RETURN IN FIVE DAYS TO

JACOB BURGNER
FREMONT, OHIO

Miss Geneva Cornell,
Westerville,
Ohio.

Fremont, Ohio, May 20, 1910.

Miss Geneva Cornell,
Westerville, O.

Kind Friend: When overhauling my old time stock of letters and papers this morning, I came across a little missive which I got from your Aunt Alice J., nearly ^{fifty}sixty-eight years ago, that I think will be of interest to ^{you}as a relic of former methods of folding letters for mailing, and the use of sealing-wax for closing.

My P.O. address then was, Bellevue, Huron County, Ohio.

I think you told me your aunt passed away a few years ago.

If you care to retain this little memento as a matter of sentiment you are welcome to do so. I named my first daughter, Alice.

I do not expect to go to Commencement this summer. Rev. H. Garst invited me to be present next year, when he will have his 50th anniversary, if we both live till then. My health is much better than it was last summer.

With kind regards to all your home folks, I remain

Yours Very Truly.
