Major Fire At Morehead Wood Processing Company

This is the scene at the height of the fire in the planing mill division of Ray L. White & Sons Lumber Company, three miles east of Morehead, Sunday afternoon. Damage was between $75,000 and $100,000 and would have been many times more except the Morehead Fire Department, using all their trucks, saved other buildings, equipment and millions of feet of hardwood lumber. The fire broke out during what firemen said was the highest wind Morehead has had all year.

Ray White Company ... $100,000 Fire

The planing operation of the extensive Ray L. White and Sons Lumber Company, three miles east of Morehead, was destroyed by a fire Sunday afternoon.

Harold White, who along with his brother, Victor, owns the company said the loss is between $75,000 and $100,000, about half covered by insurance.

The Morehead Fire Department, despite extremely high winds, was able to save all the rest of the considerable operation including buildings and a half million board feet of hardwood lumber stacked within 200 feet of the blazing building.

White said: "This was the most miraculous job of fighting a fire I have ever seen. Everything could have gone up in flames except for the Morehead Fire Department. [In fire department language this was a "three alarmer" with all trucks working on the scene.] Water was drawn by pumps from nearby Triplett Creek."

The loss included: two almost new planing mills; hand re-saw; gang ripper; pallet equipment; double-end trimmers; parts and accessories.

The 60 by 160 frame building was consumed. Also destroyed were two semi-trailer trucks and a dump truck parked about 50 feet from the blazing building.

An estimated 200,000 feet of hardwood lumber also went up in flames.

The operation, one of Eastern Kentucky's largest, covers several acres on the south side of U. S. 60, outside the city limits.

White said that it will immediately be re-built and the planing operation resumed in six weeks to two months. This is the only fire in the history of the company founded in 1952 by Ray White and Victor.

Several million board feet of lumber is always stored on the premises. The company also converts its waste material into "chips", automatically conveyed to railroad cars for shipment to paper mills in West Virginia and Ohio.

It is believed that the extremely heavy winds carried a spark from an incinerator into the material under the planer building.

Firemen said they had never fought a fire with the wind being so strong. If the fire had started any weekday, it would probably have been spotted early but the company does not operate on Sundays. It does have a night watchman.

The blaze was detected almost at the same time at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by two persons. An employee, Addie Plank, drove into the mill parking lot and detected the building burning on the outside. George Evans was hunting on a hill overlooking the site and also saw the flames.

Although the fire department arrived within minutes the entire structure was afire as were the trucks parked nearby.

First Official Weighing Set This Saturday

The Burley auction market at Morehead, in Kentucky and the seven state belt have been ready for the first sale on Tuesday, Nov. 28.

And, all weighing becomes official this Saturday, 10 days before the first sale.

The Nov. 28 opening sale date was confirmed Sunday by the Burley Sales Committee. The opening date had previously been set at a meeting Oct. 27 but had to be officially confirmed.

This year's Kentucky burley tobacco crop is expected to total 383.2 million pounds, up 2 percent from October expectations, but still 5.5 percent below the 405.3 million pounds produced last year. For the burley belt (Kentucky and seven nearby states) production is estimated at 558.4 million pounds up 7.5 million from last month. The belt is expected to average 3250 pounds per acre.

Kentucky's yield is estimated at 2425 pounds per acre - 50 pounds above last month, but 140 pounds below last year's record yield. As of November 1, half of the crop was fully cured and about 15 percent stripped continues as weather permits.

Fears had been expressed last month that the burley markets might not be able to open at the accustomed time because of a lack of buyers. There had been a slow-down in sales on the fluctuating burley markets in the Carolinas where the buyers have been working.

Sunday's statement confirming Nov. 28 as the first sale date was issued by Thomas Edwards, Mount Sterling, an official of the Burley Auction Warehouse Association, on behalf of the Burley Sales Committee. The association appoints the committee. The statement said:

"By telephone conference meeting today the Burley Sales Committee confirmed the decision made in its first meeting Oct. 27, which stated that burley-tobacco markets will open auction sales on Nov. 28, and that sales will be held 3 1/2 hours each day."

"The Burley Sales Committee announced that the general flu-cured market sales conditions, which were constricted at the Oct. 27 meeting, have sides at the present administration, and the Nov. 28 opening will create the

Layne Thanks Co-Chairmen And GOP Ladies

Rowan County regular Republican Chairman William H. Layne has praised today for party leaders "for their upright and successful efforts" in carrying Rowan County for Louie Nunn, who was elected Governor.

Rowan County, registered heavily democratic, went for Nunn by 13 votes in the general election on Nov. 7.

Layne, who is also Morehead's Mayor, said: "I want to congratulate Kenneth Bland and Kenneth Vencil, Rowan County Republican Campaign Co-Chairmen, for the successful campaign they directed for Louie Nunn. The two Kennes' did an outstanding job in this devoted cause."

Layne also issued a statement of thanks to all citizens of Rowan County. He said: "I am most especially grateful to the fine, and dedicated ladies of the Rowan County Republican Women's Club for their continuous and effective cooperation."

Greene Claims Victory In Close Race For Auditor

John W. Greene of Sandy Hook in neighboring Elliott County, claims this morning that he had won the race for State Auditor, and unofficial returns by the Associated Press indicate that he may be right.

The Associated Press figures showed that Greene, a democrat, had forged ahead of his republican opponent, Clyde Conley, by 536 votes. The state totals: Green 379,448; Conley 378,912.

However, 1,634 absentee ballots in Jefferson County, and scattered absentee votes over the state remain to be counted.

Another down-to-the-wire race was the victor for Attorney General.

Thelma Stovall led the democratic ticket and elected Treasurer.

Democrat Wendell F. Butler was elected Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Republican Bob Miller will be the next Commissioner of Agriculture.

Democrats are in control of the State Senate and House of Representatives but their margin was cut.

Democrats captured for the first time in almost two decades control of Louisville, Kentucky's largest City. Democrats elected at least 10, maybe 11, to the 12-member Board of Aldermen.

Nunn's victory was hailed nationally, and even overseas, as a rebuff to the administration of Lyndon B. Johnson, particularly the War in Vietnam.

Epidemic Could Strike Next Month

Warnings went out this week from the U. S. Public Health Service that a major outbreak of dreaded flu is expected to hit winter, which could become an epidemic.

The flu bug may hit with some intensity by early December, or about two weeks hence.

In some sections there is a shortage of influenza vaccine.

If the influenza outbreak develops, as forecast, hospital beds for high-risk patients may not be available.

But, the same physician held to the strong belief that hospital beds may be at a premium and that the high-risk [worst] patients may not be able to enter a hospital because beds will be at a premium.

St. Claire Medical Center at Morehead, the only fully accredited hospital in this part of Kentucky, has been near, or over capacity, for some time. It appears that any epidemic would probably result in a shortage of beds there.

St. Claire, which has become a regional rather than a local health center, is already taxed in both its inpatient and out-patient departments.

The U. S. Public Health Service warned some weeks ago that "substantial numbers" of influenza cases, probably the "Asian" type, may be expected in the United States during December and January.

Persons in older age group. Influenza deaths are more frequent in those over 45, and much higher in those over 65.

Persons in nursing homes and chronic-disease hospitals.

Persons in nursing homes and chronic-disease hospitals. The interval can be reduced, however, if an epidemic threatens. Those vaccinated within the past two years will need only one booster dose this fall.

Christy Creek Road To Be Re-Surfaced

One of the last official acts of the outgoing democratic state administration will be the re-surfacing, bituminous concrete, of the Christy Creek road in Rowan County and a connecting stretch in Elliott County.

Highway Commissioner Mitchell W. Tindler said today that bids will be opened Dec. 1 for:

Resurfacing Ky. 32, beginning at Hubbard in Elliott County and extending to Ky. 173, 9.384 miles. This is all in Rowan County.

Resurfacing the part of Ky. 7 in Elliott County to the Rowan County line, 3.057 miles.

This will be one of the last bid lettings by the present administration as Republican Governor-elect takes office Dec. 12.

Wholesale drug firms reported a good supply of flu vaccine at week's end. But concern over a potentially severe flu outbreak, especially in the East, has cut into some supplies.

The vaccine itself is composed of "deactivated virus" of several flu strains and is changed yearly to combat the various types that are expected to be prevalent.

John W. Greene down-to-wire contest for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Republican Dick Vermillion is ahead by 245 votes over Democrat James Suberland. The totals - Vermillion 380,393; Suberland 380,148. A re-canvass of the state is being made in these counties plus most other state races except Governor and Lt. Governor. The republicans captured the big one when Louie B. Nunn defeated Henry Ward, the democrat, for Governor by about 26,000 majority. Nunn's victory was hailed nationally, and even overseas, as a rebuff to the administration of Lyndon B. Johnson, particularly the War in Vietnam. Democrat Wendell Ford will be the next Lt. Governor. Republican Elmer Begley won the race for Secretary of State. Democrat John B. Breckinridge is

Two trucks, parked further away, were saved.
The wind was so violent that sparks flew to a railroad siding many hundred feet distant, lighting wood chips in railroad cars. This was extinguished without damage.

Morehead, center of the lumber and wood industry in northeastern Kentucky, has had several fires in wood processing and pallet mills in recent years. These include - three fires at operations owned by Joe Greer; pallet mill of Jack West; Homer Gregory Company, Ed Mabry; Farmers Pallet; and others.

Insurance underwriters charge extremely high rates to lumber and pallet mills because of the high risk, and in each fire the owners of the burned operation suffered substantial losses.

Firemen remained at the site of the Ray L. White fire into the night to guard against a further outbreak, or embers spreading to other parts of the operation.

Harold and Victor White said: "There just couldn't be a better fire department than Morehead. When we saw the fire with all that wind we thought everything was gone."

Morehead's three or four truck fire department is rated the best volunteer department in Kentucky.

1,500 From M'head To Be At EKEA

Approximately 1500 Morehead State University faculty members, alumni, and friends will be on hand for the forty-fourth annual convention of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, set for Nov. 16 and 17, at Ashland.

Morehead's participation in the event will be highlighted by a banquet at 6 p.m., Nov. 16 at the Henry Clay Hotel. Morehead President Adron Doran will be the featured speaker. His topic will be "New Views in Education". Tickets for the banquet are priced at $2.50 and may be purchased at the University's display and information booth.

The display at the banquet will be one of the modern "teaching machine" type computers currently being used at the University's Breckinridge School. Two Morehead musical groups will perform at the banquet. They are The Goeds, under the direction of Mrs. Vassile Ventetozze, and The Morehead State University Combo, directed by Gene Deaton.

The first general session of the convention will be at 8 p.m., Nov. 17. It will include a concert by the Morehead State University choir, under the direction of James Beane, director; invocation by Dr. Edward L. Tullis, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ashland; welcome by Oran C. Teater, president of EKEA; greetings by Talton K. Stone, president of the Kentucky Education Association; an address by Dr. Bernard M. Loomer, professor of philosophical theology, Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, whose topic will be "The Modern Mind, Religion, and Education"; and entertainment sponsored by the Ashland Oil and Refining Company.

Second general session will begin at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 17, with music by the Fairview High School Band, under the direction of Jim Andy Caudill. Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., Unity Baptist Church, Ashland, will give the invocation. The Friday morning session will feature an address by a former Miss America, Marilyn Van Derbur, now a consultant on motivational research; and Dr. Verne P. Horne, public relations director, KEA. Miss Van Derbur will

25th Anniversary For 100th Division

A silver anniversary is a milestone, a time to pause and reflect. So, as the 100th Division celebrates its 25th birthday this November 15, there are feelings of both pride in the past and great expectations for the future.

The 100th Division is a part of the U. S. Army Reserve, and its job is training soldiers. It consists of over 3,000 Kentuckians in units scattered throughout the state and is commanded by Major General Benjamin J. Butler, a combat hero of World War II. The 100th includes men from Morehead, Rowan County and all this area of the Commonwealth.

The Division's past has been a story of success. Organized as the 100th Infantry Division in 1942, the unit spent two years training in the states before being shipped overseas for participation in the European Theater of World War II.

Arriving in Marseilles, France, on October 20, 1944, the "Centurymen," as its soldiers came to be known, were at the front as part of the Seventh Army. From the Maginot Line to the banks of the Rhine, the 100th distinguished itself in combat.

Particularly outstanding was the unit's capture of the French town of Bitche, a victory that shattered 200 years of military history. Earlier in World War II, just as in World War I and the War of 1870, the town had held off attacking forces until armistices were signed.

After the war, the division became an airborne unit, then an infantry division and finally a reserve training division [in April, 1959] - and soon after that another glittering page in the 100th's history.

In August, 1961, with the Russians threatening in Berlin, President John F. Kennedy ordered the 100th to active duty - the only division-sized Reserve unit to be called 9.

More than 97 percent of the division's members left their civilian jobs and became full-time soldiers within a matter of days.

home almost a year later, the unit had trained more than 32,000 men. So that is the past, but what about the future?

Fully aware of the startling reality that another crisis can arise at any moment, the 100th Division citizen-soldiers maintain a sharp edge of readiness.

Most of the year, these men are the guys next-door. They sell you groceries, put gas in your car, handle your banking problems.

But, at almost instant notice, they are ready to defend you, too. Meetings every month maintain this readiness. In the summer, the regular training is supplemented with two weeks' active-duty with the Active Army.

So these are the "Centurymen" who are 25 years old this month. They are proud of their past, but they can savor it only briefly. Yesterday is gone. In the job of defense, only today and tomorrow are important!

$24 million cutback in state spending was not viewed by either democrats or republicans as "political" but the result of over-optimism in estimating the revenue and $25 million increases to teachers.

Breathitt will be succeeded by republican Louie Nunn on Dec. 12. The situation was not unexpected and was forecast by some observers after state revenues for the fiscal year which ended last June 30 did not come up to official estimates.

The Appropriations authorization for the current fiscal year was $397.8 million but receipts are expected to total only $373.7 million.

The "cutbacks" of $24.1 million must be accomplished before the current fiscal year ends next June 30.

The biggest slash - of $4.5 million in Minimum Foundation funds for schools - will not affect the program because it is, essentially, the result of an over-estimate of needed funds.

Breathitt's actions came shortly after he met with five representatives of Governor Louie B. Nunn who came to Frankfort to begin the transition process from one administration to another.

Breathitt told this group, "It is my responsibility from now until July 1" to see to it that the state budget is balanced. "I am not going to be irresponsible and hand the new governor a headache," Breathitt said.

"I'll have you a solvent situation and a balanced budget for this year."

The Highway Department is not affected since its funds are earmarked for administration such as the gasoline tax.

Here are the cutbacks ordered by Gov. Breathitt:

Most orderly market possible for all parts of the burley-tobacco industry."

At its Oct. 27 meeting, held in Lexington, the committee had voted, 8 to 2, in favor of retaining the Nov. 28 opening date.

Before it met for formal action, the committee had heard requests for sales-opening delay from a representative of burley buyers association, officers of the two largest burley cooperatives, a Lexington tobacco-warehouse representative, and a representative of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

Because of the slowdown in flue-cured sales in the Carolinas, these generally urged that the opening of burley sales be delayed until at least Dec. 4, and there were some who favored a delay until Dec. 11.

Fears were expressed that without a full complement of buyers to bid on the crop, prices might suffer.

William L. Staton, Lexington, executive secretary of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-Op, was among those plugging for the Dec. 4 opening.

At that time - Oct. 27 - Staton noted that approximately 281 million pounds of flue-cured tobacco remained to be sold. He said that the following three weeks might not offer sufficient time to sell the crop if the government's "take" under its price-support program continued as heavy as it had been in the weeks prior to Oct. 27.

At that time, markets in the Carolinas had been selling only two or three days of a week because up to 40 percent of the daily sales had been going to the federal government under its price-support program and jamming redrying facilities.

It was these conditions which, according to the Burley Sales Committee's statement yesterday, "have appreciably changed and improved."

The opening date affects more than 200 warehouses in the eight states which will move an estimated 551 million pounds of burley worth about $390 million. Kentucky's crop is estimated at 375 million pounds, valued at more than $250 million. Indiana's burley income amounts to about $8 million a year.

Eagles Lose To MC; Meet Eastern Saturday

As 5,000 fans huddled against a chilling, steady downpour, the Morehead State University football team was pushed and kicked to a 9-7 loss last Saturday by the Chipewas of Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

The Eagles close their season Saturday at Breathitt Sports Center against Tazewell.

Although the much heavier Chips plowed through the Eagles' defense for 267 yards, rushing for the soggy afternoon, they could not push the ball across the visitors goal line.

It was the left-footed field goal kicking of defensive halfback Bruce Cameron, a 180-pound senior from Saginaw, which provided the victory, hitting three of four attempts.

Cameron, injured earlier in the season and since then the Chips' kicking specialist, kicked his first with 9:14 left in the first quarter to climax a Central Michigan drive which started on the Morehead 43 after senior back Joe Remenap had returned the opening kickoff 49 yards.

Twelve plays later the drive stalled at the Morehead 5 and Coach Roy Kramer called on Cameron for the 3-pointer, a 23-yard attempt.

The Eagles were next on the scoreboard after Tommy Gray picked up a Central Michigan punt on the Morehead 35 and went all the way to score, shaking free of three groups of defenders en route. It was the fourth time this season Gray has returned punts for scores, although two were nullified because of penalties. Gray's run came with 1:50 remaining in the second quarter and gave the Eagles a 7-3 halftime lead after John Clark added the extra point from placement.

This lead was short-lived, however, as the Chips came back in the third quarter with two more Cameron field goals—the first a 43-yarder with 9:34 left in the period and the clincher with 4:43 left on the clock.

Morehead, in losing its 5th game against 4 wins, never threatened seriously, and gained only 23 net yards in the ankle-deep mud—22 on the ground and one in the air.

The Chips dominated the game, running 83 offensive plays against a mere 33 for the Eagles. The only bright spot of the day—other than Gray's punt return—was the beautiful punting of sophomore Bill Marston.

Marston kicked the Eagles out of trouble nine times for 363 yards, or a 40.3 average.

Lewis Rogan was the only Eagle able to move against the huge, stubborn Central Michigan line. On five carries he picked up 33 yards for a respectable 6.6 average.

Gray had the poorest day, yardage-wise of his great career, carrying 10 times for a net loss of 12 yards. Defensively, the Birmingham speedster flashed the form that Morehead fans found so familiar last season, single handedly saving two touchdowns and making one of the prettiest tackles on a Marston punt return seen this season.

This was the first meeting of the two teams. They are scheduled to meet again in 1971 at Morehead.

Expect Record Crowd For Eastern Tilt

Coach Guy Penny and his injury-riddled Morehead State University Eagles will be trying for the upset of the year Saturday when they face the Colonels of Eastern Kentucky University in their final game of the season. Game time is 2 p.m. [EST] at Breathitt Sports Center.

Eastern, riding the crest of one of its finest seasons, will bring a 5-0-1 Ohio Valley Conference record to Morehead Saturday. The Eagles stand fourth in the conference and are between them and their first undisputed conference championship.

"Everything is wrapped up in the Morehead game," Eastern Coach Red Kidd, a former assistant coach under Penny at Morehead, has been quoted as saying. "It will be crucial to give us the undisputed conference championship, to keep our bowl hopes alive and to keep us high in the national rankings."

Nothing would please the Eagles more than to burst each of those bubbles. Over all, the Eastern team is 7-1 for the season and ranked third nationally by The Associated Press among small colleges. The Eagles, defending OVC champions, have two wins and four losses in the conference and are 4-5 overall.

Coach Kidd also well remembers what happened at Hanger Field in Richmond last year when the Eagles literally snatched the championship from the Colonels' grasp in the final minutes of play.

He remembers how the Eagles, trailing 14-19 with only 15 seconds left on the clock and faced with a 4th and 10 situation on the Eastern 10-yard-line, knocked Tommy Gray, The Birmingham Speedster, over 15 yards and were forced out of bounds on the Colonels' three.

With time remaining for only one play, quarterback Tommy Eads again handed the ball to Gray, who went in unopposed for the score and the championship. Larry Oatman's kick block from placement made it 21-19.

Eastern's offensive attack will be headed by running back Aaron Marsh, quarterback Jim Guice and their sensational freshman tailback Jack McCoy.

Marsh has snagged 63 passes this season for a total of 928 yards and five touchdowns. His catches repeatedly have kept Eastern out of the end zone. He is a tremendous runner once he has the ball. Earlier in the season, against previously unbeaten Northwood Institute, he came up with 19 catches for 316 yards.

Guice is an excellent passer and, in the opinion of his coach playing the best game of his career last Saturday in Eastern's 37-12 win over Youngstown. This season, he has attempted 173 passes, completed 110 touchdowns and a total of 1,193 yards. McCoy has had eight interceptions.

McCoy has been the Colonels' busiest ball carrier this season, carrying 120 times for a total of 592 yards, or an average of 4.7 yards. He has scored five times.

It will be a patched up flock of Eagles who will take the field Saturday to meet Eastern. The Colonels' three-line men, David Moore, Bill Baldrige and Mike Minney, are out for the season with injuries. Baldrige suffered a broken hand in the Western game and the cast has been removed, but it is doubtful he will see any action Saturday.

Four other limped off the field last Saturday after losing 9-7 to Central Michigan. Mr. Fleming.

Earl McCormick has both knees injured, senior tackle Paul Connor injured, line backer Otto Gsell has back and thigh injuries and sophomore linebacker Ron Gathright has a badly bruised calf muscle. All are expected to be ready for the game Saturday, however.

Saturday's game will close the collegiate careers of eight of the Eagles: Quarterback Eads, Gray, halfback Richard Cobb, center Ron Breifelder, guard Jim Ross, Connor, McKinney and Baldrige.

CHANGING FASHIONS IN OBSTETRICS

The current trend in obstetrics is to invite more men to delivery rooms — husbands being the number one candidates. Yet it wasn't so long ago that even male physicians were banned, on the grounds of modesty.

According to an item in a recent medical journal, a German doctor who disguised himself as a woman to see what went on at a delivery, was burned at the stake for his pains. In the 16th century, that is, men weren't even allowed to put a stop to impure hands and the patient's bedroom on his hands and knees to save her the embarrassment of seeing him.

A century later it was all right for men to attend women in childbirth, provided that the room was kept dark!

And in 1764, a pamphlet critical of male obstetricians appeared. Entitled, "Man-Wifery Analyzed, and the Tendancy of the Practice Detected and Expended," it hoped to "put a stop to impure acts, immodest actions, and the indelicate, unchaste, and unnecessary nature of men midwives."

The pamphlet's author, with the singularly appropriate name of Thicksee, never meant any of these things. He was a doctor who worked in a charlotted more modern hospital. He did not look on them as I should on the Emperor of Morocco or the pasha of Tangier going to his seraglio.

How times have changed. Tangiers is no longer pasha ruled!

INEVITABLE WRINKLES CAN BE DELAYED

Don't believe it. There is no wrinkle-free skin. No matter what the promises, Isometric facials that do banish wrinkles, no matter what theologist has been able to do to the skin on Cutaneous Health and Cosmetics, wrinkles develop in older people because of the skeletal framework of the face, changes over the years, becoming thinner, and the skin, too, becomes thinner.

As a matter of time goes on, losing its elasticity. These changes involve the skin, not the musculature — so amount of exercise will affect wrinkling.

Too much exposure to the sun, poor health, poor diet, poor skin care — these are the major known causes of wrinkling. If you avoid overexposure to the sun, eat a diet that includes a skin cream, oil or lotion, replacing the natural oils that diminish with age, and exercise, you can eat a well-balanced diet — and if you frown less often you may retard wrinkles.

Cross Country

Morehead State University cross country coach Marshall Banks feels his best has a good chance of making its debut Saturday in the Ohio Valley Conference championship meet Saturday at Clarksville, Tenn.

The boys are ready now and in good shape. They will be in good health for the meet. Morehead's main hope is sophomore Hill Hardin. Hardin came in fifth Saturday in the Kentucky Federation Cross Country meet in Louisville as the Morehead team finished second behind Western.

Art Stegen came in ninth for Morehead and Tom Johnson 12th. Earlier in the week, Morehead had a dual meet to defending OVC champion Eastern Kentucky 21-34 at the Morehead course.

Eastern's Ken DeHart, who set a record with a time of 22 minutes and 34 seconds over a 4 and a half mile course.

Hardin came in fourth and even plotted five seconds off the old course record, set by him earlier this year.

Martha Ann Whisman, 80, Is Claimed

Martha Ann Whisman, widely known elderly Boyd County woman, died Saturday at St. Claire Medical Center. She was 80 years of age.

She was not unexpected as Mrs. Whisman had been in ill health for months. She was taken to the hospital when her condition became grave. She lived on 112-2.

Mrs. Whisman was born in Elliott County Sept. 1, 1887, daughter of the late Francis and Elizabeth [Brown] Johnson.

She married Robert Whisman, and lived most of her life in Rowan County.

"The cost of heating our new, all-electric home is less than we ever expected," says Mr. and Mrs. James M. Cox of Richmond, Ky.

"Anyway," adds Mr. Cox, "electric heating would be more than worth even a higher cost. We never realized you could live in such quiet, draft-free comfort — and without worrying about maintenance, staining-fuel and problems like that."

Mrs. Cox is especially pleased with the cleanliness of electric heat. "It is electricity simply can't make dirt, and of course there aren't any dusty ducts. No redecorating here for a long time!"

Ask your local KU office all about modern electric heating for your home, old or new. It's the way of today!

Television Notes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Luella Ball will represent the United States on the Jury at the eighth International Television Festival in Monte Carlo Feb. 5-17. The star will wind up the season's shooting on "The Lucy Show" in Hollywood just in time to make the trip.

The final broadcast of "Dundee and the Culhane," western, with John Mills for which CBS had high hopes this season, will be on Dec. 20. It didn't catch on. The replacement will be "The Jonathan Winters Show," 10 to 11 p.m. Wednesdays, starting Dec. 27. The comedian will blend guest stars with his own wacky humor and characters.

Jan. 27 is the date for the fifth annual "Hollywood Stars of Tomorrow Awards" telecast on the ABC network. The event is 14 years old and is the creation of the Motion Picture and Television Makeup Artists and Hair Stylists.

The Cowells family singing and instrumental group of six, have been signed for an exclusive two-year television contract for 10 performances on Ed Sullivan's CBS hour. There will be four appearances this season. Barbara Cowell, four of her sons and a daughter make up the group. Working behind the scenes are father, Bud and two other sons.

Jack Paar and a Funny Thing Happened Everywhere will be a one-hour special on NBC Dec. 6. The star will be his own writer, and the show will deal with actual events, which Paar finds funnier than fictional humor.

Bob Gibson, pitching star for the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1967 World Series, will turn up in a forthcoming episode of the CBS "Gentle Ben" series. He will appear as himself, conducting a baseball clinic and giving some helpful pitching advice to Clint Howard, boy star in the series.

Without voting for or against the series, it is my opinion that ABC's "Bat Patrol" now in its second season, holds the record for attractive male players on one video program — Christopher George, Gary Raymond and Hans Odenreit, who plays their chief German antagonist. It's World War II shoot-em-up and not a sex-appeal program, so it may not have much of a female audience. But, girls, these three have got it. Take a look.

—Jack Gaver

He Found Answer To 'Hate Letters'

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI) — Donald Kay dislikes writing letters, but he says he won't lay down his prolific pen until the Vietnam war ends.

Until then, the 44-year-old decorated veteran of World War II and Korea will continue writing notes of sympathy to bereaved persons who have lost loved ones in Vietnam.

Kay spends several hours each week scanning newspapers for the names of servicemen killed in combat and writing their families a note which reads:

"From a grateful fellow American who sees your son's sacrifice will not have been in vain. May the Lord give you the strength to see you through your darkest hours."

Kay, a civil engineer who once earned the Distinguished Flying Cross for a World War II mission over Maribor, Yugoslavia, started his campaign two years ago when he learned of anonymous hate letters sent to relatives of dead Vietnam servicemen.

Being Governor 'Great' Writes E.T. Breathitt

By Gov. Edward T. Breathitt Being Governor of Kentucky is one of the greatest things that could happen to a person. I have realized this more and more with the approach of December 12 of my four-year term in office.

There have been disappointments, of course, like when we lost the fight for a new state constitution, but our successes have far outweighed the disappointments.

One of the facts of my administration which gives me most pride and satisfaction is that it has been free of scandal. This is a testimonial to the character generally of the men and women who have served with me.

We appointed top-flight people to the various state offices filled by appointees and supported them in their ardent efforts to give top-flight service. Not one of them let me down or caused me any embarrassment.

One of the phases of government in which I took a personal pleasure were the Governor's Days held throughout the state for the people who could not come to Frankfort and the Citizens Days we held at the state capital.

By going to the people and by making it so they could come see us without an appointment, we found out what was on their minds and were able, perhaps to help them. On each occasion, our strength was renewed.

Just the other day, on November 9 to be exact, we opened a branch of the Office of Governor in the Heyburn Building in Louisville.

The objective is to bring state government and the ordinary citizen closer together. The ordinary citizen will now have no appointment to see a representative of the governor, or the governor if he is there, as on Governor and Citizens' Days.

While this office has been opened on an experimental basis, we hope that it is successful through wide usage by Louisville citizens and that the incoming governor will see fit to continue it. As we get ready to turn over our temporary home here to the new governor and his family, the Breathitts of Kentucky and its capital for being so good to us for our four happy years.

Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day let-downs, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this

Few realize how severe the shortage of lawyers has been at Morehead... it is brought to their attention is when they need an attorney-at-law, particularly in criminal court.

The lawyer status in Rowan County has been, for sometime, like this Lester Hodge, Dean of local Attorneys, is semi-retired. Eliah M. Hodge is Commonwealth Attorney Thomas R. Burns is City Attorney, Austin Alfrey City Judge, and James E. Clay is... of laws. That is all there is... lawyers holding office are prohibited from criminal practice.

The situation has been under study for sometime. A few months back the Federal government subsidized a lawyer for Morehead... to attract a doctor into a county that has none. The Office of Economic Opportunity, or some special program, paid a lawyer to take [in the courthouse] at Morehead.

[If you needed it for almost as bad back when we had a few over-worked doctors. That was before the hospital opened up its field.] We are happy to report this morning that Morehead now has a full-fledged and full-time lawyer who is eligible to handle any case because he holds no governmental position. Paul Wilson Blair, a native son, and just out of law school with honors, has opened offices at 235 East Main.

[The foregoing is not an advertisement... it's just that one of the major shortcomings in our county has been solved, at least partially, and you don't have to go to another town to hire a lawyer.] UNWELCOME JOURNEY - The telephone of this community [not county or country] is being really being ringing since the election... received by mail [sender unknown] a number of aspirin and six pills of different colors.

EARLY - The next issue of the Morehead News will be published on Tuesday and should be in the hands of most subscribers [newsstands too] Wednesday morning. We are rather emphatic in saying the deadline is Tuesday night. News, pictures, society, and news, [except spot] is five o'clock next Monday. This is a rule that won't be broken because this underfed Publisher [owner too] plus all the staff will be working into the late hours Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

OCCASION - Yesterday was a big day in Mayville. One speaker said it was the most commemorative event since the most commemorative event since the market was abolished during the Civil War. Mayville is celebrating yesterday for its community college. Most graduates of the two-year school are expected to locate in nearby Morehead State University to complete their higher education.

GETTING BIGGER - Few folks realize how big and getting bigger the Oil and Refining. Our senior citizen readers can remember when Paul Blazer started this small concern, and tried to sell stock. If you had bought $1,000 [maybe only $500] worth of stock then you would today be a millionaire. Ashland Oil has just formed a major international chemical company, home-based in New York. They're in place and almost everything else except the newspaper business.

SURVEY CONTINUES - We keep hearing that the proposed 'Model City' of 20 miles in the Midland-Farmers area is down the drain. Don't you believe it. At hand is a communication from another agency, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, that surveys are continuing, very much so, as to the concept of the ideal city.

YOU'RE INVITED - Saturday and Sunday will be big and important days at Morehead State University, and you'll be welcome guest. [See stories elsewhere in this issue.]

THEY'RE FAVORED - A Richmond friend asked us to get him tickets for the Eagle-Eastern football game Saturday. He advised that Eastern is expected to be a tough struggle. This one is always close and rough because of the intense rivalry and the hawk rifle. Eastern is a three touchdown favorite, but forecasts mean little when these two get together. Morehead won the OVC championship last year at Eastern when Tommy Gray scored with seven seconds on the clock. Eastern expects to copy the OVC grid championship this season by beating our Eagles Saturday. They just might be surprised.

OPEN - Considerable burley is already on the floors at the Morehead Tobacco Warehouse and more arriving today. Tobacco is milled the minute it hits the floor. First official weigh date is Saturday; first sale Tuesday, Nov. 23. Several new comers to Morehead are inquired if they can watch one of the sales. This Publisher is forming a group of these unformed and uninitiated. We'll call Matt Dykes and he has promised refreshments, so we'll have the auctioneer use his regular chant, and then slow it down at times so they better understand it. We've hung around burley sales so long that it's no longer difficult to understand what the auctioneer is doing and doing. It's a real experience, though, for anybody who has never attended a sale. Dykes says you're always welcome.

COULD BE SERIOUS - We respectfully, but emphatically, call to your attention a health issue on the probably fly epidemic which may hit in three weeks. A visit to your doctor is most advisable. We understand that Morehead has sufficient quantity of the vaccine although a mild shortage exists on the east coast.

POOR QUALITY - The Chief of our camera department advises he has been getting some real poor [mostly too dark and too bright] pictures lately from contributors. He suggests we agree, these - should be probably believe this the average reader of The Morehead News. These poor pictures [like an improperly written story] are harmful to the approximately 40,000 publication. You can take a homey girl and make her passably attractive with all the cosmetics, girdles, brassiers, etc. But, it's high impossible to print a picture better than the original. Morehead has some good photographers... think all they have to do is point the camera and press a button.

LEARNING - Two months ago we reported in this column that only one out of 10 Moreheadians knew our zip code. It was the 40351. Now we report that eight of them had it right. The same eight also knew our area telephone code - 606. The office girl says this code that one out of four humans don't know much. She may be right because it is proven that one out of four people do not know their health care in one degree or another.

MORE TO ACRE - Here's two questions to our farmer readers: they are good burley tobacco growers? 1. How much do you produce? 2. What is your average price per pound? It is estimated that in Kentucky this year the average will be 2,425 pounds of burley to the acre, and the seven state yield it will be 2,320 pounds. You'll get the state-wide price average later, but we thought you'd like to be in excess of 70¢.

WORRIED - We were on the campus of Morehead State University the other night and most of the talk among faculty, staff and personnel was the big appropriation [see page one]. We didn't find glow on page one. There is concern which should be alleviated by the statement of President Doran. The major concern is that the faculty and staff is unchanged, but cut-backs are certain, starting today, in expenditures.

PROBLEMS - Northeast Kentucky Hospital Foundation meets this evening. The program is a special feature that memorializing [bronze plaques, etc.] of St. Clarie Medical Center is forthcoming. The Foundation has the money, and it's balled down now to the gruesome mechanics and details. Everybody who contributed $120 or more probably has their name on the plaque. Some of the major contributors on patients, rooms, etc.

CELEBRATING - Republicans will have a victory dinner [tickets $5] Saturday evening at 6:30 at RCHS cafeteria. The dinner is for those who have checked off the name on the list as democratic treasurer, and he says the democrats have a deficit. He added the democrats are not the winners had to pay it off and start all over again.

MANY OF THESE - An IBM repairman was in the News office Monday when there was a screeching of brakes and crash of metal outside our Main Street door. The repairman was called, and came back with the advice that we ought to get this auto wreck for this paper. We explained that if we had a bumper sticker that would bustier accidents [that's what the State Police call them] we'd use columns, and members of the staff would just about everybody's name in the news. It's a fact that women, based on his actual report that women, based on millions, etc. are only 60 percent as good drivers as men. The ladies would not like the last statement, but this newspaper believes in letting

Rowan County Boasts Of Muzzle-Loader Shooters

This is the history of the Kentucky Long Rifles of Morehead... Originally organized on February 26, 1959 at Morehead is the Mountaineer Muzzle Loading Rifle Association... Re-Organized as Kentucky Long Rifles, Inc. on January 1, 1967... Incorporated as a non-profit organization.

On this range, to date, have been built target positions for 36 shooters at 25 yard range, 36 shooters at 50 yard range, and 40 shooters at 100 yard range. Just recently, electricity has been brought into the range site. There is a range house located on the property. The site is ample room for camping, picnicking, etc. on the approximately five acres of bottom land. The club built a road approximately 1,000 ft. long leading to the range. The club built a bridge leading onto the club property.

Dr. J. E. Duncan, dean of Morehead State University's School of Humanities, and Dr. Glenn Fulbright, director of the Palmer House in Chicago, Nov. 24 and 25.

Morehead has been a member of the NASM since 1965. The National Commission on Accrediting as the responsible agency for the accreditation of music degree curricula with specialization in the fields of applied music, music theory, composition, music therapy, musicology, and music business in liberal arts programs.

Its deliberations will play an important part in music education trends in this country during coming years. Some 300 member schools will be represented by the Deans of their music departments. Distinguished speakers at the meeting will include Dr. Harold Spivacke, chief music director, Library of Congress; Lukas Foss, conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra; and Russel Getz, fine arts advisor of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

The chips fall where they may. CONCLUDING - Drive carefully over the Thanksgiving Holidays. As we always say the life you save might be mine... report is that Christmas toys will be up as much as 40 percent this year. Lord Harlech, former British Ambassador to the U.S., accompanied Mrs. J. F. Kennedy on her flight to Thailand. The tintinnabulations you are hearing are wedding bells being rung by the runners.

No man ever had a bumper sticker that ever had any nice ideas about anybody he saw half-dressed," says Georgia's Governor, Madoff. There are conflicting opinions as to who is the one who was out on the other evening insulted her. She is asked here if she had been kissed. "Driven by a man in no condition to walk," [it isn't funny]. "I can't find this paper in the line," Dog, Russ Wild, Bites several People in South End. PLAY AS YOU GO

By Mary Whitman

Did the baby's book splash in the bathtub?
No matter - if it's made of a special paper -
He can spill cereal on it, chew or try to tear a page. He and the book are protected. Three new picture books for babies to be found at variety stores - the titles are Baby's Toys, Quick Quack and The Little Pig - are made of a new special paper.

The paper is actually a thin plastic that took years of experimentation, and today is being used by Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis. It is the nation's leading producer of children's books.

"This being perfect for in-fants' or toddlers' picture books, it proves practical for covers of classics and fiction books as well," according to Whitman's art director June Behling. The plastic paper is long-wearing, lint free, holds color with fidelity and resists stain. Safety and convenience factors all count when a baby looks at his first picture books. Non-toxic inks are used, and the pages are not stapled but sewn together.

The plastic paper, out of the laboratories of Union Carbide, went through long graphic arts testing before being adopted. It was tried with as many as 50 different coatings and 300 kinds of ink.

A printing material so versatile is bound to have other uses. Documents for tropical climates may be printed on it. Army tents have shown that maps printed in the new manner can be buried in swamp-land for a week, can be retrieved and washed off, and still be as good as new.

It takes more than an army of experimenters to perfect a new idea. Today you can buy a book to take a toddler's tough treatment. Tomorrow the plastic may be used in dozens more ways - a new page in printing history.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

by Wendell P. Butler
Commissioner

Kentucky's rank as the fifth largest producer of cheese was spotlighted last week by the leading cheese state, Wisconsin. Marketing officials along with "Alice of Dairyland" were in Kentucky promoting the "Wisconsin Cheese Festival."

C. Harold Bray, director of the Division of Markets of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, said the group from Wisconsin, which produces 45 percent of the nation's cheese, was actually promoting cheese in general. Kentucky is the fifth largest producer of "American cheese, producing some 60,375,000 pounds last year.

"We were honored to have had this group in Kentucky," Bray said, "to help us in promoting cheese. While they were spotlighting their own state of Wisconsin, the total cheese industry will benefit from the program. We have 16 plants which are engaged in the manufacturing of American cheese and this unified promotion will help all concerned."

Leading the delegation from Wisconsin was "Alice of Dairyland," Miss Kristin Williams. She is billed as their "Sales Girl With A Crown." While in Kentucky she made a number of guest appearances at meetings and luncheons and worked with press media. Dale E. Bones, assistant director of Markets, was also in the group.

The Louisville event was one of ten planned for the nation. The officials were highly pleased with the reception they received in Kentucky.

Bray noted that along with its fifth place ranking in cheese production, it ranks second in the production of un-sweetened evaporated milk. Its production of non-fat dry milk leads the South Central states. In over-all dairying, Kentucky ranks 13th in the nation. Luther Small, Somerset, Area Ex-

More Workers Needed For Services In Area

With each passing year, more and more workers are needed in Rowan County and area to provide local residents with the various kinds of service that go with modern living.

The demand is for more beauticians, more plumbers, more teachers and more electricians, as well as more bus drivers, nurses, bank clerks and other service workers.

As a result, the number of people in these fields, and the payrolls for them have been rising steadily.

So notes the Census Bureau after gathering data relating to the labor force from all parts of the county.

The figures show that the number of men and women in Rowan County who were employed in the service sector of the economy in the past year reached 945. This is exclusive of government employees and of those engaged in domestic service and agriculture.

They constituted no less than 53.0 percent of the total number of local workers - service and production combined - covered in the report.

Elsewhere in the East South Central States, 49.4 percent are service workers and, in the State of Kentucky, 52.3 percent.

The service industries listed include such diverse types of businesses as advertising agencies, banks, barber shops, laundries, restaurants and automobile service stations.

Also covered are motels, retail

MSU Students Win Awards In Ultrasonics Fields

Two Morehead State University industrial education seniors have been named to share jointly the second place award for a service economy in ultrasonics recently presented at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Industrial Education Association in Louisville.

They are Richard Books, Huntington, N. Y., and Tom Crawford, Manchester, Ohio. Fifteen students and six faculty members from Morehead attended the meeting.

Clyde Hackler, industrial education instructor at Morehead, said that he believes Morehead is the only college or university in Kentucky that is using ultrasonics in its industrial education program.

He explained that ultrasonics, which he defined as high-frequency sound waves above the upper limit of human hearing, has widespread possibilities for use in science and industry. Ultrasonics is used in the field of medicine for the treatment of bone ailments, by industry for welding metal, and by oceanography for measuring ocean depths.

Hackler said that the Home Economics Department at Morehead may even soon be using ultrasonics to demonstrate an improved method of "washing" dishes. Another use is the breaking-down of molecules so as to mix oil and water.

Hackler said the device exhibited by the Morehead students was a limited system. He explained that a much larger power unit is needed for such uses as welding metal than is available at Morehead.

About 50 copies of an abstract of a paper on ultrasonics, prepared by Books and Crawford and distributed at the Louisville meeting, are available, and may be obtained by writing to the Morehead School of Applied Sciences and Technology.

Justice Participates In Apollo Recovery

Aviation Electronics Technician Third Class Jerry R. Justice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Justice Jr. of 911 Swift St., Morehead, participated in the recovery of the Apollo 4 unmannequin spacecraft as a crewman aboard the primary recovery ship USS Bennington.

The Bennington, an anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier, waited on-station northeast of Miami Island in the Pacific as the Apollo made its flight Thursday.

Launched by the Saturn V booster rocket, the spacecraft circled the earth twice at an altitude of about 100 miles. As it plunged back to earth and passed the 400,000-foot mark, the Apollo reached speeds up to 24,000 miles an hour.

The flight, designed to evaluate the Saturn V launch vehicle and test the Apollo 8's heat shield, subjected the shield to temperatures of 6,000 degrees as the craft re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

Alcoholism Conference Scheduled

A special Governor's Conference on Alcoholism will be held November 29 at the Sheraton Hotel in Louisville. Governor Edward T. Breathitt is calling the conference as part of a "stepped-up effort by the State to tackle the problems of alcoholism at all levels."

"Alcoholism is an illness," he says, "not as tangible as the ordinary infection, but just as insidious and as infinitely costly to our communities, state and nation, in cold hard dollars as any infection that ever existed."

The conference will focus on:

- New approaches to treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics.
- Needs of the acutely intoxicated alcoholic.
- Activities of the new Division of Alcoholism in the State Department of Mental Health.

Participating will be physicians, psychiatrists, mayors, county and city judges, legislators and other concerned citizens.

For the first time, there are now 12 regional community mental health centers to provide help for the alcoholic and his family in the state.

Letters . . . to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subjects of general local, or area, interest. Right is reserved to condense. No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor:

We are writing to commend Morehead's most excellent volunteer fire department. Having had a bad scare this week, we know how to appreciate their efficient, thorough and courteous operation.

Although our difficulty was traced to a burning furnace motor which sent smoke through the vents into the house, and no real damage was done, we were made to realize the worth of the service these men give to us and to Morehead.

Our deepest appreciation is extended to all those who assisted and to those who were there to help if they had been needed.

THINKS NUNN IS MAN TO BE TRUSTED

The Editor:

Two years ago I made the prediction that Kentucky would elect Judge Marlow Cook of Jefferson County, a republican, as the next Governor.

Although Judge Cook lost in the republican primary, I, and the majority, are overjoyed that Louis Nunn, a great republican and a man that can be trusted, was elected.

There won't be a tax raise to pay off the cronies like Ned Breathitt and Bert Combs. I am proud of Kentucky for electing a republican Governor.

BELIEVES NEWS PAPER UNFAIR TO GRID TEAM

The Editor:

Do you want to know why the Morehead State University football team is not winning?

I couldn't resist writing this letter when I saw the Oct. 19 issue of The Morehead News. On page one there was a big story about basketball practice starting at MSU. On page three you had the story of the football team's victory.

Your newspaper and the public appear so loyal while they are winning like last season and the first two games of this season. Then when the team really needs support they are criticized and stories about the football team pushed further back in the paper.

Win, or lose, the football team deserves to be written up on page one all during the football season. I am a graduate of MSU and this is how I feel.

CANCER CONTROL: DENVER'S PUBLICITY

The Editor:

Breast cancer will strike approximately 1,000 women in Kentucky this year. This is the leading cause of cancer death in women today.

Despite scientific gains, the death rate from breast cancer remains alarmingly high. This could change for the better if more women regularly practiced self-examination and consulted their physicians at first symptom.

As a volunteer for the American Cancer Society's Kentucky Division, I want to express our genuine appreciation for your newspaper's past support. Your interest in promoting cancer control information is to be commended.

SAYS MOREHEAD NEWS INFORMATIVE PAPER

The Editor:

For the past year I have been doing research for a book on early settlers like Daniel Boone, their wives and families, and that the Indians were treated unfairly by those who crossed the Appalachian mountains or came west on the Ohio River.

In this research at libraries I had the chance to read and study several issues of The Morehead News. I looked up the population of Morehead and found it small. I am most interested in how a town the size of Morehead can have a fine newspaper like yours.

The articles are written in style better than most metropolitan papers, yet your newspapers contains constructive editorial comment, pictures, columns of the higher vein, and an apparent well-written, policy of promoting everything good for your people. A newspaper like yours in the back-bones of a community and your people should truly appreciate The Morehead News.

A business meeting was held Wednesday, November 8, at 4:00 at the home of Mrs. Warren Proudford to plan future programs for the coming months. Those attending the meeting were Jackie Ellis, Carol Wentz, Kathy Reynolds, and Rita Mae Cline.

Poisonous Spider Is Spreading In Kentucky

Kentuckians continue to find the venomous brown recluse spider in "new" counties, and authentic cases of bites also have been reported.

That's the report this week from Dr. Rudy Scheibner, U. K. Cooperative Extension Service entomologist, and Dr. Howard G. Townsend, U. K. and state entomologist. The brown recluse is considered potentially more dangerous than the famous black widow because of the wound it inflicts.

A month ago, the entomologists here, with work done by Dr. Morgan Sisk of Murray State University, Murray, identified the spider in 12 counties. It then was considered a pest new to Kentucky.

In the intervening month, nine new counties also reported the "fiddler," as the spider sometimes is called.

The "new" counties are Christian, Muhlenberg, Butler, Logan, Edmonson, Barren, Metcalfe, Adams, Russell, Jefferson and Clinton.

"Counties where the brown recluse has been identified so far are west of a line drawn north and south from Jefferson through Russell and Clinton counties," Dr. Scheibner says.

Dr. Scheibner said the identifications are positive. "We do not record the presence of the spider in a county unless a specimen from that county has been sent in and examined by us."

The brown recluse, long known in the middle west and south, apparently was not in Kentucky until a few years ago. Its bite in the first few hours may be considered inconsequential, but later the victim frequently suffers extreme nausea, cramps, and high fever. Surgery sometimes may be needed for the gangrenous area that developed around the bite.

The spider ranges from light tan to brown in color. On the back is a black or brown violin-shaped mark that gives it the name "fiddler" spider. It is small, about a half-inch long and body spread at its largest.

The counties in which the spider first was reported in early October were Ballard, Cartledge, Fulton, McCracken, Graves, Marshall, Calloway, Butler, Logan, Warren, Simpson and Allen. These are southern and western counties.

Since the first story was released by the U. K. Cooperative Extension Service public information department in early October, reports have come steadily. Several of these recent bites from the spider, and most correspondents wrote of the agonizing illness which the bite victims, underwent.

"We now have authentic reports of human bite victims of this spider long before we knew the spider occurred in this state," Dr. Scheibner said this week. "The earliest such report was in 1958 by a man of the Paducah area. Thus, the early occurrence of the spider in Kentucky and its present known distribution let us estimate the rate at which it is spreading, it seems now to be about 10 to 15 miles a year by natural means. However, there is always the possibility it can be carried long distances by humans in laundry, clothing, bedding rolls, or the like. If we have identified it positively in 21 counties, we feel it is probably in many more counties but perhaps not recognized as the brown recluse. The spider looks a good deal like some common house or barn spiders."

Information leaflets have been sent to area extension offices in the counties on the brown recluse. Dr. Scheibner urges persons to take specimens to the area extension offices in the counties.

"If bitten by a spider, try to capture it without endangering yourself further. Put it in a glass or plastic container that can be tightly capped, and take it to the area extension office in your county. They can send it along to us for positive identification."

Scheibner noted that though the brown recluse is a "shy" spider, avoiding light, it will bite when disturbed in its habitat such as attics or closets, rafter of sill areas in basements and barns and similar dark spots.

Your ... Social Security

By Thomas E. Thompson - Ashland District Mgr. For Social Security Information write: District Social Security Office, 1816 Carter Avenue - Ashland, Ky. Phone 252-2666.

In March of this year Congress approved and the President signed into law a special addition to the Social Security Act.

"Certain people who are not now protected by social security may be due monthly benefits if they meet the following requirements:

1. They must be at least 72 years old if their benefits could begin for the month of their 72nd birthday if they became 72 before 1972 - 1970 for women.

2. They must be either a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who has resided in the United States continuously for the 5 years immediately before the month his application is filed; and

3. They must have filed an application for benefits (they cannot be due benefits earlier than the month their application is filed).

Since this will not be a work-related, earned benefit it will be affected if these people are eligible for benefits under any governmental pension system, even though they have not applied for it. This means that if they receive money payments from the State public assistance agency or could be due other governmental pensions, social security benefits, or railroad benefits, they may receive only part (or none) of this special age 72 benefit.

Receipt of Workmen's Compensation payments or any payment by the Veteran's Administration as compensation for a service-connected disability or death will not keep them from receiving these benefits.

Even though they have never worked under social security, those who will be 72 before 1968 may be due monthly payments of $35 (for single people.

Those who became 72 after 1967 and before 1972 must have credit for some work under social security to be due these special benefits:

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: When planning menus, consider the dinner menu first, then build around the main dish for lunch. Fill in the dinner and luncheon vegetables and salads. Next plan the week's breakfast and then decide on luncheon and dinner desserts.

ITEM: Don't mix chlorine bleach or cleaning products combining it with other cleaners such as vinegar, oven cleaner, ammonia, lye, rust remover, or toilet bleach. When chlorine combines with an acid or acid-producing substance such as vinegar or toilet bowl cleaner, chlorine gas is formed. This is highly irritating and can cause serious injury or possibly death.

ITEM: Put freshly laundered sheets at the bottom of the pile each time so you can use sheets in rotation and wear is distributed evenly.

ITEM: Combination hangers, each with space for several skirts, blouses, belts or handbags, may help meet your clothing storage demands.

Physical Fitness Plan Apparently Successful

Probably every child at one time or another dreams of "making the team." Unfortunately, fewer do with each passing year. In a typical modern high school with an enrollment of 2,000, approximately 300 students - all of them boys - will be represented on 10 or 12 varsity athletic teams. The rest - the girls, the boys who are too small, or those who have to work after school and can't practice - miss out on this experience.

A little over a year ago President Johnson took steps to correct this situation by establishing the Presidential Physical Fitness Awards program. The boys and girls who earn the award are referred to as members of "The President's All America Team," and 50,000 of them already have made it.

The wonderful thing about this team is that it's open to all students, ages 11-17. It presently has more girls than boys and more 13-year-olds than high school juniors or seniors. One little girl who made it has only one arm.

All a student has to do to make The President's All America Team is demonstrate that he's more physically fit than most members of what has been called "the Marshmallow Generation." He competes against the scores others his own age have made on the Youth Fitness Test, which measures strength, speed, agility and flexibility. No special skills are required.

The colorful emblem the winners receive certainly packs as much prestige as any varsity letter, and the Certificate of Achievement, which bears the Presidential seal and signature, is something any youngster would treasure.

Some schools haven't given their students an opportunity to make The President's All America Team because they feel the testing takes too much time. The 50,000 winners to date represent only five percent of the nation's schools, and more than one-third of them are from three states - California, Florida and Texas.

FIRST NEWSPAPER - Lexington was the birthplace of the first newspaper published in Kentucky. John Bradford, without any previous experience as a printer or editor, published the first edition of The Kentucky Gazette Aug. 11, 1787.

A National Figure . . . M'head Participant

Dr. Ralph Appelman, author, scholar, teacher and artist, from Indiana University, will be the featured participant of the second season of Morehead State University's eighth annual Choral Festival set for Dec. 1-3.

Dr. Appelman, professor of voice and director of the Institute for Vocal Research at Indiana University, will give a concert at 8 p.m., Dec. 2.

Two-hundred high school choral students from Kentucky and Ohio are expected to attend the three-day event.

James Ross Beane, associate professor of music at Morehead, says the festival, considered the biggest choral affair of the year at the University, is free and the public is invited. Participants will present some Christmas music, helping to open the Christmas season on the campus.

In addition to teaching, Dr. Appelman has been active in concert and oratorical work. He was guest soloist with the Dallas and Houston Symphonies, and has sung leading roles in Indiana University operatic productions, including "Lost in the Stars," "Parafal," "Aida," "Don Carlos," and "Boris Godunov." He sang the role of Jagoletti in the costume concert of "Tosca," presented in Indianapolis in 1955 by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Appelman was minister of music for the First Baptist Church of Denton, Texas, from 1949 until 1951, and was minister of music for Bloomington's First Methodist Church from 1953 until 1960.

All three of the Morehead-concerts will be in Burton Auditorium. Dates and times are:

Dec. 1 - 8 p.m. University Choir, Camber Stingers, and Orchestra, James Ross Beane, conducting.

Dec. 2 - 8 p.m. Dr. Ralph Appelman, bass.

Dec. 3 - 3 p.m. Festival Chorus, Robert Page, conducting [All high school students will participate].

DR. RALPH APPELMAN of the Indiana University School of Music Faculty, who is an author, scholar, teacher and artist, will be a guest recitalist for the Morehead State University annual Choral Festival, Dec. 1-3 at Burton Auditorium.

Free Tests For Cancer Are Offered

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has urged more Kentucky women to take advantage of the free cervical cancer tests being offered by the state.

"Simple laboratory tests can detect cervical cancer in an early stage, enabling treatment and cure," Breathitt said.

He said more than half of the state's 120 counties are participating in the program under the supervision of the State Health Department.

Women who desire to take the test should contact their local health departments, he said.

Funds for the two-year program were appropriated by the 1966 General Assembly at Breathitt's request.

"Only about 6,200 women took advantage of this health service the first fiscal year," the Governor said, "but now about 1,000 are being tested each month."

He said the state had funds enough to provide tests for at least 20,000 more women.

The program, which is directed by Dr. C. Hernandez of the State Health Department, has been endorsed by both the Kentucky Medical Association and the Kentucky Academy of General Practice.

Dr. Hernandez said his department's records show that nearly 200 women died in Kentucky last year of cervical cancer. "They did not avail themselves of the free tests offered," he said. "If we can find cervical cancer early enough," Dr. Hernandez said, "there is a 100 per cent chance of cure."

Public Library - Rowan County

PUBLIC LIBRARY
THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF BOOKS

Main Street
Morehead

By Mrs. Claire Kelly, Librarian

Mrs. Betty Lake, who teaches English and Art at the Rowan County High School, brought two of her classes to visit the library last week. We are always glad to have such groups come in and learn more about the library services available to them, both in the library and on the bookmobile.

Wanda Caudill, who began work in the library as a clerk October 1, is learning about bookmobile work so that she may substitute when Mrs. Calvert cannot drive.

Story Hour was led by Mrs. Grace Hunt last Saturday afternoon at 2:00.

The State Department of Libraries has ordered a projector for this library. With interesting slides, perhaps, we can compete with cartoons on Saturday morning, when we have Children's Hour at 10:00.

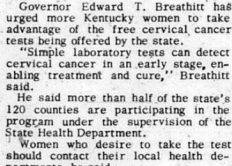

Mrs. Don Early has given us several other books, most of them paperbacks this time.

The circulation for October was about equally divided between the library and the bookmobile. Each circulated at least 2,000 books, plus records and magazines.

Our system of having no date due or no fines seems to be satisfactory. We will study it in comparison to Pikeville Public Library in December.

The bookmobile will be in Haldean on Monday, on Christy Creek and at Ellixville on Tuesday, on Dry Creek, CCC Trail and Oak Grove on Wednesday, and at Clearfield, North Fork of Licking and Licking River south of Farmers on Thursday.

Buyer, Be Wise, Beware

By Robert Matthews
Attorney General
Commonwealth of Kentucky

Price advertising is particularly effective because of the universal hope of consumers to get a bargain. Truthful price advertising, offering real bargains, is a benefit to all.

But consumers should be wary lest sales "gimmicks" lure them into the mistaken belief they are getting more for their money than is a fact.

"So much off of list" doesn't mean much if the product never sells for list.

"Former price $28.50, now only $16.99" should be no inducement to buy unless the former price quoted was the one at which the article regularly sold for a substantial period of time.

"Buy 1 - get 1 free" offers no savings if the two items usually may be purchased for approximately the same price.

Read advertisements carefully. Report willful deceptions to the Consumer Protection Division.

Jaycees Seek Top Young Man

The Morehead Jaycees are in the process of selecting what their members consider Rowan County's Outstanding Young Man for 1967.

The Jaycees issued the following statement:

"He must be 21-35 years of age. This young man should be active in community, religious, and social affairs of Rowan County. He is the type of person who is striving to make Rowan County a better place to live.

"Would you like to help select the outstanding young man of Rowan County? Send the name and address of the person you think deserves this award, and explain the reasons why you think he should be considered for such an honor. Send this information to Dale Parrish, Morehead Jaycees, Outstanding Young Man Committee, Morehead State University, Morehead, Kentucky.

"All nominations must be in the hands of the committee by December . . .

"The winner will be announced two weeks after this date."

If Your Check Bounced
 Check your path through our banking system at the fantastic rate of 17,000,000 per business day. Considering this figure, the process works with remarkable smoothness.
 But every so often, into this vast machinery, someone drops a small monkey wrench. Like a bad check. What are the legal consequences? For one thing, you are committing a crime if you buy something with a check that you know is bad. The essence of the crime is in the obtaining of merchandise by false pretenses. For, by handing over the check, you are implying—falsely—that you believe the check is good. But intent is a crucial point. Suppose the check is bad only because of an innocent mistake you made in keeping your checkbook. Then, with no intent to defraud, you would not have committed a criminal offense.

 Likewise, in most cases, it is not a crime to give a post-dated check that eventually turns out to be bad. At the time you gave the check, you may well have had an honest expectation that it would be good when the due date arrived.
 What if your check bounces not because of insufficient funds but because of a clerical error by the bank? Assuming this casts a reflection on your honesty, would you have a right to collect damages from the bank?
 Ordinarily, yes. A check is your instruction to the bank to pay a certain sum out of your account. If the bank negligently fails to follow your instructions, it may be held liable for the consequences.
 However, it may be difficult for you—as a private individual—to prove that you suffered any measurable harm. Bouncing a business check may really hurt the company's credit rating, but bouncing a personal check usually causes nothing worse than a few moments of embarrassment.
 Nor can you blame the bank for rejecting a check which you yourself made out wrong.
 In one case, a man complained that his check was bounced "even though I had plenty of money in the bank." But it turned out that his money was in a savings, not a checking account—hence was not subject to withdrawal by check at all.
 Denying his claim for damages, the court said the bank did not have to follow instructions which the depositor had no right to give. An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard. © 1967 American Bar Association

Smaller Classes
 SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The average size of high school classes this year in California is 28 1/2 pupils, according to the California Teachers Association. The figure is down 2 from last year.
Two-Time Losers
 NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Thieves broke into the Cooper Engineering Company last March and stole a safe which contained only seven pounds, $19.60.
 They did it again recently. This time their loot was a balance sheet and some documents.
