Biocatalytic cascades involving LmrR-based artificial enzyme

Linda Ofori Atta

- 1. A good thesis does not have to be perfect, but rather impactful.
- 2. At the end of the PhD, the product is not your PhD thesis, the product is YOU.
- 3. To be organised with your scientific work and data can always be learned, but to be enthusiastic about science is something no one can teach you.
- 4. Balancing the demanding journey of a PhD with the responsibilities of motherhood can be a formidable challenge, yet with an effective support system, it becomes an achievable endeavour.
- 5. The integration of natural and artificial enzymes serves as a catalyst for transformative biochemical explorations. Chapter 3
- 6. Combining chemical synthesis with biological synthesis harmonizes the beauty of nature with the ingenuity of human creation. Chapter 2
- 7. Recommendations are offered as guidance, but the decision to follow or discard them rests solely with the individual.
- 8. An ugly child of your own is more to you than a beautiful one belonging to your neighbour. Ugandan proverb
