MADISON DEAF STAY FOR BIBLE CLASS

Fr. Tom Schroeder and Sister Madeline invited the adult deaf and their families to stay for Bible Study lessons after the regular signed Mass at St. Benedict Center on Sunday, October 15th. The group was very enthusiastic and asked many good questions. The second class this fall will be after the signed Mass on November 19th. All are invited to attend.

THANK YOU to:

All the people who made the October 7th workshop a success. Especially to the speakers, Evelyn Zola, who gave us the important facts about Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf; to Herb Pickell, for explaining the laws and rights that Hearing Impaired people have; to Warren Riege for explaining and displaying several TTY models. We gained so much from all of them.

Gratitude is also due Bill Reineck and his helpers who planned the workshop, contacted the speakers, and made the afternoon so successful. Thanks to the Green Bay Club officers for arranging the banquet at the Carleton West. It was so enjoyable. Thanks to Bette Anderle and Mary Hardie for interpreting during the speeches. Also, if there is anyone that I have forgotten, contact S. Madeline and she will personally thank you.

RELEASE TIME RELIGION CLASSES GOING WELL — ALMOST??

Both the Oshkosh and Green Bay Public School Boards have been very co-operative in allowing us to have one hour per week for religious education for the children attending the schools that have special educational programs for the hearing impaired. We have also found the parents to be very helpful and encouraging.

Most of the religion programs began the first part of October; however the Washington and Franklin Jr. High School release-time religion programs will begin the first week of November.

The children are walked or bussed to the following places:

Oshkosh:

Merrill School children (7) bussed to Christ Lutheran Church on Thursday, 2:00-2:35 p.m. Teachers: Tesse Sphatt and Sister Madeline.

Lincoln School children (11) walked to Newman Center; Thursday, 12:15-1:30 p.m. Teachers: Patty Snortum, Lucille Anklam, Dianne Harrington, Tesse Sphatt and Sister Madeline.

Green Bay:

West High School (2) walked to Resurrection Lutheran Church; Friday, 9:00-10:00 a.m. (bi-monthly). Teacher: Sister Madeline Franklin Jr. High School (6); place and time to be arranged. Teachers: Tammy Cynkar, Bill Reineck, Jerry Effa, Sr. Madeline.

Washington Jr. High School (5) walked to Jewish Synagogue; time to be arranged. Teachers: — and — (needed).

Kennedy School (6) walked to Incarnation Lutheran Church; Wednesday, 1:45-3:00 p.m. Teachers: Carol Schleis, Bonnie Belanger, Ann Marie Zurawski.

Ann Sullivan School (15) walked to Ecumenical Center; Wednesday, 1:45-3:00 p.m. Teachers: Eunice Angst, Mary Jones, Cindy Zartman, Susan Buche, and Sister Madeline.

We try to keep the classes small so that the children receive individual attention. We use an ecumenical religion program written especially for the hearing impaired. We need three more teachers. Parents, we welcome your help and suggestions. We would appreciate it if you could help us teach every week or as a substitute. (Contact Sister Madeline 435-4406)

ADULT BIBLE CLASSES RESUMED

For the third year, many of the deaf adults from the Manitowoc area have been meeting for Bible classes. This year again we are meeting for six consecutive Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Our meeting place is Holiday House. This fall we are continuing our study of St. Luke's gospel. New Bible movies have made the lessons easier to learn. Sister Madeline is very pleased with the large attendance. More are welcome whenever they can come.

Margaret Neugent, a Senior at St. Joseph's Academy, plays games and reads to the young children while their parents and other adults are in class.

DEAF CUSTOMERS WILL BE ABLE TO USE NEW SYSTEM

MILWAUKEE (UPI)— Starting Wednesday, deaf customers of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. will be able to "talk" by teletypewriters directly to an assistance bureau about directory assistance, bills, repairs and other services.

Establishment of the new bureau is in part the utility's response to a petition filed with the state Public Service Commission last year by Wisconsin Telecommunications.

The telephone industry was asked to provide an answering center and directory assistance service for about 3400 deaf customers with teletypewriters.

In Milwaukee, deaf persons will be able to reach the bureau by dialing 678-3222. From other areas in Wisconsin, the toll-free number is 1-800-242-9393, utility officials said.

Congratulations To . . .

Rita and Roger Anderson, 3396 Louise Court, Oshkosh, on the birth of a baby girl. Sarah came into this world on October 8th. (Rita is our faithful interpreter in Oshkosh).

John and Alice Svejda also deserve our congratulations. They celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on October 11.

Gerry Ehlinger, son of Mr. & Mrs. Gerald Ehlinger, Neenah, made his first Holy Communion at 8:00 A.M. Mass at St. Patrick's Church, on September 24th. Sister Madeline interpreted the Mass and joined with the family for their celebration.

Our first Deaf Communion Distributor is Rosemary Reineck. She will help distribute Jesus to the people of St. John's Church in Green Bay on November 5th. She attended a training class with several other members of that parish. With the help of an interpreter, she was prepared for this honor. Congratulations, Rosemary. We hope many other churches do the same.

Congratulations and thanks to the ten young people and their parents for attending the first Youth Meeting on the last day of September. The main topic was the planning of activities that the hearing impaired young people can attend with their family members and friends (Hearing and deaf, together). The deaf want to learn to plan their own activities — things they enjoy doing. The first function will be a horseback ride on October 28th. The young people choose Hillcrest-K-Ranch. It is east of Francis Creek on County V. (North of Manitowoc 141). Everyone is invited. Those that need transportation, call Sister Madeline — 435-4406, soon. After the 11:00 A.M. ride the young people will roast weiners, brats, etc. and enjoy a lunch on the ranch. Then they will plan their next activity.

Our first Ecumenical Interpreters' Meeting is scheduled for Friday evening, 7:15 p.m. in Appleton. We will meet at St. Joseph's School, 202 S. Elm St. We hope this is convenient for all. Use Lawrence Street gym entrance.

Here & There . . .

Deborah Sterletske and Allan DeFaut Jr. went North on September 23rd and 24th. Allan got a 6-point buck deer, 130 pounds, in Marinette County. Debbie got 15 rows buck, deer of years with bow and arrow.

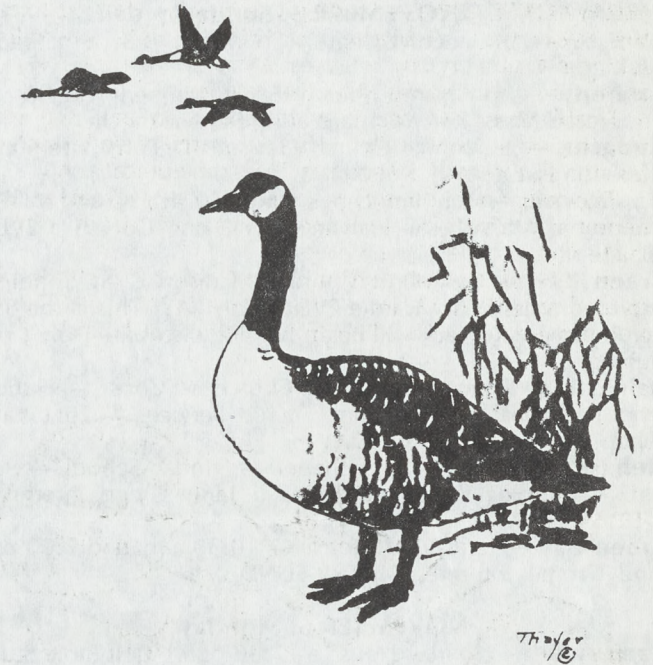

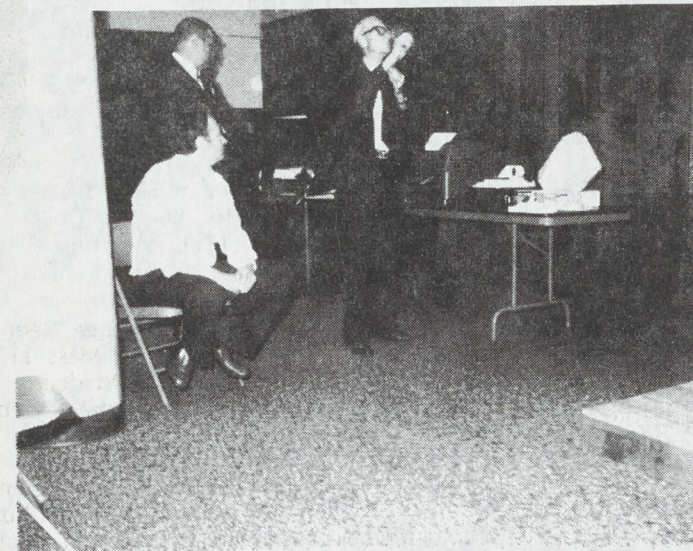

Bob and Marion Barr and their dog poodle "Inky" and their sister and brother in law, and Irene Meyer went to Michigan by ferry boat and met Mr. & Mrs. Harold Schrank of Portage there. They had a nice long visit and they went to U P North Michigan and Canada and we went to Middleville where we spent 3 days with our brother Bob, and his wife Ruth. We also visited their youngest son, Craig, wife Eley, and 2 of their children and Eley's folks. We also went to see how 50,000 chicken laying eggs and how 4 people are working because everything is modern. We also visited with their oldest son Jon's folks at DeKalb, Illinois. We paid our visit with cousin Dr. and Helen at Chicago, Illinois.

We also visited with Marion and Bob's daughter, Carol Sue's new bigger ranch. We also went to St. Joseph Hospital, Joliet, Illinois where Carol Sue Cairns works as co-ordinator of Medical Staff and is certified R.I.D., too.

I certainly enjoyed every minute of it with them as they took me so many interesting places to see.
