Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Harris County Hospital District was created by voter referendum in November 1965 and formalized with taxing authority in January 1966. Its creation followed the publication of Jan de Hartog's The Hospital, an expose of the conditions at Jefferson Davis Charity Hospital (opened 1924). The District replaced a contentious city-county system in which both were responsible for support of the hospital. Quentin Mease was a founder and chairman of the District.

Lyndon B. Johnson General Hospital opened in 1989. In 1990, emergency facilities at Lyndon B. Johnson and Ben Taub (1963) Hospitals were expanded and Harris County residents began to be assigned to each by ZIP code to better manage caseloads. HCHD was renamed Harris Health System in 2012.

Series IC018-S6: Patient Records

Scope and content: This series contains 53 boxes of patient medical records. Each patient is assigned a number, and the files are arranged according to these numbers. Note: some boxes are numbered 7A, 7B, 7C, etc., which is why the highest box number is 34, even though there are 53 boxes in the series.
