and Dick Dean (9-0), sophomore and next year's captain, the team conquered Drexel, Delaware, Albright, Haverford, P.M.C., Lebanon Valley, and Elizabethtown.

The grapplers capped their campaign by snatching fifth place (out of eighteen competing colleges) in the Middle Atlantic Tournament held at Moravian. Both Abele and Dean won second place honors in their respective weights. Abele was defeated in the finals by Pacilio, the '959 heavyweight champion. Dean, the defending champion at 147, was also defeated by a 1959 champion, Pac, of Wyoming, rated fifth in the nation.

Prospects for 1962 are bright since six of the first eight starters in 1961 were either freshmen or sophomores.

Dick Dean, Ursinus' wrestling ace, lifts Haverford opponent before bringing him to the mat.

Basketball Review

The basketball team, hampered by injuries, ineligibility, and the illness of Coach Fry, won only six of its seventeen games. Sophomore Walt Dryfoos scored 388 points, giving him an average of 22.8 per game. Dennis Gould, captain and senior, scored 255 points.

SPRING SPORTS SCHEDULES 1961

Thursday, April 6
Baseball	3:00—W. Maryland	Home
Saturday, April 8
Baseball	3:00—Albright	Away
Tuesday, April 11
Baseball	3:00—P. M. C.	Home
Saturday, April 15
Baseball	2:30—Delaware	Home
Track	2:00—Albright	Away
Monday, April 17
Baseball	3:30—Wilkes	Away
Wednesday, April 19
Baseball	3:00—Haverford	Home
Track	3:30—F. & M.	Away
Tennis	2:30—Swarthmore	Home
Saturday, April 22
Baseball	2:00—Dickinson	Away
Track	2:30—Haverford	Home
Tennis	2:30—Haverford	Away
Tuesday, April 25
Tennis	2:30—Elizabethtown	Away
Wednesday, April 26
Baseball	3:00—Swarthmore	Away
Track	3:15—Swarthmore	Home
Thursday, April 27
Tennis	3:00—F. & M.	Away
Friday, April 28
Track	—Penn Relays
Saturday, April 29
Baseball	2:30—J. Hopkins	Home
Track	—Penn Relays
Tennis	2:00—Delaware	Home
Monday, May 1
Baseball	3:30—F. & M.	Away
Tennis	3:00—LaSalle	Away
Tuesday, May 2
Track	3:30—P. M. C.	Away
Wednesday, May 3
Tennis	3:30—Drexel	Away
Thursday, May 4
Baseball	3:00—Elizabethtown	Home
Saturday, May 6
Baseball	2:30—Haverford	Away
Track	2:30—J. Hopkins & Dickinson	Home
Tennis	2:00—P. M. C.	Home
Tuesday, May 9
Tennis	2:30—Wilkes	Home
Wednesday, May 10
Baseball	3:00—LaSalle	Home
Track	3:00—Wash. College	Away
Thursday, May 11
Tennis	2:30—Dickinson	Home
Friday, May 12
Track	—Middle Atlantics
at Lafayette
Saturday, May 13
Baseball	2:00—Drexel	Away
Track	—Middle Atlantics
Tennis	4:00—Susquehanna	Away
Tuesday, May 16
Baseball	3:00—Lehigh	Away
Wednesday, May 17
Track	3:15—Muhlenberg	Home
Thursday, May 18
Baseball	3:00—Moravian	Home
Tennis	2:30—Moravian	Home
Saturday, May 20
Baseball	2:30—Lebanon Valley	Home
Track	2:00—Lebanon Valley	Away
Tennis	2:00—Albright	Away
Tuesday, May 23
Baseball	3:00—Scranton	Home

URSINUS GIRLS DOMINATE U. S. HOCKEY TEAM

Five alumnae of Ursinus were named to The United States Field Hockey Team at the close of the National Hockey Tournament held at the University of California over the Christmas holidays. The members of the Ursinus alumnae club team so honored as a result of their tournament play were:

Adele Boyd, '53
Ruth Heller Aucott, '56
Phyllis Stadler, '56
Vonnice Gros, '57
Pat Woodbury Zelle, '58

Additional laurels came to Coach Snell and the College when Lynne Crossley, a junior at Ursinus was named to the United States Reserves.

TRACK PROSPECTS

Ursinus had an indoor track team for the first time in its history this year when (besides the Inquirer meet) informal meets were scheduled with Delaware, West Chester, and Swarthmore.

These meets have provided Coach Ray Gurzynski's cinder men with a real incentive for embarking early on a serious training and conditioning program.

In addition to the nucleus of 17 from last year's squad, several promising freshmen prospects have been uncovered in the winter program. For the first time in fifteen years, it appears that Coach Gurzynski will have adequate depth in almost all events.

Tri-captains this year are weight man Al Walton, hurdler Dennis Gould, and the fabulous distance man, Vernon Morgan (see alumni Journal, Nov. '60). Morgan set a new field house record for the mile at Delaware on February 25 when he ran a 4.25 mile, breaking the old record by ten seconds.

Happy Retirement

by HARVEY R. VANDERSLICE

Forty years ago when I received my first appointment as superintendent of schools, I immediately had a thought-provoking experience. My predecessor, then past seventy years of age, came to me offering congratulations and good wishes. Both his expression and bearing indicated sincerity. I believed him.

Then as he turned away I received a shock. With tears in his eyes, he said, "It is fine for you but it is hard on me. I should rather work out than "rust out."

Like most young persons in similar situations, I had not given thought to the retiring one. I had not been concerned about the emotional reaction of an old man about to be severed from a position he held for more than thirty years. A feeling of self-reproach came to me for having accepted the position he had so long held, even though I had been in no way responsible for his severance from office. Lines from Whittier's poem, "School Days," came floating back in memory:

I am sorry that I spelled the word;
I hate to go above you.

At a result of this experience, I began thinking of retirement, my own retirement. Thinking led to study and planning which continued throughout the years. The outcome of this course of action has led to a very happy and completely satisfying retirement.

This is not true for many retired persons, probably not the exact truth for a majority of them. Dr. Martin Gumpert, the eminent geriatrician, specializing in the ills of older people, has said on numerous occasions that a majority of those who come to him for treatment are unhappy.

Through the years I have had opportunities of meeting many retired persons. On these occasions I tried, in as indirect and subtle way as I could create, to learn of their reactions to being retired, to have them tell me they were happy or merely putting in time, "rusting out." The only conclusion reached from these interviews is that many are not really happy or satisfied with their way of life.

Old "Jack" lived near a place I frequently visited. For years as I drove past his home I saw him sitting on the porch rocking. Whenever weather conditions permitted he could be found there. Since he was always rocking I began wondering whether continuously rocking expressed contentment and ease or whether it signified a certain unrest, perhaps a psychopathic condition.

Although he and I were strangers, my proclivity for asking questions about retirement frequently exercised, overcame my inhibitions. I stopped at his home one day and ventured to engage him in conversation. I feared he might resent a stranger's questions.

How mistaken I was! He talked freely and with emotion. I said to him, "You seem to be enjoying your retirement, and since I too will be retiring some day, I felt that I needed advice concerning ways in which I may spend my time so that I may enjoy my retirement when it comes."

His reply was instant and sharp. "You have come to the wrong place. I am not enjoying my retirement. I am just sitting here waiting to die. I have nothing to do. Why must I live so long?"

He had been a railroad engineer. Apparently he had developed no other interests in life beyond his family and the locomotive he operated. Wife dead, children in homes of their own, and the beloved locomotive gone out of his life, he felt he had nothing left. He was "rusting out."

As I listened to him, lines from one of our less well-known but better poets were recalled. In Ralph Hodgson's poetry we find keen and accurate observations and characterizations of people in the varied experience and vicissitudes in life. In his poem entitled, "The Bull," he epitomizes what old age and retirement mean to many:

See the old unhappy bull
Sick in soul and body both
Slouching in the undergrowth
Of the forest beautiful
Banished from the herd he loved
Bulls and cows a thousand head.

There they left him everyone
Left him there without a lick
Standing there with head hung down
In a stupor dreaming things.

And the dreamer turns away
From his visionary herds
And his splendid yesterday
Turns to meet the loathly birds
Flocking round him from on high
Waiting for the flesh to die.

The retired individual has three primary concerns: health, economic security, and the satisfactory employment of vacated time. The sciences of geriatrics and gerontology have made substantial progress in recent years in maintaining and improving the health of older persons.

The economic status of older people has been receiving and in the future undoubtedly will receive continued interest and support both from government and private agencies.

The third major concern of old age, a satisfying use of vacated time, has received less productive attention than the others, notwithstanding the fact that it is a major concern of a great many retired persons.

This discussion will be confined to a consideration of the means by which retired persons through their own efforts may attain a satisfying, even pleasurable use of their unemployed time. It is not necessary for anyone to "rust out."

Retirement brings release from responsibility. The retiree is no longer a slave to the clock or calendar. Time is the common denominator of a great majority of retired persons. Whether these free and occupied hours yield happiness or boredom or, as in the case of Old Jack, in near melancholia, depends on the individual.

Conversations through the years with many persons nearing retirement reveal that they are planning on acquiring a hobby after retirement. This usually fails. It is the rare individual who can

Dr. Harvey R. Vanderlice was graduated from Ursinus in 1915. He received his M.A. from the U. of Pennsylvania and was awarded a Ped. D. degree by Ursinus. During his teaching career he served as supervising principal of the Boyertown School System, superintendent of schools in Coatesville, and superintendent of schools in Aliquippa.

He became a professor of education at Ursinus in 1947, and emeritus professor of education in 1957. Since his retirement, he has led a busy and useful life, as the following article demonstrates.

develop a new interest after his sixtieth birthday, an interest that is sufficiently compelling and abiding.

If he has not engendered and continuously cultivated interests (some of which are quite disparate from his occupational interests) that he may carry over into his retirement years, these later years are likely to be barren, bereft of the possibility of producing a satisfying experience.

The old maxim learned in youth as a guide to character formation, "What you are to be you are now becoming," is quite as valid in this context. If a person will carry into retirement several interests, some of which have been nourished through the years and have become deeply rooted, he seems to be well fortified for retirement. There are such persons.

A notable example of this carry-over from active life into retirement is that of Samuel, a friend of mine, who for years operated an amateur weather station. He did not attempt to make weather predictions, except to a very limited extent, but his records of thermometric and barometric readings were used continuously by newspapers and by the public.

Being frequently consulted gave him a feeling of importance, of useful service. This is one of the finest examples I have discovered of the leisure pursuits of active life contributing to a great degree to the happiness of an old man in retirement. However, it cannot be emphasized so strongly that for most people a single interest will be insufficient. There should be more than one.

Another friend, Tom, offers convincing proof on this point. During his professional life he was an enthusiastic fisherman. Fishing appeared to be such a ruling passion in his life that he seemed exceptionally well-prepared for retirement.

I said to him one day several months after retirement, "Well Tom, now that you have retired, I suppose you are experiencing an unusually happy life, fishing." He replied, "No, Van, I am not. When I was working, I always enjoyed fishing, but when you must fish to kill time it is work."

He did not carry with him into retirement any other activities that really gave him a feeling of satisfaction or pleasure. He lived in the past to which he was continually referring, tiring his friends and relatives and adding to his own inner boredom. During the progress of an exceptionally successful career he had become so completely immersed in the problems and challenges confronting him that he developed but one outside interest. A fatal mistake!

Jim was an old man when I saw him driving race horses in matched races. Upon inquiry I learned he was eighty-seven years of age. When I met him I asked if training and driving race horses was his only activity. He said that it was and that he had been doing it in his spare time since he was twenty-one years of age and that he never had any other permanent interest.

I knew he lived in a location where winters were rugged. When I asked him what he did in winter he replied in unprintable language, saying that he had nothing to do. Jim's positive statement about boredom was eloquent proof that the retired person needs to carry with him into retirement more than one activity that to him is interesting and absorbing.

The happiest retirement is probably best attained by engaging in activities that are personally pleasurable or socially useful or both.

Probably the happiest retired man I ever knew was one who had taught a Sunday-school class for forty years. Begun in his young manhood, his teaching continued through life and into retirement. He had several minor interests. One of them was raising guinea pigs, but it was the men's class that was mainly responsible for his happy golden years.

There are literally hundreds of ways in which retired persons may spend their later years provided they have prepared for the inevitable. Space will not permit a full discussion of the range of activities suitable for older folks. Lines from an old school reader remind us:

The world is so full of a number of things

That I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

Making collections is an activity, that if begun early in life, for most persons will endure throughout life and continue into retirement. At the age of eight, I began making stamp collections. Ever since that time I have been collecting.

One of the most interesting collections I have made is "histories of Pennsylvania." These books cover all aspects of life in Pennsylvania from the earliest years to the present time. This is a most interesting activity and one that will always retain my interest and consume much of my time.

Recently I developed an interest in collecting fugitive material from newspapers and magazines on current life and activities in Africa. Begun to enlarge my understanding of recent events there, it has grown into a very engaging leisure time activity consuming more time than I have to devote to it. Days are too short.

One collection that seemed inane to me at first was made by a retired couple whom I know. They travelled widely and as they travelled collected sea-shells. The accessory facts that these people gathered about lands and peoples were truly amazing. Telling about their travels beginning with shells and branching into other interesting features of the place of their origin was not only pleasurable to them but interesting and enriching to their listeners.

There are a number of other aspects of the retirement problem that merit consideration. A belief has been growing to some extent throughout the nation that compulsory retirement at a stated age is wasting the remaining work

(Continued on page 32)

Pictured here are Mr. and Mrs. John Shuttleworth and their four children: Jacquelynn, Susan, Karen, and John.

JOHN SHUTTLEWORTH, '45

John Shuttleworth, '45, has distinguished himself in his field, internal medicine, and in the organization which he serves, the U.S. Public Health Service.

He left college in his Junior year in 1941 and after his graduation from Hahnemann Medical School in 1944 was granted his B.S. degree by Ursinus in 1945. Reared in Cape May Court House, he entered Ursinus, he says, "through the influence of the Rev. Charles String, '28."

Captain Shuttleworth entered the U.S.P.H.S. in 1949 and served a three-year residency in Internal Medicine at Baltimore. Following this training, he went to the P.H.S.'s hospital at Seattle. Later he was chief of medicine at the National Leprosarium in Carville, La. He was certified a specialist, Internal Medicine, by the American Board of Internal Medicine in 1955, after which he returned to the USPHS Hospital at Baltimore. In 1956 he became Chief of Medicine with the rank of Medical Director (equivalent to a Captain in the Navy) at the U.S.P.H.S. Hospital in Norfolk, Va.

He writes, "I run a 240 bed general hospital here, with resident and intern training programs which include active patient care of patients from all over the world, active teaching of young physicians, and a clinical investigation program of hypertensive cardiovascular disease. Our work includes care of men and women from the Merchant Marine, the U.S. Coast Guard, foreign seamen, and dependents of all the uniformed services."

In 1958 he was made a fellow of the American College of Physicians.

Married in 1942 to the former Mary Stevenson of Washington, D.C., he has four children.

Captain Shuttleworth, second from left, visiting a patient in the U.S.P.H.S. Hospital at Norfolk, where he is Medical Director.

Class Notes . . .

1917 Mrs. Mark G. Messinger
126 Love Road
Merchantville, N. J.

Preston Ziegler retired July 1, 1960, as supervising principal of the Eastern Joint schools in York County. Mr. Ziegler served the area for 35 years, with 29 years as supervising principal of the Wrightsville Schools and the last six years as supervising principal for the Eastern Joint School System.

1918 Mrs. William S. Jones
R. D. No. 2
Phoenixville, Pa.

Rear Admiral Charles R. Will, Assistant Director of Montgomery County Civil Defense for the past three years, retired February 28.

Admiral Will, who helped pioneer the department in its early stages, served as Civil Defense Director from February 16, 1951, until February 15, 1958, when, at his own request, he became Assistant Director.

A retired Rear Admiral in the U. S. Navy, Admiral Will became associated with the Civil Defense Department after 32 years of active duty in the service.

He is married to the former Anna Will-ever.

1919 Edna M. Boyd
School House Lane
Philadelphia 44, Pa.

Grace Chandler has become the Managing Editor of a new publication—The New Bucks County Magazine. In addition to her editorial duties she runs a column—"Let Grace Help You"—which is filled with advice to teenagers, Golden Age Clubbers, etc.

1920 Mrs. Harry Bartman
1222 Queen St.,
Portstown, Pa.

"Dear 1920 Classmates: Due to the new system of holding reunions so that classes who were in school together would be back at the same time, we are scheduled to return this year with the Classes of '17, '18, '19 and '21.

Plan to come for the luncheon at 12:30 P.M. and join the other four classes for a get-together at the Helfferich's.
It was good seeing so many of you last year. We'll remind you in the spring, so save the date!" Lois Brownback.

1922 Mrs. John N. Bear
Warminster, Pa.

Mildred (Mitman) Munroe, 5 Edgewood Avenue, Glen Head, L.I., N.Y., is giving private music lessons and also tutoring.

1923 Mrs. Harry Beck
412 Carlton Ave.
Wyncoete, Pa.

Helen (Achenbach) Snyder is still affiliated with East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville, N.C., in the Counseling Department. Mrs. Snyder spent her Christmas vacation in Florida and says that that will be her retirement spot. Last summer she flew to Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands; she hopes to take a Pacific tour next summer.

Linda (Hoyer) Urdike is justly proud that she has sold a "Reminiscence" to the New Yorker magazine. It was to have appeared in the January 21 issue. She and her husband, Wesley Urdike, report that their fourth grandchild was born to their son, John, and his wife, December 15. Their son, John, by the way, is the author of "Rabbit Run", a book mentioned in the literary column of a December issue of Newsweek.

Lillian (Isenberg) Bahney has been a volunteer worker in a hospital gift shop and finds it very gratifying.

Verna (Kurtz) Lambert has moved to Shillington in Berks county, living, as she says, "near where we first went to house-keeping; lots of Ursinus folk around."

Peg (Frutchey) Nace and her husband, after living in Selingsgrove for 15 years, have moved to Copley, Pa., where her husband is pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ.

Herbert Howells is now in Upper Darby and was on radio (WDAS) on Sunday evenings February 5 and 19 from Dr. Stover's Church in Philadelphia.

1924 Mrs. Samuel T. Roeder
429 Sheridan Ave.
Roselle Park, N. J.

Hester (Heilman) Robinson is working for the Oakland Public Library in Oakland, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Hendrickson (Dorothea Haelig), Lumber Lane, Bridge Hampton, L.I., enjoyed a fabulous SPAM holiday via jet to New Zealand. Mrs. Hendrickson's name was chosen, from a vat of 100,000 coupons, to tour any desired spot on this universe. Highlights of the trip: thermal regions, geysers, steam jets, boiling mud, hot springs, and a cave whose ceiling was completely illuminated with glow worms, and mere utterance would tax their sensitivity to produce total darkness.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Clark Elizabeth (Poley), 436 Fillmore St., Philadelphia 11, returned from a trip on the Olympia to the Holy Land, a cruise up the Nile to Thebes and Karnak, a sail on the Black Sea for two amazing visits in Russian ports as well as Roumania and Turkey; later, they journeyed up the Adriatic Sea to Jugoslavia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wagner (Ella Deets) 3321 St. Paul Ave., Baltimore 18, are spending the winter months in Tallahassee, visiting their daughter and family. They will also spend some of their vacation in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Naomi (Kistler) Roeder writes, "I had been connected with Sears, Roebuck & Company in Newark, N.J., in a clerical capacity on a part-time basis for the past nine years. This past November Sears opened a Centralized Service Center in Union, N.J., which is quite close to my home and they offered me the position of head-cashier. Of course I accepted,—a new building, quite close to my home, and a most interesting assignment."

Chaplain Paul Wesley Bare, Protestant Chaplain at the VA Hospital in Coatesville, was honored by the Robert Montgomery Post of the VFW-4480 in Parkersburg as The Good Citizen of the Year. The award, the seventh presented by the post, was made by the Commander of the Post, who commented on Chaplain Bare's many services to the community and especially to veterans.

Chaplain Bare returned to the Coatesville area in March of 1953 following a tour of duty in the Far East with the Army. He served as a private in W.W. I, a Chaplain in W.W. II and in the Korean Conflict, where he was a Lt. Colonel with the 24th Division. Aside from other citations he received a Bronze Star.

1925 Miss Ruth Kistler
1615 Chew Street
Allentown, Pa.

Ernest A. Hebner is supervising principal of the Lower Providence-Worcester Joint School System.

1926 Mrs. Richard Schoenly
1219 W. Fall St.
Phila. 40, Pa.

Harriet (Smith) McGee is teaching in a nursery school in Worcester, Mass. Her son is in his second year at Worcester Tech.

1927 Mrs. A. A. Welsh
130 Wall St.
Bethlehem, Penna.

Russell T. Boice is secretary and treasurer of the H. V. Lohmiller, Inc., Philadelphia.

Out where the frisky Juniata River flows and the Pennsylvania Railroad flyers roar by, one of our pioneering classmates has taken the plunge in sheep ranching, which means he's probably up in his ears in rams, ewes, lambs, and no doubt more than a few wethers . . . We're talking about Sam Reimert, who finds his 230-acre farm engulfed with the timid, defenseless, innocent creatures. Classmates wanting to get in touch with Mr. Reimert can direct their sheepish comments to Sam Reimert, Raystown Dam, R.D., Huntingdon, Pa.

1929 Mrs. C. Richard Snyder
741 Red Oak Terrace
Wayne, Pa.

Dr. Nicholas L. Lucas, who has been in the general practice of medicine and surgery in Joliet, Illinois, for the past 15 years, has also been serving as physician and medical advisor to the Illinois Youth Commission for the past two years. In this position he is in charge of medical care, and formulates policy for the Reception and Diagnostic Center located in Joliet. This Center is the first institution of its type in the state of Illinois and one of the few in the entire country. The Illinois Youth Commission has been set up in an effort to correct and rehabilitate the delinquent youths placed in its care by the courts.

Dr. and Mrs. Lucas (Elizabeth Yeates, '30) have four sons. The oldest, Stephen, is taking post-graduate work at the University of Illinois for his master's degree in Business Administration, after having received his Electrical Engineering degree with honors. Earl is stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, in the Airborne Division of the Army. Neil has a 5.0 average as a sophomore at Joliet H.S. David is six years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Godshall (Marguerite Goldthwaite, '32), are vacationing in their newly-constructed home on the Island of Nevis, one of the Leeward Islands of the British West Indies.

1930

Mrs. John K. Henry
5100 Pontiac Road
Drexel Hill, Pa.

Gene R. Fry has been appointed traffic department employment supervisor for the Central Area of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg. The Fry family is residing at 3014 Chestnut St., Camp Hill.

Mrs. Jerome Maxfield (Joan Mirza) of Santa Monica, Calif., writes that she received a National Science Foundation Grant last summer to attend a Chemistry Teachers' Conference. She is also the State Director of Finance for the California Association of Chemistry Teachers' Summer Conference. She would be happy to see any Ursinus friends who are visiting or who live in the vicinity of Santa Monica. Her address is 522 San Vicente Blvd.

Harold G. Kerper, Republican Committeeman in Worcester Township is seeking the Republican party nomination for Jury Commissioner at the Spring Primary.

1932

Mrs. Charles Mattern
19 College Ave.
Trappe-Collegeville, Pa.

Clarence S. Livingood, M.D., has been appointed to the Archives of Dermatology. This is an international publication. The following editorial was in its last issue:

"The Archives of Dermatology is pleased to welcome in this issue a new member to its Editorial Board, Clarence S. Livingood. Dr. Livingood is Chairman of the Department of Dermatology of the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. Formerly, he served as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Dermatology at both Jefferson Medical College and the University of Texas School of Medicine. As Consultant to the Secretary of War, he served as Associate Editor of the Dermatology Section of the "History of World War II." At present he is a member of the Residency Review Committee, and just recently he was named to succeed the late Dr. Earl Osborne as Secretary-General of the forthcoming International Congress of Dermatology."

Ruth (Beddow) Kachel has a daughter, Linda Ruth, who is a freshman at Ursinus this year. Mrs. Kachel also has a son, John W., who is a junior at the University of North Carolina, and a daughter, Kathleen E., in the third grade in Red Bank, N.J.

1933

Mrs. Richard Anderson
Glen Farms, R. D. No. 2
Newark, Del.

Just 28 years after graduation from Ursinus, Dr. V. Herbert Levin has returned to local environs. Now residing in Trappe-Collegeville practicing podiatry, he expects to be an active community member with a family of five (Jon 7, Martin 12, Ann 16, Kay 18, and Merle 20) with the two eldest attending Nursing Schools at Jefferson and Temple respectively. Dr. Levin is a Fellow in the American College of Foot Surgery and has recently sponsored a lecture series in the specialty in Tampa, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Fisher (Eleanor Mengel, '32) have a son, John, who was graduated in June, 1960, with Dean's list standing, from Bucknell University and is now enrolled at Dickinson Law School.

Mrs. Richard E. Anderson (Gladys Rich) has served as president of the Fourth District

Women's Auxiliary of the Union Hospital, Elkton, Md., for the past two years. She is also a member of the Junior Board of the same institution and on the Advisory Board of the Cecil Co. Library.

1934

Mrs. Sidney Hampson
43 Meade Ave.
Broad Axe, Ambler, Pa.

Sara L. Pfahler spent last summer in Hawaii.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Elmer Diskan (Lou Remsburg) spent the month of February in Mexico. Dr. Diskan is Associate Chief of Medicine at the Memorial Hospital, Manchester, Conn. The Diskans have a daughter who is a freshman in George Washington University, and a son who is a freshman in the Darrow School, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Hershey (Troupiere Sipe) live at 43 W. Chocolate Ave. in Hershey. They have one son, Eddie, who is attending the Harrisburg Academy.

1936

Mrs. Lachman Rinehart
16 Pinetree Way
Belmar, N. J.

Nancy (Pugh) Stratton is a reading specialist in the Anenheim, California, Secondary schools. Mrs. Stratton has a daughter in Occidental College and a daughter in the 8th grade.

Herman "Reds" Bassman is living in Petersburg, Va. He is married and the father of two sons, Mitchell and Larry.

1937

Elmer Gaumer
1030 Carroll Rd.
Philadelphia 31, Pa.

G. Seiber Pancoast, Political Science professor at Ursinus for over 25 years, recently announced that he is seeking the support of the Montgomery County Republican Committee for the nomination as State Assemblyman to take the place of Floyd Brenninger, who resigned.

Dr. Pancoast, who has been active in GOP politics for many years, is presently serving as the President of the Collegeville Borough Council.

Gloria (Weaver) Beck writes to inform us that her husband, Charles F. Beck, died last October 11, after an illness of three years. Prior to his illness, Mr. Beck was Principal of Blue Mt. Joint H.S., Cressona. Mrs. Beck is currently teaching in Blue Mt. Joint H.S.

1938

Mrs. Frank Reynolds
1362 Perkiomen Ave.
Reading, Pa.

Mrs. Robert Jacoby (Dorothy Barry) lives in South Hills, which is a lovely spot on the hill overlooking the town of Hershey. She has two sons and a daughter. Her husband, Robert, is Area Co-Ordinator of Industrial Education for the University of Pennsylvania.

1939

E. Jane Poling
8215 46th Ave.
Wheat Ridge, Colo.

James Russo, M.D., is Chief of Anesthesiology in the Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, Md. Glenn E. Eshbach, executive vice-president of the Princeton Fuel Oil Co., Princeton, N.J., was voted by the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Princeton to become one of its eight directors.

1940

Mrs. Robert H. Landis
Mount Alverna Rd.
R. D. 2, Elwyn, Media, Pa.

Daniel W. Kirkpatrick, M.D., is President of the Plymouth Twp. School Board and chairman of the Personnel Committee of Plymouth-Whitemarsh Joint School Board.

1941

Mrs. Albert W. Foster

Idamay (Scott) Koch has moved to Acton, Mass., where her husband, Jack, will be director of Production Planning with Anelox Corporation in Boston.

1942

Miss Charlotte Witmer
178 Main Street
Trappe-Collegeville, Penna.

J. Russell Bishop has assumed the title of "Chief Chemist—Organic Synthesis," in the Agricultural Chemicals Division of the Amchem Products, Inc., Ambler, Pa. Mr. Bishop has been with Amchem since graduation from Ursinus. He now resides in Hatfield with his wife and their four children.

Gladys (Hoagland) Garlock and her family returned from Puerto Rico last June and have been living in Abilene, Texas. Her husband is stationed at Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene.

1943

Mrs. Frank Wood
118 Webster Ave.
Wyncote, Pa.

Edwin L. McCausland, Jr., is the principal of Joyce Rood School, Plainville, N.Y. Mr. McCausland was elected to the Board of Education, Levittown, N.Y., last May for a three-year term.

Robert L. Cooke, Jr., was promoted to Assistant Casualty Manager of Northern California Service Office of Insurance Company of North America, and is located in San Jose, Calif.

Jack L. Thomas was promoted to Regional Supervisor for Accident and Sickness Insurance for Insurance Company of North America, and is located in San Francisco. His address is 1634 Peacock Avenue, Sunnyvale, Calif.

1944

Mrs. Richard Ridings
19 Heartwood Dr.
Levittown, Pa.

Mrs. Frank McConnell (Beatrice Weaver) was one of fifteen E&R representatives on the commission to prepare the State of Faith for the newly-created United Church of Christ. Mr. McConnell composed the first musical setting for the Statement. This setting was performed by the Theological eminary Choir during its 1960 season and now being published for use by choirs in local church worship. It was sung by invitation by this choir at the June, 1960, meeting of General Synod in Cleveland.

George C. Holer is serving as chairman of the Capital Area Council of Churches' committee on Mass Communications. He is also serving as a member of the Legislative Commission of the New York State Council of Churches, which meets weekly in Albany, while the Legislature is in session. They review the laws currently before the lawmakers and compose releases on issues affecting Christian morals and ethics. These go to the legislators and member churches. His parish is in the inner city of Albany, the slums of the South end.

At the close of the Ocean Grove Pastor's school, the Rev. James Marshall was elected lead for the next four years. This school is sponsored by the In-Training Service Department of the National Board of Education as well as by the Boards of Ministerial Training of the four cooperating Conferences. This school meets yearly and is attended by approximately 200 ministers from the Philadelphia, Wyoming, Newark, and New Jersey Conferences.

Elizabeth (Deberick) Fleming is living in Abington, Pa., where her husband has his own investment firm called Fleming & Co. They have three children, Jeanne, Johnny and Joseph.

Jeanne (Mathieu) Backenstose lives at 28 Para Ave. in Hershey. They recently built a new home and moved from Palmdale to Hershey. Jeanne's husband, Tom, has six dental offices at 24 W. Granada Ave. in Hershey. They have five children, two boys, Tommy and Bobby and three girls, Diane, Carol and Joan.

1945

Mrs. James Baird
102 Warwick Dr.
Wilmington 3, Del.

Elinor (Paetzold) Schmalstick has been Director of the Daily Vacation Bible School of the Orchard Park Church of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Union, N.J., for the past two years. This is a program involving over 110 children and 15 teachers. Mrs. Schmalstick also leads the Primary Department worship of the Sunday School of the same church and writes all the church notices and articles for the local newspapers. She is the mother of two children, Randy and Lynne Ellen.

Arlene (Schlessor) Crandall lives in Glenn Acres, a new housing development near Hershey. She is married to Richard Crandall (Navy V-12), who is practicing Psychiatry in Harrisburg and Hershey. They have four children, Carolyn, Jeanne, Richy and "Chuck".

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce (Sally Deibler, '46) are enjoying their new home and office combination at 353 W. Maple Ave., Hershey. They would love to have anyone from Ursinus stop to see them.

1946

Mrs. Frank Pierce
353 W. Maple Ave.
Hershey, Penna.

Sallie (Secor) Reynolds writes, "We moved Sept. 2 to a larger home, twelve rooms on an acre of land complete with small pool, carriage house, and lots of old shade trees. Bruce, our oldest, 8 years, is in Second grade. Carroll Anne, 6 years, is in First grade. Sallie, 3 years, and Anne, 1 year, are at home getting into everything as fast as I get things cleaned up. Husband Ed is with R.C.A., Camden, and has just been promoted from Production Coordinator to Marketing Administrator in charge of government sub-contracts dealing with the Hawk Program."

Tommy, Diane, Joan, Bobby and Carol Backenstose—caught in a gay mood. (See '44 notes.)

A note from Courtenay (Richardson) Andres says: "Since we were in touch with the alumni office last, we have moved and also welcomed a fifth child in our family, a son, Alexander, born November 7, 1959. My husband was transferred to Newburgh as Area Sales Manager for Tidewater Oil Co. If any area alumni are driving near Bear Mt. by all means call us and we will be glad to have you visit."

Mrs. George Andrews (Virginia Charles) lives at 29 Eastbrook Drive in River Edge, N.J. Mrs. Andrews and her family enjoyed a motor trip through the western part of the U.S. last summer and stopped to visit Dr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce in Hershey, on their way home. Mrs. Andrews is teaching in a private school in New Jersey.

Forty-sixers will chuckle over a recent communique received from Horace Woodland. It was a formal announcement which read:

THE POKER PLAYER'S PRIZE

"A Full House"

Three Queens—Chris, Dec. 4, 1954; Marce, Nov. 4, 1959; Lisa Anne, Feb. 14, 1961.
Two Kings—Steen, October 9, 1956; Mark, May 7, 1958.

Carolyn, Jeanne and Chuck Crandall listen (?) attentively (?) as big brother Richy reads. (See '45 notes.)

1947

Mrs. C. D. Willis
4007 Pilgrim Rd.
Plymouth Meeting, Pa.

Dr. Harold Fishman has given up his general practice of medicine in Woodbine, N.J., and, with his wife, the former Jacqueline Klein, '48, has moved to Dayton, Ohio, finishing his residency in Internal Medicine at the VA Hospital. He had taken one year following his internship, but needs two more years to be admitted to the board.

Andrew H. Souerwine, in charge of career planning and development, and Director of Management Conferences, The Travelers Insurance Companies, has written an article which appears in the current issue (March-April) of Harvard Business Review.

The article, "More Value from Personnel Testing," discusses the various tests which companies may and do use. He suggests "When to test," appraises their value, and determines their validity.

To support a point, he uses a personal illustration, which alumni may find interesting, entitled "Gullible's Travels." He says that during his years of teaching in college and working in industry he has demonstrated a technique known as numerography.

In this study he requires a person to write in his own handwriting the first six-digit number that comes to mind. On this basis, he gives the person an analysis, in a paragraph or two, of his major personality characteristics. Over the years, 98% of the people who have received an analysis through this technique have indicated that it is an unusually accurate and discerning means for analyzing personality.

"Yet," Mr. Souerwine writes, "the technique is not for sale because, as a matter of fact, numerography as a measuring instrument is extremely poor. Interestingly enough, all people get exactly the same description. . . . Just because a lot of people are pleased with a particular test does not make it a good test."

"There are many reports of the gullibility of individuals, including executive personnel managers. A test may have the right-sounding name, it may have the personal testimony of many good people, it may even make people feel good, but it can still be a highly useless test."

Richard P. Eccles, statistician in The Dow Chemical Company's Business Research (Statistical) Department, has been named analyst in Consumer Products Sales. Mr. Eccles' new assignment is announced by the manager of Consumer Products Sales. In addition to sales cost control analysis, he will be responsible for sales and advertising analytical work on retail markets in the consumer products area. Mr. Eccles was graduated with an MBA from the University of Denver in 1949. He worked as a college instructor of statistics, as an analytical chemist, and as a director of comptroller training with the Air Force before joining Dow as a statistician in 1955.

Justeen Stave, widow of Sydney Schaefer, was married last April to Seymour Gevel. They are presently living in Dover, N.J.

Philip R. Celmor is Secretary-Treasurer of the Materials Electronics Products Corp., located in Trenton, N.J.

J. Robert Wilson's address is USBER, APO 742, N.Y. USBER stands for U.S. Mission, Berlin, to which he has been assigned as Economic Officer for one and a half years.

John G. Kristensen is in private practice of law in Brattleboro, Vt. The firm name is Kristensen & Cummings. The Kristensens have five children and live on a farm in Guilford, Vt., where they enjoy country living, country law practice, and life in Vermont.

Richard Eckenroth is living at 410 Main St., in Hummelstown, with his wife, Esther, and their two children, a boy seven and a girl ten. Mr. Eckenroth is coaching basketball at Wm. Penn H.S. in Harrisburg, teaches American History, and is Guidance Counselor.

Doris (Sponangle) Drescher lives at 406 W. Chocolate Ave., in Hershey. The Dreschers have four sons and would love to see anyone from Ursinus.

Joe Newlin has just written about the specialized school work which he is engaged in: He opens new public high schools. At present he is principal at the not-yet-open Memorial High School at Cedar Grove, N.J. He went to his new position in August. Last month Joe flew to Detroit to serve as an interrogator on a panel discussing the modern high school flexible schedule pattern at the NASSP convention.

1948

Mrs. John C. Richards
Dublin, Pa.

Major and Mrs. Leroy Grayson (Lee Phillips) have returned from Izmir, Turkey. Major Grayson served as Weather Commander with Nato and SIXATAF in Izmir for two years. The Graysons and their five sons, Larry, Tommy, Scott, Michael and Terry Lee, toured Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, France, Luxembourg and Germany during the month of July, 1960. With their Volkswagen Microbus and camping equipment they travelled 3500 miles on the continent. During their tour in Turkey they visited the Holy Land, Egypt, Libya and Spain. At present the couple are residing in Hampton, Virginia, where Major Grayson is stationed with the Langley Air Force Base Weather detachment.

Nancy (Twining) Whitman and her husband are home after two years in Frankfurt, Germany, where her husband was connected, as a civilian, with the U.S. Army. The Whitmans sent their three older children to a German school and came home with many good things to say about a strict, hard working approach to education. They are now remodeling their "Victorian White elephant, quite reminiscent of Shreiner Hall, even to the slant of the second floor."

Richard H. Clark has been appointed to vice-president of the Haddonfield National Bank. Mr. Clark, who is in charge of the bank's Voorhees Twps. Branch, formerly was assistant vice-president. He is a 20-year veteran in banking. He served in the Pacific with the U.S. Army in World War II and currently holds the rank of major in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Archie Simmons was originally in the Class of '46 but had his education interrupted by the U.S. Navy. He is living at 938 S. Prince St., Palmyra, Pa., and is working for the Health Department of the State of Penna. His wife is a registered nurse and does work at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon.

1949

Mrs. Seth Bakes
7 Tudor Oval
Westfield, N. J.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter D. Dalsimer (Emma Jo Snaidman, '48) are living at 7516 City

John, Jim and Jeff Brandt brace themselves for the winter. (See '49 notes.)

Tricia, Cathy and Eddy Weaver enjoy Santa's company. (See '49 notes.)

James W. Howse, III, '49

Line Ave., Philadelphia. Dr. Dalsimer has opened his office for the practice of child psychiatry. He is associated with University of Pennsylvania Medical School in the capacity of instructor in psychiatry. The Dalsimers have four children, three boys and a girl.

James J. Lorimer had the unusual job of training a group of twelve girls, who were Central Ohio Junior Olympic track and field winners, for the Olympic games held in Italy last summer. This special interest is only one that Mr. Lorimer has developed in his unusual career since leaving Ursinus. After graduation from Dickinson School of Law he joined the Federal Bureau of Investigation. As a Special Agent, he worked in five eastern and mid-western cities, primarily in Communist and subversive-type investigations. In 1954 he began work with the Nationwide Insurance Company and rose through the ranks to District Office Claims Manager in Bucks County. Later he was named Chief Group Claim Examiner in the Home Office in Columbus, Ohio, and has recently been promoted to the post of Associate Director of Government Relations. This new responsibility involves the maintaining of good working relations with insurance departments of the forty-eight states in which his insurance company is licensed to operate. The Lorimer family consists of his wife, Jean, eight-year-old Kathy, six-year-old Jeff, and one-year-old Bob.

Harold Brandt lives at 248 Maple Ave. in Hershey and is Guidance Counselor in the local High School. He married Jane Putter, who was a nurse at Ursinus while he attended college. They have three sons.

Edwin F. Weaver lives at 272 Elm Avenue, Hershey, and practices dentistry at the same address. He has a beautiful home and office combination. Dr. Weaver and his wife have three children, Tricia, Cathy and Eddy. James W. Howse, III, was elected an assistant vice-president of the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Company, Philadelphia. Mr. Howse is married to the former Thelma Lindberg, '51. They are living in Paoli and have two children, David and Robin Lee.

Janice M. Batchelder is a teacher at Lower Salford Elementary School where she has been teaching 4th grade. She is also studying for her master's degree in Elementary Education at Temple University. Miss Batchelder served as chairman for a Hobby Show held in the school where she is teaching.

1950

Mrs. Robert R. MacMurray
Duryea Hall, Main St.
Collegeville, Pa.

Joseph W. Simpson, M.D., is due home in April after working in the hospital upon the island of Sumatra for Cal-Tex Oil Company for the past two years.

William G. Forsyth has accepted a position at the new Lower-Providence-Worcester Junior-Senior High School, beginning Sept. 1. He will be teaching biology and also coaching the H.S. basketball team and the J.H.S. football team. During the summer months he is recreational director for the Borough of Stone Harbor, N.J.

William R. Wildt is in his fourth year of teaching at East Bay High School, Wimauma, Fla. "We enjoy Florida living, and my wife, five children and I spend Saturdays at the beach quite often. I have spent the last two summers in Tallahassee studying at Florida State University."

Aida (Thompson) Stowman is taking a year's leave of absence from teaching. She acting as organist and choir director for the Methodist Church and plans to return to teaching next fall.

A recent note from Isabelle (Shaw) Williams informs us that she and Joslyn J. Williams, Jr., '50, were married in 1951, immediately after which Jos was commissioned as a 2nd Lt. and sent to Korea, where he was seriously injured. After a lengthy recuperation, he entered Temple University School of Chiropractic. He received his D.S.C. degree in June, 1959. Isabelle was a chemist for DuPont at the Gibbstown, N.J., plant until May, 1960. Their first child, Joslyn J. Williams, III, died on September 6, the day after his birth. The Williams are now living in Woodbury, N.J., where Jos is practicing chiropractic.

Elizabeth (Leeming) Dillon writes, "We're living on Willoughby Bay, a part of Chesapeake Bay, and almost became part of the U.S. fleet during Hurricane Donna. The Naval Air Station and operating Base are right across the water from us, and the airplanes do their landing and leaving quite near our doorstep. I sometimes think I've enlisted. Most of the past five years were spent here in Norfolk at general assignment reporting. The most compelling situation was the racial fight that closed the schools and more recently caused sit-ins and subsequent boycott. While in Boston I was executive secretary for the Massachusetts Scholarship foundation, an experiment initiated by the governor but administered by some of the leading educators, mainly John Monro of Harvard, who set up the National Merit and other scholarship systems. I have stopped reporting for the Ledger here to welcome our first child, a son, Christopher Scott, born November 1, 1960. Jim is managing one of the production departments for Norfolk-Portsmouth newspapers."

The Rev. Albert E. Teske, pastor of Lincoln United Church of Christ, will resign April 4 to accept a call from the Woodcrest United Church of Christ, Phila.

1951

Mrs. Donald Williams
4024 Briarclant
Lafayette Hills, Penna.

Walter J. Christensen, Jr., is in the insurance business with Continental Insurance Co. of N.Y.C. and has recently been transferred from Hartford, Conn., to Springfield, Mass. (248 Union St., Apt. 3A). He is no longer an adjuster but a special agent, and his territory is Western Mass. This is close to Vermont and he does a lot of skiing here. He would like to get in touch with any alumni in the Mass. area.

Benjamin Volker has a position as teacher at North Penn H.S., Lansdale, starting next fall.

Wayne Z. Gottshall has been promoted to staff technologist for international operations, Campbell Soup Co., Camden.

Harry G. Light, M.D., is completing his surgical residency at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. This summer Dr. Light plans to enter the United States Navy. Last October he presented a paper "The Effect of Hepatic Congestion or Bile Production" at the American College of Surgeons in San Francisco. The Lights now have four children.

Wayne Z. Gottshall has been connected with the Campbell Soup Company for the past seven years. At present he is Staff Technologist at the General Offices, Camden. During October and November he was with the Italian Plant for six weeks.

1952

Joan Farouhar Carmichael
2009-B Mather Way
Elkins Park 17, Pa.

Nels Fellman, public relations director of Bryn Mawr Hospital, has been appointed program chairman for the national convention of the American Public Relations Association, which will be held in May in Atlantic City. Mr. Fellman is also vice president of the Philadelphia Chapter of A.P.R.A., an international organization.

Harry Markley has received his master's degree from Temple Univ. in elementary education. He is completing his second year as principal of the Whitemarsh Elementary School in Whitemarsh Twp.

Leonard Niesenbaum, M.D., has been awarded a research fellowship by the American Heart Association and, after release from active duty in the U.S. Navy, will work on physiological problems in cardio-pulmonary disease.

Jean (Bakner) Weller is living at Beavertown where her husband teaches Agriculture at West Snyder H.S. They have three sons.

Three friends—all brothers—Michael, Timothy and Christopher Weller. (See '52 notes.)

1953

Mrs. Thomas Boissevain
185 Burlington St.
Lexington, Mass.

Edward J. Noel is employed as a buyer by Standard Pressed Steel Co., in Jenkintown, Pa. The Noel's (Mary Schoenly, '52), and their three children, Cathi, Lindy, and Jami, live in Palmyra, N.J.

For the last three years Jane Gulick has been teaching English and Latin at Harriton H.S. of Lower Merion. In addition to her work in the classroom she is also coach of the girls' tennis team and assistant coach for girls' hockey.

William R. Bond, Jr., has just been transferred from the canal zone to the Dental Service at Fort Meade, Md., where he is living with his wife, Jane, and their three sons.

Richard J. Kennedy is co-author of an article entitled The Oxidation of Organic Substances by Potassium Peroxydisulfate. At present he is writing another paper based on resin-cellulose interactions which he will present next October at the Tappi Symposium. He is with the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The Kennedys have three children, Colleen, 8 yrs., Molly, 4 yrs., and Timothy, 9 months.

John Haxner lives in New Cumberland and is a United Traffic Engineering department worker for the Telephone Co. He is married and has two sons.

Robert F. Scott, with the exception of two years in the service, has been working in the Investment Division at Bankers Trust Co., N.Y., since his graduation. He was promoted to assistant trust officer in October, 1960. His responsibilities deal largely with investment aspects of a number of personal trust accounts. Douglas Leander, '50, is an Assistant Vice President in the Credit Department with the same company.

The Rev. Harold A. Henning was elected pastor of the Blue Ridge Charge, Lancaster Synod, on January 16, after having resigned the Starview Church, Mt. Wolf, Pa.

1954

Joan Higgins Popowich
4250 32nd Ave. So.
Minneapolis 6, Minn.

John B. Satterthwaite is newly associated with the Liberty Real Estate Bank and Trust Co. of Philadelphia.

Robert E. Armstrong and wife, Ann, enjoyed a nice vacation skiing in northern Canada and also a cruise to Bermuda and Nassau this past year.

Stephen H. Rovno, M.D., is a resident in Internal Medicine at the Albert Einstein Medical Center, Phila. Beginning July, 1961, he will start a residency in Anesthesiology at the Univ. of California's medical center in San Francisco.

Burnett W. Eddy, Jr., has been named assistant manager of Wyandotte Chemicals Corp. plant in Washington, D.C.

Jay A. Kern, M.D. is taking his second year of residency in internal medicine at Jefferson Medical College Hospital. Next year he has a United States Public Health Service fellowship in gastroenterology.

Rodney and Nancy (Paine, '56) Henrie are living at 136 E. Third St., Mt. Carmel. Rev. Henrie began duties as pastor of Grace E & R Church in Mt. Carmel on February 1.

Harold S. Gold has left his employment with the Labor Relations Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and is now in his first year at Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass. The Golds are living at 79 Francis St., Waltham, 54, Mass. They have four children.

Norman D. Weiner, M.D. is in his second year residency in psychiatry at Eastern Penn. Psychiatric Institute. He is married to the former Elsa Simpson. They are living at 4 Shedwick Place, Phila. 4.

Dr. and Mrs. John Popowich (Joan Higgins) are moving to Hartford, Conn., from Minneapolis, in July for two years. Dr. Popowich will complete his pathology residency at the Hartford Hospital.

Dr. John F. Strickland has been appointed to the staff of National Analytical, Inc. He will be director of NA's visual impact laboratory. Dr. Strickland received his master's and doctorate in general experimental psychology from Johns Hopkins Univ. Before joining NA, he did basic research on visual displays with the Navy Electronics Laboratory in San Diego, Calif.

1955

Mrs. Norman H. Pollock
3311 Abell Avenue
Baltimore 18, Md.

Jack Mallaga graduated from Union Theological Seminary in May, 1960. He was ordained into the Christian ministry at St. John's United Church of Christ, Tamaqua, Pa., on July 31. On August 15 he assumed his duties as pastor of the Bread and Wine Mission, San Francisco, Calif.

Harry L. Spangler, a teacher in the Norristown schools for the past 15 years, has been appointed administrative assistant at Stewart Junior High School, Norristown.

Bernard Orsini is selling drugs for E. R. Squibbs & Sons in suburban Philadelphia.

Albert Paolone is teaching physical education and is head coach of wrestling at Triton Regional H.S. in Runnemede, N.J.

Gene Harris is teaching at Pottsgrove H.S. and is also head basketball coach. This will be the fourth summer for Gene and his father-in-law, Mr. Blood, to have "The Short Stop" in operation in Stone Harbor, N.J. Gene writes "for any hungry baseball fans there is anything from a 'mickeyburger' to a 'Yogi Hoagie'."

Edsard Dauckins, M.D., is taking a residency in orthopedic surgery in Oakland, Calif.

Harry H. Erwin received his master's degree in the field of history on Founder's Day and Mid-Year Commencement at Temple University.

Donald D. Adams, of Valley Road, Drexel Hill, Pa., has been promoted to senior systems analyst with Scott Paper Company's corporate systems planning department in Chester.

Mr. Adams joined the company in 1955 as assistant shift manager with the consumers' representative department at Scott's Fort Edward, N.Y., plant. In 1956 he was promoted to shift manager, and a year later became a retail salesman in the New Jersey district.

Mrs. Joseph Frite (Georgia Thomas) reports that she has finished all her examinations and resident work at Cornell for her Ph.D. in chemistry. She has only her thesis left to do. Her husband will receive his Ph.D. from Cornell in June and has accepted a position as an atomic physicist with the Atomic Energy Commission. Joseph and Georgia will move to Los Alamos in June.

1956

Constance Thomas Nunn
Opperman Drive, R. D. 1
Spring City, Pa.

Margaret (Kramer) Sterner is residing in Tempe, Arizona, until June. "Midge" and her husband are living in Arizona for a year because her husband, Nat, is studying higher mathematics under the National Science Foundation at Arizona State Univ. Midge is teaching reading to 7th and 8th graders in Valley View School in Phoenix. While visiting in San Francisco over the Christmas holidays, she visited Marian (Moyer) Eby, '54 and saw Chet Frankenstein and Jack Matlaga, both '55.

The Rev. J. Wm. Hottenstein, Associate Pastor of Zion Church, Allentown, was elected pastor of Starview Church, R. D. No. 1, Mt. Wolf (near York) on February 19. Mrs. Hottenstein is the former Patricia Jones, '57.

The Rev. Mrs. Martha (Bean) Kriebel was the guest speaker at the annual Color Day exercises at Ursinus in February. At present she and her husband, the Rev. Howard Kriebel, are co-pastors of the Schwenkfelder church in Palm, Pa.

Lt. (j.g.) Frederic Godshall is stationed at the Navy Post Graduate School at Monterey, Calif. His wife, Janet, and son, Eric, accompanied him. They will be stationed in California until the Fall.

1957

Bonnie Weiler Jackson
Brookline Manor Apts. 32-D
Reading, Pa.

After three years of teaching and three summers in Norway, Carol Krohn decided to live in this beautiful country for at least one year. She is also teaching during her year's stay.

Dorothy B. McKnight has been named instructor of health, physical education and recreation at Michigan State University, E. Lansing, Mich. Temple University awarded her the M.Ed. degree in 1960. Miss McKnight is a member of the National Education Association, the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the Pennsylvania State Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. From 1957 to 1960, she was a teacher in the Interboro School System of Glenolden, Pa.

Bonnie (Weiler) Jackson is head physical therapist at the Berks Heim in Reading.

The Rev. Lawrence C. Foard, Jr., was installed as pastor of Shenkel Church, Pottstown, R.D., on Nov. 6. Dr. Maurice Armstrong of the Ursinus College faculty brought the message at the installation service. Mr. Foard was ordained this year in his home church, People's Congregational Church, Dover, Del.

Albert and Hazel (Okino, '56) Ritchey are living in Lansdale, Pa. Al is working for Philco Corp. Lansdale Division in the Personnel Dept., as an employment interviewer. They have a daughter, Linda Deanne.

George W. Budz is employed by Rohm and Haas in the Industrial Relations department at the general offices in Phila. He was separated from active duty in the Army Security Agency last September.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rencisz (Helen Stevenson) returned to the East after a three months visit in California. They are living at 105 D Lake Erie St., Newport, R.I.

Janet Miller has received her master's degree in Guidance and Personnel Services from N.Y. Univ. She is teacher-counselor in John P. Faber Intermediate School, Dunellen, N.J. She is building representative to the Dunellen Education Association, secretary of the P.T.A., and advisor to the stamp club and the Junior Red Cross. Janet is also Program Chairman and Vice President of the Methodist Young Adult Organization, the Summit Wesleyan Club.

Marian (Brown) Wright is living in Catonsville, Md., with her husband, Bill, '56, and daughter, Kathy. They have joined the Presbyterian Church and have become quite active in it.

1958

Gayle Livingston How 710 N. Franklin St.
Phila. 23, Pa.

Louis Nemphos is presently in his third and final year at the Temple Law School.

John C. Jackson is supervisor of Sales Research and Control Department, Vanity Fair Mills in Reading, Pa.

Ann Louise Lepp is working in the history department at the State Univ. of Iowa. She has received a research assistantship.

Ann Louise Irish is finding her new job as a Girl Scout professional interesting and fun. She writes that living in Connecticut is delightful with lots of opportunities for skiing and sailing.

News from Norman R. Cole: "Since mid-March of 1959, I've been employed as a control chemist in nitro-furan analyses at the Norwich Pharmaceutical Co., which pioneered in these systemic anti-bacterials. Although sales of the nitro-furans are increasing steadily, our two best sellers are still 'Unguentine' and 'Pepto-Bismol', household friends for many years. Also included in our proprietary line are cough syrups, aspirin, saccharin, and ointments. Expansion in the sixties promises to be quite rapid, for new research and development buildings are nearing completion at this writing."

Alvan J. Hutchko is serving with the Carrier Air Group Twenty One aboard the USS LEXINGTON as Air Group Intelligence Officer. He will be discharged from the Navy in October and plans to reside in Mountain View, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. George Failmezer (Adel Schoonmaker) and son, Roger, are now living in Falls Church, Va. Mr. Failmezer was graduated from the University of Virginia Law School in January and is now working in Washington, D.C.

Army Specialist Four Warren A. Rybak whose wife, Sally, lives in Beverly, N.J. recently was assigned to the U.S. Army Garrison at Fort Stewart, Ga. Specialist Rybak is a radio teletype operator in the garrison's Headquarters Detachment. He entered the Army in June, 1958, immediately following his graduation from Ursinus.

Rosemarie K. Puleo received her Master of Education degree on Founder's Day and Mid-Year Commencement of Temple Univ.

Donald Todd was featured in the March 4 concert series of the Clarke Conservatory of Music held in the University Museum at the University of Pennsylvania.

1959

Diana Vye
514 Brookview Lane
Havertown, Pa.

Carol Eichert was graduated with distinction on June 1, 1960, from the Cornell University, New York Hospital School of Nursing. She received a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing. She is living at 23 W. 71 St., N.Y. 23, and is working in the Department of Surgery at the New York Hospital.

Walter Meier is working toward a master's degree in chemistry at the University of Delaware.

Jack Strunk is serving with the Army in Germany.

Ronald W. Hayes is with the Prudential Insurance Co. of American in West Chester. Mr. Hayes recently won the Leader's Club award in his company and received a week's vacation, all expenses paid, to Miami, Fla.

Raymond C. Maestrelli has been elected treasurer of the Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity at the Temple Univ. School of Dentistry.

1960

Helen Pearson
523 Lindley Rd.
Glenolden, Pa.

Watson S. Coverdale, Jr., is presently employed by the Armstrong Cork Company as a technical sales representative for the Industrial Division in the Chicago office.

Robert H. Lippincott, Jr., has finished six months active duty with the Army and is now selling real estate.

Edward A. Brookes is located at the Naval Officer's Training School at Newport, R.I. He expects to graduate and receive his commission as an Ensign in March.

Gail (Snyder) Bethard is teaching 7th and 8th grade in Somerville Jr. High School. She teaches arithmetic, and sponsors the student council and girls' sports.

C. Fred Thompson is in his first year of medical studies at Hahnemann Medical College, Phila.

Thomas W. Winchester is a graduate student at the Univ. of Delaware, with an assistantship in mathematics.

Laverne R. Joseph is attending Lancaster Theological Seminary.

Wilson R. Lorentz has graduated from Officers Candidate School, Newport, R.I.

Lorentz is now attending Fleet Sonar school for eight weeks at Key West Florida. He will then go to Boston as an Instructor on the ship SS Miller.

Marlene White is a teacher of special slow students in the Phoenixville Jr. H.S.

Linda (Wolf) MacFarland worked in Washington, D.C., last summer for Johns Hopkins University as a computer programmer. Her husband was transferred last semester to Jacksonville Naval Air Station. Linda is now teaching 8th grade mathematics at John Gorrie Jr. H.S., Jacksonville.

Robert Shippee completed the Naval OCS program in Newport, R.I. on March 3. He will be in the Navy for the next three years.

Suzette Magness is teaching Health and Physical Education to freshmen at Triton Regional H.S., Rummeneid, N.J.

George Busler returned to campus to address the Canterbury Club on January 9.

Sandra Lee Perfetti and Joyce Krasley enjoyed a summer of touring in Europe. They are now working for the Dutch Conate and Holland American lines as a retary-receptionist in Philadelphia. Joyce accepted a teaching position with the Ring-Ford Junior H.S. in Royersford.

Sally Cummings, who entered nurses training last fall, has been elected treasurer of the class at Philadelphia General Hospital.

Katherine Scheffley, who spent last summer touring Europe and visiting relatives in England, writes that she is now an analyst in the United Aircraft Corporation Research Laboratory in E. Hartford, Conn.

Richard Saylor is now teaching social studies at Penridge H.S. in Perkasie. He has two welcomed twin daughters, Julia Louise and Pamela Elizabeth, on July 11.

Katrinka Schnabel has been promoted to the position of Assistant Buyer in the Candy Department of the John Wanamaker Department Store in Philadelphia.

Barbara McClure enjoyed a weekend of living in Vermont recently. The trip was arranged by a group from Wyeth Laboratories where Barbara is currently employed.

Beverly Kallenbach is working in Fox as a lab technician with the concern, since tests foodstuffs.

After completing a six month program at the National Guard, Joseph Lutz has been appointed to Harmon Webb and Company, a public accounting firm in Hatfield, Pa.

David E. Lindemuth is employed by the Philadelphia Inquirer as an advertising salesman.

BIRTHS

1927

Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Boice, a son, Thomas L., born February 2, 1960.

1940

Dr. and Mrs. Arlington Nagle (Kathryn) a son, Karl Thomas, born July 27. The Nagles have one daughter and four sons.

1942

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fernstrom (Jean) a daughter, Suzanne Patricia, born May 7, 1960. Other children in the family are Richard and Marcia.

1944

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Porat (Inge Benda), a daughter, Judith Lynn, born November 4. Judith has twin brothers, David and Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Woodland, a daughter, Lisa Anne, born February 14.

1947

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Souser (Leona Bechtold), a daughter, Mary Beth, born November 2. Mary Beth has a sister and two brothers.

1949

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Davis, twin sons, Keith and Bryn, born March, 1960. Keith and Bryn have a brother, Todd, and a sister, Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood F. Warner (Elizabeth Wartman), a daughter, Eileen Marie, born December 26.

1950

Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Dillon (Elizabeth Leeming), a son, Christopher Scott, born November 1.

The Reverend and Mrs. Francis X. Pirazini, a daughter, Kim, born September 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Binder (Doris Neill), a son, Frederick William, born November 11.

1951

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stauffer (Priscilla Richter, '49) a son, Lawrence G., born September 5. Lawrence has a sister Barbara, aged 9 and a brother, Donald, aged 5.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Thomas Momose (Marilyn Miller), a daughter, Lisa, born Nov. 20.

Dr. and Mrs. George E. Ruff (Jean Heron), a daughter, Carol Arden, born July 12. They now have three girls and one boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Stawroschky (Betty Kaiser), a son, Frank M., Jr., born December 30. They have three boys and two girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Baxter, a daughter, Nancy Ellen, born December 28. Nancy has two sisters, Barbara and Janet.

1952

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Parsons, Jr., (Adele Michels), a son, Charles Richard, born October 23.

Dr. and Mrs. Mykola Saporoschenko, a son, Andrew, born December 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Markley (Margaret Hooper), a son, Andrew William, born November 20. Andrew has a brother, Philip.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Brown, Jr., a son, William R., born June 3, 1959. This is their second son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer F. Loomis, Jr. (Marjorie Merrifield, '54), a daughter, Sandra Sue, born December 13. Sandra has a brother, Richard, aged 3.

1953

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Grant, a son, Keith William, born December 25. They also have a son aged two years.

Dr. and Mrs. G. Earl Newborn (Jane Hellie, '50), a daughter, Laura, born November 20.

Dr. and Mrs. M. Lee Schaebler, a daughter, Patti Jo, born July 29. This is their third daughter. Dr. Schaebler is in general practice in Lincoln Park, Pa.

1954

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Gerardine, Jr., (Rita Farquhar), a son, Frederick Joseph, III, born March 14, 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. John Isely (Helen Gardner), a son, Brian Reed, born January 26. Brian has a sister, Ann, who was three years of age in February.

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Yaeger, (Mary Lou Williams), a daughter, Nancy Jane, born July 30, 1960.

Dr. and Mrs. John Popowicz (Joan Higgins), a son, John Charles, born December 16.

1955

Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Boyd (Cheryl Mirgabin), a son, Russell James, born April 20.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Dawkins (Beverly Bosman, '56), a son, William Lawrence, born October 26.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stout (Katherine Stewart, '54), a daughter, Katherine Gail, born Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Orsini, a son, Bernard, Jr., born October 4.

1957

Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Milkward (Barbara Hunt), a son, Barry Foster, born September 25.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. McQueston (Marquerite Struth), a son, Keith James, born September 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hillepass (Jean Hunsberger), a daughter, Joan Eileen, born September 16.

1959

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Hayes, a daughter, Valerie Ann, born September 26.

WEDDINGS

1943

GLASSER-MOSER

The marriage of Miss Ruth Moser and Mr. Anton Glaser took place on Thanksgiving Day, November 24, 1960, in the Jenkinson Methodist Church.

Mr. Glaser teaches mathematics at Abington H. S., Abington, Pa., and is a graduate of Temple Univ. and Pennsylvania State University.

1951

SCHROEDER-DONLAN

Miss Margaret Mary Donlan and Mr. Charles E. Schroeder were married on November 13, 1960, in the St. Rose of Lima R.C. Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. They are living at 73-23 210th St., Bayside, N. Y.

BRAUN-O'CONNELL

The marriage of Miss Lillian O'Connell and Mr. William H. Braun was performed on December 29 at the Marble Collegiate Church, N. Y. Mr. Braun is on the faculty of the Robert L. Simpson Junior High School, Huntington, N. Y.

1956

LODER-ABBOTT

The marriage of Miss Nancy D. Abbott and Dr. Earl C. Loder was held in the Baptist Church at Oreland. The best man was Dr. Peter Jespersen.

Dr. Loder is currently serving his internship in California.

1957

WEBER-ADAM

The marriage of Miss Marylou Adam and Charles W. Weber of Boulder, Colorado, took place in the St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Fleetwood, on February 4, 1961. Mrs. Weber earned her master's degree at Pennsylvania State Univ. and has been a member of the faculty of Douglass College of Rutgers Univ. Mr. Weber is a research chemist at the Univ. of Colorado. They will make their home in Boulder, Colo.

1959

CARLSON-SWAN

Miss Marcia Swan and Dr. John N. Carlson were married June 18, 1960. They are living in Johnstown, where Mrs. Carlson is working as a caseworker for Child Welfare Services in Cambria County.

1960

ROBSON-SMITH

The marriage of Miss Barbara Smith to Mr. William Robson took place on October 1, 1960. Mr. Robson is employed by the Upjohn Company as a medical sales representative; the Robsons are living at R.D. No. 2 Lebanon, Pa.

SHABAKER-STRUVE

The marriage of Miss Sarah Louise Struve and Mr. Robert H. Shabaker took place on January 3 in the Grace Presbyterian Church, Jenkintown, Pa.

SHIPPEE-ZODA

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Zoda of West Orange, N. J., and Mr. Robert Shippee took place on December 17. Mrs. Shippee is a Skidmore Alumna of '59.

WHITE-BARNDT

Miss Ann Marie Barnndt and Mr. Glenn Robert White were married Saturday, February 11, in Grace Lutheran Church, Pottstown. Mr. White is a junior accountant for Turner, Cook, Zebley and Pary, Philadelphia. They will make their home in Pottstown.

(Continued from page 23)

potential of many persons, that they still have a contribution to make. Various arguments for this point of view are presented, some of which appear to have much validity, but the fact remains that relaxation of retirement regulations is making little, if any, headway, except for the isolated instances of highly specialized workers.

Older workers face a stubborn situation. To state that the population is increasing, that the life span is lengthening, that the number of available, employable persons is increasing in numbers, that technology is replacing many workers, is to utter commonplaces. These facts are realities. It behooves everyone to accept conditions of the twentieth century and having accepted them to plan for that day when time will be at his disposal. This is the responsibility of each individual and is almost as important as accumulating savings throughout life for the needs of later years.

This discussion has been written with men in mind. Retirement, for obvious reasons, is more of a problem for men than for women. However, it must be remembered that when a man retires, his wife has new problems. Having a husband at home all day and every day is not an unalloyed pleasure. He interferes with and interrupts household routine.

Both husband and wife have adaptations to make. It is a two-way problem. The husband usually has the greater difficulty in making the adjustment. Becoming fully spouse-broken is oftentimes a difficult adaptation for the husband to make.

URSINUS COLLEGE

Collegeville, Pa.

Form 3547 Requested

NECROLOGY

HERMAN STONEROAD SHELLEY, '97

The Rev. Herman S. Shelley of Lancaster, died on February 21 in St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

He served in the ministry for 20 years at the E. Vincent Reformed Church, the Willow Street Reformed Church and St. James' Reformed Church of Littlestown.

Since 1920, the Rev. Shelley had been affiliated with the Clergymen's Beneficial Cooperative Association and the Teachers Protective Mutual Life Insurance Co., Lancaster. In this organization he served as treasurer, secretary-manager and a member of the board of directors.

He retired from active business in 1959. Surviving are a son, David E. Shelley; a daughter, Mabel Shults, '36, and four grandchildren, one of whom, Peter Shults, is a senior at Ursinus.

ELMER H. CARL, '11

Mr. Elmer H. Carl died in his home at 1313 Jericho Road, Abington, Pa., on December 20, 1960.

Mr. Carl taught in the Philadelphia schools for 35 years; he was head of Mathematics Department at Olney H. S. and professor of mathematics in the Philadelphia branch of Penn State's College of Optometry. He was a member of the Abington Presbyterian Church and a member of F. & A.M.

WILLIAM J. BUTLER, *16

Word has been received of the death of Dr. William J. Butler of Naugatuck, Conn. Dr. Butler was a member of the Class of 1916 for two years, 1912-13, then transferred to Georgetown University and studied Dentistry. He practiced in Naugatuck since 1920.

It is obvious, from what I have said, that the most acute problem for most retired persons is the problem of vacated time. The logical and perhaps only solution for most individuals is to make adequate preparation for the day when he must relinquish his life's work.

ALUMNI DAY
JUNE 3, 1961

Miss Lyndell Reber, '36
General Chairman

Registration	10:30-12:30
Smorgasbord ($2.00)	12:00- 2:00
General Alumni Meeting	2:00- 2:30
Class Reunions	2:30- 4:00
Teen-Age Discussion Group	3:30- 4:00
President's Reception	4:00- 5:30

Classes Holding Their Reunions
And Their Chairmen:

'11
Mrs. Amos J. Heintz
119 So. 7th Avenue,
Royersford, Pa.

'17
Preston E. Ziegler
119 N. 2nd St.,
Wrightsville, Pa.

'18
Samuel S. Gulick
2208 County Line Rd.,
Ardmore, Pa.

'19
Charles W. Rutschky, Jr.
615 Colonial St.,
York, Pa.

'20
Mrs. J. Harold Brownback
600 Main St.—Trappe,
Collegeville, Pa.

'21
Mrs. F. I. Sheeder
702 Main St.,
Collegeville, Pa.

'36
John A. Taylor, Jr.,
Beaver Glen, R. D. No. 1, Fleetwood, Pa.

'37
Louis Krug
744 Main St., Trappe,
Collegeville, Pa.

'38
Kenneth Clouse
229 E. Turnbull St.,
Havertown, Pa.

'39
No reunion chairman

'41
Paul L. Wise
234 Barcladen Circle,
Rosemont, Pa.

'46
Rev. Grant E. Harity
142 Chestnut St.,
Sunbury, Pa.

'51
William U. Helfferich
1052 Laurence Drive,
Blue Bell

'55
Larry F. Zartman
Box 217,
Myerstown, Pa.

'56
Harvey M. Levin
5635 N. Marvins St.,
Philadelphia 45, Pa.

'57
William Lee Lawhead
835 Water St.,
Pottsville, Pa.

'58
John Idler
5319 Saul St.,
Philadelphia 24, Pa.

'59
Merrill Anderson
31A St., Albans Ave.,
Newtown Square, Pa.